History repeated in grim irony Crane accident kills worker

By CRAIG PIECHURA

For the second time in less than six years Kenneth Kennedy heard the tragic news that a son of his was killed in a crane accident at a building site.

Chuck D. Kennedy, 23, of 20073 Sunset. Livonia, was crushed between a crane that touched high voltage wires. saw a group of us standing a good disconstruction crane's revolving counterweight and frame at approximately 11 a.m. Friday morning in Canton's Sun-

"HE SWUNG THE COUNTER-WEIGHT - which is on the back of the crane around because we were starting to unload the frames off truck in the street. He (Chuck) was done parking the truck and started walking toward the crane.

"They did it so quick I don't think any of us know exactly how it all happened. But somebody saw him going toward the crane and yelled to stop it. Louie did but it was already too late."

Willie Lindsay said he saw no signs of careless behavior or negligence by either Kennedy or the crane operator. No one was placing blame on anyone in the incident.

Members of the Kennedy family were at Wayne County General Hospital Friday afternoon to identify the body. Dr. Glenn Hamilton made' efforts to revive Kennedy but pronounced him dead at 11:26 a.m.

Later in the day family members contacted Chuck Kennedy's fiance. Jean Miles of Redford, to tell her the news. No date had been set for the pair's wedding, but the two had already informed family and friends of their engagement.

Sheriff detectives who responded to the call wondered if the death could have been prevented if the crane had been equipped with a buzzer or beeper that would go on when the counterweight is revolving.

Wayne County Sheriff Det. Walter Holowka said he found no signs of unsafe machinery or procedure in an investigation of the job site.

Farmers speak piece

The idea of saving farmland by having the people of a community purchase development rights is the unprecedented recommendation of Canton's citizen land use study committee. What are the farmers' opinions of the approach? Would they be willing to "sell" their development rights and at what price? Observer reporter Darlene Stinson posed these questions to Canton farmers in a comprehensive series of articles found on Page 3 and 4A of today's paper. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

School board officials jockey for presidency

By EMORY DANIELS

Within the next two weeks school trustees will informally attempt to reach consensus on whom to elect as president of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The organizational meeting at which officers are formally elected will be Friday evening, July 1. But, if past years are any indication, each trustee will reach a decision on how to vote before the gavel is sounded at the organizational meeting.

The telephone caucusing hadn't started yet during the first week after the school board election, but an informal survey of the Observer of trustees indicated a concensus might already exist

Farming at buck an hour

Fritz's wallet gettin'thinner

Stan Gill tells of the competitive nature of the dairy business.

Fritz Lobbestael crumbles the good earth in his hands to test the soil. Agricultural experts say that while some of Canton's finest farmland now supports subdivisions, much of the remaining farmland is part of Michigan's prime farm belt.

By DARLENE STINSON

Fritz Lobbestael maneuvered his tractor through a field at Beck and Geddes breaking up clumps of clay.

At last year's soybean and field corn prices, the work will probably net the Canton farmer about $1 an hour for a growing season packed with 12-hour days.

"Farming boils down to simple economics," mused Lobbestael as he leaned on his tractor and tossed a cigaret on his newly-fitted field. "The trouble is farming in Canton often doesn't measure up.

Last year, Lobbestael figures he made just over $1 an hour for growing soybeans and field corn on his 160 acres. The cash grain crop netted only $2,060 after taxes, seeds, fertilizer and other supplies were subtracted from the gross total.

"Most of us farmers say we'll farm untii we go broke," said Lobbestael as he squinted in the sun. "Every year a lot of farmers wonder how they can make it another year.

"If I didn't have my retirement check from Ford's, I certainly couldn't afford farming on a full-time

A MEMBER OF Canton's recentlyconvened land use study committee, Lobbestael feels something must be done if active farmland is to remain in Canton Township.

In a recommendation to the township board, committee members endorsed a reduced tax rate for farmers, establishment of an agricultural zoning district, and public purchase of farmers' development rights.

Lobbestael places much of the blame for the farmers' economic plight on the high rate of taxation in Canton Township

Taxes in Canton, he noted, range from $40 to $100 an acre on agricultural land. Taxes in rural Washtenaw and Livingston counties are as low as $8 an acre in some areas.

A major reason for high tax rates, Lobbestael noted, is high land values. Agricultural land in Canton ranges from $2,200 to $5,500 an acre, depending on the proximity to developed lands. In 1976, agricultural land in Washtenaw County ranged from $175 to $1,500 an acre, while the average cost of farmland statewide was only $672 an acre.

Lobbestael, who farmed only parttime until his retirement from Ford Motor Co. three years ago, keeps his by renting additional land at $10 to $15 an acre each growing season

The owner of the land pays $100 an acre in property taxes each year. According to Lobbestael, cash from a one-acre crop does not even near the $100 mark.

"If I couldn't rent land at less than $25 an acre, I'd be operating at a loss," said Lobbestael, who owns 40 acres at Geddes and Napier.

ALTHOUGH CANTON farmers pay a relatively high tax rate, they do not receive any more money for their crops at the marketplace than farmers who pay a lower tax rate.

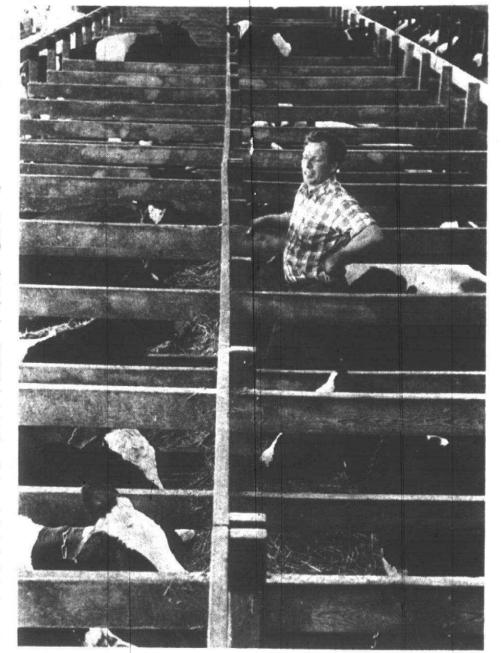

According to Lobbestael, selling prices of some farm crops, such as corn and wheat, have even dropped over the last few years, despite higher or stable prices at the supermarket. Prices of farm equipment and supplies have been continually on "The middleman's the one who is making all the money," Lobbestael interjected.

'The farmer is the only businessman who has no control over the price of commodities he buys or the price he sells his products for. There seems to be no correlation between costs of production and selling prices at harvest time. You either sell or let your crop rot.

Lobbestael was raised on a farm, and said love of the land pulled him back into full-time farming after his retirement. But the notion of monetary gain had nothing to do with it.

For the master land use plan to work, says Stan Gill, farmers and subdivision dwellers must be able to agree on the price for development rights.

A horizontal silo for silage also makes good use of discarded tires.

Sodbusters endanger 2d largest industry

Canton and other Michigan communities may be whittling away the foundation of the state's second largest industry when they build subdivisions and condominiums on prime agricultural land.

According to Dr. Emmanuel Van Nierop, environmental advisor for the Michigan Agriculture Department, farming is second only to the state's auto industry in terms of dollar returns.

The strength of the farming industry as well as the stability of the state's economy could be seriqusly jeopardized. Van Nierop warns, if the best agricultural land in the southern portion of the Lower Perinsula (Canton included) continues to develop at the present alarming rate.

ACCORDING TO VAN NIEROP, Canton is located in Michigan's prime agricultural area. The best farming land in the state is in the southern portion of the Lower Peninsula t, in the farming areas near the Detroit metropolitan area, however, is under the most pressure to develope since already-developed areas continue to expand.

To make matters worse, the best agricultural land in those areas is also the best spot for develobment. Van Nierop said. Prime farming areas are level, well drained, and relatively free of trees, which delights developers.

Donald Juchartz, director of the Wayne County Agriculture Extension Service, says farmland in Canton and some other communities in the Detroit area will be the next to succumb to the western sprawl unless something is done.

"There is a fantastic number of farms going out of business every year," he said. "It's frightening. Canton is at least 10 years ahead of some other areas because of the development that's al-

PRESSURE TO DEVELOP Canton's farmland began in the mid-1950s when migration from Detroit spread farther west, according to a report submitted by the township's land use study com-

Until that time. Canton's farming community was stable and prosperous because of good roads. convenient rail service and the availability of the farmer's market in Detroit and Ypsilanti.

Development of farmland became more rapid in 1962, however, when the Michigan Legislature mandated that tax assessments be based on potential developed use rather than actual farming use. Tax rates jumped tremendously, and many farmers could no longer afford to pay taxes. When farmers died, their heirs could not afford to pay inheritance taxes on the land 'The tax situation, the age of many of the landowers and the imminence of development removed the incentives to improve or maintain the land," the land use committee's report states.

l'Tilling became blocked and useless. Machinery was not repaired, and farm buildings were w not improved. When it appeared that development was inevitable, county drains and ditches fell into disrepair. Some ditches became non-existent, and drains became clogged with trees and brush.

BUT, ACCORDING to the committee, good farmland still" remains in Canton.

The committee has identified some 6,000 acres of "prime" agricultural land that should and can be preserved if Canton residents are willing to reduce farmers' tax rates and pay the farmer for his lost development rights.

Under the committee's proposal, township officials would set up a special assessment district in the prime agricultural sections. Residents of the special district would pay a reduced tax rate but would lose some urban services.

Van Nierop views agriculture, the state's second largest industry, as a hedge against depression, should a severe energy shortage cripple the state's other top industries-automobile production and tourism.

He also is worried about the state's food supply. Michigan currently imports about 50 per cent of its food, but that percentage will rise if the state's farmland is developed. "It's obvious we're losing our best farmland that's needed for food production," Van Nierop said. "We just cannot afford to lose this agricul-

"Many people aren't concerned, because they feel the western states will provide us with food. But, for one thing, farmland is disappearing all over the country. For another thing, the western states have experienced drought. When it does rain, it rains in torrents and most of the rain drains off.

Nationally, Van Nierop views agricultural exports to other countries as a means to accomplish a favorable balance of trade

"The only place where no other nation can compete with the United States is agriculture," he said. "But agricultural land is being trampled on and regarded as a cheap commodity. What we have to do is use poor agricultural land for development and save good agricultural land for agri-

If agricultural land is valued at $1,000 an acre but the market value for developed use is pegged at $5,000, the township would pay the farmer $4.000 an acre for his lost development rights.

The land would be zoned agricultural and placed in a special tax assessment district. The land would then be taxed for its actual farming value rather than for its potential developed use.

Although committee members say farmers' participation in the program should be voluntary. Gill admits that farmers would be forced to sell their development rights if their land was zoned agricultural. Development in an agriculturally-zoned area would not be permitted.

"It may be called voluntary, but you'd be crazy if you didn't do it." Gill said.

Stan and Don Gill operate one of the 10 largest dairy farms in Michigan on their 1,100 acres on Ridge south of Cherry Hill.

Straddling Wayne and Washtenaw counties, the farm bustles with activity as the Gills and six hired hands tend the 400 milking cows and 350 heads of young cattle on day and midnight shifts. Feed corn, wheat and hay cover the 1,100 acres.

Stan Gill said he and his brother purchased additional acreage a few years ago and hope someday to purchase more.

Gill attributes the affluence on his farm, however, to its size and specialized dairy business. The Gills operate the only dairy farm in Canton Town-

Cigarette Sets New Taste Standard.

Tests confirm low tar MERIT delivers flavor of higher tar cigarettes.

There is a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

Technology created it. Taste tests proved it.

Smokers are confirming it. In fact, 75% of all MERIT smokers are former high tar cigarette smokers—the toughest taste critics of low tar smoking.

MERIT—the cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco—seems to be solving the smoker dilemma of having to choose between high tar or low taste.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

River management is name of the game

In an effort to preserve this area's greatest liquid asset, the Rouge River, the Michigan Department of Natural resources will hold a meeting June 23 to form a watershed council.

Representatives of 41 cities, townships and communities have been invited to the meeting in the Birmingham Ice Arena.

The move toward formation of a watershed council has been supported for many years by the League of Women Voters through its Rouge Basin Committee. Also pushing for a Rouge council were Redford Township and Birmingham.

Representing the City of Plymouth at Thursday's meeting will be Alan Gove, city engineer, and Mark Wollenweber, assistant to the city manager. Plymouth Township's representative will be Trustee Lee Fidge. A spokesman for Canton Township said Canton will not be represented. 'Everyone will be in Washington that day attending Congressman Ford's municipal conference.

Redford Township is sending Sue Burt, grants administrator, and Westland is sending DPW director Bill

IN BACKING THE CONCEPT of an area council, the DNR indicated its agreement with a statement recently voiced at a meeting of the Livonia • League of Women Voters.

The Rouge River is a national resource," said guest speaker Lynne Goldsmith of the Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi league, who is a member of the board of trustees of Canton Township. "Whatever action one community takes directly affects the rest of the river, particularly those down-

Once an area watershed council has been established, it is expected that one of its first acts will be to exchange information on what each community is planning that would in any way alter the river and its tributaries.

In this way downstream representatives can yell "Whoa!" for example, when upstream communities announce the building of a large drain that might deluge the lower areas with storm flooding.

Water is not the not political issue in these parts that it is in drier areas such as Arizona and California, but it warm enough for a political group like the league to have been warning area residents for years about what has been going on to tarnish the most

IN THE YEARS to come, water politics probably will come up frequently in council meetings if one area attempts to alter the river basin at the expense of other areas.

Arguments may swirl over encroachments on the flood plain or over the desire to straighten, pave or put underground parts of the Rouge or its Confrontations can come up over big questions such as the six-mile straightening and cementing of the Rouge near Fair Lane in Dearborn by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The cost in money was $42 million. The cost in loss of trees, vegetation and a beautiful recreation area was Political confrontations can also come up over tiny tributaries such as one in Livonia south of Six Mile between Merriman and Middle Belt.

While a small issue, it nonetheless typifies the continual struggle over river management policies, and the plans of developers.

In this case, area residents fear that a new housing development may cause a heavy runoff during storms that will intensify floods in downstream areas

RIVER MANAGEMENT will be the name of the game when area representatives begin to meet regularly to protect the river. Flood plain control will probably at the bottom of many

Not all those who drive along the Edward Hines Parkway, or use it for picnics and sports are aware that the park is the gift of farsighted people who early on understood that a river should be allowed to flood

The main reason for allowing flooding is simple and sensible. By being allowed to flood, river water will soak into the flood plain naturally and less water will be carried to flood areas downstream

The water would then be allowed to replenish the local water table. In the case of the Hines and other flood plain areas, a park can be developed for use by countless numbers of people nearby.

At the league meeting addressed by Mrs. Goldsmith, Livonia's city engineer, Ed Siemert, discussed the way in which Livonia protects its flood plain from encroachment

"WE THINK WE have a very enforceable ordinance protecting the Tara-

"There are battles over it because people want to use the flood plain land on their property as space for a garage or some other project," he added. "But with this ordinance, we can take them to court and prevent

Mrs. Goldsmith also extolled the importance of allowing the river and its tributaries to overflow naturally When a river is not allowed to flood naturally, the racing waters can erode the river banks, she said.

Mrs. Goldsmith dislikes any kind of strait jacket for the Rouge and the streams that drain into it

"Builders do it in Canton," she said in an interview after her speech. "They often reroute streams. It is done to accommodate more development. You can get more houses in an area by straightening the stream and putting it in a pipe underground instead of building around it.

"It is important for rivers to meander, even little ones. It helps filter the water and slow the flow. Once you disturb a natural stream or river, there is no way to get it back.

RECENTLY THIS CANTON trustee indicated she would favor a moratorium on approval for new building plans in Canton for a reason that touched partly on the Rouge. Overloading of sewers already operating at capacity was the reason the issue was introduced at a township board meeting. Mrs. Goldsmith believes overloading the sewers might cause both basement back-ups and a discharge of sewage into the Lower

Not everyone's favorite topic, sewage is still an important issue in regard to the Rouge, and one to which a watershed committee may have to address itself.

Some of the municipities in the areas have combined sanitary sewers with storm drains. Others, such as Livonia, separate their systems so that rain runoff will empty into the Rouge and raw sewage into interceptors that carry it to the Detroit Treatment

Redford Township, Garden City and Dearborn are among the communities that use combined sewers, which carry both storm runoff and sewage to the treatment plant. The problem with combined sewers is that a heavy storm will cause them to send excess sewage and runoff into the Rouge > REYE'S SYNDROME is a non-communicable disease which attacks generally healthy children 18 years of age and under. It usually follows a viral illness such as the flu or chicken pox.

It is not rare but rather a little known disease that is devastating and fatal in about half of the cases.

Michigan has the highest reported incidence of Reye's Syndrome in the United States. It is primarily a disease of white suburban children, equally divided between the sexes. Reve's has become the number two killer of children in viral related central nervous system diseases. Encephalitis is first.

A child may be recovering from a viral disease when the symptoms of Reye's Syndrome appear. It is characterized by uncontrollable vomiting, delirium and vomiting

Other signs include: Dilated pupils disorientation, convulsions, personality change and extraordinary fast, deep breathing.

Sudden persistent vomiting is almost always the first symptom. Soon after that the child may become totally irrational, screaming, striking out, biting and unable to recognize family members or familiar surroundings.

THESE CONDITIONS warrant immediate medical attention, by the family physician or at a hospital emergency room. Immediate action will provide the best opportunity for the child to survive.

Bluebirds undaunted by rain

The bluebird of happiness was not smiling last week for Cheryl Brining's troop of Hulsing Elementary School first graders. They spent the weekend under cloudy skies and rainstorms at Camp Wathana near Davisburg.

Undaunted, assisting mothers Carol Pastori and Carol Connell led the Bluebirds through the rain Friday on a night hike to the Hermit's Cave. With flashlights to guide them, they experienced the quiet and often eerie atmosphere that covers the countryside on a spring evening.

The silence was mixed with nervous giggles from the hikers as they sloshed their way back to the cabin and a warm fire. Stories were exchanged as the weary group roasted marshmallows for the famous and delicious s'mores.

Lisa Brining, Debbie Connell, Amy Thiebert and Debbie Diabek enthusiastically took their turn along with Stacev Owens, Amy Pastori and Melissa Peters at the cooking, cleaning and hostess tasks assigned during the

The chicken dinner sponsored by the VFW has been an annual Indepéndance Day event for.

By DENNIS O'CONNOR bers will prepare its the past 15 years. This ens. Last year, the event of all the community," chicken barbeque rates second in size only to the massive Fall Festival barbeque sponsored by the Rotary Club of Plymouth.

> In 1975, the VFW served more than 500 chick-sold 600 chickens, and the goal for this July 4th is 700.

The dinner includes one-half chicken, potatoes, cole slaw, roll and butter. The price for adults is $3 and children under 12 years of age pay $2

Coffee or beer will be sold to adults and children's beverage is Kool-

The bulk of the money raised will go to award two $500 scholarships for resident students attending Schoolcraft College.

"THE DINNER is a oint effort with the ladies auxillary—we all cooperate together," said VFW commander Anthony Russo.

The commander explained that the dinner will be between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. but all VFW members work hard

This year's dinner chairman is Joe Krogol and the co-chairman is Kurt Oldenburg. Both men are coordination the activities with hopes of making this dinner the biggest ever.

The meal will be served both inside and outside the VFW hall area located on Mill Road, just north of Ann Arbor Road.

Oldenburg will be one of the cooks for this year's barbeque. All the cooks will be up at the crack of dawn preparing six different pits while using more than 600 pounds of charcoal

This annual event has produced a lot of surprises for the organization in the past few years.

'Some past members have just come by for dinner and to say hello but all of a sudden they start helping us," Oldenberg said. "Everyone gets into the effort.'

The generousity of the organization ceases as a free invitation for dinner last year was given to Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford and all the patrolmen on duty that

Stemberger stars for Hurons

Brian Stemberger has made his first year in major college baseball a memorable one Stemberger, a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School, just finished his first season at Eastern Michigan University with a .321 batting average which was the fifth-best clip on the Huron squad.

The 6-3, 185-pound shortshop played his first year of college ball at Mott Community College in Flint before transferring to Eastern for his sophomore season.

Stemberger battled Whit Boyd for a starting shortstop position for most of this past year but finally won the job outright as a starter in 12 of the last 13. Huron contests.

He played in 48 games for coach Ron Oestrike's squad and recorded 42 hits in 131 trips to the plate. The 19year-old infielder finished the year with five doubles, four triples and one

There was a lot of unusual action in the opening round of the third annual Plymouth-Canton men's softball tournament Friday night. On this play, a runner for HAF Industries (right) has just scored a run but loses his balance and grabs the softball which the opposing catcher from Little Caesar is trying to retrieve. The Caesar catcher later appealed to the umpire that the runner interferred with the play, but the run was allowed. HAF went onto win the game, For complete results of the tournament action, see Thursday's Observer sports pages. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Chiefs finish 4th in state

Plymouth Canton's baseball team was rated the fourth best team in the state of Michigan by the final poll of coaches released last week.

The Chiefs, coached by Fred Crissey, finished the year with a 23-3 record—the best in the Observerland

Canton won its third-straight Western Six League title and advanced to the district finals before bowing to Wayne Memorial in state tournament

Wayne finished with a seventh-place in the state.

Other area teams which cracked the top 10 listing in the state were Suburban Eight League champions Livonia Bentley and Northwest Suburban League winners North Farmington. Bentley finished ninth in the ratings, and North Farmington was tied for the No. 10 spot.

Catholic Central, a team that Canton beat during the regular season, was ranked as the number-one team

Observer announces boys track squad

By DOUG FUNKE and DENNIS O'CONNOR

The recently-concluded boys' track season was generally an excellent one for area runners and fieldmen, and made for good showings by teams.

Livonia Franklin won the Northwest Suburban League championship, Livonia Churchill, undefeated in dual meets, claimed the Western Six League title for the sixth spring in a row and Redford Union exhibited two state champions Garden City West finished second in the Tri-River League, while Livonia Stevenson and Westland John Glenn were runners-up in the Inter-Lakes and Northwest Suburban Leagues, respectively.

Area coaches met after the state finals had been completed to select the 1977 all-Observer Track & Field Teams. Here are the results:

FIRST TEAM

Bob Babits, pole vault, Redford Union. Babits, a senior, virtually led the weekly track listing all season long in his specialty.

In addition to winning the Class A state championship with a best vault of 14 feet 11 inches, Babits bested the field at the prestigious Mansfield. Huron and Spartan relays.

He was Suburban Eight League champion two seasons in a row and this spring was named to the Michigan All-Star team.

Babits has accepted an athletic scholarship to Western Michigan University.

Kevin Chapel, high jump, Livonia Churchill. Chapel, a two-time Western Six League champion, holds both the conference and school high jump records with a best leap of six feet six Chapel had the best jump this spring at the Belleville Relays, finished second at the regionals and placed eighth early in the season at the Spartan Relays.

Dave Bowen, long jump, Livonia Franklin. A junior and two-year letterman, Bowen bounced back from a leg injury to lead the Patriots to the Northwest Suburban League title.

A versatile performer, Bowen was conference champion in both the long jump, 21 feet four inches, and the 440vard dash, 50.3 seconds.

Bowen, also a halfback on Franklin's football team, was a member of the Patriots' state-qualifying 440-yard relay team this year.

Mike Petsch, shot put, Redford Union. Petsch, a junior, won the Class A shot put championship this season with a toss of 56 feet nine inches. Incredibly, he qualified for the state finals in four field events-discus, long jump, high jump and shot put.

His best efforts in the various field events this spring were 57 feet 51/2 inches in the pole vault; six feet 71/4 inches in the high jump; 149 feet four inches in the discus and 20 feet 31/2 inches in the long jump.

Petsch, who totalled 210 points during the season, bested all Suburban Eight League comers in the all-conference meet in the shot.

In an unprecedented move, area coaches unanimously named Petsch Fieldman of the Year to complement the Trackman of the Year

Mark Dewitt, discus, Livonia Churchill. Dewitt, this year, placed first at the Western Six League Meet, 157 feet one inch, at the Belleville Relays, 153 feet eight inches, and at the Lakeland Regional, 148 feet 11 inches.

Dewitt, also a shot putter, placed second in that event at the conference meet and fourth at the regional. The senior also earned a spot on the

Observer Wrestling Honor Roll last

Mark Niemchak, 120-yard hurdles, Livonia Stevenson, Niemchak, who placed first in both the high and low hurdles at the Inter-Lakes League Meet and anchored the Spartans' titlewinning shuttle hurdle team at the Observerland Relays, recorded a best time of 14.4 seconds in the highs.

Niemchak, a senior, was undefeated in dual competition and placed ninth in the highs at the state finals.

Mark Oblinger, 330-yard Hurdles, Garden City West. The junior was Tri-River League champ in the low hurdles, 38.9 seconds, and second in both the high hurdles, 15.0 seconds, and the 220-yard dash, 23.0 seconds.

Oblinger, a two-year letterwinner, finished third in the lows at the regional and 12th at the state finals. He was the high-point junior on the team.

Mark Boyd, two-mile run, Garden City West. Boyd, a senior, team captain and three-year letterman, owns West records in both the two-mile, 9:29.1, and the mile, 4:22.8. He has also scored more points in one season that any other runner in the history of West track.

Boyd finished first at the conference meet this year in the two mile and placed second in the mile. He was eighth in the state in the mile.

Boyd anchored West's winning distance medley relay team this spring at the Observerland Relays.

Ted Unold, mile run, Westland John Glenn. An outstanding distance runner, Unold this season placed second in the state finals in the mile for the second time in a row

The senior finished first in both the mile, 4:26.5, and the 880-yard run, 1:56.8, at the Northwest Suburban League Meet.

Unold placed first in the two mile for two years at the Wayne Invitational and the Western Wayne Relays. He won the mile this year at the Huron Relays.

His best-ever distance clockings are 9:21.2 in the two mile, 4:16.4 in the mile and 1:56.6 in the half mile.

Unold, this spring, was unanimously selected by area coaches as Trackman of the Year.

John Simigian, 880-yard run, Livonia Bentley. A senior and two-year letterman, Simigian, this year, placed third in the half mile at the Suburban Eight League Meet.

During many duals, Simigian would run the 440 and the 880 plus anchor the Bulldogs' mile-relay team.

A good student, Simigian also ran cross country for Bentley.

Bill Rowley, 440-yard dash, Livonia Stevenson. Rowley, the Spartan's top point scorer this season, finished first in the 440 at the Inter-Lakes League Meet. His best time of the year in the event was 50.1 seconds.

Rowley, a senior, placed ninth in the state finals (440) and anchored Stevenson's winning sprint medley and mile relay teams at the Observerland Relays.

Ron Cwik, 220-yard dash, Redford Bishop Borgess. The Spartans' co-captain, Cwik, a senior, was undefeated at 220 yards in dual meets this sea-

He finished third at the Catholic League Meet and was named to the first all-Central Division squad. His best 220 effort of the year was was 22.4 seconds.

Steve Krogulecki, 100-yard dash, Redford Bishop Borgess. The junior advanced to the semifinals of the 100 at the state finals, placed second at the regionals, third at the Catholic League Meet and fourth at the Ashley Undefeated in Central Division competition, Krogulecki is a co-sharer of the Borgess record in the 100 with a time of 10.0 seconds.

Mills rows on

Plymouth's Susan Mills is a rarity among Michigan athletes.

Mills, a junior at Grand Valley State College, lends rowing power to a women'st crew team. Grand Valley is one of only three colleges in the state which fields such a team.

The 5-9 rower is one of four newcomers to the varsity shell after competing with the novice boat last spring.

Mills' team recorded two of its four victories over Michigan State and

In other league action, the Lion and Sword defeated Chapman Brothers Realty, 12-6, Sword exploded for seven runs in the third inning. The assult was led by Rich Barr's three singles plus the long-ball hitting of Bob Zurnuchknp. Dan Riordan chipped in with two singles for the winners. Jim Doherty slugged a round tripper for Chapman.

IN DIVISION "C" ACTION, Ovidon leads the league with seven straight victories. In this week's play, the leaders beat Huffman's 19-6. The long ball paved the way for the Ovidon victory as Murray Grennhulge banged out two home runs and a double. Chad McDonald also crossed the plate with a homer, and Bryant Benson Jr. blasted a triple. Huffman's was led by David Monte's two singles.

In another fine display of hitting. Metro Nuts & Bolts defeated Century Farms 15-5. Two Metro players had a

The home run ball was the deciding factor in this game. Huffman's power was supplied by the home run hitting of Monte. Ken Steiner and Greg May. Century was led by Gerald Slayton, John Bockstanz and John Maloney with two hits each.

Geneva Church picked up its first win the easy way-getting a 7-0 forfeit win over the Canton Police.

The problem lies in the "A" League (11-12-year-olds) fields that the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League uses during the summer. These diamonds are at the township recreation site at Ann Arbor Trail and McClumpha Road.

And it's the same old story-except this one includes an unusual twist. The maintenance department for the Plymouth-Canton schools, for some odd reason which I still haven't discovered, did little to no work on the baseball and softball diamonds and track facility at the Centennial Park this past spring. Well, the unproductive attitude of the schools' maintenance department seems to have worn off on the township's workers.

Clumps of grass lay on all the fields, while one diamond easily floods and is unplayable at times when the other two fields are in use.

And the fencing on the dugouts are coming loose. What I don't understand is that this is the first time in which Plymouth Township hasn't helped the baseball organization.

In the past, the township has been very generous in letting the junior league use the facility. And help with maintaining the diamonds was always But this year, Plymouth Township

THEN I HEARD someone claim that the best time to sow grass seed is in late March when the snow still is on the ground.

The seeds will drop through the snow on the first warm day and will sink into the mud right below the snow's surface. The theory is that the seed will begin sprouting early in April when the grounds still muddy and nobody walks on it much.

It sounded like a crazy idea to me, but then my spring sowing hadn't amounted to much so why not try? Besides, I still had some leftover seed stored in the basement. So I decided to give the idea a try.

Shortly after St. Patrick's Day, I walked through my backyard with my bucket of seed sowing at will. I ignored neighbors looking the windows, and paid even less attention to the one who asked if I were feeding the birds.

WHEN APRIL arrived, I was quite anxious to see if there'd be any new grass. So I kept a close eye each passing

Lutheran high may open here

There may be a new Lutheran high school opening within the Plymouth-Canton area within five years.

The Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod reportedly is ready to purchase a 25-acre site for a high school on Prospect Road south of Ann Arbor Road.

Current planning indicated Huron Valley Lutheran High would open its doors to about 275 student in the fall of 1982

The school, once opened, would offer a standard high school program with stress on religion, English, history and physical education.

Tuition is expected to run from $600 to $1,100 a year, depending upon family income. Members of the Wisconsin Synod will get lower tui-

SC to hike tuition $2 per hour

There's no question that tuition for Schoolcraft College district residents will go up $2 a credit hour in the fall. The only question is whether the board of trustees will raise tuition for non-resident students, too. The fear is that Schoolcraft's non-resident tuition, already among the highest for Michigan community colleges, will become non-competitive.

A related fear, expressed by Trustee Mark McQuesten, is that a non-resident tuition which is too high will harm the diversity—hence the quality-of the community college's student body. An answer is likely at the June 22 board meeting, when the seven trustees must make some hard policy decisions as they prepare the 1977-78 budget. The options were explored at a June 15 study session. Budget making is complicated by the recent defeat of a property tax ballot proposal.

HISTORICALLY, Schoolcraft has followed a 1-2-3 tuition policy. Thus, current rates are $13 a credit hour for district residents, $26 for out-of-district Michigan residents and $39 for out-of-state residents.

A study by Vice-President Edward McNally showed that, compared to Schoolcraft:

•Six Michigan community colleges have the same tuition rate for residents, seven are lower and 15 higher. Thus, Schoolcraft ranks a little below the middle for what it charges local residents.

•23 other colleges have lower nonresident tuition and five are higher. •27 districts have lower out-of-state tuition rates and only one is higher.

A TUITION hike of 2-2-1, resulting in rates of $15, $28 and $40 respectively, would place Schoolcraft in these po-

• For district residents, 21 other districts would be lower, four the same, and only three higher.

• For non-residents, one would be ing non-resident tuition. the same, 25 lower and two higher. • For out-of-state residents. 27 would be lower and only one higher. College administrators figure a 2-2-1 schedule of tuition increases will yield $293,000 total revenue next fiscal year. They will work out revenue projections for 2-0-0 and 2-1-1 increases for the June 22 meeting.

AN INCREASE in tuition was a foregone conclusion in the wake of the June 13 voter defeat of a 0.8-mill property tax increase.

Trustee Arch Vallier, retiring at the end of June, cautioned that it would look bad politically to raise only resident tuition and not non-resident.

But board Chairman Paul Kadish said further increases for non-residents "will drive away students who are already paying top dollar."

And Trustee Ron Cowden said he had "all kinds of qualms" about rais-

THE 1977-78 BUDGET is shaping up as a $10.6 million package with nonew programs and only one new job a director of labor relations, according to President C. Nelson Grote. "This is a continuation budget with a couple of minor additions," said-E.F. Petersen, manager of business

The millage defeat cut the package by some $350,000. Of that, $175,000 was to go to special maintenance and equipment funds. Some of the loss will be made up by the tuition increase, which could yield as much as $293,000, depending on what formulathe board adopts.

A public hearing on the new budget is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 29, in the board's conference room of the administration building on the main campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Now your monthly payment can be lower, even if the cost of your new car is higher.

Most new cars cost more this year than last year.

Then how can your monthly payments on your auto loan be less than they used to be?

Because, now you can take advantage of an extended time period to repay your auto loan at Detroit Bank & Trust.

Your DETROIT BANK-er will be glad to finance your new car for a longer period of time than previously offered. And the longer you take to repay it, the lower your monthly payments become.

We want your auto loan payments to fit into your monthly budget. The total loan will cost you slightly more, but you should find it easier to handle the payments.

When it comes time for your next auto loan, talk to any DETROIT BANK-er about our lower auto loan payments. Take a little longer to repay your auto loan and make it a little easier on your budget.

How to apply T-shirt iron-on Instructions: 1) Pre-heat and set iron to wool setting. 2) Place aluminum foil on ironing board so transfer will not go through shirt to board. 3) Slide T-shirt onto board with fabric over foil, chest side up. 4) Lay the iron-on on the shirt, printed side down so that red ink comes into direct contact with shirt. 5) Move iron back and forth across the transfer with firm, even pressure for one minute unless the newspaper turns brown, which may occur in less than a minute. 6) Allow transfer to cool; then peel it off.

Watch kids closer in summer

What should we do with the kids this summer?

That is the question many suburban parents are currently asking themselves in view of the abduction-murders of four children in the past 16

While children like to roam free during vacation, parents must weigh the dangers of allowing them free rein, especially this summer, with the Oak-

Members of the Oakland County Homicide Task Force investigating the murders say that school is like a built-in babysitter. When school is in session, parents at least know where their children are most of the day. With the start of summer vacation, however, that is no longer the case. For parents, that presents a problem.

But task force members say there are reasonable precautions parents can take to insure their children's safety while still allowing them freedom to enjoy their days away from

"Parents should try and keep closer supervision of their children and make sure if they're going anywhere that they go in groups of three or four," advises state police Sgt. Joseph

"Looking back at our four victims. in each and every case the child was isolated-maybe a block from someone else. When this happens they are vulnerable to this indivudal or individ-

BIRMINGHAM youth officer Doug Marble says families in which both rangements during the summer for their children to be looked after by a neighbor, relative or babysitter.

"Make sure there's someone there land County culprit or culprits still at for them to report to. If possible, the mother or father should come home for lunch," he says.

> Children should not be allowed to hitchhike or to go out after dark, police caution.

> Another good policy, according to Southfield Township youth officer Dr. Jerry Tobias, is to have children check in or call home every couple of hours. When children know their parents are keeping track of them they tend to exercise more caution.

> When going to a friend's house to play, the child should call when he arrives and when he's ready to leave. Tobias adds

> Police say it is unreasonable to expect children to stay away from playgrounds and shopping centers. The chances of abduction are dramatically reduced, however, if the child is accompanied by several playmates.

> "Even two kids don't have as much protection as three or four," says Sgt. Krease. He (the suspect) wouldn't encounter a group that large."

"I would advise parents not to send youngsters to the store at vulnerable

Water board curbs voted in house

With strong suburban support, the Michigan House of Representatives has passed and sent to the senate a pair of bills designed to curb the powers of the board that governs the Detroit water and sewer department.

The bills, written by Rep. John Bennett (D-Redford) and co-sponsored by Rep. Sal Rocca (D-Sterling Heights), are aimed at giving suburban customers of the Detroit system a voice in operating the department, requiring public hearings prior to rate increases and mandating an annual, independ-

All Observer & Eccentric area representatives supported both bills with exceptions. Rep. James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham) opposed the bill reorganizing the water board, and Rep. Mel Larsen (R-Oxford) was absent with leave.

THE BILLS were opposed by many Detroit legislators as well as an assortment of conservative Republicans from small cities outstate.

HB 4018, approved 70-27 on June 8, would expand the Detroit water board from seven members to nine, with five appointed by the mayor of Detroit and four selected by suburban communities who buy Detroit water and sewer services.

Presently, all seven members are appointed by the mayor and may be removed by him.

"The four non-Detroit members would be elected by an assembly of local units of government served by the system," said Bennett. "Each community would have one assembly vote for each 10,000 population, with every community entitled to at least

"Suburban people pay an enormous share of the costs of the department, and the department has benefitted from both state and federal funds.

The Detroit water department can no longer be considered the private domain of the City of Detroit.'

THE SECOND bill, HB 4017, approved 59-39 the same day, would require public hearings on proposed rate increases at least 120 days before they are to go into effect.

"Realistically," said Bennett, "testimony at the public hearings may not stop a rate increase from going into effect, but the public hearings would give non-Detroit customers input into the rate-setting process and bring the weight of popular opinion into force against those who set the rates." An independent audit would be conducted by a certified public accountant selected by the state auditor general. At present, the city audits its own books.

Both bills amend the 1909 Home Rule Cities Act.

How the bills will fare in the senate is another matter. Bennett expects senate leaders may hold them up in order to bargain for house passage of legislation the senate wants.

OPPONENTS made these argu-

One way to keep the message alive is for Citizens Band radio operators to sign off with a message that will warn youngsters to be careful about whom they associate with.

A concerned group is sponsoring a contest, open to everyone of any age, for a new CB slogan relaying that

At present, CB operators say goodbye with the signal "10-4." Others use "Mobile easy." "All those good numbers to you" or "I'll catch you on the flip" to bid farewell.

Several CB- clubs have agreed to provide judges for the CB slogan contest. Those clubs will then adopt the sign-off slogan. The two club monitor Channel 9, the

The CB slogan contest was suggested by a public relations advisory committee-made up of volunteer area publicists-which has encouraged other such child safety programs.

They gave McDonald's Restaurants the idea of printing placemats with a warning message. The placemats will be distributed to that chain in the tricounty area during July.

The advisory committee works closely with the Oakland Homicide Task Force, made up of police in two counties and headed by Birmingham

Chief Rollin G Tobin Idea for the committee came from Southfield City Administrator Peter Cristiano, who asked for volunteers because the task force had no funds for anything but investigators.

The publicists found virtually everyone they approached was willing to

The work of reminding children must go on all over the metropolitan area. The killer has demonstrated he has no qualms crossing city, township or county lines. Although most of the previous abductions have occurred in the Woodward Avenue corridor, there's no guarantee that that is his only prowling place.

In times like these, we still give our customers what they want.

Some home improvement ideas.

It's funny how a new car seems to improve your attitude, your home and even the whole neighbor hood. Everybody wants to get in on the excitement.

That's why before we deliver your new car to you, we completely prep and inspect every inch. We go over it mechanically with a fine tooth comb to make sure it functions properly. And, we check the interior, door alignment and trim, too

When you park your car in front of your home. we want you to be proud. Proud of your car and your dealership. Because at times like these, good customers are important

"Where Customers Bring Their Friends"

Are you embarrassed when you drive down the street because your car sounds so awful? One thing is for sure, when you need a new muffler, your car certainly tells you-loud and clear.

But, other parts of the exhaust system can develop holes without giving any warning sound. And these holes are dangerous because they can let deadly carbon monoxide into your car without your being aware of it.

To help you make sure your car's exhaust system is healthy, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has a new publication. For your free copy of Vehicle Exhaust Systems, send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 631E, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

There are four main parts in all car exhaust systems: the manifold where the exhaust leaves the engine, the exhaust pipe, the muffler, and the tail pipe. On most newer cars (1975 and on) there is also a catalytic converter.

BE SURE to inspect the exhaust system regularly. At least twice a year have your car put on a lift for a thorough inspection of the underside (a good time to do this is when you're having a lubrication or oil change, or during a tuneup).

Make sure all the clamps holding the parts together are tight and hangers attaching the system to the car are not broken. Look for holes and signs of weakness. Check for discolored spots at various joints. Examine the manifold for cracks and breaks.

If you're not comfortable doing this yourself, ask your service station person to do it.

LEARN TO watch for symptoms of exhaust system trouble, like: noisy exhaust caused by a hole in the muffler, hissing noise in the exhaust caused by a bent or clogged tailpipe, a hissing or popping sound in the engine compartment caused by a crack in the manifold, fumes under the car or in the engine compartment caused by holes or breaks in the system, or leaks at the various points where the system sections are connected.

Drive with a window open when you have evidence of an exhaust system problem. In fact, it's a good idea to keep a window at least a little bit open all the time, in case you have an exhaust problem that hasn't been detected.

Inspect your exhaust system as soon as possible after going over a bump or scraping your muffler or tailpipe to make sure there's been no damage.

Don't put off having an exhaust problem corrected and DO NOT work on your car in a confined space with the motor running.

Tech center offers tours

Public tours of the General Motors Technical Center in Warren are being conducted daily through Labor Day

Visitors will be able to see exhibits and displays of GM vehicles, advanced transportation concepts, some of the newest developments in the safety and environmental fields, and also take a bus tour of the 330-acre Technical Center, with visits to the design and research buildings.

A special display center will be open to visitors where the Oldsmobile gas turbine Cutlass and other experimental vehicles can be viewed.

GM's Previews of Progress science show, which tours the nation for schools and other audiences, will be presented for visitors several times each

A "boulevard of flags" with the flags of the 50 states, a floral exhibit and futuristic automotive sculpture will welcome this summer's visitors at the Technical Center's main entrance.

Tours, which last about one hour, will be conducted continuously, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. Visitors should arrive at the Technical Center's main gate on Mound Road, between Twelve and Thirteen Mile roads

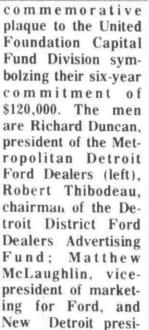

Additional information may be obtained and arrangements for group visits may be made by telephone at (313) 575-0334.

Last summer more than 30,000 visitors toured the Technical Center.

The 41 metropolitan Detroit Ford dealers presented a when working in the garden this summer, make sure you know what kind of pesticide you are working with. Children 2 to 5 are the most common victims of the more than 5 million accidental poisonings that occur each year in the United States. Keep children and pets away from the areas where you mix and apply the pesticide. Following the application, keep people away from the area and see that they avoid contact with sprayed surfaces.

crops, double check the label for restrictions on spraying the plants that will be eaten in future weeks. Depending on the type of pesticides used and when applied, most leafy vegetables and fruits such as tomatoes must not be sprayed during a certain period of time before harvest. And of course all vegetables should be washed before eating.

MAKE SURE that you keep all poison products in their original containers. Never in pop bottles, fruit jars or unmarked containers where they might be mistaken for food or drinks.

keep pesticides together in a special cabinet under lock and key. Dispose of empty containers immediately. Wash them out if possible. If you burn them don't subject yourself or a neighbor, to the smoke or fumes. Gases released by the heat may be poisonous. Never throw boxes, bottles or cans containing leftover amounts in trash cans accessable to children.

THE FOLLOWING is a list of some of the common poisons you will find on the label of the pesticides you purchase. The compounds are listed according to their toxicity, their ability to poison you if misused.

SUPER TOXIC: HEPT, TEPP, Phosdrin, Parathion, and White Arsenic.

EXTREMELY TOXIC: Demeton (systox), Aldrin, Dieldrin, Paris Green, Lead Arsenate, Endrin, Thalliuna, Mercury (organic compounds).

VERY TOXIC: Lethane.
Toxaphene. Rotenone.
Malathion. DDT. TDE. DDD.
Chlordane. Lindane. Benzene.
Hexachloride (BHC). 2,4 - D.
Xylene. Heptachlon. Warfarin.

MODERATELY TOXIC:
Thanite, Metoxychlor, Allethrin,
Kerosene, Byrethrino

SLIGHTLY TOXIC: Captan Cryolite, Phaltan, Piperonyl Butoxide, Fyrenone

WE AT MEIJER want to make sure that you have a productive garden and a good summer, so use pesticides with caution.
