Canton, schools dial down to share in gas saving effort

If you don't feel like unbuttoning your coat or taking off your gloves after you go into city hall, there's a good reason: the thermostats have been turned down.

City of Plymouth. Canton and Plymouth Township officials have started to take steps to reduce the consumption of energy in public buildings. The temperature in area schools also has been dropped a few degrees.

In many instances, however, turning the heat down is only a part of what is being done to cut down the overall energy used.

"Not only are the thermostats set at 65 degrees," said Mark Wollenweber. assistant city manager, "but we have gone through the building and put insulation on the windows." He said Plymouth Fire Chief George Schoennman checks the temperature every morning.

Yockey, controlling the thermostats days a week," he commented. "But may be only a gesture because of the we all decided that because the fire

Plymouth DPW Director Ken Vogras said that three large gas heaters in the DPW equipment garage have been turned off completely, leaving only one on, and it is set at 40 degrees. "We just want to keep it warm enough to make sure the vehicles start," Vogras said.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Supervisor Thomas Notebaert said that at one time, he had thought of operating the township hall only four days a week to limit the use of heat and lights.

"I was seriously considering having But according to City Mgr. Fred the staff work 10 hours a day, four department has to be all the time, we really wouldn't save that much by closing the rest of the offices for one day." He said that even though that idea was scrapped, all thermostats have been turned down, and employees have been asked to turn off lights not in use.

Canton Township also is doing its part. Supervisor Harold Stein issued a directive to all departments to save energy in any manner possible.

"We are keeping the temperature at 65 degrees during the day and at 60 during the night," said Stein. "I also have told people to cut down on on township vehicle warm-up times.

"We are also trying to use as few electric lights as possible, but because we don't have many windows in the building it's a little difficult."

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT John M. Hoben said that last Wednesday all parents were notified that schools within the district would be kept at 65 degrees and that children should be dressed accordingly.

"We have been on a two-year energy program," remarked Hoben. "We have been trying to reduce the amount of electricity used, and the amount of gas used by our buses.

In addition, he said a task force is currently studying energy-use patterns in the district and will make a report on Oct. 1.

"The task force is considering a number of options. "For example, we might consider a four-day school week, or we could possibly close down the schools before Christmas and keep them closed until March. If we didn't have to provide heat in the winter months, there would be a sizeable energy reduction.

Although state law prohibits reducing the number of days in the school week, continued energy shortages could bring about changes.

"Our energy problems are not going to go away." Hoben said. "and whatever happens, we are doing our best to be ready to deal with it."

Appellate court gets recount bid

Jim Poole's attempt to seek a recount of the November election for Canton trustee moved a step forward last week, as his attorney. Peter Bundarin, filed an appeal with the Michigan Court of Appeals

Bundarin, filed a request for a hearing with the appellate court challenging the denial of a recount last month by Wayne County Circuit Court Joseph Sullivan

Last November Republican Poole lost to Eugene Daley by 12 votes in the race for trustee. Bundarin was an unsuccessful candidate for supervisor as a Republican.

AFTER THE NOVEMBER election Poole had asked the Wayne County Board of Canvassers to conduct a recount of Precinct 10, the absentee ballot precinct.

Poole was refused and Bundarin filed suit against the canvassing board in circuit court After Sullivan declined to order the recount, Bundarin filed an appeal with the Michigan Court of Appeals division in Detroit. Tuesday

One of Bundarin's key argumentsand one that was rejected by the circuit court-is that separate and distinct procedures for counting and sealing ballots must, by law, be used for absentee ballot precincts. Those procedures are different from those used in paper ballot precincts, Bundarin claims.

In the November election, the counting and sealing procedures used for the absentee ballots in Precinct 10 were the same as those provided in law for a paper-ballot precinct. Sullivan denied the request on the basis that the law didn't provide for different procedures, Bundarin said.

"I have done some more research and will now point out to the appellate court where the law specifically provides for different procedures, and the reasons for those differences," Bundarin said.

The next step in the legal process is for Bundarin to file his position in a written brief and for the county canvassers to file a counter-brief if it chooses. The appellate court then could make a decision on the basis of the briefs, or set a date for hearings of oral arguments.

As a third alternative, the appellate court might send the issue back to Sullivan for retrial. If a retrial is ordered, other interested parties-such as Daley-might be allowed to enter the proceedings.

Daley cannot submit briefs to the appellate court because he didn't appear or ask to be part of the proceedings before Judge Sullivan.

The voting machines and absentee ballots are sealed and secured pending final decision on the fate of a recount.

Unconcious after being hit in the head, she was pronounced dead at 8:45 Friday morning.

Although the official coroner's report was not available at press time, a spokesman for St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia said the unofficial cause of death was wounds sustained to the head.

According to Det. Ray Allen, of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Ms. Kovacs was working on the desk at the time of the robbery.

"The apparent motive for the killing is robbery," stated Allen. "She was apparently beaten to death because of that." Allen would not specify how much money was taken, but he said that it was "less than $500 and more than $100.

He said there was no evidence that the woman had tried to resist the robbers, but she had apparently tried to fend off some of the blows.

MS. KOVACS, of 35633 Minton, was a 1974 graduate of Churchill High School in Livonia, and had attended Schoolcraft College. She had been a full-time employee of the motel since last April.

Union responds

45-15 must be negotiated-PEA

A union spokesman for Plymouth teachers this week has raised objections to comparisions made between pay increases for faculty members and central administrators.

In raising the objection, Derald McKinley also cautioned that any extension or continuation of year-round school will require an agreement in the new contract with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA)

McKinley, incoming president of the PEA, issued that caution while objecting to an earlier claim by the administration that teachers have received higher percentage raises over the past four years than the central administrators.

THE ISSUE first arose at the last regularly scheduled ^o school board meeting when residents urging a settlement with the PEA asked why the district could afford to pay increases to its top administrators and couldn't give the teachers what they were requesting.

In response to a claim that administrators were receiving higher increases than teachers were being offered, personnel director Norman Kee released a four-year comparision claiming teachers have, over four years, received higher percentage increases in pay

The Kee comparison showed the suiperintendent receiving a 31.2 per cent increase over four years; the business director receiving 30.4 per cent more over three years; and his salary increasing 60.2 per cent over four years.

Kee compared administrative salary increases with teachers who had five years employment in the district in 1972-73 and reached their ninth year of teaching here this year. Using the middle of the scale, the figures showed a 521/2 per cent increase for teachers with a master's degree and a 51.2 per cent hike for teachers with a BA over four years.

"THE ONLY FAIR salary comparision must be with the maximum salaries on the BA and the MA schedules," said McKinley, "because our top administrators don't have increments inasmuch as they are already at the 'top.'

In making a comparision, McKinley used pay increases received by BAholders with 11 years actual experience in the school district and by MA-holders with 12 years seniority. "For the money received, I took improvements of the past three years and additional money teachers have been offered this year for the fourth year. We haven't, of course, accepted the offer for this year but using those figures gives us four years to compare with central administrators who have received a raise for this year."

Those figures indicate the teacher with a BA at the maximum step would receive $3,612 more from 1972 to the present, an average increase of $903 a year or 25 per cent over four vears. A teacher with an MA at the top step would have received $4,246 or an average of $1,062 more per year for 25 per cent improvement over four years. McKinley compared the 25 per cent with 60 per cent gained by Kee and 31 per cent by Supt. John M. Hoben.

"Another important factor is that at the present time about one-third of the teaching staff here does not receive increment raises.

"I think it's important to keep in mind also that the administrators receive non-contributory retirement (NCR) of five per cent for 1975-76 and '76-77 school years while the teachers only have been offered 21/2 per cent NCR for '76-77.'

McKINLEY ALSO reacted to a statement attributed to Hoben that the 45-15 (year-round school) schedule could be expanded next year without a contract with the PEA.

"The fact of the matter is that the expired contract under which we now are working states specifically that 45-15 will not be expanded without agreement by the PEA. That same language is included in our tentative agreement in our current bargaining.

"The language also makes it clear that 45-15 cannot be continued at miller beyond this July without an agreement with the PEA.

"Thus it is clear, by contract language and tentative agreement, that 45-15 will not be continued nor expanded without an agreement with the PEA worked out in a contract.

Are Canton ears burning?

Builders blame government for high home prices

By TIM RICHARD

If housing prices are soaring out of sight, the people and their local governments are to blame. They're pestering house builders to distraction with more regulations, bigger lot sizes and a host of fees that quickly add up.

That was the message of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, whose officers told area newsmen a litany of war stories with local government and ignorance on the part of the citizenry

The tales came after the builders group treated the press corps to cocktails and a roast beef lunch in Stouffer's Northland Inn. Southfield.

The ears of civic groups and city officials in West Bloomfield, Novi, Troy, Farmington and Canton Township should have been burning. So should those of lawyers' and the utility companies.

PEOPLE DON'T understand that what communities are doing to 'increase the quality of life' is doing to our costs," said Ed Milligan, of Milligan Builders, Inc., Livonia

"Builders are licensed by the state. But then each community requires builders to register their licenses; their $1 fee is OK. But now many communities are charging $10 to register a license, and I can't understand why.

Next, said Milligan, communities require builders to register a land grade certificate (to determine future liability if drainage problems occur). That costs $25. Then communities require that builders get such certificates from a particular engineering company. The cost goes up to $30.

After that comes a requirement that a tree be planted. Soon the builder has $80 per lot tied up because he must pay for all those things in advance.

HERMAN FRANKEL of the Herman Frankel Organization, Orchard Lake, had an idea why those many little fees are piling up. "As communities have trouble getting money through property tax millages, they're, raising money in other ways.

"But really, builders don't pay for anything. The public (house buyers) pay for everything. I find very, very few people who recognize that.

"People are pricing themselves out of the market by the (civic) meetings they attend. They talk about a woodlands ordinance and a wetlands ordinance

Frankel said attorneys who can no longer make fat fees with auto liability cases are turning to product liability-especially housing-to make up income. For some builders, he said, liability insurance tripled in a single year shortly after no-fault auto insurance went into effect.

LARGE LOT SIZES were scored by Robert Brody of Samuel Brody & Sons, Troy.

"In the 1920s, communities wanted 20-foot lots. In the '30s, 30-foot lots. The '40s, 40-foot lots. . . And in the '70s. 70- and 80-foot lots.'

Added Joseph Dresner of Highland Construction Co. in Southfield: "Consumerism and the ecology movement have blown the whole thing sky-high. I submit to you that 50-foot lots are OK.

Brody continued a list of building restrictions: "Then no aluminum siding, and minimum bedroom sizes, then no single-frame construction with threequarters inch plywood.

Such restrictions, in the name of "upgrading," are pricing housing out of the reaches of the elderly and young people, Brody said

Without naming names, he charged individual building inspectors have "pet peeves" in enforcing regulations.

Manuel Dembs, of Dembs Building Co. in Southfield, joined in with criticism of Novi's 80-foot lot requirement and Troy's requirements for certain kinds of plugs.

"They (communities) tell you an item is 'only $56.' But there are 56 total items in a house.

Of Canton, Troy, Farmington and Novi Dembs said: "I can't get through to them: How many of your own employees can afford to live in your communities? It's a disgrace!

"The assessor in Novi is building in Highland Township because he can't afford Novi. Communities should search their souls. It's a disgrace!"

SEWER TAP-IN FEES were attacked by Brody and Milligan.

Brody said some communities charge high tap-in fees, then find themselves with surpluses in their bond accounts. When the bonds are paid off, the surpluses are turned over to the general fund, avoiding what would have been a tax increase.

Milligan cited a young couple who owned a lakefront lot in West Bloomfield Township. They wanted to construct a house whose basic cost would have been $30,000, and they had a $1,500 down payment. But the township was charging $4,000 for a sewer tap-in.

Dembs said public utilities, with the blessing of the state public service commission, are forcing builders to finance the utilities. Traditionally, in the building business, one' collects after a house is sold. But utilities are asking for their money in advance for gas and electric lines. The result: The builder has to tie up $1,000 more at high interest rates-and pass the cost onto the house buyer.

THE BUILDERS said their costs had risen 12 per cent in the last year. Materials have soared in pricelumber alone has risen 27 per cent producers and the reduction in output by the big farms in an effort to keep prices rising, even in a recession.

Small cabinet producers have been driven out of the market. Frankel said, with the result that buyers are paying more for a narrower choice of cabinets made with less creativity. Labor unions have moderated their demands, collecting 6.5 per cent increases last June with another 6.5 per cent due this coming June, Frankel said

Impact of sports concern of clergy you want to be in 10 years? What are spouses, children, and co-workers. you doing now to bring about your goals

These and other questions about life values will be discussed by Dr. Paul Schubert, psychotherapist and marriage counselor in a talk entitled How Many Times Can We Survive Adolescence'

The Plymouth Township resident will speak at a dinner at the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth on March 13.

The lecture and dinner is the idea of a group of Plymouth and Canton clergy members who are very concerned about contemporary values

The whole thing grew out of our concern about the role sports plays in young people's lives." said Rev. Fred Prezioso, of the Ephiphany Lutheran Church "We felt too many kids were being forced into activities which they wouldn't participate in if they were given a choice.

Prezioso said that although he was concerned about young people, the question of values clarification was one that affected everybody.

"I do private counseling and individuals of all ages have the same problem. They live their lives around somebody else's values and as a result get no satisfaction from their accomplishments.

FOR EXAMPLES he mentioned the number of young people who are involved in competetive athletics. "Do you know that some of those kids practice hockey at 3:30 on Saturday mornings?" he asked. "How realisitic is the emphasis we place on such activitv?

since 1975. Frankel blamed it on the In addition, he talked about people squeezing out of many small lumber who come to him with major life prob-

Where is your life going? Where do lems, continuing arguments with

These people want to do something about their lives, but they don't know where to begin. Our goal is to make the people in the community aware of what they value and why and how values are transmitted.

We've decided that going to college is important. So we put pressure' on our kids to do well in school. But the kids have to fit themselves into the program rather than the other way around

We want to let people know they have both the choice and the responsibility for how they live their lives. And a big part of that is clarifying values.

He said that the process of looking at values affects everything people, do, from sports to academic achievement to career choice

'We aren't on a crusade." he maintained, "and we don't have the answers. We just think it's the purpose, of the church to raise questions about? complicated issues

The dinner will begin at 5 p.m. with Schubert's address following.

After that, Prezioso said there will be small group discussions. Tickets are $5 and can be purchased from Plymouth and Canton area clergy has just been added to our salon. Because this advanced electronic system is programmed by the hair stylist to monitor and control perm processing, perming can now be specially customized to each individual patron's hair type and condition. It signals your hair stylist at the precise second when perfect processing has been achieved. Until now it was a matter of continually checking every few minutes looking for the perfect looking curl; adding human error, the perm might be left on or taken off minutes too soon or late. Too soon and perm will relax; too late and dryness would occur.

SYSTEM

Permanent waving is nothing new to us at Master Hair Stylists. We teach it to other hair stylists throughout Michigan. At the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Convention in Las Vegas this February we were honored to have our salon's educational slide program on permanent waving shown to hair stylists from all fifty states with great acceptance.

Through the use of two different microscopes, 35mm cameras, Polaroid cameras, p.h. meter, light meters especially for hair color, and hair strength meters, we have studied the human hair to better ourselves so that we might help our patrons.

It takes many things to bring about a good perm. Conditioning makes for even processing throughout the length of the hair. A good hair shaping is a must in the handling of hair as well as the finished style. The proper use of end wraps for different types of hair elasticity is as necessary as well as size and shape of rods used. Then there's the growth pattern as well as styling pattern to take into consideration.

Types of permanent wave lotion and just what position (angle) each section of hair being wrapped and held are just as important. After all these conditions are met, then we're ready to use our ELECTRONIC SENSOR to give you what Mother Nature didn't--gently curled or waved hair

Glamour bid has Courtney in quandary

By GLENN BUNTING

4A (C)

The old story of from rags to riches is oft-told but Jim Courtney, Plymouth Century 21 real estate broker, is comtemplating an even bigger step towards stardom.

It isn't that the 32-year-old Plymouth resident is dissatisfied with his current status, but the opportunities available to him are potentially infinite

A two-time high school dropout, Courtney is a charter member of the United Northwest Real Estate Association's $2 million club. He has exceeded that figure in sales annually since the club's inception in 1972.

But aside from a highly successful phone-equipped Caddie, Courtney has other interests. In 1974, he answered a Plymouth Theatre Guild invitation for an open audition with no experience, and has since earned the leading male roles in four plays.

COURTNEY PLAYED a salesman in four auto industrial movies last year, one with celebrity J.P. McCarthy for Chrysler Corp. He also did two commercials, one nationally for Lincoln Mercury and the other for Meijer Thrifty Acres.

With this new found fame, Courtney is entertaining thoughts of moving west in search of greener pastures. An early January trip to Hollywood reaped two solid job offers and the chance to do several commercialsoccupation, a luxurious home and a an opportunity that doesn't exist in Michigan.

> "It's pretty tough to make a living doing commercials here," Courtney said. "The market is really tight and the benefits of local spots are minimal.

> "With national commercials, you're exposed all over the country and compensated every time the spot runs on the air. If you want to break into commercials, California's the only place to go.

> One of Courtney's job offers came from Mike Silverman of Hollywood's big real estate firm. He was recently featured on the television program '60 Minutes."

Silverman's agency has sold property to the likes of Frank Sinatra and Cher. His business is considered one of the most prestigious in Hollywood and most of his salespersons are young, attractive women, according to Courtney.

AFTER SEVERAL attempts, Courtney managed to arrange an interview with Silverman under the condition that he would not be offered a job. Courtney impressed Silverman, though, and the real estate job is his for the taking.

Born in Canada, Courtney has also been guaranteed a spot with a California Century 21 firm. And with a promising acting career in Hollywood, one would think his bags are already packed.

Courtney, a member of the Screen Actors' Guild, has a family to be concerned about-two sons and wife Karen, who is a member of the Mox Davies Singers. They're not exactly sold on the move from Plymouth and neither is Courtney.

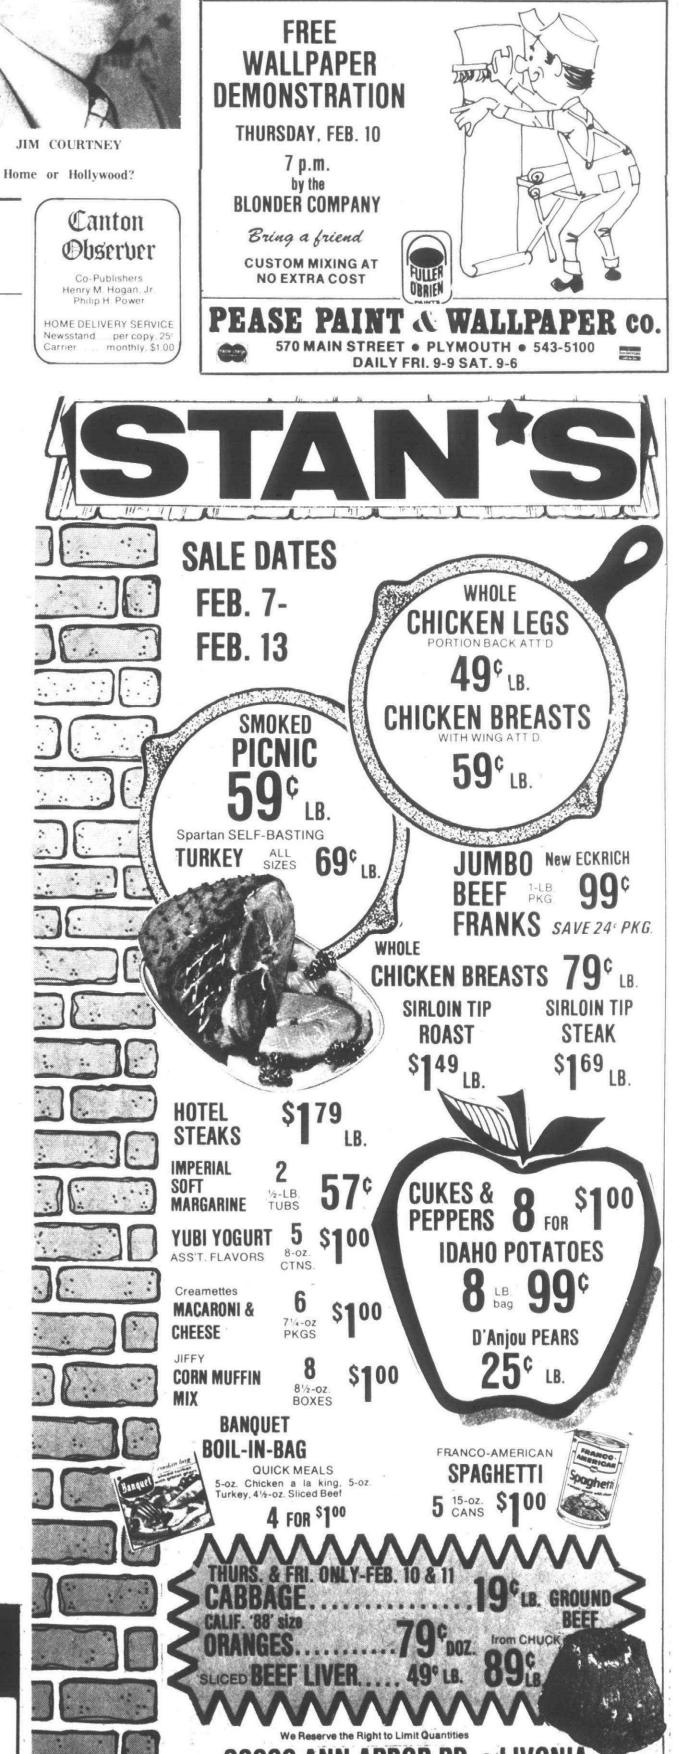

"It all boils down to whether I want to be a broker the rest of my life, or make it big in Hollywood. One one hand, I want the challenge of going west, but on the other there's financial security to look after," Courtney said.

Courtney is also a songwriter and recently had the single "Outside Toledo" cut by Mind, Body and Soul, formerly the Flaming Embers. The single was never released because of promotion difficulties, but Courtney is in the process of composing another single about a guy taking off west.

Canton OKs plans for Baptist church

Canton township board members recently approved site plans for a new Baptist church and an addition to Standard Federal Savings. The board also granted final preliminary plat approval to developers of Windemere Subdivision.

Board members unanimously approved site plans for the West Chicago Baptist Church, proposed for a site on Cherry Hill between Sheldon and Canton Center, provided an acceptable financial agreement can be reached on the church's plans to construct a connection to the township's sewage line.

Consumer relations offered in Canton

The Canton Chamber of Commerce has a consumer relations bureau which will help Canton citizens solve problems they may have with a Canton merchant of busipessman

The service is provided free of charge by the Chamber of Commerce. The chamhas developed a working relationship

The proposed connecting sewer would run from the church's property to the township's existing sewer at the intersection of Cherry Hill and Shell don. Church officials offered to construct a 10-inch sewer, but township officials said a larger sewer probably would be needed in the future.

According to the motion offered by Supervisor Harold Stein and approved by board members, the township would pay up to 50 per cent of the cost of contructing a 24-inch sewer.

The church will be constructed in two phases, according to a church representative. The first phase will eventually be used as a gymnasium and auditorium

In other action last week, board members unanimously approved site plans for a 950-foot addition to the existing Standard Federal Savings' building at 44101 Ford. The addition will include three teller windows.

Vickie's gone

Vickie Wooley's 21/2-year struggle with Hodgkins Disease ended last Wednesday in Southfield's Providence Hospital. At the time of her death she weighed about 80 pounds.

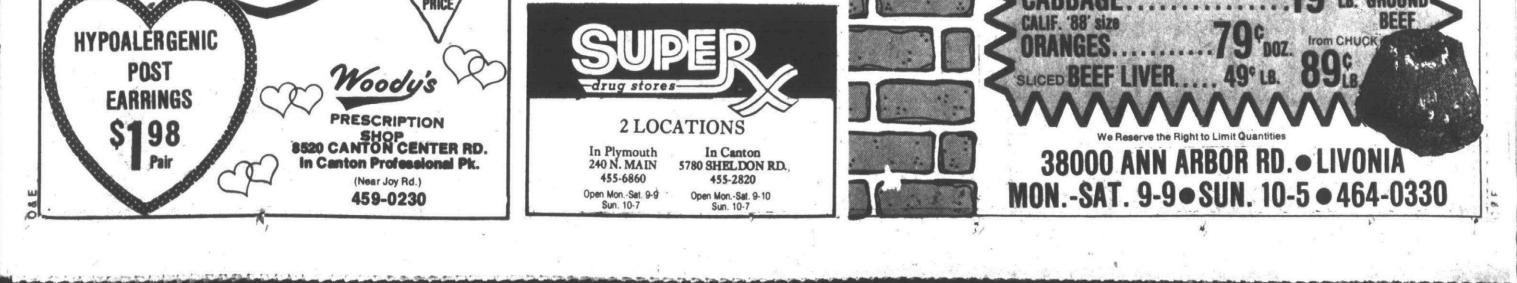

Vickie, 20, was a 1974 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and a student at Eastern Michigan University. She was planning to receive her degree in special education. She is the daughter of Ruth Dupree, 1406 McKinley.

During the course of her long illness, Vickie was given prolonged and expensive treatment, and on several occasions her friends and family appealed to the community for blood donations to keep her alive. Her condition was a matter of concern to many people in the Plymouth-Canton area.

She was hospitalized for the last time on Jan. 6. Funeral services were conducted in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church by the Rev. Arthur Friel. Burial was in Parkview Memorial Cemetery. A rosary service was held in Schrader Funeral Home the evening before the funeral.

Christmas bells rang loudly for 55 youngsters

Editor

cuse.

Editor:

Christmas Eve bells were ringing loud and clear for 55 children in the Plymouth Community School District, thanks to your printing the letter requesting toys and games for the needy children in our school district.

You reached people who were able to donate the boys and games needed. and you also reached people who wanted so much to help in any way they could to brighten the lives of these children for Christmas.

We received toys and games from the children in the pre-school program at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic School and new mittens from the first, second and third graders at Farrand Elementary. The fifth graders at Starkweather Elementary donated time to help gift wrap these items for the children.

Sue Beale and her Girl Scout Troop also offered their time to help wrap. Special thanks should go to Andrea Graham for the many hours she spent sorting and wraping and to May Baker, Marie and Karen Hopper for the hours they spent re-modeling the dolls to look like new

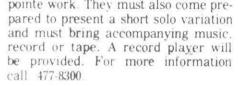

Not only did these children have a happy Christmas, but the Clothing Bank received a most generous gift of $150 for telephone installation and service for 1977 from the Altar and Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel

Staff prepares to field queries

This week has been designated National Vocational Education week, and in conjunction with schools throughout the country, the vocational-technical faculty at Plymouth Salem and Canton High schools are ready to answer any questions regarding vocational education.

Salem High School is located at 46181 Joy Road and Canton High at 8415 Canton Center Road. Both schools are open from 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 453-3100, ext. 366.

The purpose of this national observance is to bring attention to the merits and accomplishments of vocational education, according to Harold Gaertner, director of vocational education for the Plymouth Community School District. He encourages citizens of the community to visit the school during the week to view ongoing projects and programs.

"Both young people and adults today face a tremendous task of selecting career development programs," Gaertner said. "Careful investigation and observation are necessary for the potential student to choose the career training program that will

Wright has good big game hunting season

By LEM MESEE Outdoors writer

If Fred Wright, circulation director of this newspaper, approaches you with a big grin and a fistful of snapshots, the reason is that he has had a spectular nine months of big game hunting

Earlier this month, he bagged a 125pound tom cougar, one of the prize game animals of North America, on a trip out of Boise, Idaho.

One shot through the heart with a 7 mm magnum dropped the cougar. which will be mounted by a taxidermist.

Since May, Fred has taken: a fourpoint whitetail buck in Michigan; a buck antelope in Montana; a fivepoint (western count) mule deer in Wyoming and a 350-pound cinnamon bear in Idaho.

IN MOST LAKES around here, ice fishing is slow, and there are reports of winter-kills of fish.

Severe cold has made the ice up to 20 inches thick, and deep snow on the ice keeps sunlight from filtering through to plants.

When plant growth is down, plants don't discharge oxygen, and dissolved oxygen is what fish need to breathe.

Very little can be done once a dieoff begins, state fishery biologists tell us. The problem is most severe on shallow lakes.

Fishing reports on inland lakes are generally "fair"-which is outdoorsman's jargon meaning "a little better than dismal.

Lake St. Clair fishing is called normal for this time of year for pike in Anchor Bay and Harsen's Island.

RABBIT POPULATIONS are high this year, and hunting pressure is light during our frigid weather.

The bunnies are staying sheltered for the most part, and when they move it's commonly on a sunny, calm afternoon when temperatures start upward.

THIS IS MATING season for red fox in southeastern Michigan and their period of most winter activity. Experienced fox hunters say a good method is to use snowshoes, dress in white painter's coveralls for camouflage, and use a varmint rifle. Look for tracks crossing back roads and take up the trail. Watch far ahead for reynard rouge.

A REMINDER to those who are feeding birds: Once you start, keep it up. Birds will become dependent on the seeds and suet in your feeding station. If you neglect to refill it in frigid weather, the birds are badly hurt. What never ceases to amaze me is stories from folks in built-up areas like northwest Detroit or Royal Oak who have more birds, and a greater variety, than us in newly built suburbs.

Our own bird population has become more varied and numberous each year as there are more bushes and trees in our sun-baked subdivision.

Don't locate your feeder beneath mature conifer trees. A hawk or owl could lurk there to nail a songbird.

HOW WELL THE STROLLER remembered and the nights when he slept on what the Dutch people called a straw 'tick' with a blanket wrapped around him

But the greatest memory of all was the fact that our little frame home in the alley didn't have inside plumbing. Instead, we had what Rudyard Kipling the famous poet called the 'back house.' This was a small building where we went to answer nature's call. In the summer, it served as the background for raising a blanket of sweet peas that always was a delight. But in the

it was like to be aroused in the middle of the night to answer nature's call. Then to put on the boots, wrap yourself in a blanket and go out into the storm with the lamp. Talk about "Liza crossing the ice," she had nothing on us.

It was even worse on the weekends when we kids would spend time with our grandmother. She also had a back house a much greater distance from the house. And there were steps along the way. But The Stroller's grandfather-the "Old Colonel"- made up for the cold treks in the middle of the night. He had the adults' "hole" rimmed with fur in an effort to outsmart Mother Nature.

In Plymouth Invitational Glenn spikers triump

By DENNIS O'CONNOR Sports Editor

Westland John Glenn repeated its performance of a year ago when it won the second-annual Plymouth Volleyball Invitational held Saturday at the Plymouth gym.

The Rockets won this championship with a come-from-behind victory over Livonia Stevenson, 8-15, 15-12, 15-13. Co-host Plymouth Salem placed third with its 15-6 victory over Clarenceville in the consolation round.

Glenn handled Clarenceville in two straight games in a semifinal match, 15-11 and 15-13. Stevenson, the only team to beat Salem in dual match action this year, turned the trick again with a hard-fought 15-12, 7-15, 15-11 win over the Rocks.

Plymouth Canton failed to make the semifinal round finishing with a 5-5 fourth-place record in Division 1 after round-robbin play.

Salem squeezed into the top four with its 7-3 record in Division 2. The Rocks were tied with an improving Northville squad after the priliminary action but were awarded the semifinal berth because they outscored Northville in head-to-head competition by a 25-22 score.

John Glenn always seems to do well in Plymouth tournaments. Not only has the volleyball team won both net invitationals, but the Rocket wrestlers have also won both Plymouth wrestling tournaments held in 1976 and 1977.

THE ROCKETS' DIANE Gorham was voted the tournaments' Most Valuable Player. Six other spikers who gained all-star honors included Debbie Dernay, Kathie Pfeffer and Sandy Hammil of Stevenson, Kim Wintersteen of Glenn, Peggy Moore from Salem and Lisa Redford of Clarenceville

Monday, February 7, 1977

The all-star team and MVP were selected from the votes of the coaches and tournament officials. This years' event was expanded from eight to 12 teams and Salem coach Brian Gilles was more than pleased with the results.

"We improved on the way things were run and everything went smoothly all day," the Rock mentor said. RESULTS W LGB

Rocks bid for their 35th triumph in their last 36 home games. Then on Friday it will be Plymouth at Livonia Bentley, which shares second place in the league with Dearborn at 5-3. Trenton is 5-4, and all other teams are out of title contention completely

For his sixth game in a row, junior Tom Ellinghausen cracked the 20-point barrier as he poured in 27 on the Redford Union court-11 of them coming in the first quarter when the Rocks took an important 22-12 lead

REDFORD UNION came back strong in the second period to close the gap to 36-35 at halftime as the Panthers roard to 23 points behind the hot shooting of Mike Petsch and John Gazley to only 14 for Salem.

The Rocks turned things around with a 22-14 surge in the third period, Chris DeBear, Bob Hissom, Bruce Gerish, Ellinghausen, Hewlett and Christie all lighting up the scoreboard.

"Steve Horton, Pat McKendry and Hissom all came off the bench and did a good job picking up the slack," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "So did John Broderick, and between

Chiefs get revenge on Churchill, 54-47

By DENNIS O'CONNOR Sports Editor

10A (P,C)

Plymouth Canton cagers avenged an earlier loss by handing Livonia Churchill its first Western Six League loss of the season with a 54-47 victory at the Chargers' gym.

This triumph knots the Chiefs' record at 7-7 overall and 3-3 in league play. And since the new year, which Canton entered with a 1-5 record, the Chiefs have won six of the last eight games. Churchill stays on top of the conference with a 5-1 record and currently stands at 8-7 overall.

The laat time this two teams met Canton blew a five-point lead in the last minute to lose a heartbreaker at the Plymouth gym.

But this time it was a different story as Canton took that same fivepoint margin into the final quarter. 36-31, and mounted as much as a 13point advantage with four minutes left to ice the game away

The Chiefs got their fast break into gear in the final period by taking advantage of numerous Charger turnovers which led to easy layups.

"WE CONTROLLED the game the way we wanted to and we shot better," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "I was real pleased with the way we played.

"The defense was getting us the ball (for the fast break) and I just can't say enough about the rebounding.

Canton was forced to play with the likes of a Charger front line that stood 6-4 across the line and were physically bigger that the Chiefs. But Canton stood its ground with its tough 2-1-2 defense and limited the Chargers to only one shot at a time at their basket.

"They (Canton) were quicker, shot better and played better defense than us tonight," said Churchill coach Pat Montagano. "They are the best team in the league right now. The reason I say this is because I fell they beat what I consider the best team in the league

"We're not taking anything for granted but we still are the team to beat.'

Churchill holds that two-game lead over third-place Canton but all four of its remaining league games are on the road.

ROB MANDLE played his usual brilliant floor game in leading the Chiefs with 20 points. The senior captain penetrated Churchill's defenses effectively and was the key assist man on the fast break with his long courtlength passes.

Randy Rienas, Keith Fuelling and Russ Mandle also played well on the boards while reserve Doug Smith gave a steady performance at guard.

Churchill's captain Tom Bay put on an excellent shooting performance over the Canton defense and took game honors with 21. But Canton's de-

There is a move on among the women bowling all-stars to have one of the leagues return to the west side. Until a year ago The Bowlerettes bowled at Motor Lanes on the east side, and the Ladies Major reported each week to Pine Tree Bowl on the west side. In this manner travel was about equalized.

Then came a break, and the Ladies Major went to Luxury Lanes on the east side. Now, the west side teams are urging a return of one to the west side

Rumors have it that the Ladies Major is considering a change and the establishments under consideration are Crown Lanes on Plymouth Road, or the new Taylor Bowl in Taylor.

It is understood the final decision will be made during the coming week. ONE OF THE MOST interesting things about the bowling game is the manner in which the old-timers come to fore from time to time.

This week it was Maurie Quinlan, a member of the all-stars a decade ago. Finding the groove once more he registered a 699 to pace the Wonderland Classic. To get this total he put together games of 239, 217 and 243. Meanwhile, Earl Van Ness' team took top scoring honors with a 3163 series.

HERE'S A NAME to remember-Kelly Kraft.

Although this is only her second year in the women's all-star leagues. she has worked her way up among the leaders. Several weeks ago she won the Mid-City Women's Open and in her latest appearance in the allstar leagues she paced the Ladies Major circuit with a 625, while Gerri Beattie rolled the high single with 243.

Included in the night's high scoring, Mr. F's team, captained by Marge Kropacek, the Plymouth housewife, was one of three teams to hit the 1,000 mark. Her team hit 1,000 right on the nose while Anita Cantaline's Jac-Ro team fashioned a 1,005, and the Bonanza team topped the list with 1,020.

THE SPLIT CONVERSION CLUB picked up quite a few members during the past week at Mayflower Lanes.

Shirley Lectka and Barb Washeako each toppled the 3-7-10, while Camille Holton did the same with the 4-7-10 and Cathy Collins earned membership by upsetting the 6-7-10.

added to the split conversion club at Woodland Lanes.

Bev Weatherford earned her membership by making the 4-5, while Sue McGrath, also of the Tuesday Tumblers loop, knocked over the 5-7. Next came Eleanor Stewart by toppling the 4-10; Janet Waterman did the same with the 1-3-7.

Cleo Lawson, a 141 average bowler, featured the scoring with a 503 series.

WHEN IT COMES to close finishes you won't find many closer than this week's battle in the Trio League at Garden Lanes.

When the last pin fell Richard Setlock was at the head of the parade with a 630 that gave him a one-pin edge on Dick Hall. In third place was Rich Gronowski with a 622 and a onepin lead over Bill Montgomey Jr. Bob Allen was fifth with 616.

Only 14 pins between five bowlers is just about as close as you can get.

VI VEITH took his place among the leaders at Westland Bowl. Bowling in the senior citizens circuit, he linked games of 228, 167 and 171 to pace his

THREE NEW MEMBERS were

Canton edges Thurston

By BILL COLLINS

Following Plymouth Canton's last two meets one might be led to assume that Chief coach Bill Faunce is installing rubber padding on the locker room walls. The Chiefs waited until the last event to decide their match with Redford Thurston Thursday evening. Canton cruised to an easy win in the 400-yard freestyle relay to post an 89-83 victory over the Eagles.

Despite his squad's peculiar fascination for 11th hour heroics, Faunce remains as placid as the water in the 'new' Canton pool. "We had to win that last event in order to win the meet, so we stacked our best relay team and they had an easy time of it," said Faunce.

The Chiefs trailed 21-9 after the first two events, but grabbed the lead in the diving portion of the program when Scott Wales and Scott Gray placed first and third respectively to set the count at 40-38 in the Chiefs' favor. That lead never fell out of Canton hands, although the score was tied at 79 entering the final event.

"Our kids improved on their times by 98 per cent compared to the RU meet, but the difference in the meet was in our ability to pickup many second and third place finishes." said the Conton mentor

Key second-place finishes were provided by Steve Wood in the 200-freestyle and 100-butterfly, Dave Tanner in the 100-yard free, and Mafk Retting in the 100-backstroke. "Those second and third place finishes prove that this was a team meet," added Faunce

Kevin Harris bagged a hat-trick during the evening by winning the 200-individual medley (2:10.3), a scholl record setting performance in the 100free (50.0), and a leg in the 400-free relay.

Jamie Greenwood was the only other individual winner as he stroked the 50-free in 25 seconds flat.

With the score tied at 79-all, the Chiefs' quartet of Greenwood, Wood, Harris, and Tanner easily won their specialty by 19 seconds over Thurston's entry.

"I knew Thurston was weak in the freestyle events, and you have to make those adjustments in your lineup to balance those weaknesses of your own," said Faunce.

mates with a 566 series.

In the ladies classic, Jane Martin showed the way with a 606 that included games of 205 and 191.

FRANK SHERMAN, president of the Industrial and Business League at Plaza Lanes, proved he could be a leader on the lanes, too.

With games of 233, 233 and 165 for a 631 he showed the way to all his mates.

On the women's side, Norma Smith was at the head of the parade in the tri-city circuit with a 533 that included a closing game of 233. In the Coffee and Toast League. Dorothy May had a middle game of 217 in a 581 series.

FRANK BAKER. secretary of the Deisel League that bowls at Southfield Bowl, turned in one of the most unusual performances of the season and soon will have an ABC watch or some other prize to show for it.

He started with a 195 game, then closed the second with four strikes to get a 137 the hard way. But he had the groove and went all the way for a 300 game in the final.

Sixteen strikes in a row! How's that for a 180-average bowler?

WITH GAMESof 234 and 215, Dick Hall moved into the pacemaking role in the Bel-Aire Classic with a 660 series. His closest rival was Cori Messer with a 235 in 654 and Bill Pointer with a 236 in a 636 series.

The big scorer of the week was Bill Wood, who inserted a 244 game in a 682 series. This gave him a margin of 22 pins over Tom Darkulis, who gained the runner-up spot.

In the mixed league, Dot Bashara showed the way when she came through with a 263 game that helped her to a 590 series.

CALL TO ALL birdwatchers: Did anyone happen to notice an eagle around town last week?

Betty and George Hudson, and their daughter Carol Packard, believe the large bird they saw is either a golden eagle or an immature bald eagle.

They live on Burroughs and their living room window overlooks Clarence Moore's field at the rear of their property. The large, brownish bird was at least two feet in length with about a six-foot wingspread.

Betty said the underpart of the wings was lighter in color than the rest of its feathers.

The crows and other winter birds that live in the area showed great excitement and alarm over the stranger's presence.

The Hudsons immediately referred to a bird book and the golden eagle was closest in size and overall appearance.

It would be interesting to know if anyone else saw the bird.

THERE'S A NEW LOOK at the Art Rental Gallery in Dunning-Hough Library.

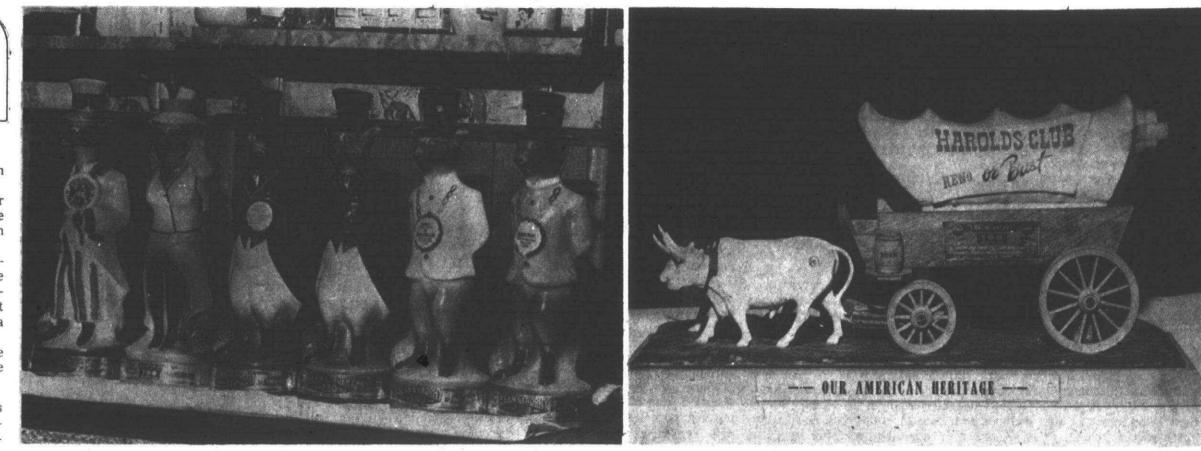

Besides a new paint job, the gallery has acquired a dozen or so new works of art.

There now are 90 pieces for rent, including 44 originals.

The rental gallery is open Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Co-sponsored by the library and the Plymouth Community Arts Council, Marilyn Connolly and Pat Oldford are on hand to sign out the paintings.

A new painting can be a real morale booster—almost as good as 'as a spring cleaning or a redecorating job.

Bottle collection tells the history of America

By W.W. EDGAR

Few persons may consider the first look at a collection of empty bottles a breathtaking experience. That is until they chance to see the fascinating display of Jim Beam bottles in Police Lt. Bill Guldner's home.

There, atop cupboards in the kitchen, on shelves in the living room, and on all sides of an exhibition room in the basement, he has 400 multi-colored whiskey bottles that are considered one of the most outstanding displays in the country. As he spoke, Lt. Guldner pointed out some of his favorite bottles, beginning with one on the kitchen table that would astonish anyone at first sight.

It is a replica of the Olsenite automoble, complete with wheels and motor and about 18 inches long.

"Would you believe this is a bottle?" he asked.

Then he lifted the motor on the rear and, sure enough, there was a Jim Beam bottle under the seat. "And if you notice each bottle depicting a machine with wheels or other moving parts," he went on, "all move. They are more than figurines." "We even have bottles commemorating baseball's birthday, and others dealing with the heroes of the game."

Then, with a smile, he pointed to another on the top shelf and said, "This one is a replica of the New Orleans Superdome."

Among the others that fascinate him are those depicting the old Model T Ford and the first Oldsmobile. He also has a replica of the first Faygo beverage bottle.

GAÉ McCORD, Observer social columnist was expected back in town last weekend. She and husband, Denver. spent the month of January in Florida.

The McCords' return trip was shortstopped in Knoxville, Tenn., when Denver became ill. He is in Park West Hospital and Gae is staying nearby in an inn.

Their daughter, Martha Griswold, says her father is doing very well following surgery, but they will be in Knoxville for another two weeks. Notes or cards would be appreciated. Gae's address is Prime Way

Inn, 9340 Park West Blvd., Knoxville, Tenn. 37919.

A CHECK WITH the local library revealed the January snows and prolonged cold spell did not result in a great boost in the reading business.

"We certainly haven't lost any customers," said Celia Baber. But they haven't gained any either. "It has averaged just about the same as last January."

She added, "Of course, we have a waiting list miles long on 'Roots."

She said most of the new books, both fiction and non-fiction, are very popular and have waiting lists.

those who do not wish to be on stage, they will need help backstage with costumes, props, makeup and scenery.

Those interested can call Kathy at the PCAC office any morning, Monday through Thursday.

It promises to be as much (or more) fun than the Great Chicken Race.

LONELINESS AND Depression will be the topic at 8 p.m. Feb. 8 at a meeting for widowed persons.

Ron Rogowski, counselor, will head the discussion in room B200 of Schoolcraft College's Liberal Arts building, 18600 Haggerty Road.

There is no admission charge. The program is part of a series sponsored by Schoolcraft College, Newman House, and Manley-Burrell and Turowski Funeral Home.

"THE GANG" at the Crow's Nest recently received a card from Les Howes who was holidaying in the Mediterranean area.

The postcard was mailed from Monte Carlo and his reference to the "cool blue waters and cool girls" obviously was an attempt to arouse the envy of "the gang."

Starting in 1968 at the behest of his brother-in-law, Leman Inglass, of St. Louis, Mich., he has taken over the collecting of these bottles as a hobby and a means of relieving boredom now that he is on sick leave from the Plymouth police department because of open heart surgery.

"This has turned out to be a great hobby for both me and my wife," he said, as he toured from one shelf to another pointing out what he considered unusual pieces.

We now go to conventions, and last year at Hartford, Conn., we met collectors from such distant points as Alaska and Australia.

"COLLECTING the Jim Beam bottles," he said, "has become such a popular hobby that we now have what is called the International Association of Jim Beam Bottles and Specialty Club.

"There are branches all over the world and we have four clubs in Michigan." Moving from one shelf to another, he finally picked up a bottle and asked, "How much do you think it's worth?"

Before anyone could estimate the price, he answered, "$3,000. It was made as a specialty for the First National Bank of Chicago and is the costliest bottle the Jim Beam Company ever made."

WALKING FROM DISPLAY SHELF to display shelf, he pointed out bottles commemorating every phase of American history.

Starting with what looked like a regular dinner plate, with Martha Washington's picture, that had a bottle on the back, there was another of George. Others dealing with history were one for Pearl Harbor, and one showing a WWII soldier's helmet over his shoes. It was to mark the return of the boys from overseas. The bottles that interest him the most are those dealing with the nation's wildlife.

"HERE IS ONE showing ducks. And, would you believe it," he said, "the Jim Beam Company contributes a percentage of all sales of this bottle to the wildlife people for the purchase of more wetlands for the ducks.

"It is the same with the birds and fish. A percentage of sales is donated for the preservation of the birds and fish and finding even more areas for them."

Still roving around the room, he pointed out bottles for such luminaries as Charlie McCarthy, the famed wooden partner of Edgar Bergen and his buddy, Mortinger Snerd.

There were others of Bonnie and Clyde. Even the old-time Pony Express was there in bottle form, along with another in the sports division that commemorated the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

There was a bottle for every state in the Union, with Michigan's Wolverine among the most fascinating. Part of the cost of the Ducks Unlimited bottles goes to the pro-

With the bottles ranging in price from $5 to $3,000 Guldner couldn't put a price on the collection—but it would be a tidy sum.

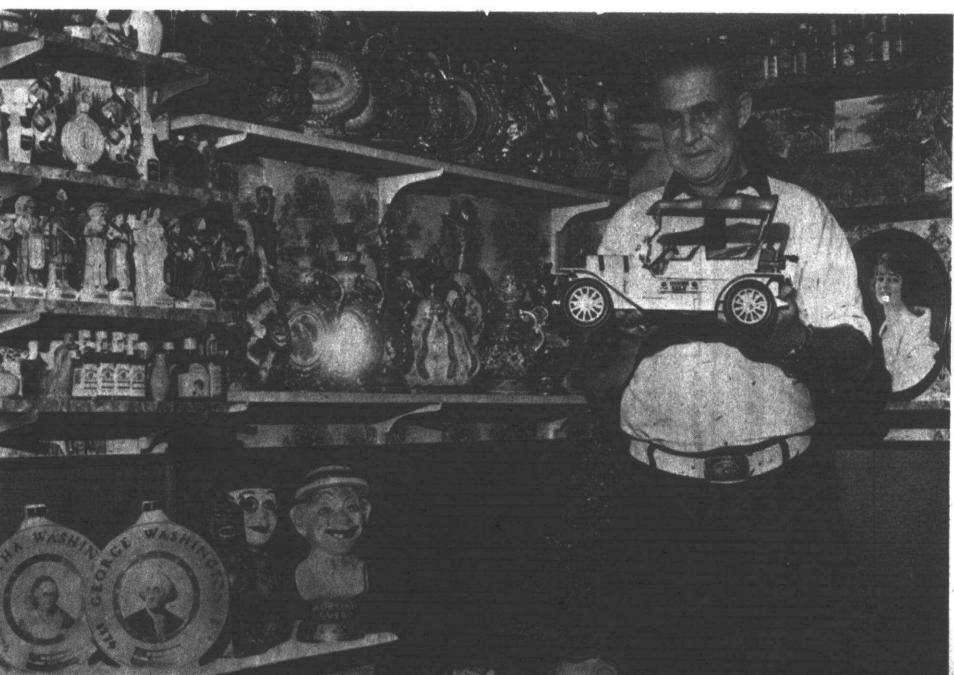

"I'm having a great time on my sick leave just going over the bottles," he said. "And I'm glad my brother-in-law, who quit collecting after reaching 200, got me interested."

"And if there is anyone interested in joing in the fun," he concluded, "our club meets the last Thursday of each month in the UAW Hall, Local 182 on Plymouth Road. We are always on the lookout for new members.

"They might like to start with something like this," Guldner said as he held up a bottle honoring the delectable dish, Italian chile, with the recipe on the back. It was a breath-taking display.

Guldner reveals the hidden bottle in the Dan Gurney Olsenite, a model of the one driven by Bobby Unser when he won the Indianapolis 500.

Bill Guldner shows the Thomas Flyer bottle. The automobile was manufactured in 1909. On the bottom shelf are the Martha and George Washington bottles, King Kong, Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd.

Police find grandchild

Bob and Gwen Royston of Brandywine in Canton are very happy grandparents today. Few are aware of the fearful ordeal the couple endured recently.

2B (P,C)

They were enjoying a weekend visit from their granddaughters, Debbie and Jamie. The girls played in the snow, slid on the ice and were having a very merry time. A short time*later the older child. Debbie, was missing.

Having been given permission to take a walk, the sisters were told not to cross streets and to stay within sight of the house. As often happens, one interesting sight led to another and soon the pair strayed farther afield Eventually, Jamie, 5, became frightened and managed to return to her grandparents' home.

She burst in the door and declared her 7-year-old sister was lost.

The Roystons were not immediately concerned but decided to call Debbie home because of dropping temperatures

After three trips around the subdivision, alarm deepened. Their geatest fear was that the child had wandered onto Sheldon Road and would become a kidnap victim.

This assumption is not surprising since the girls live in Oakland County were recent child murders have terrified the community

ROYSTON notified the Wayne County Sheriffs Department and Canton Township's Reserve Police Unit. Cars were dispatched to the home

Armed with a picture of Debbie and a description of her clothing, the two police units cooperated in a systematic search of the area.

Within an hour, she was found. A sheriff's patrol car had picked up a radio message about the lost child. The patrolmen had spotted her walking along Versailles near Morton Taylor Road, quite a distance from the Roystons'house

Shivering and sobbing, Debbie recognized the man as a police officer. When he knelt and asked if she was lost and wanted to go home the terrified youngster nodded, and her crying subsided.

Debbie received a tearful welcome when she was returned to her grandparents. When asked why she walked to the patrol car. Debbie stated she had been taught policemen were her friends and would always help you.

Bob Royston, a dispatcher for the Canton reserves, was in agreement

CONGRATULATIONS to Tom and Diane Rose on the birth of their daughter Kathryn Elizabeth. Katy, born Jan. 22, is the sixth heir to the family throne. Preceding her are a sister, Jennifer, and four brothers, Daniel, Larry, and twins Keith and Kent.

Keith Rose has had his share of excitement over the past years.

While attending the Florida Air Academy in Melbourne, Fla., he began taking flying lessons. He was one of the youngest students to acquire a pilot's license. At 17, Keith was flying before he had a driving permit

Although he continues an interest in aircraft. Keith's current success is in the field of music. He is a member of Destination, a rock band.

The musicians are hard at work establishing a name for themselves. After a successful appearance in the Plymouth High Schools Battle of the Bands, they began receiving requests for dance engagements.

One such request provided Keith and his cohorts an opportunity to entertain the Swedish hockey team during its recent visit to the Plymouth-Canton area.

In February, Destination will play for a student dance at West Middle School.

An industrious young man, Keith also is managing a part-time job after school, is buying a car, and still finding time for his social life.

A SURPRISING number of pinochle clubs are blossoming in the Canton area

Donna Farquhar of Durham Avenue was hostess this month for one such card-playing group.

Winners for the evening were Sally Barnard and Chris Dawes. Consolation prize was awarded to Roberta Zander.

THE ROYAL HOLIDAY seniors enjoyed their weekly bingo game and social. Money winners were Edna Collard, Betty Torrito, Ruby McCauley, and Tom Knight.

The seniors also had a white elephant auction in the park to raise funds. The treasury gained about $65 and the customers added a few new treasures to their collections

More than 80 residents and friends attended. Helen Cobb acquired a scenic oil painting, the work of her neighbor Grace Chipps

Mrs. Walter Fluegge and Mary Woods found a number of delightful items among the variety of jewelry, odd dishes, lamps, broom holders and stationery. The candelabra and opera glasses were among the first to be auctioned.

Even the rubber bathmat finally found an owner.

Newcomers club learns how to cope after 25th

"Women in Transition-The Middle Years" was the subject of Betty Andrews' talk last Thursday before the Plymouth Newcomers Club.

Ms. Andrews, a Plymouth resident. is assistant dean of community services at Schoolcraft College.

Because people are living longer, that extended lifespan has brought its problems. Ms Andrews discussed these problems and gave suggestions on how to cope with them.

She spoke of the changes which occur in a woman's relationship with her husband after 15 to 20 years of marriage. In the past, she said, most people did not live long enough to celebrate their silver anniversaries and there were not as many divorces.

She gave statistics. One out of four widows is under 45 with dependentchildren. Six million middle-aged women in the United States are in the 'displaced homemaker' category They are not eligible for government help-especially widowed or divorced women without previous work experience outside the home

Then there are the liberated women who decided to complete their education and at middle age are ready for a new career

With the husband looking forward to retirement and his wife looking forward to a new job, problems arise.

Ms. Andrews talked about being happy with oneself at this time of life-of finding something to do that you never had time for before.

She emphasized the need to keep physically fit and told the young women to guard their health now to prepare for middle age.

Ms. Andrews explained the services at Schoolcraft College which are geared to the women in transition The community college can help trair them for jobs, provide counseling job placement and help them develop themselves.

County relaxes pollution controls

Perry Stearns, director of the health department, said the relief was made at the request of several major fuel oil users, refineries and dealers.

"Protecting the public's health and welfare was the major factor in making this announcement," Stearns said. He said hospitals, schools, and homes as consumers of fuel oil were a major consideration in the decision.

MORTON STERLING, director of the Air Pollution Control Division, said that sulfur-in-fuel limits are being relaxed for the month of February only. He called the action "reponsive to the current fuel oil shortage conditions," noting that the requests came to his office only this week.

Oil demands have increased markedly from regular oil burning customers combined with the added burden of regular natural gas consumers switching to oil as standby fuel.

Many large commercial and industrial natural gas users in this area have "interruptible" contracts with Michigan Consolidated Gas which requires them to switch to alternate fuels to insure natural gas service to its firm customers and especially residential users.

Sterling said that large consumers and supplier-refiners asked the sulfur limits be eased because supliers are unable to meet current consumer oil demands within the sulfur-in-fuel limits set by the county's Air Pollution Control Regulation.

Marathon Oil Corp., this area's only oil refinery, said that supplies of lowsulfur "sweet" crude oil are critically short, forcing the oil company to switch to higher sulfur bearing "sour" crude for refining in order to maintain full refinery production.

STERLING SAID the move will allow the sulfur content in fuel oils to rise from 0.3 to 0.5 per cent for residential oil, and from one to two per cent for commercial and industrial usage.

A review of sulfur oxide air quality for the months of December 1976 and January 1977 indicates that granting of this relief would not likely cause violation of federal health related air quality standards, Sterling said. He said the division will maintain vigilant air monitoring during February to assure that sulfur oxide levels remain within the health standards county wide.

TRANSPORTATION WEEK IS HERE

On any of four nights this week, including Wednesday night at the Westland City Hall, you will have the opportunity to get involved in a process that will affect your personal mobility for many years to come. That's when the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) will present at public hearings its work and progress on its Alternatives Analysis study (see box).

ALTERNATIVES ANALYSIS?

Simply, it means just that. The people at SEMTA have been studying and refining alternatives of bus and rail rapid transit combinations. They're performing this work in light of social, economic and environmental considerations, as they look at the ridership potential of any new system. It's technical and complicated, but worth the effort. From this work will emerge final recommendations on what kind of improved public transportation will become available to you in the near future. But SEMTA didn't arrive at next week's meetings overnight.

IT TOOK FORESIGHT

Your local elected officials, planners, civic leaders and many citizens debated and worked many years to arrive two years ago at an adopted 1990 Transportation Plan for Southeastern Michigan. They saw the need for clean, safe, reliable public transportation as part of the total transportation mix for this area. That plan contains the public transit element that is the basis for SEMTA's current Alternatives Analysis work.

IT TOOK ACTION

Last year your state legislators passed and Gov. Milliken signed into law public acts that will provide a way to raise Southeastern Michigan's local portion of the funds needed to develop our area's public transportation system.

IT TOOK A COMMITMENT

Last year, the federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) committed to Southestern Michigan $600 million over several years to match with our local portion of funds so that we can begin expanding and improving the transportation system we have, eventually developing it into a total, regional transportation system for Southeastern Michigan.

IT TAKES YOU

To get involved. This week SEMTA will present and discuss the various alternatives and their combinations. SEMTA needs to hear your views and reactions. In the coming weeks, the people at SEMTA will be eliminating alternatives as they arrive at recommendations, and begin to implement a program. Take part in Transportation Week. You can't afford to ride this one out.

KISS YOUR BABY WEEK

ISN'T THAT EVERY WEEK? Well---yes, but February 7 through February 13 is a very special "Kiss Your Baby Week" in Michigan.

THE PURPOSE of having a "Kiss Your Baby Week" is to help bring about the early diagnosis of Cystic Fibrosis. Cystic Fibrosis is a lung disease that causes sweat with an abnormally high salt content, while other lungdamaging diseases do not. Very often a salty taste can be detected from kissing a child.

kiss your baby

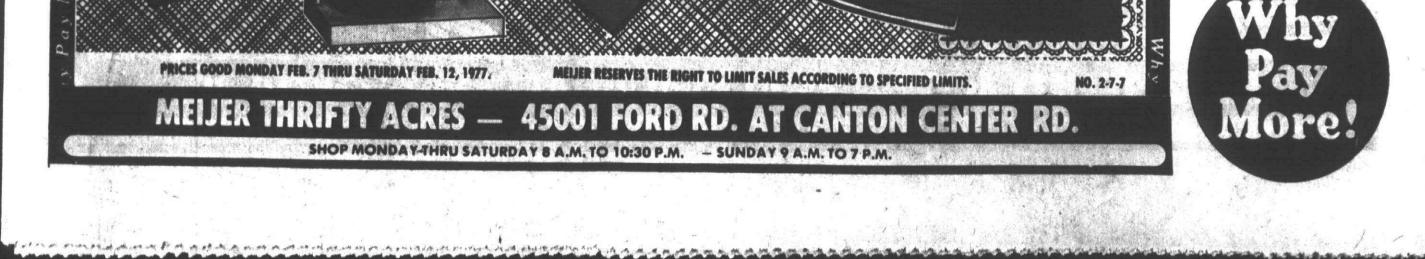

Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic (inherited) disease. In Cystic Fibrosis a thick, sticky mucus clogs the lungs and airways, creating breathing difficulties, high susceptibility to infection and lung damage. The mucus may also interfere with digestion by preventing the flow of enzymes into the small intestine, causing majabsorption of food.

THE CYSTIC FIBROSIS FOUN-DATION OF MICHIGAN has provided us with this information for "Kiss Your Baby Week". Contact the branch office in your area for further information or the:
