Arlen-Tonda team wins; Benson unseated

Although the vote on the millage issue was extremely close, there never was any question on the outcome of the contest for the Plymouth Board of Education.

A half an hour after the polls closed Monday, it was apparent the winners would be

RICHARD ARLEN

Richard T. Arlen of Plymouth and Flossie B. Tonda of Canton Township.

Arlen led the field of six candidates with 3.127 votes followed by Mrs. Tonda with 2,997. Incumbent Marda Benson, board president, lost by 411 votes with a total of Steve Harper placed fourth at 2,223 followed by Betty Hamann at 1,178 and William L. Brown at 819.

ARLEN WON in five of the nine precincts, carrying Central Middle, Isbister, Starkweather, West Middle, and Miller. Mrs. Tonda placed first in three precincts-Allen, Farrand, Fiegel-and Ms. Benson in one, Gallimore.

Arlen and Mrs. Tonda were both endorsed and backed by Concerned Parents, who have organized against modular scheduling at the Centennial Educational Park.

Arlen, well-known in the City of Plymouth, placed first in all city precincts. Mrs. Tonda of Canton did well in all Canton precincts except Gallimore, placing second in Miller and first in Fie-

There was no direct correlation between the vote on the millage and votes for trustee. In the three precincts which gave "yes" votes to the millage, Arlen placed first in Miller, second in Fiegel, and second in Gallimore. In the pro-millage precincts, Mrs. Tonda placed second in Miller, first in Fiegel, and third in Gallimore. Ms. Benson, the incumbent who would be a normal target of a "no" vote on millage, placed first in Gallimore, and third in Miller and Fiegel.

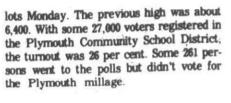

Instead of millage being a primary factor on the board race, the factors seemed to be the choices of Canton residents and the campaign put together by Concerned Concerned Parents' membership is drawn heavily from Plymouth, where Ms. Benson, a city resident, normally would have run strong. The result was that the Concerned Parents' ticket eroded Ms. Benson's votes in the Plymouth area and carried Canton votes as expected.

The impact of Concerned Parents on the trustee race is seen by the fact the group has a following of about 500 persons with ability to influence more votes in a campaign. The 400-vote victory margin for Mrs. Tonda suggests the anti-modular forces were a major factor.

The election still leaves three Canton residents on the school board-Mrs. Tonda, Tom Yack and George Lawton. E.J. McClendon and Joe Gray are Plymouth Township residents. Monday's election leaves the City of Plymouth with two residents on the school board, board Vice-president Marcia Borowski and

School millage fails by one-vote margin

By EMORY DANIELS

On Monday the millage for Plymouth Schools had been defeated by the narrowest of all possible margins-a tie. By Tuesday afternoon, however, the margin widened when the announcement was made that the millage was defeated by one

The final vote on the request for 4.75 mills was was 3,434 no and 3,433 yes. The Board of Canvassers recessed at 5 p.m. Tuesday and was scheduled to officially certify the results Wednesday.

FROM ABOUT midnight Monday through all day Tuesday the millage election results were at a 3,431 tie vote. For the district, the difference between a us vote and a defeat by one vote is negligible because the proposal would have failed with the tie.

The millage question did have a yes plurality of 13 votes when all nine precincts had reported in at about 9:30 p.m. Monday, but ended up in a tie when 281 absentee ballots were counted about midnight. The absentee ballot vote on Monday was 147 no and 134 yes.

There were, however, five absentee ballots which were not counted because of technical faults, such as an improperly signed application for an absentee ballot. The Board of Canvassers met to certify the election but recessed at about 1 a.m. Tuesday to determine what should be done with the five absentee ballots.

During the day Tuesday, the district consulted with its attorney, the state attorney general's office and the Wayne County elections' office. Late afternoon a legal interpretation was given by the state that the ballots could be counted. At about 4 p.m. the absentee ballot counting board reconvened to count the five absentee ballots and submit a new report. The Board of Canvassers received that report and then announced at about 5:30 p.m. that the votes of the five ballots were three no and two yes, the same pattern followed by the other 281 absentee voters.

The final absentee vote was 150 no and 136

THE FIVE BALLOTS had not been opened but were sealed in a ballot box. Ben Creech, chairman of the Board of Canvassers, explained that absolutely no one had known whether the five were yes or no votes until they were opened by the absentee counting board when it reconvened at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The errors were discovered by Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, chairman of the absentee ballot counting board and former treasurer of Plymouth Township. To be on safe grounds and make sure proper procedure was followed, she said, a call was placed to the state election commission in which instructed that the five ballots in question be sealed and not counted

Creech said the five absentee ballots were put in a sealed bag and locked in the school safe for Monday night and the next morning placed in a sealed ballot box. "There's no question in my mind but that the security of those ballots was protected

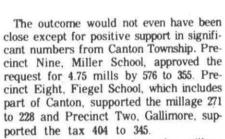

WHEN THE VOTE is officially certified, the election will be over and any change could result only from the due process avenues of a recount request or court action.

The voting machines and polling books will remain sealed for 30 days. A recount request, if one is to be made, must be made within five days of Wednesday's certification.

In case of such a request, the recount would be conducted by the state election commission in front of challengers and precinct election workers. It would be at least a week before a recount could get under

Members of the Board of Canvassers are Creech, Slyvia Rozian, Carolyn Sellman, Garnet Stickney, and Barbara McKelvey.

IN MONDAY'S voting, the millage was defeated in six of the nine precincts plus by absentee ballot voters.

Precincts voting against the millage were: Central Middle, 407 to 344; Isbister, 361 to 325; Starkweather, 269 to 185; Allen, 406 to 361: West Middle, 470 to 460; Far-rand, 443 to 373. The results suggest a large yes vote was generated in Canton by the opening of three new elementary schools next fall to handle that township's expanding population. Sheldon-Hanford light OK'd

By RICHARD GOLD

Faced with mounting pressure from township and school officials and Canton residents, the Wayne County Road Commission announced it will install a full phase traffic light at the corner of Sheldon and Hanford roads, the scene of a two-car accident that took the life of a four-year-old Canton boy on June 2.

The announcement that the light would be installed came almost three weeks in advance of expected action by the road commission. Lyle Nustad, a safety engineer, told the township board last week that traffic studies usually take 30 days to

"We initiated investigations as soon as we heard of the accident because we anticipated a heavy public reaction," said Walter Meyers, county highway engineer.

"Our traffic volume count and turning movements at the intersection indicate a light is warranted. We'll be going to our board Thursday (today) for approval of

Meyers said approval for the $6,000 project will probably be granted because the road commission engineers have established the need for the light. "NOT TO BE in a defensive position," Meyers added, "but a light probably wouldn't have saved that boy's life. It was a rear-end collision and that wouldn't have been prevented by a light.

"If anything, a light may cause more of those kinds of accidents. You can put up as many warning systems as you care to, but unless drivers heed them, there's nothing we can do," Meyers said.

Meyers added that while he was not positive, he anticipated the light would be on

The intersection is used several times a day by students crossing Sheldon to attend Miller Elementary

Installation of the light is contingent on action by Detroit Edison, and the power company, at the request of Supervisor Robert Greenstein, said it will move immediately to aid the county in installing the

We have to install the poles and a messenger or put up span wires before the county can put up the light," said Ralph Mertz, a spokesman for Edison.

"WE DON'T KNOW the background of the incident but we do know that the community has determined a light is needed

"We hope to have it all set sometime next week.

Mertz said Greenstein had asked him to get together with the county to expedite action on the light "He told us they had wanted a light for

"I'd say we're moving on it pretty quickly. We've skipped a lot of the formalities to get the job done immediately."

Lou Stelly, assistant traffic engineer with the road commission, said that while volume on Sheldon has increased each of the past four years, the last year has shown a large increase.

"It took a very large jump since last year, principally I think because Sheldon is now paved all the way to Ford and there is a shopping center down there now. With the traffic volume as it is now, a light is warranted.'

Housing rehab guidelines issued for grant program

By DARLENE STINSON

Low-income Canton families will soon have an opportunity to submit applications for township-administered federal funds designed to rehabiliate and bring houses in the township up to code. The program, made possible through a $21,556 federal housing grant, will offer a maximum $4,000 to families meeting lowincome requirements and living in houses with building violations. Although members of the Canton Board of Trustees have identified McIntyre Subdivision, near Ford and Sheldon, and Dye Brothers Subdivision, near Michigan and Sheldon, as prime target areas of the program, township Supervisor Robert Greenstein says residents of numerous scattered areas are eligible for the grants.

There are pockets all over the township which certainly will qualify for the program," he said. "People will be able to get money for anything necessary to bring houses up to code in the area of construction. You can do a lot for $4,000."

Although the federal grant money cannot begin to remedy all the building code violations in the township, Canton officials hope to receive more federal housing funds in the years to come. Township officials will place the names of eligible residents who fail to receive grants through the 1975 allocation on a waiting list for future grants. "We're hoping not everyone will ask for $4,000," Greenstein said. Under the program, people will receive outright gifts for housing rehabilitation. The only hitch is you must live in the house three years after you spend the money, or pay it

CANTON'S FEDERAL housing grant, part of the 1975 Community Block Grant program administered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. represents the single largest chunk of the total $78,000 in housing funds available to Wayne County communities.

Greenstein attributes the success of Canton's grant request to the housing program township officials proposed.

"We were in competition for this grant with several cities and townships," Greenstein said. "Other areas submitted lowcost plans to enable people to fix_up their "We thought the one thing a low-income family doesn't need is another debt, even if it's at one or two per cent interest. We conceived the idea of an outright grant." Under the program, a committee of "One of the big advantages to having a township police department is better enforcement of local ordinances," said Helen Richardson, township clerk. She added that buying police protection from the county would cost as much as, or more than, starting a township department.

The board also approved the wording of a ballot proposal asking for one-half mill (50 cents per $1,000 state equalized evaluation) to finance the construction of a fire station in the western portion of the township. Both millage proposals will appear on the Aug. 3 primary ballot.

Reserve your spot now on Bicentennial Mile

Have you been thinking of reserving a spot for the bicentennial lantern-passing July 4 but been unable to decide which year to ask for?

You might get some ideas by looking at the reasons other residents have picked for their location in the lantern passing lineup. A summary of those residents who signed up early for the lantern passing shows quite a variety of interesting rea-

ON JULY FOURTH, one hour before the parade, the Plymouth Jaycees are sponsoring a special function in which 1,776 residents can join in as participatings in the July Fourth bicentennial observance.

The 1,776 residents who sign up will line Main Street, renamed "Bicentennial Mile" for the Fourth, from city hall to Hartsough. The Bicentennial Mile will be turned into a time line with the years marked off from 1776 to 1976.

When residents send in the coupon reserving a spot in the line, they may select a year of special significance to them (or leave the "year desired" blank empty and be assigned a spot).

A rider dressed like Paul Revere will be given the lantern, a replica of the one hung in Old North Church's belfry, near city hall and will carry it to the end of the line at Hartsough.

The lantern will then be passed by hand

by residents until it reaches city hall. Musket fire will announce the progress of the lantern as it makes it way back and plans are for church bells to peel when the lantern arrives at city hall 'Anyone wishing to participate still has time to fill out the coupon in today's edition and mail it in with a minimum donation of $1 each. The $1,776 collected will be used to defray the $5,000 expense for this year's parade and fireworks. ONE OF THE more interesting years because of a personal interest in Civil War history. Dr. P.S. Vacher picked 1960 which is the year he moved to the United States. Charley and Doris Root reserved 1930, the year both graduted from Plymouth High School, and Peggy Sommers selected 1867 because her favorite literary writings are in this period. Curtis and Violet Powell asked for 1900, the year of their fathers' births.

AMONG THOSE who picked the year of their birth were two who were born on July 4: Howard Pelkey in 1941 and Paul

Incumbents McGrath, Pettipren win in W-W

CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF

If Wayne-Westland District board winners have their way, district voters can expect a return to the polls in the fall.

Both incumbents, Gerard McGrath and Vincent Petitpren, who scored victories over challengers Ron Blackburn and Warren Spurlin, said their main objectives as board members would be the passage of a district bond issue

The bond issue, which would have provided funds for building renovations, special education and vocational education, was twice defeated by WW voters.

But McGrath and Petitpren, in separate interviews, contended that enough could be trimmed from the next proposal to make it palatable to voters.

The first proposal, defeated in December, was a lump package which also included funds for swimming pools and a new facility as a central administration building.

The second proposal, defeated in March, included no new facilities. The swimming pools, proposed for all of the junior high schools, was listed as a separate ballot item. But both items failed.

"OUR NUMBER one goal should be the passage of a bond issue," McGrath said. "We need so many things that if the people say no pools, then so be it.

"I don't know how much we're going to be able to cut back. And I feel that no matter how much we do cut, if the issue passes, it will be by a 51 to 49 per cent

McGrath said the board has been meeting with a residents committe on the bond issue and there is divided opinion on what portions should be trimmed from the bond

"One of the things that will probably go is the field house for Wayne Memorial. "The new proposal probably won't include a new central central administration building," McGrath said. "I don't necessarily agree with that. It would cost us $2.5 million to build a new building and $1:5 (million) to renovate the present facility. In 20 years we're going to be faced with the same problem. 'We have people spread all over the district who should be under one roof." McGrath said the special education and vocational education facility plans as part of the proposal would be untouched. McGrath said he would also be pushing for educational facilities for the handi-

"We have children coming out of the McGrath Center and nowhere to put them. They have to have someplace to go." He added the district is finalizing plans to rent the old Wayne recreation building as a workshop facility for students from Norris school.

"I guess every board member has a special interest and mine is the handicapped

PETITPREN STRESSED the bond. issue's importance and said he was critical of the last proposal's wording on the

"Our immediate job is to start working on a bone bare bond issue that is clearly stated," Petitpren said.

"I'm going to be pushing for a proposal that will include only the necessary repairs and renovations to bring us up to

"We're going to be looking to this fall, probably the latter part of September for the item to be placed on the ballot.

"I don't see the issue increasing in size. The only things that won't be cut are industrial education, which we need to prepare our students for jobs, and for establishing a needed special education program in our secondary schools."

Petitpren added he would ideally like to go to the voters in early Spetember, but said the districts' negotiations with the teachers might push the election into later in the month.

BOTH WINNERS expressed dismay as the lack of voter turnout in the Monday

McGrath collected 1,836 votes to pace the field. Petitpren followed with 1,657. Spurlin collected 1,332 votes and Black-Blackburn and Petitpren ran as a team. They collected the endorsement of the Wayne-Westland Eudcation Association.

The WW Building Administrators Association backed Petitpren and McGrath.

Canton's federal housing grant represents only a portion of the federal funds received through the 1975 Community Block Grant program. The township has already received $32,000, which officials used to refurbish the township recreation hall at Michigan and Sheldon.

Township officials this year requested $78,000 for recreation and plan to request more funds for housing, according to Greenstein. The request for $78,000 has not yet been approved.

THE AT-LARGE portion of the Michigan delegation will also get heavy doses of 2d District talent.

Sylvia Skrel will be a will be an alternate-at-large for Ford. The political godmother of a generation of local Republican of the state central committee. Other 2d District residents going to Kansas City will be Peter B. Fletcher of Ypsilanti, Republican national committeeman and chairman of the State Highway Commission, and Nancy Chase of Ann Arbor, state party vice-chairwoman.

ONE HISTORICAL reason the Young Republican movement flourished in Michigan was the advanced age of the senior party leadership, but Bob Law says it's no longer true

"I'm surprised at the initiative the party has shown the last couple of years" at bringing in youth, said Law. "But Bill McLaughlin (senior party chairman) would sit down and help me any time I

As state YR chairman, Law, 33, has come to know many in the movement throughout the nation. He says the Michigan group will be "a working delegation." and his own role at Kansas City will be luring young conservatives from other states away from Reagan. Those contacts will be important if the presidential nomination is to be won by a 10- or 20-vote margin. When there was talk in party inner circles of getting ethnic representation in the delegation. Mrs. Skrel leaped to inform them that baw is of Polish ancestry.

KETTUNEN ACHIEVED some distinction by being the only person in about nine northwestern Wayne County communities to run May 18 for precinct delegate pledged to Reagan. "I'd venture to say half of the 'uncommitted' people are for Reagan," said Kettunen. "Jack Welborn (state Reagan chairman) said we would probably be subject to run from polite to cordial. Kettunen met Reagan a vear ago when the former California governor spoke in the Raleigh House at a fund-raiser. He found him "a very impressive man."

"They (the Reagan forces) said they'd get in touch with me." Kettunen recalled They didn't. I ran as a Reagan precinct delegate with no outside influence what-

In a seven-hour convention Saturday in Ypsilanti High School, second congressional district precinct delegates picked two slates of delegates to the Democratic national convention which will meet in New York July 12 to nominate a presidential candidate.

But Chairman Don Poirier of Monroe says the slate with names approved by spokesmen for Jimmy Carter and Morris tidall will certainly be accredited. The slate got 85-75 approval.

By picking their own second slate, however, angry area Democrats served notice to top-level Carterites, in particular, that they didn't like to be told whom to elect as

Michigan will send 133 delegates to New York-100 selected from the 19 congressional districts and 33 at-large to be picked by the Democratic State Central Committee Saturday in Lahsing.

GEIGER, 35, is typical of a new breed of Democratic delegate showing up this year. although the others are familiar names in area politics. Geiger is a former president and still a

"I'VE NEVER BEEN a Democratic precinct delegate. I live in Pat Whitton's precinct," Geiger said. Mrs. Whitton, with strong United Auto Workers connections, is a perennial officeholder in the party.

Power petition faltering?

A petition drive to bring Detroit Edison Co. and Consumers Power Co. under state government ownership is faltering for an odd reason.

"We know the signatures are out there," said Public Power coordinator Chuck Wilbur, "but this isn't a test of public support. It's an organizational test.

What Wilbur means is that petition circulators are getting excellent response from voters when they ask for signatures. But the organizational work of recruiting circulators, training them, printing and paying for the petition forms, and collecting the completed petitions is the killing

PUBLIC POWER was launched by the Human Rights Party. HRP, whose best known face is Zolton Ferency, was formed by the liberal-to-radical faction of the antiwar Democrats

HRP later adopted socialism, beginning with the energy utilities, as an official policy. Other organizations joining HRP in Public Power were the Michigan Consumer Alliance and the Black Caucus.

Public Power needs 265 000 signatures to get its proposed constitutional amendment on the November ballot. Those signatures must be filed with the secretary of state

"Right now I'd say we are in the 100,000 range," said Wilbur, adding that there are other signatures that have been collected but not returned to his office. "Personally, we're pessimistic. But I'm not prepared to predict how it will turn out." the Westwood School District librarian said.

Wilbur said that of every 10 persons approached, seven to nine would sign "consistently, whether it was in Detroit or any of the suburbs."

Other circulators had similar success. Jeaneane Havstad of Livonia, a political activist, had constant success in northwestern suburban shopping centers, "and she's particularly good at that. But even people who were the worst at that were The group wanted to buy space in a Detroit daily newspaper to print its petition form, but ran short of funds and settled for the Royal Oak Tribune instead.

The Monroe County AFL-CIO council. which represents 3,000 workers, voted to endorse Stempien at their June 3 meeting. On June 8, the Detroit Building and Trade Construction Trades Council announced their nod to Stempien. The council represents 60,000 workers in the Detroit metro-Stempien said, "I am certainly pleased that official labor organization endorsements of my candidacy have been made. About 5,000 books and 500 audio-visual resource items are being acquired at substantial savings for the three new elementary media centers (libraries) of Plymouth Community School District.

The purchase was made through arrangements developed by Ms. Bertha M. Green, director of libraries for Plymouth Schools, with Livonia School District personnel. The purchase was approved Monday night by the Plymouth Board of Education.

Because Livonia's school population is shrinking, resulting in closing of some schools, both districts had a chance to benefit from Livonia's intent to dispose of the Taft Elementary School's library re-

After inspection of the collection by Mrs. Kathryn Otto, principal of Hulsing Elementary in Canton, and Ms. Green, the Livonia collection was acquired by Plymouth Schools at the rate of 50 per cent of average book cost and at $1.30 per item for audio-visual materials.

The savings to the Plymouth district could be as much as $24,000, according to Ray Hoedell, assistant supt. for business, in comparision with purchase of the same materials at current retail costs. Some $40,000 was in the capital improvement budget for books and AV items. The items were purchased for $15,000.

Pierce opposes Pentagon budget boosts

Ed Pierce, Democratic eandidate for Congress from the 2d district, has expressed opposition to a record $106 billion defense budget approved by the House Appropriations Committee.

Pierce charged the committee as well as the Ford administration with "great wastefulness" for not cutting the Pentagon request "more than a token amount."

The candidate made his comments at a meeting in the home of Charles and Thelma Ruckhaber, 11036 Cranston, Livonia, and in later speeches before the Plymouth Kiwanis and at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

"Of course we need a large enough de fense budget to maintain our strength,' said Pierce. "But much of this budget, such as the B-1 bomber money, is waste and fat which the Senate already decided should be cut. "The defense budget used to go down after wars. It is hard for me to understand why it has increased so greatly since we got out of Vietnam, despite detente and our improved relations with the Soviet Union and China."

Pierce said President Gerald Ford 'seems so frightened" by the Ronald Reagan challenge that he grants "every excessive demand the Pentagon makes." Pierce said the military budget could stand a great amount of fat trimming and he is the man who is qualified to do the cutting.

Plymouth's 'iron man' of journalism

The history of journalism in Plymouth would not be complete without a look at Wilson William Edgar-Eddie as he is known to readers of his columns and feature stories in the Observer & Eccentric.

Probably the oldest working newsman in Michigan-certainly one of the best known-Eddie is the most durable journalist the area has ever seen. At age 78, 13 years after most newsmen trade their typewriters for golf clubs, Eddie is still on the job and still collecting writing awards.

A few years ago, the Observer group won seven prizes in the Michigan Press Association's compettton for weekly news-

Three of them went to Eddie, whose column "The Stroller" won first place in the weekly newspaper column class. One of his feature stories took a first and another a second. In the 100-year history of the association. Edgar is the first newsman ever to win three prizes in the same year.

Eddie's newspaper career began in Allentown, Pa., in 1919. Five years later, through a chance meeting with a Michigan poet, Edgar A. Guest, Eddie landed a $2,500-a-year job as sports writer for the Detroit Free Press. He worked 28 years for the Free Press, part of them as sports editor. His column was called The Second

In 1924, when he joined the Free Press, Eddie became one of the first sports announcers in Detroit. He was asked to read the sports news by the station manager of the Free Press radio station, WCX, now WJR. For the past 21 years, he has been heard every Friday night, reading the bowling news on Bob Reynold's evening broadcast on WJR.

While with the Free Press, Eddie was on of a team of reporters assigned by editor Malcolm Bingay to cover an American Legion convention in Detroit. Eddie wrote two columns of a composite story, but asked that his name not be shown on the article; he thought a six-name, byline was ridiculous. The aritcle won a Pulitzer Prize. Eddie got no share of the glory or prize money.

"I had no one to blame but myself," he

IN 1932, Eddie set up the Golden Gloves program in this area for the Free Press.

Among the first applicants was a tall black youngster named Joe Louis. Eddie virtually managed Louis until John Roxborough became the boxer's professional manager. Eddie was at the ringside in Chicago, in 1937, when Louis won the heavyweight championship

One of Eddie's first assignments for the Free Press was to cover the Detroit Tigers. He still holds card number one in the Michigan Baseball Writer's Assocation. Eddie hasn't missed a Tiger opening game in 51 years. "The last game I saw, it dawned on me that not a soul on either team was born in the days when I watched Ty Cobb and Mickey Cochrane.'

Eddie left the Free Press in 1948 to become executive secretary of the Bowling Proprietors of Greater Detroit. For the next 18 years, he was virtually the Judge Landis of bowling in the Detroit area. During that time, he "helped to bring bowling out of the saloons and onto the main corners." He was among the founders of the Bowling Hall of Fame. He retired from the bowling position in 1966.

Eddie missed the newspaper business. In 1964, he stopped at the Livonia Observer office to see Tommy Thompson, whom he had known when they worked at the Free Press. Myra Chandler, who then ran the Observer, asked Eddie if he would like to write a column for the paper. He jumped at the chance.

WHEN PHILIP POWER bought the Plymouth Mail in 1966, Eddie became its editor, a position he held for the next three

For several years after that, he was the group's roving editor and feature writer. He now works at the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, writing feature articles and his two columns: "In the Pocket," about bowling, and "The Stroller," about anything that comes to his mind.

A day after his 77th birthday in November, 1974, Eddie Edgar was inducted into the Michigan Amateur Hall of Fame, the third time he has been so honored. In 1962, he was named to the Bowling Hall of Fame: in 1971 he was elected to the University of Michigan Media Hall of Fame. Not bad going for a young man who barely got past the eighth grade (he had to work at 13 when his father died) and who insists that he has never read a book in his life.

Eddie has been writing interviews since he began his career in journalism 53 years ago. His first front-page story, in 1919, was an impromptu interview with William Jennings Bryan, who he met on a railroad station platform. A few weeks later, he managed to obtain a hotel-room interview with another nationally-known politician, Boise Penrose, the GOP boss who made Warren Harding president of the United States.

As a sports writer, Eddie interviewed most of the greats during the Golden Age of sports-Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Lou Gehrig, Mickey Cochrane, Joe DiMaggio, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Gar Wood and many others.

Eddie says his first editor told him how to conduct an interview. "You've got to exercise your power of observation; cultivate a retentive memory; keep your brain in gear at all times; and learn the art of asking questions."

Eddie says he never uses a prepared list of questions; he studies his subject before describing the background and the actions of the person being interviewed. He always tries for human interest leads. He never flashes pencil or paper; "people then start to measure their words.'

Vincent Petitpren, chairman of the 15th District Democratic Party, was recently re-elected trustee in the Wayne-Westland School District.

Petitpren is committed to Udall, but will cast his support to Carter, following Udall's lead

"It's pretty well defined that Carter will get the nomination at the convention in July," said Petitpren, "probably on the first ballot."

Udall alternate Dorothy Furie, 47, mother of 11 children, has worked on a number of campaigns, including Sander Levin for governor and George McGovern for president.

An English composition instructor at Wayne County Community College, Mrs. Furie is prepared to back Udall "as far as he lets me.

"I think Udall has been buried by the media, not getting as much exposure as the other candidates.'

Mary Washburn, councilwoman from Taylor, has pledged her support to Udall, but will swing to Carter. A precinct delegate for seven years.

Mrs. Washburn is a member of the Wayne County Democratic Club and the Taylor Democratic Club, and holds an executive position position on the 15th district Democratic committee board.

"This is my first national convention and I am very excited about it even though it seems it may be cut and dried," said Mrs.

Frank Ford, the second Udall alternate, is a law student and lives in Dearborn

It wasn't an easy election as Thygerson explains. Art Cullers, Wallace's state coordinator from Battle Creek, moved into a Ramada Inn in the 15th district and appointed himself as a Wallace delegate.

"The Democratic caucus objected to Culler's self-appointment and elected me over another Wallace supporter from Taylor," said Thygerson.

Political pro and novice lead way to Kansas City

By TIM RICHARD

Both women are from the Farmington community. Other than that, the two delegates to the Republican national convention couldn't be less alike.

Mary Lou Barth, a prominent party regular, will back President Ford for renomination in August in Kansas City. Halina Frizzelle, a newcomer, is strong for Ronald Reagan

They were elected last weekend in the 17th Congressional District caucus at the GOP state convention in Grand Rapids. The other district delegate post went to Denny Hammond, district chairman and a resident of northwest Detroit; he supports Ford.

The three alternates from the 17th are John Rutledge of Detroit (Ford), Della Wright of Farmington (Ford) and Joe Burdzinski of Southfield (Reagan). Redford Township got none of the six positions.

MRS. FRIZZELLE is a rarity in GOP politics—a person who ran for precinct delegate committed to Reagan.

Although the former California governor got one-third of the Michigan vote in the May 18 presidential primary, the number of pro-Reagan precinct delegates averaged less than one per community in the sub-

"Stop ERA" button and belongs to the anti-lib Happiness Of Women organization.

It's extremely rare for a total newcomer in politics to land a national convention seat, but there were so few elected precinct delegates pledged to Reagan that she was a shoo-in. In a bit of organizational confusion, Burdzinski was named delegate and Mrs. Frizzelle alternate in an early caucus, but Burdzinski backed off afterwards because he had been only a write-in candidate for precinct delegate.

"I STILL FEEL like an outcast. I feel I'm on the outside, looking in," said Mrs. Frizzelle as the convention droned on. Convention procedures frankly mystified her.

"I'm interested in Social Security because it's a rip-off. I've been a widow. I worked in a Dodge factory. My first husband died at 44, and my daughter (then 17) collected social security for one year. The 25 years of social security he paid in

She lives now in Farmington with her husband Robert, an experimental machinist. She has worked for a data process training firm and for a credit office but takes care of her home now at her husband's request.

She looked around the convention floor.

"I wasn't a social butterfly. I worked for a living," she said.

MARY LOU BARTH, of Farmington, is also a first-time delegate, but the honor came after 16 years of activity.

A merry-eyed grandmother, she is a descendant of Continental Congressman Charles Carroll, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

"I don't like to get into women's lib," she said. "I was born liberated. They can go on and on about it."

Her list of party offices reads like a charter: President of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan, alternate-at-large to the '72 convention, Oakland County executive board president of the Farmington Republican Women's Organization, three terms on the Republican State Central Committee, current vice-chairwoman of the 17th District organization.

She first met Gerald Ford when he was a young congressman from Grand Rapids. Their last encounter was last winter in Florida, when the president conducted a quickie handshaking tour of a beach. "I was in a bathing suit," Mrs. Barth chuckled.

THE BARTHS have lived in the 17th District for 30 years, first in northwest Detroit, the last six years in Farmington.

Husband Philip is a real estate broker and owner of J.L. Mooney Co. Son Dan has a start in politics at Alma College. Republican politics, naturally.

VA hospitals now provide drivers ed

Allen Park Veterans Administration hospital has been designated to provide driver training for severely disabled veterans and military personnel, according to Albert Zamberlan, director

Eligible for this special training are veterans and military personnel with serviceconnected disabilities who receive VA grants for purchase of an automobile or

Special authorizations may be extended to other personnel eligible for VA medical care if it is determined to be medically justified by VA standards.

Veterans may apply for the training at the VA regional office in Detroit or at any VA hospital. A member of the armed forces must be referred to VA by an authorized official of his branch of service.

Forty VA hospitals recently were designated driver training centers. Some have cars with special adaptive equipment for ing them. Driver training simulators are being evaluated at a few of the centers for possible use at all 40.

Eighteen hospitals have already been providing such training, but Allen Park hospital is one of the 22 new facilities to join in the program

Let's have answers on the reserve police

Sometime before September, the Canton Township board must determine the role and function of the reserve police.

As each day goes by, the issue becomes more clouded, and people are concerned-some even to the point of expressing fear about the auxiliaries.

And with reason-because it seems that, without explanation, the role of the reserve police has

As first conceived, the reserves were to function as glorified rent-a-cops, serving as sensory extensions of the Wayne County Sheriff and the

They were to be the eyes and ears of Canton's official law enforcement agencies. They were to be used mostly for crowd control at school and township functions. Now it appears the reserves will be patrolling in shifts almost around the clock, armed with high powered pistols and driving pursuit cars.

IS THIS WHAT the people want? Is this what the board wants?

Recently, Trustee Bob Myers and Supervisor Robert Greenstein became engaged in a heated debate about whether reserves would be armed with .357 magnums, very powerful handguns.

That argument served only to muddy the issue. The questions are: Should they be armed at all? And if so, why?

Those questions, like most others concerning the reserves, cannot be answered until the board makes a definitive statement as to the exact role and purpose of the reserves.

Are they going to serve as a very low paid fulltime police force? Or will they be an extension of the regular enforcement agencies, serving as back-up assistance and calling the state police and sheriff at the first sign of serious trouble?

Or will they attempt to deal with criminal activity as soon as they are confronted with it? Are they, as the name suggests, a reserve force

No one really seems to agree on how extensive the duties of the auxiliaries will be.

ONE THING is clear: Within several months the reserves will be on the street, and the people have a right to know what to expect.

The township administration has drawn up the rules and regulations of the auxiliaries, and we hope that will serve to answer many of the questions. But for the time being, the board should attempt to clarify the matter.

This is not to suggest that the reserves are not a dedicated lot, willing to give their time almost for free to help their fellow residents.

Neither is it an attempt to belittle the many hours of training they will have before they start

Nor is it to suggest that they should be put on the street not fully equipped to meet any contingency, although there remains some question as to how much any amount of training can replace actual on-the-street experience.

Until the board arrives at a specific policy statement concerning the auxiliaries, these questions and many others will remain unanswered.

Crowns change hands, but peasants keep quiet

In a certain political system, men hold office intil they either die, abdicate or are overthrown some crime. Insofar as possible, they handpick their successors; confirmation is made by committees of three men. The people almost ever object. This system is spick one

The answer, of course, is c. Wayne County gov-

LOUIS FUNK, treasurer of the aforementioned offinity died last week at 73. He had been orfained for the post because he had been deputy to be preceding incumbent. George Stoll, who simarly held onto the post until death.

Mr. Funk's dying act was to attempt to annoint us successor. Mr. Funk filed for renomination in the Aug 3 Democratic primary, thus scaring off competent opposition. Meanwhile, his deputy Clark Finley, also filed. At the last possible moment Mr. Funk withdrew, leaving Finley a clear shot at the crown with only token opposition. There's a funny procedure for filling vacancies eich as the one Mr. Funk's death created. County administration vacancies are filled by committees three—a judge and a couple of other functioniries whose titles escape me

IT'S LIKE THAT with most county offices. James Killeen, the county clerk, picked up the title from another such committee when an inumbent named Sullivan abdicated upon being fected to a judgeship. Sullivan, as I recall, was crowned after the demise of Edgar Branigin.

In the drain office, a man named Youngblood I torget which one-there are so many Youngbloods; was elected in 1972, at the age of six dozen, whereupon he appointed his son deputy and retired at the end of 1974, in mid-term. The son was duly crowned by the little committee. That nice Bill Cahalan, the prosecutor, got his title after Sam Olsen abdicated upon winning a judgeship. His predecessors acquired their crowns in similar ways. The reeve of the shire, or sheriff as we now call that antique office, is Bill Lucas, who was picked by a little committee after the abdication of Roman Gribbs, who was picked by the little committee after the overthrow of the notorious Peter Buback, who was picked by the little committee after the noble Andrew Baird died in office when he was about a million years old.

I oversimplify slightly. The system produces some able rulers, just as the monarchical system sometimes did. Periodically, there are plebescites at which the peasants of Wayne County confirm the ruler in office. But only a few greybeards in the kingdom can remember when the populace dumped such a duly crowned personage.

IN A ONE-PARTY county where a machine

Some incendiary radicals are contemplating change. They plot a new system where a "county executive." fully visible to the populace, would be elected openly. They dream of a meaningful inscribed tablet called a "county home rule" law that would do away with the farcical elections of clerks, treasurers and shire-reeves.

Those who admired Louis Funk's style of politics may make memorial donations to his favorite charity. All the rest may wish to donate to the campaigns of county commission candidates who will institute a county executive system and to legislative candidates who will write a workable home rule law

Voters pick and choose

Local school elections are usually the best weathervane of public opinion, and Monday's voting throughout the metropolitan Detroit suburbs was no exception.

Some results and then some conclusions. All 16 suburban school districts which had millage renewals on their ballots saw them succeed. Conclusion is that local voters are comfortable about supporting their local schools at past levels

Thirty-one millage increases were voted on: 15 passed and 16 failed. Conclusion is that voters were prepared to pick and choose among tax increases, according as local needs and conditions

THE TWO BIGGEST requests for additional millage—8.3 mills in Royal Oak and six mills in Lake Shore-were passed. Obviously, voters in these districts concluded that failure to pass the increased millage would have left their school systems in a state of collapse. This they were not prepared to accept, and so they voted yes.

The three smallest millage increases on the balot—0.53 mills for Schoolcraft Community College. 0.5 in Van Buren and one mill in Lake Shore—all failed. Equally obviously, voters in these districts felt that the millages requested were not centrally important in the future health of the educational program they were to have supported. Weighing the comparatively small educational benefit against the comparatively small increase in taxes, voters chose to keep their money.

Of the 26 intermediate-sized millage increase questions on the Monday ballot, voters split evenly. approving 13 and turning down 13

Locally, voters in Avondale, Birmingham, Livonia. Southfield. West. Bloomfield and Walled Lake school districts passed the requested increases, several doing it the second time around. In these communities, school officials were successful in pointing out that cost inflation and cuts in state aid made increased local school taxes a necessity if class size, hours and educational programs were to be preserved.

The local school districts where millage increases were rejected-Farmington. Plymouth and Garden City-all have particular problems which helped deafen the ears of voters to the millage ap-

The Farmington school board couldn't get together on what would be cut if the millage failed: Plymouth has been embroiled in a fight over a football coach's resignation, among other things; Garden City-historically a staunch supporter of its local school system-has been a fractured community ever since a bitter teachers strike in 1975.

Observation

by PHILIP H. POWER

THE RESULTS of Monday's voting tend to lend support for the argument that teacher strikes are counter-productive when local taxpayers are asked to ante up after the settlement.

Garden City. Plymouth and Livonia all experienced strikes within the past two years. Voters in the Livonia district turned down the millage increase the first time around, and voters in the other two both rejected millage increases Mon-

Last fall, both Farmington and Southfield districts went right to the start of school before working out settlements with their teachers. Farmington's request for millage lost, and Southfield's won only narrowly after an ill-advised attempt by property owners to put out an anonymous leaflet against the millage back fired

THE FAILURE of voters in the district supporting Schoolcraft College-Livonia. Plymouth. Garden City. Clarenceville and Northville-was particularly disappointing to college officials.

Schoolcraft has been doing an excellent job lifting the sights of local residents, and officials there hoped the 0.53 mill issue would pass on the grounds that it was small compared to increases asked by K-12 districts.

But what happened is that the Schoolcraft millage failed in those K-12 districts which had a local millage on the ballot and passed where no local taxes were at issue. The miliage elections brought out the "no" voters.

OVER ALL, the pattern is encouraging to those of us who feel that quality of education in our local school is important to the quality of our life.

Last year, you may recall, the taxpayer revolt was in white heat. No millage increases were passed, and even some renewals were defeated

This year, voters were independent-minded, basing their votes on local needs. What they seem to be saving is:

"Yes. let's support our local schools and keep educational quality reasonably high. But we will not dig into our pocketbooks where there does not seem to be full justification.

That's a sensible attitude.

Now don't you wish you had voted?

But these "conspiracy" thoughts don't give prop-

The cliche that every vote counts rang with deadly clarity Monday. About midnight, when the unofficial votes were tallied, the Plymouth School District millage question ended up in a dead heat—3,431 votes in favor and 3,431 votes against.

We already have heard cries of regret from residents who didn't make it to the polls. There doubtless will be a number of readers who wish today they had made it to the balloting booth Monday. In every election, each vote counts. In close elections, especially a tie, this fact becomes dramatically obvious-almost an understatement.

THE MOST unfortunate aftermath of the tie vote is that no matter how it is resolved, 3,431

The news was welcome indeed that the Wayne County Road Commission has approved a full traffic signal for Sheldon and Hanford Roads-the intersection involving the death of a young boy in an accident whose results could have been much worse because of the number of school children there when it occurred.

The road commission had been requested on many occasions to provide a signal for the intersection, but always had statistics which argued against a light at this time. Statistics, though, seem much less impressive when someone is

And so the road commission should be commended for its quick action after the fatality and shamed for its inability to act before the accident.

This accident may not have been prevented if a light had been present. However, the speed of traffic along Sheldon during daytime hours should have been sufficient to justify a signal light to slow down traffic. There is special justification when the intersection is a crossing place for a large number of elementary children. But let's be positive and thank the county for what it has done and hope for more positive action in the future.

Ask yourself this question: If the millage had won or lost by 1,000 votes, would you have entertained any doubts about the integrity of the election process? Your answer, logically, should be the same for a close election.

A narrow outcome doesn't change the ability of election workers and balloting machines to count accurately. The only difference is that a close vote makes it easier to suspect the outcome on an emotional basis. But we should desire to be ration-

The fact that only about one-fourth of the eligible residents bothered to vote should be greeted with more alarm than the tied results. Instead, attention will be focused on some 7,000 persons who voted and not the 20,000 who stayed home. The impact of Monday's election will be felt more by the 7,000-plus who did vote. That's human nature. But it should weigh heavily on 20,000 registered voters whose votes could have counted but didn't.

Say good-bye to sunshine in Canton

Editor

It has been observed that political apathy is a very widespread phenomenon in American culture. There are those who consider this a serious malfunctioning of democracy. If men are to maintain control over their political destinies, they must be aware of what is going on; and must take a hand in determining public policy. On the other hand, there are some cunning political theorists such as Robert Greenstein, supervisor of Canton Township, who find such apathy a favorable, rather than an unfavorable sign.

He interprets it to mean that he can continue holding executive "secret" sessions behind closed doors to discuss what actions the "Greenstein Clan" will take before their scheduled public meetings.

The intermittent "sunshine" in Canton Township has of May 24, turned into a "citizens' rainstorm" for an open meetings ordinance has failed before it was even properly introduced.

As a Canton resident, I am frustrated, disillusioned and nauseated.

For well over a month I've watched Mr. Poole, one of the opposing trustees of the Greenstein Clan, fumble, muff and unskillfully attempt to introduce an open meetings ordinance in Canton that would help put an end to covert, distorted and corruptive activities held in secrecy.

Mr. Poole was supposed to get this ordinance on the agenda for the entire board

Unfortunately, as the weeks moved on, Poole could barely understand which issue he was dealing with as Mr. Greenstein cleverly continued to lump open meetings with the freedom of information act.

The last meeting proved to be fatal as Mr. Greenstein told Mr. Poole that there was no sense in discussing this ordinance because the state law will supersede our ordinance. Immediately Mr. Poole whimpered back into his state of oblivion and that ended that!

Just another kindle of hope blown to the wayside, for Greenstein's clever tactics victored once again. Distortion and "carnival con" are not to be put past Robert Greenstein, as he made it sound as though a state law would be guaranteed in the near

Open meetings bills have been slushing through the political mudhole in Lansing for well over a year, and are likely to continue. In addition the latest bill introduced by Rep. Thomas Brown states that any local ordinance will supersede the state

We have absolutely no guarantee of the time span or the strength of a state law ever being enacted.

As of today, with secret executive sessions and now the official tape recording of Canton meetings halted-this slate of gentlemen (and I use the term loosely) can quite literally rape a township, and there's absolutely no refutation from the citizens at large.

Quite frankly, these kinds of shenanigans could not exist for one minute with a sunshine open meetings ordinance.

My . . . could this be the reason it was defeated with little, or more realistically,

I used to feel disgust towards the apathetic citizen, now I'm beginning to understand that maybe apathy is a result of frustration and apathy is the medicine to preserve the sanity of the outlawed citizen.

Land use vote is no mandate and the property of the contraction of the contract

Contrary to some, I do not believe that the results of the vote on the land use advisory question in Canton was an "overwhelming mandate" in favor of the 1976 Land Use Plan.

I do believe that Canton voters indicated a preference for an overall population of 100,000 rather than 200,000.

The question, as worded, did not provide the voters with a choice on land use "plans" (which would have been a yes or no response), but rather gave the voter an opportunity voice his/her preferences on desired population growth.

Safety board's first priority

Editor:

I am proud of the people of Canton Town-

On Tuesday, June 8, at the township board meeting in a calm atmosphere and with binding tact, they submitted to our board and to the Wayne County Road Commission a proposal to obtain a traffic light vitally needed to protect our children's school crossing at Sheldon and Hanford, repainting of crosswalks and a reduction of the speed limit to 25 mph.

I support the immediate action to remedy the problem that has recently taken the life of one of our children and mentally and physically injured several others.

This incident should state to us Cantonites how vitally important it is not to build more residential areas along our major thru-fares.

Recently the Republic Building Company was approved to build more residential housing along Canton Center Road which is planned to be a five-lane highway.

I urge our supervisor again to place a moratorium on residential building in these areas of heavy traffic. More emphasis should be placed by the board on these vital needs and services of the people who are already residents of Canton and less emphasis placed upon increasing population with building permits.

This just puts money in our builder's pockets. MS. PAT DOMBECKI

Joe Bianco breaks into a rare grin as he talks about the $25 million in new, air-conditioned buses with bright orange "SEMTA" markings, the first bus shelters suburbia has ever seen and new bus terminals that are going up.

Bianco is chairman of SEMTA, the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority. Since 1967 he has been deep in the often tedious report writing, bill drafting. committee work, wheedling and cajoling that it takes to translate plans into a system that transports people.

BUT FOR BIANCO, 39, of Bloomfield

Hills, the planning is still far from over. He's seeking a new three-year term on SEMTA as an appointee of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments. He wants to see a rapid transit system built too.

Bianco gets turned on by the fact that SEMTA is taking over the Grand Trunk Railway commuter service from Detroit to Pontiac, rebuilding old cars and adding

"I'm a lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard Reserve." Bianco said. "I was on active duty two weeks during the Detroit riots. Patrolling the river front, standing on the bridge in front of Cobo Hall and watching the city burn, I almost cried.

"The day I left the ship, I got a call from Joe Hudson (the retailer) and Kent Mathewson (president of Metropolitan Fund) asking me to take part in formation of the urban coalition that became New Detroit Inc. For six months I served as executive vice president.

"We saw the results of Detroit and Watts, and one of the points of feedback was lack of adequate transportation services-job accessibility. Twenty-eight per cent of the households in Detroit had no access to an auto!

Bianco was appointed to the first SEMTA board and became chairman last

Homework involves studying transit systems and budgets-$40.6 million for operations, $70 million in applications for capi-

THE BIG BREAKTHROUGH came three years ago when the state allocated a half-cent of the gasoline tax for public transportation.

It meant a virtual revolution in bus service. "SEMTA has put 14 small bus programs into effect from Monroe to Birmingham," said Bianco, "and in fiscal '77, we're going to install three more dial-aride systems.

"In addition to that, we're going to set up seven more small bus programs, essentially to serve the elderly and handicapped in each of the seven counties of SEMTA's authority.

"We've got 300 new bus shelters, the first the suburbs have ever seen. Within the next month, we'll have a $2 million terminal in Macomb County that replaces a 60-year-old facility. In July we'll be opening up the new Oakland terminal, a $2.5 million facility that replaces one about 50

"And we have approval for a new $2 million terminal in western Wayne County.'

Internally, the SEMTA board has wrestled with building a management structure that exploded from eight staff persons three years ago to 80 central staff and 450 operating employes today.

THERE ARE frustrations, he admits. Chief is the "continual haggling" with the City of Detroit over merging its department of transportation (D-DOT) into SEMTA. The D-DOT union chief has been able to delay all capital grants for three to six months, Bianco said.

While the U.S. Department of Transportation won't say so publicly, it wants SEMTA to absorb D-DOT before it will finance a rapid transit program here. Those negotiations have been extremely difficult. in Bianco's view: "The city's constant position is that they always want a little bit more than we can offer.

Meanwhile, however, SEMTA has been able to acquire the failing or failed suburban bus companies without the kinds of lawsuits other metropolitan areas have experienced.

YOU MIGHT EXPECT Bianco to be a hard-seli guy with a touch of the Machiavellian prince about him. Instead he has an air of ascetic efficiency.

He has solid contacts in both parties. He was once a campaign manager for Republican U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, and his renomination to SEMTA has the solid backing of Democrat Alexander C. Perinoff, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

Bianco sometimes thinks about turning over the SEMTA reins to others and playing more golf or selling more stocks and

Livonia Garden Club cleans up on awards

It is easy to see that Mrs. Margaret Trembath is bursting with pride. President of the Livonia Garden Club, she is eager to show the eight awards the club has won the past year.

She is especially proud of recognition from the National Council of State Garden Clubs Inc. in honor of the club's big "Spruce up Livonia for Yuletide" project carried out last Christmas.

The Livonia group also won awards from the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan for participating in the Yuletide event, as well for other activities, including the installation of bird feeders at Ardmore Nursing Home.

We won so many awards, I was beginning to think it was Emmy night," laughed Mrs. Trembath

Scout troops in Livonia probably remember the spruce up project in which troops were assigned city trees to decorate with recycled material Scout imaginations went to work making attractive use of milk and egg cartons and potato chip cylinders. Snack cups were transformed into bells, aluminium pans turned into bird feeders and cleanser cans turned up as the bodies of angels.

To give the birds a good Christmas, pine cones were rolled in peanut butter and popcorn bells were produced. Wrapped around the trees were garlands of popcorn, peanuts, berries, sunflower seeds, macaroni, corn and acorns.

THE LIVONIA gardeners were recognized not only for their Yule plan, but also for the organizational work in involving so many community groups in the project.

From this same activity, the club won awards from the Federated Garden Clubs for conservation, litter control, membership and community improvement.

In cataloguing the triumph of her club, Mrs. Trembath paid special tribute to Mrs. Lucille Knight, awards chairman.

"She has to keep records and pictures of our programs to submit to the state federation and the national council for the various awards," Mrs. Trembath explained.

She added, "My district chairman told me at the three-day state garden clubs convention in East Lansing that our club had received more awards in this single year than any other club ever received."

A FLOWER SHOW held last September by the club at Quaker Acres was the point of origin of other awards. One of these was the pink placement award, "the highest award you can win in the category en-

Mrs. Trembath noted it is based on the place where the show is held, the cooperation of the city, as well as the flower arrangements themselves.

An American Revolution Bicentennial special award was received from the federated clubs for this flower show in its historical setting.

Mrs. Trembath explained that she joined the Livonia Garden Club because of she loves flower arranging.

"I love to garden," she said. "I was built that way. I've been arranging since I was a little girl.'

After a busy year, Mrs. Trembath has turned her presidential responsibilities over to a new club leader, Mrs. Else Schweppe, and may find time to get back to her gardening.

No wonder Mrs. Margaret Trembath is smiling. While she was president, the Livonia Garden Club won eight awards from state and national garden organizations. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Family Y camps offer varied experiences

A camping assortment that includes fun for the entire family is being offered through the Livonia Family Y this sum-

The program includes a day camp on the Y's Stark Road grounds, a day camp a bus ride away, resident camp in two locations, and family camping. All are being coordinated at the Livonia Y this summer through Mike Kenyon, community program director. Jubilee Day Camp is the close-to-home offering. It will have four sessions, July 6-16, July 19-29, Aug. 2-12 and Aug. 16-26, and each will have a separate theme, including movie making, youth theater, art extravaganza and vaudeville. Daily activities, running from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., also will include swimming, crafts, games, sports, archery, tennis, trampoline

The camp is open to children 6-11 years

The staff will include Melinda Berriman, an elementary school teacher; Jan Smith, an Albion College graduate; and Les Lazarus, an Oakland Community College student. Russ Vogel will lead the dramatics

The camp costs $40 for the nine-day session, and bus transportation is open to campers living in Livonia for $5 per family per session.

'We're trying on this one to keep the fee low and make it as convenient as possible so we can involve as many children as possible," Kenyon said.

FAR OAKS DAY CAMP offers an experience a little farther from home.

In this program, buses will take boys and girls 7-12 years of age to Camp Ohiyesa, near Holly, for a program that will be shared by several branches of the Detroit Metropolitan YMCA.

All three periods, June 28 to July 8, July 12-22, and July 26- to Aug. 5, will include horseback riding, swim instruction, rowing, canoeing, fishing, archery, arts and crafts, nature study and group games.

Along with their swim suft and towels, campers will take a sack lunch each day and milk will be provided. The bus will leave the Family Y at 9 a.m. each day, returning at 4 p.m. The cost in that program for nine days

RESIDENT CAMP is offered in two places, Ohiyesa and Nissokone, near Os-

Boys and girls 8-10 may go to Ohiyesa Aug. 8-14 or Aug. 15-21 for an $86 fee that includes meals, a full program and medical insurance, with parents providing transportation to and from camp.

Nissokone will have two two-week sessions, June 26 to July 10, and July 10-24, and five one-week programs between June 26 and July 31.

The cost is $190 for the 'onger sessions and $100 for the shorter, and all include a full camp program of sailing, horseback riding, water skiing, tennis, swimming, archery, photography, drama, rowing, crafts and nature lore.

The first sessions FAMILY WEEKEND camping is available at both Ohivesa and Nissokone for recreational vehicles and tent-trailers. Electric hook-ups are provided in both lakefront and shaded areas. Families interested in more information can call the Livonia Family Y camp office, 261-2161. Several special camps will be part of the general program. One, for Girl Scouts, will run three hours a day from Aug. 23-27 and will include instruction on canoeing safety, water safety and lifesaving. Shirley Ritter, assistant physicial education director for the Family Y, will direct the program. The cost is $10.

Dr. Hess sees tension, peace hope in Mideast

By MARGARET MILLER

Tension in the Mideast right now seems as great as at any time Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, world-traveling clergyman, can remember, yet he also thinks prospects for peace there are greater than in recent

Dr. Hess, senior minister of Ward United Presbyterian Church of Livonia, made his assessment after he and his wife, Margaret, returned from leading a group of travelers from this area into Egypt, Luxor, Jordan, Israel, Turkey and Greece. "I saw more upset and unrest in Israel this time," he said, "especially in the old city section of Jerusalem.

'You do have to remember, though, that any violence that occurs there gets more publicized, just because it's so cramped there and so much watched by the rest of the world.

"When a bomb goes off in Jerusalem, the whole world knows about it.'

Despite the tension, there is a hopeful note, said this minister who has made seven trips to the Holy Land in travels that have taken him 19 times across the Atlantic and three times across the Pacific. (One trip around the world in there, he ex-

"THE CONFLICT in Lebanon now," he said. "is tending to defuse the situation in Israel because it has caused a split among the Arabs

"Syria, by occupying Lebanon, is coming up on the other side from the Palestinian Liberation Organization, and this means some loss of support for the Palesti-

The battle in Lebanon, he added, is between Christian rightists and Muslim extremists, and Syria is coming in to defend the Christians.

A second factor, Dr. Hess said, is that in Israel there is greater sensitivity to the needs of the Arabs on the West Bank.

'The fact that Israel was under such pressure during the war of 1973, as opposed to the clear-cut victory of six years earlier, means that more groups in Israel are willing to talk-about peace." he explained.

"I do see hope for peace."

DR. AND MRS. HESS led a group of 53 travelers, including contingents from the Bible class Margaret Hess teaches in Birmingham and a Schoolcraft College archeology class. There also were some from the Ward congregation.

Party members from this area included: Birmingham-Kathryn R. Diamond, Sarah C. Lickly, Marion and Eileen Redford Township-Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holda, William and Irene Oberstadt.

THE PASTOR said that for him one highlight of the trip had been his first visit to Mt. Hernon, thought by many biblical scholars to be the site of the Transfiguration

"We traveled the boundaries of ancient Israel, from Dan in the north to Bersheba in the south," he added The group of travelers had two Sunday services, the minister said, "one in boats on the Sea of Galillee and one on Mars Hill in Athens where Paul preached.' He also noted that there a great deal of pro-American feeling in Egypt, apparently

"When they find out you are American there is an immediate welcome," he said. DR. AND MRS. HESS wound up their own journey by continuing on to Dubravyik. Yugoslavia, after conpleting the three-week tour. He described as "fabulous" that area of mountains, sea and an old city that is "in the best condition of any medieval city." "While we were there," he added, "Tito celebrated his 84th birthday, and there is much speculation as to what will happen when he dies.

"People talk of freedom, and they are very proud their country does not have the same repression you find in other Commun-

When are Dr. and Mrs. Hess likely to return to Israel?

"Probably in a year or so," he said. "I can't stay away-there's always something

"And the country itself changes so much. It's amazing the way they continue to progress."

But Mrs. Richmond shared the spotlight, too, because of all the generations of her clan who were able to be on hand.

HER MOTHER, Mrs. Carrie Jensen, headed the family delegation. Mrs. Jensen is 88 and one of the original residents to move into McNamara Towers, Livonia's senior citizens residence.

Mrs. Allen Jenson, widow of the honoree's brother, and her two daughters attended the party too.

MRS. RICHMOND said she worked in the cafeterias a couple of hours a day while her children were growing up "just to keep me out of mischief." After her husband's death, she began full-time clerical work. She also was employed at the Livonia city hall occasionally, on elections and

I found myself with the life-is-passingme-by feeling through the great couponcashing madness of the last week or so.

First, I forgot to take coupons to the store. Then I couldn't find the ones I thought I had stashed away. Finally I found I couldn't get things I needed because they had been coupon-worthy.

All this was a bit frustrating to a shopper who hates to pass up a bargain.

MY ATTITUDE on those mailed and printed price-reducing coupons always has been "use it if you can remembern somhing you would buy anyway if the saving is good enough.' So for quite a while I've kept an envelope of coupons that save a few cents on assorted items ranging from paper towels and liquid detergent to cat food and chees-

The envelope would go along to the grocery store and occasionally a coupon would get cashed. Oftener than not, though. I've wound up not using it because the house brand item was cheaper than the name brand, even with the discount.

SO IT DIDN'T make much impression when the stores started advertising their bigger discounts.

And the first weekend of the coupon war I completely forgot to take along any coupons when I went shopping. I got caught in the battle, though, standing in long lines of shoppers who had piled carts high with disposable diapers and cake mixes and were cashing in on the jackpot.

I decided I'd better get into the act and resolved to be armed with coupons on the next shopping foray.

But the envelope had disappeared, and rummaging through several drawers failed

THE NEXT WEEKEND it was long lines plus a bit of annoyance at myself. Furthermore, the bran flakes and toothpaste on my shopping list were gone with the coupons

And then, about the time the stores were announcing the end of the double and triple money back, the mail bought a whole batch of new coupons.

So now, do I really want those graham crackers. Chinese food and cans of deodorant? Probably not, at a mere seven cents

July. McNally is Schoolcraft's coordinator for Title IX adherence. The self-evaluation becomes a detailed written account of the College's efforts against discriminmation of students or employees because of their sex. McNally said, and added: "We'll have to include a copy of it whenever we apply for Federal funding. It will also be on record should HEW (the department of Health, Education and Welfare) decide to check on us."

THE SELF-STUDY is another step in Schoolcraft's efforts towards full compliance with provisions of Title IX. One of the earliest actions taken was Mr. McNally's appointment as coordinator by President C. Nelson Grote in September.

At that time the college head said he viewed compliance here as more of a continuing rather than an implementing action. He noted the college's long-standing policy prohibited discrimination on the basis of sex as well as race, creed, color or national origin and added that it has since been expanded to cover age as well.

A second major action was the adopting and publishing of complaint procedures in March, 1976. They provide a guide for and insure review for students and employees who feel their rights under Title IX have

THE PROCEDURES establish that the coordinator is the first level for resolving any complaints.

If a solution is not reached at this level, a six-member committee, three male and three female, are appointed from all segments of the college. They are designated by the president, who also names an ex-officio chairperson, receives the committee's report and makes a final determination.

Copies of the president's official decision are made available to all interested par-

The Garden City BPW, for the third time in its history, won the Anna Howard Shaw award, given each year for the best record of the chapter's activities for the year.

A membership award for equalizing, stabilizing and gaining 25 per cent in membership went to the South Redford BPW.

THE LIVONIA BPW was honored twice. Rosina Raymond, former president, was selected to receive the Michigan BPW Harriet Meyer award, given each year to an outstanding member. The entire unit also won an award given by the Plymouth BPW for having the most members in policy-making positions in the federation.

The other District IX club to be honored was Northville BPW, which took an expansion award for its backing of the new Novi

Northville was the only club in the state, Mrs. Shon said, to go the complete route up to chartering in developing a new club. In addition, the director said, other clubs in the district were given president's awards for fulfilling their requirements in various categories.

Other clubs include BPWs from Wayne, Westland. Farmington and Lola Valley. Mrs. Shon is in her second term as director, having served previously as assistant director, secretary and president of the Garden City BPW.

GARDEN CITY'S coveted award was won for a scrapbook that was mainly the work of Joyce Pappas.

How Arm & Hammer Baking Soda helps maintain your pool's ideal pH and helps keep your water crystal clear.

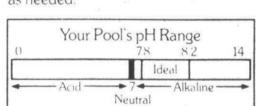

The 2 most important rules for easy pool care.

The most important rule to remember about pool care is to use a chlorinating product.

Recommended usage: Maintain a minimum chlorine level of 1.0 ppm Free Residual (Available) Chlorine.

The second most important rule to remember is to maintain the proper pH. And here's where Baking Soda goes to work. Baking Soda is a natural acid neutralizer and buffering agent which helps maintain pool pH at an ideal range of 7.8 to 8.2. This helps keep eyes from burning. And Baking Soda even helps improve water clarity—keeping your pool water crystal clear.

Recommended usage: Add 1 lb. of Baking Soda per 10,000 gallons of water each week during active pool season. Add a chlorinating product as needed.

If pH reaches 8.2. you can discontinue weekly use of Baking Soda and use only as necessary to maintain a pH within 7.8 to 8.2. Do not use Acid. If cloudiness occurs, run filter (keeping it clean), until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep the water clear

Your pool water is filled with tiny particles too small for your filter to remove. Some of these particles make the water cloudy. Baking Soda causes the smallest particles to become attached to larger ones which are then easily filtered out of the water. The result is crystal clear water. If cloudiness occurs when you add Baking Soda, run the filter (keeping it clean), until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep eyes from burning

When eyes sting or burn and chlorine odors can be detected from the pool water, the problem is usually one of low pH. A low pH promotes the formation of imitating chlorine-nitrogen by products. The best way to minimize the formation of these imitating by products is to control the pH of your pool water.

"Arm & Hammer Baking Soda is a pool owner's best friend."

By maintaining your pool's pH with Baking Soda. you automatically adjust the pH of your pool water into the ideal range of 7.8 to 8.2. As a result, eye imitation is kept to a minimum.

6 Rules for Pool Maintenance

1. Test water daily.

2. Daily chlorine measurements should be taken to assure proper germicidal activity. Free Residual (Available) Chlorine should be 1.0 ppm or above.

3. Maintain pH between 7.8 and 8.2. Once every week during active pool season use 1 lb. of Arm & Hammer Baking Soda for every 10,000 gallons of water.

4. Check filter regularly. Clean when necessary.

5. Check water hardness monthly, particularly in hard water areas. High water hardness may cause scaling. If total water hardness (as calcium carbonate) is above 300 ppm, do not use Baking Soda until pool has been drained and refilled.

6. If heater is used: Operate filter at least 15 minutes after heater is turned off. Note On occasion, particularly in a new pool or in pools being opened for the season, additional steps are required to bring the pool into balance more rapidly or to clear up problems such as algae growth or mineral accumulation. When these problems arise consult a pool expert in your area.

Test Kits

An accurate Test Kit is very important to avoid inaccurate readings which can cause problems in proper pool maintenance. Testing solutions should be replaced at least once every year.

How to estimate your pool's capacity

The average swimming pool contains approximately 20.000 gallons. However, an accurate record of the pool's water capacity in gallons is necessary since this measurement is often used to calculate amounts of chemicals for treating the pool water.

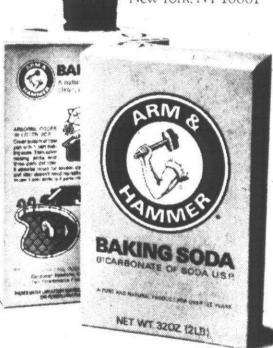

The following formulas can be

Summer Days at St. Edith Church, Livonia, mean Bible school, sports, arts and

To take place from June 21 to July 30, they also mean field trips to the zook Greenfield Village, Henry Ford Museum, National Guard Armory, Planetarium and Kensington Beach.

Hold on, that's not all. Staff members Lydia Senton, Larry Przybysz, Phil Shangraw, Tom Page and Mike Kazer also have planned such special doings as pet shows, costume contests, talent shows. bike rallies and demonstrations by police and fire department officers.

Wednesdays will be for re-enactments of holiday customs. To observe the pretend Easter, there will be an egg hunt, for Christmas, a tree decorating party, and for July 4, a watermelon-eating contest.

The program will be divided into three sessions, two weeks for each. The first session will be for children four to five years of age. Second session is for those six and seven. The third session is for youngsters eight and nine Themes are centered on family, friends, life growth and cooperation. The Bible program will consist of singing, stories, Bible readings and crafts, with all activities centered around specific themes.

The staff is currently negotiating for a sports celebrity to open the summer program which will feature such sports as softball, soccer, volleyball, tetherball, kickball, basketball, baseball and tennis.

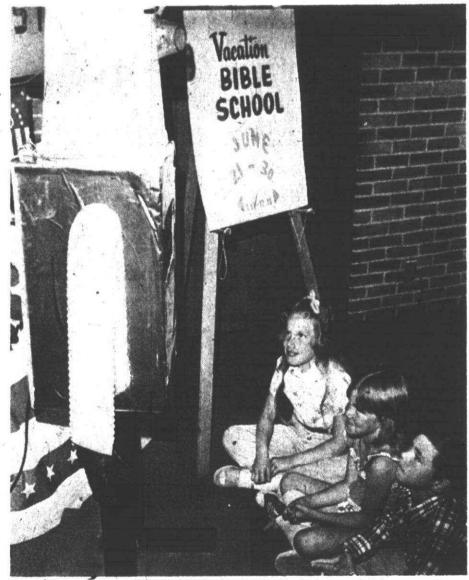

From 10 to 20 crafts will be taught. These will include making plaques and enameling on aluminum.

The program is free, with a fee charged for craft materials, pop and transportation. It is held from Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. except for Tuesday when there will be full-day

Assisting the staff will be a junior staff of 45 teenage volunteers who donate their time for the entire six weeks. Last year 500 children enrolled in the program.

In baseball, decisions are made by the one whose hand comes out on top of the bat. Here youngsters who will be involved in the summer program at St. Edith Church enact the familiar ritual. From left are John Tiesu, Mary Kay Hussey and Rickey Smith. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Drip. Drip. A leaky faucet is an annoying noise. But it will annoy you even more when we tell you a water faucet leaking one drip per second will drip hundreds of gallons of hot water in a year's time. This means you're not only wasting water but wasting water heating dollars, too. Often, a new faucet washer and a few minutes of your time will cure the faucet drip. We've prepared a booklet titled, "IT MAKES SENSE TO SAVE ENERGY." It's full of practical, do-it-yourself suggestions.

This booklet will help you to get every dollar's worth of energy you pay for. Pick one up at any Consumers Power Company office. It's yours free, with our compliments.

Versatility marks all-area girls' track and field team

By DOUG FUNKE

Girls' track and field competition has emerged as a major spring sport in the area over the last couple years. Excellent seasons were had this campaign especially by Redford Bishop Borgess, Catholic League titlist, and Westland John Glenn, Northwest Suburban League champion.

ANN CWIK, Redford Bishop Borgess, hurdles. Cwik, a versatile performer, sat atop the hurdles' listing virtually the entire spring. Her best time of the season was 14.8 seconds.

The sophomore captain of the squad, she lettered both last year and this season. She earned more points than any other girl on the team in 1976. 'She can do almost anything," said Borgess coach John Dunn.

'She is pretty determined and has good concentration.

SHARON DREYER, Livonia Bentley, 440-yard run. Hard work enabled Dreyer to lower her quarter-mile time to an excellent 58 seconds by the end of the year. Dreyer also played on the Bulldogs' volleyball and girls' basketball teams. Carrying a 3.9 grade average, she plans to attend Central Michigan University. 'She's the greatest athlete I ever coached," said Bentley's Bev Dale. "She's very coachable and works 10 times harder than anyone else on the team.'

MARGARET CHRISTNER, Livonia Franklin, shot put. A senior and a threeyear track participant, Christner's best toss of the eight-pound shot was 37 feet seven inches. She won the regional shot put title this season. Christner holds Franklin records in the discus and as a member of the 440-yard relay team. "She's a very dedicated athlete," said coach Richard Braun. "She's a very intense competitor who looks forward to track all year long.'

SUE JARVIS, Ladywood, 880-yard run and mile run. Although only a sophomore, Jarvis holds school records in the 440, the 880, the mile and the two-mile runs. Her best efforts in the 880 and the mile this spring were 2:21.7 and 5:17.2, respectively.

'She has natural athletic talent," said Ladywood assistant coach Ray Holm. He added that she has a tendency to work too hard and must be restrained. Jarvis carries a B+ average in the classroom.

CINDY MELLAS, Garden City East, long jump. Voted the most valuable member of the team, Mellas set school records during the year in the long jump, the hurdles and the 220-yard dash. Her best long jump was 17 feet 71/4 inches.

Even though she was ill 21/2 weeks of the season, the junior still earned 160 points to lead the Panthers. East coach Linda Frysinger called Mellas "probably the best overall athlete I've coached.'

KATHY McDOUGALL, Westland John Glenn, 220-yard dash. A very strong sprinter, McDougall, with a best clocking of 25.5 seconds, easily topped the listing for the 220-yard dash

'She has good, long legs for track," said Glenn coach Cheryl Caughey, "and was entered in three or four events every meet." McDougall was also a member of the area's best 440- and 880-yard relay crews.

CAROLYN BOOTH, Livonia Stevenson, high jump A member of the track team all three years at Stevenson, Booth's best leap of the 1976 campaign was five feet three inches

The senior was also entered in the open 440 and the mile relay for the Spartans. Booth also played basketball.

"She's an outstanding student, too," said Stevenson doach Liz Embree. "She's just a super kid.

JULIE VOYLES, Livonia Stevenson, two-mile run. Running cross country with the boys last fall apparently paid off for Voyles this spring. The sophomore was the area's best by far with a premier showing of 11:37.3

Coach Embree, who calls Voyles "my little running machine," said Julie can run everything from the quarter mile up. "As a sophomore coming in, she's the best distance runner, here," Embree

CHRIS WANDYG, Redford Thurston, discus. A senior, Wandyg won Northwest Suburban League titles this year in both the discus and the shot put. Her best effort in the former was 109 feet seven inches. One of the Eagles' track captains, Wandyg also played basketball and volleyball for Thurston. She qualified for the state finals in both the discus and the shot put. "She's an all-around athlete with a super attitude," said Thurston coach Steve KAREN SCHMIDT, Livonia Stevenson, 100-yard dash. Only a sophomore, Schmidt tied the school record in the 100 this year with a time of 11.3 seconds. She also participated in the 440- and the 880-yard relays.

Borgess' 880-yard relay team. McKettrick, who Dunn said "has run everything" for the Spartans, was only a

KATHY LEHMAN, CHERYL WIL-LIAMS, KATHY McDOUGALL and KAREN McDOUGALL, Westland John Glenn, 440-yard relay. These four Rockets teamed for a best time of 50.7 seconds in the sprint relay, more than a full second faster than their closest area rival. Lehman competed in the 440 relay last year as a sophomore and ran in the state meet earlier this month. She leads off the relay, said Coach Caughey, because she has a quick start.

Williams, who opened the season as a sprinter in the individual events, stepped into a relay slot when another Rocket sustained an injury. An active participant in field events too, Williams was described as "a strong upcoming runner" by her coach.

Karen McDougall competed in four events every dual meet for Glenn over her three-year running/career. A senior, she has been offered a full athletic scholarship by Eastern Michigan University.

"She's probably the most outstanding athlete I've ever coached," Caughey said. DEBBIE EVERLEY, CHERYL WIL-LIAMS, KATHY LEHMAN and KATHY McDOUGALL, Westland John Glenn, 880yard relay. This foursome spearheaded the area listing by a two-second margin with a time of 1:44.0.

Everley, a junior transfer from Saline, anchored the crew. She contributed to school records in the 880 and the mile relays. She also competed in the long jump and the high jump.

Other big hitters for Canton were Doug Bricker, Craig Lee and Jeff Campbell, each with two hits.

Bleriot XI on display

The French aviator Louis Bleriot flew across the English Channel from Calais to Dover on July 25, 1909, making the 31-mile trip in 37 minutes. Observers pointed out that this was the first time a visitor had ever set foot in England who did not come by water. The 1909 Bleriot XI, a companion plane to the one Bleriot flew in his epoch flight, is part of the permanent airplane collection at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

In the second game, Sun Glo, reigning Class A state champion, blanked the Ypsilanti Americans, 13-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Dorothea Paulin.

Little Ceasars was no slouch itself in the hitting department, cracking nine hits in the first contest and 16 in the second. Redford Adray, sparked by a three-run homer by George Willards, counted eight runs in the second inning of the opener to roll to a big lead. Little Ceasars pecked away the rest of the duel, but came up a little short at game's end. Tim Raymond and Sherman Stenson each collected a pair of hits for Little Ceasars, while Willards had three for Adray.

Ken Mayeran was the winning pitcher in the first contest. The second game was described by Little Ceasars' coach John Stenson as "a real donnybrook." After six innings of play. Little Ceasars held a 10-9 lead. However, the roof fell in on Little Ceasars in the top of the seventh when 12 Adray run-

The order of finish of the horses in that race will determine the prize winners of a 1976 Mustang; Volare; Chevette; 2,000 Landmarks tickets; and 1,000 tickets to each of the last six finishers.

Introduced last September, the Lottery Mile resulted in a mid-week record crowd and mutual handle figure at Wolverine. It marked the first time in the history of the Michigan Lottery that racehorses had been connected with the selection of lottery bonus prize winners.

The opening of Lottery Week tonight accents one of the best races on this week's Grand Circuit tour at Wolverine.

The three-year-old colt trotters, the horses that will be pointing for the Hambletonian (harness racing's Kentucky Derby) this fall, will race in two divisions, each worth $23,250.

The first division will feature highly touted Nevele Thunder, the winter book favorite to win the Hambletonian. Nevele Thunder, owned by Charles Slutsky of New York and driven and trained by Hall of Famer Stanley Dancer, was beaten only once in his two-year-old campaign and won his only start of this year at Vernon Downs in a season record time of 2:00 3/5.

Nevele Thunder is such a standout that Wolverine officials were forced to stage his division as a non-betting race between the fifth and sixth races.

Wolverine had a bad experience last year with the "big shooter" gamblers who follow the Grand Circuit from track to track, betting hundreds of thousands of dollars to show on heavy favorites.

In one race last year, a gambler bet $70,000 to show on Tarport Hap which won easily. The man collected his legal minimum of $2.20 to show, costing the track some $17,000 to balance the "minus" show pool for the legal payoff.

The second division should find Bill Haughton's Steve Lobell the favorite. He is coming off a strong third-place finish to Nevele Thunder in New York earlier this month. Steve Lobell was beaten two lengths while closing strongly. Three-year-old pacing fillies will go to the post in the $20,000 Matron Stake tomorrow (Friday) night on the last evening of Grand Circuit week. Thirteen fillies have been entered and all are expected to start. Post time for the first race Friday night is 8:15 p.m.

17th District Dems elect 5 delegates

The suburbs are sending two teachers and a liberal businessman as part of their delegation to the Democratic national convention in July.

A 17th Congressional District convention Saturday at Mercy College elected these five delegates and three alternates:

•For Jimmy Carter-Maxine Berman of Southfield and Matthew McCusker of Detroit, delegates; Gerald A. Freedman of Farmington Hills, alternate.

• For Morris Udall-Rosemary K. Reid of Southfield, Frank H. Bosak Jr. of Redford Township and Theresa Crayton of Detroit, delegates; Marian McCracken of Farmington and Robert A. Neaton of Detroit, alternates.

MS. BERMAN, 30, was 17th District coordinator for Carter. "I've belonged to Democratic clubs before," said the Oak Park High School English teacher, "but I've not been so active until this year.

"I started looking over candidates in January and got in at the beginning of Febru-

Leaders of the Michigan Education Association, parent organization of most suburban teachers unions, sent local leaders letters urging their active support of Rep. Udall because of the federal aid to education issue. Ms. Berman didn't get a letter.

She concedes the former Georgia governor fared poorly in the affluent suburbs of Southfield, Farmington and Birmingham. Some of the Jackson wote perhaps shifted to Udall, and Carter was not in the state very much. Typical Udall areas are uppermiddle class liberal areas.

A sometime freelance writer, Ms. Berman had a satirical article published in Saturday Review a few years ago.

BOSAK, 33, was a McGovern coordinator four years ago and, as Udall coordinator in the 17th, sighed: "It appears Jimmy Carter has it sewed up.

But Bosak was surprised how well Udall did in his home territory of Redford Township. "You could have bowled me over with a feather when we won 3-2. I didn't think Redford would be good Udall territory because it had been Wallace territory in '72

Bosak was proud that the 17th gave Udall his biggest margin of any congressional district in Michigan.

With the presidential nomination all but clinched by Carter. Bosak is looking forward to writing the party platform when the national convention gathers in New

She is a member of the Michigan Education Association's women's caucus and the League of Women Voters.

Freedman, a Carter alternate, is an attorney who lives in Farmington Hils. His long list of political credits includes membership on the Democratic State Central Committee as well as Americans for Democratic Action, the American Civil Liberties Union and Common Cause.

Ms. McCracken, a Udall alternate from Farmington, is a teacher who is active in the Farmington Democratic Club, the MEA women's caucus. National Organization for Women and the Farmington Political Action Council.

Original musical should snow young viewers

By ETHEL SIMMONS

"This is my rehearsal hair-do," explained Betty Aberlin, who arrived at the Music Hall office looking startlingly unlike her glossy promotional photo where she has cascades of hair, a vibrant face and big smile.

Her hair was swept up and back for comfort in the auditorium downstairs, where the cast was rehearsing "SummerSnow," in which she plays

Ms. Aberlin had a level gaze with deep blue eyes and a direct, relaxed manner - despite the long, steady hours of rehearsal since June 1. This was the second week of rehearsal, just one week away from the opening.

"SummerSnow" won't have an opening night but an opening day, since it is a musical for children. Two performances are slated each day, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., through June 27. The show lasts one hour.

BUT IT SHOULD be a dazzling hour. An original musical for children, the $100,000 production will have its world premiere at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit.

Miss Aberlin has the lead role, playing a girl named Betty who gets mad at two playmates when they leave her out of their badminton game and freezes them in a summer snow.

Getting snow to fall in the summer isn't easy, unless you have a witch. 'She's this scary," said Ms. Aberlin, holding two fingers very close together.

The not-so-scary witch gives Betty a spell, which she chants, and before you know it, snow.

Technical director Tom Bryant explained later that the snow will actually be shredded plastic, hung in a bag overhead. "It just flutters down," he said. Sometimes you can sweep up the snow and re-use it, he told me, in answer to my question.

OTHER SPECIAL effects will include a trolley in which the actors arrive in a big-city park setting. The entire stage floor will be grass. A gazebo in disarray is the witch's home. In some scenes, the park turns into part of a classroom.

Miss Aberlin said the theme of the play is "that good people sometimes do bad things. There's a song called "Good People Do Bad Things' that they sing 'to comfort me. Everyone gets angry and knows what feeling left out is "SummerSnow" is a musical for children of all ages, particularly 3 to 11, and for adults. "The program will be a coloring book. We wanted to make it fun for kids," Ms. Aberlin said.

She heads the professional cast which also includes Francois Clemmons, as one of the two friends. Ms. Aberlin and Clemmons both appear regularly on the popular children's television program "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood.

It was the show, starring Fred Rogers, which prompted "SummerSnow. One of the features has been a weeklong impromptu planning of an opera presentation on Fridays. Manuel L. Levine, managing director of the Music Hall, suggested adapting one of the operas into a children's musical.

ROGERS TURNED over his opera about two children who freeze their parents, to one of his writers, Betsy Nadis, and the plot became a girl who freezes her friends instead, and if rain will fall

Long before either Sonny Eliot or Marilyn Turner was born, my grandmother was predicting the weather. These are some of the signs she went by; you may like to test their accuracy for yourself

Grandmother's sure signs of rain · Dogs eating grass.

· A cat sneezing. . Sheep with their backs to the wind.

· Gulls flying inland. • Fishscale clouds meant rain within 24

· A rooster crowing at night: If the rooster crows when he goes to bed.

He's sure to wake up with a wet

· Mosquitos flying in a swarm. The sun rising red. Red at night The sailors delight;

But red in the morning. 'Tis the sailors' warning. This old piece of weather wisdom comes from St. Matthew 16:2,3: He answered and said unto the When it is evening, ye say It will be fair weather; for the sky is red And in the morning, it will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and lowering.

If a crescent moon rides on its back with its horns up, it is said to be a "moon that holds water" and one can expect good weather. But when it tips so that one horn is higher than the other, the water spills out and you can look for rain.

GRANDMA BELIEVED that if it rained on July 2, everything would be fine for the rest of the summer. But no rain on that day meant a bad draught either later in July or in August.

Snow on Christmas was healthy, but a green Christmas meant a full graveyard. Grandma could tell the length of a coming winter by the amount of orange on the orange and black woolly caterpillars in the Thick skins on the onions meant a hard winter, she said. And by watching how many nuts the squirrels stored away, she could predict whether we would have a mild winter or a severe one.

AZZ concerts set

Chuck Muer's outdoor P'JAZZ concerts on the pool terrace at Detroit's Hotel Pontchartrain will feature twice as many big-name road bands this summer as ever before.

The Wednesday and Friday afterwork concerts, beginning Wednesday, will present Woody Herman, Maynard Ferguson, Stan Kenton, Buddy Rich, The Dorsey Band, Mercer Ellington, and the Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band.

The New McKinney's Cotton Pickers, Jimmy Wilkens, and the John Schaeffer bands also are booked for one-nighters.

Big bands Austin Moro and Brookside Jazz Ensemble with Ursula Walker fill out the remainder of the 26-night schedule.

Dick Purtan of WXYZ radio will be master of ceremonies for opening night, Wednesday. He will stage contests to choose Miss and Mr. P'JAZZ and Miss Fanny Pants. Anyone in attendance is eligible to participate in the contests.

Concerts run from 6 to 10 p.m. "Crowds are growing every year," said host-restaurateur Chuck Muer. "We hit an all-time high capacity crowd for Maynard Ferguson last year.

Muer is planning to add an additional food item or two to the hamburgers and kalbassa sandwiches, cocktails and beer traditionally served at P'JAZZ concerts.

In case of rain, concerts are held in the hotel ballroom.
