Blight citations called 'selective'

By CRAIG PIECHURA

Members and supporters of the Harold Stein political slate claim that an "over-eager" Canton Township ordinance officer has been selectively enforcing blight ordinances against them.

Duane Bordine, a farmer-landscaper, who lives at 48956 Saltz, near Beck, believes he received a recent violation because he is working on Harold Stein's campaign and has expressed his displeasure with Supervisor Robert Greenstein's land-use plan.

Bordine and his brother Roger each received two violations last week from Bruce Phillips, Canton's ordinance officer. One violation notice charges that the Bordine brothers keep an excess of junked cars on their properties. The other cites them for storing "cast off materials" such as wood remnants and metal scraps in plain view.

Democratic candidate for treasurer Anne Bradley and her husband George have also received a blight ordinance violation. A court hearing on the matter was scheduled for 9 a.m. today before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis.

Both Mrs. Bradley and the Bordines said that they were never ticketed before Greenstein assumed office.

"Before 1973 the ordinances were not enforced," explained Phillips, the ordinance officer. "There was no ordinance officer hired in Canton for the past eight or so years. The township board, in its wisdom, decided things had gotten out of hand and decided to hire someone to enforce the blight ordinance."

Phillips was hired in February, 1975. He says the Bordines were the first people he prodded to eliminate blight violations.

"This was a week or two after I was hired," said Phillips. "I didn't even know who Harold Stein was. He wasn't a candidate or anything. That excuse is just a nice out."

Phillips also said that the Bradley case was also begun more a year ago—before Mrs. Bradley was a candidate.

But the Bradleys and Bordines claim that their political affiliation has caused the township to pursue the matter in court.

Duane Bordine believes Canton Township's present administration is attempting to force "independent farmers" to comply with restrictions "that should only apply to residential areas."

"It would be different if someone complained about our property," said Bordine. "But our nearest neighbor is about a quarter of a mile away.

"I'd like to hear Bruce Phillips' definition of the word 'junk'," said Bordine. "It wasn't a violation in the past 50 years, so why now, all of a sudden? Before Greenstein there was no problem—there were no complaints— some of the cars on my brother's property have been out there for 20 and 30 years.

"I've got about 10 cars on my property, maybe more," said Bordine. "I've got a lot of what you'd call junk tractors. What should we do, go down to the junkyard and buy parts every time a machine breaks down? This is a farm, and there's a whole lot of hard work involved, especially during the winter.

"Sure, I've got some trucks back there that don't run," he continued. "Just last week I took a wheel off one of the trucks and put it on my dump truck. "I've taken engines out of the old cars and put them on a tractor. So, it's not really 'inoperable' equipment because the parts themselves work."

Phillips said the Bordines had been voluntarily cleaning up their property "until about four months ago, when the clean-up stopped." It was then, Phillips said, that he decided to pressure them with a court date.

"We should clean up more, I admit that, but I don't like the tactics that little weasel Phillips is using," said Bordine.

Do-nothing charge rebutted

Canton Township Trustees James Poole and E. Brian Schwall took strong vocal exception Friday to Supervisor Robert Greenstein's printed statement that trustees who were upset with his appointments to the planning and zoning boards did not give any other suggestions for appointment.

Trustees claimed Tuesday that five of the six appointees are Greenstein cronies.

"I went into that meeting with the names of five people who I would like to see appointed," Poole said. "When I tried to bring their names up at the meeting, Greenstein said I was out of order—that we were voting for or against all five of his appointments to the zoning board of appeals."

Greenstein claims Poole asked if the nominations were closed and that he answered that a motion was on the floor, but discussion was open.

"At that time he did nothing to suggest his people," Greenstein said. "He says he has five people now, but he never brought up one name then."

Poole said he wanted to suggest Billie Whitely, Donald Tripp, Fritz Lobbestael and Stan Gill for ZBA terms but his suggestions were a moot point Tuesday when the motion was to confirm or deny Greenstein's five ZBA recommendations.

Greenstein called Poole's remark "a bunch of lies."

"If they would have brought up another suggestion that I felt was better than mine, I would have been willing to include it. But the fact is they had an opportunity to name people and they did not."

The not-so-loyal opposition on the Canton board of trustees howled in protest last week when Greenstein made his six nominations, with three of the trustees claiming that Greenstein's selections reeked of cronyism.

For the open spot on the planning commission, Greenstein nominated Joyce Willis, who ran on the Greenstein slate in the primary election.

By law, it is the supervisor's duty to pick members of the planning commission. ZBA appointments are supposed to be made by full-board input.

For the ZBA, Greenstein nominated himself and three people who either support him or are actively involved in the Greenstein write-in effort. They are James Donahue, Tom Quinn and John Barziake. The fifth appointee, Bob Miller, is automatically a member of the ZBA because he is chairman of the planning commission.

Greenstein said the complaint about appointing people who are working on the write-in effort is silly "because to me, this is the most common thing in the world.

"My job is to recommend the best people I know," Greenstein said. "It's only human behavior that you know the people who you know. The people who are on the side of the opposition don't even talk to me. I picked people who won't take bribes or take their job lightly. And nobody can tell me that the zoning board of appeals is a political job."

For the post of planning commissioner, Trustee Biran Schwall mentioned Gary Sands during last week's meeting as a possible appointee.

Schwall's suggestion was rejected by Greenstein who said that Sands had indicated he would rather serve as an advisor to the ZBA. Sands holds a Ph.D in urban planning.

Schwall said later in the week that he could not offer ZBA suggestions because he did not know who Greenstein would nominate until the meeting.

"And you know that when Greenstein suggests something he's already got three stooges and the vote is a foregone conclusion."

Poole said last Tuesday's meeting "could have been the saddest night in the history of Canton Township politics."

"When you appoint three people who work on your campaign to the zoning board of appeals and a woman who ran on your slate then that is a sad day for our township.

"What kind of problems is the next administration going to have when they try to work with these people?" Poole said.

"We've got the biggest pork barrel east of Chicago right here in Canton Township."

Police reserves visit Canton grade schools

The Canton Township police reserves have been accused of lacking adequate schooling. Well, four of the officers were observed last Wednesday going to school—two of them went to second grade at Field Elementary and the other pair went to kindergarten at Miller Elementary.

Lynn Smith was the teacher of the class at Miller. Nancy Sharbaugh is the second grade teacher at Field who invited the reserves to come to her class and show her students what a reserve policeman does.

Kurt Johnston showed the reserves what a .38 caliber bullet looks like and told the class that if they saw one, not to touch it. Johnston, who went to Miller with fellow reserve John MacDiarmid, is scheduled to begin regular police training today at the Criminal Justice Institue in Detroit.

Johnston is also an ordinance control officer for Canton Township. He explained that he will work evenings for the township like Supervisor Robert Greenstein has promised to do.

Greenstein went to Miller Elementary with one of Canton's female police reservists, Barb Unger.

"We let the kids play with the handcuffs and showed them the siren and the radio," explained Johnston.

"One kid told us the boy next door stole his mom's ring and said he wanted to report his friend to us. He told us that the boy gave the ring back, but asked if we would arrest him."

From the sound of it, it appears today's youngsters get pretty gung-ho in the law enforcement department after watching a steady diet of police television shows SWAT and Hawaii Five-O.

Reserves cost $21,679

The bills for the first five weeks the Canton police reserves have been on the street reveal that $21,679 has been spent for the police reserves in a department which was budgeted for $6,000 in 1976.

Police equipment which includes speakers, "mirror twin sonic lights," flashers, side beams, sealed beams and installation came to $4,625.01.

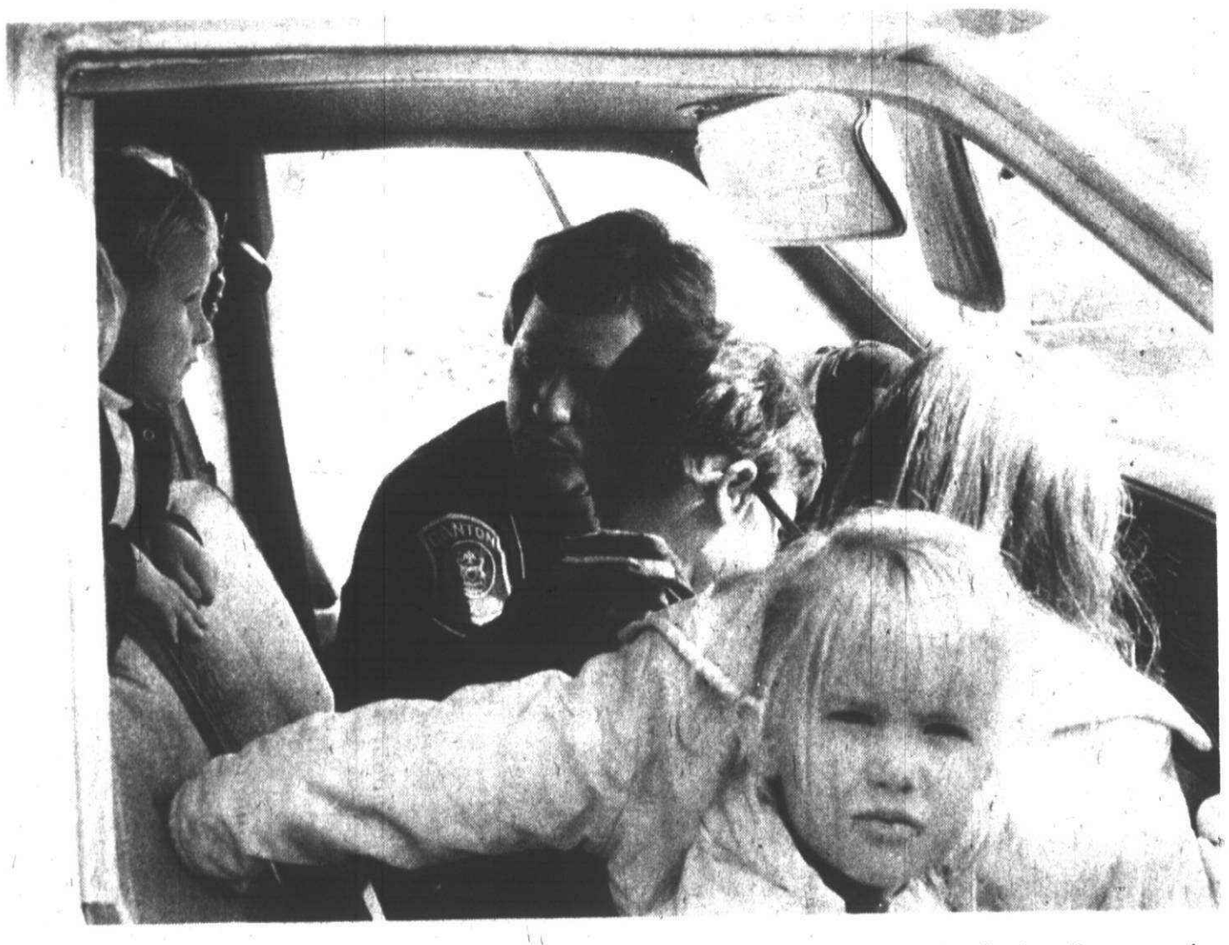

Salaries for the first month totalled $3,254.50. If anyone has returned their salary, it has not shown up yet in the accounts.

Another $981 was spent for breast and cap badges for the reserve police department. Five mobile radios cost the township $5,673. Liability insurance covering the reserves cost $2,478.

Cuda Uniform was paid $88.70 for identification cases, pants, whistles, raincoats and emblems. Metropolitan Uniform Co. was sent a check for $734.45 for campaign hats, name bars uniforms, jackets, ties and holsters.

Harvard Square Jewelers were paid $84 for the engraving of 15 pistols.

Canton's 1977 budget sets $23,000 aside for police fees, pay, and supplies."

Canton Police Reserve Officer Kurt Johnston demonstrated the siren and police flashers for second grade students at Field Elementary. Johnston started regular police training today at the Criminal Justice Institute.

Greenstein's team decides to try write-in Late Friday night the Greenstein Write-In Committee announced that all four defeated members of the Greenstein slate have decided to officially support a write-in attempt.

Thom Carman, the head of the write-in committee, said that their decision was swayed by a show of "firm support of more than 4,000 residents."

"We have more supporters for the write-in sticker campaign than the total number of people who voted in the August primary," Carman alleges.

Carman's committee has been phoning people for the past month and going door to door asking residents if they would write in the entire Greenstein slate which consists of Supervisor-Police Chief Robert Greenstein, Treasurer Carl and trustees Joyce Willis and Gerald Cheske. The fifth member of the slate, John Flodin, was not defeated in the primary, so he will be a regular candidate.

Carman said write-in stickers have been ordered by his group.

"Tonight we contacted the members of the team and we said we have got the backers and they said yes," Carman said. "Before this they laid low."

When asked if the 4,000 committed signatures he claims to have were all registered voters, Carman said "if they all aren't, they should be by the Oct. 4 deadline."

When asked to prove that he had 4,000 committed signatures, Carman said that the names are "for internal use only" and said that there would be no public proof exhibited. "Our biggest job right now is voter education," Carman said.

"Teaching people how to vote a write-in is of primary importance."

Thieves break Big Boy safe

Almost $4,000 last week was stolen from a safe in the Big Boy restaurant at 45250 Ford, Canton Township.

According to the Michigan State Police, the thieves pried open a rear door of the restaurant during closing hours of 1:30 a.m. to 6 a.m., chiseled off the safe's handle and dial, and removed the safe's contents of $3,708.

The restaurant's assistant manager, David Knoury, reportedly discovered the damaged safe and missing cash when he opened the restaurant the following morning.

The incident is still under investigation with no persons suspected by police.

Kresge celebrates 25th anniversary

By W.W. EDGAR

In the midst of completing plans for the silver anniversary of the Kresge store on Main Street, Mrs. Bette Stoehr, the personnel manager, pushed aside the papers on her desk and asked, "Would you believe I was here before the store actually opened?"

"There will be no special celebration," C.L. Bitterling, the current manager, stated, "but we will mark the day, Oct. 15, as another milestone in the history of the company that has undergone many changes over the years.

"I came to work here on Oct. 1, 1951," Mrs. Stoehr said, "when we were strictly a 5 & 10 cent store—and there was another one in the area. We also had a D&C store on the corner. It has long since gone—but we still are going strong."

As she sat there, Mrs. Stoehr, who now lives in Rosedale Gardens in Livonia, had little trouble recalling the scenes of the downtown area—especially the large monument in the park.

"We had one of the first soda fountains in the area," she pointed out, " and over there in the corner, facing Main Street, we had the first hamburger and french fries counter in the city. And it was a very popular place."

In the years that followed, the hamburger stand gave way to a fullscale lunch counter and now is a popular place for the businessmen's breakfast."

"We were a conventional store at the time we opened. We had a cash register at each counter," she said, "and because of that type of service at the time, we had about 50 employees. Now, with the checkout counter, the staff has been reduced to 36 clerks and waitresses along with the office staff."

While Mrs. Stoehr is the oldest employee in point of service, she recalled that several others have been moved to other positions during the past year. Mrs. Vi Sparkman has been assigned to the office manager's post at the Canton Township warehouse, and Mary Nichols, another bookeeper, now is working in the Kresge advertising department at Largo, Fla.

BETTE STOEHR

Along with these veteran employees, five others are on the retired list. They are Dawn Ford, Opel Cravens, Sylvia Beyer, Rozelona Courtade and Leona Vojack. And Mrs. Stoeher would like nothing better than to have them all return for the silver anniversary.

" We have more competition now than we ever had," the last of the original employees pointed out. "We have K-Mart and Meijer's in our area, but our company still is growing.

'Since I have been with the company it has grown to national status with our main headquarters in Troy, and our regional office on Joy in this area."

And with all the growth she still enjoys telling about the old days when she went to work before the store opened.

It will be quite a celebration for both her and the Kresge Co.

Culbert tries for rehearing

A question mark may once again hang over civil service procedures and Canton's police reserves, if attorney Noel Culbert is granted another day in court.

Culbert, who recently lost a battle in Wayne County Circuit Court over the lack of civil service testing in the hiring of the reserves' police chief and commander, has filed a motion with Circuit Judge Thomas B. Sullivan to rehear the case.

As attorney for plaintiff Leonard Wasczenski, Culbert said he will ask Sullivan to deliver a decision, stating that all members of the reserve police department must be hired through civil service procedures.

Sullivan is expected to hear Culbert's motion sometime this week. At the same time, Canton attorney Bert Burgoyne will ask the judge to write a summary judgment, identical to the oral decision on civil service and the police reserves which he delivered two weeks ago.

In that decision, Sullivan ruled that Canton's police and fire department employees do not have to be hired through civil service procedures, as argued by Culbert.

Neither Supervisor-Police Chief Robert Greenstein nor Police Cmdr. Carl Silvers were hired through civil service. Although other members of the police reserve department took civil service tests, the tests were not graded by the township's civil service commission, part of the civil service procedure.

Sullivan based his decision on township voters' adoption of a Canton's civil service ordinance in 1972. Voters adopted an ordinance which did not specifically include hiring of police and fire department employees, the judge said, instead of a state civil service statute which specifically addresses those types of employees.

In his motion for a rehearing, Culbert maintains that the township withheld evidence damaging to its defense. Culbert notes the 1972 ballot question, approved by voters:

"Shall the Charter Township of Canton establish a merit system for its employees as is authorized by Article XI, section 7, of the Michigan Constution of 1968?"

The question's reference to the Michigan Constitution, Culbert maintains, overrides voters' failure to not approve the state statute specifically addressing police and fire department employees.

"My argument is that the Michigan Constitution has priority," Culbert explained. "I feel with this information, the judge would have to rule that all township employees must be hired through civil service."

But Greenstein, an attorney, disagrees with Culbert's legal reasoning.

"Culbert says since the state statute supersedes the township ordinance, then the state constution must supersede the state statute," Greenstein said. "His logic is all screwed up.

"If there was a direct conflict between the state statute and the constitution, then the constitution would be supreme. But there is no conflict. That's the silliest argument I've ever heard.

The township's supervisor and police chief continued, "I'm getting sick of Noel Culbert using his law degree for political ends. It's improper and a pity. Every time he goes to court, the township taxpayer has to hire an attorney to oppose him."

Canton students quiz Pierce

United States government classes at Plymouth Canton High School expected to sit in on a candidates' debate last Wednesday.

Teachers Audrey Etienne and Bob Thams had arranged a meeting between Dr. Ed Pierce and State Sen. Carl Pursell, who are vying for the 2nd Congressional District seat.

When Pursell was unable to attend because of another commitment, some 150 seniors focused their attention and questions on Pierce.

The teachers said afterwards that although they had not prompted the questioners, they had spent considerable time in class discussing the issues.

QUESTION: How would national health insurance be paid for?

Answer: It would be paid to the government instead of to insurance companies. It would be taken from the pay checks as it is now.

Only 70 per cent of the population now is insured and we are paying more for health insurance per person than any other place in the world.

Q: What is your stand on the present welfare system?

A: It invites cheating. It's usually mothers with small kids who are on welfare. After the bare minimum for housing, food, utilities, and doctor bills, they are allowed $14 a month for extras.

At this point, Pierce asked his audience to add some figures for him.

"Here's my wallet," he said, putting it on the lectern. "It cost about $5 and I have $20 inside. My shirt cost $5; my tie's more expensive—$10; $15 for my slacks; $25 for my jacket; I've been doing a lot of walking so I paid $35 for my shoes. My wife bought my watch—it must be worth about $60."

When the students agreed on the total worth of his belongings he said, "See, just these few things cost more than the welfare recipient receives in a full year for extras. That $14 a month doesn't go very far."

Q: What is your stand on marijuana? Should it be legalized?

A: I don't believe it should be a criminal offense. It should be de-criminalized. That's a better term than legalized.

Q: How do you and Mr. Pursell differ on abortion?

A: I can't speak for Mr. Pursell. The Supreme Court interpretation in 1973 was that in the first three months, a woman could have an abortion at her request; between the third and sixth, there must be state consent as well as the woman's request; between the sixth and ninth months, only a direct threat to the mother's health can warrant an abortion. I would vote for the Equal Rights Amendment.

Q: Do you believe the legal drinking age should be raised to 21?

A: No. I hear some of the school administrators would like to move it back to 19 because some of their students have been going out at noon and coming back intoxicated. I wouldn't change the law; I'd put them out of school.

Q: Are federal prisoners paroled too easily?

A: I have no specific figures on that.

Q: Should Patty Hearst serve time or be out on parole?

A: I haven't followed that too closely. What did she get? Seven to 10 years. I think she should serve some time, but, of course, an appeal is legal.

Q: How can we restore creditability to the CIA and FBI?

A: I believe surveillance of known enemies is worthwhile. I believe that what the CIA did in Chile is terrible. I see no reason to have Ed Pierce under surveillance because he was in the peace movement of the '60s. And I resent the lying.

Q: Do you believe in amnesty for draft dodgers?

A: I call them draft evaders. I believe in amnesty, which means forget, not forgive.

Q: Do you support Proposition C?

A: I would vote no on Proposition C and yes on Proposition A.

Hands were still waving for more questions when the hour ended and new classes began moving into the auditorium.

Board votes to levy full millage

By DARLENE STINSON

Residents of the Plymouth Community School District this year will pay all of the 4.75 additional mills ($4.75 per $1,000 state equalized value) approved by voters earlier this month, despite a recommendation from the schools' administration to levy only 4.25 additional mills.

School board members Monday voted 4-3 to levy the full millage with board President Joe Gray, Secretary Flossie Tonda and Vice-President E.J. McClendon dissenting.

The action overrode a recommendation of School Supt. John M. Hoben to reduce the millage rate by a half mill (50 cents per $1,000 state equalized value) in anticipation of a $240,000 surplus in this year's budget, generated by 400 more students than earlier anticipated.

But board members, fearful of a possible cutback in state aid, chose to place the $240,000 generated by the half mill into a contingency account, designed to cover any funds lost from the state this year.

According to Trustee George Lawton's motion, seconded by Trustee Tom Yack and approved by the board's majority, the district cannot draw on that account until February at the earliest.

In approving the full millage rate, board members noted the executive cutbacks in state aid ordered by Gov. William Milliken during the last four years and indicated a need to avoid the budgetary scramble those cutbacks caused.

"I feel grossly uncomfortable doing this, knowing we're in the midst of a UAW strike that could have devastating effects on the economy and start an inflationary spiral," said Yack, "but, at the same time, I don't like the thought of going through another school year diverting time from education to balancing the budget.

"This resolution, in effect, would put the money in the bank as insurance against possible government cutbacks. This could result in reduced millage requests later on."

Other board members disagreed with the majority's point of view and maintained officials' responsibility to return unneeded funds to the taxpayer.

"I went to the people twice to ask them to pass this millage," said Mrs. Tonda. "Now we find we have money in excess. I'd feel dishonest if I didn't vote to return it to them. If we do have the executive cutback, I have faith we can go back to the people and ask them for more money, if we've been honest with them."

In agreement was McClendon. "I believe this would be an excellent time to keep faith with our taxpayers," he said, "and try to keep a balanced budget without this half mill."

Lawton, author of the motion approved by the board members, responded, "I agree we could operate this district with a half mill less. But we did promise the voters we'd maintain the same level of education as last year. In effect, if we receive another executive order and don't place this money in contingency, we'd be providing voters with less."

According to Hoben, the district lost $377,000 because of surprise state cutbacks last year; $104,000 during the 1974-75 school year; ¾ of one per cent of the district's entire budget in 1973-74; and three per cent of the district's contingency fund in 1972-73.

The board's action Monday night sets the district's total millage rate at 39.95 mills ($39.95 per $1,000 state equalized value) with 33.76 mills earmarked for operation and 6.19 mills set aside for debt retirement.

Hire more teachers to level ratio

Additional teachers and reduced classroom size may soon reduce the Plymouth School District's present pupil-teacher ratio and offset an increase in the student population expected for some schools this year.

Monday school board members unanimously approved a motion by Trustee Marcia Borowski to direct the district's administration to hire additional teachers for schools where the pupil-teacher ratio is already high and additional growth in the pupil population is expected.

Although not specifically included in the resolution, board members expressed hopes that the administration could shoot for an average pupil-teacher ratio of 28 students per teacher in each school building, even after an expected increase students is realized.

School officials noted an already high pupil teacher ratio in some elementary schools, particularly Isbister, and projections of increased enrollments at Isbister, Hulsing and Field elementary schools.

An Isbister teacher and a handful of parents expressed concern about the school's high student-teacher ratio and noted the construction of new subdivisions in the school's attendance area.

"It seems only sensible to me," Mrs. Borowski told board members, "that we hire additional teachers in areas where growth is anticipated in the interest of continuity of education.

"My intention is to do what we've often done in land and materials — that if we buy now, we'll save money later. I'm saying we ought to apply those same principles to our kids. If we split a class of 35 or 36 now, we all know that classroom will be up to 24 or 25 by the end of the year."

The administration, some board members noted, already holds the power to hire teachers for areas where they are needed.

"I think we should hire more teachers, when the students come," said board Vice President E.J. McClendon. "I'm very reluctant to hire a large number of teachers, the need for whom isn't here yet."

Responded Trustee Tom Yack, "I think this is anticipated growth we know will come. But we're putting the superintendent in a very awkward position to say the least."

After the meeting and approval of the motion, School Supt. John M. Hoben said he had no idea how many teachers would have to be hired or in which schools they would serve to meet the board's demands.

Intensive training for poultry begins

In its unrelenting pursuit of essential community news, the Canton Observer has spared no effort in keeping current with the fast breaking events surrounding the upcoming chicken flying race. Reporters have been dispatched to all parts of the globe to track down leads (no matter how far-fetched), and it is because of their unstinting labor that we can fuel the flames of frenzy with the following training camp notes:

JOHN CLOSE, a Plymouth Township resident, has been training his entry, Orville Wright Jr., every morning at Northville Downs.

The chicken weighs in at 1,792 grams, and Close alleges that he has been clocked at one minute and two seconds in the half mile.

"He is in the best condition I've ever seen," stated Close. "I would estimate that he has an 80 per cent chance of winning."

The psychologist that Close hired to minister to Orville's emotional stability said that the bird was just a little depressed after this morning's workout, but that he was sure it would be in top mental form by the day of the race.

JACK SELLE, owner of Selle Buick, is training his contender, Skyhawk, in Africa and was unavailable for comment. Word is, however, that part of the training program is having the chicken fly back to Plymouth under its own power just to keep in shape.

GLEN JIMMERSON and Gene Bushart, representing the engineering department at the Ford Motor Co. on Sheldon Road, have, understandably, turned to science in training their entry. Using Skinner's principles of operant conditioning, they positively reinforce their chicken whenever it is clocked at a good speed.

"Our bird is a hen," said Bushart, "And everytime she knocks a few seconds off her established time, we put her in the same cage with a very handsome rooster."

He added that the technique has been very successful so far.

DON BIDWELL, of Bidwell Masonry, had to report a training fatality earlier this week. The chicken that he has been arduously training for the last two months met an untimely demise during a particularly tough workout.

Said the grief-stricken Bidwell, "Well, of course this is a tough blow, but I'm not going to throw in the towel; in a anticipation of a crisis, I've been training a second chicken. He doesn't have the speed that the first one had, but he has great concentration."

Bidwell said the accident happened when the bird flew into the side of a barn and broke his neck in two places.

FOR THOSE of you who haven't gotten the word, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce's chicken race is on Sunday, from noon to 6 p.m. on Main Street in Plymouth.

Be specific, candidates

Editor:

This letter is directed to all the candidates and this newspaper. We think it is time for the candidates to state their positions on the problems facing the community. We don't want to hear about the same two or three issues forever, because there are other problems facing Canton.

These are just a few that come to mind:

•What do you, the candidates, feel should be done about the roads in Canton. (A) Nonpaved sections in the middle of Sheldon, (B) A road too small to handle the traffic load—Ford Road, or (C) No road at all, Eckles, next to Holiday Park Subdivision. Be specific.

•What do you think should be done to encourage doctors and dentists to move to Canton? Be specific.

•What do you think can be done to establish an emergency medical center in the Plymouth—Canton area. Be specific.

•What steps do you think can be taken to provide recreational facilities in Canton. Be specific.

•What steps do you think can be taken to help those areas of the township in need of repair and renovations? Be specific.

•What actions would you recommend to expedite traffic lights at dangerous intersections. (A) Ford and Haggerty, (B) Haggerty and Joy, and (C) Joy and Lilley. Be specific.

In summary, we would like to make two points. First, we used the words "Be specific" repeatedly to emphasize the point. We want to know your exact stand, not vague generalities. Perhaps a pair of public debates would be in order.

Second, we feel the candidates for public office and this newspaper should realize that there are more than two or three issues to be discussed. We are tired of reading about the same things week after week.

If the candidates don't want to discuss all the issues, then we think it the responsiblity of this newspaper to ask all the questions.

Drive set to diagnose diabetes

The American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate, Inc. (ADA-M) will launch a diabetes detection week program Nov. 7-13 to locate the estimated 200,000 Michigan residents with the undiagnosed disease.

Hospitals and laboratories throughout the state have volunteered their services to make the detection program a success. The ADA-M will publicize the free testing sites at the end of October.

The ADA-M urges all persons to take advantage of the free diabetes testing programs and warns residents that not all diabetics have symptoms. Last year nearly 600 diabetics were located during detection week.

The disease's symptoms include excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, weight loss, slow healing of cuts and scratches, blurring of vision and itching. Persons over 40, overweight or related to someone with diabetes are more likely to get the disease.

The ADA-M urges all persons with symptoms of diabetes to contact their doctors.

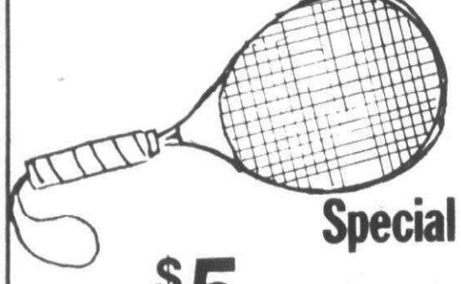

The ADA is a charitable, non-profit organization, devoted to educating the public about diabetes, searching for a cure and locating the undiagnosed diabetic.

For a free list of informational pamphlets about diabetes, write to the ADA-M at 6131 W. Outer Drive, Detroit, Mich. 48235.

Salem topples RU

By BILL COLLINS

Plymouth Salem capitalized on a Redford Union miscue to stake themselves to a quick lead in the first quarter, and eschewed mistakes in establishing control of the second half while methodically grinding out a 26-13 conquest of the Panthers at RU Friday night.

Five fumbles and an interception negated any significant drive by both teams in the first half. "We made too many mistakes in the first half. We gained nearly 200 yards and only put seven points on the board," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer.

A low snap from center that handcuffed RU punter Doug Smith handed Salem its initial two points, when tackle Dave Champion covered Smith in the end zone for a safety.

A fine return of RU's free kick allowed Salem to move from the Panther 46 yard line. Following a pair of 11-yard pickups by Steve Maisner and a 10-yard burst by Tim Lilley, Lilley finished the drive with a 2-yard plunge to make it 9-0.

An interception by Salem's Kurt Lewis and a fumble recovery by John Broderick terminated RU drives inside the Salem 35 during the first half.

Redford Union converted a fumbled punt of Salem's into its only score of the half by traveling 16 yards in six plays with Brian Smith doing the honors on a two-yard quarterback sneak. That touchdown cut the Rocks lead to 9-7 at the half.

The second half belonged to Salem, particularly the third quarter, when they held possession of the ball for the first nine minutes of the period.

Plymouth received the kickoff and moved from its own 39. Lilley, a senior halfback, handled most of the rushing chores in this drive, scampering 43 yards on one carry to setup Rick Hewletts' one-yard TD dive, giving the Rocks a nine point margin.

Junior Chris Ritchey recovered a bobbled kickoff by the Panthers, and was rewarded for his alertness by slashing his way through the defenseive line to enable placekicker Bob Waite to boot a 24-yard field goal when the drive stalled on the RU seven.

The Panthers finally gained possession of the pigskin with only 3:05 to go in the third quarter, but Salem's well rested defense was pushed back to their own 27-yard line before tightening their belts to force the Panther offense to relinquish the ball.

Salem moved swiftly to score its final touchdown of the evening. The Rocks covered the 73 yards in six plays, with a halfback option pass via Maisner to split end Jerry Basierbe gaining 57 yards to the RU 12, where Lilley scored on his second jaunt into the end zone. That raised Salem's lead to 26-7.

Reford Union closed out the scoring, traveling 80 yards in 14 plays, with a statuesque suustitute engineering the drive. Junior Mike Petsch used a 31-yard pass to Mark Guadagni, and a trio of Salem penalties to lead RU to paydirt with workhorse Macek plowing in from two yards out to make the final Salem 26, Redford Union 13.

Offensively Salem accounted for 381 total yards, 324 rushing. The Rocks chalked up 19 first down.

RU was held to 96 yards rushing but completed seven of 11 passes for 138 yards, for a total of 234 yards. Salem leveled its record with the win at 1-1 in the Sub 8, 2-1 overall, with the Panthers falling to 0-2 in the loop, and 0-3 overall.

In reviewing his teams performance Moshimer said, "We went out there and hit them and blocked well...we executed better than last week."

First year coach Harvey Heitmann echoed encouraging comments about his squad's play, "We became of age as a football team with this game...offensively we executed and defensively we popped, we're looking forward to Dearborn this Friday and I can tell you that RU is on the way back."

Wins scholarship

Suzanne Hartnett, 1976 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, won a $3,000 Jean Hoxie tennis scholarship this past summer.

Hartnett applied for the scholarship early this summer and her play was personally observed before the scholarship was awarded.

She is a former member of the Rocks girls tennis team which won the Suburban Eight League title last season. Harnett, along with partner Laura Hastings, teamed for the doubles championship in that season.

Hartnett is also former winner of tournaments in Inkster and Plymouth. She presently is attending the University of Michigan and is studying math.

Her scholarship was named after Jean Hoxie, a former coach in the Wyondotte School District.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
ORDINANCE NO. 47.08 '76

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 47 KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH, BY ADDING SECTION 2.9 TO ARTICLE II, ZONING DISTRICTS, ZONING MAP, USE PERMITTED.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

PART I
Section 2.9 FLOOD PLAIN DISTRICT

In addition to the zoning districts enumerated in Section 2.1 and delineated by Section 2.2, there is established a Flood Plain District along the streams and water courses designated by the 'Drain, Flood Plain and Watershed Report' prepared by the Storm Water Committee of the Township of Plymouth, dated July 23, 1975, a copy of which shall be maintained on file for public examination in the offices of the Township clerk, the Building Department and the Department of Public Works. The Flood Plain District is defined as that contiguous area paralleling the designated streams and water courses that constitutes at its maximum edge the High Water Level of Record experienced in a period of one hundred (100) years, and in general is three (3) feet above the natural ground at the banks of the streams. All land lying within the Flood Plain District is subject to the regulations of this district in addition to the regulations otherwise established for each district designated by the Zoning Map.

1. Permitted uses: Notwithstanding any other provisions of this ordinance, no building or structure shall be erected, converted, or structurally altered, and no land or structure shall be used in the Flood Plain District, except for one or more of the following uses:
   (a) Gardening, horticulture, open recreation uses, such as parks, plygrounds, playfields, athletic fields, golf courses, bridle trails and nature paths.
   (b) In the area above the High Water Level of Record, uses permitted by the zoning district otherwise established for the lot, subject to the regulations of such districts; provided, however, that the elevation of any openings in waterproof walls shall be at least three (3) feet above the elevation of the nearest point of the High Water Level of Record of the previously cited document.
   (c) In the area below the High Water Level of Record, land may be used to supply open space or lot area requirements of a lot partially located beyond, provided, however, that no building or structure shall be located below the High Water Level of Record.
2. Accessory Uses:
   (a) In the area above the High Water Level of Record, accessory uses shall be regulated by the provisions of the district within which such lot is otherwise located.

Rock swimmers sink Edsel Ford

The Plymouth Salem girls' swim team opened its Suburban Eight League season Thursday night, traveling to Dearborn Edsel Ford where it beat the Thunderbirds 102-66.

The Rocks overall record is 2-1 for the season.

Although the times didn't show too much improvement, coach Chuck Olson was pleased with the victory, saying his squad was tired after swimming against Wayne Memorial two days earlier.

The Rocks won the 400 free relay to cap the victory, but fell short in the initial 200 medley race, finishing that relay in second and third place. The Stanwood twins, juniors Sue and Marion combined, with Sharon Ross and Madeline Lakata to swim the 400 relay in 4:14.8.

Jill McCann, Collette Kabatos, Ilona Schmidt and Kathy Sample combined for the second place medley finish.

The Rocks swam first and second in the 200 free race when Marion Stanwood and Ross finished at 2:09.0 and 2:19.5 respectively.

Sue Stanwood swam 27.0 in the 50 free sprint but was edged out on one-tenth of a second to finish in second place. Sue rebounded with a victory in the 100-yard butterfly, swimming that race in 1:09.8. Suzanne Schmidt followed her with a 1:22.4 clocking.

Sister Marion won her second race of the night, with a victory in the 100 free competition, swimming 58.0 seconds to beat last year's Sub-8 champion Jill Perisbilski.

Ross lowered her time in the 500 free, finishing second. Freshman Collette Kabatos also placed second in the 100 breast stroke. McCann was reliable in her 100 back competition, winning the event with a 1:12.2 timing.

The Rocks junior diving corps of Amy McClumphia, Lisa Lukens and Julie Jahn swept that event with first, second and third finishes. McClumphia's top point total was 165.

Salem cagers boost record to 6-0

Six in a row without a loss!

The domination of the Plymouth Salem girls' basketball team continued Thursday afternoon when the Rocks handled Allen Park with ease, 64-27.

The Suburban Eight League victory was the fourth for the defending champions, while their overall mark remains unblemished for another week.

The Rocks face Dearborn tomorrow night at home and travel to Belleville Thursday.

Salem played an unusual afternoon game against Allen Park, but the outcome remained the same, as the Rocks built on their early 12-6 lead.

Salem went into the locker room at halftime with a comfortable 34-15 lead and extended that into a romping 48-18 margin after three quarters.

"Allen Park played a tight zone defense and if we had hit on our outside shots better, the score would have been incredible," said Salem coach Debbie Hatcher.

The Rocks took an unbelievable 92 shots from the floor, convering only 27 of them. Allen Park was limited to only 33 shots from the field, making seven.

All eight of the Salem players who dressed saw action in the contest. Reserves Brenda Davis and Nola Luty did not play because of injuries.

Reserve Trice Cunningham came off the bench to lead all Rocks scorers with 18 points. Starting guard Donna Goodrich had an exceptional game, scoring 16 points and leading the team with nine rebounds.

Co-captain Peg Moore experienced some early foul trouble, but came back in the second half to score 11 for the game. Cunningham and Moore followed Goodrich wtih seen rebounds each.

Diane Goodrich added six points, Kathy Dillon and Debbie Pitera five each, Erin Moore two and Doris Hoelisher one.

Canton roars past Northville

Talk about coming out of slumps!

The Plymouth Canton girls' basketball team had a two-game losing streak going into its game against Northville Thursday night, but the Chiefs gave no indication to the home crowd that they were going to fold, as they demolished the Mustangs 84-22.

For Canton, it was its first Western Six League victory of the season, evening its record to 1-1 for the year. The Chiefs overall mark is 4-2.

Everyone saw action for the Chiefs in this romp, as junior Kathy Sochacki led the scoring with 18 points. Senior guard Ellen Doran followed with 13 and sophomore Laura Butler added 12.

Both Butler and sophomore center Kelly Heaton have shown great improvement since the beginning of the season, coming off the bench and adding spark to the club.

The Chiefs opened with an unstoppable 22-point first quarter, as the lowly Mustangs could muster only six points. Canton added to the alredy distant lead in the second eight minutes of play, outscoring Northville 24-10 in the second period to take a ridiculous 46-16 margin into the locker room at halftime.

The romp mounted to a 69-20 advantage after three periods. Canton added salt to the wounds in the final quarter, limiting the Mustangs to only one field goal while scoring 15 more points themseleves.

The Canton junior varsity improved its record to 5-1 for the season, downing Northville in the preliminary game, 35-21. The Chiefs JV held the Mustangs scoreless after the first quarter of action, outscoring the opponent 13-0.

Vickie Cavallaro led the Canton scorers with eight points.

Steve Gabrian and Mike Jaye of Stevenson, along with Ypsilanti's Jim Osburn and Jeff Dobbs, shared second place individual honors with indentical 69s.

Chief tankers lose

The first loss of the season for the Plymouth Canton girls swim team was at the hands of an always powerful Northville Mustang squad, 100-70, in a Western Six League meet Thursday night at the Plymouth pool.

With two opening victories, coach Ann Massey's crew now finds themselves at 2-1 overall for the season after suffering this initial conference match.

Despite a school record time of 2:22.3 in the 200 free race, Canton's Jane Anderson swam against tough Northville competition which resulted in only a third place finish.

Freshman Jamie Zuverink likewise placed third in the diving competition although she performed her best effort of the season with 177.3 points.

The Chiefs placed second in both the relays when Anderson, Tina DeWalt, Peggy McElmeel and Cindy Shelanshey swam 4:33.0 in the 400 free, while Lori Hogan, Sue Knight, Annette Piethe and DeWalt recorded a 2:16.7 in the 200 medley.

The only other first place finish for the Chiefs found Shelanskey winning both the 200 individual medley and 100 back races with times of 2:34.0 and 1:09.7 respectively.

Canton placed second in five other events.

Anderson was the top Chief swimmer in the 50 free while McElmeel headed Canton's 100 free swimmers.

Piethe placed second in the 100 butterfly, and Janet Gottschalk improved her time in the 500 free race with a runner-up time of 7:15.6.

Freshman Sue Knight continued to perform well in the 100 breast, placing second at 1:24.1

Mott mauls Chief gridders

By DENNIS O'CONNOR
Sports Editor

Homecoming not only came too soon for the Plymouth Canton football team, but it also came against the wrong team, as the Chiefs were shutout 27-0 by a solid Waterford Mott squad.

This Western Six League opener for both clubs didn't even amount to a contest after the first quarter-and-a-half, as Canton dropped its overall record to 1-2 for the season. Mott raised its overall mark to 2-1 with this opening conference victory.

The wrong moves at key points in the game cost the Chiefs this contest as numerous penalties stalled potential offensive drives or helped Mott advance the football at will.

"We hit well and played with them (Mott)," Chief coach Dave Schuele said. "But we made crucial mistakes and dumb penalties that killed us.

"With the type of ballclub we have, we have to play flawless ball. We are a small club and we've got to pick up yardage in small chuncks.

"We'd mount a drive and then we'd do something dumb."

The Cheifs opened the game by taking the initial kickoff down the field before a Doug Smith pass was intercepted by Waterford's Robyn Stout.

Mott drove the ball down to Canton's 38 yard line but was forced to punt.

The kick bounced dead on the Chiefs' one-yard line that proved to be a good offensive weapon.

Canton failed to move the ball from that point and punted back Mott took over in excellent feld position at the Chiefs' 33, and crossed the goal line five plays later.

Stout ran the ball over from five yards out and converted on the extra point kick, to give Mott a 7-0 advantage with 15 seconds left in the first period.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Chiefs found themselves in the hole after a clipping penalty. On its second play from scrimmage, Canton fumbled the ball and Mott recovered on the 15-yard line.

It took only three plays after that for the Corsairs to raise their lead to 14-0 as quarterback John Cooperrider hit tight end Rick Plotts over the middle with a third down pass.

The Chiefs quickly came back with a time comsuming drive that started on their 24-yard line and lasted 13 plays before it stalled.

Headed by timely passes from quarterback Smith to wingback Jim Meadows, the Chiefs marched within the Mott 40, before the costly mistakes came to haunt them.

After fullback Jerry Simon was dropped for a 10 yard loss, a quarterback sack, a 15-yard holding penalty and an eight yard loss on a screen pass brought Canton bach to its own 44 yard line with fourth down and an incredible 50 yards to go.

The Chiefs punted the ball away, still 14 points down when halftime came.

Canton again mounted a decent drive that ate up most of the third quarter, but it stalled nine yards short of the Mott goal line, as the Corsairs defense held.

Mott halfback Jim Essiambre quickly got the Corsairs out of the hole by bursting through the line of scrimmage and rambling 69 yards to Canton's 22-yard line.

Two plays later, Essiambre finished the assault with an 11 yard touchdown run that brought the margin to 21-0.

It was Mott's turn to eat up time in the fourth period, holding the pigskin from the initial start of the period until only 2:27 was left in the game.

Mott drove the ball until the 7:20 mark, but was forced to punt.

Chiefs' safety Randy Rienas handed the ball back to Mott when he fumbled the punt return on Canton's 35.

Waterford proceeded to the Canton one-yard line before the Chiefs stopped the drive. But the damage was done, as Canton had little time to catch up.

Mott scored its final touchdown on the last play of the game. Canton was forced into a punt deep in its end giving Mott field position to run the clock out.

With four seconds left in the game, the Chiefs called a timeout to stop the clock, but the strategy backfired.

Mott used the extra play given by the Cheifs to score on a 44-yard run by reserve halfback Ivan Craycraft. The attempt for two points failed, leaving the final at 27-0.

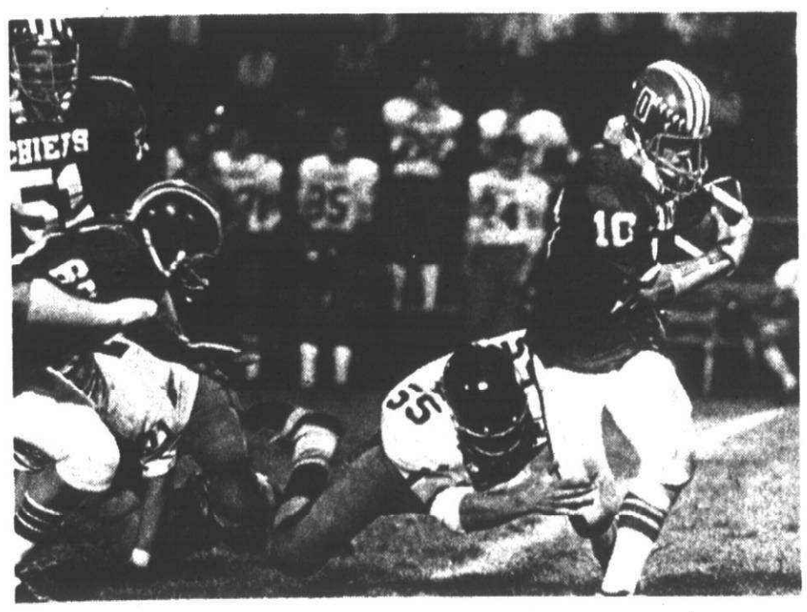

Schuele was impressed with Mott's performance saying, "They are primarily a senior ball club and they are big and strong. Mott had quicker backs than we thought, and they are definitely contenders in the league."

Canton mustered only 57 yards on the ground and 49 more in the air for a meager 106 yards total offense.

Mott grinded out 279 yards rushing and 28 more passing to total 307 yards on the night.

Smith fired five completions in 12 attempts while Mott completed three of five.

"Smith did a good job in handling the ball club," Schuele said of the junior gridder. He throws the ball well."

Chief running back Tom Powell breaks into the open for a respectable gain against Waterford Mott Friday night. Mott won the homecoming battle, 27-0. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

The VIEW from 461 SOUTH MAIN

GEORGE BURR was in Ann Arbor for his 55th class reunion and the University of Michigan-Navy football game. The U-M Class of '21 met for brunch and had dinner after the game.

"Herald Hamill was going, too," said Burr, "but he wasn't feeling well.

"There was some interruption in our schooling because of the war. Some of us came back and graduated later. I attached myself to the class of '21."

Harvey Burns Hutchins was president of the university in those days, and later Marion Leroy Burton.

"I remember how we always tipped our hats to Mr. Burton when we met him on campus. There were about 8,000 students."

J. Fielding Yost was football coach and Burr said that for a while they tried Wednesday evening football games to arouse more interest.

"And I remember that Western Reserve beat us at one of those Wednesday night games."

Not many classes retained their organization for as many years as the class of 1921.

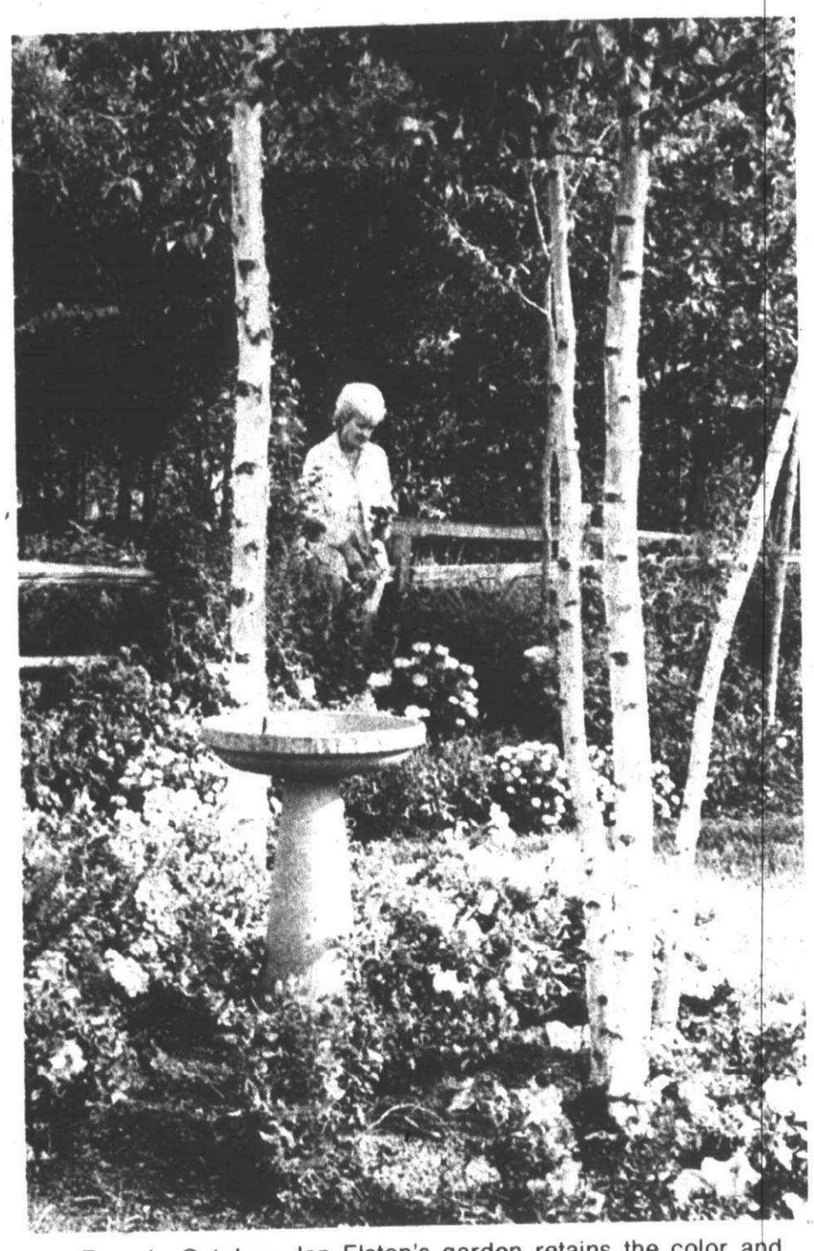

"This year, someone made the motion that we turn our treasury over to the engineering school. The motion carried."

MEMBERS OF THE Plymouth Symphony League were in Ann Arbor Friday for the annual convention of the Michigan Orchestra Woman's Association and the Michigan Orchestra Association.

Fran Lang, former president of the league and president of the Plymouth Symphony Society, was one of the speakers at the convention. She was asked to explain how the Plymouth League is set up—with its five groups and rotating projects.

Other league members attending the convention were Janet Repp, Evelyn Funk, Dorothy McGettigan, Mary Weed, and Stephanie Miller, current president of the league.

"SHOULD WE HAVE A BABY? will be the Open Forum subject at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 in the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College.

Even in October, Jan Elston's garden retains the color and texture that was responsible for its "Commendation of Beauty." (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Gardening efforts commended by club

By MABEL LORENZ
Special Writer

In recognition of the many beautiful gardens planted in the Plymouth area, the Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Division National Farm and Garden Association will award "Citations of Beauty" to four gardens. The first belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elston of 45039 Governor Bradford in Trailwood subdivision.

Here they have chosen colors that compliment their gray brick home, its slate-gray roof and gray-blue shutters.

A U-shaped border outlines the entire back yard and brings vegetables such as tomatoes, onions, carrots, green peppers and lettuce into practical use as they act as foliage plants among the flowers.

On the west side of the lawn, the border is composed of the bright gray-white foliage of dusty miller, broken by clumps of blue ageratum. Behind this, blue petunias and asters, blue salvia, perennial alyssum and white mums are accented by clusters of pastel snapdragons and pinks.

A FEW EVERGREENS and roses on the split-rail fence back the entire area.

To the east, Mrs. Elston, who is past president of the newly-formed Trailwood Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, has planted what she calls her old-fashioned garden. There are the reds, yellows and whites of salvia (no relative of the blue), marigolds, zinnias, verbenas and daisies.

Of special interest in the Elston Yard is a large terraced area created in an effort to save a beautiful white ash whose root depth they hoped to maintain to save the tree. Though their yard had to be filled on the completion of their home, by using railroad ties, they built a step-down terrace, eight ties deep and 12 feet square at the top, to protect the tree.

Then, to make it a thing of beauty, they planted ground covers such as ajuga, cedar sedum, red sedum, and creeping phlox.

THERE WERE HERBS for the kitchen, coleus and pansies—all things that would be low-growing and hold the soil in place.

The Elston garden is in superb condition even now, a time when many flowers are past their peak in most gardens.

In addition to fall beauty, the spring bulbs flourish there too—tulips, grape hyacinth, jonquils, snowdrops and croci.

Gerald Elston, busy and popular principal of Pioneer Middle School, prepares the soil and all the flower beds in the spring. Jan Elston plants and maintains the garden with that extra pair of helping hands.

To the Elstons, a Citation of Beauty.

(This is the first in a series articles which will deal with other winners of the garden club's Citation of Beauty award.)

'The League' luncheon marks end of season

by ELLIE GRAHAM

By ELINOR GRAHAM

They call it "The League."

It started out years ago as a newcomers golf league and the group stayed together. Some dropped out and others were added. No one ever came up with a better idea so it remained, simply, the league.

The group of 45 women golfers topped off their season last week with an awards luncheon at Fox Hills Country Club.

The lone male attending the party was Scotty Morrison who came from California for the event. The women said that in the beginning, "Scotty taught most of us how to play golf."

His wife, Marge Morrison, was an enthusiastic member of the league.

Marge died of cancer several years ago and Scotty gave her friends the "Marge Morrison Memorial Trophy" in her memory.

"THIS AWARD does not necessarily go to the best golfer in the league," said Karen Ahlgren when she made the presentation. "It goes to an all-around good sport and one who makes new members feel especially welcome. She's sort of our Lady Congeniality."

The announcement that Irene Erickson was winner of the trophy for this season was greeted by applause.

A brief business meeting was conducted by president Janet Brass before the presentation of prizes and trophies. Joan Westman will be president next year.

Season trophy winners were: A flight—low gross, Bettie Carlson; low net, Jean Grady; flight B—low gross, Mary Smith; low net, Jane Stacy; flight C—low gross, Blanche Bauman; low net, Janet Brass; most improved player, Charlotte Gaffield.

TOURNAMENT WINNERS were: flight A—low gross, Bettie Carlson; low net, Irene Erickson; flight B—low gross, Wanda Miller; low net, Fran Lang; flight C—low gross, Charlotte Gaffield; low net, Carita Rick.

Bettie Carlson had the lone eagle for the season. Karen Ahlgren had the lowest ringer score and the most pars.

Birdies were scored by Bettie Carlson, Karen Ahlgren, Irene Erickson, Jan Gerish, Joan O'Connell, Jane Wells and Dorothy Oyen.

Bettie Carlson went home with two trophies, for A flight low gross in both season play and the tournament.

One of the gag awards at the league's luncheon was Betty Laird's new hat. (Staff photos)

MRS. PAUL SANDERS of Irwin Street recently returned from Union City, Calif. where she was visiting with Jena Near.

Mrs. Sanders went out stay with her friend following the sudden death on Sept. 7 of Joseph Near, former city clerk in Plymouth.

Near was clerk from June 1959 to July 1963. The Nears moved to the community from Portland, Ore. and he operated a small laundry here until his appointment as clerk. Mrs. Near taught at Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

He was 60 years old and died while swimming in their pool. Since moving to California, he worked for a commercial electrical company.

Besides his wife Jena, he is survived by three sons, Joseph of New York, and Guy David and James, both of California.

HIGH SCORERS in recent party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center were Steve Jeffry and Margaret Harris, and Margaret Swartz and Larry Baker.

The group meets Thursday afternoons in the center and anyone may join the play.

A NOTE FROM BILL Kirkpatrick of Evanston, Ill. tells us that his mother, Florence Kirkpatrick of Auburn Avenue in Plymouth, celebrated her 87th birthday Sept. 21.

On that day, Mrs. Kirkpatrick voluntarily gave up driving her automobile.

"The interesting thing is," wrote her son, "that her driving record of slightly over 50 years is free from any accident of any sort.

"All of her driving has been in and around Plymouth where she has resided for 52 years."

Many happy returns, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and congratulations on your good judgment.

PLYMOUTH TOWN 'N' COUNTRY, local 4-H Club group, had its first general sign-up meeting recently in Plymouth Salem High School.

The meeting was well attended, and members were full of enthusiasm for the upcoming year. All interested students ages 10-18 and parents may attend meetings.

President is Perry Strautz; Carol Terry, vice-president; Rose Lesperance, secretary, and Claudia Smith, treasurer. They are just completing their terms of office and a new slate will be elected this month.

RUTH AND MILT FELTNER are recuperating at home after being hospitalized as the result of an automobile accident on Newburgh south of Ford Road.

AND SPEAKING of hospitals, one of our residents was the victim of what could be an all-time low—in poor taste? timing? evidence of a sick society?

It was 3:30 a.m., the morning after surgery. That long, lonely time of day when she was hurting but medication wasn't due for another half hour.

The bedside telephone rang, and there it was, just what she needed to revive her lagging spirits.

An obscene phone call.

PARASOLS & Galoshes

For some strange reason the first golden days of autumn always seem to bring with them great waves of nostalgia. Thoughts of autumns past seem to multiply as one recalls football games at what some old timers still refer to as "the old high school," buying an ice cream cone to eat in the park at Wiltses, John Thomas making international relations fascinating for so many students, or the Ann Arbor Art Fair before it was a mob scene.

By GAE McCORD

Can you recall the rolling Welsh lilt in the speech of The Rev. David T. Davies or cooking for droves of adolescents who attended Presbyterian Fellowhsip? Do you remember the way the sugar cookies tasted at the Grange, or how cute little Danny Wagner looked when he came trick or treating? Can you remember your first professional theater program, or trembling upon being called into Mr. Bently's office, or the day Marj Taylor and Kay Williams graduated?

My dears, if you remember you either are, or are close to being what the natives call "Old Plymouth."

NEW MEMORIES are being stored for future use as the football mania grows stronger with each home game! Saturday the MSU-Notre Dame game provided a gala meeting place for several loyal fans and their college age offspring.

Alice and John Egan joined Betty and Jack Malony, who met their son John, a student at MSU. Terry and Tom Klucka, and Marie and Marvin Criger met the Klucka children, Chris and Mark, who are both students at Notre Dame. Much pregame kitchen time was spent in preparation for this outing as the group was joined by 20 hungry young friends of Chris and Mark.

Another group meeting their youngsters in Spartan territory was composed of Tom and Sylvia Mullen and Gus and Dee Carleson. After years of cheering for Tom's alma mater, Notre Dame, the Mullens found their loyalties suddenly split as they partied with daughter Mary Ann, a freshman at state, and Craig Carleson, from Western Michigan University.

Two vans loaded with pennants, hampers of refreshments, and happy people left the John Lynch residence and headed for East Lansing. Present for the mid-morning get-away were Joan and Jack Kindree, Forest and Louise Byrd, George and Mary Smith, and Jack and Marilyn Kelly. Also on board were Fred and Jean Herr, Bill and Lois Taylor, and the Gene Butts from Ypsilanti. After the game they all trouped back to the Kindree home for steaks and a rehash of the game.

Among maize and blue fans who wouldn't consider missing a home game are the Roy Cardinals, the young Bill Covingtons, the Don Carlesons, the Bill Slades, the George Johnsons, the Joe Jenders and the Bud DuPlanches. Reguardless of the weather or who Bo's boys are playing, they hit the trail for Ann Arbor every Saturday.

Patience, oh lovers of the scarlet and gray, your day is coming.

AMONG A small contingent of Plymouth balletomines who traveled to Saginaw to see The American Ballet Company last week, were Barbara Cassani and David Olson. During intermission David shared the exciting news that brother Mark had just won first chair French horn ranking with the University of Michigan Symphony. Both young men are the sons of Alta and John Olson. Another set of proud parents who will be traveling to Ann Arbor for things cultural is Dr. and Mrs. James Sonnega.

Their son, Bill, has been cast in the guest artist season opener, "Othello."

Don and Harriet Ward have recently returned from an Eastern trip where they pursued their interest in Shaker furniture. Speaking of the Wards, Harriet's lovely old-fashioned garden which annually lines their driveway is a source of delight to their neighbors on Evergreen. Another eastern returnee is Jo Hulce who spent a busy few weeks on the eastern seaboard with a stopover in Boston to visit son Steve and his wife Mary Ellen. Bit and Al Folger have also just returned to town after several glorious weeks in Europe.

A gentle kick of the old galosh to the unthinking people who insist on using people parks for doggie bathrooms.

And a tilt of the lace parasol to Margaret Wilson, who feels a real responsibility for the kind of films offered to Plymouth audiences and for those great dollar movie nights.

LWV seeks contributions for TV debates

The League of Women Voters is seeking individual contributions to help offset the cost of the Presidential Debates. Any contribution is tax-deductible and has no dollar limitation.

The first of the Presidential Debates was held on Sept. 23, and the second will be on Oct. 6. The third is scheduled for Oct. 22. All major networks will cover this historic series of events, but the cost of funding the expenses for the series is left to the League of Women Voters Education Fund.

The estimated cost of site rental, press facilities, project staff, fund raising, legal opinions, travel and other items will be about $150,000.

Any contributions can be sent to: LWVEF-Debates, 1730 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Classes teach decorating

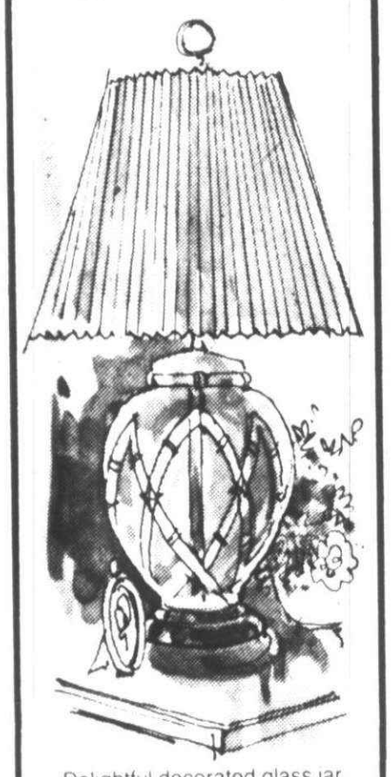

Anyone interested in housing and interiors will be helped by two courses being offered through the College of Lifelong Learning for Wayne State University's department of family and consumer resources this fall.

Introduction to Housing and Interiors meets Monday and Wednesday from 5:30-7:20 p.m. starting Oct. 4. Taught by Arlene Abel, member of the American Society of Interior Designers, it will cover functional, aesthetic, and financial aspects of the home and its furnishings. Floor plans and selection of furnishings will be analyzed.

Twentieth Century Interiors: Art Nouveau through Contemporary, taught by A.S.I.D. member Thomas Nothaft, will examine furnishings and accessories in relation to developments in materials and technology. Architectural relevance and market sources will also be explored.

Each course carries four hours of credit and can be taken by anyone possessing a high school diploma or equivalency certificate. For course or registration information, telephone 577-3312.

Poetry tonight at Schoolcraft

Reed Whittemore, American poet and professor of English at the University of Maryland, will appear at Schoolcraft College tonight.

Whittemore will read his poetry at 8 p.m. in B-200 of the Liberal Arts Building. The program is free.

Whittemore is a graduate of Yale University where he wrote for "The Yale Literary Magazine." He and his roommate published "Furioso," a quarterly which had among its contributors Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams, e.e. cummings, Archibald MacLeish and W.H. Auden.

The poet has taught at Carleton College, was poetry consultant at the Library of Congress, and was the humanities consultant for the National Institute of Public Affairs.

Whittemore was literary editor of "The New Republic" from 1971-74. He also contributed many essays to the magazine which have been collected in his latest book, "The Poet as Journalist." He relinquished the editorship to write "William Carlos Williams: Poet from Jersey."

Author of nine books of poetry and criticism, Whittemore's first collection of poetry, "Heroes & Heroines," was published in 1946; his most recent, "The Mother's Breast and the Father's House," was nominated for a National Book Award in 1974.

Whittemore is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, a recipient of the Award of Merit of the National Academy of Arts and Letters and a grantee of the Guggenheim Foundation. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Letters by Carleton College in 1971.

'Man and Superman' ushers in MBT season

George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Man and Superman," will usher in the Meadow Brook Theatre's 11th season at the Oakland University campus in Rochester when the comic classic opens a four-week run Oct. 7 at 8:30 p.m.

As his subject, Shaw takes the eternal struggle between male and female and treats it with a sense of ironic humor that sweeps along with wild abandon. The action travels from London to the sunny gardens of Spain and the rollicking romantic chase by a beautiful, reckless young woman to get her man serves as the background for one of the playwright's wittiest plays.

Meadow Brook's Artistic Director, Terence Kilburn, will stage "Man and Superman" which will feature a unit set by Peter Hicks with costumes executed by Mary Lynn Bonnell and lighting designed by Nancy Thompson.

Returning Meadow Brook actors who will appear in this production include Elizabeth Orion, Fred Thompson, Donald C. Moore, Harry Ellerbe, Cheryl Gianni, William Halliday and Mary Benson. William Hurt, Elizabeth Horowitz and Richard Hilger will be making their Meadow Brook debuts.

HURT MOST recently appeared as Edmund in O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night" at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival and as Scroop, Barts and the French Interpreter in "Henry V" for the New York Shalespeare Festival. He will be appearing as James Lathrop in a pilot for NET entitled "The Best of Families," which will continue shooting in the near future for airing sometime next year.

Elizabeth Horowitz is completing her MFA in acting at the University of Minnesota. She performed on the university's Centennial Showboat as Lady Chiltern in "An Ideal Husband" and at Theatre in the Round as Nora in "The Plough and the Stars." She recently toured Montana with the state university's "Shakespeare in the Parks" production of "Twelfth Night" as Viola.

In his native Minneapolis Richard Hilger has acted with the Cricket Theatre, the Chanhassen Theatre, and Centennial Showboat and Theatre in the Round in such productions as "Dyland," "The Journey of the Fifth Horse" and "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder?"

There will be a preview performance of "Man and Superman" on Oct. 6 at 8:30 p.m. Student groups and teachers may attend at regular reduced student rates. Opening week performances are Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.; matinee on Saturday at 2; and Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

The following three weeks will have performances on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:30 p.m.; Saturday at 6 and 9:30 p.m.; and Sunday at 6:30 p.m. The theater is dark on Mondays.

Tickets may be purchased at Hudson's or by calling the Meadow Brook Theatre box office at 377-3300. Meadow Brook is a member of the League of Regional Theatres.

Production to reopen

The Hilberry Repertory Company production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," held over from last season, repoens Friday, Oct. 8, at 8:30 p.m., in the Hilberry Theatre, Cass at Hancock, on the Wayne State University campus, Detroit.

"As You Like It" will appear again Saturday, Oct. 9, and then alternate with Moliere's "The Miser," also held over from last year and reopening Oct. 15. These two repeats will be joined in November by the first production of the new season, Ronald Ribman's "The Journey of the Fifth Horse."

"As You Like It" was one of the 1975-76 season's most successful productions. The Observer & Eccentric's Tim Richard wrote of the Hilberry Company's "consistently high quality and gusto" and said that "this production has to rank among their beter offerings."

The Shakespeare comedy combines romance, satire, irony and burlesque in treating love in all its aspects and the perennial controversy over country life vs. civilized society.

Deborah Eckols and Michael Tylo are returning in the roles of Rosalind and Orlando, which they played last year.

New in the cast are Wayne Ballantyne, a graduate of the University of Oregon and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, as Jacques; Daniel Buchen, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, as Touchstone, and Monique Morgan, Stephens College graduate, as Celia.

The production is directed by Richard Spear, with setting by James A. Hatfield, costumes by Daniel Thomas Field and Helen Markovitch, lighting by Gary M. Witt and music by Dennis Razze.

Vegas revue at Playboy

Right now, at Detroit's Playboy Club, there is a little "Touch of Vegas" every evening at 8:30 and 11:30. A full scale production with lavish costumes and entertainment is featured in a Las Vegas-style revue.

Lead by Jim Carey and the Jim Carey Dancers, the revue includes Burgandy Lane, a three-piece band, and Diamonds and Rust, three members of a singing group. Each group performs individually and as part of the full company in a dance and singing review.

The band also performs between shows for listening and dancing.

"Touch of Vegas" revues are presented nightly in the club's Living Room through Saturday.

Reservations are recommended for this limited engagement.

DOG TRAINING
You say your dog drags you down the street and you got your knees all skinned up, he jumped on your mother-in-law and got her dress dirty; he chased your neighbor over the fence and tore the seat of his britches out; he won't come when you call him off the mailman; and he bit the Judge in the Show Ring? Is that your trouble, Bunky? Well pick up that phone, call Dog World, see how 5 in a class instead of 25 - can give your dog the Citizen-of-the-Year Award. 464-3615
