Stein, Bradley, Daley await word on recall

After some 11th-hour scurrying, signed petitions calling for the recall of Supervisor Harold Stein and two elected members of his political slate were presented to Wayne County Deputy Clerk Orville Tungate on Friday.

A total of 1.280 signatures were on Stein recall petitions submitted to the county at 10 a.m. by Peter Lamar Gabbert, leader of the first recall movement which seeks Stein's ouster.

He was accompanied by Linda La-Bell, leader of the second recall movement which seeks the removal of Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Gene Daley. But only the Bradley recall petitions, bearing 1,530 signatures, were submitted in the morning visit. The Daley recall petitions were not available at that time because they were still being checked against voter rolls by Canton Clerk John Flo-

In the middle of the afternoon Mrs. LaBell picked up the batch of finished Daley recall petitions and made another trip to Detroit's City-County Building. There were 1,525 names on the Daley recall forms.

ONLY 1,251 valid signatures are needed to force a recall election against any Canton board member. The county clerk's office has 15 days to check the petitions. If at least 1,251 valid signatures against any one elected official are found, a recall election must be scheduled within 60 days.

Mrs. LaBell hurried along her later petition drive to avoid the possibility of having one election to decide Stein's fate and another to decide the outcome of Bradley and Daley. She vowed to submit her petitions on the same day that Gabbert turned his in. Gabbert held off submitting his petitions until the end of the 90-day deadline to accommodate the second recall

Charges against the three officials are similiar. All three are accused of encouraging, rather than discouraging, new home construction in the growing township. It is claimed that the three officials take a soft stand in enforcing quality construction practices. And all three are rapped for their opposition to the 1976 Master Land Use Plan which would reserve most of the western half of the township for strictly agricultural use. Stein and Daley are criticized for their opposition to establishing a fulltime Canton Police Department. Daley, in particular, is cited for a conflict of interest on police matters because of his daytime employment with the Wayne County Sheriff Depart-

Stein and Bradley deny the allegation that they are "pro-growth." saying they are for "orderly development throughout the township" that recognizes the legal rights of landowners. Stein mentions the fact that he reintroduced a motion that prohibits any new platting of subdivision lots until a zoning ordinance is passed to accompany a master land use plan. Stein believes growth will be regulated automatically because of the 'the supervisor job a part-time post.' lack of existing sewer capacity.

Stein said the recall is a "parlor game" for many residents working on the drive.

But Peter Gabbert says the people of Canton d'dn't have to be persuaded by disgrunted politicians to start a recall drive.

They were put in touch with FANA through an Ann Arbor-based referral agency known as Colombian-American Friends. They first made contact with the referral agency on Aug. 25 after learning that there was a five year waiting list to adopt a normal, white American baby.

When the Wrights discussed the possibility of adopting a foreign childpossibly a Korean orphan-they sounded out their friends, neighbors and relatives to find out if the child would be accepted.

... Gignacs adopt icebox raiders

Jim and Nancy Gignac are back in their Plymouth Township home, the proud, new parents of two boys, one 5 and one 6 years old.

That's right 5 and 6.

The Gignacs returned last week from Bogota, Colombia, where they joined a growing number of Americans in adopting South American chil-

"I'll say one thing about these kids," laughed Jim, who is vacationing from his regular duties as chief of Plymouth Township Fire Department, "they don't judge you by the size of your billfold but by how much you have in your icebox.' 5 local officials go on D.C. trip been in this country, he said, they have been putting away an average of two gallons of milk a day;

"Having access to a refrigerator is, of course, very new to Tony and Daniel," added Nancy. "In the orphanage, it was unheard of.'

Although Anthony and Daniel were chosen by the Gignacs as the boys' first names, they were both allowed to have middle names of their own

"THESE KIDS HAVE a heritage, and there is no point in trying to hide it from them or anyone else, but we wanted to give them American names," Jim said.

Tony chose Enrique as his middle name, and Danny liked Luis. Both kids speak passable English, the Gignacs said, and they will enter school this year In addition to regular classes, they will receive tutoring in language

"I don't think we'll run into any problems," said Nancy thoughtfully, but if we do, I hope we can make the boys understand that some people judge others by how they look instead of by what they are.

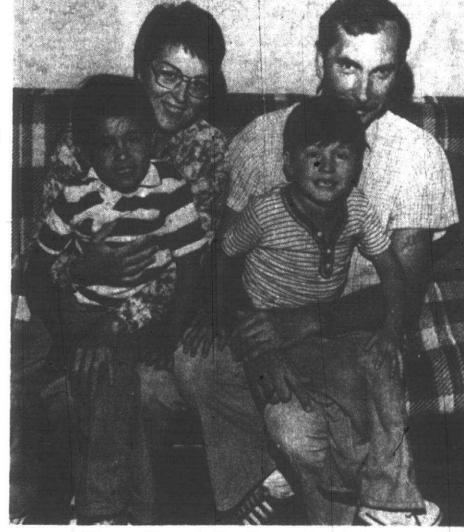

"But it doesn't matter to us! We're going to love these kids as if they were our very own. In discussing the nine-month saga of the adoption process, the Gignars conversation is laden with words like "official," "governments," "agency," and "home-study interviews."

They made the decision to adopt in October of last year and then started to make inquiries. "We were just amazed," said Jim.

"We went to every agency in Vayne County and were told they wouldn't even take our names for 18 months to six years.

Not content with the answer they next checked out adoption agencies in Wexford and Midland counties, but were informed they were not eli tible.

Sign up now for marathon

There still is time to sign up for the first annual five mile marathon to be run on the Fourth of July in Plymouth, one hour before the parade

All area joggers are encouraged by the Jaycees to enter the marathon and become active participants in the community's observance of Independence Day. All that needs to be done is fill out the entry blank in today's Observer, enclose $1, and mail it to the Plymouth Jaycees, POB 279, Plymouth 48170.

Besides being an added attraction for parade spectators, the marathon also is a fund-raiser to meet the expense of the parade and fireworks.

The route will be down Main Street to Hartsough, right on Hartsough to East Middle School, once around the school and back on Hartsough to Main. The finish line will be just · north of Ann Arbor Trail in front of the reviewing stand across from S.S.

Anyone 13 years or older may enter, states James Osebold, project chair-

Xway construction disturbs 100-year-old grave on M-14

By GLENN BUNTING

The discovery of two overturned tombstones at the highway construction site of M-14 over Sheldon Road in Plymouth Township has resulted in direct orders from the State of Michigan for workers there not to disturb the grave site.

The tombstones, bearing the names of Erasmus and Nancy Shearer, were found by highway department survey crews earlier this year, according to Doug Kelley, supervisor for the M&B contracting company

The state highway department gave Plymouth Township Supervisor Thomas Notebeart its assurances that the tombstones will remain in their places untouched. The state will return the tombstones to their original upright position, in addition to beautifying the site as part of its reclamation work of the area. Notebeart said.

Both tombstones are made of concrete and were apparently chipped by bulldozers, Kelley said. "It's fortunate

Keep your beliefs and that job

By PATRICK TOUHEY

A recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling denying employees the right to take time off work for religious reasons may give some employers a lever they don't plan on using.

In a random survey of businesses in the Plymouth-Canton area. the majority of owners and managers polled felt the question of release time was one which could be worked out on an individual basis.

A number of those in the religious community, however, expressed concern about what they called growing civil intrusion into the domain of religious freedom.

The ruling came as a result of a law suit filed by a Trans World Airline clerk who was fired for refusing to work on Friday evenings and Saturdays saying his religion forbade it.

"As long as the request didn't interfere with the operation of the business, we would try to respect our employee's beliefs," said Bernadine Randolph, manager of the Clock Restaurant in Plymouth Township.

"We do have a couple people who have become super religious, but that's only been within the last six months. And so far we've been able to

"I don't think the ruling will cause with the understanding that they will the only dissenting voice. he lavailable for work at any and all

But as part of our general practice, we try to grant requests for time off if it is at all possible."

Brian Michmerhuizen, manager of Meijer Thrifty Acres, also said the new ruling would not have an immediate impact on the Canton store. Our work policies were established long before the court decision. We post our work schedules a week in advance. Special requests for exceptions are honored if we have enough notice. "An employee could request time off for religious reasons, or to go to a prom. or anything else for that mat-

"There's no retaliation here." Licata continued. "We aren't interested in any single issue, such as high-rises. We have been in existence since 1971 and never have been a single-issue group.

Licata added that, from his standpoint, the Federation this year also placed high priority on experience and knowledge of government. "Moehle is an incumbent commissioner with experience, Fechter is an administrator for Schoolcraft College with management expertise. Wehmeyer holds a similar management position with Ford Motor as Turner does, and Ms. Watt has political experience with groups like the League of Women Voters and has attended commission meetings regularly.

"It was a tough decision, though. That's why it took 14 ballots.'

THOMAN, another who was endorsed two years ago, reacted strongly when he heared of the choices.

"I think the choices are very biased. In my opinion, they picked the worse possible ones. That's based on my observations of the Federation interviews, because I was there from start to finish. Based on the answers I heard given, if the Federation picked those four it must have had its mind made up before the interviews started.

"I can understand the endorsement of Moehle. But except for Moehle, the others don't have the slightest idea what's going on in this city.

"There was a good slate of candidates the Federation could have picked from. Except for Moehle, they probably picked the worst of the lot. That's saying nothing against any candidate as an individual. They are all very sincere people. I'm just saying it's obvious, to me at least, that some just don't have as much knowledge of the city as others.'

The infant was suffering from dehvdration caused by an intestinal parasite. Ten days later she was released from the hospital and on her way to Canton Township, Michigan.

Schoolcraft hikes tuition

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI

In-district Schoolcraft College students will pay $2.50 more for each credit hour beginning this fall. The Schoolcraft Board of Trustees approved the increase June 22.

While the in-district tuition rate is being raised from its present level of $13 per credit, rates for out-of-district and out-of-state students will stay the same. Out-of-district students will still pay $26 per credit; out-of-state students will pay $39.

Schoolcraft President c. Nelson Grote said the college would realize $289,000 in additional revenue.

Another option presented for board action would have raised in-district tuition to $15 and would have held other tuition levels constant. That plan, it was estitmated, would have resulted in only $231,500 in additional

AT AN EARLIER study session, the adminstration had raised the possibility of hiking tuition levels across the board. Under that plan, in-district students would have paid $15, out-ofdistrict students would have paid $28 per credit and out-of-state students would have been charged $40 per cred-

That plan would have brought in $294,000 in new revenue.

Grote said he Idecided, and the board concurred, that rasing out-ofdistrict and out-of state rates would put Schoolcraft in a non-competitive

"Take a student living in southwestern Wayne County. He's deciding between Eastern Michigan University and Schoolcraft College. He can go to Eastern for a lower tuition rate," he said. Eastern Michigan's resident rate stands at $24.50 per credit. Schoolcraft's present out-of-district rate is already higher than that charged by Eastern Michigan.

Grote also cited a similar example using Oakland University in Rochester. Oakland's tuition rate stands at $24.25 and would be well below the $28 Schoolcraft had considered charging.

EVEN THOUGH ADDITIONAL revenue will be brought in, the college will operate on a "continuation budget." Grote said. The proposed property tax increase, which was defeated June 13, would have meant approximately $375,000 in additional funds. he said.

Had the millage increase been approved, Schoolcraft would have been able to retain its tuition levels, reinstate major maintenance programs and restore services which had been slashed in austerity moves, Grote

"There will be no new programs. We will still have to keep the library closed on weekends and curtail weekend activities," Grote said.

"It still means we're about $100,000 short of the kind of revenue we feel we need to operate the college the way we would like." Grote said.

GROTE ADDED that the revenue generated by the tuition increase would allow the college to fill most of the vacanoies which have gone unfilled recently. He said there were many vacancies in the secretarial area and maintenance departments.

Trustee Mark McQuesten said, "Students could have avoided the increase. If they would have gotten out and supported their school, we may have made it. Some got out and really busted their backs, and, well, some

"The board really doesn't have any choice," he said.

In voting to raise tuition for only indistrict students, the board broke with past policy of rasiing rates on a 1-2-3 ratio. That policy had resulted in tuition rates of $13 a credit for district residents, $26 for out-of-district Michigan students and $39 for out-of-state

In additional fees-related action, the board decide not to raise the student services fee.

The All-Observer baseball team looks good on paper and it proved it in the field with a 5-0 no-hit victory over the Downriver All-Stars last Tuesday night in Wyandotte.

It was a nice way to end the high school season," said Observer All-Star coach Fred Crissey of Plymouth Canton. "I was really pleased with all the kids and the way they performed.'

The Observer stars played flawlessly in the field as only one Downriver batter reached base. That came on a seventh inning walk issued by Livonia Churchill hurler Bill Bardwell.

Brent Erickson of Livonia Stevenson started for the Observer squad and hurled the first two innings. Livonia Bentley's Kevin Schultz pitched the next two stanzas, and Mark Perkins of Canton threw the fifth and sixth before moving to first base, and Garden City East's Steve Topalian finished the contest.

The five Observer pitchers combined for 11 strikeouts.

Plymouth shutout of area girls track team

By DOUG FUNKE and DENNIS O'CONNOR

Area girl tracksters continued to make their marks this spring in the arena of competition. Times were lowered on the oval, while distances improved in jumping and throwing

The season was particularly rewarding for Livonia Stevenson, Westland John Glenn and Redford Bishop Bor-

Stevenson won the Inter-Lakes League championship, Glenn claimed the Northwest Suburban League title and Borgess, in addition to placing first in several relay and invitational meets, tied for third place in the Class A state finals.

The 1977 edition of the All-Observer girls' track team is based on the final weekly listing as compiled by Redford Union coach Mike Krafchak and results of the state finals contested June

Nadia Awad, shot put, Livonia Franklin. Only a sophomore, Awad placed first in the shot at the Northwest Suburban League Meet, at the Livonia Quad, at the regional and at the Borgess-Ladywood Relays. She was second in the state finals with a put of 41 feet two inches

Awad, who was born in Cairo, Egypt, also threw the discus for the Patriots and placed fourth in the regional in that event.

"Nadia is an extremely diligent worker," said Franklin coach Richard Braun. "She has developed almost classic form.

Kyle Gray, discus, Livonia Churchill. A senior and three-year letterwinner, Gray placed first in both the discus and the shot put at the Western Six League Meet.

Churchill coach Audrey Kather said Gray finished first in the discus in all but two meets this year and first in the shot put in all but one meet.

Gray won the discus competition in the state AAU meet earlier this "She's competitive-very bright and creative," said Kather. #

Ann Cwik, long jump, Redford Bishop Borgess. Cwik, the Most Valuable Player on the Spartans' squad this season, appeared in the area listing in four individual events-long jump, hurdles, 220-yard dash and 440-yard run.

One of the most versatile female track athletes in the area, Cwik placed first in both the long jump and hurdles this year at the Catholic League Meet. The junior turned in the best long jump effort at the Alma Relays and finished first in the hurdles at the Central Michigan Relays. Cwik was third in the long jump and fifth in the hurdles at the state Sie Basta, high jump, Livonia Churchill. Basta, a junior and two-year letterwinner, usually competed in the high jump, the 100-yard dash and the 440-yard relay every meet this season for the Chargers. Basta won the high jump in all but three meets, said Audrey Kather, and placed first in the 100 in all but three coach Steve Montgomery. "She's a

Julie Voyles, mile run, Livonia Stevenson. The junior won the mile at the Inter-Lakes League Meet and finished third in the event at the state Voyles, who has won two track letters and who has been a mainstay on the championship cross country team, holds Stevenson girls' records in both the mile, 5:16.5, and the two mile. 11:37.5.

She was second in the open mile at the West Bloomfield Invitational and ran a leg on the Spartans' winning four mile relay team and distance medley relay team at the Walled Lake Western Invitational and LaPlante Relays, respectively.

Wendy Tipton, 880-yard run, Livonia Stevenson. Tipton, who placed first in the 880 at the Inter-Lakes League Meet and sixth in the state finals, earned more points than any other Spartan this spring.

She also ran a leg of Stevenson's winning distance medley effort at the LaPlante Relays.

'Wendy's just a super sophomore who can run everything from the 440 up," said Stevenson coach Liz Embree. "She looks like a super pros-

Sue Anderson, 440-yard run, Livonia Churchill. The senior co-captain, primarily a sprinter, scampered to victory in the 440 in all but two meets, said coach Audrey Kather.

In addition to competing in the open 440, Anderson also ran in the 880 and mile relays

"Sue probably has been the hardest worker I've ever had," Kather said of the three-year, performer. "She was the most looked up to sprinter on the Janice Collins, 220-yard dash, Ladywood. In addition to winning the 100yard dash and placing second in the 220 at the Catholic League Meet, Collins qualified for the state finals in the 100, 220 and long jump.

Collins, a sophomore, holds Ladywood school records in the three events for which she qualified for the state finals. She missed winning the 100 only twice in dual competition this

"You can count on her 100 per cent of the time to place," said Ladywood consistent runner in big meets."

Kathy McDougall, 100-yard dash, league championship 440-yard relay Westland John Glenn. The two-year team. "She has a lot of spirit and a letterwinnner finished first in the 100 nd second in the long jump at the Northwest Suburban League Meet.

McDougall, a junior, qualified for the state finals in the 220, long jump, 440-yard relay and 880-yard relay. 'She's an outstanding runner," said

Glenn coach Cheryl Caughey. "I can put her in about anything and she'll

Cindy Mellas, hurdles, Garden City East. Mellas, probably the finest girl trackster ever to compete at East, finished first this year in both the hurdles and long jump at the Northwest Suburban League Meet. The senior was undefeated in the hurdles in dual meets this season placed __ond in the hurdles at the regional and was second in the state finals in the long jump.

Three times this spring Mellas won four individual events in one meet. She owns East girls' records in the hurdles, long jump; 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. She also figures in East's 440- and 880-yard relay re-

Karen Bohland, Tina Harmon, Ann Cwik and Cheryl McKettrick, mile relay, Redford Bishop Borgess.

The quartet, competing as a unit almost all season long, placed first at the Catholic League Meet, at the Spartan Relays and at the Knight of Columbus-Bishop Foley Relays.

The foursome, which turned in a best time of the season of 4:05.5, also finished second at the Bloomfield Invitational and at the Borgess-Ladywood Relays.

McKettrick also competed in the open 880 and open mile, while Bohland and Harmon regularly competed in the open 440.

All except Harmon are underclassmen.

Karen Bohland, Kellie Compton, Tina Harmon and Ann Cwik, 880-yard relay Redford Bishop Borgess.

This Borgess foursome, undefeated in league duals, placed first at the Catholic League Meet and at the Knights of Columbus-Bishop Foley Relays. The group also finished first at the regional.

Compton, in addition to running a leg of the 880 relay, also competed in the open 100 and 220.

Kathy Schmidt, Karen Schmidt, Lori Olenzek and Patty DeMarco, 440yard relay, Livonia Stevenson.

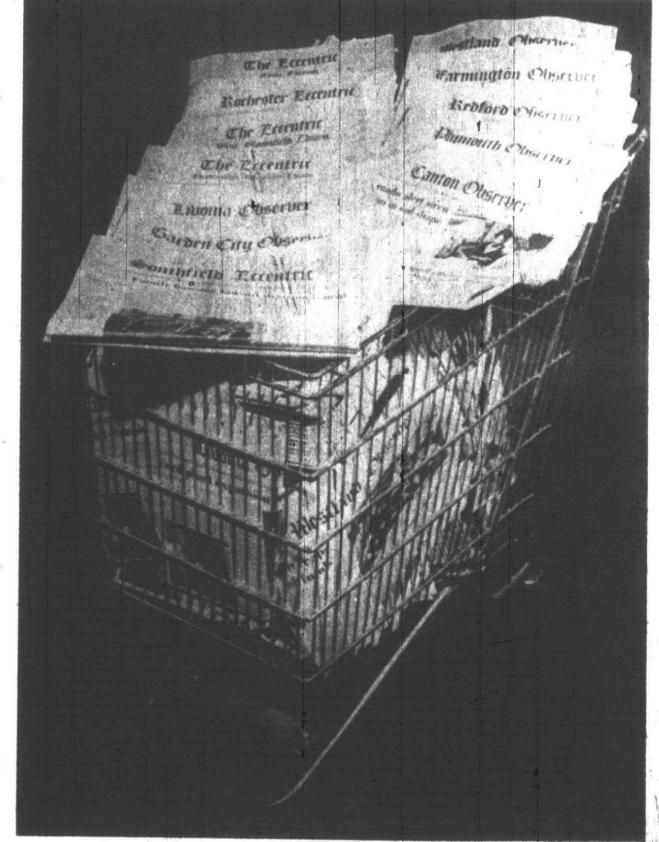

The quartet ran to victory at the

Inter-Lakes League Meet and at the regional. The group holds the school record. All four are sprinters. Olenzek and DeMarco are sophomores, Karen Schmidt a junior and Kathy Schmidt Karen Schmidt holds the Stevenson girls' record in the 100-yard dash, 11.3 seconds. Stevenson coach Liz Embree described Kathy Schmidt as "an allaround good kid who filled in wherover she was needed."

The Stroller

Rare surprise in nursing home

"girls" turned to Pennsylvania Dutch cooking, knowing that The Stroller

you would do with chicken or turkey.

To get the girls out of the kitchen one of the elderly men who had been quiet most of the time spoke up:

famous ball player who was blacklisted from the game, lived in Li-

"Did you know," he asked "that a

When The Stroller answered, "Yes, he was Eddie Cicotte who did a bit of farming at Seven Mile Road and Mer-

He added, "I didn't think anyone noons a fellow could spend.

And no one fell asleep.

By W.W. EDGAR

The world may be filled with surprises, as some folks say, but none of them would be more pleasant and surprising than one The Stroller experienced the other afternoon-and of all places in a convalescent home.

Invited to speak to a group of senior citizens as part of the program sponsored by Schoolcraft College at the Dorvin Center in Livonia he had come expecting most anything, especially when he had been told that the "old timers" wanted to discuss the sports scene in the 1920s.

"You'll find these elderly folks very interesting." Carolyn Gallogly, the Schoolcraft representative, explained. "But don't take it personally if one or two of them fall asleep. They have a habit of doing that."

Law protects handicapped

Michigan Lt. Gov. James J. Damman recently signed a bill making it a misdemeanor for non-handicapped persons to use parking spots designated for use by handicapped persons in public parking lots.

The bill adds a new section to the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code defining the term "handicapper" For the purpose of the act it refers to a person who has a physical characteristic categorized as a handicap "which limits ambulation or necessitates the use of a wheelchair for mobility."

The bill gives the handicapped person the option of receiving a specially-designated license plate from the Secretary of State or a transferable serial-numbered certificate for personal use. The certificate can be used by someone other than the handicapped person who is driving.

Canton Township has an ordinance that prohibits anyone who is not handicapped from parking in a speciallydesignated parking spot. Police have been enforcing the law in Canton.

The state law takes effect Oct. 1.
When Damman signed the bill into law it was the first bill he ever sent through. Dámman, a former state representative from Troy, acted in place of Gov. William Milliken who was out of town

Flossie Tonda not DC-bound

Flossie Tonda won't be going to Washington, DC, this week to attend an educational conference with two other members of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Mrs. Tonda, secretary of the school board, says she has adopted a personal position of not going on any trips unless approved in public by the school board.

A story in the June 20 Observer incorrectly reported Mrs. Tonda would be taking the trip. The Observer had been told she. Joe Gray and Marcia Borowski would be attending the conference.

So, The Stroller didn't know just what to expect-but ee wasn't exactly prepared for what did happen when came from the heart of the Dutch country.

"The folks today don't know what a good dish dandelion makes," one of them said, and a few of them were familiar with what The Stroller's the group got together around a large table for the monthly program.

With more than a dozen white-haired ladies on hand there was little thought that they were sports minded. But they turned out to be well versed on baseball and the other sports that held the fans' interest in the Detroit area more than a half century ago.

"ere you here when Ty Cobb played for the Tigers?" one of the white-haired ladies asked.

When told that he was, she smiled and said, very proudly, "I met him one evening when he visited one of our neighbors, and he had a pitcher with him-- a fellow named George."

"You mean George Mullins," The Stroller countered, and she nodded. From then the names of the greats and near greats of the Tigers were recalled and The Stroller was a amazed at their recollections.

IN THE MIDST of the conversation one of the ladies, with assparkle still left in her eye, asked, "Do you remember when Billy Rogell played for the Tigers?"

When The Stroller nodded in the affirmative, she leaned across the table and said, "when the Tigers got him from Boston in a trade I dated him for a time."

These "old girls" then let their memories come flowing down through the years in one of the most enjoyable visits The Stroller has had in a long time.

They ran the gamut from recalling Davey Jones, the center fielder on the Tigers pennant winning teams of 1907-09 who later owned a drug store on Livernois Avenue, to the days of Mickey Cochrane and now "The Bird."

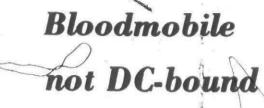

From baseball they turned the conversation to the changes in down town Detroit and the jolly times they used to have

One of the kind ladies who was seated next to The Stroller leaned over and asked, "Do you remember Newcomb-Endicott's store?" adding, "I used to be clerk there."

From downtown Detroit they ventured up Woodward Avenue in their recollections as one of the ladies recalled a date she had one night with a chap who took her to the old Oriole Terrace, now known as The Latin Quarter.

"I dated the fellow only once," she said, "but it was a night I never can forget because Joan Crawford, who died a few weeks ago, was dancing there and I had a chance meet her."

Another asked about Amos Jacobs, who now is known throughout the entertainment world as Danny Thomas, and recalled when he got started at the Bowery, the once famous night club in Hamtramck. From there the

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be Washington, DC, this week to attend an educational conference with two other members of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Mrs. Tonda, secretary of the school board, says she has adopted a personal position of not going on any trips unless approved in public by the school board.

Ken Bloom (left) and Steve Prueter successfully combined in doubles play this past spring to lead Henry Ford College to a tournament berth in Arizona. (Staff photos)

Plymouth duo swings

Two former Centennial Park high school tennis stars are continuing their success in the college ranks. Steve Prueter and Ken Bloom, both freshman at Henry Ford Community College this past season, combined in doubles play to win a recent regional tournament which helped their team qualify for a national tourney in Scots-

Prueter and Bloom played first singles for Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools respectively in each of their last three high school seasons before entering Henry Ford. Both netters are 1976 graduates

Last season as seniors, Bloom won the Suburban Eight League singles title and Prueter finished as runner up in Western Six League competition.

Both players also have been active in the annual Plymouth-Canton summer tennis tourney

Each player was new in doubles competition in college after spending time with singles play during their high school careers.

But the Plymouthites teamed up well together and peaked in time for the regional tournament

Although they were not seeded, Bloom and Prueter were named to the Region XII All-Tournament team as a result of their stunning victory

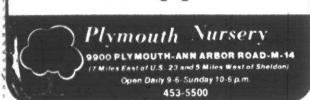

In Scotsdale, site of the University of Arizona, Henry Ford p'aced a very respectable 13th out of 53 teams.

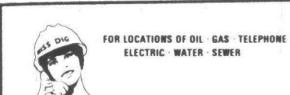

Although the Plymouth players didn't fair well in doubles action. Prueter advanced to the semifinals at a second-singles spot while Bloom went the quarterfinals at fourth-sin-

Exorcist II— Asinine script + nice photos = ugh!

The year is only half over, but already we have a bounty of movies sure of a spot among the top 10-the 10 worst films of 1977. My nomination for that infamous list is "Exorcist II—The Heretic' (R).

Here we have a disheartening example of some fantastic photography joined to one of the most asinine scripts ever put to film. The plot (I use the term generously) concerns Father Lamont (Richard Burton) trying to validate and carry on the work of Father Merrin (Max von Sydow). Father Merrin died four years ago-in #The Exorcist"-exorcising the demon from young Regan MacNeil (Linda Blair).

Father Lamont wants to save Regan's soul. But Regan is in psychoanalysis with Dr. Tuskin (Louise Fletcher), who wants to save Regan's psyche. Dr. Tuskin works in a modern, dehumanized, electronic and glass clinic that practices things like "synchronous hypnosis.

Pazuzu. It comes from Africa. When it's just hanging around loose, not inhabiting anyone's bady, it takes the shape of a giant locust. At other times, it's a swarm of locusts.

How it got from Africa to Regan in New York and why it assumes such a strange form are puzzling questions. But, puzzling in a Donald Duck way, not a Department of Logic way.

Thus it would be futile to dwell on the whys and wherefores of this movie. Trying to rationally explain the irrational only presents an irrational variant.

One wonders why two such fine actors as Richard Burton and Louise Fletcher (Nurse Ratchet from "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest") are in this silly movie. Of course, the pay is good but another consideration is that "The Heretic" requires fine actors. Who else could recite the dialogue without cracking up?

Burton declaims his lines with a stentorian seriousness worthy of Shakespearean drama. As Father Lamont, he requests the cardinal's permission to travel to Africa to seek a holy man who may be able to help him rid Regan of the Pazuzu.

THE CARDINAL, suspicious that Lamont may be a tit "tetched" in the head, suggests that he go on a retreat. Lamont declines, solemnly proclaiming, "I want to advance, not retreat." Louise Fletcher as Dr. Tuskin suffers the same fate from this merciless script.

The conclusion of the movie compounds the nonsense in one gigantic mishmash. In a quiet, residential, Georgetown neighborhood, Regan, Lamont and Tuskin confront the Pa-

This encounter results in a car crash, fire, screams, yells, an attack of swarming locusts and a house that explosively tears apart and crashes to the ground. The special effects people are unstinting.

Father Lamont emerges from the wreckage, embraces Dr. Tuskin, then walks off into the moonlit night with nymphet Regan! A few neighbors finally appear. Dr. Tuskin looks up with tears in her eyes-undoubtedly, tears of joy that the wretched movie is over-and says, "I understand now." This puts her light-years beyond the rest of the cast, not to men-

ANNIE HALL (PG). The best Woody Allen film yet. Truth and comedy go hand in hand in this touching, contemporary love story. Diane Keaton is also at her best as Annie THE BOATNIKS (G). Robert Morse is an inept Coast Guard

Ensign who foils the bad guys through sheer stupid luck. A BRIDGE TOO FAR (PG). Crisp World War II drama chronicling major but ill-fated Allied campaign in Holland. Bounty of stars make brief but effective appearances.

THE DEEP (PG). Suspenseful aqua-thriller with exciting underwater action and photography. Jacqueline Bisset. Nick Nolte and Robert Shaw dive for treasure and thrills. EXORCIST II-THE HERETIC (R). There's not much that can save this imbecilic movie although Richard Burton and Louise Fletcher try. How do they keep from laughing? FOR THE LOVE OF BENJI (G). The lovable mutt Benji is footloose but not fancy free during an accidental excursion through the Greek islands.

THE OTHER SIDE OF MIDNIGHT (R). Tawdry film of vanity and vengeance. Marie-France Pisier wastes her talent in this clinker. More sex and less story and they could have gone for the "Emmanuelle" trade.

ROLLERCOASTER (PG). Suspense thriller about extortionist (Timothy Bottoms) who plants bombs at amusement parks and a safety inspector (George Segal) who doesn't think that's funny

STAR WARS (PG). Serio-comic sci-fi adventure about a rebeflion of solar systems in a distant galaxy. Good time movie with laughs and special effects. Two robots steal the show. THREE WOMEN (PG). By DAVE DODD

You remember the Who. They were the first musicians to play at the Pontiac Silverdome. The group was great but the sound bounced back and forth so many times all you heard was a constant ringing in your ears.

It was a recent concert that 50,000 Peter Frampton and Steve Miller fans will be able to remember as the Silverdome's best.

Many hard working hours were spent to make the stadium the best sounding facility anywhere. I don't know how they did it but it worked.

A & M RECORDS, Capitol records and Bamboo Productions headed by Bob Bargaris gave the stadium a good name in musical entertainment. The seven-hour concert was one that will surely go down in musical his-

The real treat came when the Steve Miller Band took the stage. The crowd went wild.

Miller's music has been around nearly a decade and, according to the response of the crowd, another decade of Miller melody is wanted.

Miller led off with three memorable favorites and never could calm the crowd down. But it was when "Take the Money and Run" was cranked out that Pontiac Stadium went into hysterics. Following was Miller's new single "Jet Airliner" and the No. 1 "Rock 'N Me."

THE 33-YEAR-OLD singer-songwriter-producer-musician felt right at home on stage. Although he didn't have his horses, cows, goats, pigs, Restaurateur Chuck Muer and his team will aim for a kite flying world record when, as part of the 19th annual Detroit-International Windsor Freedom Festival, Muer and company will attempt flying 1,776 kites on one line atop Cobo Hall.

Beginning at 9 a.m., July 4, about 200 persons, under Muer's direction, will assist in the launching by adding one kite every 71/2 seconds to the main line until about 1 p.m. Retrieval is expected to be completed by 4 p.m.

All kites must be retrieved in addition to being flown in order for the effort to comply with rules for listing in the "Guiness Book of World Records" and to break the existing Japanese-held record of bees, peacocks and 16 other types of fowl on stage, his band and their music put a smile on his face that stretched a mile.

He ended the performance with an outstanding apperance of "Fly Like an Eagle" and "The Joker." Steve Miller is definitely one of the music industry's more talented individuals.

There was still another act to follow. You can't get much higher than the "rock personality of the year."

Peter Frampton took the stage and started where Steve Miller left off. His songs were reflections of his topselling album "Frampton Comes Alive" and his newest masterpiece "I'm in You."

His face gleamed on a giant screen atop the stage as his music poured into the hearts of thousands.

There is a certain image to fulfill if you are rated as the rock personality of the year and Frampton is such a person. His performance couldn't have been more enjoyable.

The ladies look ahead to the 1977-78 season

June marks the end of the season for many of the local women's organizations.

Retiring presidents and their boards of directors view with pride the events of their year of office. New leaders are installed and there is a summer respite before the pace of activities quickens in September.

Two of the newest garden clubs in the area will embark on their second full seasons in the fall.

Apple Run and Trailwood branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association received their charters in the spring of 1976.

Members of Canton Township's Apple Run garden club met for a picnic luncheon June 20 at the home of Donna Sommerman.

The club's new officers are: Sharon Palise, president;
Margo Whiting, vice president; Cheryl Wachlartz, second vice president; Maggie Winter, recording secretary; and Bobbie Plopan, corresponding secretary.

Joyce Ankofski will continue as treasurer.

TRAILWOOD Garden Club gained the distinction of being the 100th Michigan branch of the national association when it received its charter May 20, 1976. The club was sponsored by the Lake Pointe branch and Jan Elston was its first president.

New officers are: Teresa Johnson, president; Jan Elston, first vice president; Joy Hansen, second vice president; Donna Carden, recording secretary; Lucrecia Luttmann, corresponding secretary; and Mitz Petroff, treasurer.

THE SOROPTIMIST Club of Plymouth is not planning a lengthy summer vacation.

Members will be baking up a storm for their bake sale which will be in conjunction with Dearie Days in Old Village.

The new officers were installed in an impressive ceremony following a dinner meeting in the Chalet on Plymouth Road.

The president is Roberta Orr. She will be assisted by Lucille McKinny, first vice president; Mary Rutledge, second vice president; Vickie Lovewell, corresponding secretary; Fran Kontos, recording secretary; and Marion LaFevre, treasurer. Directors are Ellice Kulick and Millie Blackford who we last Year's president.

MEMBERS OF THE Saruh Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met at Barbara Saunders' Amherst Court home for their annual picnic.

Highlight of the past year was the chapter's 50th anniversary. The Michigan State DAR regent and regents from nine other chapters attended the birthday luncheon Dec. 13 at Hillside Inn.

The new regent is Mrs. Albert Heidryckx. Serving with her are Mrs. Robert Greenler, recording secretary; Mrs. D.H. Baumhart, treasurer; Mrs. M.P. Hagar, corresponding secretary; and the Rev. Elizabeth Etz, chaplain. Former regent Mrs. Hugh Lafferty is vice regent and director; Mrs. Norman Saunders is registrar; Mrs. Robert Codman and Mrs. Theodore Kampf are directors.

Cheri Neal of Aspen Drive in Plymouth Township, Susan Stanwood of Appletree, also in Plymouth Township, and Barbara Sartori of W. Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth were selected by the Plymouth Post of the American Legion Auxiliary as representatives of their communities.

Girls State is an outgrowth of the Boys State program developed by Illinois Legionnaires in 1935. It is designed as a youth citizenship training course in the processes of American government and is supplemental to high school civics classes.

The isolated Illinois convention that began during the depression as a public service soon gained the attention of other states. In 1936, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia adopted similar programs.

By 1938, individual state legion ladies auxiliaries developed Girls State under the same guidelines as their predecessor.

TODAY, THE TWO programs run simultaneously in all 50 states. Although uniform in purpose, each convention follows its state's laws. This allows a more personalized and relevant experience for the members.

High school girls, like the three who attended Michigan Girls State, must have a high scholastic aptitude, possess leadership quafities, and demonstrate an interest in government. They also must have completed their junior year in high school as civics is an 11th grade subject.

Names of eligible students are submitted by the high schools to local American legion auxiliaries. Evelyn Johnson, a member of the Plymouth committee, screened the applicants and helped those who were accepted to find sponsoring organizations.

Cheri was sponsored by the Woman's Club of Plymouth, Susan by the Plymouth branch American Association of University Women, and Barbara by the Legion Auxiliary. The sponsors provided the $95 registration

As an attorney, Cheri witnessed an unusual mock trial. The girls planned a crime, executed it, arrested the suspects, and conducted an investigation. which led to acquittal for the defendants due to a lack of evidence. Each step was followed according to Michigan legal procedure which gave Cheri an intimate picture of courtroom activity and the judicial system.

FUNCTIONING on as little as five hours sleep, the representatives moved from local and county levels to state government procedures. After caucussing lobbying and holding party conventions, the entire group assembled for the state elections. Using voting machines, they elected their officials including two representatives to Girls Nation, which will be in Washington, D.C. in July.

All three came home with unforgettable experiences. They made many new friendships. Among them were members of the American legion auxiliaries on hand as organizers and supervisors of this complex activity.

Before attending Girls State, each representative pledges to share the information she has gained with fellow classmates and the community.

A top cashier

If Jackie Brown's face looks familiar as she chats with Chatham supermarkets executive Bernard Weisberg, it may be that you've seen it smiling from behind the cash register in any of five Chatham stores in this area. Known to customers in stores in Wayne, Westland, Livonia and Plymouth, Ms. Brown became one of five finalists in the chain's competition to find its top cashier. She lost out in the finals last week to Diane Furaficz, but then was back the next day to help open the new store at Middle Belt and Seven Mile before returning to regular duties in the store in Plymouth. (Staff photo by

Area families participate in eating patterns survey

Selected Wayne County residents are helping to determine future eating patterns in America by participating in the largest government study of food consumption ever undertaken.

A total of 175 households in this area are reporting the details of their eating habits as part of the year-long project, which is being directed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and conducted by the National Analysts Division of Booz, Allen & Hamilton. Two other area residents are also involved in the study as inter-

Wayne County is one of only 114 areas across the country chosen for this survey. It was selected as being representative of similar areas in this part of the country.

Families from this area will be joined by more than 23,000 others from all 50 states and Puerto Rico in the massive study of Americans' dietary and nutritional patterns.

THE SURVEY will reveal how changes in the American life style affect the way we eat. Smaller families. greater numbers of older people, different life styles, the number of people who eat away from home, the growing number of women working outside the home, the incresing popularity of home-produced food to offset rising food costs—all may be factors in changing dietary and nutritional

Data from this survey will be used in many nutrition and education programs, and are a primary source of statistical information used in evaluating and developing national food and nutrition policies.

The real significance lies one step beyond finding out what, when, how much, and with whom Americans are eating. It lies in what's done with that mass of information. And past USDA food studies are leading examples of translating research into action.

Former USDA food studies have such concrete consumer benefits as various school lunch and food assistance programs, food fortification and enrichment programs, nutrition education programs and dietary guidance materials, and special assistance plans for such high nutritional risk groups as the young, the elderly, and the poor.

IT IS TOO EARLY to predict what the current study will uncover. But it's safe to say that a number of federal agencies which administer programs on the adequacy of diets and food safety will be watching the results carefully.

Wagenschutz places 4th

Wagenschutz, members of the Plymouth Men's Modified Softball League, traveled to Port Huron last weekend and placed fourth out of 20 teams at the Pop Cocco Invitational Tournament.

Wagenschutz won four out o' six games in the double-elimination event. Clinca from Miami, Fla., won the tourney while two Port Huron teams finished in second and third place respectively Wagenschutz rightfielder Russ Puljo and second-baseman Steve Karas placed on the tournament all-star team.

The Plymouth squad, coached by Rick Grimes, started off quickly with a 12-2 mercy-rule decision over Gords Wagenschutz was forced into the losers' bracket in the second game when it lost to the eventual third place finisher Boddy's Construction.

Plymouth's representative won its next three games, beating Eagens 13-10, Zebra Bar 5-4, and DAU 16-12. But that old nemesis Boddy's Construction put an end to the Wagenschutz hopes with a 21-20 marathon victory in 10 innings

Larry Duty played an outstanding tournament hurling on the mound. He also hit for a .368 average

Steve Robb led the offensive charges with a .478 aveerage for the six games. Rob Willett followed at

Mark Falvo added a .471 average. and Grimes chipped in with a a .600

Other members of the Wagenschutz squad included Pete Lomonoco, Brent Boegler, Tom Laffey. John Boos and Mark Crawford.

Wagenschutz plays in the Tuesday-Thursday league at Plymouth's Central Middle School field.

Demand Builds For Merit Taste Technology.

High and low tar smokers converted as news of 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco spreads.

There is a way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into a low tar cigarette.

MERIT proved it.

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain "flavor-rich" ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers the kind of taste smokers can switch to. And stick with.

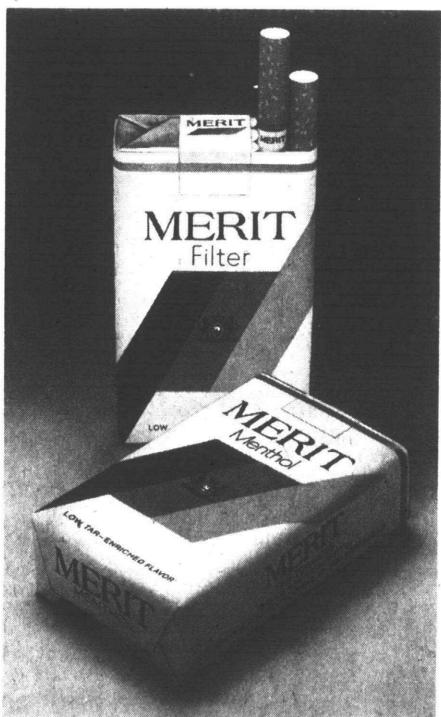

"Itell you that they are fantastic!...if you can change me, you can change anyone."

-Mrs. Bonnie Lindsay Bridgeport, Connecticut

Philip Morris Inc. 1977

Kings: 8 mg. 'tar,' 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec.'76 100's:12 mg. 'tar,' 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

REGULAR and MENTHOL

This kind of smoker enthusiasm is typical of what smokers are saying about the taste of MERIT.

"After smoking one pack, Iwas really amazed...they are as good as the cigarettes with higher tar."

-Mrs. Brenda Clark

"I have been searching for a low tar cigarette for some time now.|All others I've tried have no taste...I'm a MERIT man."

-Ray Echard Parkersburg, West Virginia

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.
