Harper wins 2 to 1; S'craft mills defeated

By EMORY DANIELS

Stephen Harper easily won election, by an almost 2-1 margin, to a four-year term on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education in Monday's election.

In the Schoolcraft College election, however, Jack Bologna of Plymouth Township lost out by 99 votes while the college's millage request was defeated.

The unofficial tally of the local school board race showed Harper with 1,563 votes followed by Arlene Callahan with 895 and Mary Jane Mulaski with 298. Harper is from Plymouth Township while the two challengers are from Canton.

Only 11 per cent of the school district's registered voters turned out Monday to vote in the local trustees race.

The Schoolcraft millage was defeated throughout the college district by a vote of 7,659 "no" to 6,156 "yes. The margin was as close in Plymouth-Canton as the millage was defeated by 1,616 to 1,142.

In the trustees race, incumbent Rosina Raymond of Livonia led the field with 5,578 votes. A suprise second-place finisher was Leonard Wozniak of Livonia with 4,540 votes. Harry Greenleaf of Livonia placed third at 4,417. All were elected as at-large trustees to six-year terms.

Bologna was a close fourth with 4,318 votes. Those running behind Bologna were: Laura Toy, 4,056; Richard Hayward, 2,946; Karl Sjogren, 2,928; Michael Cicchella, 1,517; and, George Gravila, 935 votes.

In Plymouth-Canton, Bologna won all 14 precincts to gather 1,837 votes. Locally, Mrs. Raymond finished second at 792, Greenleaf third at 762 and Wozniak fourth at 675. Wozniak ran strong in Canton, finishing second in four precincts—Farrand, Miller, Hulsing and Eriksson.

Greenleaf, a leader in the Republican party for the 2d District, placed second at Bird Elementary, tied for second with Raymond at Field, and ran second at Gallimore, Isbister, Starkweather, Allen and West Middle. Mrs. Raymond ran second at Central Middle, Allen, Fiegel, Field, and Canton High.

The Schoolcraft millage request was defeated in all precincts.

The Schoolcraft trustees election leaves the Plymouth-Canton area without any representation on the college board for the first time since the college was founded. Arch Vallier and LeRoy Bennett didn't run for re-election; Bologna was the only candidate from this area on the ballot.

IN THE PLYMOUTH-CANTON school board race, Harper won in 10 of the school district's 14 precincts and also won in the absentee ballot counting board.

Mrs. Callahan of Canton carried precincts at Fiefel, Husling, Eriksson and Field elementary schools. Fiegel, in Plymouth Township, draws its student enrollment heavily from Canton. Hulsing, Eriksson and Field all are located in Canton.

Harper said he was concerned about his chances for victory because both Mrs. Callahan and Mrs. Mulaski were Canton residents. "There was a lot of potential for more Canton voters turning out, especially with two candidates from Canton," Harper said Monday night after the final votes were tallied. "I was never confident at all—no way!"

Harper was worried about a possible heavy turnout of Canton elementary school parents—many of which he thought were apt to vote for Mrs. Callahan. "I'm just happy that the Plymouth voters came through."

Although carrying 10 precincts, Harper ran quite strong in: Central Middle, 217 to 101 for Callahan; Isbister, 182 to 62 for Callahan; Allen, 158 to 101 for Callahan; West, 247 to 45 for Callahan; Farrand, 187 to 84 for Callahan; and Bird, 114 to 32 for Callahan.

The margin between Harper and Callahan was close at Gallimore, Miller, Eriksson, Field, and Plymouth Canton High.

Investors in a $5 million recreation complex at Ford and Haggerty roads got the green light and a liquor license application approval Tuesday night from the Canton Township board by a 5-1 vote. The only dissenting vote came from Trustee Brian Schwall who believes the area will be overloaded with bowling lanes.

Giant sports complex receives liquor license

A group of Dearborn developers were given the go-ahead to plan a $5 million recreation complex at Haggerty and Ford roads by the Canton Board of Trustees Tuesday night.

The board granted the group a Class C liquor license, which the developers needed as an assurance to begin serious planning of the project. The group had already dumped initial costs of $29,000 into the building without any commitments from the township.

Architect/planner Ned Apigian presented a detailed written and illustrated display to the township board to combat fears about the developers misusing the liquor license by building a less elaborate project.

But the board assured itself of fair play by approving the liquor license contingent upon completion of Phase I of the project, and demanding a review one year from the date of issuance to insure developers comply with statements made at Tueday's presentation.

The developers' next step will be to get a site plan approved so they can begin ground-breaking ceremonies on schedule in mid-August. Apigian said the complex will take 9-11 months to construct.

The complex, called The Center, will mean an extra $188,000 in annual tax revenue for the township, say developers. The building will house 72 bowling lanes, 21 racquetball and seven tennis courts, a restaurant, bar, lounge, fully equipped locker room facilities, nurseries and meeting rooms.

PHASE II of construction will add four movie theaters, with seating ranging from 250 to 400 to the complex. Apigian said one of the seven major metropolitan movie exhibitors is interested in locating in the Canton site, but no serious discussion can take place until both a liquor license and site approval is granted.

The building alone will cover 4.3 acres of the total 16-acre site. It will mean approximately 100 additional jobs for area residents and could provide 24-hour entertainment, said Apigian.

"We believe this will be the place to go in Canton and western Wayne County to watch other people play or recreate themselves. It will be a place of entertainment for all ages and sexes during all hours of the day and night, weekdays and weekends. It will be the center of things in Canton," Apigian said.

Of the $29,000 the developers have spent on the complex to date, $11,000 covered architecture expenses, with the remainder going for construction agreement ($3,000), economic analysis studies ($4,100), options to purchase the property ($10,000) and soil analysis ($1,250).

The four principal investors in the sports complex are Ted Hochstein, Sr., of Pontiac, owner of Mercury Lanes, Dearborn; Ted Hochstein, Jr., Dearborn Heights, owner of Cherry Hill Lanes, Dearborn; Ralph Gumtow, Dearborn, manager of Mercury Lanes; Frank Kulha, Wayne, partner and manager of World Manufacturing; and Richard Mooradian, Highland Park, president of U.S. Auto Radiator Manufacturing.

The developers had already purchased 100 Brunswick Astroline bowling lanes for cash in April 1976, amounting to more than $1.1 million, according to the architect.

The Canton board approved the liquor license application by a 5-1 vote, Brian Schwall opposing, and Robert Myers not attending. Schwall said he voted against the proposal because of letters the board received from AMF and Brunswick bowling equipment companies stating the community could not support 172 lanes in the five-

County deadline nears

Bradley, Daley recall drive completed

Upon hearing the deadline for all recall petitions is rapidly approaching if only one election is to be held, Lynn LaBell gathered her troops and hit the streets and shopping centers last weekend collecting signatures on petitions to recall Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Gene Daley.

By Tuesday, employees in the Canton clerk's office reported that 1,719 unchecked signatures calling for the recall of Treasurer Bradley have been submitted. For Trustee Daley's recall, 1,700 signatures were turned in.

While three separate batches of Bradley-Daley petitions have been submitted—the first was delivered June 1—none have been checked against the voter rolls to see if the people who signed are registered voters. It is the duty of the local clerk to verify that signers are registered to vote in the community.

LaBELL ACCELERATED her petition effort last weekend after hearing Wayne County Clerk Orvylle Tungate say the already-completed recall petitions for Supervisor Harold Stein must be turned in to the county by June 25. To guarantee that both the Stein and the Bradley-Daley recalls show up on the same ballot, Tungate said the Bradley-Daley petitions must be turned in to the county "at the most, 15 days" after June 25.

Tungate explained that it is the duty of the county to schedule a recall election within 60 days after checking the petitions. The verification process takes 15 days. The deputy county clerk explained that it takes almost 45 days advance notice to contact the election scheduling committee and then order the correct printing on recall ballots.

Mrs. LaBell, head of the Bradley-Daley recall drive, said the biggest push for signatures was done over the past weekend.

"We really got out and worked Friday and Saturday," she said. "We hit Pickwick subdivision hard, along with Willow Creek. Then we went back to Kroger's (in Harvard Square) and picked up a few signatures there.

"WE WORKED our little butts off, pardon the expression, but we got them (the signatures)," said Mrs. LaBell. "I'd say there are 1,650, maybe close to 1,700. We hurried up our drive so we can have one election to decide if any of the three are to be recalled. If it came down to paying for two separate recall elections, I wouldn't even support it."

The recall movement began when Peter Gabbert began circulating petitions May 21 seeking the ouster of Canton Supervisor Stein. Gabbert's drive netted 1,280 signatures of valid Canton voters, according to the local clerk. Stein recall petitions have not yet been submitted to the county for further checking because Gabbert says he wants to wait and submit his petitions to the county the same day LaBell does. Gabbert's petition deadline is June 25.

JOHN FLODIN, township clerk, was asked if the Bradley-Daley petitions would all be checked by June 25.

"We'll do our very best," Flodin said. "If there is any way we can spare the cost of having two elections we'll do it. But you must remember that checking recall petitions isn't all we do in this office. That's part of the problem. The job requires a lot of time and a lot of concentration."

Stein, Flodin get 8% pay hike

Officials in Canton Township unanimously approved a recommendation from its compensation commission to raise the annual salaries of both township supervisor and clerk by eight per cent.

The recommendations meant wage hikes from $19,488 to $21,000 for Supervisor Harold Stein; and from $18,228 to $19,700 for Clerk John Flodin. The salary for Treasurer Anne Bradley remains the same at $7,500.

The board did not pass a resolution, which the compensation commission strongly urged, to provide for the establishment of annual salaries for trustees on the board who are presently paid on a per meeting basis.

Board trustees are presently paid $40 per meeting. The reasoning behind the resolution was to eliminate the potential problem of trustees delaying decisions for pay. Flossie Tonda, a member of the commission, believes an annual salary would make trustees "more accountable to the people."

Trustee Brian Schwall raised similar concerns if the trustees were put on a salary scale. "Then people could say we were skipping meeting and getting paid whereas in the past we wouldn't (have been able to)."

9 in running for chief

The original 23 contenders for the job Canton Township police chief have been whittled down to nine.

After examining all of the resumes submitted, the board of trustees selected what members considered the ten most qualified candidates. However, one of the 10, Eugene G. Caviston, of Greenwood, Indiana, did not show up at the township fire hall to take the written examination administered by the Michigan Municipal League.

The League was chosen to give the test because some board members criticized local civil service testing criteria.

According to a spokesperson for the League, no final test results have yet tabulated. "The written exams have not been corrected or graded," she said, "and the applicants will probably be given oral boards."

Township Clerk John Flodin said the board of trustees will make the final decision on the new police chief.

Painless

Canton Building Inspector Gary Barnett took it all lying down Monday afternoon, or should we say gave it all lying down. The Wayne County Bloodmobile rolled into town this week and numerous township employees and residents rolled up their sleeves and pitched in to aid the effort to provide blood for all who need it. Bologna loses SC trustee bid

The Jaycees answered the Schoolcraft College election question.

The question wasn't which three of the nine candidates would be elected to six-year terms on the community college board of trustees. It was widely expected that incumbent Vice-Chairperson Rosina Raymond would lead the ticket and Harry Greenleaf would take another seat—which they did.

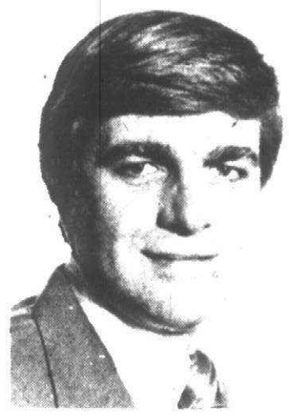

The question was which of the remaining seven candidates would take the third seat. The answer was Leonard E. Wozniak, 36, a former Livonia Jaycees president, active in Republican politics, making his first bid for public office.

The surprise

THE RESULTS of Monday's balloting:

1. Mrs. Raymond, of Livonia, seeking a second term—5,578. She also led the ticket in her first try.

2. Wozniak, of Livonia—4,540. He is a salesman for Datapoint Corp., in data processing equipment.

3. Greenleaf, of Livonia—4,417. The Ford engineer and personnel staff man, a leader of the highly successful Republican organization in the 2nd District-Wayne, was making his second bid for a Schoolcraft seat.

4. G.J. (Jack) Bologna, of Plymouth—4,318, less than 100 votes behind Greenleaf. Bologna's defeat means that two retiring trustees from Plymouth will be replaced by two from Livonia. The breakdown of board seats now is: Livonia, six; Plymouth, one; Garden City, one; Clarenceville and Northville, none.

5. Laura M. Toy, of Livonia—4,065. The former Schoolcraft student's strong showing was a surprise in view of her lack of support from groups usually campaigning in the Schoolcraft district. She ran second in Clarenceville and third in Garden City and Livonia, but trailed off in Plymouth and Northville.

6. Richard Hayward, of Livonia—2,946. A construction executive with no political connections, Hayward was making his second bid for a Schoolcraft seat.

7. Karl Sjogren, of Clarenceville—2,928. The 23-year-old former president of the Schoolcraft Student Senate ran the most energetic and personally visible campaign, speaking even at school board meetings. Campaign advisers are now suggesting he join the Jaycees.

8. Michael Cicchella, of Livonia—1,517.

9. George Gravila, of Livonia—935.

THERE WERE partisan overtones to the campaign. Active Democrats tended to line up behind Mrs. Raymond, Bologna and Sjogren, with some supporting Miss Toy.

Candidates with Republican connections included Greenleaf and Wozniak and, to a lesser extent, Cicchella.

But holders of non-partisan offices—such as Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara—bestowed endorsements freely without regard to party lines, though McNamara is nominally a Democrat.

A prominent Democrat who asked not to be quoted by name suggested Sjogren's candidacy cut into votes that might have put Bologna over the top. Bologna, 46, is a self-employed management consultant who spent many years in federal service, working at one time with Michigan's late Sen. Philip Hart.

Mrs. Raymond, Wozniak and Greenleaf will take their oaths of office July 11.

Supporters stunned by millage defeat

By TIM RICHARD

Usually when you're going to take a bath at the polls, you have some inkling it's coming.

That's why Schoolcraft College officials and supporters were stunned Monday when voters turned down their request for a 0.8-mill property tax increase.

The vote was 6,156 in favor and 7,659 against, for a 45 per cent yes vote. Only the Northville K-12 district, of the five which compromise the community college district, gave it a majority.

"EVERYTHING WAS right," said President C. Nelson Grote, frowning slightly in disbelief.

"The economy was right. Cars are selling. People are back at work.

"The campaign was excellent and positive," he said, citing the leadership of Livonia Police Commissioner Edward Milligan and the support from college staffers David Heinzman in community relations, Patrick Newman, Midge Ellis and Marvin Gans.

"The candidates were all for it," a reference to the fact that all nine candidates for three trustee positions endorsed the millage.

"There were no other school millages on the ballot."

"There was no organized opposition," said another millage supporter.

HERE IS HOW the individual districts voted:

•Clarenceville—169 yes, 188 no. "That's the first time Clarenceville hasn't supported a Schoolcraft millage," said Heinzman, a one-time Clarenceville teacher.

•Garden City—750 yes, 1,399 no. "Garden City!" harrumphed Schoolcraft board Chairman Paul Kadish. "We have 900 students down there (at the Harrison center), and only 750 yes votes. Our own people didn't support us."

•Livonia—3,037 yes, 3,479 no.

•Northville—1,058 yes, 977 no.

•Plymouth-Canton—1,142 yes, 1,616 no.

Garden City School District has been torn over teacher problems and unable to pass its own millage. It was generally felt the Schoolcraft proposal might have problems there. But a defeat of less than a 2-1 margin was a modest improvement from the 3-1 defeat of a 1976 proposal for 0.53 mills.

"THE MOST IMPORTANT thing we lost was the $10 million bond issue," Grote told the campaign group. "We will withdraw our application tomorrow morning."

He referred to a board decision of intent to sell a bond issue to support (among other things) expansions or new facilities for the fine arts program, applied sciences, a new learning resources center and the campus center.

Although those projects weren't on the ballot, the college made it plain the millage would be used to finance the programs that would go into them.

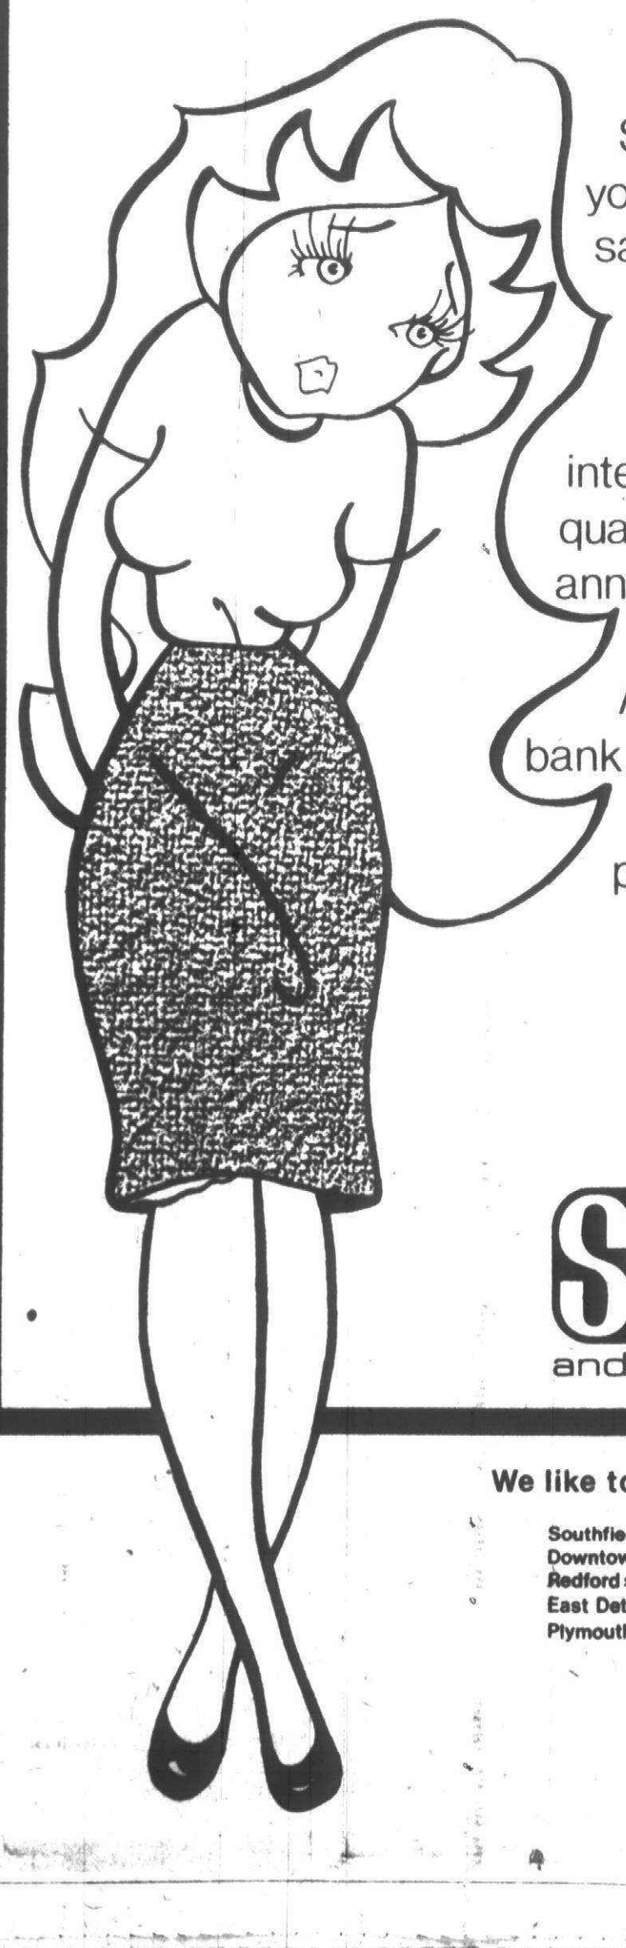

Grote said the board would be asked to approve a tuition increase, but he called that source of revenue "a Band-Aid process."

"WE'VE GOT some budget problems first thing tomorrow morning," said Kenneth Lindner, vice-president for finance.

The millage, if approved and levied in full, would have brought in $1.5 million. Actually, the board planned to levy increasing amounts over a five-year period.

Immediately, said Lindner, the budget will be out of balance $346,000. Total budget is $10 million-plus.

Where buyers-sellers meet

Booming marketplace

All it takes is a sign, and an open garage door, and there's money to be made. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Tips for nouveau capitalists

By PATRICK TOUHEY

Empty wooden picture frames, a large cardboard box of hairrollers in assorted sizes, and a battered, leather-bound copy of "Where Love Has Gone," are just a few of the items placed strategically around the floor.

Or, if your taste runs to the more practical, there is a rack chock-full of jackets, dresses, shirts, and slacks. Inside, in the middle of the room, there are two tables full of kitchen appliances, children's toys, and a wealth of knickknacks and household goods.

You guessed it: A garage sale.

Like unpacking bathing suits or planting gardens, garage sales have become a summer ritual for many people and a growing cultural phenomena.

Cities do it; schools do it; neighborhoods do it, and plain, old everyday people do it.

They are fast becoming a standard procedure for raising money for charity, churches, block associations, or just some extra spending cash.

ON ANY WEEKEND, a leisurely drive around the Plymouth-Canton area might convince you that garage sales have replaced TV watching as the national pastime.

Signs pointing the way to various "used merchandise" meccas sprout from telephone poles, trees, fence posts, and any other spot that's in a good position to catch the passing motorist's eye.

And contrary to some dark mutterings, it's not all junk that is being disposed of. Many garage shoppers claim they've found some real treasures hidden behind plaster mermaids with clocks in their stomachs.

In fact, many folks have made garage sale "hopping" a social outing. Women get together early in the day in groups of two or three, check the classified ads, plot maps, and spend the day browsing among the neighborhood bazaars.

Traveling together, they say, cuts down on transportation costs. And many sprees usually turn out to be far less expensive than a similar day at one of the shopping malls.

Of course, looking for garage sale deals is not restricted to women only. Men, too, are cultivating the knack of knowing a bargain when they see one.

Husbands often look for tools which would normally be too expensive to purchase new. Or they might pick up small curiosity items—such as a micrometer—that they would never think to buy in the store.

IN ADDITION TO the casual shopper, some buying specialists have discovered that suburban garages are excellent places to find hard-to-get merchandise.

Many of those who frequent the sales are antique or used furniture dealers who are looking for specialty items which are not available anywhere else.

One such shopper made an appearance at a 13-family sale in Canton's Sunflower subdivision and aroused just a shade of suspicion and some curious glances.

"He came inside and looked at everything. And every so often he'd write something in a pocket-size notebook. I thought he was a policeman," said Mrs. Lucille Ling, who volunteered her garage for the sale.

"But after I asked him what he was doing, he told me he was shopping for antique furniture and other items to sell in his shop."

Many people come to this area from all sections of the Detroit area for the sole purpose of shopping at garage sales.

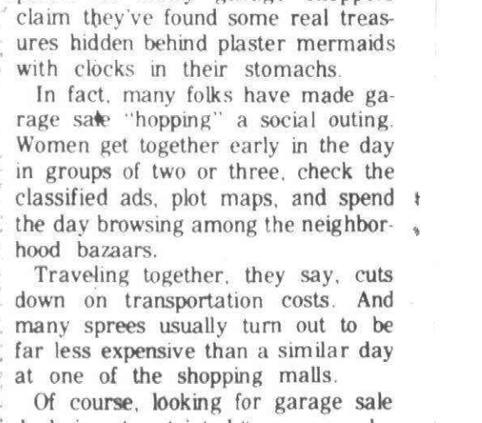

According to Gary Heath, Observer & Eccentric classified advertisement manager, one of the reasons people flock to the suburbs for the "sales" is because of the wide selection. Another is price.

"They say there's a better class of things—expecially furniture—here in this area. And people are willing to let things go for a lot less than you'd expect."

Inexpensive homemade signs will suffice, especially when classified ads are used to bring motorists into the neighborhood.

Clothing is a popular re-sale item for garage sale entrepeneurs.

So you've decided to combine your spring-summer house cleaning with a garage sale this year? Might as well mix work with fun and profit.

If you've had no previous experience you could, of course, "wing it" by learning as you go. Or you could read this article and get some tips from the pros.

As in just about everything else, timing is fairly important. Certain items sell better at different times of the year.

According to the Observer classified advertisement staff, the best time to sell boats and motors is in the spring. Motorcycles and garden equipment also move quickly at that time of year.

In the late summer, popular items are snow removal equipment, pick-ups, Blazers with snowplows, all-terrain vehicles, skies, and other winter sports equipment.

But, first things first. Getting the actual merchandise out for sale is the end result (ideally) of planning and forethought. To make that end of it a little easier, here are some practical suggestions from those who have been there and know the way.

•Check your entire house—basement, attic, garage, spare rooms—for anything you don't want anymore. Keep track of them with a small list. Clothes, tools, books, furniture, everything is fair game.

•Round up everything on your list and place a monetary value on the items. When selling, all goods should be marked for cost. This saves both you and your customers time. You can still bargain (that's part of the fun), but it's still best to have a clearly understood starting point.

•The best length of time for your garage sale to run is three days. This of course can vary with individual circumstances. You may want to run longer or shorter. Since studies show the best edition in which to advertise is Thursday's, the sale can start on Friday and run through the weekend.

•Yes, it helps to advertise. You can't have a good sale without some form of advertising. The easiest (and cheapest) way is the old "tell a friend" method, but you can also put up signs in laundromats, grocery stores, and on any number of bulletin boards. However, the best form remains the classified section of the newspaper. One well-worded add is worth a thousand well-placed signs.

•Before you actually start selling, you need to get your act together. Be sure to have enough change on hand. A quick trip to the bank will take care of that. Position yourself in a location where you are out of the flow of shoppers but where you can keep an eye on the entire sale area. Arrange the items for easy access. Make sure there is plenty of walking room. Also, you will find a small calculator or adding machine is very useful.

•Good luck.

Incumbents stay in W-W

Less than eight per cent of the registered voters in the Wayne-Westland School District went to the polls on Monday, returning Stephen Kelly and Fred Warmbier to four-year terms on the school board.

Of the 44,000 registered voters in the district, only 3,374 went to the polls. That figure, however, is 245 people more than voted in last year's school board election, which listed only candidates on the ballot.

Of the four candidates running for two seats, Kelly topped the field with 2,062 votes or 33 per cent of the total number of votes cast. Kelly, a Westland resident, also carried 19 out of 31 precincts in the district. He had been appointed to the board 10 months ago to fill a vacancy and since had chaired a study committee on child safety.

Warmbier, an incumbent from Wayne, came in second in the total vote tally with 29 per cent or 1,808 votes. Only 254 votes separated the top two vote-getters.

Coming in third place was Cliff Johnson, 376 votes behind Warmbier. Johnson, a 20-year Wayne resident who campaigned as the "blue collar" person for the board," received 1,432 votes.

THE LIQUOR LICENSE will be processed to the state liquor commission for approval, but will not be actually awarded until the center is completed and inspected to meet health requirements.

The township now has "seven or eight" liquor licenses left to award with Tuesday night's ruling, according to John Flodin, township clerk. State bylaws allow one liquor license for every 1,500 persons in the township.

The developers expect to arrange a lease for the restaurant with a national chain. Although no commitments can be made immediately, owners do not anticipate any problems finding an appropriate leasee, and believe they will have a wide selection to choose from, Apigian said.

The movie theaters will offer a new concept in daily matinees. Shows will run continuously from 11 a.m. seven days a week, Apigian told the board. Other niceties are an architectural design which will allow the public to walk around the facility while viewing the recreational activites on all sides and a host of public lounges accessible to moviegoers, spectators, athletic participants and the public.

An architect's drawing of the elevations of the entertainment complex planned at Ford and Haggerty roads is pictured above. If all stages are completed, the complex will house 72 bowling lanes, a bar and lounge, a restaurant, 21 racquetball courts, four tennis courts and four movie theaters.

Labor relations director hired

The number of unions in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has increased to the point where two full-time administrators are now assigned negotiations responsibilities.

The school board Monday night voted 7-0 to approve the hiring of Walter J. Bartnick Jr. of Dearborn Heights to fill the newly-created position of administrative assistant for labor relations.

Bartnick will report directly to Norman Kee, administrative assistant for employee relations, who will remain in charge of labor relations and personnel.

WITH THE ADDITION this past year of a union for administrators, there are now seven bargaining units for school district employees.

Kee, chief negotiator for the school board, will continue to represent the board in talks with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA)—sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

Bartnick will assist Kee in personnel and be responsible for negotiations with cafeteria, secretarial, custodial employees, teacher aides, and administrators. He also will be responsible for non-union employees.

Bartnick, who will begin his duties July 1, will receive a starting salary of $18,100.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATOR comes to the school district from Flint Ink where he served as corporate director of personnel.

For the past year, he has administered the wage and salary program for Flint Ink, negotiated and interpreted several collective bargaining agreements, established and maintained company policy for 10 non-union facilities, and administered safety and insurance programs.

Jaycees planning for 1st marathon

The first annual Plymouth Marathon will be run on the Fourth of July, about an hour before the parade begins on Main Street.

The Plymouth Marathon is being run this year as an added attraction for the July 4th holiday, plus as a money-raiser to help meet the expense of the parade and fireworks.

James Osebold, project chairman for the Plymouth Area Jaycees, reports the race will begin at 11:30 a.m. at Union and Main by Kroeger's.

The route will be down Main Street to Hartsough, right on Hartsough to East Middle School, once around the school and back on Hartsough to Main. The finish line will be just north of Ann Arbor Trail in front of the reviewing stand across from K.S. Kresge's.

"We are holding the marathon an hour before the parade is scheduled to begin so the police won't have to block off any additional streets. Also, spectators can remain in one place to watch the marathon run and the parade," noted Osebold.

"The length of the course is about five miles, and we encourage all interested persons 13 years or older to enter the race."

The entry fee is $1 per runner. June 25 is the entry deadline. (An entry blank will be printed in a future edition of the Observer)

Trophies will be awarded to the first-place male runner and to the first-place female runner.

Anyone with questions may contact Osebold at 453-1445.

Soccer pro ready to teach for 'Y'

Larry Christoff is going to teach soccer for the Plymouth-Canton-Northville YMCA this summer. And Christoff knows soccer.

After playing the sport all his life, including several years as a professional, Christoff feels he has something to offer to the kids who would like to learn the game or polish their skills.

Although he acknowledges that soccer will probably never become as popular in the United States as it is in his native Greece, he thinks there is definitely an audience for the sport.

"The way sports are going in this country, the biggest, strongest, and fastest athletes get all the attention. I started teaching soccer because I wanted to reach the kids who didn't have the height or weight for football and baseball."

In his opinion, stamina and conditioning are the two most important characteristics of the successful soccer player. Size and speed, he said, are relatively unimportant.

Christoff came to the United States as a young man with a lifetime of soccer behind him. He played four years of it at Michigan State University and was named to the All-American team.

After graduation, he played semi-professional soccer in Michigan for several years and then signed a contract with the Macedonian All Stars, a Canadian pro team.

However, he gave up the life of the soccer pro to accept a teaching position at Stevenson High School in Livonia. Since then, he has coached soccer teams there and at Schoolcraft College.

The classes will be offered to youngsters 7-14 years of age. There will be five, two-week sessions offered this summer from 4:30-6:30 p.m. at Starkweather Elementary School. The first class begins next week.

For more information on the soccer skills clinic, contact the Y office at 453-2904.

Prizes await young anglers

Hundreds of prizes are ready for fishermen aged 6-16 in this Saturday's annual Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby on the shores of Newburgh Lake.

Grand prize for the largest fish will be a two-man raft, donated by J.C. Penney Co.

The most common prize will be something for every angler who catches his or her limit of 25 panfish. These will range from kites to model planes and cars to Eppinger fishing lures, according to contest Chairman Hank Chruscial.

FISHING BEGINS at 7 a.m. and will run until noon, and only natural bait may be used. Sponsors are the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and the parks and recreation departments of Livonia, Dearborn Heights, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Garden City, Northville and Plymouth.

Here are the other prizes and donors for the largest fish in each species:

•Largemouth bass—an electric outboard motor from Livonia Tackle Shop.

•Largest rock bass—rod and reel and set of DareDevle lures from Northwest Gun Shop, Redford Township.

•Largest bullhead—aluminum cook set for four from the conservation club.

•Largest channel catfish—hibachi from the conservation club.

•Largest calico bass (crappie)—skateboard from Donna's R & S Cap Town.

•Largest carp—aluminum cook set for two from the club.

•Largest goldfish—set of Eppinger lures.

THE NAMES of all who catch their limits of 25 panfish will be dropped into a barrel, and the winner of a drawing (no fee or tickets) will recieve a 24-inch unicycle from Reliable Bicycle Shop of Livonia.

Winner of the Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher look-alike contests will receive bread boards, hibachis, rods and reels, sets of Eppinger lures, a chess or checker set and yo-yos.

Youngsters who have pre-registered by mail need only pick up a number the morning of the contest at a special desk.

All others must register at the registration desk. Headquarters are near Newburgh Point along Hines Drive west of Newburgh Road in Livonia.

A special feature new be demonstrations of spin-casting, bait-casting and fly-casting techniques by the Four Seasons Club, a newly organized family fishing club that meets in Livonia. Like the Western Wayne Conservation Club, Four Seasons is affiliated with Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Among the dignitaries present will be U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell of Plymouth, State Rep. Robert Law of Livonia and Mayor Edward H. McNamara of Livonia.

GOOD FISHING has been the rule rather than the exception at these derbies.

"More than 2,500 fish have been caught in each of the past five years, and a total of 2,000 prizes will be won by lueky fishermen and those who register early," Chruscial said.

In last year's contest, at least 125 youngsters took their limits of 25 panfish.

Karen McKeon is selected

Karen McKeon of Plymouth is rehearsing intensively in preparation for a month-long European tour with the Blue Lake 1977 International Youth Symphony Orchestra. She departed from the U.S. June 13 and arrived in Stockholm the next day.

The 75-member orchestra is directed by Dr. James Niblock, chairman of the music department at Michigan State University.

The group will tour Sweden, Denmark and northern Germany and present concerts in eight cities they visit. While abroad, students will stay in homes of host families.

Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp is located 15 miles north of Muskegon, and is the second largest fine arts camp in the country. Each summer more than 3,000 students are offered programs in music, art, dance and theater.

Bad checks big problem for retailers

Operating a small retail business entails several major concerns for store owners. Among them are sales volume, profit margin, shoplifting rates and merchandise inventories.

Until recently, the passing of bad bank checks in the Plymouth business community was not included on such a list for local retailers. Most businesses simply accepted checks for merchandise on the honor system without bothering to ask customers for proper identification.

But the success of an alleged Kathy Elias two months ago has caught the attention of several Plymouth retailers and while most won't admit bouncing checks are a problem, they are concerned.

Ms. Elias recently opened a checking account with the National Bank of Detroit, which reportedly verified her identification. She was then issued 11 temporary checks, with only her name imprinted on them, to use until the regular checks came in the mail.

With only the minimum amount deposited in her account, Ms. Elias had a field day, writing at least seven of the 11 checks at different clothing and department stores. Three of those checks, ranging from $25 to $75, were written in children's apparel shops in Plymouth.

THE LOCAL RETAILERS have not yet recovered the funds and no one to date has been able to locate a Kathy Elias. NBD will not reimburse the three Plymouth businesses, which apparently will never collect their losses.

In the past, the passing of bad bank checks has never posed a problem for the many small shops in Plymouth. Many salespersons know their customers by face and receive at most, two bounced checks per year.

"We very rarely experience check problems," said Bill Hall, manager of Lent's Custom Clothing in Plymouth. "We know so many of our customers and the new ones, you develop a sense if they're not legitimate.

"There are stalling tactics a salesperson can employ, too. If there's a question about the validity of a check, we'll ask the customer to wait a moment for verification while we call the bank." Several other Plymouth shops use this same method.

In an effort to reduce the passing of bad checks, the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has implemented a check alert system. "It doesn't happen often in Plymouth where checks are actually written on a closed or bad account causing more than an insufficient funds problem, but once is too often," said Janet Curlee, Chamber executive secretary.

"We inform local businesses about bad checks when we get the word, but our means of communication was not nearly as effective as it could have been."

TO IMPROVE communications between its members, the Chamber instituted a block contact plan as part of its check alert system. Under the plan, the Chamber, on word from the police, local banks or businesses, will relay bad check information to "contacts," who in turn, are responsible for spreading the message among neighboring retailers.

Anyone who is interested in being a block contact should call Mrs. Curlee at the Chamber office at 453-1540.

Mrs. Curlee said as part of the program, the Chamber is urging its members to educate their personnel to begin requesting proper identification from persons outside of Plymouth.

"Plymouth draws a lot of outsiders," Mrs. Curlee said. "We feel businesses are responsible for training their employees to take the necessary precautions when accepting a personal check."

The most important piece of information a retailer should demand from its customers is a driver's license, which affords one the opportunity to match signatures. A driver's license number is also helpful to police in trying to locate a person.

Mrs. Curlee said the check alert system has been well received by local merchants. "I think retailers in this town enjoy a good relationship with one another that lacks in bigger business districts. Because Plymouth is a small town, a check prevention system like this will work."

Circus is coming to town

The 1977 edition of International All-Star Circus, a 90-minute live indoor circus, will appear at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center Monday, June 27.

The performance, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., is being sponsored locally by Plymouth Township Firefighters 1496.

The one-ring, European-style circus features a number of dazzling and daring acts. One of the more unusual is "Uncle Heavy's Pork Chop Review" in which Poland China and Yorkshire hogs perform. In a more traditional vein are Targa the performing leopard, the Vazquez Chimps, a baby elephant and other trained animals.

Targa the performing leopard will be presented uncaged.

The show also will feature the aerial artistry of the Diamond Duo who perform unaided by any net or safety device, high above the arena floor, on the French trapeze. Other aerial acts include the juggling of Misa Antoinette while suspended by her hair at the apex of the arena.

Also appearing will be the Irish Circus stars, the Terrys on their speeding unicycles, and the zany antics of Coco Jr. and the International All-Star Clowns.

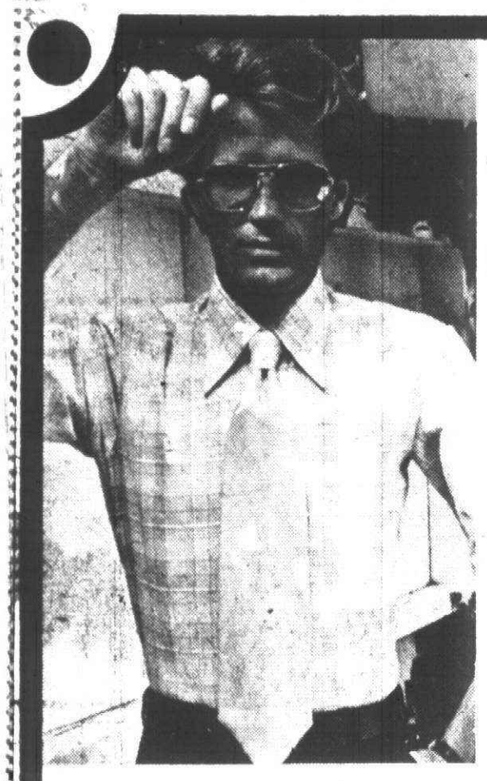

Setting the mood and providing the tempo for the performance will be Bob Amato and the big brassy sound of the International All-Star Circus Band.

Other performers include: Miss Patti, foot-juggling; the O'Briens, on the slackwire; moments of mystery with the "Lady Without a Middle"; the Carey Brown Duo on the Spanish Rola Bola; a parade of poodles from Columbia, South America; and a locked trunk escape.

Isbister wins safety award

Beverly Marshall, principal, stands in front of the prize-winning Isbister Elementary safety display case. Put together by the entire school, it was the winner of the Wayne County Sheriff's safety award which involved competition from more than 28 schools in western Wayne County. As part of its prize, the school received a check for $100. And Wednesday, students were taken on a tour of the Sheriff's Department with a stop at McDonalds for lunch. The Wayne County Deputy Sheriff's Association also donated 50 tickets for students to attend the deputies' annual circus in September. (Staff photo)

Haze Wilson, Community Relations Manager, Livonia, reminds you:

"How and When you call Long Distance can make a big difference in savings"...

Be sure you know all the ways you can save on long distance. Most people already save by dialing direct, instead of going through the operator. And, on calls within Michigan, you can save most by calling weekdays after 5 p.m. or on weekends till 5 p.m. Sunday. You save when you dial direct on out-of-state calls, too. Check the front pages of your telephone directory for the best times.

When you want to dial direct, but don't know the number, you can receive long distance directory assistance by dialing 1, plus the area code of the city you want to reach, plus 555-1212. You'll find a listing of some distant city area codes in the front of your directory. If you have any questions, just call your local Michigan Bell business office, also listed in the front of your telephone book. We're ready to help.

4 suspected thieves arrested, released

A midnight stakeout at a local car dealership netted four suspected thieves this week, but police are still puzzled by thefts at a number of other Plymouth car dealerships.

Arrested Saturday night in the new car lot of Selle Buick on Ann Arbor Road were Raymond K. Dahlka, 19, William N. Rugg, 20, Thomas E. Crowley, 17, and Stephen G. Strobel, 17, all of Livonia.

At the time of their arrest, police said, the suspects had two Riviera wheel covers in their possession, valued at $200.

The four young men were released Monday, on advice of assistant prosecutor Bob Sage, pending further investigation before formal charges are lodged. They were released without bond.

According to Det. Dan Carpenter, Saturday's stakeout at Selle's was the third one in as many weeks. The dealership had been robbed two times before in the last several weeks.

Two other Ann Arbor Road car dealerships, Massey Cadillac and Jeannotte Pontiac have been hit by burglars within the last month.

Carpenter was hesitant to link the men in custody with the other thefts.

"All I can say for sure is they were caught with the wheel covers. We have a lot of work to do before we can tell exactly what we have here."

The first time Selle was robbed, the burglars broke into nine new car trunks and carted off the spare tires. The second time, 12 more trunks were broken into and 12 more tires were stolen.

Carpenter estimates the value of the missing tires at more than $2,000.

The toll at Massey has been an in-car stereo and 31 Cadillac hood ornaments. Jeanotte had a brand new Gran Prix stolen from his lot.

Police Chief Tim Ford said the series of burglaries could have been the work of an organized ring.

"It's possible that whoever is behind this is stealing whatever will move during a particular week. One week it's hood ornaments, and the next week it's tires," Ford remarked.

Carpenter, however, said it is just as likely that the burglaries have no connection with each other. He said they could be the work of different thieves, who are selling the hot merchandise in Hines Park or to gas stations in the area.

Nature group is authorized

Establishing a committee to develop a nature center at the Hulsing Elementary site was approved Monday night by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The school district will be working in cooperation with the Canton Recreation Department and Canton Jaycees to develop a nature center.

Sally DeRoo, teacher, will be chairwoman of the workgroup which consists of Chuck Portelli, Hulsing teacher; John Burdziak, a homeowners association president; Frank McMurray from Canton Recreation; and Joe Luellen of the U.S. Soil Conservation Dept.

The board also agreed to begin cooperative planning with Plymouth Township on community recreation uses possible at two sites for future schools near McClumpha Road.

Kent Buikema, principal of Plymouth Canton High, presented the "Chiefs" award to outgoing school trustee Dr. E.J. McClendon for his service and contributions to the high school.

The board also voted 7-0 to lend its support to House Bill 4425 which would permit discussion of sex hygiene, birth control, and symptoms of sex disease in sex education classes.

McClendon pointed out that Michigan is only one of two states in the U.S. (Lousiana being the other) which prohibits giving information on birth control in the schools.

Marcia Borowski added that the proposed bill doesn't require that any subject be taught, but merely repeals the prohibition. The bill provides for an advisory committee, for a child to be excused from instruction, and provides that abortion cannot be taught as a method of family planning.

The bill went through the House committee this week, she added, with the only "no" vote cast by Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ann Arbor) whose 52d District includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Cash for gifted students approved by split vote

A proposal to begin a program for gifted and talented students was approved by a 4-3 vote of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night.

The issue generated a lot of debate as opponents argued the motion authorized funds without a specific program being developed, while supporters argued the money is to be spent to plan the project.

Voting in favor were George Lawton, Tom Yack, Marcia Borowski and E.J. McClendon. Voting "no" were Joe Gray, Flossie Tonda and Richard Arlen.

The first year budget of $23,000 includes allocations for a program director, equipment and supplies, consulting services and evaluation. The second-year is budgeted at $55,000 for a program to serve students in kindergarten through eighth grade.

THE MOTION made by Ms. Borowski was to implement the gifted students program using the goals and objectives established by the study committee.

The committee which has worked on the gifted program includes: Beverly Marshall, elementary principal; Patricia Gibbons and Brian Kidston, assistant middle school principals; Linda Clinard, elementary learning specialist; Kathy Kaczor, Barbara Leeds and Carol Davis, parents; and Samuel Ulsaker, administrative assistant.

Arlen said he wasn't against a gifted students program but felt the timing and approach was wrong. "Our new director of curriculum is almost here, and yet the board wants to jump into a patchwork program before he arrives on the scene. Let the assistant superintendent for instruction get his feet on the ground and know what's going on before we proceed with this."

McClendon commented that a lot of staff planning time had gone into the recommendation, and added that a $23,000 start-up budget was very small. "The youngsters on the talented end of the spectrum deserve the same consideration as those on the other end in special education programs.

"We have an athletic philosophy where the most talented play on varsity teams and the others can join intramural squads. Because we have a program for the talented athletes, I can certainly justify one for those talented academically."

Gray stressed he didn't have any objections to a gifted students program, "but I don't see any program here. I cannot support hiring a director when we don't have a program yet."

Lawton commented: "Mr. Arlen's comments seem to indicate there is something sinister about change, but with an increase in enrollment of 2,000 students a year facing us, change is something we can count on in this district.

"With all the fine programs we have in special education, vocational education, co-op, science and the language arts, I don't find it unusual for this district to budget money to implement a program for talented and gifted students. Even if the $23,000 were used only for a plan, it still would be in keeping with the size and quality of this school district."

Arlen quickly objected: "Keep the red herrings off the trail! The concerns I expressed had nothing to do with change. The points I raised had to do with timing and approach, and no one on this board yet has addressed those two points."

Yack answered that the new curriculum leader, Dr. Michael Horne, has been briefed on the proposal and is excited about implementing a program for the gifted. "Dr. Horne will be on staff July 1, and this motion simply facilitates the steps for him to develop a program."

Arlen responded: "During the one year I've been on the board we have been wrestling with coordination and management of various programs. As far as I'm concerned, this program came out of the blue 3-4 months ago."

Ms. Borowski commented that the timing of the program "is 20 years too late. It's time we begin to deal with children of all types who have special problems." She added that three years ago an extensive study of 20 pages was done on a gifted and talented program with the recommendations being worked on for the past year by the study committee.

"This hasn't come out of the blue. Three years after getting an initial recommendation we are finally getting around to acting on it. This problem has been before us for at least three years and has been studied thoroughly."

Ulsaker said the study committee didn't recommend specific program proposals, wanting to leave that to Horne, but worked on general guidelines. "We didn't want to build a tight box, but worked on identifying goals, objectives and needs to allow enough flexibility to work with students on an individual basis.

"All the information we have on this proposal fills one-quarter of a file drawer. A lot of thought has gone into this project so far."

Yack added that the $23,000 is to develop a program and the $55,000 for the second year is the financial limit on how much that program can cost.

"Sounds like the Peter Principle," said Arlen, "the job will expand to absorb all the money allocated to it."

Clothing Bank

The Clothing Bank of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has issued an annual report which shows it has provided clothing for 201 individuals in one year.

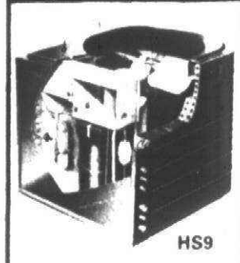

During the school year of 1976-77, the Clothing Bank distributed items to 172 children and 29 adults. Some 2,633 articles of clothing, an average of 13 per person, were passed out.

The Clothing Bank began the year with a cash balance of $367 and received $250 in contributions, including a $150 donation for a telephone from Our Lady of Good Council Rosary Society, $75 from Pioneer Middle School, and $25 from Starkweather Elementary.

The cash disbursements of clothing by school was: Bird, $29; Eriksson, $55; Farrand, $8; Fiegel, $6; Field, $13; Miller, $46; Starkweather, $19; Central Middle, $10; East Middle, $3; West Middle, $4; Pioneer Middle, $10; and Plymouth Canton High, $53. Some $84 was spent for telephone bills.

Co-chairpersons of the Clothing bank are Marie Hopper and Flossie Tonda.

Now your monthly payment can be lower, even if the cost of your new car is higher.

Most new cars cost more this year than last year.

Then how can your monthly payments on your auto loan be less than they used to be?

Because, now you can take advantage of an extended time period to repay your auto loan at Detroit Bank & Trust.

Your DETROIT BANK-er will be glad to finance your new car for a longer period of time than previously offered.
And the longer you take to repay it, the lower your monthly payments become.

We want your auto loan payments to fit into your monthly budget. The total loan will cost you slightly more, but you should find it easier to handle the payments.

When it comes time for your next auto loan, talk to any DETROIT BANK-er about our lower auto loan payments. Take a little longer to repay your auto loan and make it a little easier on your budget.

Defeat of Bev McAninch 'no act of chauvinism'

Editor:

I read, with great identification, Tim Richard's May 26 column on women in government. I agree with your general concepts.

There are definite contributions being made by women in both planning and implementation of government effort at all levels. I quickly accept, as fact, the idea that women are as capable in logic and common sense as men. In fact, they add a dimension to our process not available in their absence.

In structuring the new committees of the county board of commissioners this year, I was careful to place at least one woman on every committee, believing them to be full partners in our county's business.

I shall continue my belief in, and my efforts for, women in government.

You spoke specifically in your article about the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority women appointments and their fates. I would like to discuss, specifically, the case of Beverly McAninch.

Her term expires on June 30 and she will be replaced by Mayor Edward McNamara of Livonia. This was not, by any definition, a chauvinistic action.

Ed McNamara is a well respected man and has an excellent history of struggling for the good of western Wayne County. His appointment is difficult to question when measured with an objective stick.

I don't think the board can be criticized for this appointment. Certainly, (and you suggested it) Beverly McAninch did not bite the dust to be replaced by "a male union official."

I personally hold Mrs. McAninch in high regard. She did not fail to be reappointed because she's a woman or because she's not qualified. Ed McNamara was appointed because of a sincere review of his background and personal spirit.

Of course, there will be cases in which women will lose appointments in deference to men. These cases must be assessed individually and not construed as a general objection to women.

Summing up, I agree women must be heard—and respected—and utilized in government. Not to take advantage of this source of talent and dedication is short sighted and irresponsible.

I shall try to be neither.

JOHN BARR
Chairman, Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Leaders talk transit

John Barr (left), chairman of Wayne County Board of Commissioners, confers with Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara following the county board's appointment of the mayor to the board of the six-county Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority for a three-year term. McNamara said he is especially concerned about transportation needs of senior citizens and favors a dial-a-ride system through which suburban residents could summon a van-type bus to make connections with main mass transit lines. (Photo provided by Wayne County)

Mrs. McAninch's loss from SEMTA a 'shock'

Editor:

I was shocked, to say the least, having read the article "McAninch dumped; McNamara in," published June 6 in Observer newspapers.

Beverly McAninch, former mayor of Plymouth, is an individual who has spent years involving herself in community and governmental affairs.

Mrs. McAninch was appointed by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments who have, as of April, been stripped of their powers since a new law was passed giving the Wayne County Commissioners the power to appoint Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority members. Mrs. McAninch, at that time, was the only suburban female representative on the board.

The article stated that organized labor controls the majority number of votes on the board. If this is true, then I, having been a life-long supporter of the labor movement, am extremely disappointed that their leadership did not support Mrs. McAninch even though her views may have differed from theirs. Surely, there should be some room for dissent.

Women such as Mrs. McAninch who have an understanding of people and their needs can contribute many new and fresh ideas to the solutions of mass transportation, not only in Wayne county, but in other counties as well. Women are now void of female representation.

Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara advises that he was solicited by a "high Wayne County official" whom he could not identify.

Why the secrecy? The taxpayers have a right to know how these decisions are made and by whom.

I suggest that the state legislature reconsider its decision to have the board appoint SEMTA board members and revert to the old system where SEMCOG made the appointments.

Surely, in all of southeastern Michigan, there must be at least one woman who is qualified to serve.

2 weeks left to enter parade on 4th

There still are two weeks left to enter the Fourth of July Parade being presented by the Plymouth Jaycees.

The theme of this year's parade will be "America—the Key to Prosperity."

Applications to enter the parade are available at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce office at Wing and Forrest, from Larry Kennedy at the First National Bank of Plymouth on Main Street, or by contacting Darryl Dooley at 292 Arthur, Plymouth, 455-7383.

The only fees for entries this year will be $15 for businesses. All other fees are being waived again this year to help promote interest in the parade.

The line-up so far includes the Troubadores from Taylor, Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, Clan MacRae pipe band, and the Plymouth Community Band.

Marching with the bands will be the Plymouth Salem Rockettes, Plymouth Canton Chiefettes, and the U.S. Marine Corps Color Guard.

Leading the parade will be the Mayflower VFW Post Color Guard. Following will be State Sen. R. Robert Geake (R-Northville).

State Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ann Arbor), Michigan Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams, 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis, Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, Wayne County Road Commissioner Michael Berry, State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland), 1977 Michigan Junior Miss Pam Wallace from Westland, Cub Scout Pack 1533, the Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, and the well-known elephants Wanda and Tulsa.

Floats have been entered by St. Peter Lutheran Church youth group, the Centennial C.B. Association, and the Young American CBers.

The fireworks aerial display will be held the evening of July 4th at the Massey softball field across from Burroughs Corp. Co-chairmen for the fireworks this year are Don Hahn and Mike Horton.

Portable boat potties prohibited

Michigan recreational boaters who plan to cruise Canadian waters this summer may be ticketed and fined if they have portable toilets on board, warned the Department of Natural Resources.

Both Michigan and Canadian laws prohibit waste discharge from any recreational watercraft and requires sewage holding tanks on boats with sanitary facilities.

However, Michigan DNR officials have been notified by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment that portable-sewage holding devices are not acceptable equipment for use in Canadian waters.

Ontario inspections will be conducted throughout the boating season, and the owner or operator of any boat found equipped with the portable devices will be issues a summary conviction ticket (similar to an automobile traffic summons) and will be assessed a fine.

The amount of the fine will be indicated on the ticket and may be paid by mail or in person.

New rescue ride

Normal bidding procedures were bypassed by Canton board members recently when they purchased this $23,500 ambulance equipped with emergency medical technician (EMT) capabilities. Firefighters (from left) George Daubresse, Frank Chakabarty and Gary Sova stand in front of the rescue wagon after shining it up and point out the fact that when the truck chassis wears out, the rear box can be removed and re-used. The truck was previously used as a demo by the Horton Equipment Co. (Staff photo)

Land plan growth study stalled

For the second consecutive meeting, the Canton Township Board of Trustees has tabled a proposal to spend $40,000 to study the cost and benefits of purchasing up to 6,000 acres of agricultural land in the western part of the community to curb urban expansion.

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith said she could not justify spending $40,000 for a program that might not even progress beyond the planning stage. Ms. Goldsmith tried to discuss alternative measures, but they were squelched because the board had already voted to table the issue until its June 28 meeting.

One of Goldsmith's suggestions was to shop around and try other planning firms or the state universities for a cheaper pricetag.

John Flodin, township clerk, said there was a degree of urgency involved in the issue, and that the board was talking about a possible expense of $15-20 million to buy up farmers' development rights.

Center students capture 'firsts'

Residents of the Plymouth Center for Human Development took home a healthy share of awards from the Fifth Annual Summer Special Olympics, held recently at Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant.

The 24 athletes who participated came home with 23 first place, 18 second place, and 4 third place medals.

According to Pete Schweitzer, community relations director, five of the students won two first place medals in different events.

"The kids did an outstanding job in the competitions," he said. "They all worked hard and were ready for the times."

Two of the Center's wheelchair teams won first and second place honors in the wheelchair relay event. And seven individual members of those teams each won a first place in their divisions of the 25-yard wheelchair race.

The Special Olympics Games seek to give the mentally retarded positive experiences through physical activities, Schweitzer said.

Through such experiences, they are able to develop confidence and an improved self-image which helps them in the classroom, home and community.

The Michigan Special Olympics began in 1969 at Kalamazoo College. This year, more than 20,000 mentally retarded Michigan residents participated in local, area, and state competition.

Rhetoric rampant in recall reasons

Editor:

Is Canton burning while some fiddle around? Oust Stein! Oust Daley! Oust Bradley! Oust! Oust! Oust!

Who knows what's next? The Governor? (Detroit) Mayor (Coleman) Young? President (Jimmy) Carter? What do the ousters do when they run out of those to oust?

It is sad that all of this ousting effort can't be channeled into more productive pursuits. I'm sure that I am not alone in becoming sick and tired of all this oust nonsense.

Since the election there has been one faction or another after the supervisor's job. I don't really know Mr. (Harold) Stein . . . met him on one or two occasions and didn't vote for him, but I do believe he should be given a reasonable chance to get the job done without harrassment.

I WILL NOT vote for his recall unless there is sufficient grounds. What I've seen so far is foolish verbiage-rhetoric.

The general election recount has already cost Canton taxpayers $2,588. The recall election and possible ensuing elections are estimated anywhere from $8,000 to $15,000 per election, depending upon whom one wishes to believe.

I would like to suggest that those who are so adamant about recall also pay for the expense of the recall, should the recall fail. Let the burden fall where it belongs.

All this recall talk is diverting township human resources to far less productive purpose and doing more damage in delaying tactics than the alleged sins of Mr. Stein.

Let's get Canton on the move again! Now! We certainly need effective, responsible government that is cost effective; conservative, but with progress; with the interest of the residents at heart.

A Concerned and Disheartened Resident

Set aside bruised egos, form compromise ZBA

Editor:

Now that Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald has rendered his decision which invalidated both zoning boards of appeals (ZBA), it's time to analyze the past and present course of events. The court ruled that the ZBA ordinance had to be properly amended and that neither administration had done this. If the court is correct, then it is clear that both administrations were negligent. (Supervisor Harold) Stein, however, is in power and he can always redo things correctly. If so, then the (police officer Robert) Greenstein faction will be upset and could appeal the decision and cause further hassles.

The sad thing, ironically, is that the previous administration was caught sleeping. The amended ZBA statute took effect in May, 1976 but the township did not act on it until fall, 1976. One Greenstein appointee to the ZBA admitted to me that they knew they did not have enough time to formally amend the ordinance so they just went ahead and added the new members (hoping no one would notice?).

Regardless of who is ultimately right or wrong, at least one faction will cause trouble and impede the functioning of any ZBA. We, the people, are losers in this. There is no working ZBA.

Unknown to most people, the new ZBA statute requires a minimum of five persons. Even if the Greenstein ZBA had been proper, then Stein could still have added enough new members to give him a working majority. I suggest that everyone compromise.

STEIN SHOULD amend the ordinance to have at least seven persons on the ZBA and, to give the opposition a voice, (he) should appoint several people from Greenstein's camp and maybe even one from Bundarin's camp. It's time each side quit playing petty, selfish politics which hurt the township. It's also time each side set aside their wounded egos on this matter and worked together. It's time the township started getting good publicity.

Resigned as officer, but didn't quit League

Editor:

Members of the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi would like to thank you for you excellent coverage of our organization's functions. However, recently a headline was printed in your paper that might lend itself to misinterpretation by the general public. Hence, this letter.

The headline in question read "Ms. Fechter quits LWV." The article accompanying this headline explained that Ms. Fechter had resigned her board position with the League of Women Voters because she would be actively supporting a candidate in an upcoming Plymouth election.

Ms. Fechter has resigned her board position; however, she most assuredly has not "quit the LWV." Because the League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization, board members are not allowed to actively support candidates. Although the LWV never supports or opposes candidates as a group, individual members are in fact encouraged to become involoved in the partisan government functions of their choice. It would indeed be unfortunate if the aforementioned headline led anyone to believe the contrary.

Chamber golf winners

The Canton Chamber of Commerce calls its recent golf outing at Fellows Creek Golf Course a "rousing success."

Chamber members, residents, business people and celebrities shouldered bags and pushed and rode in carts in the second annual divot-dig.

Gross score winners for the day were T.J. Rivard with a 73; and Ms. Lou Skotzke with a 133. Other winners were Ken McKee, 79; R.W. Weinberg, 66; Dick Potter, 70, Jim McGrath, 71 and Jan McMurray, 66.

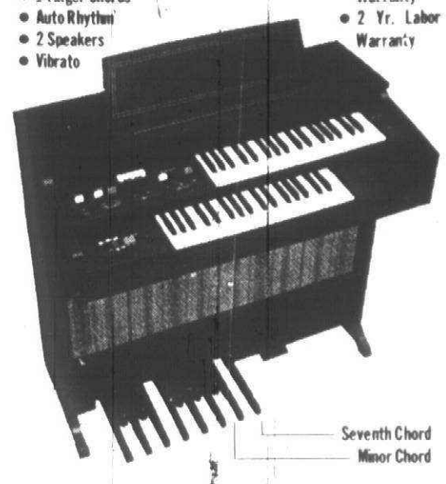

Longest drive of the day was smacked by Ken McKee. Wayne politico and campaign manager for Canton Supervisor Harold Stein. Bob Koers sunk the longest putt. And Frank Robert and Barb Perry shared "closest to pin" honors.

Another golf outing is being planned by the chamber for Aug. 17.

Tough times ahead for winner Harper

Although only a few hundred residents voted Monday, their choice of school board trustee will be representing thousands of individuals as tough decisions are made within the next year.

Steve Harper knows he has to make decisions, so he doesn't deserve any sympathy for being placed in a tough spot. It's unfortunate, though, that so few persons participated in the election Monday when the decisions to be made will affect so many.

BEFORE THE END of summer, the school board must decide what type of bond issue to place before voters in the fall.

The decision on how much money to borrow will be made, in part, on each trustee's perception of what voters are willing to accept. Yet, the size of the loan voters approve will be the major factor influencing the type of education thousands of youngsters will receive for the next three to four years.

Will political considerations be the major factor deciding the scope of programs through 1980, or should the size of the bond issue be based on the level of education the community wants?

Related to the growth which is generating the bond issue is the real problems of having to juggle families from school to school, one year to the next. Harper will also be caught up in this numbers game. Will he be able to remove himself far enough to remain sensitive to the emotional needs of individuals?

ANOTHER PROBLEM Harper must address during the coming months, along with the entire school board, is what should be done at the Centennial Educational Park.

What, if anything, can be done to assure adequate attendance in classrooms? What equitable options can be made available to students who cannot responsibly cope with modular scheduling? Despite the high-level programs, is enough flexibility really being offered bright students?

How can energy be efficiently used in old buildings with faulty roofs, or in newer buildings with badly designed heat and air systems? Can the computer system (BOSS) which has reduced energy expenses at Plymouth Salem High be installed system-wide with similar benefits?

If the cost-of-living goes out of reach during the next two years, and the school district finds its operating revenue cannot meet contractual obligations to teachers, what will be done? The easy way out is slide-rule calculations to lay-off "X" amount of teachers. Will that be the only answer Harper can find?

During the recent campaign, a lot of platitudes were heard about responsibility, accountability, performance, educational options, etc. Will these fine words ever be transferred into actual programs?

Harper will enter the real world of decision-making when he is sworn in as a trustee in a couple weeks. Some very tough decisons must be made before voters will have another chance to select another trustee. The Observer is confident Harper will perform well, but because the going will get tough, we wish him a little luck as well as our confidence.

PRO and CON

Who should patrol freeways: State troopers or deputies?

Colonel Gerald Hough, in a recent television interview, was asked why he thinks state police troopers should be patrolling Detroit freeways.

He replied by saying the shoulder epaulets on his troopers say "Michigan State Police," and that "Detroit is in the State of Michigan."

Incredible.

This mentality suggests an attitude on the part of the state police director that his department may, if it chooses, run roughshod over local police and sheriff's departments.

The Wayne County Sheriff is the constitutionally authorized law enforcement officer in Wayne County. The department not only patrols expressways in the county (outside Detroit), but conducts criminal investigations, maintains a narcotics prevention unit, a marine enforcement division, an aviation unit, a scientific crime lab available to all police departments in the county, and a polygraph service which is used by police agencies in southeast Michigan.

To suggest that our deputies are "second-class police" and "former unqualified jailers" as the head of the state police Troopers Association has done, is an insult to me and my fellow officers.

We are professionals. We are involved in continuing education to maintain that professionalism. More than 100 of our officers have bachelor's degrees; half are taking college level courses; several are attending law school and one has his PhD.

We can handle the Detroit freeway patrol.

And, since the Detroit Police have elected not to do it, it is our duty.

ANDREW R. PRUNER
Deputy Sheriff
Wayne County Sheriff's Department

The current issue as to which agency should patrol the Detroit expressway system, the Michigan State Police or the Wayne County Sheriff Department, should not be an issue at all. It is clearly the responsibility of the state police. The troopers have responded to this assigned duty in an exemplary manner.

The governor's commission on criminal justice stated earlier this year that the prime responsibility for policing the interstate highway system in Michigan rested with the state police. The 62½ miles of Detroit freeways we have patrolled for nearly a year is a vital part of this system. The city, in the county of Wayne, is not an island unto itself—it is a part of our state and a part of our responsibility.

We are not in a contest with any other law enforcement agency. We have, in the judgment of the public and the citizens who use the freeways, done the job asked of us. We have proven equal to the task and we wish to continue doing the job in a positive manner. It is our duty to preserve, protect and defend the lives and property of all Michigan citizens—no matter where the assignment may be.

Loyal, local pro grid fans deserve to see Super Bowl

by HENRY M. HOGAN, JR.

When most people think of the Super Bowl, they think of sitting before their television screens the second week in January enjoying the finest professional football available.

To witness it in person requires somebody from our area to take a long trip to someplace that's warm.

The Pontiac SilverDome wants to change all this and has made a presentation to the owners of the National Football League teams to bring the spectacle to our area in 1981.

SOME PEOPLE say there's no way because there are no sun or beaches or golf courses in operation here at that time of year.

But Bruno Kearns of the Oakland Press summed it up very nicely when he said, "Fun in the sun, on the beaches and on the golf course is not what the Super Bowl is all about."

If you strongly consider the historical fact, the NFL had its birthplace in the midwest. Consider that in nine franchise areas of the National Football League in the Great Lakes-Midwest region, stretching around Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Minnesota and Green Bay-Milwaukee, 80 million people reside within a 600-mile radius of the Silverdome. The midwest has the highest concentration of the nation's population.

IN THIS AREA is also the largest concentration of pro football fans in the country.

And these poeple in the midwest are the ones who have nurtured the great sport of professional football since its birth.

These are the people who, when the Canton Bulldogs were organized in 1905 or when George Halas got the Chicago Bears started in 1922, put up with the growing pains of football.

When football was started, the fans didn't say, "We will only support you if you play your games in total sunshine."

Midwest fans have supported the National Football League in ice and snow. They have supported it come hell or high water.

Midwest fans have supported the NFL in the Refrigeration Bowl championships, but their only opportunity to support the Super Bowl, started 11 years ago, has been in their living rooms.

The fans support the division and conference championships without asking that anyone provide 70 degree temparatures or complete sunshine at kickoff time.

WHAT THE SILVERDOME is asking for is to give the people who live in the great midwest an opportunity to see the Super Bowl live. The game is the offspring of their home-town product. If only once in 10 years, these people deserve the chance to live the excitement of the game.

There is no question that the owners of National Football League teams know about Detroit and the SilverDome—its ability to seat 80,368 people makes it the largest football stadium in the National Football League.

Attendance at Lions' games since they moved to Pontiac has been at the top in the NFL. Other teams in the league are fighting each other to try to play games against the Lions in the SilverDome because they get a share of the gate.

If the game is to be given back to the fans, it should be held in the midwest. And the SilverDome is the only domed stadium in the area.

Midwestern fans who have supported the NFL over the years deserve to see the game on their own home turf.

Regulations vs. the market

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

It is becoming increasingly clear that the long-term economic health of Michigan in general and these suburbs in particular very much depends on what happens to a number of bills now being debated in the U.S. Congress.

The automobile industry won a partial victory last week by getting a two-year delay in tightened exhaust emission standards, though there's still a question whether two years are enough.

And President Carter's energy-saving package had rough going, with preliminary votes in committees killing the stand-by gasoline tax and the proposed rebates on small, gas-efficient cars.

As both the auto industry and the UAW have recognized, if Congress winds up passing legislation that subsidizes foreign cars, or cuts demand for new American-made cars, or reduces the amount of labor required to make new cars, this area's economic base will suffer.

The auto industry has claimed for some years that it is being run as much by government regulations as by the forces of the free market. Last week reinforced the claim.

IN THAT REGARD, it is clear that two different theories of government are clashing over the country's energy policy:

- The free market theory holds that the best way to save energy is by gradually and steadily allowing the forces of the free market or the tax system to drive up the price of energy consumption so people will use less. This theory is espoused by Carter's advisors, who are mainly economists and hence inclined to think in terms of costs, prices, incentives and efficiency.
- The regulatory theory holds that the best way to save energy is by the government's regulating the ways industry and the public produce goods and consume energy, thereby spreading the burden of added costs equally. This theory is espoused by Congress, whose members are mostly lawyers, who are trained to think in terms of legal requirements, regulations and equality.

Oversimplified, the clash is between efficiency and equality.

AN EXAMPLE of more than passing interest has to do with the recently enacted law requiring the auto companies to produce cars that get more and more miles per gallon—an example of the regulatory theory in action. And only last week, Congress turned down the proposed gasoline tax, an example of the free market theory rejected.

These two congressional actions, taken together, simply make it cheaper for people to drive long distances (in high-mileage cars, using inexpensive gasoline) than they do today. The net effect would be to keep gasoline consumption where it is.

Another example of the clash between the regulatory and the free market theories is the area of home insulation. The president has proposed tax credits for people who insulate their homes, on the theory that tax incentives plus higher prices for fuel will encourage the homeowner to insulate and thereby save fuel oil. In contrast, the house energy subcommittee voted to require homeowners by law to insulate houses before selling them.

This raises a number of questions:

Is it fair to make people in Michigan pay more to insulate their houses before selling them than people in Florida?

What happens to houses which can't easily be insulated because of the way they're built?

What is "enough" insulation, or an "adequate" storm window?

You can be sure that all these questions, and many more, will be answered in a big book of numbingly complex regulations that your friendly government insulation inspector will bring by just before you try to sell your house.

CERTAINLY IT MAKES no sense to be ideological about this. Sometimes a carefully written governmental regulation is the easiest, cheapest and most effective way to make public policy work.

Equally, the economist's heartless concern about prices and costs needs to be balanced by considerations of humanity and equality.

But in many cases, a theory of government which uses the gradual and steady forces of the free market to allocate resources is likely to be both more effective and much less confusing than the tangle of red tape which the regulatory theory of government so often leads to.

Maybe—just maybe—over the next few weeks, the lawyers in Congress might learn something from the economists, and vice-versa.

Year-round school plan OK'd

The Extended School Year (ESY) calendar was adopted without fanfare Monday night by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The school board voted 7-0 to ratify the year-round school calendar as negotiated with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA), sole bargaining agent for teachers.

During the citizens' suggestion portion of the meeting, there were objections raised by teachers representing faculty members from Eriksson and Hulsing elementaries. A concern also was raised by an Isbister parent as to whether air conditioning units would be installed before ESY was implemented.

THE SPOKESMAN from Eriksson asked the board to reconsider calendar alternative C-1 instead of the J calendar which had been negotiated.

The J calendar consists of four different tracks (groups of students) lettered A through D. Tracks A, B and C will begin school Aug. 29 with D starting Sept. 19.

Track A will end its school year Aug. 4, track B Aug. 10, track C July 24, track D Aug. 22. The nine-month school year for all other buildings will begin Aug. 31 and end June 14.

Susan Bunch, a first grade teacher, argued J calendar was faulty because the breaks between tracks were only two weeks and because more than two weeks were needed between the end of one school year and the beginning of another.

Charles Portelli, fourth-fifth grade instructor at Hulsing, noted that 17 of 20 teachers at Hulsing were opposed to calendar J and preferred the alternative recommended by the boundary committee.

The Isbister parent asked whether some type of air conditioning would be used in buildings on the year-round school whether or not a bond issue passed in the fall.

Superintendent John M. Hoben said that window air conditioning units would be installed at Isbister, Starkweather and Pioneer before the ESY schedule begins.

Hoben noted that the board had set aside $485,000 for ESY start-up costs and this allocation included about $80,000 for air conditioning. The ESY implementation funds in the April bond issue, Hoben added, were for central air conditioning which is economically more efficient. "The next bond issue probably will include provision for central air, but we'll put in window units for the summer months school is in session and get by."

THE YEAR-ROUND schedule will begin this August at six schools—Eriksson, Field, Gallimore, Isbister and Miller elementaries and at Pioneer Middle School.

Miller, which has been on a 45-15 year-round schedule for two-years on a pilot basis, will convert to the new J schedule approved by the board Monday night. The newer schools—Field, Eriksson, Gallimore, Miller and Pioneer—have central air already installed.

The expansion of ESY is being done to accommodate the increased student population which will come in the fall. Year-round school will increase a single building's student capacity by one-third. Current estimates are that adding ESY at the five additional buildings will allow the district to absorb about 1,000 more students between this fall and June, 1978.

At each school, parents will be given a choice this year whether their children will attend an ESY building or one on the traditional nine-month schedule. Parents "opting" for a nine-month school, however, must provide transportation for their children.

The "paired" schools parents may opt for if they wish to avoid ESY are: Fiegel for Eriksson; Tanger for Gallimore; Starkweather for Isbister; East Middle for Pioneer; and Allen for Field and Miller elementaries. In the past, Gallimore has been the option school paired with Miller.

UNDER THE ESY PLAN approved, the schools will begin their school year on a staggered basis during the months of August and September.

The nine-month school year for all other buildings will begin Aug. 31 and end June 14.

Next year additional schools are expected to go on an ESY schedule as growth in the district continues.

White Castle grilled

Just when they'll start boxing up White Castle hamburgers in Canton remains in doubt because of board of trustees qualms about possible traffic problems at the proposed eatery.

The board Tuesday voted unanimously to table a request for approval of a site plan until its next meeting to allow time for a survey of traffic conditions at the proposed site at Ford Road and I-275.

Trustee Eugene Daly argued that motorists heading west on Ford Road would make illegal left-turns into the proposed site, causing congestion problems. Customers exiting onto eastbound Ford could encounter traffic conflicts with vehicles turning onto the I-275 South entrance ramp, Daley said.

White Castle officials, who earlier had eliminated an additional driveway to conform with modifications requested by the township planning commission, suggested "No Left Turn" and "Entrance Only" signs to alleviate the traffic problem.

But township officials were not convinced the proposals would satisfy their concerns and decided to table the issue until its June 28 meeting.

The restaurant chain already owns 6.62 acres at the intersection but would only develop one acre for the hamburger spot.

The VIEW from 461 SOUTH MAIN

by ELLIE GRAHAM

Judge Dunbar Davis was guest speaker for his fellow Kiwanians and their ladies Tuesday evening following a dinner meeting in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

In announcing his subject, the judge said that in his 40 years as a Kiwanian, he could not recall anyone choosing poetry as a theme. Mrs. Davis, he said, did not approve his choice.

"If you enjoy my poetry, you may applaud when I have finished. If you do not enjoy it, you may applaud my wisdom in choosing a smart wife."

Davis began by reciting from the Songs of Solomon, the verse that ends with the familiar "and the voice of the turtle is heard throughout the land."

He quoted Robert Frost who said, "Poetry begins with delight and ends with wisdom." He stressed the symbolism of poetry and how a phrase or a line can be a guide in life—"simple ordinary things we can do to make the world better."

Each of his selections had a memorable quote which has come to stand alone, its original background sometimes forgotten.

There was Robert Frost's ". . . but I have promises to keep. And miles to go before I sleep. And miles to go before I sleep."

And Omar Khayyam's ". . . nor heed the summons of a distant drum," and "A jug of wine, a loaf of bread, and thou."

He included John Donne: "No man is an island," and "ask not for whom the bell tolls. It tolls for thee."

Judge Davis concluded his evening of poetry by reciting the last lines of the Desiderata and a suggestion: "Try spending an evening reading poetry instead of watching who-done-its and Mary Heartline."

JUNE IS the traditonal month for weddings. So it follows—June is the month for wedding anniversaries.

Carrie and Lawrence Gladstone celebrated their 52d anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at Webber's in Ann Arbor. Hosting the party were their grandchildren Karen Engler and Peg, Julie and Richard Gladstone.

The Gladstones were married in Ithaca, Mich., June 20, 1925. They have lived in Plymouth since 1926.

It was a dual celebration. Their son, Nile, and his wife, Betty, will mark their 27th wedding anniversary June 17.

JUDGE DUNBAR DAVIS and Martha, his bride of 40 years, celebrated their anniversary Sunday with a family dinner party.

They were married June 12, 1937 in Muncie, Ind., the bride's hometown.

The couple attended the Northville Rotary Club picnic in the afternoon where the judge played in a benefit baseball game. Although tennis is his game, he's no slouch on the baseball diamond.

LEONA AND EDDIE Edgar mark their 47th wedding anniversary June 16. Over the weekend, they traveled northward for some boat-watching on Leona's favorite river, the St. Clair.

MARCIA DEGEN almost surprised her husband, Bob, with a congratulations-on-your-promotion party.

Her first problem was making sure he'd be there for his own party. As it turned out, she had about 24 hours to plan the celebration.

About 25 friends and family gathered at the Degen home to congratulate Bob on his promotion to lieutenant in Plymouth Fire Department. They brought an assortment of gifts to commemorate the occasion—a statue of a fireman sitting on a fire hydrant, and a small horn bearing the name Lt. Degen.

The large cake was decorated with a wind-up fire engine.

Jennifer, 7, and Jason, 4, were enthusiastic about their father's party.

Degen started his ninth year with the Plymouth firefighters June 2.

IT'S BLUE AND GOLD banquet time.

The 86 cub scouts in Pack 854 and their families planned their banquet for 6 p.m., June 14, in the cafetorium at Plymouth Canton High School.

Fishing winners were announced and numerous prizes awarded.

Following the dinner, the Webelos officially advanced to boy scouting as they participated in the arrows of light ceremony.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES Powers of Plymouth gained two new granddaughters in two weeks.

Kelly Lorraine Carlson was born May 15 in Westminster, Colo. Her parents are Richard and Susan (Powers) Carlson. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlson of California are Kelly's paternal grandparents.

Farrand school loves its ice cream social

The annual ice cream social at Farrand Elementary School is an event to be anticipated by the students. It almost is as exciting as having a circus come to their own school.

For the PTO board members, it means hours of planning and work. For the mothers, it is a long session of cake baking and pie making. For the fathers, it is scooping ice cream until their muscles ache.

For Principal Earl Gibson and his staff, it is cooking hundreds of hotdogs.

The end result is an evening of cooperation by parents and teachers which nets a sizeable amount of money for the school. This year's receipts will be used to buy visual aid materials which will benefit the whole school.

"EVERYTHING WENT very smoothly," said PTO President Sandy Wheaton. "The teachers and parents gave their time and baking talents."

The moon walk was an added attraction this year. Mrs. Wheaton admitted the children spent so much time in the moon walk they didn't take time to eat. "But they loved it."

Karen Cooksey, president elect of the PTO, was in charge of the games. There were movies, helium balloons, cake walk, basketball throw and many other activities.

Another special attraction was guessing the number of M&M candies in a bowl. The winner was awarded the fish bowl and the candies.

Central Middle School students assisted with the games. Julie Mons was in charge of the bean bag toss and Meg Kenny and Jo Wheaton ran the fish pond.

THE MAKEUP booth was a popular stop for the youngsters.

Four Plymouth Canton High School students applied the makeup. They were Kirstin Zang, Patricia Mrowka, Debbie Schmidt and Sue Wooley.

Wilma Fielman supervised activities in the makeup room.

Mrs. Wheaton and Marietta Mons chaired the kitchen committee.

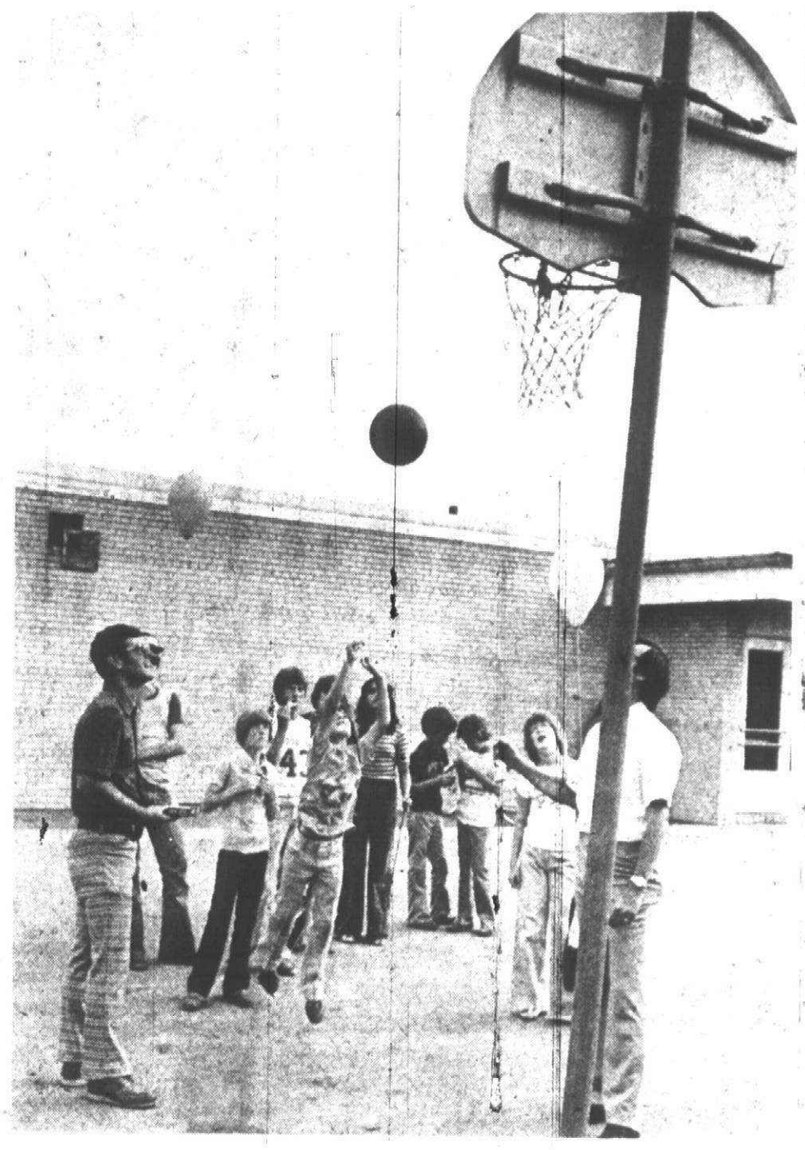

Last Friday's ice cream social was a three-hour affair—it started at 5:30 and ended at 8:30 p.m.

"It was a great evening," said Earl Gibson. "The children had a marvelous time and the parents shared the excitement."

He also spoke eloquently of a certain strawberry pie. "There was just one of them—the strawberries were the size of golf balls."

The waiting line at the Moon Walk was long, but patient.

Bob Smith, physical education teacher at Farrand, passed out prizes at the basketball pitch.

For fifth graders Jennifer Wheaton (left) and Lynn Behlerk, it was a case of decisions, decisions at the pie and cake tables. (Story and pictures by Elinor Graham)

Research center answers women's needs

By MARGARET MILLER

If you'd like to know a lot about no-fault divorce, resources for homemakers, single adult groups or aids for single heads of households, the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center has some printed studies for you.

If you'd like to know more about displaced homemakers, health care for women or homosexuality in this area, the center will soon be able to deliver printed studies.

And if you know, or would like to research subjects like abused children, women and alcohol, funeral costs, para-professional fields and how to choose a nursing home, the Women's Resource Center has a job for you.

Detailed research into assorted fields of specific information for women has become an important activity in the college center that serves special needs of many of Schoolcraft women students and some of its men.

It is a project that has grown out of the needs of the many visitors who fine their way to the house south of the Livonia campus where the resource center is housed.

"PEOPLE COME IN with all sorts of needs," said Jean Christiansen, director of Schoolcraft's women's programs and the center.

"Sometimes they'll say they want to get a job or take a class, and that's what they think they do want, but often it's a chance to talk with one of our peer counselors or some help on a problem they've hardly identified that is really the reason for the visit,"

From the needs of the visitors has grown assorted volunteer services at the center, and one of these is the fast-growing list of researched topics.

For example, she said, the number of divorced women participating in activities at the center made it clear that some specific information was needed for women suddenly alone.

Jean Wagner, a Plymouth attorney and member of the Schoolcraft Women's Center advisory committee, came up with four pages of "Emergency Separation Survival Information," the what-every-woman-should-know stuff needed if her husband leaves or she decides she must leave him.

Later, Ms. Wagner put together a guide to no-fault divorce for the center.

Other visitors in the course of counseling sessions made it clear that physical abuse of women by husbands is not unknown in this area.

Some sort of information on facilities available for women who might have this problem but weren't likely to talk about seemed needed.

Betty Rathbone, a volunteer from Northville, stepped in to fill the need with a detailed "Guide for Battered Women in the Wayne County Area."

Her study led to a continuing interest in the problem, and she has become one of the Schoolcraft Women's Resource Center's representives in a loose network of agencies and groups in the metropolitan area seeking ways to help such women.

AS OTHER NEEDS began to surface, the center began systemizing its development of research studies.

Joanne Hurley, volunteer coordinator for the center, now channels the requests for information and finds people to fill them.

"We keep getting requests," she said, "and I check out our lists of volunteers, make a few telephone calls, put notes up on the bulletin board.

"When someone shows an interest in one of the topics we need researched, we try to go over the material, deciding what sort of information is needed and maybe dividing it up among several volunteers."

Pauline Chemberlin of Livonia is one of those recruits, and her research topic is the one currently getting major attention at the resource center.

Mrs. Chemberlain, along with Mary Jackman and Peggy Price, is digging into the kind of help available for the displaced homemaker, the woman who finds herself on her own in midlife because of divorce or widowhood or just an empty nest.

In this teamwork approach to a major subject, Mrs. Chemberlin is looking into legislation in this area, especially the means of supporting Michigan Senate Bill 196, which would set up a service center for displaced homemakers.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Jackman is checking resources that may be offered by the Women's Justice Center in Detroit, and Mrs. Price, who worked with Schoolcraft College for a time under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) researching help for widows and setting up the currently-growing WISER program for widows.

"We realized a great many of the programs and services that help widows also are useful for the displaced homemaker to know about," Mrr. Hurley said, "so Peggy is updating her research."

OTHER STUDY projects have included one on homosexuality by Jane Stubenvoll, a basketball coach from Northville, health care issues for women by Shari Clason and Diane Greenburg and choosing a therapist, by Linda Schaber.

Volunteer coordinator Hurley is looking for someone who will do some intensive study into other questions, such as what kind of part-time jobs are available in this area for women, how college credit can be obtained for homemaking and volunteer skills, how to help abused children and their parents, and how to choose a nursing home.

Funeral costs, women and alcohol, para-professional fields, child care centers, CETA-funded job opportunities, "moving out" needs of young persons, career opportunities with on-the-job training and resources for divorced fathers are still more subjects that have been suggested.

In a number of the areas, especially the one involving the displaced homemaker, research has led to involvement with programs in other schools or institutions.

"We're building an information network that really extends across the country," Jean Christiansen said, "and that's good because the needs of women all over are similar to those of women here in Livonia."

PAULINE CHEMBERLIN and Joanne Hurley, both currently closely involved with the displaced homemaker project, are quite different in life style and thus typical of the widely varied volunteer corps.

Mrs. Chemberlin, who moved to this area from Iowa, was widowed more than a year ago and happened on some material published by the SC resource center.

The request for someone to work on resources for the displaced homemaker interested her.

"I'm very fortunate in that I didn't have to face these major problems when my husband died," she said "but I have great empathy for those who do. There are so many things you have to do in situations of widowhood or separation. Just getting the proper information for Social Security purposes can be a major thing."

One of the things she has done and wants to see included in the list of resources for displaced homemakers is to take Schoolcraft's Career Planning Workshop.

"I do want to get back to work but I haven't been employed for 30 years," she said. "The tests in the workshop indicated I would fit best in banking or secretarial work. I came out feeling fairly optimistic about the job market, maybe I'll get a shock."

For Mrs. Hurley, the route to the Women's Resource Center started with the chance sighting of a sign in the office of Livonia's Office of Volunteer Energies (LOVE.)

"I didn't really want to take a job but I wanted something different from staying at home all the time," she said. "This seemed perfect."

This Sunday, June 19, is the day of the year when dear old dad should not be allowed to mow the lawn, grease the car, or even do the dishes. It is his day to receive that extra special treatment from his family.

It will be a great day for families to enjoy an outdoor barbecue or head for the park for a picnic. If you've lived in Michigan for any length of time, you know we Michiganders go, rain or shine. A little rain never stops the family softball or volleyball game. If we waited for the sun to shine, we'd never do anything.

Let's hope for a nice day this Sunday. Happy Fathers Day to you all.

GIRL SCOUTS from troop 482 will be packing their bags and heading for Niagara Falls June 20.

The girls will travel to the Canadian side of the falls by Amtrak for two days of fun and experience. All 15 girls are planning to earn their observer badge on the trip. They will study both soil and erosion.

The scouts will wear their world friendship pins in hopes of meeting scouts or guides from another country so they can exchange pins.

Linda Wilkin and Rosemary Harrigan, the troop leaders, will accompany the girls along with Myra Saley who will go along as troop nurse.

This was the troop that had the second highest cookie sales of any troop in the Plymouth, Canton or Northville area. They earned this trip through their hard work.

THE BROWNIES in Troop 241 held their flyup ceremonies today at the Hilltop Lodge, Ann Arbor.

Ten brownies became junior girl scouts of Troop 482. They arrived at the lodge at 9 a.m., had lunch and headed home at 4 p.m. Diane Fenrich is the leader of the brownies.

The girl scouts were surprised when their leaders presented them with the badges they had earned this year. Their leaders were very impressed with the girls' accomplishments.

Most of the girls earned from seven to 10 badges.

MILLER SCHOOL CUB Pack 854 did it again.

This pack is the largest in the Detroit metropolitan area. On a recent campout at the Charles Scout Ranch in Howell, they were received as the largest pack the ranch ever had.

Some 99 cub scouts and fathers enjoyed the weekend at the Kit Carson Cabin Complex. Hiking and swimming, along with a fishing contest, added great enjoyment to the trip.

JUNE IS supposed to be the month for weddings?

In Canton Township, it seems this has been a great month to welcome new residents by way of the hospital, rather than the altar.

A package was delivered June 4, only one week late. It weighed eight pounds and was 21 inches long—a baby girl named Sarah Jean Lane.

Chuck Lane will be busy decorating the baby's room before Sarah and mother Mary Ellen return from Sinai Hospital. Four-year-old Andrew spent several happy days with his cousin, Aaron Lapinski.

Bruce Lapinski will be surprised to see the new baby when he returns from two months in Brazil. Wecome home, Bruce.

June 12 was a happy day for Ken and Arlene Geisler of Versailles. They became the proud parents of a daughter.

Jennifer Renee weighed in at a healthy 9½ pounds. Brother Chris is patiently waiting at home with his grandparents to get a peek at his new baby sister.

Bill and Diane Soules of Palisades Court became the proud parents of a son June 9. William Jr. will be greeted by sister Leah on his arrival home.

May 30 was the day Pat and Bob Decelle of Devon Lane increased our population by three.

After seven years of waiting to become parents, the Decelles decided to do it up right. Triplets were born to the couple. One boy and two girls were delivered at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

Son Robert is at home with his parents while daughters Nicole and Kimberly will remain in Oakwood until they reach the five-pound mark.

Free concerts

The Ann Arbor Summer Symphony will perform three family concerts this summer—all of them free and open to the public.

Concert dates are: 8:30 p.m. June 23 in Hill Auditorium on the University of Michigan campus; 9 p.m. July 11 in Briarwood's Grand Court; and 8:30 p.m. July 21—during the Ann Arbor Street Fair—in Hill Aiditorium.

A half hour before the June 23 concert there will be a recital on the Charles Baird carillon adjacent to Hill Auditorium. The annual "Summer Pops" carillon concert will begin 30 minutes before the July 21 concert.

The Summer Symphony includes 90 musicians under the direction of the orchestra's music director and conductor, Gabriel Villasurda.

Although the orchestra receives some financial aid, principally from the Ann Arbor Bank and Trust Company and the Briarwood Merchants' Association, regular members of the symphony volunteer their services.

Some of the familiar compositions to be played during the summer season are Rossini's "William Tell" overture, Bizet's "L'Arlesienne' Suites 1 and 2, the Beethoven Second Symphony, dances from "The Bartered Bride" by Smetana, and selections from the musical "Oklahoma."

The orchestra will be joined by the Community Summer Chorus at the July 21 concert. Under the direction of Robert Pratt, the chorus will sing J.S. Bach's "Magnificat in D."

Davies-Goepp

Dr. and Mrs. Donald J. Davies of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Louise, to Steven R. Goepp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Goepp of Plymouth.

The bride-elect was a 1970 graduate of Plymouth High School. She graduated from Central Michigan University and works for the Morning Sun in Mt. Pleasant where she is manager of classified advertising. Her fiance graduated from Plymouth High School in 1970 and attended CMU. He is an airman first class in the U.S. Air Force stationed at England Air Force Base in Alexandria, La.

They plan an October wedding in Our Lady of Good Council Catholic Church, Plymouth.

Sims-Van Wagoner

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Sims of Cincinnati, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra, to Tim Van Wagoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Eagoner of Plymouth. The bride-elect and her fiance graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1973 and from Michigan State University in 1977.

A fall wedding is planned.

DiMaggio-Johnson

Wayne County Circuit Judge and Mrs. Andrew DiMaggio of Robyn Court, Canton Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Elaine, to Lynn Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Grand Rapids.

The bride-elect graduated from Redford High School in January 1972 and from Michigan State University in December, 1975 where she majored in elementary education. Her fiance is a 1974 graduate of MSU and is employed as an accountant at Bendix Corporation in Southfield.

They plan a November wedding in Our Lady of Good Council Catholic Church, Plymouth.

TOP BOWLERS on the Plymouth Symphony League's bowling league have been announced.

Gertrude Foreman had high individual game with a 223. Irene Erickson's high series of 509 was tops in the league.

The first-place team members were Betty Laird, Doris Chatterly, Pat Robinson and Jean Blomer.

ANN PREVOST and Jane Drewniak had top scores at last Thursday's party bridge game in Plymouth Cultural Center.

Margaret Swartz, who keeps us up to date on the winners, said there were nine full tables in play.

GREAT CONSTERNATION was displayed by Kroger-Super X shoppers when they saw the "CLOSED" sign on the Super X door.

The north Main Street duo was a handy combination. June 11 was the last day for store and the staff still is packing for the move to the Canton branch.

Manager Greg Scheppers said, "I guess I can just say we've been thinking of closing for some time."

Opening of the store was a long-delayed affair with litigation before the courts decided in favor of the chain drugstore.

The closing was, in contrast, surprisingly abrupt.

2 new shops offer bargains

Donna Gilpatrick of La Donna's

Plymouth area bargain hunters no longer have to drive to Grosse Pointe or Birmingham to find those designer name fashions at low, low prices.

Two new shops in Plymouth warrant a close look before heading for those greener out-of-town pastures. They are Cher's Closet on Wing Street at Forest, and La Donna's on Starkweather in the Blunk Furniture building.

Donna Gilpatrick had her grand opening last weekend in La Donna's, 638 Starkweather. Her shop features new and used apparel.

It is difficult to tell which is which—the new or the used. Only the price tags tell the tale.

Neiman Marcus, Saks Fifth Avenue, Norman Todd, Jones New York, Calvin Clyde, Diane von Furstenberg, Jack Winter and Jill St. John labels are combined with unbelievably low sales tags.

There are slacks suits, dresses—daytime and formal—and coats and jackets.

Among the men's suits was an Oleg Cassini for less than $30. European-made men's slacks, which Donna says regularly sell for as much as $60, are less than $10.

CHER'S CLOSET is in the old laundromat on the corner of Wing and Forest.

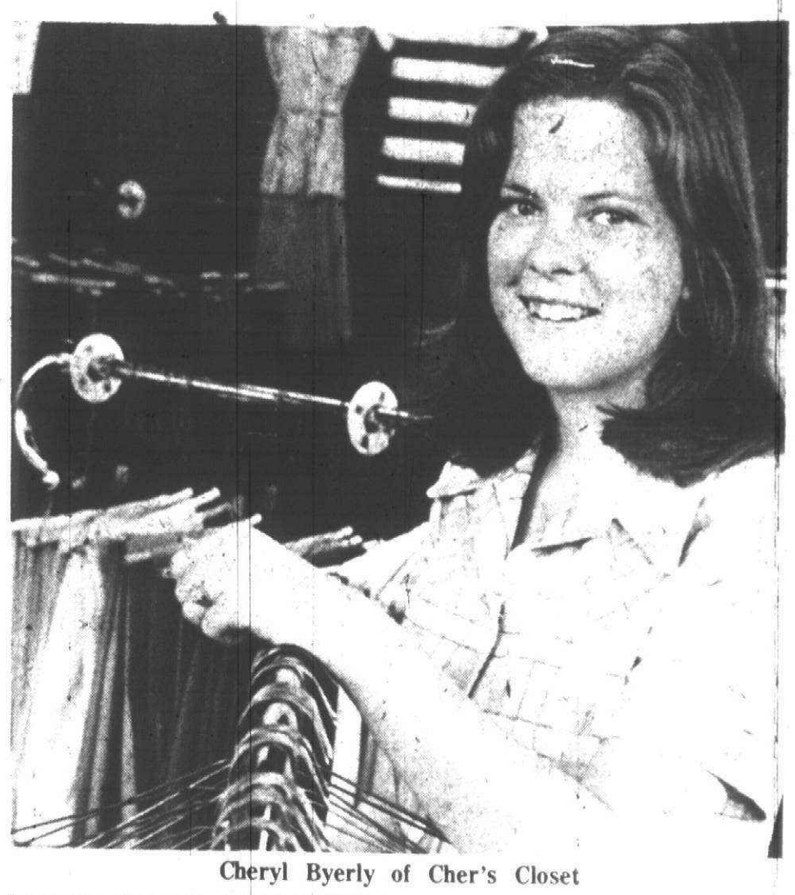

Cheryl Byerly has carpeted the floor and hung airy net curtains on the windows.

Her merchandise is all new. She buys directly from the factories. Most of it—under the Nikki label—comes from the Carolinas.

Some of the name brands have the labels removed. It takes a discerning eye to recognize the little touches which identify the true maker and the value.

She specializes in separates, slacks, skirts, blouses, and jackets. She also has long skirts and suits—some of them Tannerways.

Her stock of children's clothing is limited but she hopes to have more. Little girls' dresses are Ruth Originals.

THE KINGDOM IS LIKE A FISH-NET

"Again the kingdom of heaven is like a drag-net cast into the sea, and gathering fish of every kind," (cf. Matt. 13:47-50). In terms of this parable, first consider the basic realities that stand over us in our existence on this earth. There is coming a day when a separation of the wicked and the righteous shall be forever effected. In that day, there will be no fear of being victimized by those who do not value human life. Furthermore, this day will initiate the eternal punishment of the unrighteous. This is a solemn truth. The reference to the furnace of fire is not to be taken literally. Rather the language is figurative and is designed to impress us with the intensity of everlasting punishment. The lingering agony of a burn only begins to indicate to us the finality of God's wrath. Finally, the day of separation will also be the initiation of the eternal blessedness of the righteous: they will be forever separated from the ungodly; they will receive a glory given by God and an inheritance from God the Father in heaven.

Second, consider the distinctive point of this parable: the kingdom comes in the mission of spreading the gospel to all men everywhere. In the time between the coming and the consummation of the kingdom, the gospel is to be proclaimed to all men everywhere. The church has the gospel as a trust. Proper discharge of this trust will involve a following of Christ as "fishers" of men. The doctrine of sovereign election is no excuse to this work. Actually, it is an encouragement because we know God has a certain and settled saving purpose in which he has chosen sinful rebels unto salvation. He will save them. His method is Gospel mission. Our message in this mission is to announce the definite salvation secured by substitutional death of Christ.

The gospel stands out in relief against the backdrop of the reality of the judgment. Hear this gospel: believe and obey Jesus Christ, the Lord, and you will be spared the agonizing sorrows of the end of the age.

Slawski-Egner

Karen Jo Egner and Christopher S. Slawski exchanged wedding vows before the Rev. Tony Lombardini in St. Kenneth Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Egner Jr. of Thornridge, Plymouth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Slawski of Sioux Street in Redford Township.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight ivory gown trimmed with French lace and seed pearls. She carried a silk flower bouquet of lilies and white and yellow roses. Patricia Bovich of Dearborn was maid of honor; Cathy Slawski, Mary Bovich, Linda Asaro and Linda Denaro were bridesmaids. All the bride's attendants carried white daisies and yellow daffodils. They wore pale green floral-printed organza gowns with bell sleeves.

The bridegroom's attendants were Michael Slawski, his brother, as best man, and Michael Egner, Bob Cummings, Keith Baker and Patrick Slawski as ushers. The bride's cousin, Jennifer Egner, was flower girl.

The couple honeymooned in the Virgin Islands following a reception in Roma's of Garden City.

The bride is a secretary for Ford Motor Co. She graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1974 and earned an associate degree in business at Schoolcraft College.

Her husband is a 1971 graduate of Bishop Borgess High School. He served two years in the Marine Corps and is employed by Carpentry by Woodcraft builders.

Wolfe-Secord

Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church in Plymouth set the scene as the Rev. Robert Keller officiated fopr the marriage of Kathryn Lee Secord and Gerald Eugene Wolfe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Secord Jr. of Hackberrry Avenue, Plymouth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Wolfe of Hidden Lane, Livonia.

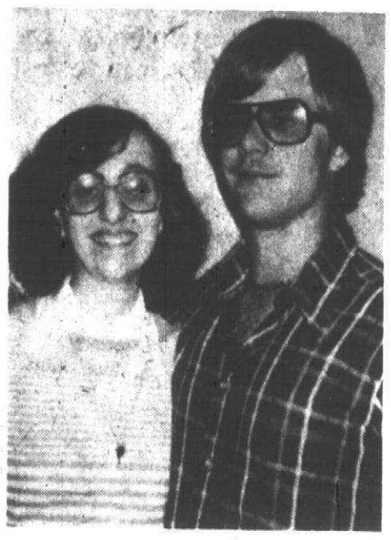

The bride's sister, Teri Secord was maid of honor. Linda Secord, Janet Secord, Dawn Wolfe, Bonnie Wolfe, Cheri Smith and Kathy Maxwell were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom's best man was Ross Smith. Harry Secord, Steve Secord and Alan Secord, Doug Van Hook, Ron Sutliff and Gordon Sterling were ushers.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and is employed as a secretary in Livonia. Her husband, a graduate of Bentley High School, attended Albion College and is employed as a salesman by Harry S. Wolfe Real Estate.

After the wedding, a reception for 250 guests was held at the Plymouth Hilton. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Pompano Beach, Fla.

THey will live on Gillman Avenue, Livonia.

Friend-Goudeseune

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Friend of Blue Skies Street, Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter Lee Ann to Timothy Robert Goudeseune, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Goudeseune of Provincial Street, Canton.

The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Churchill High School and employed as a bookkeeper by Richard French & Associates. Her fiance, is a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, works for National Concrete Products. Both attend Schoolcraft College as part-time students.

They plan an Aug. 6 wedding in St. John Bosco Catholic Church.

New Voices

Cynthia and Larry Granger announce the birth of their first child, a daughter. Alyson Suzanne was born May 30 in Sinai Hospital, Detroit. The Grangers live on Creekwood in Plymouth Township.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartimocci of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Granger and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conrad all of Pennsylvania.

How can funeral service follow a set formula?
We don't believe it can.
After all, people are individuals . . . and all families have their own ways of thinking.
This is why every service we direct takes shape according to the family's individual thoughts and preferences.

Minister picks favorites

Sermon book marks 25 years

A service of thanksgiving and the publication of a collection of his sermons will mark the 25th anniversary of the Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee's ordination.

The 10 a.m. June 19 service in First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth will have a "thanks to God for survival" theme.

"Fifty years is the big landmark," said Rev. Magee. "But by then you're either retired or dead."

Hopefully, copies of his book will be delivered by Sunday. He chose 14 sermons and several prayers for publication.

"It's just a paperback," he said with a flash of his dry humor. "It has an unusual title—'A Few Sermons and Several Prayers.'

"I believe preaching is the central thing in ministry. I like to think out and research a sermon. And I write my own prayers."

He said he had exceptional teachers in homiletics, which is the school name for sermon preparation and delivery.

THE SERMONS in the collection are representative of different periods in his career.

Philip Magee was born in Seattle but grew up in Butte, Mont., attending the University of Montana. After graduating from Princeton Seminary, he was ordained June 15, 1952 in his home church, First Presbyterian Church in Butte.

"Butte was a good place to live then. Strip mining has changed that.

"It was on the old theatre circuit—they stopped at Butte on their way from Seattle to Chicago. I saw my first live theatre play there. It was "The Little Foxes" with Tallulah Bankhead."

He recalled stories of Enrico Caruso's visits to Butte. There was the time John McCormack's welcoming committee of local Irishmen was almost responsible for a cancellation of his performance. Because of the great demand for tickets, Sarak Bernhardt had to sing in the Butte ice arena to accommodate the crowd.

THE YOUNG MINISTER'S first call took him to First Presbyterian Church of York, Pa. where he was assistant minister for five years.

"York is in Pennsylvania Dutch eating country," said Rev. Magee. "It was the capital of America for awhile when Washington set up his headquarters there. James Smith, the local signer of the Declaration of Independence, was buried in our churchyard there.

"They didn't even feel the depression. No banks closed in York. Their industry is so diversified—more than 120 plants—theyweren't dependent on one product."

His next move was to New York City where he was assistant minister at Fifth Avenue Presbyterian.

The senior minister there was one of the finest preachers in America, Rev. Magee recalls. "He pioneered counseling and was one of the first ministers to suggest that psychology and religion could work together."

Fifth Avenue was a large church. It was not uncommon to have 1,800, including many tourists, in the Sunday morning congregation.

"You never knew who would be there," the Plymouth clergyman said. As an example, a lovely lady stopped after the service, shook hands and said, "Delightful sermon." Later I received a note from her. It was Greer Garson."

SUNDAY'S SERMON will be "The Wonder of it All," his first sermon at Fifth Avenue Prebyterian.

"It's an old one—1959—and it is in the collection."

After six years in New York, he became senior minister at First Presbyterian in Baltimore.

This was an old church in the downtown area. Many of the parishioners had moved to the suburbs and commuted to the mother church.

Soon after the Baltimore move he married Dorothy Fuchs whom he had met in New York.

During their nine years in Baltimore, they nurtured the "meals on wheels" program for seniors and a youth street ministry.

"It was hard to leave," admitted Re. Magee. "Plymouth was our first experience in suburbia and we have enjoyed it."

Rereading his sermons to choose the ones for his book brought back many memories. "Did I say that?" he would ask himself.

"I included a fantasy, 'The Year they Canceled Christmas,' and a baccalaureate sermon. I received letters from parents and graduates and a nun who asked permission to have it printed.

"Each seemed to get a different message. I guess, as the Quakers say, it spoke to their condition."

Strawberry festival coming to Belleville

Strawberries are starring in the Belleville area, with an abundance of fruit ready for picking and preparations being completed for the National Strawberry Festival June 17-19.

St. Anthony Catholic Church and the Belleville-Ypsilanti Strawberry growers, and organization of five farms offering pick-your-own strawberries, are joining in sponsoring the festival, which will include shortcake-eating contests as well as spaghetti and chicken dinners, dance bands, bingo, games, movies, camping and the Belleville International Bicycle Race.

The festival will be held on the church grounds, 409 W. Columbia, from 6-11 p.m. Friday, noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Previously held in Manistee, the National Strawberry Festival has been moved to the Belleville area and will be highlighted by two Saturday events, the bicycle race and a celebrity shortcake-eating contest, along with a public contest for consuming four-pound shortcakes at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The bicycle race, open to persons from nine years of age to senior citizen, will begin at the National Bank of Detroit parking lot, with contestants assembling at 12:30 p.m. Trophies will be awardin five divisions.

Food for the festival will include a spaghetti dinner Friday, barbecued chicken Sunday, a continuous snack bar and strawberry shortcake available throughout the hours of operation.

For persons who want to included strawberry picking along with taking in the festival, camping facilities will be available at the Wayne County 4-H Fairground, half a mile west of Belleville Road and half a mile north of I-94. Camping information is available by calling the fairgrounds, 697-7671.

Those planning to pick should call the 24-hour hot line operated by the strawberry growers, 699-2088. The line will have up-to-date information as to the best places to pick throughout the strawberry season, from now into early July.

CHURCH BULLETIN

NEWBURG UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, Ann Arbor Trail at Levan, Livonia, will hold its second annual outdoor service to begin its summer schedule at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The celebration of joy service on the church lawn will feature the chancel choir singing "Holy Lord of All," the youth choir in "Do, Lord," piano music by Clara Walker and a sermon by the Rev. William A. Ritter.

Those attending are invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets to sit on during worship. The church will continue the 10 a.m. worship hour for the rest of the summer.

EPIPHANY LUTHERAN CHURCH, 41390 Five Mile, Plymouth will vote to approve a program proposal for their ministry Sunday after the morning worship hour. The proposal follows three months of planning which included a congregation-wide planning workshop and visits to all the families on the active membershop rolls.

Projects now being completed include the addition of new pews in the sanctuary, the painting and redecoration of the all-purpose room and the carpeting of the worship area.

"The commitment shown by so many of our members during the planning and implementation of this Every Member Response program has been an inspiration to me," said the Rev. Fred Prezioso, pastor of Epiphany. "I feel privileged to serve as their pastor."

CALVARY MISSIONARY CHURCH, 29850 West Six Mile, Livonia will host the Rev. M. Joe Jones, district superintendent, Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship hour. Sunday school will be at 9:45 a.m.

The family film "For Pete's Sake" by World Wide Pictures will be shown at the 7 p.m. service. THe public is invited.

UNITED ASSEMBLY OF GOD, 42021 East Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth will sponsor a concert by the gospel music group "New Hope" Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

Trinity to install Rev. Glen Taylor

REV. GLEN F. TAYLOR

The Rev. Glen F. Taylor, who has seen service in the Peace Corps and comes to Livonia from Pennsylvania, will be installed as pastor of Trinity Church of the Brethren, 27350 W. Chicago, at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Rev. Taylor began service to Trinity Church the first of this month after six years as pastor of the Richland Church of the Brethren, Richland, Pa.

Delivering the sermon for his installation will be Dr. Donald Miller, professor of Christian Education and ethics at Bethany Theological Seminary, the Illinois College where Rev. Taylor earned a master's degree in divinity and where he plans to begin work on a doctorate in the future.

The Rev. H. Arthur Whisler will represent the District of Michigan Ministry Commission of the Church of the Brethren, and the Rev. Ivan Smith, who has been serving as interim pastor at Trinity, will give the charge to the congregation.

Rev. Taylor, a native of Willow Hill, Pa., graduated from Lynchburg College in Virginia, where he was an All-American soccer player and a member of Blue Key honor society.

He was married in 1963 to the former Mary Mowery, and the couple served together in the American Peace Corps in India, working in the areas of nutrition and poultry development.

Later they traveled to Ceylon, Guam, the Philippines and through Europe before returning to this country and further study.

Mrs. Taylor earned a degree from Elmhurst College in Illinois while her husband was completing work on an MA.

After his ordination in the Lynchburg Church of the Brethren in 1971, he was called to the Richland church.

During his time there he was president of the community's Lions Club, chairman of the Richland borough recreation committee and chairman of the Eastern Lebanon County Family Health Center project.

Canton getting new parish

Benji's back with a new tale

By JOHN LUTTERMOSER

"America's Most Huggable Hero" lay curled up on the floor in the hotel suite.

Benji was obviously dog tired.

And with good reason. The dog who has replaced Lassie as the Laurence Olivier of the four-legged set has been doing a lot of traveling to promote his new movie, "For the Love of Benji," which opened nin the area on Wednesday.

Actually, this Benji is the dog that succeeded Lassie's successor, since the original Benji has retired at the age of 17. They say that makes him the equivalent of a 120-year old human.

THE NEW BENJI is the only one of the original's offspring who inheirited both his talent and his looks, according to trainer Frank Inn and writer-producer-director Joe Camp.

"It's done everything I ever tried to teach it," marvels Inn. "It had to go to sleep in front of the camera and it did it three times.

The abundance of talent is necessary because the Benji movies attempt something that Inn and Camp say has never been done before—actually making an animal the star of a motion picture.

"In all of the old animal pictures, the animal was nothing more than a prop," explained Camp. "The people were still where the story was centered, where your emotions were."

The exception is in animation, which allows the animals to talk. Camp said he got the idea for "Benji" from an animated film, Walt Disney's "The Lady and The Tramp."

I WONDERED IF it would be possible to accomplish what he accomplished with real dogs and real photography, not with Mel Allen saying 'And now the dog thinks . . .' " Camp recalled. "My first instinct was that it was impossible."

He wrote the story anyway, in 1968. But it was six years before the movie was released, mostly because almost everyone in the movie industry agreed with Camp's first instinct. A dozen animal trainers told him that a dog cannot be trained to emote.

Then Camp met Inn, whose previous pupils included Tramp in "My Three Sons," Arnold the pig in "Green Acres," and all of the animals on "The Beverly Hillbillies."

"I was ready to retire," said Inn. "I'd done everything that I thought could be done in animal pictures. Then I realized that all the people who told him it couldn't be done were people who used to work for me. They're looking at me now like maybe I'm not washed up."

"The first dog that he introduced me to was the dog that he knew could do it if anyone could," Camp said. Benji was already a veteran of TV's "Petticoat Junction."

"FRANK SPENT THREE months telling me that everything was impossible and then doing it," said Camp. The result was a movie that finished in the top 10 in box office earnings in 1975, due to its ability to attract both children and adults.

"It's adults that really gave it the word of mouth," said Camp, who admitted that it can be difficult to get adults to go to a family film. "The disadvantage is in trying to get them in in the first place. But the advantage is that when they go in for a G-rated picture, they don't expect much. Then they say 'Oh my gosh, I knew that's what they said, but I didn't believe it.' "

Camp's company, Mulberry Square Productions, then went on to make a movie with camels—"Hawmps."

Percussionist joins SC's music school

GARY DOUGLAS LAURA

Gary Douglas Laura, percussionist, will join the Schoolcraft College Summer Music School for 1977.

Laura, currently instructor of percussion and jazz band director at University of Windsor, holds a bachelor's degree in music therapy and music education from MSU.

He has performed with the Lansing and Kalamazoo symphony orchestras and has been percussionist with the Lubbock, Tex., and Johnstown, Pa., symphonys. Laura is a substitute percussionist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Also a full-time instrumental music teacher with Taylor Public Schools, Laura is an instructor of percussion at Detroit Community Music School. Along with teaching responsibilities at Schoolcraft this summer, he will form and direct a percussion ensemble.

Applications to the summer music school are still being accepted, and information is available by contacting Richard Saunders, SC director of fine arts, at 591-6400, ext. 342.

The Movies

By ROBERT GLOVER

'Star Wars'- impressive sci-fi

Stanley Kubrick (acknowledged king of modern film-making) is advised to hereby abdicate his celluloid throne. George Lucas' (creator of "American Graffiti") new film "Star Wars" makes Kubrick's "2001" appear to made been made in a bathtub.

This futuristic adventure supposedly occurred long ago in a galaxy far away. Here one Luke Skywalker, aided by four faithful, if somewhat oddball, companions, clashes with a powerful military empire.

Luke's attempts to free a kidnapped princess and an enslaved galaxy trigger motion picture excitement and entertainment of the highest order. "Star Wars" is for countless science fiction fans and many other filmgoers who were disappointed by "Logan's Run."

Writer-director Lucas looks to distant stars and far-off times to create this, his first film since 1973. The Great Unknown being what it is, Lucas' story may be unfolding now somehwere in the universe; after all, we might not be alone.

Strikingly, the script doesn't predict ominous things-to-come, but tells a story of timeless moral significance and crisis. No domineering computers or man-apes exist; just the war-mongering, all-powerful military complex so common to our own world.

Lucas and producer-friend Gary Kurtz have been preparing "Star Wars" since 1974, equipped with their immense profits from "Graffiti."

Almost $10 million was invested in some of the finest visual effects ever created.

Accordingly, the actors are outclassed by these visuals but nevertheless noteworthy: Television veteran Mark Hamil makes a highly likeable, courageous Luke Skywalker, complemented by Carrie Fisher as the beautiful imprisoned Princess.

Harrison Ford's Han Solo is perfectly sarcastic and resourceful, with James Earl Jones providing the voice of Lord Darth Vadar, "the Dark Lord." David Prowse physically portrays the latter, with alec Guiness and Peter Cushing superb as futuristic versions of Good and Evil respectively.

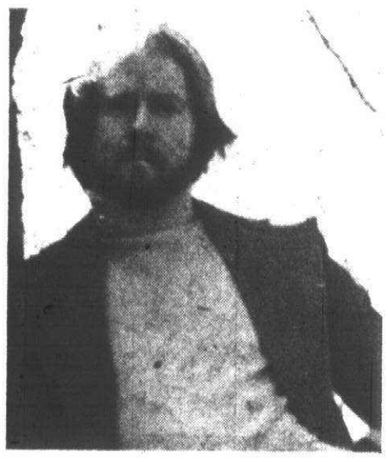

Production designer John Barry's starship interiors and council chambers are striking. John Dykstra supervised the overall work here, with "James Bond" film veteran John Stears supplying special and mechanical effects.

Numerous scenes feature actors and seperately photographed models together through composite photography. Slow-motion camera work gives starships the illusion of drifting and exaggerated size; Walt Disney veteran Peter Ellenshaw's glass paintings provide the planets and galaxies.

EXHIBITIONS

GRANT FISCHER, artist and Plymouth resident, continues a one-man showing of watercolor paintings at the Birmingham Gallery through June 18.

The paintings, primarily abstract with landscape heritage, are the result of Fischer's love of true color. According to one writer, the artist, who refers to himself as a color purist, has achieved the height of color in paintings such as "Breakthrough," "Ice Blue," "Enchantment" and "The Deep." Blue is the dominant color here, with purple and red highlights. Fischer also works with yellow, rust, red, blue, purple and brown in "Acceleration," Decatur Flats" and "Afternoon."

GRANT FISCHER

ART AT MEADOW BROOK is the title and the courtyard and grounds of Meadow Brook Hall is the setting for 100 artists displaying their works there Saturday and Sunday.

WOOD CONSTRUCTIONS and Downriver Sketches, by Irving Berg and Albert Noyer respectively, will be on display in Arwin Galleries through June 25.

Berg uses cutoffs from cabinet makers' shops—mahogany, walnut, maple and oak—for his sculptures.

Noyer's sketches catch downriver sights and Detroit's existence. For information, 965-6510.

Canton dominates area team

By DENNIS O'CONNOR
and DOUG FUNKE

Baseball in the Observer area has produced many great teams and individual talent over the years, and this past season proved no exception.

Heading the list of top teams in the area were Plymouth Canton and Livonia Bentley. Both teams finished among the top ten schools in the final state rankings. Canton won the Western Six League crown for the third straigt time while Bentley finished first in the Suburban Eight League.

Garden City East closed out its athletic activities finishing in a first-place tie with North Farmington for the Northwest Suburban League title.

Livonia Churchill was the area's only team to advance to regional play in the state tournament by winning the Dearborn District crown.

Area coaches met recently to select the top 22 players for Observerland honors. Here are the results:

FIRST TEAM

Mark Perkins, pitcher, Plymouth Canton. The statistics speak for themselves as far as the senior right-hander is concerned. Perkins was the ace of the Chiefs' deck this season, posting a perfect 9-0 record with an incredible 0.89 earned run average. He will be attending Alma College next fall on a scholarship.

"He had an outstanding year," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "He changes speeds well on his breaking ball and is still learning how to pitch."

Kevin Schultz, pitcher, Livonia Bentley. The two-year letter winner finished the season with a 12-5 record and was a unanimous all-Suburban Eight League selection. Schultz earned a 6-0 mark in conference play to go with a 0.80 ERA.

Kevin is a super competitor," said Bentley coach Marty Klozik.

Rob Taraskavage, catcher, Garden City East. The senior receiver finished the season with a .377 batting average for coach Billy Joe Young's squad.

Taraskavage, who has an excellent arm, accounted for 14 extra base hits including nine doubles, three triples and two home runs. He had 29 total hits for the season.

Bruce Alderman, designated hitter, Redford Thurston. The Eagles' leadoff hitter finished the year with an excellent .403 average.

Alderman, a junior, played every inning for coach Emil Majeski's squad. He demonstrated excellent bat control all season, striking out only six times in 77 trips at the plate. Alderman batted for a .333 average as a sophomore.

Steve Morman, first baseman, Plymouth Canton. The Chief senior is an excellent fielder of his position, committing only four errors during his three-year career at Canton.

Morman was the team's second-leading hitter with a .368 average and led the Chiefs in extra base hits. He also posted a respectable 4-1 pitching record.

"Morman is an excellent signing prospect in the future," Fred Crissey said.

Scott Collins, infielder, Plymouth Canton. The lone first-team all-state selection in the area, Collins was the premier hitter in Observerland with an amazing .478 average. He batted 90 times and recorded 43 hits.

"I think, without a doubt, Scotty is the outstanding prospect in the area because he is a junior," Crissey said. "He has excellent foot speed and a strong upper body."

Collins was the Western Six League's Most Valuable Player.

Dan Hunter, infielder, Redford Thurston. Thurston's senior-captain this season, Hunter finished a three-year varsity career with a .356 batting average in his final season.

"He has a super arm and is an excellent third baseman," said Emil Majeski. Hunter was also an all-league golfer in the Northwest Suburban conference.

Dave Nidsgorski, infielder, Plymouth Salem. A transfer student from Detroit Catholic Central, Nidsgorski, a senior, was the Rocks' most improved player this season.

Nidsgorski was the second-leading hitter on coach Brian Gilles' squad, recording a .357 average. He hit three home runs this season.

Ken Scarpace, outfielder, Livonia Franklin. A second-team all-state selection, Scarpace was known for his excellent defensive skills.

"Ken has an excellent arm and fast foot speed," said Franklin coach Ron Hellier. Scarpace ended the year with a .315 batting average and scored 23 runs.

Dennis Rusiewski, outfielder, Livonia Stevenson. The Spartan junior

DiPonio leads pack

A smashing 21-2 baseball victory closed out a successful opening week as Plymouth DiPonio got off to a quick start.

DiPonio, Plymouth Salem High School's representative in the Northwest Mickey Mantle League, recorded four triumphs in its first four starts. The last victory was the 19-run demolishing of Catholic Central Saturday afternoon at Salem.

Every member of coach Mike Michalek's team saw action in this thrashing.

Pitcher John Holdsworth was as impressive on the mound as were the DiPonio bats. He allowed only two hits, striking out 16 and walking six.

Matt Etienne paced the potent 16-hit DiPonio attack with a three-for-four day that included a home run over the 355-foot mark of the right-centerfield fence.

Catcher Dave Wilcox also had three hits. Sam Merrill, Mike Michalek and Bruce Piper each chipped in with two safeties.

The first of DiPonio's four wins occurred when Walled Lake forfeited the season opener.

Last Wednesday, DiPonio won its second game with a solid 5-1 victory over Garden City.

The score was knotted at 1-1 until the sixth inning when Plymouth broke loose with four runs.

Merrill walked, Michalek singled and Wilcox was safe on an error to load the bases with no outs. Dan Palubinsky singled home two runs, and Paul Ogden executed a perfect suicide squeeze to score the final two tallies.

Doug Holloway pitched a a three-hitter and struck out 10 batters in going the distance for the victory.

The following night, DiPonio topped Novi-Farmington 11-5 in a game marred by numerous bases-on-balls. The contest lasted over three hours.

Plymouth was in control of the contest all the way, holding an 11-0 margin until the final inning.

Etienne needed relief help from Michalek in the seventh to record the victory.

DiPonio mounted a six-hit attack from six different batters.

Plymouth's next contest will be Thursday evening against Detroit Southwestern. The game is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Salem diamond.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT A FULL GROWN TREE

Folks, I have specialized in shade trees and have supplied thousands of street plantings, industrial, schools, churches and residential. I feel that the right selection of a shade tree is perhaps the most important decision that a home owner is faced with in landscape planning. You may select your tree, tag it and have it planted at your convenience. Now ready for IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

Tennis dates set

The Plymouth and Canton Parks and Recreation offices have announced dates for the July novice and community tennis tournaments.

Plymouth's recreation office will sponsor the novice tourney the weekend of July, 8-10. The competition will be held at Central Middle School.

The Plymouth-Canton tennis tourney takes place on July 29-31 at the Centennial Park courts on Canton Center Road.

Application forms for both tourneys are available at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street. Registration fee for the novice tourney is $.50. The Plymouth-Canton tourney costs $2 per entry.

For more information on both events contact the Plymouth recreation offices at 455-6620.

McMurray won't win this year

Sports excitement in the Plymouth-Canton community never seems to come to an end.

Just two weeks ago this area was filled with excitement and anticipation because of the high school baseball and softball tournament action.

The Plymouth and Canton Parks and Recreation Departments are continuing this tournament stimulation as they sponsor the third-annual Plymouth-Canton men's softball tourney this weekend.

The 19-team double-elimination tournament begins play this Friday night and continues through the weekend. The championship games will be played Sunday afternoon, starting at 3 p.m. at the Massey softball diamond on Plymouth Road across from the Burrough's plant.

The other fields that will be used include the Canton High School diamond on Canton Center Road, just south of Joy Road, and the two Canton Township facilities also on Canton Center Road, north of Cherry Hill Road.

THE GOOD DOCTOR has made predictions on the outcome of this tourney for the past two seasons and this year is no exception.

The first-round pairings were not available at press time but here is a round down of the 19-teams involved:

H.A.F. Industries—Friskey colts with an outside chance.

Kool Kings—Moving up in class but may be out of its league.

Puckett Plumbing—Longshot team. This is my favorite squad because you can't find a better sponsor.

Massey Cadillac (Plymouth)—The big boys are here—if they show up.

Massey Cadillac (Canton)—Sleeper team that needs a lot of luck.

Bayloff—A two-game team (remember, it's a double-elimination tourney).

M.A.S.H.—Suicide is painless.

Magic—They'll need more than just Earvin Johnson.

McMurray Insurance—Defending champions who play better down the stretch.

Huffman's Roofing—Could have a great game with Bayloff.

George Smith Realty—Sleeper team if hitting is on.

Garden City Sporting Goods—Outside shot if the Elements are right.

Merchants—Unknown Class B quantity.

Finlan Insurance—Runnerups last year. Off to slow start this season and must show imnprovement.

Little Caesar—By Saturday night they will be eating pizza and drinking beer.

Kurl 'N' Kut Hut—Could have advantage with experience in both leagues.

Bathey—Will be working overtime by Saturday afternoon.

Adistra—The Yankee stripes won't help.

R & J—Play well in rain. Good mudders.

McMurray Insurance, one of the six teams representing the Canton league, has come from behind to win both tournaments the last two seasons.

And in both those years, I've failed to pick McMurray as the champion.

I have a lot of respect for McMurray's ability but once again I don't feel this team will win the tourney.

I should know better—especially the third time around—but the awesome power of Massey Cadillac of Plymouth truely surpasses all teams.

McMurray will probably finish as the runners-up to Massey. But don't take my word as gospel—I said the same thing last year, and you know what happened.

Hilltop Roundup

By Betty DeLano

Golf leagues at the Hilltop Glen golf course are into full swing with the coming of warmer weather and determined golfers. Five leagues inhabit the links weeknights and the ladies play in the middle of the week—bright and early in the morning.

Among the ladies leagues in the morning's mist include the Windsor Park golf league on Tuesday morning. Leading the A flight of the four divisions are Fran Brudzinski and Rita Heath, both tied at 64 for the last nine-hole round.

Heading the B flight is Pat Thibert who shot a 77 followed by Yvonne Burdziak with an 88. Phylis Anders heads the C flight with an 88 score. Second in the C flight is Carol Moorhead with a 96.

Bonnie O'Donnell has the first spot in the D flight with a 95, closely followed by Pat Fody with an even 100.

Monday night's Hydromation mens' league is led by Gary Keehn and Mike Verville with competition coming from the team of Parshall and Willson, and Olson and Riebe.

Hilltop's own four-man team holds the lead in the Wednesday night Business Mens' League for the second week with 30 points. In the second spot, putting on the pressure, is the team from Johnston Insurance with 28 points. Close behind the leaders is Derby Bar with 26½ points followed very closely by Jerry Abram Stamps at 26 points.

Low net team honors were earned by Mels Golden Razor with a four-man team consisting of Bud Ewers, Bob Barette, Hank Argenta and Floyd Burshard shooting a total of 124.

The low net individual title this week went to Burshard, who shot an actual 34 with an eight handicap for a final 26. Burshard helped earn his team five points in the standings.

Carl Zornow of Hilltop's squad and Tim Shelling of the Michigan T-Cats also shot 34s.

Any Hilltop leagues that would like to have their standings published, should contact Tom Ross, manager and pro at Hilltop, at 453-9800, or Betty DeLano at 453-8668.

Churchill ousted by Jaguars

By DOUG FUNKE

Livonia Churchill's Cinderella bid for a state baseball championship ended last weekend at the Wyandotte Regional when the Chargers fell to Allen Park, 9-7.

"I think we have played other teams that executed a whole lot better (than Allen Park)," said Churchill coach Roger Frayer, "but Saturday, they played well when they had to."

Frayer said that he elected to use a running, aggressive style of play on the basepaths against the Jaguars and that his charges were successful at realizing the strategy.

Churchill opened the scoring in the first inning. Bob Campbell singled, stole srcond and ran to third when the catcher's throw sailed into center field.

Bill Coyle drew a walk and on a balk-steal attempt, Campbell crossed the plate before Coyle was tagged out in a rundown between first and second base.

The Chargers came back with three more runs in the third inning.

Jeff Lajoie and Mark Galasso walked and Campbell singled to center, sending Lajoie across the plate. Bill Coyle walked to load the bases and Bill Bardwell drew a base on balls to score Galasso. Campbell crossed the plate on a successful suicide squeeze bunt by Chris Clegg.

Churchill scored another run in the sixth frame without a hit. Marty Abraham walked and went to second on a wild pitch. Lajoie walked and on a double-steal attempt, Abraham scored when the throw from Allen Park's catcher went awry.

The Chargers notched their final two runs in the seventh inning on a long two-run homer by Clegg over the fence in left center field. "He hit it a ton," Frayer said of the 385-foot drive.

Allen Park counted two runs in the second inning, six in the fourth and one in the sixth. The Jaguars put together four hits, two walks and capitalized on a Churchill error during their big frame.

Frayer said that a key to the outcome was that the Chargers' pitching "was not up to snuff."

Bardwell, a senior righthander and the ace of the staff, was relieved by Dave Evanoff in the fourth inning. The seventh, eighth and ninth batters in the Allen Park lineup combined for seven of the Jaguars 13 hits.

Churchill totalled six hits, three by Campbell and two by Clegg.

The Chargers completed their season with an overall record of 12-11, 3-7 in Western Six League play.

"I'm proud of the kids. I think they conducted themselves very well at the tournament," said Frayer. "We just have no excuses. You have to be able to battle the whole seven innings and Allen Park did just that."

Mustangs thwarted

Al Castrodale pitched a no-hitter last week to lead the Flyers to a Connie Mack League baseball victory over the Northville Mustangs, 7-1.

Castrodale pitched the entire contest, struck out 13 and walked just two.

The Flyers collected five hits and made one error, while the Mustangs had four errors and no hits.

The Flyers scored four runs in the first inning, two in the second and one in the fourth, while Northville scored its lone run in the second inning.

Bill Longeway had two hits and two RBIs to spark the Flyers' hitting attack.

"The team did a superb job backing up Castrodale, while he pitched one of his best games of the year," said Flyer coach Ted Wilkins.

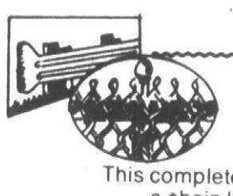

Canfield leads GC in Legion

Garden City came up with a pair of runs in the 10th inning to subdue Wyandotte in an American Legion League baseball tussle, 4-2.

Garden City scored the winning runs on singles by John Sabourin and Jerry Hool, an RBI-double by Jim Canfield and an RBI-single by Bob Zielinski.

Canfield, the winning pitcher, hurled all 10 innings. He struck out 19, walked one and gave up five hits. He was especially impressive in the sixth inning when he held Wyandotte scoreless after loading the bases with none out.

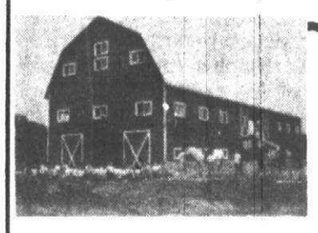

Doug McGill, Wally Krol and Canfield all notched two hits apiece for Garden City. Krol's were a home run and a triple.

5 Chiefs land spot on Observerland team finished the year with a .375 batting average.

"Dennis has super attitude and will do anything to win a game," said Stevenson coach Dave DuBois. "He has an excellent arm and is good with the glove."

Bill Coyle, outfielder, Livonia Churchill. The senior, three-year letter winner came back from a broken leg last season to post an impressive .381 average.

Coyle is also an excellent defensive player, handling 32 putouts with only one error.

"Bill is a very hard-nosed baseball player and a steady hitter," said Churchill coach Roger Frayer.

SECOND TEAM

Brent Erickson, pitcher, Livonia Stevenson. The soft-spoken senior hurler compiled a 6-3 record with a 1.98 ERA for the Spartans. Erickson will be playing college ball for Central Michigan University next season.

"Brent is a hard thrower and a good competitor," said Dave DuBois.

Steve Topalian, pitcher, Garden City East. After a slow start, Topalian went on to hurl seven victories in eight decisions. At one stretch during the season, Tobalian hurled 25 innings without allowing an earned run and ater mounted another streak of 17 scoreless stanzas.

He led the Observer area with 106 strikeouts for the year.

John Young, cather, Plymouth Canton. An outstanding leader for the Chiefs, Young finished the year with a .324 batting average.

"John developed his defensive skills this season," Fred Crissey said. "He is strong and throws the ball well."

Young will join the Air Force Academy this summer where he plans to play baseball.

Mickey Grech, designated hitter, Livonia Stevenson. The versitile junior catcher and the outfield for the Spartans this year. Grech finished with a .338 batting average and 20 runs batted in.

"He is strong and posesses good speed and defensive skills," said Dave DuBois.

Bill Bardwell, first baseman, Livonia Churchill. Not only was the Churchill senior a .303 hitter, but he was the ace of the Chargers staff.

"Bill was expected to carry the bulk of our offense, and he got the nod on the mound in tight games," said Roger Frayer.

Bardwell carried a 6-3 record with a 1.93 ERA. He also was a mainstay defensively at first base, committing only one error in 161 attempts.

John White, infielder, Garden City West. The Tiger second baseman batted second in the line up and was voted the squad's Most Valuable Player. The wiry infielder possesses a fluid swing which resulted in his breaking the school record for runs batted in with 22.

John Giragosian, infielder, Livonia Stevenson. The junior second-sacker recorded a .389 batting average this past season. "He is a good worker, a good fielder, and has a good attitude," Dave DuBois said.

Giragosian smacked 16 hits in 42 trips to the plate."

Ron Cross, infielder, Livonia Bentley. The Bulldogs' senior captain was the heart of the Bentley infield from his second base position. He finished the season with a .352 batting average.

"Ron is a real solid ballplayer with excellent attitude and super leadership," said Marty Klozik.

Marc Hackman, outfielder, Garden City East. The senior outfielder proved to be a team leader for Billy Joe Young's squad. Hackman finished with a .350 batting average, totalling for 28 hits in 80 trips to the plate.

Greg Lenhoff, outfielder, Westland John Glenn. The senior centerfielder has had a starting job at that position for the past two seasons. Lenhoff finished with 25 base hits and a .325 batting average.

He was selected the team's most improved player and was regarded as a great team player.

Rob Mandle, outfielder, Plymouth Canton. The senior player competed both at first base and in centerfield and ended the season with a .321 average.

"Rob has good range in the outfield and is a consistent spray hitter," Fred Crissey said. "He is an outstanding competitor and leader."

Time limit proposed for SC meetings

Trustee Ronald Cowden is proposing that the Schoolcraft College board adjourn all its meetings by 11 p.m. The board is due to act on the policy matter at its June 22 meeting.

Troubled by meetings that run frequently until after midnight, Cowden proposed this new rule:

"Except for matters of critical importance or of an emergency nature, the adjournment time for meetings of the board of trustees, whether regular, special or study sessions, shall be set for not later than 11 p.m.

"All agendas will be designed with this time constraint in mind. Adjournment may be extended beyond 11 p.m. by a majority vote of the board of trustees."

One effect of such a rule could be to shorten meetings. A more likely effect, however, may be to require the board to meet more often.

In fact, Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote has suggested just that. On paper, the board holds one formal business meeting per month and one study session. In practice, the board has been meeting in one or two additional study sessions per month.

Thus, Schoolcraft board meetings are almost weekly occurrences.

Meetings are at 8 p.m. Wednesdays in the conference room of the Administration Building on the main campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Another factor adding a few minutes to every meeting is the break, taken at 9:30 or 10 p.m. The board has recently prohibited smoking at its meetings, and the break gives trustees a chance for a smoke, a snack and a cup of coffee.

Cops net bucks

The Plymouth Police Department is calling its yearly auction a success.

According to Officer Rod Cannon, the department made $913 during the three-hour auction at the Plymouth Cultural Center last Saturday. The proceeds will be put into the city's general fund.

Some of the items which intrigued local bidders were: 35 bicycles, a toaster oven, stereo tapes, an adding machine, a tape player, a bowling ball, and several fishing poles.

DRC starts 2 busy weeks

With just one month of its harness season remaining, Wolverine Raceway at Schoolcraft and Middle Belt will introduce tonight what is normally its top two weeks of the meeting.

The 14-night race period includes Thursday's $43,800 Grand Circuit event for three-year-old Hambletonian hopefuls, the popular Good Old Times Night June 21 and the annual $50,000 Motor City Pace July 1.

Tonight's Grand Circuit trotting race has been divided into two separate divisions, each worth $21,900.

The initial eight-horse field is headed by trainer Bruce Nickells' entries of Rainbow Star and Number One, while the secon field of seven trotters will feature Bill Haughton's pre-Hambletonian favorite, Cold Comfort.

The two Grand Circuit headliners have been carded as the sixth and eighth races on the 10-race program. The Hambletonian will be raced Sept. 3 in DuQuoin, Ill. for $270,000, its largest purse ever.

Grandstand admission on Good Old Times Night will be reduced to 50 cents, with children under 12 admitted free of charge.

Last June on Good Old Times Night, a crowd of 14,794 consumed 22,863 hot dogs, nearly 5,000 ice cream bars, exactly 2,595 sacks of popcorn, 13,541 soda pops and 18,507 beers.

The price of refreshments next Tuesday will range again from five to 10 cents.

The Motor City Pace, which begins the long Fourth of July weekend will again bring together a collection of the best pacing horses in the Midwest and Canada0

Zoladz, Pitera, Dillon selected as all-league

Plymouth Canton first baseman Kim Zoladz was selected to the all-Western Six League girls softball team last week. It was the third straight season that Zoladz was placed on the coveted squad.

The Chiefs, coached by Joan Ryan, finished the conference season with a 5-4 record good enough for second place. Waterford Mott won the league title with a 9-1 record.

Both Mott and Canton shared the Western-6 crown last year.

Zoladz was the only Chief selected on the first team. Sophomore pitcher Lucy Howe was the other Chief honored as part of the second-team selections.

Freshman catcher Pam Schipani, sophomore infielders Kathie Peck and Laura Butler, and junior outfielders Judy Frieman and Kathy Sochacki all received honorable mention consideration.

PLYMOUTH SALEM'S softball team landed two players on the Suburban Eight League honor team.

Pitcher Debbie Pitera and outfielder Kathy Dillon both received first-team honors.

Pitera and Dillon are both juniors who placed on the all-Sub-8 squad last year as sophomores.

The Rocks, coached by Liv Way, placed second in the league this past season with a 10-4 record. Dearborn Edsel Ford won the title with an 11-3 mark.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
$7,500,000.00
PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS
COUNTIES OF WAYNE AND WASHTENAW
STATE OF MICHIGAN
TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES
(GENERAL OBLIGATION)

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above Tax Anticipation Notes of the par value of Seven Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($7,500,000), will be received by the undersigned at the Plymouth-Canton High School Cafetorium, 8415 Canton Center Road, Plymouth, Michigan, until 8:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on the 27th day of June, 1977, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

NOTE DETAILS; INTEREST RATE; PAYING AGENT; AND DENOMINATION: The notes will be dated July 1, 1977, will mature April 1, 1978, and will bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company located in the State of Michigan to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to the approval of the School District. Denominations of the notes to be at the option of the purchaser.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: The notes shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

AWARD OF NOTES: For the purpose of awarding the notes, the interest cost of each bid will be computed on a 360-day year basis by determining, at the rate specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from July 1, 1977, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest dollar interest cost to the School District. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

SECURITY: The loan is in anticipation of the operating portion of the School Tax for the fiscal year July 1, 1977 to June 30, 1978, which tax is due and payable December 1, 1977.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2% of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the notes. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder will be immediately cashed and payment for the balance of the purchase price of the notes shall be made at the closing.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg, attorneys of Lansing, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the notes.

DELIVERY OF NOTES: The School District shall furnish notes ready for execution at its expense. Notes will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser. The usual closing document, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the notes, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the notes. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the notes shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

ENVELOPES containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for School District Notes".

We Need You At
northAmerican
Van Lines

If you want to own your own business, join northAmerican's growing fleet of owner operators.

northAmerican needs people like you. People who want to decide their own futures. We'll help you start on that future by giving you complete training and by providing tractors at reasonable down payments.

Like anything worthwhile it requires an outlay of time and an initial investment (a minimum of $2,100 to a maximum of $3,800) which includes the down payment on a tractor and interim living expenses while you take training in driving, business operations, loading and paperwork.

So if you're 21 or over, in good physical condition, have a good driving and work record, and meet the financial requirements and if you're looking for something more than just a job, contact us now.
