Greenstein calls cops to eject 2 trustees

By RICHARD GOLD

Supervisor Robert Greenstein added a touch of drama to the proceedings Tuesday night at a regularly scheduled meeting of the township board when he called the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol to have two trustees removed from the meeting hall.

Greenstein was protesting the taping of the meeting by Trustees Brian Schwall and Bob Myers who were disobeying a resolution by board members, passed the night before, that said that no member of the board shall tape a meeting.

That resolution (see article below) was passed 4-3 with Myers, Schwall and Trustee Jim Poole dissenting.

Although two deputies from the road patrol answered the call, the trustees were not ejected.

Deputy Dan Strickland told the board after checking with his shift commander, "We are not empowered to enforce rules of the board. If there is a disturbance of the peace we can do something about that, but we cannot enforce the board's rules."

SCHWALL AND MEYERS said they were protesting an "infringement of constitutional rights," and the fact that a motion by Myers to have a written legal opinion on the matter of taping was ignored on Monday, the same time the board ruled to discontinue official taping of the meetings.

The entire matter came quickly to a head after the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Greenstein saw the tape recorders on the podium and asked the two trustees if they were taping the proceedings.

Myers said yes and Schwall replied, "We believe the resolution is illegal and we would like a legal opinion on the matter."

Greenstein replied, "It's a pretty funny way to get it. We've already got a legal opinion on record," referring to attorney Bert Burgoyne's comments to the board on Monday.

"It's absolute nonsense to ask for it after we got it. Burgoyne told us it was in the best interests of the township."

"The board passed a resolution that no official could tape the meetings because if they are elected officials their tapes can be used as evidence against the township. You guys are elected officials and I am asking you to cease now."

"The attorney said it is the same as having the township tape the meetings, if one member of the board tapes. Why don't you give the tape recorder to someone in the audience?"

Trustee Jim Poole interjected, "Why don't we get a written legal opinion on the matter," and Greenstein snapped, "You're out of order Mr. Poole."

POOLE REPLIED, "As far as I am concerned this whole thing is out of order. Let's get it all in writing and move on."

Greenstein said, "A request doesn't void the board's resolution."

"In my judgment no taping shall be done by an official of the township until we get an opinion and that's in order."

"I've talked to my attorney," Myers said, "and my counsel says I have every right to tape meetings as guaranteed to me under the constitution."

"I don't know who your attorney is,"

Greenstein responded, "but unless you cease taping, I'll have you or your tape recorder removed from this hall."

Treasurer Carl Parsell added, "Last night we met to adopt some rules. We worked until midnight to adopt some rules one of which was to stop taping, and everyone said in advance that we'd operate by majority rule."

"Now after the board passes a resolution we're back in it again. It's fine if you want an opinion but it's interesting that those so interested in adopting rules won't abide by them after they're adopted."

Greenstein said, "Mr. Schwall, Mr. Myers, I'm asking you again to quit taping and please hand the recorders to someone in the audience."

"It is the duty of the supervisor to enforce all rules and regulations of this board."

Schwall responded, "Mr. Chairman there's a difference between constitutional rights and board regulations. I don't think this is legal."

GREENSTEIN ASKED the two trustees to cease taping one more time and then recessed the meeting and instructed Fire Chief Mel Paulum to call the sheriff.

When the police arrived, Greenstein asked that the two dissident board members be removed.

Poole immediately told the officers, "This is a board rule not a township ordinance. It's not something your empowered to enforce, but thanks for coming anyway."

Deputy Strickland and his partner then departed the meeting hall after the shift commander agreed with Poole's assessment of the situation.

Finally at Poole's prodding, Schwall and Myers agreed to cease taping if the board would ask for a written opinion on whether board members could tape meetings even though there was a board rule against it.

With approval of the motion, Schwall and Myers turned over their tape recorders to members of the audience and the meeting was resumed.

Board drops tape recordings

Although arguments by attorney Bert Burgoyne were not sufficient to sway trustees Brian Schwall, Bob Myers and Jim Poole, the presence of Treasurer Carl Parsell proved to be the difference as the Canton Township Board voted 4-3 to discontinue taping of meetings.

The reversal of a decision to continue taping two weeks ago came Monday night at a special meeting of the board.

Two weeks ago, with Supervisor Robert Greenstein pushing to discontinue taping, Parsell was absent and the vote tied 3-3, defeating the motion to quit taping.

Greenstein at that time argued that taping meetings could hurt the township in court, and trustee Gerald Cheske and Clerk John Flodin agreed with him. With Parsell's vote Monday, the motion passed and meetings will no longer be officially taped.

Burgoyne told members of the board that taping was a poor decision.

"You're fair game for everybody. If you have to record, get a court recorder," he said.

"Each of us is capable of making a fool of ourselves. None of us ever thinks out completely what we're going to say."

"What you say in your own behalf cannot be used. What you say against someone else can be used against you."

"Even though a board member may be ready to defend every word he said, you don't want to clutter up the record during litigation."

Referring to a state bill requiring taping of public meetings, Myers said, "The state open meeting bill is speaking to the question. Why stop now if we're going to have to tape?"

"THIS BOARD has been accused with abuse of discretion in every lawsuit I've seen," Burgoyne replied.

"What makes us prone to lawsuits?" Cheske asked.

"You're a developing area, and your new land use plan will bring more lawsuits," the attorney responded.

"If you were away out in the midst of nowhere, no one would sue you."

Myers countered that the sole reason for discontinuing taping was the recently passed land use plan.

"The only reason for not taping is that map on the wall. You want to have a defensible position for that plan. I have not made my objections to the master plan public, but you know what they are."

Resident Peter Bundarin added, "It's a two-way street. The tapes can be used for you as well as against you."

Poole offered a compromise suggesting, "What about holding the tapes for 60 or 90 days—for the minutes or disagreements among board members?"

Burgoyne found fault with the suggestion, answering, "Taping by resolution could make it a public record which could not be destroyed."

Cheske attacked Poole's comments, "This is a weak argument—that we may have errors in the minutes and have to check the tapes to correct them. Mr. Burgoyne is giving us good honest advice."

Flodin reminded the board members that he had been in township government since 1953 and "got along famously without taping the meetings."

POOLE DISAGREED. "Public meetings and public statements should be on the record. Any public official is not only responsible to the citizens for his official acts, but also to the persons who appear before their official bodies."

"Their actions, if reasonable and legal, will stand alone before the most rigorous tests.

"Public records, minutes, transcripts and recordings will only justify and support a public official acting in good faith and knowledge of what one is doing."

"Only lawbreakers have reason to fear the police and courts. Liars and the ignorant have reason to fear the truth. Anyone not wanting their statements at an official meeting to be made public or recorded should never utter them in the first place."

After the vote to discontinue taping, the recorder was turned off, and, as Greenstein moved to another agenda item, he noticed Schwall was continuing to tape the proceedings on his own recorder.

Greenstein asked him to turn off the tape recorder and not to "place yourself above the board."

Myers then asked for a written opinion from the township attorney, and Parsell moved that "no official of the township be allowed to tape a meeting." That motion passed 4-3 with the same three trustees dissenting. Schwall turned off his recorder and handed it to Total Citizen's Power president Frank McMurray who was in the audience.

McMurray continued to tape the proceedings.

Athletics on list

Schools outline cuts if millage fails

All athletic programs could be eliminated if the millage request fails in the June 14 election.

That budget decision was made by the Plymouth Board of Education Monday night by a 6-1 vote with trustee Joe Gray voting no.

The possible elimination of athletics was added to a list of 14 other potential programs and activities which would be reduced or eliminated if the millage fails.

Also included in Monday night's resolution were all programs conducted by full-time employees under contract riders. These include such activities as school yearbooks and newspapers, cheerleaders, pompon girls, the Waterwaves, marching band and other musical performing groups.

The resolution stated the money realized from such reductions and eliminations would be reallocated to restore reading support and media center programs.

AN OBJECTION was raised by E.J. McClendon who felt it inappropriate to single out one program, such as athletics, to be eliminated, because that fate awaits a number of other activities if the millage fails.

"I also wonder how appropriate it is now to state what we will restore, because if the millage isn't passed we might restore nothing, but instead reduce further."

Yack commented that school boards in the past never had any reservation about identifying programs which would suffer elimination in case of a millage defeat. "This is just an attempt to bring the operating budget in compliance with the priorities of this district in case we lack sufficient millage to operate a full program."

Marcia Borowski commented: "We must identify for the voters what the 4.75 additional mills will buy in as precise a language as we can, before election day."

GEORGE LAWTON guided the board through the necessary parliamentary procedure to link the athletic cuts with the other 14 as a matter of record in the minutes.

After adding elimination of athletics as a possibility on the list of the 14 other reductions, McClendon agreed to support the resolution because it didn't treat athletics as a separate item.

"It is too early to look at anything of this nature," commented Gray. "You are singling out some special areas. All the way along in budget talks we have talked about applying percentage reductions, and now to talk of cutting out athletics in its entirety is out of line."

Ray Hoedell, business manager, interjected that Athletic Director John Sandmann is currently working on budget cuts he would make if the millage fails. Sandmann's preliminary cuts would involve elimination of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade athletic programs and removal from the athletic budget of such activities as cheerleading, pompon girls, and the Waterwaves.

Gray pointed out that varsity football and basketball now generate $22,000 a year in gate receipts which go into the general fund. He suggested that if major athletic reductions are to be made, then it would be proper for gate receipts to revert back to the athletic budget.

Florence Beier, community relations director, emphasized that the millage campaign strategy is to stress the positive aspect of what the 4.75 mills will buy instead of what will be reduced or eliminated in case of defeat. "We would say that the 4.75 mills would buy a full athletic program."

Parsell, Flodin, Cheske announce

Three Democratic incumbents, Clerk John Flodin, Trustee Gerald Cheske and Treasurer Carl Parsell announced Tuesday they will run together as a team, seeking reelection to their respective offices this November.

Cheske and Parsell, both serving their first terms on the board, ran as part of a 1974 slate headed by Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

Flodin, an old name in Canton politics and dean of the township board, is campaigning with the slate for the first time.

Greenstein, although he did not state his intention to run again Tuesday, is presumed to be seeking reelection and will probably head this year's version of the slate.

It is expected Greenstein will announce his plans next week and at the same time introduce a fifth member of the team, who will be a candidate for trustee.

Five offices are up for grabs this year with only four-year trustees Bob Meyers, one of the 1974 slate members, and Brian Schwall not subject to voter approval this November.

FLODIN, 55, has served as clerk since 1956 and was the first full-time employee of the township, serving as dog warden and building inspector when he first went to work for the township in 1946.

"I'm most proud and privileged to be part of the growth and development of Canton," he said.

"I'm pleased to be part of the successes of the past few years and proud that Canton is a place that people seem to want to live."

"I've gotten along reasonably well with them," he said referring to the other slate members, "and during this last term of office, I think we've accomplished many things."

"There is a great deal yet to be done and the next two years will be very important. We will be implementing the master land use plan and of course the second fire station is very important to all the people of the township."

Of the possible rift developing between the east and west side of the township, Flodin added, "It's not uncommon that an imaginary barrier exists in any community. But from a position in government, it is incumbent on all of us to look at the entire township and not let prejudices for one section or another stand before the benefit of the entire township."

As far as campaign issues, Flodin agreed with Cheske and Parsell that it would be up to the opposition to determine what would be discussed during the campaign.

"I'M PROUD OF our record and very willing to run on it," Cheske said. "I think we've accomplished much of what we set out to do, and I'm most willing to defend what we've done the last year and a half."

The trustee, who is now running for a full four-year term added, "The last time we formulated the issues because we were running for office as the opposition. Again, I think it will be the opposition and not the incumbents who will formulate the issues for this campaign."

"We'll be put in the position of defending our record and I'm ready and willing to do that."

Cheske, 35, is one of the youngest members of the board, and is a four-year resident of Canton.

A contributing editor to the AAA Motor News, he formerly worked as regional editor of the Muskegon Chronicle while serving.

Board clears football coach of charges

By EMORY DANIELS

The football coaching staff at Plymouth Canton High was "cleared" Monday night by the Plymouth Board of Education.

The board, by a 6-1 vote, approved a resolution of support for coach Jim Muneio and his staff following charges made by parents of players, residents and trustee Joe Gray during the past month. Gray was the sole no vote.

The resolution, introduced by Tom Yack and amended by E.J. McClendon, states that the board had "determined that the charges were not of a magnitude to justify the harsh remedy of dismissal, but may have resulted from a breakdown in communication."

The board ruled that it "finds no adequate reason to take action against" Muneio and his staff and "affirms Mr. Muneio and his staff shall remain with the Plymouth Canton High School football program if they wish."

Later in the meeting, the board directed the administration to revise and publicize policy to "define the proper channels to follow when any citizen or student has a complaint concerning personnel or practices."

McCLENDON pointed out that resignation is a personal decision of an employee and has nothing to do with official board action. "We can neither accept nor deny the decision to resign solely rests with the individual employee. The option of whether the football staff resigns is theirs to exercise, not ours."

Yack preferred language "urging" Muneio and his staff not to resign, but agreed to the language in McClendon's amendment. "He's already there on the job," McClendon added, "and the maximum proper action for this board is merely to confirm that he should remain on the job."

Gray said he felt the magnitude of the charges was greater than other trustees believed. After stating that the matter never should have come up at the board level, Gray said he was concerned because the coaches themselves said they will be unable to re-establish a good football program at Canton next fall.

Players who spoke up and were critical of the coaching staff, Gray adds, may be chastised next fall when they return for play because the coaching staff had said it will be difficult to forgive and forget. "I also question the recommendations made in the principal's evaluation. It dealt in generalities and not in specifics. I also am concerned that some board members are not listening to parents and citizens who are concerned about this matter."

YACK CHALLENGED Gray on two points.

"I've never heard any statements from the coaches that the staff is unable to forgive. They said they would never forget what has happened—and I won't forget for some time—but they never said they wouldn't forgive."

"And I never heard any statement from the coaches that they cannot re-establish a good athletic program. Maybe that is your impression," Yack said to Gray, "but it has never been mine."

Gray noted the coaches said it would be difficult to re-establish the program. "Yes, I can see where it will be difficult," countered Yack, "but not impossible."

George Lawton agreed the matter never should have reached the board level. "The matter was handled by the administration and personnel department, but member Gray and some parents weren't satisfied with the determination of administrative staff and personnel department."

"I agree it would have been best handled by the administration, but it did come to this board, and a good part of the responsibility for that belongs to Gray."

Gray answered that he had only followed direction from the board to get more specific information about parents' complaints and report back to the board.

MARCIA BOROWSKI stressed she felt there was a need to clarify board policy to provide guidance to citizens and students who wish to register complaints or comments about personnel matters.

She added that the Muneio affair had ended up before the school board because many persons didn't know the proper procedure.

Muneio and his staff had resigned after hearing a tape of a Sunday afternoon meeting chaired by Gray during which complaints about the football program were aired. The resignations were withdrawn pending investigation and action by the school board.

This week's spotlight is on Allen and Fiegel

Allen and Fiegel elementary schools command the bicentennial spotlight during this week's heritage exhibit in the Plymouth Historical Museum. Projects by students at these two schools will be on display in the museum from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, May 13, and Saturday, May 15, and from 1-5 p.m. Sunday, May 16.

Children from Allen and Fiegel will have free admission to the museum during the display week, when accompanied by a paying adult relative.

ALLEN SCHOOL is emphasizing America's colonial heritage throughout May by offering a selection of 23 "mini-classes" built around bicentennial themes.

First through fifth grade students may choose to do special study on such subjects as colonial cooking, soap making, quilting, copper tooling, colonial clothes-making, Indian games, the westward movement, colonial games, early forms of travel, flags of the U.S., or historic Plymouth.

Throughout the year, Allen students have highlighted American history in all their classes. Second graders took part in their own version of the Colonial Dame School, using the hornbook as a method of study. Other children spent time at the Miller School in Greenfield Village. Humanities classes studied Indian dancing and sign language.

Plays with colonial themes and bicentennial recognition have been presented weekly. First graders gave a program entitled "Happy Birthday, America." Second graders portrayed "Bicentennial Minutes," and the fifth graders produced a show called "1776." Also, daily P.A. announcements are being made commenting on bicentennial events.

While celebrating the bicentennial, Allen also raised funds for school projects through the sale of bicentennial bumper stickers in the school attendance area.

Students have been encouraged to participate in the Bicentennial Junior Correspondent Program during the 1976 school year. Presently Allen boys and girls are corresponding with other children in most of the 50 states. Children also have been encouraged to write papers for the current school-wide bicentennial essay contest on the theme "I Was There."

Heritage reading has been promoted at Allen through the media center's Bicentennial Reading Club. Each participating child seeks to complete a Betsy Ross flag-card by reading 13 books related to American history. Each book read is entered on one of the 13 stripes on the child's flag-card and a star is added to the flag. When each flag-card is completed, it is displayed in the media center.

Among the bicentennial art projects displayed at the school and in the museum exhibit are: rug wall hangings, hand-woven material, homemade soap, apple head dolls, colonial hats, lanterns, and tissue flags.

Future school bicentennial activities include an "All-School Mustering" in Hines Park later this spring and a special "200 Years of American Sports" softball tournament, May 24-June 4.

Students, staff, and parents will celebrate the nation's anniversary on June 3 with an evening music program, "America in Song and Dance." First through fifth grade children will present song and dance numbers reflecting the USA's musical heritage over the past 200 years.

THE BICENTENNIAL spirit is in evidence throughout Fiegel School, too.

Each morning interesting tidbits of American history are included in the daily P.A. announcements and, periodically, bicentennial radio plays are given over the P.A. system. School schedules such as outdoor-indoor recess are announced in each room by a "town crier" a child dressed in colonial costume. Each Thursday is designated red, white and blue day, and staff and students are encouraged to dress in flag colors.

The fourth and fifth grade wing of the school building has been named Lexington Hall. Here each classroom has taken a colonial shop or office name such as: Apothecary, Gazette, Sweet Shoppe, Candler, Mercantile, and Painless Dentist.

Outside the building, the bicentennial spirit should soon be blooming, too. On the Fiegel front lawns, students have planted an American flower flag.

Individual classes have held Colonial School Days. The first graders did special study on America's Pennsylvania Dutch history, learning about the Amish, Pennsylvania Dutch signs, symbols, colloquialisms, etc. Fourth graders presented a bicentennial play, "To Tell the Truth."

Heritage arts and crafts tried by Fiegel students include cross stitch samplers, construction of small replicas of covered wagons, marbled covers for books written by the children themselves, circle weavings, and paper ring flags. A number of these projects will be displayed at the museum.

Many of Fiegel's bicentennial activities will culminate on June 2 when students host parents at a "Jamestown and Williamsburg Evening." That night the school will become a colonial community. Classrooms will be transformed into old-fashioned shops featuring candle making, baking, weaving, soap making, etc. The "town" will even have a goal with pilary and stocks. All children will dress in colonial costume, and groups of students will present early American songs and dances. There will be crafts displays and diagrams of Jamestown and the Algonquin Indians. Rounding out the evening will be a special slide show about Williamsburg.

grade; Amy Elliott, second grade, the "Town Crier," and Melinda Mehargy, fifth grade. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

School debt levy reduced

The total tax levy for Plymouth Community Schools is being reduced by 0.40 mills through a reduction in millage collected for debt retirement.

The administration has decided to levy 6.19 debt retirement mills instead of 6.59. The reduction represents 40 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation.

That reduction brings the current total school levy to 35.20 mills ($35.20 per $1,000 SEV) and includes: 6.19 for debt retirement, 20.11 for operation, 8.9 county allocated for operation. If voters approve the 4.75 additional operating mills on the June 14 ballot, the total levy would then become 39.95 mills ($39.95 per $1,000 SEV) instead of 40.35 mills.

Ray Hoedell, assistant superintendent for business, says the reduction is made possible because the district has a good, sound investment program which helps keep the debt fund levy as low as possible.

The action was taken following an estimate that the district's unofficial tax base for 1976-77 will be about $463.3 million.

The debt retirement tax is collected to pay off construction obligations generated by voter-approved bond issues, such as the 1974 bond issue which included some 94 separate projects.

Hoedell points out that, with the reduction in debt levy, if voters approve the additional 4.75 operating mills June 14, the actual tax increase will be 4.35 mills.

The reduction was reported to the Plymouth Board of Education during its regular meeting Monday night.

THE BOARD also voted to authorize the purchase of almost $7 million worth of tax anticipation notes to meet operating and cash flow needs.

The notes are purchased each year to meet expenses until revenue from taxes collected reach the schools' coffers. This year the district will buy notes totaling $6.9 million and pay out about $220-$285,000 in interest. During 1975-76 fiscal year, ending this June, the district paid out $162,000 in interest on tax anticipation notes.

Marcia Bowowski pointed out that this interest expense shows the real need for semi-annual collection of school taxes by the governmental unit so that tax anticipation notes wouldn't be necessary.

E.J. McClendon added that semi-annual tax collections wouldn't hurt most residents because a vast majority of school taxes are in escrow accounts and are earning interest income for mortgage companies until collection time.

Meeting guidelines approved

Members of the Canton Township board argued for more than an hour Monday night before adopting several procedural guidelines for board meetings.

Board members hacked away at a four-page 18-item list prepared by Trustee Brian Schwall, finally adopting four items, only two of which are not already practiced.

Trustees agreed to a trial period of June to August for starting meetings at 7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. And they agreed that when various appointments are "to be made by the board, the nominator shall provide for the board and public a brief resume citing the qualifications of the individuals for the position in question."

THE BOARD also adopted two rules already in practice.

Meeting packets with supporting information on agenda items will continue to be available to the public starting on Thursday prior to the meetings at the township business offices and meeting hall; and items to be included on the published agenda for any regular meeting "shall be submitted to the township clerk by the close of business on Friday, 10 days prior to the meeting at which such items are to be considered."

The discussion on Schwall's suggestions was marked by much of the antagonism that has accompanied procedural guidelines for the last several months.

Treasurer Carl Parsell charged that Schwall was attempting to hamstring the board by setting up rules that are too strict. "We don't need rules," he said. "This is just an attempt to roadblock the board from doing its job. Once again Mr. Schwall is trying to bring in another roadblock."

Supervisor Robert Greenstein, another proponent of loose rules, added, "You make it so complex, no one would know where they stood with these rules. The simplest format is the best."

Trustee Robert Myers argued that the board "had to get some rules down in writing," and he moved to adopt eight of the proposed rules.

With Schwall and Trustee Jim Poole voting with him, however, the motion was defeated 4-3. Greenstein, Parsell, Clerk John Flodin and Trustee Gerald Cheske voted no.

HALF THE ITEMS were in the Charter Township Act, which governs Canton. Greenstein argued that because they were in the law, there was no need to include them in Canton's written list of guidelines.

Schwall responded: "They should be published so the people know the rules."

The four items included: requirements for the posting, notification and procedure for special meetings of the board; a reasonable opportunity for citizens to be heard; four members of the board shall constitute a quorum; and any taxpayer or citizen of the township shall have access to the minutes and records of the board.

Items not acted on included: A revised structure of the agenda, with members raising new business items at the start of the meeting and placing them on the new business portion of the agenda; and a suggestion that all tabled items from one meeting automatically appear on the agenda of the next meeting.

SCHWALL ALSO suggested a logical voting order be established.

"The voting order changed after my censure," the trustee charged, referring to fact that votes are taken in a counterclockwise roll call. Schwall called the present order "undefined and arbitrary."

Poole suggested voting be order or rank with officers first and the then trustees by seniority.

Also not acted on was the suggestion to adopt Robert's "Rules of Order" as the parliamentary handbook "for all matters not expressly mentioned and dealt with" by other rules.

Schwall asked that the chairman—or, in his absence, another member of the board—be appointed by the members present to conduct the meeting "as professionally and expeditiously as possible."

The trustee referred to Robert's rules in another suggestion that members treat each other with more respect.

Schwall quoted from the parliamentary procedure guide:

"In debate, a member must confine himself to the question before the assembly, and avoid personalities. It is not allowable to arraign the motives of a member, but the nature or consequences of a measure may be condemned in strong terms."

"It is not the man, but the measure that is the subject of debate."

But the board did not act on that item.

Well-earned recognition

Eileen Cook of the Easter Seal Society of Wayne County took advantage of National Handicapped Awareness Week to present a commendation to William Hildreth, manager of Meijers Thrifty Acres in Canton Township. She said this was something she had wanted to do for a long time in appreciation of the store's consideration for handicapped persons. It provides special parking space, battery operated "Amigos" for transportation, wide checkout aisles, lowered drinking fountains and telephones, and accessible restrooms. (Staff photo)

Harvard Square has carnival

The carnival has come to Canton Township's Harvard Square Shopping Center, Sheldon at Ford Road. Rides, concessions, games and carnies will be there until May 23.

Before granting permission for W.G. Wade Shows, Inc. to set up their equipment, township trustees questioned Wade representative Jim Sommerville.

He assured the board that all rides were individually grounded, security and safety standards had been taken care of, and insurance was adequate.

The carnival is sponsored by the merchants in the center as an added attraction for their customers.

Schools accept CEP, CAC reports

The evaluation of the Centennial Educational Park by Wayne State University was accepted by the Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

The board also received a status report on recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) and instructed the administration to set a date for a workshop session for the board to take action on those suggestions.

DR. JOHN CHILDS, co-author of the report, praised the CEP scheduling program for offering students, staff and parents the optimum of many styles of learning experiences.

Childs said he and Dr. Roger DeMont couldn't identify any discipline problems at the CEP which were any greater than problems in high schools throughout the area.

Although the budget for the study didn't allow a full survey of parental attitudes, Childs said researchers did meet with Concerned Parents, members of the CAC, and some 30 parents who sought them out with their views.

In response to a question about dropouts at the CEP, Childs said he was skeptical about dropout figures. "You must remember that 10 years ago only about 60 per cent of those between the ages of 16 to 18 were in school. Today, 92 per cent of those 16-18 are in school. We have a new student population that requires to programs to serve them—unless we are to push them out again.

Trustee E.J. McClendon said he was impressed with the detailed research done by WSU. George Lawton said he was opposed to the study when first proposed, because of budgetary reasons, but in hindsight no longer has any reservations after reading the report.

Trustee Flossie Tonda added that she wasn't on the board when the WSU evaluation was authorized, and was against it then, but felt it was a fine report and is now glad it was done. Joe Gray said he felt it was an excellent report and hoped the recommendations would be followed up and acted upon by the board.

THE BOARD also voted to meet soon in a work-study session to decide which of the CAC recommendations will be implemented, which will be discarded, and establish a time-line for acting on the recommendations.

There was a lot of discussion on wording of the resolution, but the board's qualms were relieved when it agreed to "receive" the CAC report instead of "accepting" it.

The calendar of board work-study meetings suggests the CAC topic might be taken up at either the first or third Monday in June.

There was some discussion about holding a two-day workshop and discussing the 12 recommendations along with sessions on the school district's goals since the two are inter-related.

Motherhood!

When the Roger Zerby's 2-year-old sealpoint Lulu gave birth to eight Siamese kittens, Lulu and the Zerby's were in for a busy session of motherhood. Lulu was equipped to feed only a family of six. Doris Zerby marked the tail of each kitten and they were on a two-hour feeding schedule-six with their mother and two with eye-droppers. The marked tails provided identification for fair rotation. They soon were on Pabulum and thrived although Lulu and the Zerby's found it a wearing experience. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Clean up continues

Trash and debris surrounding Canton's Fellows Creek Subdivision will wind up in garbage bags on Saturday, May 22, when subdivision residents host a cleanup project to tidy up their development.

The first activity planned by the newly formed Fellows Creek Subdivision Civic Association, Inc., the project is scheduled in conjunction with the townshipwide "May Cleanup Month."

Fellows Creek residents will meet on Lowell at 10 a.m., May 22, before proceeding to lands on the perimeter of the subdivision, located south of Ford and west of Sheldon roads.

"The perimeter of our subdivision is really disgusting," said Fellows Creek resident Elizabeth Barker, who helped organize the cleanup project. "There is all kinds of trash—beer cans, bottles, old TV sets, you name it, and it's out there."

Residents participating in the project will receive garbage bags for the debris, according to Mrs. Barker, whose husband, Richard, has volunteered the use of his truck for the day.

Other Canton residents who wish to plan activities in conjunction with "May Cleanup Month" may obtain free commercial garbage bags at township hall, according to township office worker Pam Phillips. DPW crews will pick up the trash on request.

To help residents with cleanup projects, the township dump, located on Lilley south of Michigan, will remain open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. until May 29. Residents may dump one truckload of debris for free, if they obtain a permit at township hall.

Residents may also dump trash in two garbage bins, which will be located on the recreation field parking lot on Canton Center north of Cherry Hill throughout May.

Mrs. Phillips said Cub Scout Den 3 has already cleaned the corner of Lilley and Ford in conjunction with Lions Club. Canterbury Mews and the Cleons Club have planned other activities.

Parsell said the administration had taken a hardline against builders and that the results had been successful.

"We wanted to establish a level of acceptability for the people and the builders and I think we did. The result was that more people and builders wanted to come here. The proof is in the building boom we are continuing to experience."

Parsell, 52, is a former Detroit policeman and past president of the Detroit Police Officers Association. He presently is serving as Executive Director of the Police Officers Association of Michigan.

BUT THE TREASURER also cited the strict sign ordinance, and the saving of trees as two other major accomplishments of the present administration.

"We've kept our promises," he said. "We've developed a land plan for the people, we've supported a fire millage and we've brought the future of this township before the people."

Parsell also touched on the reorganization of the township and the more business-like procedures of the business offices.

"This really has been a two-year period of reorientation. We've had to learn the needs and conditions of the township and we've had to do a lot of reorganizing."

He added, "One of the biggest frustrations is that we can't seem to get enough done fast enough. Planning and implementing programs takes so long."

The treasurer said the township officers had a responsibility to be responsive to all interests in the township, including farmers, residents and businessmen, but that the emphasis has been on homeowners.

"There seemed to be a feeling they were being left out," he said. "Big business and builders got all the attention and the residents couldn't seem to break through. The people who live here should have the feeling they are represented in government and I think before we were elected there was a lot of feeling of homeowner frustration."

Trustees end smoke-filled room stigma

The decision to ban smoking during during Canton Township Board of Trustee meetings was one of the quickest pieces of legislation on record.

It was all over in less than two minutes.

A member of the audience was saying, "Gentlemen, I applaud your decision;" two representatives of the press were nodding their heads in approval; and trustees were admonishing Supervisor Robert Greenstein that he had to put out his newly-lighted cigarette.

A motion by Trustee Robert Myers to table the matter for public hearing was voted down. The motion to ban smoking was passed 5-2, with Greenstein and Clerk John Flodin voting no.

Smokers on the board are Myers, Greenstein, Flodin, Brian Schwall and James Poole.

A remark that the audience would appreciate the resolution prompted Trustee Jerry Cheske's comment, "And it might keep some of them away."

EMU professor runs for congress

Mary Robek of Ypsilanti, an Eastern Michigan University professor, has joined the race for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd congressional district.

Dr. Robek is professor of administrative services and business education and wants to gain the party's nomination in the Aug. 3 primary.

Dr. Robek said that the public "deserves a change which can occur only if people like myself get involved."

She said she isn't running as a feminist, but does feel that more women should be in congress.

She said that there should be a better allocation of resources, made by improving neighborhood schools instead of busing and that vandalism of public schools can be best controlled by neighborhood interest.

She added that she is "pro-life" on the abortion issue and would support a constitutional amendment protecting the unborn.

MARY ROBKE

The candidate also supports national health insurance through private companies and that inflation must be controlled to protect persons on fixed incomes.

Dr. Robek has worked for government agencies and worked in the Democratic party in Wisconsin before coming to Michigan.

She was in the U.S. Office of Price Administration, the federal Maritime Commission, and the Manpower Training and Development Program in Ann Arbor.

She is now coordinator for the Michigan Catholic Women for the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

She has been on the EMU faculty for 18 years and has been listed in several volumes of Women and Educational Leaders.

The Stroller

Our fractured language

"I wouldn't mind paying the extra tax—if we were getting a better product."

It was The Stroller's friend talking, and he was bemoaning the fact that some recent graduates of our schools were unable to read or write.

"That's bad enough, but have you noticed how many of them 'butcher' the English language? Not only are they not able to read or write, but many of them can't speak with intelligence. So, what are we getting for our tax money?"

The Stroller listened attentively to the criticisms and agreed that the rare cases where students were graduated despite their inability to read or write was a sad commentary on the school system.

But he couldn't help pointing out that students were not alone in fracturing the language. It was being fractured every day and in some of the most unexpected places, and the fracturing was being done by grown-ups.

FOR INSTANCE, the other day on a visit to one of the bowling establishments, he was shown a story in which a bowler, explaining his performance, said he had seven straight consecutive strikes in a row. Talk about redundancy, this was as good an example as could be found.

Then, while driving along in search of journalistic nuggets, The Stroller noticed a sign "Open every day of the week, including Sunday." This was from a businessman. So the students have not been alone in giving our language some peculiar twists.

If The Stroller's friend is appalled by the English he hears from today's students, he should have been around with the first and second generations of the Pennsylvania Dutch in The Stroller's home country. He would have heard some real classics, and some of these old, Dutch sayings have lived through the years.

One of the prizes The Stroller likes to tell concerns one of our neighbors telling about her son's improved report card from school. She glanced at the figures and said, "He used to be behind before, but now he's first at last."

Another quaint phrase often was repeated by Al Spiegel, the All-America football player who dabbled in real estate in Detroit while coaching football at Muhlenberg College.

On his arrival in Allentown, Pa., he stopped in the first restaurant he could find. He noted it was clean and inviting when the waitress appeared for his order. He asked to have several well-done pork chops.

In a few minutes, as Al recalled, the waitress returned and said, "The pork chops is all and the new ain't yet." What she really meant was that they were out of pork chops and the new order had not arrived.

ANOTHER OF The Stroller's favorites concerns the farm boy who was too rotund to sit in his desk chair on the morning the school term opened. He was forced to sit on the floor for the morning session.

When we returned in the afternoon, he was found kneeling with a screw driver, removing the screws from the floor. When the teacher asked what he was doing he answered: "It was too close away so I am moving them further together."

What he meant, if you can't figure it out, is that the seat was too close to the desk and he was moving it back. Sounds funny, but it is a gem of fractured English.

That was the colorful language of the

Miss Dreiling to perform in concert

Alyze Dreiling will solo with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra May 17-21. Miss Dreiling is a junior at Livonia's Franklin High School.

A violin student of Mischa Mischakoff, she will perform the finale from the Symphonic Espagnole by Lalo.

Miss Dreiling's first scholarship award was with the Livonia Youth Symphony Society where she was concertmaster for two years.

Presently she is assistant concertmaster of the Oakway Symphony and has been featured on many solos. She is also concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra and violinist in the Detroit Symphony Youth Quartet.

She will perform with the Oakway Symphony, May 15, playing "Introduction et Rondo Capriccioso by Camille Saint Saens.

She won first placement recently in a competition with the Southfield Junior Symphony and soloed with that group at their spring concert.

Pennsylvania Dutch and The Stroller's friend, had he heard it, would have to admit that today's students have a long way to go to catch the Dutch.

But they became successful business men and housekeepers inspite of this failing. So, there's hope for today's youngsters, too.

Western Wayne's population slips

Suburban Wayne County's population slipped 1.4 per cent between mid-1974 and mid-75, but Canton and Plymouth townships continued to grow.

The population estimates came from the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), which noted a continued trend toward smaller households.

Canton's 1975 population was estimated at 32,900, or 3,300 more than the year earlier and nearly triple its official 1970 population of 11,038.

Canton has 9,800 households and 3.35 persons per household.

AS THE OFFICIAL census data agency for the seven-county region, the regional agency makes annual surveys of construction and demolition permits, using 13 different factors to estimate population.

Here are its estimates for other communities in western Wayne County:

•Garden City—39,800 persons at mid-1975, a decline of nearly one per cent from the 40,200 of '74. It had 11,100 housing units compared to an even 11,000 a year earlier. Average household size was 3.6 persons, third largest in the county.

•Livonia—108,800, a decline of 700 persons from 1974 and 1.2 per cent below the official 110,109 census of 1970. There were 30,100 households, 200 more than the previous year. Average household size was 3.71 persons, second only to Northville Township.

•City of Plymouth—11,100, down 100 from the year before and 5.6 per cent below the census figure of 11,758. There were 3,920 households, a decline of 10 for the year. Average household size was 2.82 persons.

•Plymouth Township—19,500 persons, up 100 from the year before and 11.4 per cent ahead of the census population of 17,497. There were 6,100 households, up 100 for the year, and an average of 3.19 persons per household.

•Redford Township—66,600 persons, down 800 for the year and 7.4 per cent below the official census count of 71,901. There were an even 20,000 households, with an average of 3.33 persons per unit.

•Westland—92,900 persons, a surprising decline of 700 from the year before. Heretofore, Westland had shown annual population increases from its 1970 level of 86,749. There were 28,100 households, up 100 for the year. Average family size was 3.3 persons.

DETROIT'S population declined by an estimated 28,000 persons to 1,334,100.

The new population is 11.9 per cent below the official 1970 figure of 1,514,063.

Wayne County as a whole was estimated at 2,19,600, down 32,000 persons for the year.

The suburbs of Wayne County showed a drop of 1.4 per cent, to 1,185,500 persons from 1,189,300 a year earlier.

Fishing derby set June 5

For the 14th year, boys and girls ages 6-16 will be able to compete for prizes as they catch fish in the Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby on Newburgh Lake.

The contest runs from 7 a.m. to noon June 5, with registration at Newburgh Point on Hines Drive west of Newburgh Road. Nearly 700 youngsters took part last year.

Contestants must bring their own angling equipment and natural bait; no lures may be used. They must also register before beginning to fish.

Co-sponsors are the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and the parks and recreation departments of Livonia, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City, Dearborn Heights, Northville, Farmington and Farmington Hills.

The demonstration is free, sponsored by Meijer and RAO of California, skateboard manufacturer.

Rep. Brown boosts new state open meetings bill

An open meetings bill—not quite as broad as the Florida "sunshine law" but with far fewer exceptions than a senate-passed bill—is under discussion in the house towns and counties committee in Lansing.

Chairman Thomas Brown (D-Westland) said the house substitute for SB 920 reflects areas of agreement between State Sen. David Plawewski (D-DeARBORN Heights), sponsor of the senate version, and State Reps. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) and David Hollister (D-Lansing), sponsors of house versions.

Brown's committee last winter conducted a public hearing on the bills in Livonia which drew public officials and citizens from Wayne and Oakland counties.

THE NEW BILL refers to meetings from which the public is barred as "closed" meetings rather than "executive" meetings, as in current law.

Meetings of governmental agencies would be open to the public with three exceptions:

- When a board is considering the dismissal, suspension or disciplining of an officer or employee, but only if the individual requests a closed hearing.
- When a school or college board is considering the disciplining of a student, but only if the student requests a closed hearing.
- When the board is conducting strategy sessions for collective bargaining.

THE EMPHASIS in the new bill is changed. At present, governing boards often simply put executive meetings on their agendas and hold them. The new bill requires the board to take a two-thirds vote publicly and state the purpose for which it wishes to hold a closed session.

Brown called the new bill "a starting point for debate." He acknowledged there will be "strong pressures to expand the exemption list" for permitted kinds of secret meetings.

But he said, "I would tend to view negatively any further reasons for closed sessions."

In testimony in Livonia and other points around the state, public officials generally produced lists of topics they wanted exempt from public meetings laws. When compiled, the lists included most kinds of public business, with final voting being the only thing that all officials felt should be public.

The bill reflects the Michigan Press Association's suggestion that a meeting should be closed for personnel and student discipline discussions only if the employee or student (or the student's guardian) requests it.

All breed match scheduled May 23

The Livingston Kennel Club will hold and AKC-sanctioned all breed match on May 23 at the Fowlerville Fairgrounds in Fowlerville.

Entries will be taken from 10 a.m. to noon. Judging will begin at 1 p.m.

Muffler building has rich history

If any former resident, who has been gone for a time, returned for a visit he would never recognize the intersection of Ann Road and Sheldon.

And one of the most surprising changes would be the old building that once housed Earl Mastick's Packard dealership when that auto was the cream of the crop.

One of the oldest buildings along the highway—it was built in 1921 has changed hands more often than any building in the vicinity. And now its bright yellow structure is the home of Mark Grisa's Midas Muffler Shop.

THE BUILDING has had a quaint history. Built in 1921 by Frank Palmer, it first housed the Allis-Chalmers dealership before Mastick took it over for the Packard agency. Mastick lived in Milford and commuted each day by train.

Aside from auto dealership Mastick's family owned and operated the Milford Press, then a going country paper.

Since the Packard dealership was closed when the car was discontinued, the building has been the home of varied type of businesses, from autos to farm implements, including milking cans, another auto dealership and then the Plymouth Tire Co.

Earl West, a member of the family that operated a farm implement business, recalls that they leased the building for two years, starting in 1952.

Other auto dealers who once occupied the premises were Ed Holdsworth and Don Horton, who had the Allis-Chalmers franchise.

FINALLY, the building was taken over by Bill Cation, owner of the Plymouth Tire Co., and he occupied it for more than a decade.

It was from Cation that Mark Grisa took over and set up the present muffler shop.

"The only thing we left standing," he said, "were the three walls in. And now we have a fine, up-to-date shop which can be recognized for quite a distance."

The one thing Grisa likes beyond the remodelled building is the fact that it typifies the progress made all along Ann Arbor Road.

"The building has grown with the community and its rich history stands it apart from all other constructions in the area. It truly is a historical site."

Power acquires Mail & Observer in 1966

(Part IV)
The Plymouth Mail was published from 1966 to 1961 by Paul Chandler, who also published the Plymouth Observer from 1962 to the time of his death.
In 1962, Chandler was elected to the Michigan state legislature from Wayne County's 21st District. He served as a state representative during the 1963-64 session, and was senator-elect for the 1965-66 session when he died of a heart attack at age 45.
The Plymouth Mail, which reverted to Sterling Eaton in 1961, was run by Eaton until July 1964 when he sold it to Russell Strickland of Bloomfield Hills. Eaton lived only one year after the sale, dying on July 25, 1965, at age 58. He is buried in Riverside Cemetery.

Strickland, an industrialist, appointed Mike Wiley as his publisher-assistant, and David Wiley as editor of the Mail. The Strickland era was short, however; late in 1966 he sold the Mail to Philip H. Power, owner of the Observer Newspapers, Inc.

POWER HAD acquired the Observer Group (Dec. 31, 1965) from William McKay and Mrs. Myra Chandler, widow of Paul Chandler. The group papers at that time included weeklies in Livonia, Garden City, Farmington, Redford Township, Nankin Township and Plymouth.
Philip H. Power, 37, is a native of Ann Arbor. He graduated from the University of Michigan and from University College, Oxford, England, where he earned degrees in philosophy, politics and economics.
In 1961-62, Power was sports editor and acting city editor of the Fairbanks, Alaska, Daily News-Miner. From 1962 to 1964, while he was at Oxford, he was a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.
In 1964, Power served as press and research aide to Neil Staebler, who was the Democratic candidate for governor that year. From 1964 to 1966, Power was administrative assistant to Paul H. Todd Jr., Democratic Congressman from the 3rd District of Michigan.
Power began active management of the Observer group of newspapers late in 1966. In addition to acquiring the Plymouth Mail, he expanded into Southfield in 1970 and converted a two-week publication.

The news office for Plymouth Observer & Eccentric and the Canton Observer & Eccentric is at 461 Main-underneath the Mayflower Meeting House between the travel agency and phone company. (Staff photo)

IN 1971, Power closed the old Plymouth Mail building on Main Street, transferring its operations to a new $3.5 million offset printing plant and offices, which he built as a group headquarters, at Schoolcraft and Levan roads in Livonia.
In March, 1974, Power merged the Observer Newspapers with the Synercom Communications Corporation. Synercom, under its president, Henry M. Hogan Jr., operated the Birmingham Eccentric and other newspapers in the East Lansing and Cincinnati areas, and an educational publishing house in Grand Rapids. The organization resulting from the merger called Suburban Communications Corporation is headed by Hogan, who is chairman and copublisher, and Power who is President and co-publisher.
The Mail name was gradually phased out. For a while the paper was called Plymouth Mail & Observer. Since the merger with Synercom, the paper has been called Plymouth Observer & Eccentric.
On Dec. 12, 1974, Power and Hogan announced the reopening of an editorial office in Plymouth "to take care of the ever increasing needs due to the tremendous expansion of Canton Township and Plymouth Township and the demands of Plymouth readers for their own bureau." Richard T. Thompson, executive editor of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers, and Michael Arnholt, Plymouth-Canton editor, were named to head the new office located at 461 S. Main, across from the Mayflower Hotel.
"TOMMY" THOMPSON, who joined the Observer group in 1960 when Paul Chandler was publisher, was a veteran newspaperman who had served on Ohio newspapers and with the Chicago Tribune and the Detroit Free Press. He was assistant sports editor of the Free Press before joining Chandler. Thompson was named executive editor of the Observer group in 1969.

A gruff, forthright individual who never minced words, Tommy was well-known in the Plymouth area, where he was a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club. A lover of horse racing, he wrote a column for the paper under the pseudonym "Doc Minard," the name of a horse liniment. He died at age 65 on April 14, 1975.
Emory Daniels, now editor of the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, was appointed to the position in June, 1975. Daniels, a journalism graduate of Central Michigan University, joined the Observer group in 1965. Before coming to Plymouth, he was editor of other papers in the group, including those in Garden City, Westland, Farmington and Southfield.

OBSERVER & ECCENTRIC CARRIERS DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT SUMMER JOBS

When school lets out for summer break, many students start looking for summer jobs... anything, just to make a little money. But Observer & Eccentric carriers don't have to worry about these scarce summer jobs. They have a job all year long. And it only takes a few hours a week. That leaves plenty of time for study during the school year, and lots of time for fun during the summer.

Besides earning money, Observer & Eccentric carriers gain valuable experience in operating their own business ventures: learning how to deal pleasantly with people, the responsibility of collecting and keeping proper records, and the value of dependability. Carriers also have a chance to grow in self-sufficiency and self-esteem. Throughout the year, special prizes, trips, and other bonuses reward the carriers for good service and work habits.

It's a great way to earn money all year long without giving up the other things in life. For more information on Observer & Eccentric routes, call the Circulation Department today, or mail the coupon below.

Editor:

As a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee, Scheduling 6-12 Work Group, it was apparent to me from the beginning what the outcome of the group would be. The outcome was obvious because of the glaring bias of the group's members.

The members included three school teachers, the assistant principal of a Livonia school, three pro-modular parents and the principals of both Canton and Salem high schools, who served as resource persons. Kent Buikema, principal of Canton was supposed to be an advisor to the group, not the director and writer of research material. Also included in the group were two high school students who were enamored with modular scheduling.

Only certain areas of modular scheduling were included in the group's study and recommendations. Several areas were eliminated because they were to be covered in the DeMont-Childs report. I, for one, am still waiting for some input from parents on the subject of modular scheduling. The $6,000 DeMont-Childs study excluded any input from parents and used only student, faculty and administrative input. The report substantiates many of the areas of concern voiced by the Concerned Parents.

I do not regret wasting ten weeks of my time on the research and meetings of the C.A.C., but I am unhappy about the fact that school officials have again "stacked the deck" to simulate accepting citizen and parent input.

One would only have to review the membership of the Scheduling 6-12 Committee to have preempted the outcome and validity of the C.A.C.'s recommendations.

Bd. of Ed. screener asks about rudeness

Editor:

About two months ago, I was contacted by members of the executive board of the Concerned Parents to possibly assist their election and screening committee in an advisory capacity, in choosing to support one or two candidates for the upcoming school election.

This request of me was not unusual as I have been very active in school and community affairs. Groups such as the League of Women Voters, civic and cultural associations, athletic boosters, school PTOs and councils, election and political organizations have previously invited me to contribute my "layman's expertise" and willingness to work. At the present time, I am involved with the millage committee.

One of the guidelines set down by the elections committee was to interview ALL candidates. As of this date, the elections committee has met with seven intended candidates.

On May 5, 1976, Chuck Lazette, election committee chairman for Concerned Parents, via Ma Bell, contacted our current school board president, Mrs. Marda Benson. The purpose of the call was to explain their goals and extend a sincere invitation giving her an opportunity to speak before the committee.

The conversation was abruptly terminated without the customary salutation by Mrs. Benson. (She hung up!)

I believe most sincerely that there must have been some misunderstanding! Mrs. Benson has been quoted to the effect that her purpose in running as an incumbent for the school board was to give the people a choice.

I'm sure Mrs. Benson would accept invitations from the P.E.A., League of Women Voters, the women's organization of the Republican Party and other citizens groups. Even Dr. DeMont of Wayne State University met with the Concerned Parents at a general membership meeting.

The election committee of the Concerned Parents is comprised of only parents. They are striving with a positive attitude to become knowledgeable of the candidate's positions.

I hope Mrs. Benson will reconsider.

If she won't meet with this specific parent group at this time, for some reason unbeknownst to them, how can she as a board member and decision-maker, listen to parent concerns objectively?

Udall offers quiet determination

Presidential candidate Morris Udall said the federal government could stop deterioration of neighborhoods by putting a halt to the lending institutions' practice of "redlining" areas.

And he said that while Democratic front-runner Jimmy Carter has similar housing policies, Udall wouldn't use such terms as "black intrusion or alien outsider."

Udall, the lone campaigner from the liberal wing of the Democratic party, has been in Michigan seeking to outrun Carter in the May 18 presidential primary.

Reporter Eric Peters interviewed Udall early Saturday as the candidate rode from his Metro Airport hotel to a radio interview in Ann Arbor.

"I can't imagine Hubert Humphrey or Bob Kennedy or anybody else using words like 'black intrusion' or 'alien outsider.'"

"But if you get down to the technical housing policies, he says he favors what I say."

OF BUSING to achieve school integration, Udall said:

"I don't feel busing is a very satisfactory remedy for a segregated society. But if that's the only way the people's constitutional rights can be enforced, I'm afraid that we're going to have to enforce them through the Constitution."

He sees the federal role in the fight against crime limited to three things:

- "A vigorous attack on organized crime. This is beyond the capacity of the states."
- "A vigorous war on the production of drugs. Only the federal government could put the heat on Mexico and Turkey and get this plague off our streets."

Meetings are not the place for petty tactics

In the wake of Tuesday night's antics at the Canton Township board meeting, one can only conclude that something is seriously wrong.

It should not take the Wayne County sheriff's department to settle a board problem over tape recording of meetings.

In all likelihood, what happened Tuesday was probably symptomatic of a much deeper problem among township politicians.

It seems there is an escalating war of political shenanigans. Where spirited debate was once sufficient, it now seems that board members must either pound the table, yell or do something very strange in order to make their points.

AT THE HEIGHT of this political grandstanding, Supervisor Robert Greenstein called the sheriff to have two trustees, Brian Schwall and Bob Myers, removed from the meeting hall when they refused to turn off their tape recorders.

While this was by far the most outlandish move, it does not mean that Greenstein alone is guilty of overkill tactics.

Schwall and Myers were also guilty of overplaying their hand to attract attention to a point they feel must be made—that prohibiting board members from taping meetings is illegal and an infringement of constitutional rights as citizens.

If this was an isolated incident, it would not be so bad.

But it follows an incident two weeks ago in which the board voted against paying the bills. At that time, it was Greenstein attempting to make a point that some trustees were playing politics with the township bills.

The supervisor as much as admitted that Tuesday.

The unfortunate result of all the political grandstanding is that the township business—which these men were elected to conduct—takes a back seat and is almost forgotten.

On Tuesday, Greenstein threatened to adjourn the meeting if the two trustees did not discontinue taping.

THE QUESTION is: Why is it necessary to continue a political arms race in which each outlandish antic is met with another?

The answer, if there is one, is that the ability to achieve reasonable compromise on a board so divided, in a township so divided, has been lost by the elected officials.

They can no longer, it seems, sit down and hammer out their differences while maintaining an air of decorum and respect for one another.

Intelligent dialogue has been pre-empted by political maneuvering and crowd-playing tactics.

We would hope that in the future Canton's elected officials can put the township business first and let the politicking take place outside the meeting hall.

We would hope further that board members would realize that political antics of the past few weeks have been a disservice to the township. It's time to try and reconcile differences reasonably, even if they are personality clashes.

You can defeat the Litter Lobby

There's one issue that's more popular than apple pie, baseball and all the presidential candidates put together.

That issue is litter and the desire of the public to ban throwaway bottles and cans from the marketplace, from their lawns, from the roadsides, from farm pastures and parks and beaches.

The so-called Jondahl bill—House Bill 4296—has been introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives with 23 co-sponsors. Nevertheless, it will face tough opposition from the Litter Lobby.

The Litter Lobby has attorneys, lobbyists, charts, graphs and other propaganda to make it look like the American economy will come to an end if the bottle bill becomes law.

People of sense know better. We got along quite nicely, thank you, when we didn't have the kinds of throwaway containers we have today.

Nevertheless, the legislature needs prodding. If you are asked to sign a "bottle bill" petition, sign it. Circulate petitions yourself. Write to your state lawmakers in Lansing and ask them to pass the bill.

If the legislature fails to act, the petitions will help put the issue on the ballot. If that step becomes necessary, be sure to vote for it.

June 1 is the deadline for getting those petitions returned to Michigan United Conservation Clubs, PO Box 2235, Lansing, Mich. 48911.

Ford's in trouble, but he deserves fair chance

The senior movers and shakers of the Michigan Republican Party held a quiet meeting last Saturday.

The subject: Next Tuesday's primary election, where President Ford and Ronald Reagan will go at it head-to-head. The message: Watch out, guys, because if the president loses this one in his own home state, it could very well cost him the nomination. The worry: If Reagan gets the GOP nomination, it could be the disaster of 1964 all over again.

The movers and shakers are right on all counts. The president is in trouble in his own state.

For much of his political career, he cultivated his congressional district around Grand Rapids and his career on Capitol Hill to the exclusion of all else. As a consequence, he never became a full statewide figure in the way Gov. Milliken has. Therefore, next Tuesday President Ford will benefit less than one might expect from feelings of home state chauvinism by the voters.

Further, Michigan voters have a long history of political unpredictability, marked in recent years by a resounding willingness to cross over to vote in the opposite party's primary. If you add to that historical pattern the notion that all those thousands of voters who were for George Wallace four years ago have no real place to go today now that Jimmy Carter has wiped out the Democratic field, you have an opening a mile wide for a Reagan blitz for a massive Wallace crossover vote.

THE PRESIDENT HAS NOT helped his own cause in recent weeks by his choice of campaign tactics. Instead of staying in Washington running the country and campaigning on his record, he has been dashing hither and thither, responding to every criticism Reagan makes, in a frantic courtship of the small but very powerful and vocal Republican right wing.

There is every indication that Ford has changed these tactics since they failed so spectacularly in Texas and Indiana. The senior party people have advised him to campaign in Michigan, but as the incumbent president with a good record, not as a suitor of the right wing.

In the event that the president does lose Michigan to Ronald Reagan, the damage could be

by PHILIP H. POWER

serious. The national media will fail to understand Michigan's political volatility, and the Reagan campaign will argue that if an incumbent president can't carry his own home state, he cannot hope to win in November.

Reagan's chances of winning the Republican nomination would be enormously increased.

THAT WOULD BE a shame, both for the Republican Party and for the country.

Although a few transcendental political theorists have been able to construct an argument that Reagan would do better against Carter than would Ford, most of the polls and virtually all of the practical politicians disagree. Reagan might not do as badly as Barry Goldwater did against Lyndon Johnson in 1964, but he certainly would not be a strong candidate against Carter's broad appeal.

And Ford has a useful, valid and powerful set of arguments going for him. As the man succeeding Richard Nixon, he has convinced the country of his decency, honesty and integrity. As the manager of the economy, he has resisted the blandishments of vastly expanded government spending and appears to have the economy growing with little inflationary pressure. As the national spokesman, he has the nation at peace for the first time in many years.

The test in the coming November election ought to be between the best possible representatives of our two political parties. I cannot accept the idea that Ronald Reagan—by training limited and by instinct simplistic—is the best possible representative of the Republican Party. President Ford has done a good job, and he deserves to run on his record this fall.

HIT THE "YES" BUTTON, NOT THE PANIC BUTTON

The jail tax

'Yes' vote is way to solve problem

Don't be confused by the bickering. Whatever happens, Wayne County is going to have to come up with tax money to build new jail facilities.

The cheapest, fastest, most humane, most efficient and smartest way to get the matter resolved is to vote yes next Tuesday on the half-mill property tax proposal and get it over with.

The bickering is over whether the county should build a new jail from the ground up or perhaps get more space at less cost by renovating a downtown warehouse.

It doesn't matter which plan an individual prefers. The point is that something has to be done, and it will take some property tax money to do it.

THE INDIVIDUAL VOTER has two options, no matter which kind of facility the forces downtown finally decide on.

He can snarl and vote no. This would not prevent a new jail facility from coming into being, however. It would only mean that the county would have to issue bonds, probably over a 25-year period. With interest rates being what they are, the result would be an expense of $90 million, with two-thirds going for financing charges.

It could be done that way. But it doesn't make sense.

The smarter way would be for voters to make up their minds to pay a half-mill more on the property tax for five years for a total of $35 million. It'll be cheaper, the bite won't be that severe, and the problem can be resolved.

TO A HOMEOWNER, the costs can be broken down this way:

If you pass Proposal A and your house has a market value of $30,000, you'll pay $7.50 more a year; over five years, a total of $37.50. If your house is worth $40,000, you'll pay $10 more a year or a total of $50.

If you vote no, your tax bill won't go up perceptibly in the short run, but in the long run it will mean a crimp in county services—a greater delay when you need something from the clerk's records, a delay in getting a deed, a delay in the handling of a will in probate, the end of bike days in Hines Park (it almost happened this year)—things like that.

It could also mean that some persons accused of crimes will be let out of jail on reduced bond while awaiting trial. Some may commit another crime; how many times have you read about a person committing a second crime while free on bond while awaiting trial for a first offense?

If that offense is committed against you, your family or your home, the cost could well be far more than the $10 a year more in property taxes you would pay under Proposal A.

ALL OF THESE are very businesslike, very personal, very selfish reasons for supporting the jail tax proposal.

There are humanitarian reasons, too, if anyone is interested. The court has found repeatedly that the present jail has inadequate space, inadequate facilities, unsafe conditions. No one is talking about replacing it with a country club. What we're talking about is a solid, safe, clean, decent jail.

Voters made a mistake in 1972 by rejecting a jail proposal. We're all paying for that mistake today—stopgap measures, renovation of a hospital building in Westland, renovations at Dehoco. The problem doesn't go away when you vote no. We shouldn't make the same mistake twice.

Proposal A on the May 18 ballot in Wayne County deserves an overwhelming yes vote.

Canton coaching incident comes to a proper end

The conclusion of the Muneio affair to the extent it is ended by a resolution, was handled properly Monday night by the Plymouth Board of Education.

The questions about the performance of Jim Muneio, head football coach at Plymouth Canton High, and his staff were scattered over a wide area in the midst of the controversy. But the choice narrowed at the moment of decision to whether the board would stand behind the administration's support of the coaches. The other issue was the propriety of trustee Joe Gray's actions in the incident.

THE BOARD, after lengthy hearings with coaches, parents of players, and residents, concluded that the "charges were not of the magnitude to justify the harsh remedy of dismissal..." and the board "finds no adequate reason to take action against Mr. Muneio and his staff."

The gist of the board's action is that it affirmed Muneio and his staff may remain in their coaching positions if they wish. The board correctly assessed that it could neither accept nor reject a resignation—that's a personal choice belonging to an individual employee, and any action by the board is a mere formality.

From reports we received, the general and specific charges were aired at length by parents and residents, and the accused were given adequate opportunity to respond. The secret hearings at least gave the appearance of allowing each side the opportunity to be heard. Both sides agreed to the secret proceedings and must, therefore, be willing to accept the consequence. Due process, after all, is best achieved in the open.

Given the secrecy surrounding these hearings, we only can assume that all criticisms and concerns were made known to the board in sufficient detail. Based on that, it also can be assumed the board arrived at its judgment after giving thorough consideration to the complaints. The incident comes to an end with that judgment, although the controversy might resurface.

A KEY POINT in understanding what has transpired is that the negative feelings toward the football program at Canton had been brought to the attention of the administration.

Although Gray and others decry the fact that the Muneio affair was dragged into the open and should have been handled at the administrative level rather than at the board level, the fact is that the matter had been handled by administration.

Gray and his supporters made a mistake when they did not agree with the administration's decision and would not let the matter rest at that level.

Because the administration's recommendations were unacceptable, the matter came before the board and into the public's eye. If the administration is to be challenged, the only proper place for resolution is before the school board.

Gray still believes he acted properly, although individual board members have stated publicly their belief that he stepped out of bounds. But the action taken Monday night did not mention any specific actions taken by Gray that were improper. The board merely directed administration to draft a new policy to define proper channels for any citizen or student who has a complaint about personnel or practices. The implication of that action is that the board feels that improper channels were followed.

The board does deserve credit for avoiding any emotional outbursts Monday night when the decision was on the line. The emotional issues behind the choice were discussed calmly and intelligently with deference for each others' need for self-respect. Some may be unhappy with the choice, but now that the verdict is in, we should accept it so the district can move on to more urgent and important problems.

Vote yes on farmland plan

Editor:
On May 18, the residents of Canton are going to be solely responsible for the future development of their community. In the recent Canton census, residents overwhelmingly replied, "save the agricultural land!" Supervisor Greenstein has uncovered some astounding facts that many residents have not been apprised of to make their wish even more critical. 1) The Michigan Department of Agriculture states that Michigan will not be able to provide enough food just to feed its own state residents by the year 2000. 2) The U.S. Department of Agriculture states that in just the past 20 years, farm land equivalent to all the farm land in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan have been "paved." 3) USDA continues that technology will not relieve the food crisis due to implicit dangers to ecology and people. 4) Due to construction-technology, construction sprawl will spread faster and faster into our farm communities unless rerouted. 5) If this sprawl continues, the United States will experience a food crisis at least during your children's lives, if not your own that has never before been experienced. Of course, all revolutionary plans call for skepticism and petty political debates. Already, however, 26 communities have called upon Mr. Greenstein's assistance in implementing his plan in their areas.

READERS' FORUM

Is Car... going to be the leader in providing to the state and country that farm land can be preserved at nobody's expense — or — are we going to follow suit with Westland, Livonia, Garden City, Inkster, etc. and just "pave paradise?" At we going to succumb to the bulldozer for the builders', developers', and landowners' "right to huge profit" as our food costs triple due to decreasing farm lands and the costs for shipping-in food from other states? Please bear in mind that Michigan is not the only state succumbing to the bulldozers — it's nationwide! In a very brief and really insufficient condensation, the plan calls for the bulldozers being rerouted to areas undergoing deterioration, and those areas sparsely developed with all the utilities sitting there — immediately available where construction stopped. There are those who will play petty politics with your future by opposing the plan due to wording on the ballot. The courts have ruled that a community cannot put a maximum population in an area, but that the area itself calls for the maximum. It is for this reason that the 100,000 population of the agricultural-preservation plan and the 200,000 population of the complete urbanization plan figures were used — It does not mean that those numbers will actualize! Every vote for the 100,000 concept means preserved agricultural lands, a leveling off of food costs, a great savings in taxes, better service to those residents already in Canton because services won't have to be spread so thin to a larger community. A beginning step for the entire nation to stop what is turning into a "natural crisis" — succumbing to paving fresh farm lands as opposed to building those deteriorated. Every vote for the 200,000 concept means increased property taxes due to the need for increased services, increase in food costs due to the decreasing availability, increase in school taxes because of the need for more schools — another urban community just like Westland and the others. I don't believe the Canton residents are willing to be victims of the continuing petty politics — they are ready to face facts! Vote yes — 100,000 concept!

PAMELA PHILLIPS,
Canton Democratic Club

Vote no on both plan concepts

Editor:
The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi, does not endorse either question as stated on the land use advisory ballot of May 18. We can agree with the concept of retaining agricultural land, but we support the plan for implementing this concept. It has been stated that approving the concept of retaining agricultural land will be interpreted as approving the 1976 plan as passed by the Canton Planning Commission. The plan to "... provide for land in the western portion of the township to remain a rural agricultural area ..." is objectionable because of:
• Heavy urbanization concentrated east of Canton Center Road.
• Inadequate provision for public recreational land.
• Lack of feasibility due to regional highway and land use planning (Beck, Canton Center and Ford Roads are planned major thoroughfares).
• Lack of coordination with school planning.
The plan "... which will allow the township to ultimately be fully built up and developed ..." is objectionable because of:
• Excessive commercial development.
• Inadequate provision for the public recreational land, and • Overabundance of multiple- and single-family homes. A projected population of 200,000 does not allow for diversity of land use and will overburden township and school services. We do not believe that either of the plans for implementing the "concepts" as stated on the ballot is in the best interest of the entire township. If you believe there are other alternatives that should be considered, do not be forced into choosing one of the two. Say no to both, by not voting for the advisory question.

Packets are a victory

Editor:
Citizens, now for the first time in Canton Township's annals, are receiving informational data concerning our welfare. Since the end of October 1975, active members in the community, including a citizens group referred to as Total Citizens Power, have been in pursuit of the township board's informational packets concerning bi-monthly agendas. Approximately five months later a victory has been achieved by the "citizen" and for the "citizen." We are now in toleration of the township board as we too can view the information necessary to make decisions, ironically, in our behalf.

Equitable compensation law urged

By MARILYN BETMAN

Giving a fair shake to both employee and employer in resolving workmen's compensation issues is one of the most crucial issues before the legislature, State Rep. William Ryan (D-Detroit) told members of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce at its May meeting in Southfield.

"A worker who was injured six years ago has not been provided with any increase for inflation," said Ryan, "yet, he has to cope with higher prices."

Another disadvantage in the workmen's comp system is what happens to an employee who is disabled on the job, Ryan pointed out. He said that under existing law, the employee who suffers serious disfigurement only receives wages for the time he lost at work.

"He may return to work after two weeks," the former speaker of the house said, "but he has to go through the rest of his life with the disfigurement. Something should be provided for that extra burden."

JOEL BUSSELL, a Southfield resident who is marketing services manager for Formsprag Co., said, "No responsible employer wants to see an employee suffer. But before improving benefits, we must first get rid of the many abuses that are driving businesses out of our state."

He referred to retiree payments as a primary abuse where many retirees are collecting more through compensation than they had earned while working.

He cited the example of one employee who had stapled her finger.

"For the physical discomfort, she received $1,000," he said. "But for mental anguish, she collected $11,000, and there are dozens of cases similar to this on record."

Bussell suggested that money saved by preventing these abuses could be channeled into fair compensation benefits. Ryan said the legislature would like to see an industry-labor committee sit down to negotiate costs for compensation.

"A good compromise would be reached when labor agrees that the cost is enough, and industry agrees that the cost isn't too much," he said.

Win Fountain of the Budd Co. in Troy commended Ryan for his "down to earth" approach in dealing with workmen's compensation, which, according to Fountain, has faced enormous problems in getting fair legislation.

OTHER TOPICS Ryan touched were inflation, interstate competition and the state's new single business tax.

Ryan explained that the land use bill would oversee the preservation and reservation of certain types of essential land such as forests and farmland. He said the bill would determine what kind of land should be immune from urban sprawl. One of the more controversial land use issues is the interim control program which deals with the question of whether essential lands should go uncontrolled for the five years it takes for a decision to be made by the land use commission.

"We cannot wake up a number of years from now and find out that our state allowed essential land to be overrun because of insufficient planning," Ryan said.

On the topic of the single business tax, Ryan said he hoped a recently appointed businessmen's group would be able to come up with a formula to revise the new tax which has drawn the wrath of small businessmen.

"These businessmen will be asked what items in corporate statements they wish to have taxed and in what way they want it (single business tax) modified," he said.

RYAN ACKNOWLEDGED the need for attracting new businesses to the state and at the same time decried the present degree of interstate competition.

He also said Michigan has not fully exploited its pool of skilled workers and educational institutions to coordinate with industrial needs.

While speculating that the upcoming presidential contest would be between Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, Ryan said, "Regardless of the outcome, it must be an administration that can find some way to move business into a more policy-making role because government is not that effective in economic planning."

He warned that without greater industrial involvement in economic planning, the result will be "efficient companies, but an inefficient country with wasted resources."

KENNETH HILL, district manager of the Sun Oil Co. in Southfield, said he was impressed by Ryan's urging of individuals to become more involved in long-term issues.

"This was both refreshing and enlightening," he said, "because in too many cases, industry has been reactive rather than pro-active."

"The Sun Oil Co. is urging its managers to become more involved, and I certainly agree with this approach."

Jail tax locks up support

Two more citizen groups and two judges have joined supporters of the May 18 ballot proposition to add a half-mill tax for new jail construction.

Civic Searchlight and Urban Alliance joined in recommending a yes vote on county Proposition A to add more jail cells.

Wayne County Circuit Court Presiding Judge James N. Canham and Records Court Chief Judge Donald S. Leonard also joined in urging support of Proposition A as "the best method to solve the urgent problem of inadequate jail space."

Proposition A calls for one-half mill to raise $35 million for construction in Detroit of additional jail cells to accommodate 400 more prisoners. Wayne County officials are under court orders to limit the number of prisoners at the present jail to 720 and to provide additional space as quickly as possible.

WILLIAM H. O'BRIEN, executive secretary of Civic Searchlight, said, "Four years ago our committee turned down a jail millage proposal on the grounds there were alternative ways to reduce the jail population. These alternatives are now exhausted and are no longer viable."

"Another factor in our decision is the substantial savings to residential taxpayers of the millage as compared with a bond issue, since business and industry in Wayne County shoulder more than half the property tax burden."

"Our 1976 committee accordingly urges a yes vote on this urgent public issue as the most practical and appropriate solution to the problem."

"ENDORSEMENT OF Proposition A by Urban Alliance is predicated on several premises," said Joseph Hansknecht, the group's co-chairman. "These are, first, that voters be informed of the specific facility, location and costs for the new jail."

"A second concern is that the Wayne County commissioners give binding assurance that alternative financing be used to build the jail if millage is not available."

"Our third requirement is that the new facility meet all applicable local, state and federal codes."

"With assurances, a vote of yes on Proposition A will provide us with the most sensible method of paying for the needed jail space."

JUDGE CANHAM said the millage would generate funds for the additional cellblocks more rapidly than an alternative bond issue.

Canham also said the additional jail capacity would free more suburban police for law enforcement duties.

A day for beauty

By MARGARET MILLER

"The women I've met here are well-groomed and very interested in fashion and self improvement."

"Whether working women or homemakers, they feel good grooming is a necessity, and that's an optimistic outlook."

The assessment came from Marylou Block, top model and cosmetologist, as well as owner of a cosmetics firm, and she made it as she met a couple dozen local residents participating in a "Day of Beauty" she conducted in the Plymouth Hilton.

She was invited by Georgia Gebhard, president of West Suburban Affiliate 39 of the Michigan Cosmetologist Association and owner of the Merre Belles hair salon in Livonia, to bring to this area a program she has taken all over the country.

"I was anxious to bring a program like this to the west area," she said. "I know the interest in top style in hair and cosmetics and good fashion isn't all to the north of us."

"The salons there are great, but we have some very fine people in this area and many women most interested in their services."

MS. GEPHARD said she had met Marylou Block through meetings of the cosmetologist association, which twice a year puts on a show of coming hair styles, bringing in fashion and makeup for a total look.

Mrs. Block, who teaches a regular makeup and cosmetology course in Birmingham, in addition to the one-day beauty sessions all over the country, has been doing the makeup of models for the association's spring and fall showings.

"She relates well to the women and has a lot of practical ideas for putting it all together," said Ms. Gephard. "I wanted to bring her to this area, and the day was so successful that we'll definitely make it a regular spring and fall event."

THE "TOTAL LOOK" program of the 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. day included advice on hair care and styling, use of makeup and wardrobe planning.

Hair styles and colors were demonstrated, with emphasis on the natural look, and attention given to determining what's best when considering other individual features.

In demonstrating makeup, Mrs. Block showed how salons teach women to use the complete line from her firm, Marylou Block Cosmetics, Inc.

"We give a beauty analysis chart," she said, "and we also give each woman a diagram of a face, so notations can be made where the makeup should be placed, and how it should be applied."

"We realize everyone isn't going to remember everything about the instructions, and after putting money into cosmetics women should be able to use them properly."

THE WARDROBE AND fashion section of the beauty day includes a line of suggestions of how to dress various figure types and how to play up or down certain features.

Mrs. Block also mentioned for the women some 1976 fashion touches that make a difference—shawl wraps, vests, cowl sweaters, quilted jackets, tunics, slim skirts, evening togas, soft crepe, scarves, narrow belts and silver sculptured jewelry.

And finally, she distributed a sheet on which the women could list the outfits they now have, accessories now on hand to be switched around, and a place to list clothing wanted and needed.

THAT LIST decided Mrs. Macella Cornwall of Livonia, one of participants, is going to make a difference in her shopping habits.

"When you work, your shopping time is limited, and it's important to make it count," she said. "I'm going to take that list with me and shop for just what I need."

Mrs. Cornwall said both she and her daughter, Debbie Paulson, found the "Day of Beauty" most interesting. Both came away with a lot of new ideas, she added.

"If you don't go to modeling school or take courses in grooming and fashion, you tend not to be exposed much to that sort of thing," Mrs. Cornwall said. "But it's the kind of thing all women should know if they want to look well put together."

MARGE BOGIATTI of Canton was persuaded to try the Block line of makeup after the session.

"I liked what she showed us on how to apply cosmetics to camouflage defects," she said. "I found the whole program very helpful."

MARYLOU BLOCK between trips taking her cosmetics to programs around the nation, likes to relax at her Clarkston home where she and her husband, land developer Harry Block, have two sons, seven dogs and 18 horses.

The boys are eight and 13, she said, "and they are always telling women they must take care of their skin to look young—and they say it with no prodding, too."

Marylou Block demonstrates the proper way to apply today's makeup.

Picture travel, too

Center residents take a culinary world tour

By MARGARET MILLER

St. Jude Convalescent Center on Ann Arbor Trail in Livonia is full of world-wise travelers.

Its 64 residents aren't having any problems with jet lag, but as they prepare for summer's picnics and outings, they have memories of an armchair journey through Europe, complete with culinary samplings of the foods of Great Britain, France, Italy, Poland and Hungary.

Their travel was through photos furnished by the Wayne County library audiovisual section, but the appropriate meals was a project involving the whole home, from Marian Gizynski, owner, to dietary supervisor Pat Hayes and nearly every resident.

"It was one of the greatest things that has happened here," said Mrs. Gizynski. "The women got out their old recipes and enjoyed talking about them—it was as if they had rejoined society."

MEALTIME TAKES ON great importance in the life of a convalescent resident, she pointed out, so the project had plenty of appeal from the start.

But Mrs. Hayes made it special by conferring with many of the residents to get their recipes and hints on how to prepare the dishes.

From Helen Bakos, she obtained a recipe for Hungarian chicken paprikash and a noodles-with-cabbage dish.

"That sounds wild but it was fantastic," Mrs. Gizynski said.

From Josie Gianolio, there were tips for the pierogi served on Italian day. And Mrs. Hayes had her own recipe for the oatmeal cake that crowned the British meal.

The dinner from France had fileted fish as its main course and mushrooms in wine sauce worthy of the cuisine of any French chef.

THE DINNERS were served at noon on Wednesdays for several weeks. To complete the international flavor of the special Wednesdays, films of the featured countries were shown in the evening.

The project grew out of a fall series that organized the non-mobile residents into a

"See-More Club" and took them on a trip through Canada via library films.

The residents themselves thought the next vicarious journey should be to Europe.

"And the dietary staff took off from there," Mrs. Gizynski said.

For the moment, the culinary excursions are in the past, because spring and summer offers more opportunities for the residents to get out of the building.

"But it was such a success, I'm sure we'll try something like it again," The St. Jude owner promised.

Tiny Angela Marie Rathka, almost big enough to go home, is fed by nurse Doris White in Pontiac General Hospital's intensive care unit for premature babies. Angela's mother, Mrs. Linda Rathka was referred to Pontiac General Hospital after three unsuccessful premature births. Angela was born four weeks early.

Hospital boosts troubled babies

If your baby is in trouble at birth, chances are that Pontiac General Hospital (PGH) can help it survive.

The premature intensive care unit is a long name for a special place at Pontiac General Hospital—a separate nursery where troubled babies get a boost toward life from sophisticated equipment and specially trained nurses whose single purpose is to keep them alive.

Premature infants, those born with respiratory distress syndrome (RDS) and others who don't do well in the first few minutes of life—225 babies in 1975—have been receiving intensive care here since 1972.

"There's no way we can say for sure that all those babies would have died," says Dr. Donald Trumpour, chief of pediatrics at Pontiac General Hospital, "but we have saved some lives and probably supported the potential IQ's of many more."

"TECHNIQUES DEVELOPED to save premature babies overflow to those not as sick who now get more knowledgeable care. If they're slow starters or have suffered difficulties at birth, we can help them better than we used to."

Breathing difficulties account for the greatest number of babies placed in the intensive care unit, located away from the glass-walled term nursery with its 60 bassinets.

RDS, sometimes called hyaline membrane disease, occurs when immature lungs can't expand properly due to collapsed air sacs. With poor expansion, insufficient oxygen gets into the baby's blood stream, causing possible brain damage. Breathing may stop.

Just the right amount of oxygen is called for. Too much can result in retrolental fibroplasia, which causes blindness.

A plastic dome which fits over the baby's head like a large bubble holds the oxygen inside, while warming lights regulate the temperature surrounding him or her.

Monitors continuously check heart beat and breathing, making a sound like an incessantly bouncing ping pong ball. If a drastic change occurs in either rate, an alarm will alert nurses.

On the tiny arms of some babies, tubes are inserted for intravenous feedings. Others, large enough to nurse from bottles, are fed in the arms of nurses.

SURROUNDED BY GLEAMING steel equipment, an old-fashioned rocking chair waits for feeding time, its seat covered with a patchwork cushion. It symbolizes the loving care of nurses who, while constantly watchful, talk to and cuddle babies well enough to be held.

St. Mary receives $5,000 donation

A gift of $5,000, to be used for the second phase of an updated communication system for St. Mary Hospital of Livonia, has been presented to Sister Mary Calasanta, hospital president, by Michigan National Bank President Andrew Brodun.

Sr. Calasanta said the gift would give a "healthy transfusion" to the hospital's plans to speed communication, both for rescue service in the community and among staff personnel in the institution.

"Every step forward, which makes possible the improvement of patient care, is greatly appreciated by the hospital and the people of the communities the hospital serves," the administrator said as she accepted the check.

The gift will be earmarked for the second phase of a three-step communications improvement plan.

That phase will involve a paging system, providing pocket radio pagers for all key personnel who might be required to be available in the emergency room on short notice.

Patients would thus get immediate attention rather than waiting for the medical teams to be notified by telephone or on the conventional overloaded paging system currently in use at St. Mary.

Sr. Calasanta said the proposed system would be "truly beneficial, because it makes possible contacts with the physician without alarming patients in the hospital, especially during late evening and night hours when the conventional system is turned off."

Phase One of the hospital communication system, expected to be in operation by July 1, is providing for direct radio communication between the hospital's emergency department and the rescue squads of the Livonia Fire Department and ambulance companies.

That operation has been funded by the Michigan Department of Highway Safety and the City of Livonia.

The third phase will involve security guards at the hospital and community police departments, Sr. Calasanta said, adding that it would be implemented as funds become available.

m.m.memos

I had planned to fill this space this week with a report on how the month of May, and all its activity, had succeeded in dividing us as a family—what with the junior high staging a concert and the high school opening a musical show the same night.

It did happen that way, and we did have to split forces.

The head of our family, who could get only one evening away from his newspaper, was at the high school to see his No. 3 daughter joining the entourage of Music Man Harold Hill and Marian the Librarian, and I went with one big sister to hear our youngest render a few incidental solos on the French horn while her band and orchestra performed.

WE ALL MANAGED too to get to the high school to view the musical during its three-evening run, although it took some real car shuttling to accomplish that.

So this column was going to be about how well our girls performed (which they did) and how much we enjoyed it (which indeed we did) and how much I appreciate all the work on the part of music and drama teachers that makes for these opportunities (which I do, in full measure.)

BUT THEN the weekend ended with Mother's Day, and the member of the family, who studies math instead of getting onto a platform, managed to upstage everybody.

And I can't let the occasion pass without thanking her publicly for one of the nicest gifts I've received in a lot of Mother's Days.

She had delved into an old envelope full of eight or nine years worth of Memos, as well as into our drawer of more years than that of family snapshots.

And, with the aid of a copying machine in the store where she has worked, she came up with a book titled "Moments of our Lives."

EVERYBODY'S IN IT including a grandmother and a dog no longer with us, matched in picture and column report. She said she had fun figuring out which columns were earlier, since most had not been dated, but in some cases it wasn't terrible hard because of ages mentioned.

We all enjoyed reading the book, but no one more than this mother who had written every word.

It's going to be treasured a long time, along with the memories of a great junior high concert and a splendid high school musical.

MR. AND MRS. MAX HOLLAND SR.

Hollands observe 60th anniversary

A party in Roma Hall, Livonia was the scene of a family celebration honoring the 60th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Max S. Holland Sr. of Detroit. They were married in 1916 in Southbend, Ind., by the bride's father, the Rev. E. N. Foulk.

Mr. Holland was employed in a Detroit shoe sales firm until going into business for himself as an orthopedic shoe specialist. Mrs. Holland was employed by the Post Cereal Co. of Ypsilanti.

They have four children, Lloyd Holland of Farmington, Max Holland Jr., of Detroit, Mrs. Janet Olson of Bradenton, Fla. and Mrs. Jackie Lake of Jackson; 12 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Village plans 27th annual country fair

The 1976 special events season at Greenfield Village gets off to a colorful start May 13-16 with the 27th annual Country Fair of Yesteryear. Recalling the excitement of old-time rural fairs, this four-day event offers something to delight adults and youngsters alike.

Everything that made the country fair a much anticipated and well-remembered annual event a century ago will be included in the fair. Parades, marching bands, farm animals, old-time crafts demonstrations and a variety show will highlight the activities.

Each day will begin with a colorful "Cavalcade of Transportation" parade through the Village streets. Led by high-stepping high school bands, the parade is to feature a variety of historic vehicles from a stagecoach and Conestoga wagon to high-wheel bicycles and antique automobiles.

MUSIC WILL SET the pace during the weekend. Just inside the Village entrance, the Pigtown Flingers, an early American orchestra, sets visitor toes tapping right away. Other musical highlights include performances by a banjo band, barbershop quartets and 19th century-style folk singers and the country-western sounds of the Oklahoma Prairie Dust Band.

All day, each day of Country Fair there will be things to see and do all around the Village. The Early Engine Club will be on hand with chugging machinery to show how farm chores were once performed. On the Activities Field, a variety show featuring a magician, ventriloquist and acrobats will be presented twice daily.

On Saturday and Sunday on the Village Green, the Wheelmen, an organization devoted to keeping alive the heritage of American cycling, will demonstrate the pleasures — and perils — of manipulating highwheelers.

During country fair weekend, two century-old steam locomotives — the Torch Lake and Mason No. 1 — will travel the Village perimeter, carrying visitors on nostalgic trips into the past. In Suwanee Park, the paddlewheel steamboat "Suwanee" will begin weekend operations. Rides in pony carts, horse-drawn carriages and antique automobiles also are available.

Greenfield Village admission is $3. for adults and $1.25 for children six through 12. Children under six are admitted free.

CFG barn sale at camp

The Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council will hold its first community-wide Barn Sale, scheduled for May 15-16, at Camp Fire's Camp Wathana, near Holly, Michigan.

The barn sale will offer a variety of treasures donated for sale by Camp Fire families as well as friends of the agency. Shoppers can expect to find toys, books, antiques, small appliances, clothing, furniture, odds and ends, tools, sports equipment, and more odds and ends, all reasonably priced.

Camp provides plenty of free parking and refreshments will be available to purchase.

Proceeds from this sale, organized and implemented for Camp Fire by volunteers, will help support the on-going work of Camp Fire with all girls, ages 6-17, in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Camp Fire is a Torch Drive service, presently serving 7000 members locally.

Illinois has been targeted as a key state for passage of the ERA in 1976. The rally will bring together supporters from such groups as NOW, the Business and Professional Women's clubs and the American Association of University Women.

Tabernacle setting for rites

Virginia Lee Ivankovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ivankovich of Arrowhead Street, Westland, became the bride of Henry A. Landoll III in a ceremony in Brightmoor Tabernacle, Detroit.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Landoll Jr. of Norwalk, Ohio. The Rev. Paul A. Fisher officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length empire gown and a finger-tip veil trimmed in lace. Her flowers were white orchids with pink roses and baby's breath.

Her sister, Susan Wurn, came from San Bernardino to serve as matron of honor. Judy Mladjan and Becky Landoll were bridesmaids and Melissa Henry was flower girl.

All wore pink dotted swiss and carried white carnations and pink roses.

The bridegroom and his attendants, best man Dwight Henry and ushers Ted Landoll and Mike Ivankovich, wore grey tuxedos with pink shirts. James Ivankovich was ring bearer.

After a church reception, the couple left for a Grand Caymen Islands honeymoon. They will live in Toledo, where the bridegroom, a graduate of Bowling Green University, is employed by the Ralston Purina Co.

The new Mrs. Landoll is a Stevenson High School graduate and has been working as a secretary for Hickson-Costigan, Inc.

Their wedding will be June 26 in Rice Memorial United Methodist Church of Redford Township.

St. Mary invites clergymen to help in emergency room

By MARGARET MILLER

A minister's place may well be in the emergency room, St. Mary Hospital administrators and the Livonia Ministerial Association believe.

They are working together to provide a number of clergymen with the know-how to be of real assistance—from a psychological rather than physical standpoint—with the medical team receiving patients in the St. Mary emergency area.

"A patient coming in, after an accident or a sudden illness, has both physical and psychological needs," said Dr. Sidney N. Smock, staff physician who talked to ministerial association members in beginning the project recently.

DR. SIDNEY N. SMOCK

"His physical needs can be met by the medical team in the emergency room. We do a pretty good job there.

"But psychological needs are another matter. The doctors, nurses and technicians don't have the time, experience or education to do that part of the job as well as we would wish."

DR. SMOCK'S IDEA is that a clergyman, serving a turn in the emergency room, could be supportive to the patient and relatives who may come with him.

"It's extremely important for some of these people that someone who understands the hospital procedures be around to give some support," he said.

"In the case of acute injury, trauma or even death, a minister can provide the initial support, and then he is in a position to enter into a continuing relationship which may make a big difference."

THE PHYSICIAN said clergymen also could be of great assistance in some instances of more routine cases, and cited an example.

"A mother and child came in recently," he said, "and the child had a head cut needing several stitches. Like most hospitals, we insist in the St. Mary emergency room that relatives stay outside the immediate area where the treatment is being done.

"There's the possibility that the mother might faint, and we would not be able to give her the proper attention, or the possibility that in anxiety she might reach for the child into a sterile area."

This mother, Dr. Smock went on, insisted on staying close to the child.

"I talked to her for quite a while, but I could not persuade her to follow our procedures," he said. "Finally she took the child and went in search of another hospital."

"But with a clergyman on hand, I could have offered to let him be with the child in her stead, or he might have been able to persuade her when I could not."

"I think, in addition, he might be able to help staff members, should they become too abrupt with patients, by exposing us to another viewpoint."

THE LIVONIA Ministerial Association has for some time had a working relationship with St. Mary, with clergymen of all faiths serving regular turns as hospital chaplains.

Those in the chaplaincy program are beginning the emergency room training, Dr. Smock said, but others will be eligible to serve in this capacity, too.

Dr. Smock said that after the initial meeting with those in the chaplaincy and other association members, he is starting to bring pastors in for emergency room stints "especially at times when I'm on duty there."

The orientation time, he added, will be for medical staff members as well as the pastors.

"We'll all learn how much we can help each other," he explained, "and it will make for better medical care."

BENEFITS WILL BE in a number of areas, the doctor said.

Besides hospital personnel being able to concentrate better on their own work, Dr. Smock believes a clergyman may be able to reduce some of the "hostility" that can lead to malpractice suits.

"Traumatic situations engender hostility on the part of the patient and his relatives," he explained, "and this then may be focused on the doctor, or the cause agent (the other driver in a traffic accident) or the hospital."

"I'm convinced that many malpractice suits are generated by this basic hostility, and I think a man of the collar could help neutralize some of it."

Another service he felt the clergymen could offer would be spotting times when psychological counseling might be needed, as in the case of frequent repeaters in the emergency room.

"Sometimes people will not accept psychological counseling, but will accept a minister. He may be able to get them to the kind of counseling needed," Dr. Smock said.

THE PHYSICIAN EMPHASIZED that the role of the clergyman in the emergency room should not be religious education or advocating any particular denomination, unless that is the request from the patient or relative.

"What I'm saying is that I don't want fire and brimstone lectures in the emergency room."

"And in the work I've done with ministers serving in this capacity, I know I won't get that kind of thing."

'Sporting event' marks 75th year

An old-fashioned "sporting event," scheduled 1-4 p.m. Sunday, at St. John Episcopal Church, 555 S. Wayne, Westland, is the first of several big doings marking the congregation's 75th birthday.

"This is the kind of event churches had 75 years ago," said Harry L. Adams, chairman of the St. John 75th Anniversary and Bicentennial Events Committee, which recently launched a program that will carry through 1976.

"We've invited six other churches to join us, the way they used to do it, and we'll have a baseball game, egg throwing and a rope game, the kind where you tie arms and legs before the race."

"The St. John men's club will furnish hot dogs and pop, and Jim Price of radio station WJBK will be with us to lead the games."

Churches joining in the festivities are St. Richard Catholic, Holy Cross Lutheran, Kirk of the Savior Presbyterian, all of Westland, and St. Cyprian Episcopal of Detroit. The Westland YMCA and YWCA also have been invited.

Adams said the celebrations for the church's 75th anniversary actually began a couple of weeks ago when he started a weekly historical bulletin titled "This is the way it was at St. John."

The first bulletin, he said, reported a meeting of the bishop's committee on the proposal to establish the mission church in this area.

"I'll keep them going all year so people know what happened as the church was just beginning," he said.

Other events planned include a Sunday service in June when church school students will lead worship, a July 4 service using the Anglican Prayer Book of 200 years ago, and a parking lot dance the weekend of July 4 in conjunction with the Westland city festival.

St. John also will have its annual parish picnic in July, a bowling event in August, a birthday party in September for anyone 75 and older, a choir concert in October and a major anniversary dinner in November.

Ward hosts prophecy conference

Ward United Presbyterian Church of Livonia will host a prophecy conference, cooperatively sponsored with three other churches, from Sunday, May 16 to Wednesday, May 19.

Four clergymen from around the country and several films from the Moody Bible Institute will be featured in the services of sharing prophecies as outlined in the Bible.

Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth, First Baptist Church of Pontiac and Highland Park Baptist Church of Southfield are the other sponsors of the series.

Opening day messages will be brought by the Rev. Jack MacArthur, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Eugene, Ore., at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, and Dr. Jerome DeJong, pastor of Faith Reformed Church of S. Holland, Ill., at 7 p.m.

Monday through Wednesday meetings at 7:30 p.m. will feature the Rev. Charles Fineberg, dean emeritus and professor at Talbot Theological Seminary in LaMirada, Calif.; the Rev. Lawrence Pearson, Moody speaker and Bible teacher, and Mr. DeJong.

Each of these sessions will be preceded by a half-hour film, including "Signposts Aloft," "Windows of the Soul," and "In the Beginning, God."

'Healthy Birthday, America'

Botsford to hold open house

By CORINNE ABATT

Assistant director of nursing at Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills, Regina Denning comments on her job: "It gives you a feeling of belonging to a community of care givers."

On Sunday, May 16, 2-4 p.m. the hospital would like to share that kind of feeling with the outside community.

In celebration of National Hospital Week, Botsford is giving a bicentennial party, "Healthy Birthday America."

The public is invited to tour the hospital, become acquainted with many life-saving techniques, see the variety of resources, watch movies and sample the refreshments in the cafeteria.

Before cutting off a chunk of the large, decorated birthday cake, the visitor will be invited to have his blood typed and his blood pressure taken, free of charge.

He may leave his youngsters to watch a health movie especially for children and be entertained by a magician and clowns while he takes one of two guided tours.

On the mini-tour, visitors will see the x-ray and laboratory areas, the emergency room and the critical care complex. A longer tour will include the pulmonary function, physical therapy, surgery, pharmacy, central labor and delivery room areas.

Tour groups, led by Red Cross volunteers and hospital guild members, will assemble in the lobby at 2 p.m.

In addition to creating community awareness, the hospital hopes, through these annual open houses, to break down fears about procedures and stimulate people to seek instruction on life-saving techniques from the American Heart Association.

The "Hug of Life" and CPR will be demonstrated. The visitor will see the treatment of heart attack by cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and the treatment of obstructed air passageways by the Heimlich's Maneuver.

It has been established that one of every 10 Americans has high blood pressure. To perform a service, staff doctors will give blood pressure tests and advise the person if he is within the normal range or in need of help from his private physician.

The hospital is at 28050 Grand River at Eight Mile.

WLW, Brother Rice downed

Chiefs come out swinging

By BILL COLLINS

After watching his team dwell in the doldrums of a four-game hitting rut, Plymouth Canton baseball coach Fred Crissey witnessed the reappearance of his Chiefs batting attack, as Canton pounded its way to an 11-10 triumph over Birmingham Brother Rice, and a 15-2 lambasting of Walled Lake Western. Canton dropped another match with Brother Rice, 8-2.

"We're finally hitting the ball, and if we continue to get the pitching we've received thus far, we're going to be real tough," said Crissey.

"When we have guys like Close, Dugan, Pink, and other seniors hitting like they should, it takes the strain off the underclassmen."

In game one of Canton's double header with Brother Rice, it took a dramatic three-run rally in the bottom of the eleventh inning to lift Bill Parson to his third win of the season.

Canton moved itself to a 3-1 lead in the first inning with Dave Pink smacking a single for two RBI's for the key hit of the rally.

The Chiefs made it 7-1 after two innings by stringing six singles together for four runs. John O'Connell, Scott Collins, Steve Dugan, Tom Close, Steve Morman, and Dave Ost all connected for one-baggers that handed the Chiefs a commanding lead at that point in the game.

Sophomore shortstop Collins kept Canton ahead by six runs in the third by driving in O'Connell with a single.

However, Brother Rice showed signs of coming back when Perkins began putting men on base in the fourth inning.

Perkins walked the first three Rice batters in the fourth, and all of them scored on singles by Phil Naughton and Tim Cleary to make it, Canton eight Rice five after four innings.

Perkins was lifted after the fifth inning when he walked the first two batters, who eventually scored on a double by Naughton to leave Rice trailing, 8-7.

PARSON TOOK to the hill in place of Perkins in the sixth. Rice's leadoff hitter, Bud Schearer, settled the issue of extra innings when he blasted a pitch over the left-field fence to knot the game at 8-8.

Things remained relatively calm during the eighth, ninth, and 10th innings for both teams until the 11th, which decided the outcome of the three-and-a-half hour struggle.

Del Horvath ledoff the top of the 11th for Rice with a home run down the line in left field.

With two men out, Craig Simmons and Roger Henry took base on walks which was followed by a single by Naughton, scoring Simmons. It was Naughton's fifth RBI of the day, as Canton's nemesis put Rice on top 10-8, with three outs standing between Rice and its thirteenth victory of the season. (Rice entered the game with a 12-1 mark.)

Sophomore Doug Smith started the Chiefs uprising with a single to left, he was sacrificed to second base by Collins.

With two out, Steve Dugan came through with a single to center scoring Smith, cutting the deficit to 10-9. Close was walked on a full-count pitch putting runners at first and second.

John Young tied the contest at 10-10 with a sharp liner just inside the bag at third base, as Close advanced on the play into scoring position.

Morman proved to the enthusiastic throng of fans gathered at the Chiefs home field, that a two-run margin was not enough of an obstacle to prevent Canton from winning the contest, when he ripped a game-winning base hit to right-field lifting Plymouth to an 11-10 whipping of Brother Rice.

In the nightcap, it was Brother Rice's four-run surge in the top of the seventh that propelled them to an 8-2 win.

The Warriors went one-up on Canton when Roger Henry cracked a home run to left-center in the second inning for a 1-0 lead.

In the fourth stanza Bud Schearer doubled home a pair of runs and Pete Menzies singled home another as the defending Catholic League Champs gained a 4-0 advantage after four innings.

Canton struck for a run in the fifth inning on a single by Ken Britton and an RBI double by Tom Close.

Close, who is currently being heavily scouted by several colleges and 23 of 24 professional teams, went five for eight at the plate, threw out six runners attempting to steal, and after the following game with Walled Lake Western raised his batting average to .437.

When Doug Smith doubled home Pink in the sixth inning, Canton was in striking distance once again with Rice ahead 4-2 after six innings.

Brother Rice cashed in the rest of its chips in the final innings by parlaying two singles, a double which produced two runs, and an error to salt the contest away earning them a split for the afternoon encounter, by downing the Chiefs in the final, 8-2.

ON MONDAY afternoon versus Walled Lake Western Mark Perkins went four innings to record his third win of the year in four decisions as Canton bombed the warriors, 15-2.

Canton needed only seven hits of its own to move itself to 3-1 in the Western Six League, for first place tie in the league.

Western drew first blood when Dough Green tripled and John Mussen singled to center, for a 1-0 Western lead.

The Chiefs responded with a run in the bottom half of the inning, when Collins walked, was sacrificed to second, took third on a passed ball, and scored on a delayed steal.

The Chiefs stretched their lead to two lengths on a walk to Morman, a sacrifice by Pink, an error to the shortstop, and an RBI single by Perkins.

Walled Lake scored in the third frame on three singles, and it was all the scoring they would be allowed as Parson came on in relief of Perkins for the second time in three days, and blanked the Warriors on three hits.

In the sixth inning, with Canton holding a 5-2 edge, the dam broke on Western when the Chiefs were given nine walks, which they subsequently turned into nine runs with the aid of four hits, and three errors.

THE CHIEFS sent 16 men to bat in the sixth inning, with Collins and Parson scoring twice.

Collins delivered the biggest hit of the tirade when he tripled with the bases loaded to boost his season total of RBI's to 10, second on the team to Close, who had two RBI's in the Western contest for a season's tally of 13.

Canton is now 9-5 for the year, with a 3-1 season mark to date in the Western Six pending the outcome of yesterday's game with Waterford Mott.

The Chiefs face Highland Park High School in a doubleheader this Saturday afternoon at Central Middle School beginning at noon. Canton will be without the services of Kevin Randazzo, who has a case of pneumonia.

Rocks drop Belleville; Walcott hurls 10th win

Plymouth Salem's hitting fortunes didn't prosper Tuesday afternoon at Belleville, as the accent was on pitching.

Salem's Brian Wolcott and Belleville's Ron Buhl hurled three-hitters with the Rocks scoring two unearned runs as a result of wild pitches, on their way to a 3-0 win.

"It was a good game to win when we weren't hitting the ball," said Salem Coach Brian Gilles.

"Playing against a team like Belleville (2-11), we weren't up for the game. I didn't have a worry with Brian on the mound, we just had to get a couple of runs to win the game."

The victory extended Salem's winning streak to five games, and lifted its season record to 11-2, at the same time leaving them as the only undefeated team in the Suburban Eight League, at 8-0.

The Rocks stand a full two games in front of the pack, by virtue of Livonia Bentley's 5-0 setback to Dearborn, putting the Bulldogs further behind Salem in second place, with a 6-2 mark.

Wolcott, in continuing to carry the pitching load on his shoulders, won his eighth league game, and nudged his overall record of the season to 10-0.

He went the full seven innings in posting his fourth shutout by fanning 11 batters and walking only one, allowing only three singles.

Salem scored two runs in the third inning, as a result of Belleville's Buhl, who threw two wild pitches with runners on base.

Wolcott was safe at first on an error to the shortstop, and stole second base two pitches later.

He reached third on a passed ball, and scored on a wild pitch.

Charlie Johnson walked - two outs later in the inning, stole second base, went to third on an attempted pickoff, and came home on a wild pitch to give Salem a 2-0 lead.

In the seventh inning, the Rocks put one more on the board. Mitch Symons, leading the club in hitting with a .406 average, received a walk and scored when Bob Smith swatted a double over the centerfielder's head, to make the final score 3-0.

The line score showed Salem with three runs, on three hits, and one error, while Belleville had no runs, on three hits, and three errors. The Tigers are now 2-11 overall, and 1-7 in the Sub-8.

Salem's robust team batting of .340 took a dip, but the Rocks will have an opportunity to retain their high hitting mark when they face Redford Union tomorrow at the Centennial Park Field at 4 p.m.

Plymouth Salem will kickoff its defense of the state championship at home, Saturday May 29th, in a district qualifying contest against Dearborn Edsel Ford.

If the Rocks win that game, they will go on to the Dearborn High district and face Garden City East, 11-0 and second ranked in the state, in the district opener. Salem is ranked third in the state by the coaches' poll.

Salem girls beaten 6-1

Plymouth Salem girls softball team suffered its first defeat of the season Monday against Trenton, 6-1.

With only one hit to its credit, Trenton was able to take full advantage of the Rocks' pitching woes to score several runs.

Rocks' pitcher Debbie Pitera, with an overall record of 3-1, lost control and walked six, but fanned 10.

Salem's only run came in the seventh inning when pinch runner Theresa Young scored on an error.

Rocks' coach, Livi Way, commented after the game that although the teams' strength lies in offense, it was off Monday. "Trenton has a good pitcher," Coach Way remarked, "but I'll go down on record saying I think I have the best pitcher in the league."

"Debbie has good speed," Way stated. "Her only weakness is working on control."

Way plans to work in practice on the girls' batting. She feels the team has been slipping a little in last several games.

Past record proves offense has been a key factor in the wins. Salem beat Bentley 15-8, Belleville 17-3, and Allen Park 21-6. All three games were league contests.

Coach Way singled out her top hitters of the season: Kathy Dillon, with a .700 average, is the top batter going into Monday's game.

Girls holding .500 or better averages are: Peggy Moore .556, Donna Goodrich .533, Kathy Lehmann .500, Ann Schwallier .500, and Lisa Szczodrowski .500.

Homers have been blasted in past games by Goodrich, Dillon, and Moore. In the Allen Park game, Dillon smacked two homers, one a grand slam.

"Dillon has racked up a homer in every game but this one," Way commented.

"She's an all round athlete," Way remarked. Dillon also runs track, plays basketball, and swims.

Salem's record now stands at 3-1, second in the Suburban Eight League.

"We have a good chance of a league championship," Coach Way said.

Way stated that as many as 70-75 girls have tried out for each 15 member team.

"Next year, we're going to try to get a junior varsity team."

"The interest is there and so is the skill. It's just a matter of getting the teams."

Rock links—ladies beat Chiefs

A strong Plymouth Salem girls' golf team, now 4-2 in its first year of play, downed Plymouth Canton on Monday, 22-248. Canton's record is now 0-6.

Commented a beaming Salem coach Bob Waters, "The amazing improvement of our girls with each dose of experience overwhelms me. It's superb."

Though Canton's Kristi Sommerville was the medalist in the dual meet with a 49, six strokes lower than Salem's low scorer, the Rocks managed to use balanced scoring to win.

JoAnn Szilagyi won scoring honors for Salem with a 55, followed closely by Lori Erickson's 57 and a pair of 60s by Nancy Grotz and Anne Arthur.

Other promising performers on the Salem golf squad are Betty Delano, Jane McHarris and Nancy Debar.

Last Friday, in a quad meet with Saline, Willow Run and Canton, the Rocks absorbed two losses and defeated Canton, amassing a team total of 506 strokes.

Szilagi again paced Salem with 120, backed ably by Erickson's 123. Other scorers were Grotz with 130, Arthur nabbing a 133 and Delano tallying 134.

Salem netters nip Franklin

Extending its winning streak to three and its season slate to 4-5, Plymouth Salem's tennis squad squeezed past Livonia Franklin on Tuesday, 4-3.

Displaying his accustomed excellence, the Rocks' Ken Bloom trounced his first singles foe, 6-2, 6-2. Curt Schultz, playing third singles for Salem, devastated Joe Breneman, 6-0, 6-0.

The Rocks captured two of the three doubles battles to ice the match.

Chris Saxton and Jeff Bearup won the first doubles match, 6-3, 6-4.

At third doubles, Ed Thomas and Greg Andrews mounted a successful comeback, 4-6, 6-4, 7-6.

On the losing end for Salem, Bill Cook dropped a two-set second singles match, 6-2, 6-3.

At fourth singles, Bob Braun lost a one-set lead and a close contest, 6-4, 2-6, 5-7.

The second doubles team for Salem of Curt Lewis and Craig Stevens was also defeated, 6-4, 6-1.

Salem's recquetmen resume competition next Tuesday at Trenton.

Salem golfers

open with 2 wins

Plymouth Salem's girls' golf team swept a triple-dual meet Friday against Willow Run, 227-232 and Plymouth Canton, 227-234, to open its first campaign.

Establishing a quick 2-0 record in its first year of existence, the Salem links leaders "played extremely well," according to coach Bob Waters.

"We have a tremendous polish and confidence for only a first-year team. I'm real tickled with our enthusiasm and talent."

The four low scorers for Salem in the first meets were Lori Erickson, shooting 53, Nancy Grotz, scoring 56, JoAnn Szilagyi with 57 and Anne Arthur at 61.

Hall of famer

Ernest B. Smith, one of Canton Township's oldest retired athletes, is admires the silver plaque he received Thursday night to mark his induction into the Michigan Amateur Sports Hall of Fame. Now 75 years old, he was the all-around champion at the Downtown Detroit YMCA in 1926.

In The Pocket

By W. W. EDGAR

There's a strange thing happening in the bowling establishments throughout the area—women are outnumbering the men in the summer leagues.

For years the establishments used to close for the summer. But with the advent of automatic pinspotters and air conditioning they became the center of fun leagues.

The fun consisted of neighborhood leagues with man and wife competing in mixed doubles. Out of these groups came an extra push by the women for their own leagues. Most of these were in the afternoons. Now there is another switch.

This time, it is an invasion of the night circuits and the women are taking a new interest. For example there is a league of 60 women's teams. With four to a team, that means that 240 women turn out in the evening and take over the entire house.

The same is true at Country Lanes where the women have been going strong and now have come up with a 40-team league in the evening. That means 160 on the lanes from wall to wall. Nothing like that has happened before and it puts a new twist on summer bowling throughout the entire area.

TWO OF THE BIGGEST charity tournaments of the season are scheduled this weekend.

The largest of the two is the final round of the Bowling Proprietors state-wide charity drive. It is scheduled Saturday at Colonial Lanes in Ann Arbor.

The second is the annual Capuchin Charity event which is scheduled Saturday afternoon at Van Dyke Recreation. This is one of the oldest bowling charity events in the state and pits two all-star combinations. The receipts—and donations—are given to the Capuchins for their soup kitchen on Mt. Elliott Avenue.

THE KELLEYS had good reason to celebrate at Westland Bowl.

Their family team in the Part Timers League won the title place. It was their first title.

The Coffee and Donuts League also crowned its champions at Westland Bowl. In the A division, Mary Pickens, Judy Meyers, Carol Hutchin, and Carol Satala took the trophies.

In the B division it was Brenda Gilbert, Martha Fox, Nancy Hawkins and Gwen

Snyder's opens with pair of wins

The championship Snyder's softball club of Redford last week took up right where it left off last season in the Major Metro Travel League (MMTL).

Winning both games with late-inning rallies in the opening week of play, Jim Snyder's club took a doubleheader from PUSH of Detroit, 9-5 and 14-12. The twin victories stretched Snyder's winning streak over the last two seasons to 21 games.

The win also avenged the club's last loss to the same PUSH team in the quarterfinals of the 1975 MMTL playoffs. Snyder's went on from that defeat to win 19 games in a row, culminating in its victory last year in the slowpitch softball World Series.

In last week's first game, Snyder's tallied seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to erase a 5-2 PUSH lead. The big hit was a grand slam homerun by pitcher Chuch Drewicz.

In the second duel, veteran outfielder Dave Rhodes blasted a three-run homer in the last of the sixth to break an 11-11 tie. Drewicz had three other RBIs in that game, as did first baseman Marv Geary. Snyder's other scheduled doubleheader last week, against perennial powerhouse Little Ceasars, was rained out.

Lawson, while the C division honors went to Dianne Bowman, Mary Lowrey, Ruth Loftin and Sue Zboyan.

The race for the honor of being king and queen of bowling in the metropolitan area now is in full swing, with each house holding tournaments to decide the entry.

One of the first to have the entries selected was Farmington Lanes, where Fred Hamlin, one of the top promoters, held the eliminations last weekend.

Barbara Hausch topped the ladies division with an actual 582 and 654 with her handicap. On the men's side, it was Dick Pray with an actual 659 and a handicap count of 716.

In the men's classic, Lou Brugman was high with 251 in 657 and Leon Hibbs was right behind with a 258 in 654.

In the ladies classic Mary Bailey, with a 127 average, turned in a 566, but top honors went to Joan Takai, 158-average bowler with a 592.

Chris Renner was the big gun in the Teen Classic with a 215 in 589. The oldest series of the day came when Brian Gervac turned in a 573 the hard way. He opened with games of 138 and 159 and closed with a 279.

Behind the two leaders came Bobbie Chaiken with 204 in 511 and Ken Harrington with a 184 in 514.

Salem thinclads take 8th in Wayne Relays

By ANDY MELIN

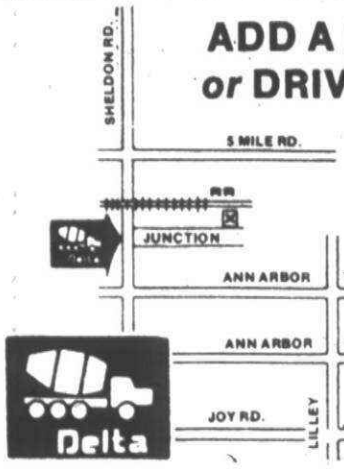

The Plymouth Salem track team, led by their pole vault and discus relay teams, placed eighth in the Wayne Memorial Relays last Saturday. Eighteen teams from around the southeastern Michigan area attended the meet, which saw six records broken. The most outstanding record was a 6-foot-11 1/2 inch high jump by Ypsilanti High's Lewis Freeman. While no Salem thinclad broke any records, there were some fine performances as the Rocks amassed 23 points. The best performance was by the pole vault relay team of Mark Choma, Dave Beverniz, and Scott Kappler which finished second overall with a combined total of 33-6.

Choma led the group with a vault of 12 feet. Bob Dasher, Tom Powell, and Jerry Ottenoff combined for a distance of 348-2 in the discus relay, good enough for a third place finish. Bob Dasher led the group with a toss of 125-10. The long jump relay team, led by a 20-7 1/4 jump by Bob Spisich took fourth place, coming only two away from third. Greg Davis and Tom Powell rounded out the long jump relay team. Salem received more points when its 440 relay team captured 5th place. Even though rated fifth in the state in the 440 relay, the Rocks could only manage a time of 44.9 seconds. Salem coach Gary Balconi said the 440-relay team made some bad exchanges, but overall did well. Salem's final points came from a fifth-place finish by the 880-relay team, and a sixth place finish by their two-mile relay team. The 880-relay team, which was made up of one freshman, one quarter-miler and two milers, ran the required distance in 1:34.9. The Rocks' next meet is today at home against Redford Union. This meet will be a special one because it will be a double dual meet. Both boys and girls will be competing. It will be run on the same order as the regionals, with a girls' event coming first, then a boys' event. There will be a 50 cent charge at the gate, with proceeds going to the Plymouth Salem athletic fund. Refreshments will be available at the meet, with that money going to the Salem boys and girls track teams. The meet starts at 6:00 p.m.

Canton netters fall

Plymouth Canton's tennis team failed to achieve victory for the eighth time in as many attempts Monday, dropping a 4-3 decision to Walled Lake Western. At first singles, undefeated Steve Prueter swept Joe Merta, 6-2, 6-4. Steve Pasley followed Prueter and employed a strong baseline game to win, 6-2, 6-1. John Herron at third singles for the Chiefs added a two-set victory, 6-1, 6-4. Canton's winning ways halted abruptly, however, one match short of a team victory. Stuart Sobczynski provided his Western opponent with a stern test at fourth singles before falling, 6-2, 3-6, 1-6. Canton's premier doubles team of Paul Ardnowski and Tim Wise was swamped, 6-2, 6-4. Playing second doubles, Matt Norris and Don Perchard started strongly only to falter, losing 6-2, 4-6, 3-6. After dropping a crucial second-set tiebreaker, Canton's third combination of Don Faulkerson and Dan Schmidt lost its momentum and match, 6-4, 6-7, 1-6.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and Conductor Wayne Dunlap closed the 1975-76 season with the annual pop concert. With concert arrangements planned by the Plymouth Symphony League, the orchestra played to a full house and several standing ovations.

Among the younger set at the concert were: (from left) Keum Ja Kim, guest soloist from the University of Michigan; Mary Schroeder from UM, and Liz Moehle, former member of the orchestra who came from Kalamazoo for the occasion.

Pop concert repeats as a joyous occasion

The annual pop concert is traditionally a joyous occasion and Saturday night's performance in Pioneer Middle School seemed especially so.

Soloist Keum Ja Kim (see review Page 1C) was a joy to hear and Conductor Wayne Dunlap, members of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and the audience reflected the happy mood.

Dunlap told the sell-out house that Goldman's "On the Mall" was included in the program for Frank Henderson of Plymouth, who had never missed a pop concert.

William Beiter, trumpet soloist, played a selection from the "Barber of Seville." Dunlap recalled Beiter performing it with the orchestra when the soloist was 19.

The sing-a-long allowed everyone to display their musical talents. Tivador Balogh and Robert Sparling admitted, after the concert, that they had been in particularly fine voice.

The red and white checked table cloths, made years ago for a pop concert, have become part of the tradition of the cabaret-style concert. The Symphony League was responsible for concert arrangements—seating arrangements, ticket sales and refreshments.

The league praised the cooperation they received from Principal Gerald Elston and his people at Pioneer. After an all-day band festival in the school it took an unusual amount of planning and activity to have everything in readiness for the 8:30 concert.

Jean Braun, violinist, (left) and her sister Janet Holt, cellist, got into the Spirit 76 mood of the concert with identical red, white and blue costumes. Keith Burton, who plays bass, was in more traditional attire. (Staff photos by Elinor Graham)

Forensic teams fare well in state tourney

State finals were held last Saturday afternoon in the Michigan High School Forensics Association's Individual Events Tournament and Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem came away with three places between them, with two other contestants who competed after qualifying at the state district and regional level.

The forensics competition was composed of 24 high school students in each of the 10 speech and interpretive categories who had qualified by placing in one of the respective eight regions across Michigan.

PLYMOUTH CANTON placed two of its competitors in the top three with Sinda Nichols copping third place in serious interpretive readings, and Gary Sieber finishing in the runnerup spot in the radio news division.

In serious interpretive Miss Nichols tied for first place with two other persons, and received third place on a judges preferential ranking. She won the Plymouth Canton Invitational in addition to placing first in districts, and second in regionals.

She is a junior at Canton and will return next year to hopefully vie for renewed success in forensics. Lisa Lambert, another Canton junior competing in serious division, qualified for the state competition by placing second in districts, and third in regionals. She also earned a third place award in the Canton Invitational.

Canton's other member who placed was junior Sieber, who capped off another productive year of competing in the radio news category. Sieber finished second in the state in his division after placing fourth in the state a year ago.

Sieber was champion of the Canton Invitational, Brighton Invitational, and district champion, while finishing second at the regionals.

"It's been a super season for Canton, primarily because we have a tremendous group of people who made the year a lot of fun," said Canton Coach Lane Sabourin.

"We won 11 trophies in three invitionals with some very talented students, but their interest and enthusiasm made the year the most enjoyable," said Mrs. Sabourin.

PLYMOUTH SALEM sent two students to compete in the state competition and one finished third while another reached the semifinals before bowing out.

Bill Collins earned third place in the radio news division after winning the regional championship. Collins was the only person to place in every tournament he entered this season. He was runnerup on the district level, took third in the Canton Invitational, and finished second in the Dearborn Rodeo Roundup, the state's largest invitational tournament.

"Because the Centennial Park has a radio station it's really made a difference in the way Plymouth people perform at the various tournaments. It's definitely been a benefit to Bill Collins and Gary Sieber," commented Salem debate and forensics coach Pat Barry. Both Collins and Sieber are air personalities on WSDP-FM.

Salem's junior humorous interpretive reader Scott LaRiche went all the way to the semifinals before being knocked out.

LaRiche did not even compete until the middle of the season. However, he won the Brighton Invitational, and captured district and regional titles in addition to being a state semifinalist.

Although forensics and other intellectual extracurriculars often do not receive the attention that are lauded athletic competitors, that aspect doesn't prevent those students from pushing themselves through months of practice.

"For these people it's the culmination of two years of diligent effort," added Mrs. Sabourin.

Why farm acreage is increasing here

By W.W. EDGAR

Given any kind of a favorable break in the weather, the farmers who till the soil in the Plymouth area should have one of their best years in a decade.

This is the opinion of Wilford Bunyea, one of the veterans in the agricultural field, who has been watching the scene for years.

"We will have more acres under cultivation this year than we've had for quite some time," he said. "That's because the government has ended its program of establishing soil banks and paying the farmers for not raising crops."

With this added acreage, some of which hasn't been turned over since the war (World War II) we will be back to that place where this part of the country was considered the tops in farming."

AS HE SPOKE, Bunyea pointed out some of the best examples of reconditioning soil that has been idle.

In the area at Powell and Ridge Roads he cited more than 100 acres that will be flourishing this summer. He also pointed to another several hundred acres on the south side of Ann Arbor Trail at Ridge Road and 75 additional acres between North Territorial and Brookside Roads. All this is aside from the many acres along M-14 on the road to Ann Arbor.

"Get all these in cultivation again and we'll have quite a total that should bring us back close to the top in farming in this section of the state."

Remembering that the area around Plymouth was noted as one of top areas for sweet corn, Bunyea was asked if sweet corn would be the main crop.

"No," he said, "the ground around here is a bit too heavy for sweet corn. You need a more sandy soil, but there will be plenty of sweet corn on the belt south of here between here and South Lyons."

There was a time when this area raised more corn per acre than was raised in Iowa "out where the tall corn grows." "The acres around here will raise some sweet corn, but for the most part the crops will be wheat and soy beans. This is great country for beans and wheat."

WHILE THIS is the second year that the government removed the soil banks, it is the first season that the farmers have arranged to plow the fields that have been laying idle.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, still will pay farmers—but only if the weather becomes so bad that it could be considered a disaster area.

"We haven't had anything that bad," Wilford said, "and Wayne County has little chance of becoming a disaster area. But no one wants anything like that, anyway."

That's why Bunyea and his fellow agriculturalists feel that, with a reasonable break in the weather, the farmers in the Plymouth community are headed for one of their best years.

In the Park

Smith Elementary pupils are rehearsing square dancing for their presentation in Kellogg Park for the Bicentennial-in-the-Park program Thursday, May 20. The program will be from 7-10 p.m. under sponsorship of the Community Bicentennial Commission. The dancers practicing steps of the varsouienne are: (from

Coloratura surprising, pleasing

KEUM JA KIM speeding up Herbert

By TIM RICHARD

She's a little girl, just 100 pounds and 5-foot-2. But Keum Ja Kim's coloratura voice entirely filled the hall, astonishing the audience at the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's annual pops concert.

Talk about Americana: Miss Kim is from Korea, conductor Wayne Dunlap from Missouri, composers Verdi and Puccini were Italian and Victor Herbert was born in Dublin and immigrated to America.

The Herbert material was a delight. Herbert's light operas were popular back in the days when the United States still had its self-confidence, but it has been 20 years since much of his work has been recorded or performed live. One of the good things about the bicentennial has been the rediscovery of Herbert.

KEUM JA (pronounced Koom-ja) Kim performed "When You're Away" and the rousing "Italian Street Song" for the event Saturday night, studying the new Angel record by Beverly Sills.

Miss Kim decided—correctly—that Sills' version, though a godsend to us broken-down Herbert fans, was nevertheless too slow. She speeded them up, eliminating the heavy flavor of the Sills record.

And she was opulent in the "La Traviata" aria—the famous one from the first act that can pierce your ears if the coloratura is too shrill.

An audience poll would have shown 99.5 per cent wanting her to return to another Plymouth concert. Miss Kim herself would probably have been too modest to vote.

WHERE DID THIS delightful woman come from?

Bill McAllister, who runs the party store on Northville Road, provided us some background. As an orphan child, Miss Kim sang with the Children's Choir of Korea, which was brought to the United States by the late Ed Sullivan for a television performance.

With that group she sang in 28 foreign countries. In time she landed at the Interlochen Arts Academy and was befriended by young Karen McAllister, who brought her to Plymouth often as a house guest.

Roscoe Bonisteel, the Ann Arbor attorney and former University of Michigan regent, took her under his wing and helped her through UM.

She has her master's degree now and sings at weddings and World Vision fundraisers to scrape up enough to earn her doctorate. She won a $1,000 second-place spot in the 1975 Grinnell Scholarship competition.

FOR THE ORCHESTRA'S 30th anniversary, Dunlap programmed a tasteful blend of new material and nostalgia.

In the latter department were William Beitzer, an orchestra regular and local jeweler, recreating the boastful Figaro's opening aria from Rossini's "Barber of Seville," as he did at the age 19 a couple of years back; and the original "Civil War Fantasy," as scored for orchestra "way back when by Jerry Bilik, then a Plymouth Symphony member and later the famed UM band arranger.

Musical quality, challenging listening, at a pops concert? It can be done.

Auditions announced

The first audition for membership in one of the three orchestras for the 1976-77 season of The Livonia Youth Symphony Society will be held from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday in Stevenson High School, 33500 Six Mile, Livonia. These try-outs are open to school-age musicians from any metropolitan area.

Grades five, six and seven make up the beginning string orchestra which is the only Michigan symphony orchestra that trains the very young musicians.

A student should have a least three years experience to play in the intermediate junior orchestra which is composed of junior high and senior high musicians.

The Youth Symphony, the senior LYSS orchestra, is for the senior high musician with individual study as well as advanced orchestra experience.

Membership in the Livonia Youth Symphony can open many avenues to scholarship competition and professional orchestra performance. This is the only self-supporting Michigan symphony which has three separate youth orchestras learning symphonic literature.

Call Mrs. David Stockman, Livonia, for additional information.

THE GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT

Barber shoppers plan send-off show

Metropolitan area chapters of the Barber Shop Quartet Society will stage a show May 21 at the Warren Fitzgerald High School.

This is an international "send-off" show, to raise money to send a representative chorus and representative quartets from Pioneer District (Michigan) to the 1976 International Convention and Contest in San Francisco on July 10.

Featured will be the Wayne Wonderland Chorus, 1976 Pioneer District Champs and the Detroit No. 1 Chapter Motor City Chorus, 1975 District Champs and 1976 District Representative chorus, to International.

Three top district quartets will represent Pioneer District at the International: the Northern Hi-Lites from the Wayne, Oakland County and Grosse Pointe chapters; the Vagabonds from the Lansing and Oakland County chapters (which won on fifth place in international contest in 1975), and the Class-Mates, from the Saginaw Bay Chapter.

Especially featured will be the Gentlemen's Agreement, from the Detroit, Monroe, Toledo and the Saginaw Bay chapters—1971 International Quartet Champions—and a massed chorus of 200-plus voices from the combined choruses of the Oakland County, Grosse Pointe, Detroit, Wayne, Monroe, Pontiac, Milford and Windsor (Ont.) chapters. Comedy will be provided by the Warren G. Harding Memorial Four.

'Super sewer' woes tossed in state's lap

By TIM RICHARD

The so-called super sewer controversy will move to the state level next week. With Wayne and Washtenaw counties unable to agree on a system of wastewater treatment plants in the Huron River basin, the Michigan Water Resources Commission will have the problem tossed in its collective lap.

The WRC will meet Friday, May 21, in the Delta Township Hall on M-43 at I-96 west of Lansing. Staff and commission members plan to devote all day to an issue that has been tied up since the late 1960s.

MEANWHILE, an important committee of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) has withheld a favorable review of any of the half-dozen plans under consideration.

SEMCOG's Regional Clearinghouse Review Committee—known as "RC2"—found "too many unanswered questions" about both counties' ideas, according to Michael Glusac, SEMCOG executive director.

The vote was 5-2 to withhold support. Voting in favor of the motion were: Oak Park Mayor David Shepherd; Fred Houghten, Oakland County commissioner from Rochester; Robert Long, supervisor of Commerce Township in Oakland County; Alice Tomboulion, an Oakland Township trustee; and Detroit Councilman Clyde Cleveland.

Opposed were William Smiley, a St. Clair County commissioner, and Mayor Frank Lada of Allen Park.

Super sewer is the nickname of the Wayne County Road Commission plan to close nine sewage treatment facilities in Oakland, western Wayne and eastern Washtenaw counties and replace them with a single treatment plant at the mouth of the Huron River on Lake Erie. Washtenaw County and Oakland County forces generally favor retaining their own treatment plants.

THE RC2 REJECTION, however, applies to all plans, not just super sewer. The SEMCOG agency which reviews federal grant applications raised 10 areas of concern about all the plans.

Two of these were "the actual sewer service area and its impact on the southeast Michigan region" along with adequate growth projection data.

Others concerned the impact on the flow of the Huron River if cities such as Ann Arbor take their drinking water out of the Huron but don't recharge the river by returning treated wastewater.

There were also questions about how a multi-county system would be managed.

Another SEMCOG unit, the executive committee, had recommended a year ago that the Detroit water and sewer department get "step one" planning money to deal with the Huron basin.

But the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency decided instead to grant step one funds to the Wayne County Road Commission and the Washtenaw County Department of Public Works.

THE WAYNE and Washtenaw county agencies have been unable to agree on a single plan.

This is where the state WRC is being forced to step in. If it can make a decision acceptable to the federal EPA, then step two design grants can be made.

Bill Bradford, assistant chief of the WRC's water quality division, said the group has set aside the entire day May 21 to deal with the super sewer controversy.

Houghten, the Oakland County commissioner, said the problem is only partly a matter of which plan is selected. "Some people feel the problem is development of an entire area; that you encourage development of an area by providing sewers."

Much of the potential service area is undeveloped. This includes such areas as White Lake and Commerce townships in Oakland County; Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter townships in Wayne County; and the suburbs of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti in Washtenaw County.

Whatever system is chosen will cost in the neighborhood of $200 million to build, whether it's a single super sewer or an upgrading of existing plants. The construction industry and building trades unions are urging prompt action because of their depressed economic conditions.

Stockbroker offers investment workshop

By SHIRLEE IDEN

Choosing a stockbroker is like choosing a doctor or a lawyer says Sharon Ramey. Mrs. Ramey, a resident of Plymouth, is one of a minority of women who is a registered stockbroker commodities trader.

She will offer a free-of-charge, all-day Workshop in Financial Planning from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. in Northland Center's Community Concourse, room B in Southfield on Monday, May 17.

Mrs. Ramey will also allow time during the day for individual appointments.

In her lectures, she will stress what financial planning is and how to achieve it; how to develop one's financial goals and find the right investment to meet them; the options market—what it is and how it can serve investors and some pitfalls in investing and how to avoid them.

"From my teaching of classes, I find that people aren't even aware of their goals and objectives," she said. "The main purpose of the workshop is to make people aware of their goals and where they're going."

Mrs. Ramey's exposure to the stock-market came when she was a very young child and was hushed every day at six o'clock so that her parents and grandparents could hear the Dow Jones Averages.

She was born and raised in Detroit and graduated from Mercy College with a degree in teaching and psychology.

"I taught for a while and ran a child development center in Taylor, but on a trip to New York City I visited the Stock Exchange," she said.

"I was so excited and thrilled, it was like a revelation. I began to think this was what I should have been doing all the time."

The securities field is a difficult one for women to break into but Mrs. Ramey took intensive training in New York where she passed a six hour exam. She also passed a Michigan Securities Law exam.

She is now employed by Shearson Hayden Stone, Inc., in Detroit.

"It's been exciting," she said, "There's never a dull moment. The market is a living, breathing organism."

Now Mrs. Ramey wants to share some of her knowledge with others. She has to many groups and often offers her services free. She also teaches classes through the Livonia Public Schools and will offer classes for eight weeks at the new Women's Feminist Club in Detroit beginning on May 26.

One of the topics of the workshop will be the options market which Mrs. Ramey said is only three years old.

"An option is the privilege to purchase a stock at a certain price within a certain period of time," she said.

"They're also called 'calls' and they're traded on the Chicago Board Options Exchange, the American Stock Exchange and on the PBW Exchange.

"You can buy options and hopefully sell them for a profit or you can be a seller of the option and own the underlying stock. Options are traded on underlying stocks and there are 173 of them now."

She said option can meet the needs of the conservative or the speculative investor.

Mrs. Ramey's workshop is intended for anyone who has an interest in investing.

"It's basic financial planning," she said and everyone needs it. Everyone should be aware of what their net worth is and then they can decide whether investing is for them.

"Investing should be done with excess monies and the needs of different people are different."

According to Mrs. Ramey, in her business to have to be self motivated. Customers call at all hours, even late at night at home.

Married and the mother of three, she says her workshop will condense into one day what she usually takes eight weeks to teach.

Sandbox Fill is on May 15

If you have pulled your child's sandbox out of winter storage and haven't gotten it filled yet, circle May 15 on your calendar and place your orders now.

The Plymouth Area Jaycees is conducting its fourth annual Sandbox Fill on that date and will deliver to your home as much sand as you need.

Orders are now being taken for sand at $1 a wheelbarrow. The sand, pronounced safe for a child's sandbox, may also be used for other purposes such as filling in around a swimming pool, mixing with hard clay for gardening purposes, or other landscaping functions.

Whatever use you may have for sand, the $1 a wheelbarrow is probably the cheapest buy you can find anywhere—especially with free delivery as a bonus. To place your order before May 15 call either of the cochairmen—Don McDurmon at 453-0277 or Scott Nairn at 453-1228.

The Jaycees will deliver anywhere in the Plymouth-Canton-Livonia area. They have made arrangements for 75 tons of sand but can get more if the demand is there. There is no limit on the amount of sand ordered.

Proceeds from Sandbox Fill will be used by the Jaycees to finance community projects, such as the upcoming Bicentennial Fourth of July Parade.

Gun training planned for reserve police

Volunteers now in training at Schoolcraft Community College for their roles as Canton Township Reserve Police officers will receive extra training in the handling of guns.

The move to give the 30 students added instruction was spurred by the Canton Jaycees request for help in security during its fair in August. The reserves will not receive gun training from the academy and National Rifle Association certification until after the fair.

The township board agreed to foot the bill for special training which will prepare the group for certification in 32 hours. A retired police officer will be hired at $10 per student for Wednesday night classes.

Supervisor Robert Greenstein said this will not eliminate the regular gun-handling instruction at the academy. Because of the smaller class size and individual instruction, it is possible to be prepared for accreditation in a shorter period of time, the supervisor said.

The board gave 6-1 approval to Greenstein's plan. Brian Schwall was the lone dissenter, explaining the item had not been placed on the agenda and so there had not been time to consider the action.

May wine is Spring's sure sign

Rise up, maidens: fie for shame!
For I've been four long miles from hame.
I've been gathering garlands gay.
Rise, up fair maidens, take in your May.

—Old English folk song from New Castle-upon-Tyne

'Tis the Lusty Month of May, and once again it's time for that delicious May Wine that is traditionally drunk on May Day and for any other May festivity.

Here are two recipes; both are excellent, but the second one is quicker to make and far more potent.

Sweet woodruff can be found in most health food stores. (It is sometimes called Master-of-the-Woods.) In Europe this herb was looked upon as the symbol of springtime. It has a fresh, clean smell much like new-mown hay. Housewives used it in sach-ets and potpourris.

By itself, woodruff can be brewed to make a relaxing yet uplifting tea.

MAY WINE

(A Very Old German Receipt)

Place a small bunch of dried sweet woodruff, five or six sugar cubes and two slices each of lemon and orange in the bottom of a quart jar. Then fill the jar with Rhine wine. Allow it to steep from 3-5 days. Tasting it daily, strain off the lemon, orange and woodruff when the desired flavor is obtained.

MAY WINE

(Recipe No. 2)
My Own Favorite

1/2 cup sweet woodruff (dried)
1/2 cup brandy
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 bottle dry white wine
Fresh strawberries
Mix the first three ingredients; cover and let stand overnight. Then strain and squeeze out all the liquid, not wasting a drop. Add the liquid to the wine. Serve chilled, and garnish with fresh strawberries.
Drink it and dance around the Maypole.

DSS plans public forum

John T. Dempsey, director of the Michigan Department of Social Services (DSS) will hold his third in a series of statewide public forums Tuesday, in the 13th Floor
Auditorium of the City-County Building, 2
Woodward, Detroit.

The forum is open to the general public and is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to noon. In addition, there will be a discussion from noon to 1 p.m. about the recent Medicaid cutbacks and the drastic affect they have had on the elderly.

The forums are designed to give Michigan residents the opportunity to tell DSS officials what they don't like about Michigan's existing welfare system. Besides learning more about the community's needs, Dempsey also expects to hear welfare reform suggestions from forum participants.

Dempsey will begin Tuesday's forum with an overview of the Department's programs and then open the meeting to a question and answer period with the audience.

People who buy and people who sell get together in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

Buyers and sellers are "strange" people. Strange to each other, that is. People with lots of different needs and wants, people who need to get together. They need to get together in the quickest, least expensive and most effective way possible—the Observer & Eccentric Want Ads.

Say you need a buyer for a bunch of baby basset hounds, or a really good home for a litter of antiques...How do you meet those unknown admirers with an eye for your special goods? How do you keep track of sellers with garage sales and owners of autos and pets to trade? It's easy -- when you know where buyers and sellers get together best—the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds.

It's easy to get double buying and selling results, too. Double-Action Ads bring people together from all over Wayne and Oakland Counties. These suburban communities include: Birmingham, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Rochester, Avon Twp., Southfield and Troy in Oakland County; Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Twp., Canton Twp., Redford Twp., and Westland in Wayne County. Smart buyers and sellers place a Double Action Family Want Ad (non business) of 15 words or less in two consecutive issues, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- and they pay only $6. That's a savings of $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.

When you have something to sell...when you have something to buy...you've got a lot in common in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Want Ads.
