Tornado alert siren system in sad shape

By GLENN BUNTING

Would you recognize a tornado warning siren if you heard one? Probably not.

In Plymouth, you wouldn't, because there is no such signal. And in the townships of Plymouth and Canton the warning is nothing more than a blast of the fire siren.

June and July are the heart of the tornado season, but a check of local warning procedures revealed no elaborate alert systems in readiness. Federal matching money is available through the Wayne County Civil Defense Department to purchase disaster sirens, but neither the city nor the township of Plymouth have participated in the program.

Canton is accepting bids on sirens and hopes to have two installed atop the new township fire hall and the department of public works building soon, according to Mel Paulun, Canton fire chief.

The city of Plymouth does not have a siren that is identifiable as a tornado or disaster alert system per se. "We activate our siren predominately for two purposes—to signal the noon hour to check and see if the dumb thing works, and to provide outside alert in the event of a big fire," said Tim Ford, Plymouth chief of police.

"WE HAVE A REAL big problem here with respect to a siren for a tornado or a disaster. When I came here in 1971, I went around and looked for sites for alert systems.

"Our study found that the best location was the top of the Michigan Bell building on Ann Arbor Road. A siren atop city hall would have to rotate, and no one wants to spend that kind of money.

"When you get down to it, nobody really cares. I suspect you can look into the communities hit by tornadoes last year and find that nothing is being done in the way of prevention. It's a low priority item."

In Plymouth Township, the tornado alert procedure of the fire department is to dispatch a radio equipped car, with trained weather spotters, to the intersection of Beck and Ann Arbor Trail, the highest point in the area, according to Jim Gignac, township fire chief.

If a funnel cloud is reported, the fire station is notified and the tornado siren—a continuous three minute blast—is activated. After the tornado leaves the vicinity, an all clear siren—three one-minute blasts with two-minute intervals—is sounded.

The township warning signal "doesn't sound any different than a regular fire siren," according to Chief Ford, who advocates a siren with a high, penetrating pitch.

The tornado warning procedure in Canton is similar to Plymouth Township's. When a funnel is spotted in the area, the township rings a large mechanical siren atop the main fire station on Canton Center and Cherry Hill.

THE SIREN IS USED daily as a traditional lunch whistle and a test. It can be heard for several miles, depending on which way the wind is blowing, according to a fire station spokesman.

The Plymouth Area Reaction Team, a citizen band Channel 9 monitoring group, has been on the airwaves every weekend since May 6 to provide advance tornado warnings. The group operates out of the Northville Township police department, and hopes to expand its services to weekdays.

The department of civil defense has made 50 per cent federal matching funds available since 1954, according to Leland Onkka, assistant director of the county defense department. Detroit has taken advantage of the 1954 act to purchase several sirens, and Northville acquired one two years ago.

Canton has received one bid for the new thunderbolt sirens, which Paulun said the township can do better on. The cost of new sirens range from $6-$10,000. Funds for one siren were included in Canton's special millage last year, and the cost of the additional siren will be absorbed by the general fund, Paulun said.

Ford said it is not feasible for a single community to pay for an alert system. "There's no reason why a new siren cannot serve both the city and the township. And if the cost is still too expensive, several communities ought to have strategically placed sirens that would activate simultaneously.

FORD ALSO SAID there is a need to educate the public. "When people hear an alert siren, they often run out in the street to see what's going on, or get into their cars and take cover."

The county civil defense department reminds citizens that the southwest corner of a house is no longer recommended for shelter. "There was a study done two years ago which found the southwest corner was actually the least safe place to take cover," Onkka said. Instead, the civil defense department recommends the northeast corner.

"Actually, the safest place to take shelter is in the basement stairwell or underneath a heavy object, like a workbench that provides overhead protection," Onkka said.

For houses without basements, interior rooms, such as small bathrooms and closets are the safest places.

Peter Gabbert (right) has reached his goal to collect enough signatures on petitions to let voters decide if they want Canton Supervisor Harold Stein ousted. Last Wednesday Gabbert helped Lynn LaBell (left) and Dee Bashor (center) submit additional petitions which seek to include Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Gene Daley in a fall recall election. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Recall election certain for Stein; maybe more

There are 29 more signatures than are needed on petitions to recall Canton Supervisor Harold Stein, according to Doris Kelley, secretary to the clerk who checked the petitions for validity.

The leader of the Stein recall drive, Peter Gabbert, said his next step is to pick up the petitions and deliver the 1,280 locally-validated signatures to Wayne County Clerk James Killeen. In Canton, 1,251 valid signatures are needed to force a recall election against any township board member.

The county clerk has 15 days to recheck the petitions against voter rolls and make sure the petitions are filled out correctly.

For instance, if people circulating petitions do not check a box marked "township" on the back of the petition, the entire sheet can be thrown out. Persons signing must fill in the entire line, including the date of their signing and mailing address for the signature to count.

In the last group of 72 signatures delivered to Canton Clerk John Flodin, 60 were judged valid by the clerk and his staff.

Once the county clerk determines that there is at least 1,251 signatures on recall petitions against an official, an election must be scheduled within 60 days. People may either vote "yes" on the recall or "no."

A SECOND RECALL drive which seeks the ouster of Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Gene Daley began May 21 under the direction of new Canton resident Lynn LaBell.

Gabbert, leader of the Stein recall drive, said he will inform county officials before scheduling the election that additional petitions to recall Daley and Bradley are likely to arrive later this month.

Charges against all three of the township officials who are under the recall gun are similiar. It is alleged by both recall camps that the three refuse to take legislative steps to limit new home development.

Stein and Daley joined with four other trustees two weeks ago in a resolution seeking a moratorium on new subdivision platting. That moratorium would be in effect until Canton finalizes its master plan and zoning map, said Stein. Mrs. Bradley remains opposed to placing "restraints" on construction.

All three of the candidates are charged with ignoring Attorney General Frank Kelley's legal opinion which said the first zoning board of appeals that was appointed was legal.

When she announced the start of the Bradley-Daley recall drive, Mrs. LaBell said she intended to collect 1,251 signatures against Bradley and Daley by June 25.

Gabbert, leader of the drive to recall only Stein, was asked why his name appears on Bradley and Daley recall petitions.

"We felt it would be better if we go after the king himself," said Gabbert. "But the other group (led by LaBell) feels that Daley and Mrs. Bradley will carry out the same policy as Stein. So there are two divided groups with a common cause. I don't disagree with them or agree with them. But, yes, I did sign her petitions."

GABBERT ALSO showed up at Canton Hall Wednesday when Mrs. LaBell handed in her first batch of Daley-Bradley petitions. Gabbert said because his group started first "and learned from mistakes, as a citizen I figured I'd help her out."

Gabbert has said Stein is unqualified to run the township. He also said previously that only Stein was picked as a recall target because "if any more were to be recalled, it would look like a bloodbath and we don't want that."

The number of valid signatures in the first batch of Bradley-Daley recall petitions has not yet been determined, says Mrs. Kelley of the clerk's office. She said that 30 sheets were submitted against the two township officials. The Daley petitions carried 596 unchecked names and the Bradley petitions carried 595 unchecked signatures, said Mrs. Kelly.

Canton Jaycees catch a breather before installing fencing that will encompass the Canton Fair which will run June 7-12 at the corner of Lilley and Ford roads. A highlight of the fair will be the dunk tank. Canton Supervisor Harold Stein has agreed to sit on the collapsible seat inside the tank. (Staff photo)

JC Fair opens tomorrow

Drop Stein, deputies in water

By CRAIG PIECHURA

With all the talk about the "Dump Stein movement," many people have missed an altogether different drive—the "Dunk Stein movement."

Canton Jaycee President Tom Salapatek says that as recently as two weeks ago Canton Supervisor Harold Stein was non-committal when asked if he'd agree to be a human target in the dunk tank at the Canton Fair, June 7-12.

"We talked to him about two weeks ago and he said he wasn't sure about the idea of sitting in a dunk tank when so many people would like to take a shot at him," Salapatek said.

But Stein says he doesn't remember ever being asked.

"Nobody asked me," Stein said. "Sure, I'll do it so long as it won't mess my leg up. I'll go in the water if it'll help them raise money. Hell, they should get Greenstein to throw the balls, or maybe Bundarin and we'd have a real crowd. Or maybe some of the 1,300 people who signed the recall petitions will want to throw a few balls at me."

"TELL EVERYBODY it's open season on Stein."

The Young Americans, a youth auxiliary group of the Centennial CB organization, will operate the dunk tank booth at the Canton Fair.

Wayne County Sheriff deputies will be perched precariously above the water Friday evening in case anyone has a score to settle with the lawmen and wants to get sanctioned revenge.

Deputy Ed Rasmussen is rounding up a group of sheriff deputies for the drip-dry duty.

A carnival dunk tank consists of a screened-in chamber where the dunking victim sits on a collapsible plank. People pay good money to take a chance at hitting a round target which activates a collapsible seat.

The potential victim inside the cage usually taunts the manhood or womanhood of the person throwing softballs at him and eveyone laughs when the dunkee is dunked.

Supervisor Stein hobbled around on crutches last year after being treated for torn ligaments and cartilage in his leg. But he says he'll be glad to sit on the wet seat, providing he is allowed to drop in the water without jarring his leg.

In the past two Canton fairs, former supervisor Robert Greenstein sat in the dunk tank to drum up business.

Pitching arms are limbering up all over Canton in expectation of dunking a politician or police officer.

THE FAIR BEGINS tomorrow (Tuesday, June 7) at 5 p.m. on the corner of Lilley and Ford Road. Fair hours are 5-11 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and 1-11 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Friday is Kiddie Day with rides half-price 1-6 p.m.

A new thrill ride called "The Himalaya" will be featured this year along with something known as the "Supercar." Happyland Shows is bringing in the rides and the site is being made available by the Diamond Beer Distributing Co.

Rev. Leonard Ritzler funeral services today

The pastor of Canton's Cherry Hill United Methodist Church, the Rev. Leonard C. Ritzler, lost a struggle with cancer Friday in St. Joseph Hospital.

Services for the Rev. Ritzler, 57, of 341 Ridge Road, Canton Township, will be held Monday, at 1 p.m. in Cherry Hill United Methodist Church. Dr. Robert P. Ward will be officiating.

Pastor of Canton's Cherry Hill United Methodist Church for the past five years, the Rev. Ritzler previously preached at Mount Hope Methodist, Lambertville Methodist, and Warren Valley Methodist in Dearborn Heights.

Before entering the ministry, the Rev. Ritzler operated truck farms in Livonia and Pinckney.

"Dad always had a sense of humor," said Mrs. Connie Grady, Mr. Ritzler's daughter. "I think he did well because he loved people; he made friends wherever he went."

THE ART OF pitching horseshoes was one of his favorite leisure-time activities. He was a member in good standing of the Michigan Horseshoe Association.

He was born Aug. 21, 1919 in New Buffalo, Mich., the son of Edward and Florence Mellema. His mother is still living and resides in New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

He is also survived by his wife, Dorothy; sons, Ronald of Livonia, Trent of Canton and David of Lewiston; daughters, Mrs. Gerald (Connie) Grady of Detroit and Mrs. Walter (Nancy) Fisher of Lambertville; brother, Russell of Rolling Prairie, Ind.; sisters, Mrs. Ethel Hoffman of Livonia and Mrs. Elaine Simpson of Toledo, Ohio; and eight grandchildren.

The pastor will be buried in Livonia's Grand Lawn Cemetery.

750 graduating; traffic jam likely

Some 750 high school seniors will be ending their local education careers this week with graduation ceremonies at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

Salem High will graduate some 450 seniors at ceremonies which begin at 8 p.m. Thursday. Canton High will graduate 300 seniors at ceremonies beginning at 8 p.m. Friday. Both ceremonies will be at the Centennial Educational Park Football Stadium. In case of bad weather ceremonies will be moved inside to the Salem gymnasium.

Parents and friends of graduates are advised to arrive early Thursday and Friday evening to avoid the traffic rush which piles up each year at Canton Center and Joy Roads. Wayne County Sheriff deputies will be present to direct traffic but those who arrive early will avoid a lot of aggravation.

Estimates are that some 5,100 persons and at least 1,020 cars will be piling into the stadium Thursday night with some 3,400 persons and 700 cars Friday night.

School officials advise graduates to arrive at least 15 minutes early to avoid the traffic snarl, which in past years has backed up from Canton Center Road on Joy all the way to Main.

NEITHER SCHOOL will have outside commencement speakers as in years past, instead relying on the senior class presidents and principals.

For Canton's commencement, principal Kent Buikema will make some short remarks and then turn the microphone over to class president Mary Williams. She will be followed by Ron Carolson, senior advisor.

School board members handing out diplomas at Canton's graduation will be Joe Gray, board president, George Lawton, Marcia Borowski, and Flossie Tonda, board secretary.

Supt. John M. Hoben will make remarks at both commencement ceremonies.

Salem principal Bill Brown will

Bev McAninch is dumped from SEMTA's board

Suburban Wayne County commissioners have dumped Plymouth City Commissioner Beverly McAninch from the board of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) and replaced her with Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara.

The vote Thursday afternoon was 22-0. Informed Friday at mid-day of the outcome, McNamara said he hadn't been notified yet of his new three-year post.

Mrs. McAninch got her first word from an Observer reporter Friday afternoon.

COMMISSIONER Richard Manning (D-Redford) nominated McNamara, according to a county board spokesman. Manning could not be reached for comment on his move.

"The commission's nose must have been out of joint because I was originally a SEMCOG appointee," said Mrs. McAninch. She received her appointment, to fill a three-month vacancy, in March from the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. A new state law that took effect in mid-April stripped SEMCOG, a seven-county planning agency, of its appointment powers and gave most to county boards of commissioners.

"Every commissioner I talked to gave me a very cold shoulder except my own, Royce Smith," Mrs. McAninch said.

She was unaware that the SEMTA appointment would be made at Thursday's commission meeting.

MRS. McANINCH was reported to be on the bad side of organized labor, which boasts it controls 18 of 27 votes on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Just why labor should oppose her was puzzling to her. "I voted with the majority. I don't see why they would want to replace me," she said.

Mrs. McAninch seconded the motion when the SEMTA board voted 9-4 last month to pursue a light rail plan as its preferred rapid transit alternative for the region. In that division she voted with the five City of Detroit representatives, including Tom Turner, president of the metropolitan AFL-CIO, and Rudolph McCullough, a UAW official.

Nevertheless, the Observer learned that Turner was definitely in favor of replacing Mrs. McAninch.

She expressed admiration, however, for McNamara and his ability to represent the suburbs.

McNAMARA SAID he was solicitied as a SEMTA candidate about two months ago by a "high Wayne County official" whom he declined to identify. Two other persons were also under consideration.

It was not generally known that the fulltime mayor was interested in the SEMTA post, which will probably take the equivalent of a full day a week.

"I am extremely concerned that the $1 billion to be dumped into it (rapid transit) be used for everyone's advantage and not just to build a tunnel in Detroit which will then be filled in," McNamara said.

"People in Livonia and Westland don't want mass transit now, but when gasoline prices go up, they will want to have the system available," he said.

McNamara was elected mayor in 1970 after serving as city council president. He had also served on the old Wayne County Board of Supervisors before it was replaced in 1968 by the board of commissioners.

Foes of prison get some hope

Opponents of the minimum security prison proposed for the corner of Sheldon Road and Five Mile breathed a little easier last week, but a technicality kept them from heaving a final sigh of relief.

A recommendation to sell the 700-acres of county-owned property in Northville Township to the highest bidder failed to pass the full board of county commissioners Thursday by only two votes. But when the issue comes before the board again in two weeks, those two votes will not be necessary.

The recommendation was made Tuesday by the public works committee, and because the required 72 hours had not elabsed between the committee's recomendation and the full board's action, a two-thirds majority vote was needed to adopt the committee's suggestion as an "emergency" measure.

With 16 commissioners voting to put the land up for bids, the motion fell two votes short of being adopted. But once the 72-hour requirement is out of the way, only 14 votes will be required.

"We're going to have another crack at it at our next meeting," said Commissioner Royce Smith, "And I'm confident that the votes we need will be there."

Smith (D-Belleville), whose district includes Plymouth and Canton, has been a vocal opponent of the plans to use the vacant site of the Child Development Center for a jail.

"That land is one of the most valuable parcels in this part of the county. If we can get it out on the open market, I have no doubt we could sell it for the $14 million."

The Michigan State Department of Corrections has been pushing hard for the county to sell the land to the state for $9 million. The estimated value of the acreage is more than $14 million.

With the test vote as close as it was, Smith said, there is bound to be pressure on the commissioners by those in favor of the prison and those against it.

"You can bet there'll be some politicking by both sides in the next couple weeks. But I think the commission is convinced that it doesn't make sense to sell that land to the state, when we can get more for it from a private purchaser."

Smith also said the county would stand to realize close to $1 million a year from the property if it were purchased by private business or industry.

Time to enter July 4th parade

Preparations are under way for the Plymouth Jaycee Fourth of July Parade, complete with fireworks.

Any groups wishing to enter the parade can now pick up an application blank from the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce office on Wing Street at Forrest.

Parade applications also may be obtained by contacting Larry Kennedy at the First National Bank of Plymouth on Main Street or Darryl Dooley at 292 Arthur, Plymouth, telephone 455-7382.

Deadline for parade entries has been set for June 25 to allow time to organize the formation of the units in the parade and to publish the lineup beforehand in the Observer.

The fees for adult and youth groups, and other community organizations, will be waived again this year to promote more interest in the parade.

Musical groups entered in the parade thus far include: the Troubadors from Taylor; the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps; Clan McRae, a Scottish pipe band; and the Plymouth Community Band.

Marching with the bands will be the Salem Rockettes, Canton Chiefettes, and the U.S. Marine Corps. Color Guard.

Check alert

Once again some bad checks are being passed in the Plymouth business community.

"It doesn't happen often in Plymouth that checks are actually written on a closed or bad account causing more than an 'insuffient funds' problem," says Janet Curlee, executive secretary of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce. "But once is too often.

"We do inform local business about bad checks when we hear from a bank or another business about such but our means of spreading the word has to be improved to be the most effective system it can be.

"Most recently bad checks were being passed in children shops." Mrs. Curlee continued. "When we were informed, we called these retail businesses in this category and asked them to help pass the information on to other retail stores."

To make the system more organized and efficient the chamber is asking for the participation of all retail stores throughout the Plymouth community.

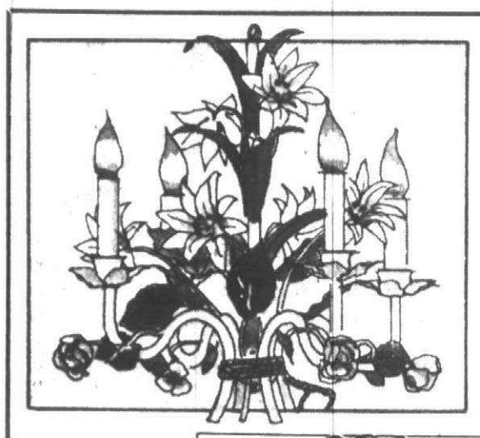

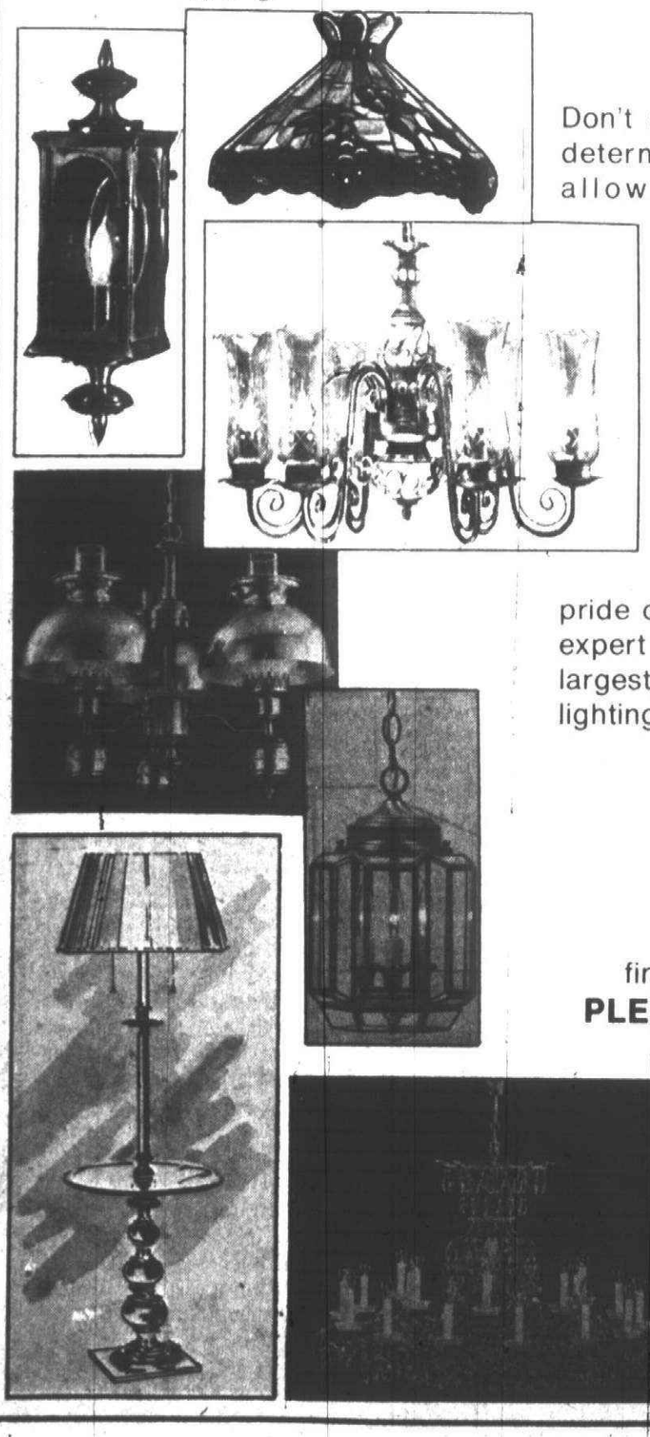

"We are asking for block contacts in the various shopping areas. The block contacts, perhaps two or three per street, we will call and ask that they in turn contact their neighboring retailers.

Polish dancers are no joke

Plymouth Community Arts Council member Carol Heisr (left) chats with Mrs. Jean Grzywacz, director of the Polanaise Dance Group, which performed last week at Isbister and Gallimore schools. The young ethnic dancers later changed costumes and performed modern dances for the students. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

The Polish dancers have performed at Detroit's ethnic festivals, the Hamtramck Festival, and on a polka program broadcast over Channel 62. The dance studio is in Dearborn Heights but the dances hail from all the surrounding communities. The girls say they like performing in the fancy Polish garb "but it can get pretty hot during a dance."

Margaret Grotewohl of Livonia sported one of the prettiest smiles in the whole dance program. Students at Isbister Elementary Elementary (above right) were entranced by the dancers even though they were a little worn out by the heat inside the gymnasium.

Red the hen fosters school cooperation

Everyone knows the story of "The Little Red Hen," right? The hen is industrious and bakes the bread all by herself because none of the other animals will help out.

But they all want a piece of the action when there's a moral in there somewhere.

And a number of people must have taken that moral to heart. When Doris Balconi's first grade class at Eriks- the work is done, and it's time to enjoy the fruit of the labor.

son decided to perform "The Little Red Hen," unlike the hen, they were besieged with offers of help.

"For a first grade play, it has turned into a real production," said Mrs. Balconi. "I'm ready to give up teaching and go into producing plays for a living."

Not only has the Centennial Educational Park High School drama club been working with the young actors, but the video department has offered to tape the first performance at 1 p.m. June 8.

In addition, the school farm will provide stage props and real live animals. Also, the student's mothers have been putting in long hours making costumes and scenery.

"The response to my pleas for help have been amazing. Everyone has just knocked themselves out. I can't believe it."

"Little Red Hen" cast members include (from left) Allison Schram, Renee Williamson, and Jennifer Bicknell. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

THE IDEA TO produce the operetta came about, Mrs. Balconi said, when she was trying to figure out what the class could do that each student could have a part in.

"Every single member of the class will be on the stage. I don't place a lot of stress on memorizing lines. I just want to make sure the kids have a feel for the play."

A number of the songs had to be adapted for the production, and the animal characters were changed to match the ones the Rotary School Farm was able to supply, according to Mrs. Balconi. But other than that, the play will be presented intact.

Besides the animals, the farm manager supplied some bales of hay and rolls of chicken wire. One mother has Area co-chairpersons Cynthia and Robert Betley are coordinating the local effort, while TV newsman Joe Glover is honorary local chairman of the MD drive.

Canton crew heads up the June 7 MD march

Canton Township has a monopoly on fund-raising poster children.

Christopher and Michael Yotti of 6862 Carriage Hills, Canton Township, are this year's poster children for tomorrow (June 7) evening's annual door-to-door Muscular Dystrophy Association drive. Earlier this year Debbie Ott of Canton served as poster child for the March of Dimes fund- raising walk.

Volunteers, identified by Jerry Lewis badges, will be out on the street Tuesday evening from 5-9 p.m. seeking contributions to support medical research and patient services for MD victims.

Cynthia and Robert Betley of 43663 Lancaster Court, Canton, are area co-chairmen of the drive.

The association hopes to have 30,000 volunteers soliciting in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties.

CHRIS YOTTI, 5, and his brother, Matthew, 3½, have been diagnosed as victims of spinal muscular atrophy and are receiving help from the association's Muscular Dystrophy Clinic.

The boys are the sons of Rick and Cindy Yotti. Mrs. Yotti says she suspects her boys were picked as poster children because of their outgoing personalities.

The Yotti's have been active in previous fund raising efforts in behalf of the MDA.

Persons with last-minute questions about the door-to-door collection drive may call 937-2090 or 886-8980.

Children look for red helping hand

A young boy on his way home from school hits a rock in the road and falls off his bicycle, cutting his knee. He gets up, looks down the block and heads for a house 25 feet away.

No, it wasn't his own home. He saw the red "Helping Hand" symbol in the window and knew he could rely on the person inside for some first aid and a quick call to his mother.

The Helping Hand program is a volunteer effort designed to provide additional security for children on their way to and from school.

"Houses with the red Helping Hand symbol in the window tell a child that he or she can receive protection from a responsible adult during an emergency situation, such as accidents, sudden illness, getting lost or storms," said Sylvia Stetz, chairwoman of the program.

"These homes are not intended to provide free babysitting, and they are not a toilet facility or a food and drink station. They are there to be used in an emergency only."

AS OF TODAY, the program is in effect for the following elementary schools: Allen, Bird, Eriksson, Farrand, Fiegel, Gallimore, Smith, Starkweather, and St. Peter's Lutheran School. The rest of the schools will start placing symbols in the neighborhoods as they are ready. They are: Field, Hulsing, Isbister, Miller, and Tanger.

According to Mrs. Stetz, each elementary school has a building chairman and a committee which are responsible for coordinating the Helping Hand volunteers.

In addition, the committee is responsible for screening the volunteers and designating the homes which will have the red hand symbol displayed in them.

The individual volunteers, Mrs. Stetz said, have no legal status except that of private citizen in the community and have been instructed to call the police when an emergency arises.

All the police departments are aware of the program, and they have been furnished with a list of addresses of the homes with a symbol.

"I am in total support of this kind of community involvement," said Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford. "The people who offer to become a Helping Hand volunteer are providing small islands of safety in a relatively hazardous world."

The idea for the program grew out of an Allen Elementary School PTO meeting last September. Principal Tom Workman made the original suggestion, and the members talked it over and made a number of initial contacts to see what kind of response they would get.

"I would say that the most difficult task involved in the program was getting everybody together," commented Mrs. Stetz. "It takes a tremendous amount of cooperation by large groups of people to set something like this up and have it be successful."

Besides the individual Helping Hand committees, all of the elementary PTOs were involved, as well as the principals and the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Council.

School Supt. John M. Hoben also provided assistance by contacting the district attorney, who in turn gave the committees legal advice.

In addition, a number of groups in the community gave the effort some much needed financial support. They are: The German-American Club, the Tanger and Allen PTOs, and the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary.

Softsoap used on Greenstein

Editor:

Could Ms. Cynthia Monks be the same Cindy Monks who stood beside me during the primary while you and I passed out literature for our respective candidates (Peter Bundarin and Harold Stein)?

Tsk, tsk, Cindy, that's not the way you talked to me about Mr. Robert Greenstein that day. But, of course, that was before the election. You thought Mr. Greenstein would win the Democratic primary, remember? This would make him a political foe for your Republican candidate.

Could it be that you are enlisting the aide of Mr. Greenstein's supporters so that you may have their help in the recall, thus giving your own candidate another chance to be supervisor? IRENE G. MURPHY

The Stroller

Wedding bell laughs

By W.W. EDGAR

Now that we are into the month of June, wedding bells will be ringing across the land. Thousands of nervous brides will juggle bridal bouquets as they slowly walk down the aisle. Grooms, young and old, will be fumbling for the rings to place on their fingers to seal the pact. More than likely the front rows will be filled with parents. Many of the mothers will be weeping over the loss of a daughter. The fathers will look on with pride.

But somewhere along the line in these solemn ceremonies there will be a laugh or two that will live with the bridal couple for the rest of their lives.

EACH YEAR when the month of June arrives The Stroller can't help recalling his own wedding day almost half a century ago. It was a day of solemn emotion as relatives and friends gathered in the Metropolitan Methodist Church in Detroit in mid-afternoon.

Promptly on time the bridal couple arrived. The pews in the church filled rapidly. The organist fingered the keys right on time. The soloist was on hand and promptly at the appointed hour he arose and started singing.

But there was something missing. As the minutes passed and the bridal couple did not appear to walk down the aisle it was felt that one or the other had decided to withdraw.

No one would have guessed that the most important member of the ceremony—the minister—was missing. For close to an hour The Stroller and his bride sat in an ante-room, waiting and waiting.

Friends came and looked in, wondering what happened. They couldn't believe that the clergyman who was to tie the knot was missing—that he had overlooked the date on his calendar or that something happened to him enroute to the church.

Finally, the door opened and in rushed the minister. It happened that he had spoken at Ypsi Normal (now Eastern Michigan University) in the morning and was caught in what he described as a near hurricane. He was all apologies as he asked for the license.

Told that he had been given the license several nights before, he replied, "Okay, I recall that. We'll just go ahead without it." And that's what he did.

NOW, AS THE years go by, on each anniversary the memory of that afternoon, sitting in the ante-room waiting for a minister comes to mind. And aways with a laugh.

On another occasion The Stroller and his mate were guests at the wedding of a friend's son. He was of Jewish faith and the ceremony was held in the ballroom of the Book-Cadillac (that was the name of the hostelry at the time) and we were amazed at the manner in which the room was decorated.

Neither of us ever had seen a Jewish ceremony. We followed every move very closely and compared them with the rituals in our own religion.

Everything went fine until the the final moment when the Rabbi wrapped a wine glass in a napkin and placed in on the floor and invited the groom to step on it. He did and crushed the glass.

Later at the reception, The Stroller and his wife were seated with the Rabbi and his curiosity got the best of him.

"Rabbi," The Stroller asked, "what is the significance of the glass being stepped on?"

"That is our symbol of the groom stamping out anything that may come between them," he answered. "Briefly, it establishes his authority."

"And what happens if he misses the glass? Does the bride get a chance to assert her authority?!" There was no answer amid the laughter.

THEN THERE was another day when The Stroller and his wife were invited to attend the wedding of a friend's daughter to a chap from Mexico.

As the mass drew to a close there was a sudden rush to the altar. It was at the time when the Catholic rituals were undergoing a few changes. So we sat there, thinking the rush was part of the ceremony.

Little did we realize that the groom had fainted and fell face forward. It appears that he had celebrated too freely the night before and he had to be revived and held up on his feet by his best man until the ceremony was completed. We still laugh about it.

One of the best wedding laughs we have in our family concerns the marriage of The Stroller's maternal grandparents.

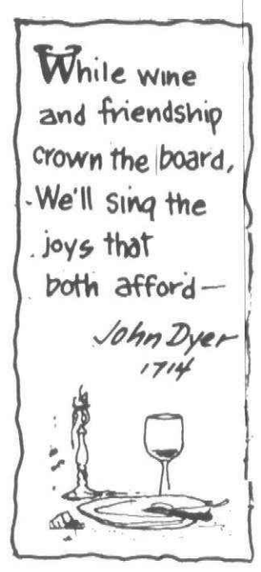

They were united in marriage in an old-time Pennsylvania Dutch church out on the edge of the farmland.

As the story has been handed down, at the conclusion of the ceremony the minister, in addressing the newlyweds said, "Now go home. Be fruitful and multiply."

To which The Stroller's grandfather, the Old Colonel, answered for all to hear:

"I'll do the best I can."

Yes, there's many a laugh mixed in with the wedding bells at this time of year.

Vittorio's signals beginning of dinner theater

By MICHAEL REGGS

With the dinner theater concept gathering impetus around the Midwest, it is no surprise to find it taking hold in the metro area.

Usually consisting of dinner (pre-arranged menu) and a theater production, restaurateurs and producers have discovered that food, beverage and theater are as compatible as beer and hot dogs at the ballgame or Asti Spumanti and cheese for cocktails.

Both Alfred's restaurant, in Troy's Somerset Mall, and Farmington's Botsford Inn boast huge successes from the several presentations staged under their respective ceilings. And because of a survey taken at the Botsford production, which showed that a sizeable portion of the audience called Livonia home, promoters thought the time ripe to introduce dinner theater to a ready Wayne County market.

Dinner theater fans will no doubt be pleased to hear that R.G. Productions' "I Do! I Do!," starring Phil Marcus Esser and Nancy Gurwin, will play Vittorio's restaurant for 15 weeks, beginning June 16.

Vittorio's owner Vittorio DeLuca, with help from general manager and avid theater buff Henry Strong and the versatile stage technician Lissa Kamalav, is pulling out all stops in bringing to professional-theater-neglected-Livonia the same show which recently drew capacity crowds at Botsford for the show's 15-week run there.

VITTORIO'S is now in the throes of renovation for the dinner theater crowd, with the banquet room being expanded, new stage area, roll-up fly system and lighting being installed, and seating arrangements designed to accommodate viewers and after-theater partiers.

Manager Strong, taking screwdriver in hand, has been busily reworking the electical system and removing lighting fixtures here and there around the room. Angled seating has been incorporated into remodeling plans to allow for maximum audience viewing and adequate walking areas between tables.

Plans also call for two new rooms—one featuring gourmet creations, the other leaning toward family fare—and room for a band and dancing area. Galaxy, a band which has played numerous contemporary nightspots in the metropolitan Detroit area, will bring its tunes and sounds and add to the merriment.

As for the buffet dinner, which begins at 7 p.m., the menu includes a build-your-own tossed salad. Jello dishes, steamship round of beef—freshly cut to order—a chicken dish (coqau vin or cacciatora), seafood Newburg (shrimp, crab, scallops) and coffee, tea or milk. Also gracing the buffet table opening night will be a few ice sculptures and silver candelabra for effect.

Alcoholic beverages will be available before the show and during intermission, for an extra charge.

The show, set for 8:30 p.m. following dinner, will run Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Price per person is $14.50, and matinees are scheduled for Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Groups rates are available and reservations are being taken at 425-8333.

The Movies

'White Buffalo' isn't white elephant

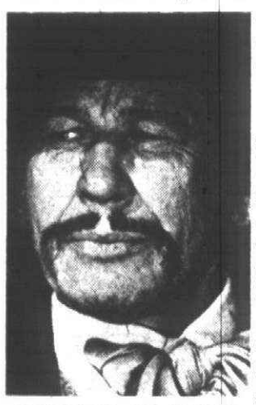

By ROBERT GLOVER

Occasionally a movie appears whose producers have suddenly abandoned it, convinced that their exceptional offering will not appeal to selective filmgoers. "The White Buffalo" is a quality Western drama, which, unfortunately, is being promoted like cheap science fiction.

This highly interesting blend of so-called Indian mythology and outdoor action occurs in the Dakota territory during 1874. Two vastly different men, Wild Bill Kickok and Chief Crazy Horse, resolve to destroy the sacred white buffalo.

Hickok seeks this holiest of Indian gods to end it nightmarish hauntings of him. For Crazy Horse, the animal's carcass will safegaurd his slain daughter's journey into the afterlife and re-establish his self-respect.

Richard Sale's adaptation of his novel sees the pair pursue their common goal first as wary enemies, then temporary allies. No one can claim that this encounter never occured; perhaps it did.

CHARLES BRONSON (Wild Bill Hickok)

ON ANOTHER LEVEL, Sale's script exposes the audience to the beliefs of a culture long over-run and destroyed by civilization. The Native American culture was extremely close to the spiritual center of life, possessing numerous insights unknown to Western man.

The buffalo herein, may be just a savage, natural albino bison; then, again, perhaps a vengeful spirit rampaging against red and white men alike. Film audiences can decide if an animal is being stalked or the shell of something more.

Charles Bronson, in another drastic departure from his standard tough-guy portrayals, shatter the hero image of the legendary Wild Bill. Bronson's Hickok is plagued with sickness and fear, still able to kill others three years before being fatally back-shot himself.

Cree Indian chief Will Sampson portrays Crazy Horse in an intelligent, thoroughly professional manner, though a veteran of only theee films. Jack Warden's gruff trapper is appropriately bigoted and feisty. Clint Eastwood, Kim Novak and Stuart Whitman appear briefly.

THE BUFFALO itself is an elaborately constructed, jointed mechanical creation of Mario Chiari and Carlo Rambaldi (Oscar winners for "King Kong"). The creature's on-screen rampages convincingly testify to how well films make illusion pass for reality.

Director J. Lee Thompson is reunited with Bronson following their teaming on "St. Ives" last year. His work on this film, and the picture itself (the first Western drama since 1975), may be both underrated and neglected simply because gimmicky advertising promotes the film as being frontier science fiction if anything.

'I Do! I Do!' opens June 16 Esser, Gurwin in lead roles

"I Do! I Do!," musical comedy by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt opening at Vittorio's dinner theater June 16, highlights the talents of Phil Marcus Esser and Nancy Gurwin.

PHIL MARCUS ESSER

Esser, a superb folksinger who has shared the stage with Judy Collins and the Smothers Brothers, more recently was in his glory with the rowdies at a West Bloomfield cafeteria. He also was co-founder of the record-breaking Detroit dinner theater "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris" experience.

Esser plays Michael in the "I Do! I Do!" piece which chronicles through song and dance, the slippery-when-wet road to a marriage's golden anniversary.

"I Do! I Do!" is directed by Edgar A. Guest, III, long a director of prominence in Detroit, and producer is the colorful actor-turned-producer Michael Goodman.

Musical director is Martin Mandelbaum and choreography is handled by David Brian.

A POSTCARD from Jessie and Sam Hudson in Innsbruck:

"We finished our classes in French and are now headed north through Italy, Austria, Germany to Britain.

"Venice is fantastic—no autos. Innsbruck today is warm and sunny in contrast to the snow on the mountains. (We love it)."

The Hudsons went to France early last fall where they studied French in Aix. Jessie, artist and art teacher at Plymouth Salem High School, retired last June. Sam, author and columnist for the Plymouth Observer, retired from a career in industrial public relations.

Plymouth friends will join them on a tour of Ireland before they return.

MORE THAN 2,000 bridge players will converge on the Plymouth Hilton Inn later this month for the Michigan Bridge Association's state championship games.

The tournament will open at 7:30 p.m. June 15 with competition in open teams and non-masters teams.

Open pairs play will begin at 1:30 p.m. June 16 with master pairs and non-masters pairs beginning that evening at 7:30 p.m.

Men's and women's pairs competiton will begin at 1:30 p.m. June 17 and mixed pairs will start at 8 p.m. The championships will run through June 19.

This is MBA's annual tournament, the third highest ranking tournament in the country. MBA is affiliated with the American Contract Bridge League.

FORMER PLYMOUTH MAYOR William Hartmann and his wife Lillian celebrated their 53rd wedding aniversary June 5.

Bill and the former Lillian Heft were married June 5, 1924 in Wyandotte. They have two children, William C. Hartmann III of Northville, and Beatrice Laible of Plymouth. They have six grandchildren.

THE EVENING COUPLES group of the Plymouth Symphony League's round robin bridge played their final games of the season together.

Fran and Charles Lang hosted a potluck dinner at their home on Powell Road.

The bridge-playing guests were Joan and Craig Anderson, Dorothy and Larry Becker, Dodie and Bill Kennedy, Mary and Charles Derr, Carolyn and Ted Teichman and Alice and Wells Smith.

Season's champions have not been announced.

FRIENDS OF CARL Pursell turned out for the U.S. representative's annual fundraiser at Wolverine Raceway last Thursday evening.

The cocktail hour and smorgasbord were followed by observing the standardbreds circle the big mile track at Schoolcraft and Middle Belt in Livonia.

The tradition of the Pursell night at the races started when Carl was a state representative and continued when he was elected state senator.

Some of the Plymouth people who attended the party were John M. Hoben, Earl West, Margaret Wilson, Don Morgan, Andrew Pruner and Richard Raison. State Sen. Robert Geake, Ken Kelsey and Sylvia Skrell also were noted among the guests.

THE DETROIT COUNCIL of Pi Omicron National Sorority formed a new unit at its spring enrollment tea.

Two local women are officers in Alpha Omega, the newest branch of business women's organization.

June Hutchinson of Plymouth is recording secretary and Diane Bohunicki of Canton Township is treasurer of the philanthropic sorority.

THE YOUNG Americans CBers club is off to an active start.

One of their first activities was a car wash on the Don Massey property at the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Main Street.

The rains came after just two hours of car washing. But, they earned $87 which was donated to St. Jude's Hospital.

Members of their advisory group from PART (Plymouth Area Reaction Team), who were helping the car washers, had to head for their tornado watch positions when the storm broke.

The club members added to their own treasury with the aid ofa three-foot submarine from Sajo's Pizzeria on Ann Arbor Road.

Charlie Orr (ChooChoo) won the submarine and the club was $78 richer.

LILLIAN BEALS and Irma Conway were May 26 winners in the party bridge game at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The group will continue play each Thursday afternoon during the summer months.

WELCOME HOME Mabel Lorenz.

Mrs. Lorenz spent almost 100 days in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. She'll go back June 15 to have her cast removed and then will be home for good.

"THE VIOLATIONS," a band from Plymouth, was "the hands-down, thumbs-up best act of the night" according one of the judges at a recent gong show in Ypsilanti.

Anne Gold, feature writer for the Ypsilanti Press and wife of former Canton Observer editor Rich Gold, was one of three judges at the Red Door Lounge.

Anne said the group performed an upbeat "Proud Mary" and "The Best of My Love." They will be invited back to a gong show playoff.

Canton Newcomers end season with luncheon

Canton Township Newcomers made it a family party for Kathleen McKenna, winner of the club's $500 scholarship. Kathleen's mother, Sally McKenna, and her grandmothers, Margaret McKenna and Pauline Petefish were invited to share the luncheon and award ceremony in Win Schuler's restaurant, Ann Arbor.

Virginia Koon, president of the club, said the scholarship committee had spent hours considering the scholarship candidates before coming to a decision. Kathy's academic record, her interest in school and church activities, and the fact that she worked at the Canton Center Animal Hospital effected the choice.

Miss McKenna, a Canton Township resident, is a June graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. She plans to attend Michigan State University, where she will major in veterinary medicine.

MRS. KOON ENDED her term of office with a special tribute to the 12 women who had served as her board members. As she thanked them individually, she presented each one with a long-stemmed pink rose.

Board members were Ann Ward, vice president; Sue Miller, secretary; Sharon Spencer, treasurer; Mary Hamilton, membership; Karen Cifrodella, reservations; Sue Lawrence, couples; Chris Pelz, hospitality and telephone; Kristi Skorka, welcome and nursery; Carol Shaw, interest groups; Bekki Ponte, newsletter; and former president Sue O'Donnell, advisor.

Karen Cifrodella will be the new president and Mrs. Koon will be board advisor.

After lunch, entertainment was provided by Mad and Mellow, a singing group whose members belonged to the club and found their common interest in music because of the club.

Looking back over the past season, treasurer Sharon Spencer listed the social functions which funded the scholarship. They were a millionaires party, two sleigh rides, a '60s party, road rally and art auction.

The club has about 150 members and welcomes all newcomers to Canton Township. Besides the regular monthly meetings, the club has individual interest groups and social activities which involve husbands and guests.

Bill Grimmer: A gentleman of note

By ELINOR GRAHAM

Bill Grimmer contemplated the future with the candid enthusiasm of a musician and the hard-headed realism of a fighting man. He is both.

June '77 will mark the end of his formal career as a music teacher—the last 21 years of which have been spent in Plymouth as a vocal music teacher.

He plans to write a book about teaching middle school music.

"The field is wide open—there is no comprehensive text for teaching music at this level," said Grimmer.

He will teach a few advanced piano students. "This will be college level instruction."

And there are northern Minnesota lakes and streams to be revisited—woods and waters where he fished and hunted as a boy.

"I have missed this all these years because of commitments when the time of year was right for it. I'm going to find out if the fish still bite in September."

The Grimmers will stay in Plymouth. "This is our home. We raised and educated three kids here and this is the only home they remember. Plymouth has been good to us."

YOUNG BILL Grimmer graduated from Denfield High School in Duluth, Minn. in 1938 and enrolled in the University of Minnesota.

Although music had been his hobby and his love—he'd been playing in combos and dance bands since he was 13—he planned to major in engineering. He decided to join the glee club and a professor talked him into a music major.

"It was four months until I had courage enough to tell my father I'd switched," he said.

World War II interrupted his college career and from 1942-54 he served with the 9th Infantry Division. He made the landings in North Africa, 1942; Sicily, 1943; and Normandy, 1944.

He was awarded the Purple Heart and Cluster, Bronze Star, eight battle stars for the African and European theater, and infantry mons badge.

Grimmer's memories of the war are not all beachheads and bombings.

There was the Army colonel who checked over his record and suggested he form an Army dance band.

"We had just 28 days before our first performance. Fellows were dusting off trumpets they hadn't played since their high school days."

Later, as his musicians moved on to the fighting zones, the big band members began to trickle into camp. His band began to include the pros, musicians from the name bands of the era.

AFTER THE WAR, it was back to school on the GI Bill. He had married Gudrun (Goody), the girl he first met in a high school biology class, and they had a small daughter, Christine.

"I played with a dance band three nights a week—played until 3 a.m., then got up to go to class. It was months before the GI Bill checks started coming through."

The band dates were their only source of income. "Saturday night was pay night," Bill grinned as he reminisced. "Goody and I would be down to our last slice of bread. Sunday morning we went grocery shopping—first we'd buy enough baby food for the week. They were really happy days."

He earned his BA and BS degrees from the University of Minnesota with majors in instrumental and vocal music, minors in social studies, history, science and geology, a major in geography and a teaching certificate. He majored in woodwind instruments when he earned his master of music education degree in 1952 from the University of Colorado.

HIS TEACHING CAREER began in Carlton, Minn. where he was director of instrumental and vocal music at the high school level for three years.

Before coming to Plymouth, he was director of instrumental and vocal music in Delta, Colo. at the junior high and high school; director of vocal music at the high school and junior college in Clinton, Iowa, where he also was head percussionist for the Clinton Symphony Orchestra.

He has been vocal director and music teacher at East Middle School since it opened.

Reminiscing about the Plymouth years, Grimmer said two of his students possessed perfect pitch. In his years of teaching vocal music, he has discovered only three with this phenomenal talent.

"Judy Bennett and Karen Upton had it. Karen McAllister was another very talented student."

Besides teaching, he was assistant conductor and choral master of the Michigan Opera Co. for three years, music director of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church for many years, and adjudicator for both district and state music festivals of the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association.

He was president of the Plymouth Education Association and is now vice president. It was during his term as president that the Plymouth teachers went on strike and Grimmer's old fighting spirit was reflected in the stalemate.

In September 1973, Grimmer founded the Plymouth Community Chorus.

Adults from beyond the Plymouth area were attracted to the chorus which soon became a finely-honed singing group. The singers performed for many clubs as well as community functions.

Final concert under Grimmer's direction was Sunday afternoon in Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton Township. "Marvelous acoustics in that church," said Bill. "I don't know whether it was planned that way or it just happened. Our gym at East Middle School has fine acoustics. Sometimes it just turns out that way."

Following Sunday's performance, the singers surprised their leader with a dinner party and presentation in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

BILL AND GOODY have three children.

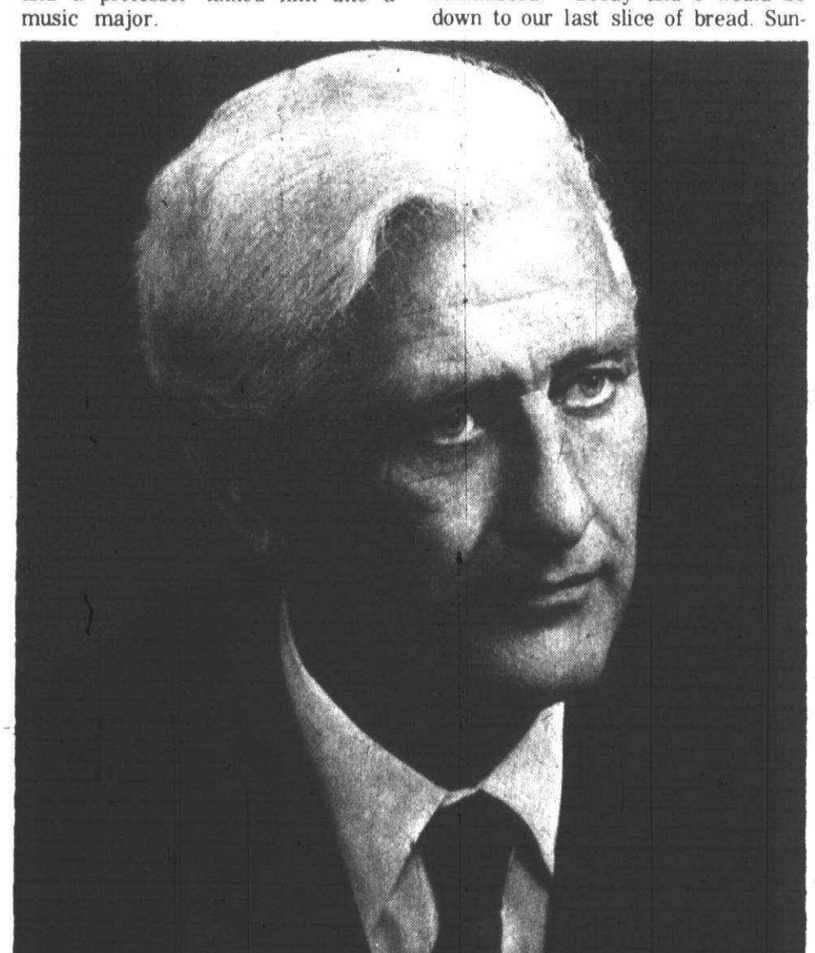

Christine (Kit) is a graduate of the University of Michigan. She works in Boulder, Colo. for a data processing company.

Jim graduated from Western Michigan University and is in the process of job hunting.

Karen will graduate from Buffalo State next spring. She is a home economics major.

"Goody will continue working in the 35th District Court. She enjoys it, and I love to cook. She's a great cook but I like to experiment. I intend to be busy.

"Too many people make the mistake of moving away when they retire. We'll be right here in Plymouth."

William Grimmer will retire from classroom teaching at the end of the school year.

3 Plymouth actors star in EMU play

Gloria Logan, drama coach at Plymouth Salem High School will costar with former students when Neil Simon's "Prisoner of Second Avenue" opens Friday at Eastern Michigan University.

Dennis Cockrum, son of Denver and Dorothy Cockrum of North Territorial Road, plays Mel Edison, the lead character. Mel is a middle-aged man trying to survive in New York City.

Dennis, who has appeared in 18 EMU productions, is a senior majoring in dramatic arts. He also is a member of EMU's national championship forensics team.

Linda Dwyer, daughter of Marilyn Dwyer of Penniman Avenue, plays Pauline, one of Mel's widowed sisters who is highly over-protective of her younger brother. Linda is a junior studying dramatic arts at EMU.

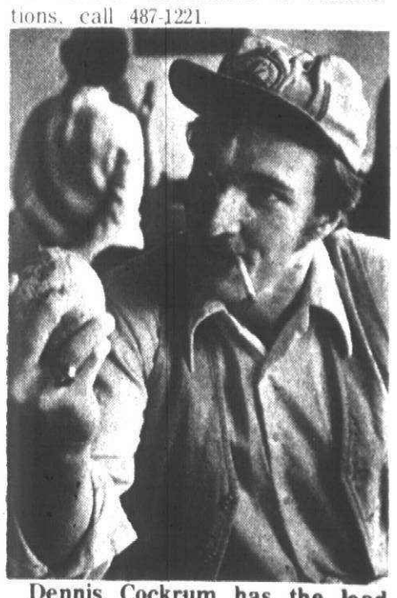

Gloria Logan plays the role of Pearl, another of Mel's widowed sisters. Ms. Logan is a graduate student studying dramatic arts at Eastern.

PARKER ZELLERS, director of the play, says, "The trickiness in doing an honest production of this play is to walk a tightrope, to walk this line between the dark and the light, the bitter and the sweet."

He says his biggest challenge is ensuring that the characters don't play their parts too heavily so that the serious side comes out or, on the other side of the coin, "play it for laughs."

"Prisoner of Second Avenue" is the story of a middle-aged couple who reside on the 14th floor of a New York City appartment building. The pressures of modern life grind them down; they are beset by noise pollution, nose pollution; they even get robbed.

The drama will be presented June 10-12 in Quirk Auditorium. Tickets, priced at $3 for general admission and $2 for EMU students, are now onsale at the Quirk Box Office in Ypsilanti. For further information or reservations, call 487-1221.

Dennis Cockrum has the lead role in Neil Simon's "Prisoner of Second Avenue."

Gloria Logan (left) and Marilyn Dwyer are widowed sisters in the Eastern Michigan University production which opens this weekend.

Many organizations in the Canton community are winding down their activities for the season and looking forward to summer vacation. Among their final responsibilities is the election of officers for the comming year.

Welcome Wagon Club's new board was formally installed during a dinner meeting last week in the Plymouth Community Credit Union on Harvey Street, Plymouth.

Val Gildo is returning as president of the club. Lucy Ling is vice-president in charge of speakers, and Linda Nixon is vice-president for hospitality.

The new treasurer is Charlotte Laicht. Audrey Brumbaugh is recording secretary and Geraldine Brownlie is corresponding secretary. Linda Nicolin is historian.

Life isn't all business for the "wagoneers." At their May meeting, Karen LeGault of LeGaults of Canton in Harvard Square Shopping Center demonstrated the technique of creating large bows for packages or floral arrangements. She also explained the art of the standing arrangement—one that can be placed on the floor, catch attention, and fill that "lost" corner of a room.

Her demonstration was only the beginning. A follow-up schedule of classes was organized for the women at Karen's shop. More than 30 members signed up for three consecutive Wednesday evenings. Their objective was to make silk flowers and then arrange them attractively in a basket for the table or on a stained board for a wall hanging. Mastering the use of floral pics and tape often was frustrating, but with encouragement from fellow workers and the instructors, each step was accomplished.

Their diligence and patience paid off when the arrangements were completed. Many of the creators were so pleased with their work they have signed up for additional courses.

Wecome Wagon Club members will have to take time out from their crafts June 9 and 10. That particular Thursday and Friday have been set aside for their garage sale.

Lucy Ling of Maidstone Avenue will be opening her garage as hostess of the sale. Members will contribute items as part of the fund-raising event.

The final social of the season for the club will be a swim and splash party gathering at Val Gildo's home June 26. What a great way to end a successful year.

Val has been involved in a number activities outside the club. She made dozens of animal-shaped name tags for the children at Eriksson Elementary School on Haggerty Road in Canton.

The identification tags were part of the school's preparations for a day-long visit to the Detroit Zoo last Thursday. The entire school population and a large number of volunteers left the school at 9 a.m. by school bus to visit the animals and enjoy a sack lunch.

WHILE VAL was handling club and school work, husband Larry decided to take a weekend vacation. Along with 32 friends and Ford Motor Co. co-workers, he traveled to the Pine River near Cadillac for a two-day canoe trip.

The first night at camp was an experience in itself. A large number of the group decided to sleep in a converted bread truck. A familiar television ad, "baked fresh every morning," seemed appropriate as the fellows rolled out of their cramped and stifling quarters.

Those who opted for the tents were spared the truck's confinement but found the ground a rather firm mattress. Ignoring the minor discomforts, Larry and friends managed to successfully paddle up the river and thoroughly enjoy the experience.

THERE WAS an eight-pound 3½-ounce matter I neglected to note last month regarding Mothers Day. Pat Nation received the best gift a mom could have on her special day—the birth of her first child, Michael Thomas.

Pat and Tom's new addition was born in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clark Nation and Mr. and Mrs. Arley Adams, all of Bellevue, Ohio.

Tom is an engineer at Burroughs Corporation and a trustee of the Fellows Creek Association in their Canton subdivision. Pat is a nurse at the Plymouth Center for Human Development in Northville Township where she works with emotionally and physically handicapped children. They live on Lowell in the township.

MEMORIAL DAY weekend now has a special significance for Mike and Linda Quick. Their first child, Scott Michael, was born Saturday, May 28, at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Wallace and Hedy Quick, and Gordon and Daphne Keicher of Westland are the happy grandparents.

Little Scott weighed in at four pounds, 13 ounces. His dad says, "All his parts are there and in working order, so we are very happy parents."

What's the difference between "rustproofing" and Ziebart rustproofing?

All the difference in the world. To begin with, our spray tools are so different they're patented. Our sealant is unique. It's attracted to metal, and actually creeps into welded seams.

There are other important differences, too. And you should check them all out. Call us.

Girls place 6th in Sub-8 meet

By MICHAEL BLEDSOE

Plymouth Salem fared poorly in its league meet last week. "We'll be back next year," said coach Scott Kurtz. "We have a lot of young talent in the ranks."

Salem finished sixth out of a field of eight. Among the best runs of the day was Kathy Sample's 5:40 mile run, scoring a second. "I am really proud of her," said Kurtz. "She worked hard for it all week long."

Also placing well was Julie Prchlik who threw the shotput 92-2 for a sixth, breaking Sharon Radionoff's record set last week. JoAnn Kangkabel had two fourth-place finishes, one in the 220 run with a :27.4 clocking and a fourth in the hurdles with a :15.8 finish. Dianne Perpich and Erin Lucas tied for fourth in the hurdles with 4-8 climbs. Kim Brown came in sixth running the 880. Kathy Zielke was only a tenth of a second behind with a seventh-place finish.

"We only dropped the baton twice all season," said Kurtz. "Unfortunately both of the drops occured today."

Jennifer DeVenney lost two contact lenses on her way to a 6:05 mile, but she did not place.

Chief netters still alive in meet

Wednesday rains delayed much of the action in the Western Six League tennis meet where the Plymouth Canton Chiefs still have six players in the running for conference titles.

But as far as Plymouth Salem was concerned, they wished the rains could have come sooner in Dearborn as the Rocks failed to place a competitor in the championship round.

Early morning rains caused wet conditions at the Centennial Park courts where the Chiefs, coached by Jim Hayes, were hosting the Western-6 meet.

The action finally got under way late Wednesday morning but the conclusion of the meet is scheduled for this Monday afternoon.

The Chiefs, 4-6 in league play, surprising advanced all four singles players and all three doubles teams past the opening round.

Going into Monday's play, first singles Steve Pasley advanced to the championship round along with second singles Curt Hopfner.

Second doubles Doug Hetu and Dan Schmidt and third doubles Matt Norris and Stuart Sobczynski are still alive in the semifinal round.

Singles players Chris Davio and Dave Keene, along with the doubles combination of Tim Wise and Don Perchard, all won their first round matches before losing.

Jim Stevens has been coaching the Rocks for 16 years and it's the first time he can remember that one of his players hasn't reached the final round of the Suburban Eight League meet.

The Rocks finished the dual meet season with a 5-9 record.

The most successful Salem players were only able to advance to the semifinal round before losing.

Singles players Kurt Schultz and Bill Cook, and the doubles combinations of Ed Thomas and Craig Stevens and Matt Schroeder and Jeff Theodore moved to the semifinals.

Wayne edges Chiefs, 7-5

Canton beats Salem but loses district title

By DENNIS O'CONNOR
Sports Editor

Plymouth Canton recorded its 23d baseball victory of the season over Plymouth Salem, but win number 24—the one that would have meant a district championship—proved too hard to come by.

The Chiefs defeated their rivals from Salem, 7-3, in the semifinal round Saturday morning in Belleville.

But Canton's afternoon encounter with Wayne Memorial wasn't as successful as the Chiefs' outstanding season finally came to an end in a 7-5 loss.

Canton closed its year with its third straight Western Six League title and an impressive 23-2 overall record. The Chiefs were rated as the second-best team in the state going into Saturday's action.

The Rocks ended their disappointing year with a 12-13 record and a second-place finish in the Suburban Eight League.

In the championship game, starting pitcher Doug Smith spotted Wayne two early runs in the second inning. But a bases-loaded single by Jeff Campbell and a balk pulled the Chiefs ahead 3-2 in the fourth.

WAYNE CAME back with four runs in the fifth inning to grab a 6-3 lead. The crucial blow of that inning was a three-run homer by Steve Crews.

Back-to-back doubles by Canton's Scott Collins and John Young brought the Chiefs within one run in the fifth, but Wayne scored an insurance run in the seventh to put the game away.

In the all-Plymouth semifinal, Canton's Mark Perkins and Salem's Doug Holloway both survived early inning nerves to go the distance for both squads.

The Rocks' Dave Nidsgorski singled with the bases loaded to give Salem a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning, but Canton came back with four runs of its own in the bottom half of the inning to grab the lead.

The Chiefs took command of the game in the third inning when they scored two more runs—thanks to a Salem error.

With two out and runners on second and third, Campbell popped up in front of the plate for what seemed to be the final out.

Salem first baseman Bruce Gerish and pitcher Holloway converged on the ball, but collided as it fell between them. Both Canton runs scored to give the Chiefs a four-run margin they never relinquished.

Redford stops Plymouth squads

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Temperance-Bedford—isn't that supposed to be the wrestling school?

Well, evidently it has a strong girls' softball team as it put a sudden end to both Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton's district hopes Saturday.

Bedford first ended Canton's season in the semifinal round with a 20-10 mercy-rule win at Ann Arbor's Veteran Memorial Park.

At that same time, Salem was beating Ann Arbor Pioneer in its semifinal match, 10-5.

But the championship game proved to be no contest as Bedford walked away with the district trophy after an 11-0 shellacking of the Rocks.

Salem finished its season with an 11-6 overall mark, and Canton ended at 6-8. Both Plymouth squads finished in second place in their respective leagues.

SIX RUNS in the third inning and four final runs in the seventh sparked Salem to its victory over Pioneer. Debbie Pitera experienced a touch of wildness but still threw a three-hitter en route to the victory.

Peggy Moore, Lynee Stone and sophomore Becky Crespo each pounded two hits. One of Crespo's hits was a three-run homer in the third inning.

Salem never got on track in the final game as Bedford's big six-run fourth inning quickly decided the game.

In Canton's loss, sophomore Kathie Peck was the big hitter. The little shortstop blasted two home runs to account for four runs.

Peck smack one roundtripper to left-field and another up the left-center-field alley.

Salem trackmen shine in league

The improvement and progression of the Plymouth Salem boys track program continued to rise with each successive year under coach Gary Balconi.

The Rocks completed Balconi's third season last Wednesday afternoon as six thinclads were honored as league champions. As a team, Salem placed fifth in the Suburban Eight League meet held in Belleville.

In the past two seasons, Salem dwelled in sixth and seventh place, producing only one all-leaguer during that time.

But the improvement of the Rocks' program was extremely evident this year as Salem scored 48 points. The Rocks missed a fourth-place finish by only one point and fell short of third place by a mere 11 points.

Edsel Ford won the championship and was followed closely by Dearborn. Trenton placed third and Redford Union was fourth.

To show how effective the Rocks were at this meet, all one had to do was look at the scoreboard after all the field events were concluded. Salem held first place with 22 points.

"I'm just very proud of our kids," Balconi said. "They all gave a super effort. We placed well in all our strengths."

Have the same energy bill in winter and summer.

I'm a Customer Service Representative at a Consumers Power payment counter. And since I see heating bills everyday, I know how they go up and down like Michigan's temperatures.
But you don't have to wait from one month to the next to find out what your bill is going to be.
With our Equal Monthly Payment Plan, you can have the same bill in winter and summer. Here's how it works. We'll average your yearly bill, then divide it into 12 equal payments. Once a year your account will be balanced for over or under payment.
The Equal Monthly Payment Plan won't save you money, but it will help you in planning your budget. Call Consumers Power Company and ask for the Equal Monthly Payment Plan.
It sure works well for me.

Chiefs finish tough season

The end of the Plymouth Canton boys track season was a sad one as the Chiefs finished last in the Western Six League meet with only 7½ points.

The Chiefs, directed by first-year coach Mike Spitz, have had a very rough time all season long with the bulk of the team made up of freshmen and sophomores.

Powerhouse Livonia Churchill won the Western Six meet. It marked the sixth straight season that the Chargers have been crowned conference champions.

Despite the lowly finish, the Chiefs broke two school records.

The 440-yard relay combination of Greg Kregowski, Dave Cronin, Mike Phillips and Scott Gray registered a :46.5 clocking for a fourth-place finish and a new school mark.

Phillips also broke a school record with a :10.5 timing in the 100-yard dash but couldn't place against the stiff competition. Phillips is only a sophomore.

Junior Randy Rienas placed fifth in the high jump with a 5-10 leap. He missed reaching the final round of the long jump competition by only one-half inch.

Senior Scott Gray, the only Chief to qualify for the state meet, placed fourth in the pole vault with an 11-8 vault.

Senior Brian Murphy also placed fourth in the mile run with a 4:37.0.

The mile relay foursome of Mike Kieffer, Dan McGlinn, Rich Fleischer, and Cliff Norris placed fifth with a personal best time of 3:40.0.

Chiefs finally ranked in state

Plymouth Canton's baseball team finally got its season-long wish last Wednesday when it was rated as the second best squad in the state of Michigan.

The Chiefs owned an outstanding 22-2 record going into Saturday's district competition and recently completed their third straight Western Six League title.

The Chiefs were not the only Observerland team to crack the top 10 ranking. Suburban Eight League champion Livonia Bentley, which holds a 14-2 record, was rated as the fifth best team in the state.

Softballers tune up

The Plymouth Salem softball team tuned up for its Saturday district battles with two victories last week.

On Thursday, the Rocks wrapped up a second-place finish in the Suburban Eight League with a victory over Bentley. The Rocks completed their Sub-8 schedule with a 10-4 record and went into Saturday's district play with an 11-5 overall mark.

Salem qualified for district competition with an 11-4 pre-district victory over host Ann Arbor Huron last Tuesday.

Debbie Pitera pitched a solid game in going the distance on the mound.

The Rocks put together a solid hitting attack as almost every starting member of coach Livy Way's squad recorded a hit.

Peggy Moore led the Rocks' attack with three hits and two RBIs. Kathy Lehmann added two hits. Doris Hoelsher knocked home three runs with a double.

The Rocks also stole five bases to aid their attack.

Salem scored four runs in the opening inning and added three more in the second to build a comfrontable 7-0 lead. Huron pulled within three runs in the sixth inning, but Salem put the game away with four tallies in the seventh.

Bentley game postponed

Plymouth Salem's final Suburban Eight League game of the season was postponed last Tuesday becuase of rain.

The contest pitted the Rocks against league champions Livonia Bentley.

This contest will not be made up because it has no effect on the outcome of the conference championship. Salem finished in a tie for second place in the Sub-8 with an 8-5 record.

In the Pocket

Maurie Quinlan, one of the veterans among the all-stars, will have good reason to remember the bowling season that just closed.

As captain of the Wonderland Lanes team, he guided the squad to its third consecutive victory in the Westland Bowl Classic.

It marked the fourth time in five years that the Wonderland team captured the title and the feat is unprecedented in the western suburban area.

The members of the team include Fred Mc Lain, Dick Beattie, Harry Fill and Ron Sharples along with Quinlan.

Almost as exciting as the team's victory in the league race was the showing of Bob Johnson on the final night of the schedule. He linked games of 260, 208 and 237 for a 705 that was the highest series bowled on the circuit during the season.

Fred McLain was the owner of the previous high series with a 703. Rick Capaldi took the runner-up spot on the final night with a 677 series that included a 247 opener. Behind him came Dave Kaliszewski with a 255 in 659.

The top average man in the league as the schedule closed was Dan Emmett with a 193.

ANOTHER BOWLER who has every right to feel proud of his accomplishments is Ron Aman, a member of the Thursday Night League at Plaza Lanes.

Carrying a 171 average, he found the range to the 1-3 pocket early and put together games of 248, 259 and 267 for a 774—one of the highest series in the house since it opened several years ago.

RAY WILLIAMS and Leona Pinkus shared scoring honors in the all-star mixed league last Wednesday night at West Bloomfield Lanes.

Williams, who bowls on Mary Mohacsi's team, paced the men with a 269 in 643 and Leona, a member of Cora Fiebig's team, had a 235 in 610, while the West Bloomfield team took top team honors with a 2347.

The other honor went to Mary Mohacsi's team that rolled the high single game of 830.

The league bowls this week on Wednesday night at Woodland Lanes in Livonia starting at 8 p.m.

The pro bowlers tour opened its summer schedule over the past weekend and the occasion marked the start of Earl Anthony's bid to overtake the present money winning leaders to take the crown for the fourth year in a row.

Prior to the opening shot, he was in third place only $6,000 behind the leader, Mark Roth, of Staten Island, N.Y.

THE WOMEN bowlers are setting something of a record at Super Bowl in Canton even before the summer season starts.

Already they have a 16-team league of 80 bowlers on Thursday nights and a 14-team trio league on Tuesdays.

More and more, the women are having their own summer leagues instead of the mixed leagues that have been the vogue for the past several seasons.

IN AN UNOFFICIAL survey taken during the past month, it was learned that the after-school junior league sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation in Livonia, is the largest in the country.

In the season just closed, the enrollment was a few shy of 1,000 in five establishments.

The members of this league bowl after school—between 3:30 and 5.30 p.m. The Livonia league just celebrated its 20th season.

Salem runners shine

440-yard relay foursome finished as league champions.

White was the top runner in the mile race, setting a new Sub-8 record with a time of 4:21.3. This clocking is among the top 10 in the state.

The 440-yard relay combination of Jerry Kachenko, Tom Kindree, Curt Lewis and Jerry Basierbe also set a new league and school record with a :44.05 clocking. This first-place finish was a surprise to everyone except the Rocks, as the favored foursome from Edsel Ford was upset in this race. Salem's 440-yard relay foursome also is among the top groups in the state.

Dasher defeated long-time rival Jerry Petsch from Redford Union to win the discus with a 150-foot toss. Dasher also placed fifth in the shot put.

Rich Hanschu and Lewis were surprises in the long jump with second and third-place finishes respectively. Sophomore Dennis Ogden performed well in the pole vault with a third-place vault of 12-6.

Check Alert plan to be implemented

Once again some bad checks are being passed in the Plymouth business community.

"It doesn't happen often in Plymouth that checks are actually written on a closed or bad account causing more than an 'insuffient funds' problem," says Janet Curlee, executive secretary of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce. "But once is too often.

"We do inform local business about bad checks when we hear from a bank or another business about such but our means of spreading the word has to be improved to be the most effective system it can be.

"We are asking for block contacts in the various shopping areas. The block contacts, perhaps two or three per street, we will call and ask that they in turn contact their neighboring retailers.

Anyone interested in being a block contact in the Check Alert program should call Mrs. Curlee at 453-1540.

HAPPY DAYS THEY'RE HERE AGAIN .....AT MEIJER

HAPPY DAYS is an in-store promotion which begins Monday, June 6, and runs through Saturday, July 2. To help out, we've chosen Stan Laurel to serve as the symbol for Happy Days at Meijer. Many of our customers will remember him as one of America's funniest funny men. And....even those that don't are bound to smile when they see that whimsical looking face throughout the store. So, be smart and save at Meijer Happy Days.

CAR PROBLEMS ON VACATION? NEVER!!

BEFORE YOU TAKE OFF this summer for the long awaited vacation, you might want to take a good safety check of your motor vehicle. Poor vehicle maintenance can cause traffic accidents. The following check list is a good guide to help eliminate accidents caused by mechanical failure.

HEADLIGHTS:
(1) Should be aimed for maximum light and minimum glare on the road.

(2) Upper and lower beams should both be in good working condition.

(3) Lenses and reflectors should be clean at all times.

REAR AND STOPLIGHTS
(1) All bulbs should work and all controls operate.

(2) Lenses should be clean, clear and free of cracks.

(3) Inspect directional signals if installed on vehicle.

BRAKES:
(1) Should stop vehicle in less than 30 feet from 20 miles per hour.

(2) Should hold evenly on all wheels.

(3) Handbrake should be able to hold vehicle on hill.

(4) Brake fluid should be kept clean and at the proper level.

(5) With a brake check block, one inch is the minimum allowable floor clearance before brakes take hold.

(6) Air brakes should not be relied upon to hold vehicle while parked.

DRIVER PREPARED. Your decisions must be fast and accurate...are they?

(1) Look behind you before changing lanes.

(2) Use your signals to communicate with others.

(3) Keep your car in the center of your lane.

(4) Give ground to the car ahead.

(5) Blend in with the traffic flow.

(6) Use both hands to steer.

(7) Slow down before entering a curve.

(8) Obey traffic signs and markings.

(9) Let the other driver have the right of way.

(10) Stay just as alert on side streets.

(11) Think as much about stopping as going.

(12) USE YOUR SEAT BELTS!

WE AT MEIJER want you to have a safe and happy vacation.
