Judgeship is created for Canton

By PATRICK TOUHEY

A second judge's position has been created in the 35th District Court.

In a "rush" move last Thursday, the state legislature passed a bill which approved the new slot. Gov. William Milliken signed it the following morning.

The 35th judicial district includes Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville and Northville Township.

Any attorney residing in the municipalities is eligible to run for the office. Nominating petitions have to be filed by tomorrow (June 6) in the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

The candidates will have to run in the August primary and the November general election, along with other political hopefuls.

The individual who is elected will take the bench in January, 1979 for a four-year term. The usual term is six years.

Until the second slot was added, cases in the entire district came before Judge Dunbar Davis, who has been the sole magistrate since 1968 when the district court system was initiated.

"I WAS QUITE amazed," said Davis in an interview Friday. "I haven't even received any official notification about the new judgeship yet."

While the legislature's action took Davis by surprise, he said the word had gotten out through the grapevine, and he had received calls from a number of lawyers who wanted to know if it was true.

"Oh, yes, attorneys have called from Northville, Plymouth and Canton. And I expect if more of them knew about the opening, there would be a lot more calls."

John Mayer, an administrator with the state court administrative office, said almost everyone in the state was caught off-guard by the quick legislative action.

"This thing (the creation of a second judgeship) has dragged on and on. We tried to get the legislature to act on this sooner. But we were not successful."

"Nobody is more upset than we are. It's unfortunate that the legislature leaves these things—as sensitive and important as they are—to the last minute."

Mayer said that originally the new position would not have been in the budget until 1980. But Sen. Robert Geake (R-Northville) pushed for it to be effective this year.

Mayer acknowledged that many lawyers who might be interested in running for the office might not hear about it before the filing deadline.

"We just have to hope that the state bar association put out the word in time for everyone to make a decision and go through the necessary steps."

ONE OF THE PRIMARY reasons for adding a second judge in the district, according to Mayer, is the growth that has taken place in Canton—with more still expected.

However, Davis said that the number of cases coming from each of the municipalities is just about even at one-third each.

When asked if the new judge would sit in Canton, Davis said he had no idea.

"It's hard to tell right now. I would imagine we will have to wait and see which area the winner comes from. If he lives in Northville, he will probably sit in Northville. I can't imagine both of us sitting in the Plymouth City Hall at the same time."

Currently, Davis divides his time among Plymouth, Canton and Northville, sitting in each municipality a day and a half per week.

The judge's position pays $32,000 a year, according to Davis. About $26,000 is paid by the state, with the remaining $6,000 split between Plymouth and Northville at 70 per cent and 30 per cent respectively.

Jogging for fun

Jogging is moving up fast as a popular, inexpensive sport for many adults, as evidenced by these members of the Pacers' Run Club who are doing their thing near the Livonia Family Y, which sponsors the group. Some joggers get along with just a T-shirt, old gym shorts and tennis shoes. But these members are sporting extra color to brighten

Court ruling was kept quiet on fulltime police department

By DARLENE STINSON

Canton Township's part-time police department will begin 24-hour patrols within the next few weeks.

In an unpublicized consent judgment signed in Wayne County Circuit Court May 25, the hiring dispute that has blocked expansion of the department since last January has been resolved.

Under the binding legal agreement signed by a presiding miscellaneous judge, Police Chief Walter MacGregor will select the fulltime patrol officers himself from the ranks of the current part-time force.

Fulltime police applicants will not have to take the oral and written examinations previously required by the township board under the agreement.

It was the tests that sparked the disagreement. The Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) vehemently objected to the tests on the grounds that they are "redundant" and threatened to file a lawsuit over the matter.

The CPOA argued that the 27 applicants for the fulltime jobs had already taken oral and written examinations at the police academy within the last two years.

CHIEF MacGREGOR said he has already chosen 10 members of the department for the fulltime jobs. He expects that at least some of the officers will go fulltime by Monday, June 12.

The applicants have already taken agility and psychological tests. They will take physical examinations before being promoted to fulltime status.

One of MacGregor's choices is former Supervisor Robert Greenstein, who spearheaded formation of the department in 1976 and served as its police chief for about four months. Greenstein is a part-time Canton police officer.

When contacted by the Observer Friday, however, Greenstein said he has made no decision on whether to accept MacGregor's offer for the $12,300-a-year position.

A Livonia attorney, Greenstein said his indecision is primarily based on financial considerations. He has until June 14 to make up his mind.

Another patrol officer selected by MacGregor for a fulltime position is Gerald Niezgoda. The policeman turned down the offer for "financial reasons."

But nine other applicants offered fulltime police jobs last Tuesday have already accepted, MacGregor said.

They are Rob Cripe, James Hanna, Kurt Johnston, John MacDiarmid, Roger Pearsall, John Sherwin, Gordon Stevens, Robert Van Lith and Kenneth Winkler.

Township Clerk John Flodin said the township board will not have to confirm MacGregor's choices for the fulltime jobs, because the hiring procedure has been set in the consent judgment.

THE OBSERVER learned of the hiring dispute's resolution through a tipster who has no connection with township hall or the police department.

Although Flodin said township officials made no attempt to cover up the hiring decision, he admitted that no attempts were made to publicize the matter either.

The last public mention of the hiring dispute came at the township board's May 9 meeting, when CPOA attorney

Past disaster recalled

Tuesday's flood most freakish in history

By W.W. EDGAR

Herald Hamill claims that last Tuesday's flood in Plymouth was the most freakish he ever has seen.

And Hamill, veteran engineer who served the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, is reputed to know more about the sewers and drainage system here than anyone else.

Leaning back in his office chair, Hamill said he has been looking at storms and floods for more than half a century, "but this was the most freakish of all."

He went back to 1920 and recounted the rains and the floods, and the damage they did. Then he confided that last week's flood was freakish because it centered in the City of Plymouth and didn't move much further.

USUALLY IN TIMES of heavy rains and floods the water goes over Sheldon Road. This time it didn't, and he's at a loss to know the reason.

"It was worse than what they call a 100-year rain. In the 100-year rain we get about seven inches in three days. This time it is claimed there were 4½ inches in a half hour. On top of that it was a spotty rain, as my gauge showed only 2.6 inches at my house on Arbor Trail."

While discussing last Tuesday's storm, Hamill turned in his chair and said: "Those old drain pipes were laid in 1920, so I guess they didn't do so bad."

Asked why the flood had reached its peak in the Central Parking Lot, Hamill answered that the Tonquish Creek outlet never was designed to handle that amount of water in so short a time. He added that the catch basins aren't large enough and the grates also are too small.

The sewer just west of Harvey Street, he pointed out, is seven feet wide, seven feet high, and horse-shoe shaped. But, with a rain like last Tuesday, it isn't large enough.

Knowing that he had a hand in building it, Hamill leaned forward and said, with the trace of a chuckle: "Don't forget, Noah was criticized when he built the ark. So the sewers and drains we built didn't do so poorly."

ASKED IF THE retention basin he suggested some years ago for the north area near Five Mile Road would have helped last week, Hamill said the basin never was built and he doubted if it would have helped.

Most of the rain came down from Junction Street and naturally headed for the Central Parking Lot behind the stores at Ann Arbor Trail and Main—the low spot downtown. And that drain was designed to handle only 500 cubic feet of water per second, and the water volume was much heavier last week.

At Sheldon Road the outlet can handle only 200 cubic feet of water per second and the water never exceeded that capacity Tuesday.

IN HIS MANY years of service in the community Hamill has seen several floods.

One he readily recalls occurred in 1922, long before Tonquish Creek was covered. At that time a child fell into the flood water at Ann Arbor Trail and drowned. His body floated for a block or two before it could be recovered.

Hamill recalled another time—in 1947—when driving to work he found two feet of water at Harvey Street and several flooded stores on Penniman Avenue.

There was another in 1967 when the creek over-flowed. But one of the floods he recalls occurred at the Ford Sheldon Plant in 1967.

According to Hamill there was some faulty planning at Ford's as they had acres of parking area for the employees but only one catch basin. When the rains came the area was flooded and the water ran down close to the railroad tracks.

But after recalling all of them Hamill decided that last Tuesday's was the most freakish of all.

Tribute paid to Ernie Allison

By W.W. EDGAR

He's like a watch—open faced, pure gold and filled with good works.

This unusual tribute, spoken by Ralph C. Keys, past international vice-president of Kiwanis International, furnished the highlight of the celebration marking Ernest "Ernie" Allison's 94th birthday party Tuesday night in the Mayflower Meeting House.

The gathering of more than 100 Kiwanians and their wives rose as one to complete the tribute to one of Plymouth's grand old gentlemen.

ALL THROUGH THE evening the honored guest sat at the headtable and listened as speaker after speaker recalled the many fine things Ernie had done and the many fine contributions he had made to the betterment of life in the area.

Then, like the unassuming chap he always had been, the honored guest, who had just been presented with a life membership in Kiwanis International, rose and thanked the gathering but stressed the fact many of these things were accomplished only because "we had many fine gentlemen working for the same cause."

Even on this big night in his life he took the time to share the glory with others.

One of the charter members of the Detroit Kiwanis Club, Allison also was one of the group that made the Mayflower Hotel possible. And for years he was the top Chevrolet dealer in western Wayne County with his dealership in the building now housing the antique furniture store close by the railroad tracks on Main Street.

He opened the Chevrolet dealership in 1922, after serving as paymaster at the Ford Rouge Plant. For the next 44 years it was a landmark in Plymouth. Then, due to a series of events, he sold out in 1966 and retired.

Ralph Lorenz, whom the Mayflower group hired to manage the hotel when new leadership was necessary, revealed one of the unusual sides of the honored guest.

"He told me if I could pay only a little bit on the bills each month I never would have to fear bankruptcy," Lorenz said.

"I did just that and the Mayflower is one of the few small hotels in the state that escaped bankruptcy during the depression years."

ANOTHER SIDE of the honored guest was revealed when Edwin (Bud) Schrader, the toastmaster, recalled that Allison was president of Kiwanis in 1931 when things were really rough—financially.

"When it looked as though the club was in danger because of the lack of spending money, Ernie met with Ralph and had the cost of the weekly luncheon reduced to 50 cents. You see, he always was a good businessman.

Gene Overholt, a member of the Plymouth club who is serving as the district governor, delivered the main address of the evening and it was a fitting climax to a birthday celebration that made the affair a most enjoyable one for Plymouth's grand old gentleman.

Candidates define basics

A catch-word phrase bandied about educational circles is a call to "return to basics."

Most often that phrase is used to mean greater emphasis should be placed on reading, writing and arithmetic. Sometimes it is used by those who want to eliminate "frills" in education. For still others a return to the basics means establishment of a core curriculum with elimination of electives.

Because the phrase is often used but seldom defined, the Observer decided to ask the three candidates for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education the following question:

"What is your personal understanding of the phrase 'return to the basics'? What does it mean?"

Answering were William Johnson, Elaine Kirchgatter and Carol Davis. The three are running for two four-year positions on the school board in the June 12 election.

MRS. KIRCHGATTER responded that to her a return to the basics meant putting more emphasis on the language arts, math, science and social studies.

"The goal-base curriculum now in process is geared toward placing greater emphasis on these areas which will be among the first priorities.

"We need to seek out and employ teachers with strong points in these areas, and also to provide inservice training for present teachers to improve their skills in these special subject areas."

Johnson explained that a return to the basics meant three things to him:

•A very good education in the English language—"an essential basic tool for anyone; otherwise we can't communicate."

•Betterment of math skills—"extremely important as a foundation skill. We all have to buy things, such as financing a car, and need a strong ability to work with numbers."

•"As an adult looking back on my education, I'd include in the basics extra-curricular activities, such as band, music, art and athletics. I think these are basics, because they keep kids interested in school."

Mrs. Davis answered: "I don't think we ever left the basics. Reading, writing and arithmetic are being taught all the time in all the schools. The phrase 'return to basics' means to me that people are not perceiving that what happens in school today is not the same as what happened to them, which is good—it shows we've made some progress.

"People who say we should return to the basics, I think, are really saying they want to return to something in the past which they understand better. They feel more comfortable with what they went through in school, and less comfortable with today's methods."

Daniels Den

By EMORY DANIELS

For a brief moment I thought it was the deadline to purchase license plate tabs.

But then I quickly realized it was the end of May—not March—and the Secretary of State's branch office isn't in Plymouth anymore. And when the branch was here it was located on Penniman Avenue, not at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Main.

Instead the long lines were formed at another branch office—Detroit Edison—as customers were exchanging burnt-out light bulbs for free ones.

IF YOU'VE FOLLOWED the news at all you know Edison is discontinuing its light bulb exchange because of an order from federal court.

A lawsuit had been filed against Edison by a Southfield druggist who argued the practice of giving away free light bulbs was a restraint of trade for other businesses who might otherwise sell light bulbs.

Apparently the druggist agreed to file the lawsuit when approached by some attorneys who wanted to make a quick reputation and were willing to handle the case without charge in exchange for the illumination they would receive.

After months of haggling in and out of court, an out-of-court settlement was reached and an order entered for the discontinuation of the light bulb exchange program. Last Friday was the last day to participate in the exchange, and many, many people waited until the last day to do so.

And there were very few people standing in line who had many kind words to say about the Southfield druggist who started the whole thing.

SOMEONE HAD suggested that Edison could circumvent the court order by selling light bulbs to its customers for a penny apiece.

But if a penny was charged, then a price would be attached to the bulbs. And once a price is charged, no matter how low, the sale of bulbs would come under federal pricing regulations and Edison would probably be accused of price fixing by Uncle Sam.

Of course, many of the people in line were commenting about the druggist who ended the exchange. A lot of the talk was trying to figure out his motivation.

A drug store just doesn't sell many light bulbs, and can't be expected to do much of a business even when bulbs no longer can be exchanged but must be purchased. Small stores just don't have the space to sell items, such as bulbs, in large enough volume at a competitive price.

Instead most of the bulb sales probably will be handled by the large chain department and hardware stores.

Another interesting angle to consider is that the Southfield druggist also is a consumer of light bulbs and will be buying bulbs for his personal use. Now granted, he can buy them cheaper than you and I but still he will at least have to pay the wholesale rate.

I'm not sure what the price for bulbs will be once competition enters the scene, but for discussion sake let's set the price at 75 cents for two 75-watt bulbs. With a one-third mark-up, the druggist will clear 25 cents for every two bulbs sold. But to obtain bulbs for personal use, the druggist will be paying 50 cents for two bulbs. Thus he must sell four bulbs in his store to purchase two bulbs for personal use and stay even. To make money, he must sell more than four bulbs.

So the economics of the situation isn't over-powering enough to explain why the lawsuit was filed. Notoriety probably is the best explanation.

BUT BEFORE WE come down too hard on this druggist we should realize that Edison's bulb exchange program probably didn't have a long life ahead anyway.

A few years back Edison also discontinued its free repairs of minor household appliances (Now Edison's advertising encourages keeping appliances in repair to save energy). Michigan Bell has been considering ending its "free" 411 telephone information service by instituting a charge.

When faced with rising costs, and great pressure to keep rates down, it wouldn't have been very far down the road when Edison would have decided on its own to end the bulb exchange program.

Well, we aren't going to go back to candles so we might as well adjust to this change and wait for the $2 reduction in our electric bill. We can use that $2 well to pay for our information calls.

The Stroller

The lawn moaner

By W.W. EDGAR

During lull in the conversation at the luncheon table the other day one of the diners suddenly asked, "Do you think in these modern times, that they ever will develop grass that will grow no higher than about an inch and a half?"

Without waiting for an answer he started moaning about the tough task it is these days to keep the lawn mowed. "I am so damned tired of cutting grass—and there must be others—who would give most anything to get the lawn in shape during the early days of spring and then have it last all summer."

"You'd think that if we have men in this generation who could send men to the moon and back and others who could come up with the technique of sending pictures in living color around the world and into your living room, there certainly would be someone who could devise a plan to curtail the growth of grass."

Laughingly, one of the fellow diners countered, "Why don't you get astro turf like they have in the Michigan Stadium and in the Silverdome in Pontiac, then your troubles with the lawn would be ended?"

"I'm talking about grass," the first moaner commented. "And what I have been through would send a fellow up the wall."

SUDDENLY, The Stroller recalled that he had seen this fellow diner in the neighborhood nursery early in the spring. He was seeking information of what to do to build up his lawn that, he said, was in terrible shape.

At the time the nursery men told him of a new fertilizer that just came on the market. He explained that it was supposed to do better than the nationally-known Turf Builder, and wouldn't cost any more.

Try it and find out, the nursery man remarked. So he took the fertilizer. Now, here he was complaining about the results. Nary a word did he say about the great job the fertilizer had done. Instead he was moaning about it and virtually wishing he never had heard of it.

As he sat there listening to the moaning of the lawn mower (not the machine) The Stroller could have added another chapter to the minutes of the moaning society.

On the same day that our moaning friend decided to try the new fertilizer The Stroller also went home with a huge sack of it to feed what had been a sick-looking lawn for several years.

As he was about to leave the nursery man cautioned him to spread the fertilizer as evenly as possible. "It's strong," he said, "and it could be damaging if you put it on too thick."

To guard against faulty spreading The Stroller was very careful—or so he thought—to see that when he finished one path across the lawn he would keep the wheels on one side of the spreader in the same track on the return trip. This would prevent any doubling up along the way.

The job done, The Stroller sat back to wait. He was anxious to see if the new fertilizer was all that it was supposed to be.

FOR A LONG TIME there didn't seem to be any results. He was told we needed rain—badly. Finally the rains came. The grass started to grow. And what a sight it was. And still is.

The fertilizer did the job it was expected to do. But The Stroller now has the only striped lawn in the neighborhood. You see, he never gave it a thought that when he was being so careful to keep the wheel of the spreader in the same track he was failing to fertilize that narrow section of the lawn.

So what happened? He now has strips of a nice lush lawn with narrow yellow lines—the lines that were not fertilized. No wonder the folks who drive by slow down, and some even stop, to see this unusual sight.

The lawn now has become a sort of conversation piece. Not everybody has a striped lawn with rich dark green sections and rather enigmatic looking yellow stripes.

As Harold Fischer, the real estate man, says, "I love to cut my lawn. It is the one job a fellow can do and see instant results."

No one knows better than The Stroller—he came up with a striped lawn and all because of the new fertilizer that was driving one of his fellow diners up the wall.

Fire chief is hard to find

Plymouth Township is having a little trouble finding a fire chief.

The position has been vacant since the middle of April when Chief Jim Gignac abruptly resigned to take a job with the state fire marshal's office.

Although there are three sergeants in the department who are eligible to fill the post, all of them have refused to take the qualifying civil service examination.

"I'm not surprised," commented Clerk Helen Richardson. "They would have had to take a cut in pay. And the men in the department have better fringes than the chief."

The chief's salary is about $20,500 per year. But there are some firefighters who are earning more than $30,000 a year with overtime.

When it learned of the refusals from the top three firefighters, the civil service commission decided to let any firefighter in the department with at least five years experience take the test.

Bank begins construction

Security Bank's regional vice-president Robert F. McDermott, assisted by Canton Supervisor Harold Stein and other dignitaries, recently broke ground for the bank's second township office. The new facility located on the northwest corner of Canton Center Road and Warren, will join the present office, located on Ford Road between Sheldon and Lilley. The new office is expected to be open in November. From left are: Anne Bradley, Canton treasurer; Mary Perna, manager, Ford Road office; John Flodin, Canton clerk; McDermott; Michael Gorman, Canton financial director; Stein; Don Bidwell, builder; Bill Lindhout, architect.

Full-time cops soon

James Garber presented a compromise proposal to the hiring dispute. At the time, board members indicated they would not accept the proposal.

Garber's suggestion was nearly identical to the consent judgment signed in circuit court May 25.

CPOA president John Longridge said he and Garber met with the township board again on May 23. In a closed session following the board's regularly-scheduled meeting, Longridge said, "We told them flat out, 'No testing'."

Longridge claims the township board took an about-face on its earlier stance after he and Garber left. The board approved the stipulations of the then proposed consent judgment.

"I can only speak for myself," Flodin said about township officials' change of heart. "But I felt this was a reasonably good compromise for what could have turned into a prolonged legal confrontation."

"A lawsuit would have done two things," Flodin said. "It would have denied the people of Canton a fulltime police department and it would have cost a lot of money."

Longridge appeared ecstatic over the long-awaited solution to the hiring dispute.

Questions often asked about school tax ballot

If you have questions about the June 12 school tax proposals you may find the answers below.

A list of questions-answers on the three separate tax proposals has been prepared by the community relations office of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The questions compiled are those most often asked school board members, administrators, and members of the citizens election committee.

Why are there three separate propositions on the June 12 millage ballot?

After the April 27 millage proposal was defeated, voters indicated they preferred a ballot with the renewal and the additional mills in separate proposals. The 1/2-mill for buildings is earmarked for building maintenance only and runs for 10 years. All three millages are needed to keep the present program of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools next year.

What will the millage proposals cost the average taxpayer?

The renewal (Proposition I) will not change the tax rate; it merely keeps three mills that would expire without approval of the voters. Proposition II (2 1/2 mills) plus Proposition III (1/2-mill) represent two additional mills. If all three proposals pass, the additional cost to the average taxpayer will be about $2 per month (allowing for the state property tax rebate).

Why do the schools need this millage vote now?

Three mills of the present school millage expire and must be renewed by the voters or lost. The 1 1/2 mills are needed to provide for growth and inflation. The 1/2-mill will enable the schools to do preventive maintenance and repair on a long-range planning basis (especially needed after the recent rainstorm damage).

Why don't the schools get more money from the new houses and higher property assessments?

Increases in our local property values are off-set by decreased state school aid because of the state "equal yield" formula.

How soon can we expect relief from constantly rising property taxes?

Tax reform is long overdue, but no one has yet come up with a practical plan to remove property taxes for schools and keep local control of education.

Is the millage vote related to any of the recent controversies about schools?

The way to affect school district policy is through communication with elected school board members. Voting down funding cannot solve problems. In fact, concerns such as improved transportation, emphasis on basics, or more special education services, can only be met with adequate millage.

Does the school system waste money?

No. This past year the district kept a balanced budget, including money laid aside for emergencies. Even with the cold winter, energy costs were kept below budgeted expenditures. Plymouth-Canton Community Schools per pupil costs are the fifth lowest in Wayne County.

What will happen if Propositions I and II for operating millage are voted down?

These 4 1/2 mills represent $2.6 million or 8.9 per cent of the 1978-79 operating revenues. Without this money, cutbacks would have to be made in all areas. Details of possible programs for next year have been mailed to every home here.

What kinds of projects will come from the 1/2-mill for buildings?

Roof repair, boilers, and cleaning equipment are examples. We also can insulate windows and modify heating plants for energy conservation and cost savings.

What emotional stages are there for the survivors?

In her widely-read books on death-and-dying, noted psychiatrist Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross discusses many perplexing aspects of coping with terminal illness...from the point of view of the patient, the medical professionals and the families involved.

Her studies indicate that the stages of denial, anger, bargaining, depression, and acceptance of death are common to most terminally ill patients.

Some of these stages are common, too, with the survivors of the deceased. Survivors, too, may experience a denial of the death of a loved one. They may also experience anger, depression, and, finally, acceptance...and then begin rebuilding the pieces of family life without the deceased.

Relatives and friends all interact and find strength in communicating and sharing each other's strong points, thus making the adjustment less difficult and prolonged.

For more information on how to cope with these stages, stop by for suggested reading material.

James, Dawson, hurl 4-0 shutouts as Chiefs take home district trophy

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Masterful pitching by Plymouth Canton's Brian James and Scott Dawson, plus the timely hitting of all-state shortstop Scott Collins, led the Chiefs to their first-ever baseball district championship Saturday at Southfield.

Canton, 22-3 overall and ranked first in the state, defeated Walled Lake Central, 4-0, to win the championship.

The Chiefs upended Milford Lakeland by the same 4-0 score in the district semifinal. Walled Lake edged Southfield, 3-0 in eight innings, in its semifinal battle.

The Plymouth squad now advances to the Wyandotte Regional Saturday as one of only 16 Class A teams left in the state tournament chase.

Dawson and James, both juniors, threw identical three-hit shutouts for the crown. Dawson blanked the Vikings in the finale after James tripped Lakeland in the morning battle.

Collins, Mr. Everything at shortstop, hit two doubles in the first game and added three hits in the nightcap to pace the offensive threat.

"It was a nice day all around," said Canton coach Fred Crissey, who won his first district title since starting the Canton program five years ago.

"We didn't press and played intelligent baseball. You can have emotion, but you've got to do it on the field.

"Again, I may sound like a broken record, but it was a typical Canton win. I thought the kids played tough defense all day, and we had superb pitching."

Collins led off the championship game with a triple and scored on a wild pitch for the first run. He doubled up the leftfield alley in the third inning and scored on an error to make it 2-0.

Russ Mandle's RBI single in the fifth inning scored Canton's third run, and Dave Weise walked with the bases loaded later that inning to complete the scoring.

Dawson struck out six batters and didn't walk anyone.

DANE SMITH pitched a superlative game against Walled Lake Central in one district semifinal contest, as Southfield was knotted in a scoreless tie after the regulation seven innings.

The visisted Vikings defeated coach Calvin Fletcher's Blue Jays, however, as a three-run eighth-inning rally ended the title hopes for the Cinderella Southfield team.

After a lead-off walk, the second Central batter hit a grounder and Southfield tried to get the lead runner at second base. But the Viking was ruled safe at second on a controversial call.

A Blue Jay error followed to load the bases, and a base hit scored all three runs to end the game.

Smith, the ace of the Southfield staff, suffered the final loss of the season as the Blue Jays finished with an 8-16 record.

THE CHIEFS first victory over Milford Lakeland saw Brian James hand-cuff the 8-10 squad on only three hits in the morning contest.

James struck out nine batters, didn't allow a walk and retired the last nine of 10 batters to record his eighth victory of the season.

Collins' two-run double to right-centerfield in the sixth inning broke the game wide open. Weise started the sixth with a double to leftfield, and Tom Norton walked before Collins' 2-run double.

Canton scored in the first inning without the benefit of a hit. Jeff Campbell and Russ Mandle drew back-to-back walks and moved to second and third on a fly out. Campbell then scored on a passed ball.

Campbell singled home Collins in the third inning to make it 2-0. Collins led off the inning with a double—his second hit of the game.

Canton had six hits in the contest, but was aided by seven walks given up by the Lakeland pitchers.

Brian James hurled one of the Southfield District contests for Canton as he returned to the school he attended before transferring to this area two years ago.

Cinderella team prevails

Canton upsets Salem

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

The Cinderella Plymouth Canton softball team continued to amaze everyone, as it lived up to its reputation.

It won a shocking 8-6 victory over favored Plymouth Salem to win the district championship Saturday afternoon at Redford Union.

The Chiefs, coached by Joan Ryan, finished with a lowly 3-7 Western Six League record and at one point in the season held an overall mark of 2-7. But the spunky Plymouth squad has now won six straight games to raise its mark to 8-7.

Canton now advances to the Trenton Regional Saturday as one of only 16 teams left in the softball state tournament.

The all-Plymouth district finale was set up after the Chiefs defeated Redford Union, 7-5, and the Rocks shut out Redford Bishop Borgess, 6-0, in semifinal battles.

IT WAS an emotional championship, as the lead see-sawed before the Chiefs finished on top.

The Rocks, Suburban Eight League champions and 15-2 overall, scored three runs in the fifth inning to take a 6-4 lead. The big hits of that inning included a solo home run by Kathy Dillon, and a two-run single by Sue McDowell.

The Chiefs drew within one run, 6-5, in the sixth inning on an error and scored three more times in the top of the seventh for the upset.

Canton loaded the bases with no outs to begin the final inning. Two runs scored when Val Harben was safe on an error. Kathie Peck grounded out to bring home the third run.

Lucy Howe picked up the victory for the Chiefs, firing a seven hitter. She was aided from strong defense on the infield by Harben, Peck and Vickie Cavallaro.

Debbie Pitera, the pitching ace of the Rocks, suffered the loss. She struck out nine Chiefs, but also walked nine. She received little defensive support, as shoddy Salem fielding resulted in seven errors.

Cindy Stevens was the only Chief to get two hits in the game. Nan Horwood hit two singles for the Rocks.

CANTON ADVANCED to the finale with its two-run victory over Redford Union.

The Panthers, coached by Bob Greene, were ahead most of the game but a five-run fifth inning gave the victory to the Chiefs.

Two costly fifth-inning errors, one of which was a four-base miscue with the bases loaded, led to Redford Union's loss.

"Those two errors killed us," Greene said. "Our strong point all season has been our defense, but it just let us down."

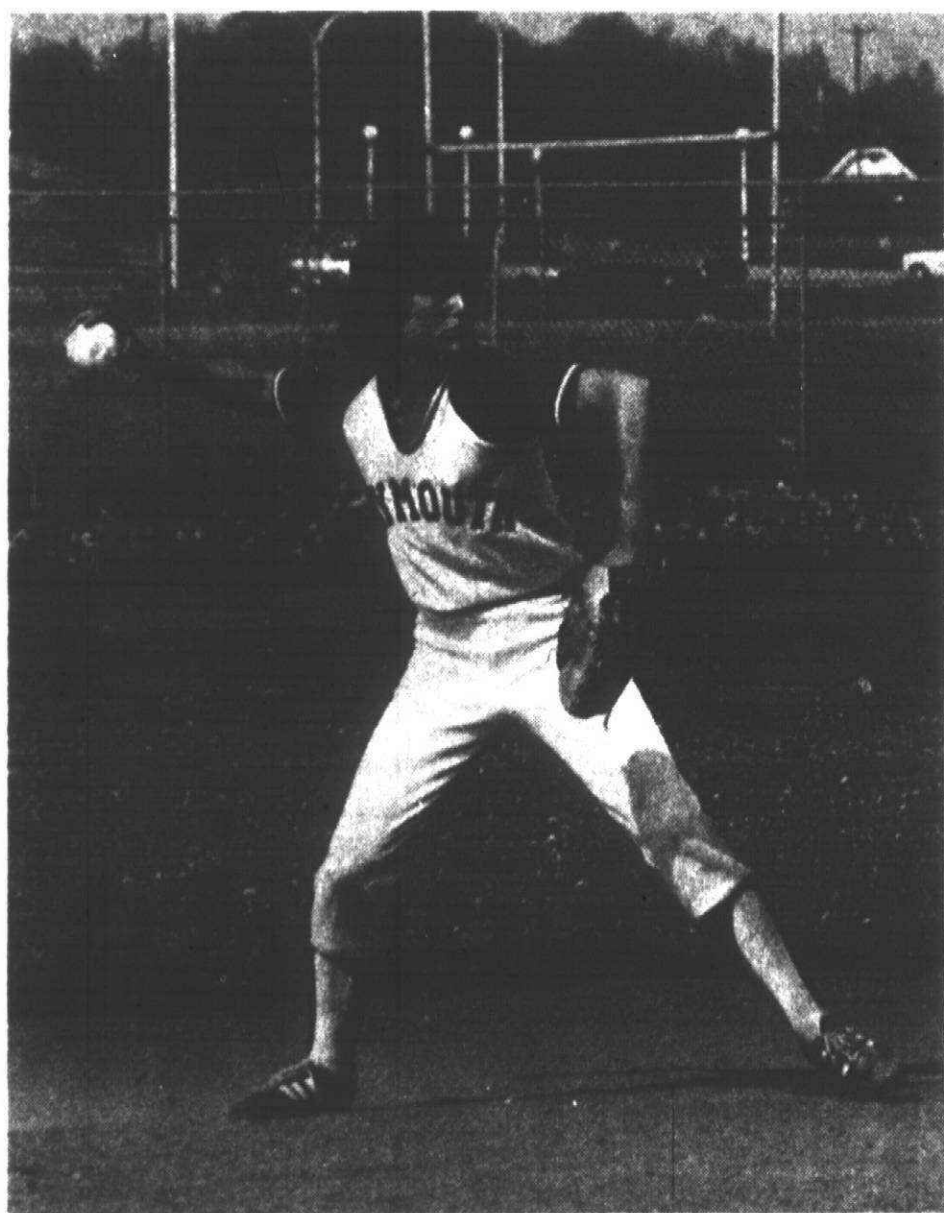

The Panthers finished the year with an 11-10 record and 7-7 in the Suburban Eight League.

Pam Schipani was the leading Canton batter with three hits. RU's Karen Henegar added two for the losers.

Rock softballers win 1st Sub-8 title

Becky Crespo rifles the ball to first base in softball action last week. The Rocks edged Dearborn 8-7 in 14 innings to win their first Suburban Eight League crown. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

The Rocks scored three times in the fourth to regain the lead and added one more in the sixth before the late Dearborn rally.

Pitera had some control problems but was superlative on the mound in registering her 11th victory of the season. She struck out 10 batters and allowed only two hits and one earned run.

The victory raised the Rocks' overall record to an impressive 14-2. They finish the Sub-8 competition with the first-place 11-2 record. Salem won't make-up its 14th league game with Allen Park because it has no bearing on the final standings.

The Rocks finished fourth in the Sub-8 in their first year of competition. They placed third in 1976 and were runners-up last season before winning the championship.

SALEM ADVANCED to district competition at Redford Union Saturday afternoon with its 5-0 pre-district triumph over Livonia Churchill Wednesday afternoon. Way's squad faced Redford Bishop Borgess in the district semifinal.

Pitera hurled a masterful shutout, striking out 10 batters. The Rocks score twice in the second inning on a bases-loaded walk to Cindy Cindrich and a sacrifice fly by Doris Hoelscher.

They raised the lead to 4-0 in the fourth inning on an error and a run-scoring single by Hoelscher.

Dillon broke out of a hitting slump with two hits, one of which was a sixth inning triple. She scored Salem's final run when she came home on a passed ball after her three-base hit.

Livi Way started the Plymouth Salem softball program four years ago but her dream for a Suburban Eight League championship didn't come true until last week when her Rocks squeaked out an 8-7 victory over Dearborn in 14 innings.

"We needed a doubleheader, anyway," quipped the joyous Way, who almost saw her Rocks boot the title away.

The Rocks held a 7-4 lead going into the bottom of the seventh inning, but four straight base on balls by pitcher Debbie Pitera, followed by a two-base throwing error, knotted the score at 7-7.

The game remained tied for six extra innings, as neither team could mount an offensive attack.

"Our defense was super but we just couldn't hit," said Way.

Salem finally broke through with the eventual winning run in the top of the 14th when Pitera, who finished the game with four hits in six trips, led off with a single. She moved to second when Donna Goodrich was safe on an error. Kathy Dillon then hit a ground ball through the legs of the Pioneer shortstop to score Pitera.

Pitera, who entered the game in relief of Jan Boyd in the third inning, struck out two batters in bottom of the 14th, and catcher Dillon gunned down a potential base stealer for the third out to preserve the Salem victory and league championship.

Salem jumped to a 3-0 first inning lead but saw Dearborn rush back with three tallies of its own in the initial stanza and one more in the third for a 4-3 lead.

By ANDY MELIN

Claiming league championships in both the discus and 440-yard relay events, the Plymouth Salem boys' track team finished third with 79 points in the Suburban Eight League meet Wednesday night in Plymouth, track.

The third-place effort marked the Rocks' highest finish since 1972 when the Sub-8 league was formed.

Dearborn Edsel Ford was crowned league champion accumulating 100 points. Dearborn High took second place with 83 points.

Redford Union, led by field event standout Mike Petsch, finished sixth with 37 points. Livonia Bentley placed seventh with 15 points.

Salem senior tri-captain Bob Dasher was the only Rock individual league champion winning the discus with a league record toss of 160-7. He also took third in the shot put with a heave of 52-3.

The Rock 440-yard relay foursome of Greg Stevens, Dave Booker, Mike Christie and Chris Ritchey claimed the league championship in that event with a time of :44.5.

Greg Davis finished second in both the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash in times of :10.3 and :23.3, respectively. Booker placed sixth in the 220-yard dash in :23.9.

Mike Christie took second place in the 330-yard low hurdles in a school record time of :39.5. He also finished third in the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.4. Stevens finished fifth in the 100-yard dash in :10.6.

Scott Kappler, the state's second best pole vaulter, placed second in the pole vault event clearing the bar at 14-

1. Dennis Ogden took third place in the vault with a 13-6 effort.

Tom Rubadue finished third in the 880-yard run in a personal best time of 1:57.4. Rich Hanschu placed fifth in the long jump with a leap of 20-8 3/4.

Dave Booker, Curt Lewis, Tom Carl and Chris Ritchey took second in 1:31.9. The mile relay quartet of Tom Covington, Tom Carl, Curt Lewis and Tom Rubadue placed third in 3:32.9.

Redford Union's Petsch was league champion in both the shot put and long jump. He set new league records in both events with a 61-8 1/2 heave in the shot-put and a 22-7 leap in the long jump.

Petsch also finished second in the discus with a throw of 159-5, and took fourth in the high jump with a leap of 6-2. Bob Cadeau placed sixth in the high jump with a 5-10 effort.

Paul Babits followed in his brothers footsteps with a 146 league coamponship performance in the pole vault. Tony Raines placed fifth in the vault for the Panthers.

Bentley's Ed Sulick finished fifth in the 330-yard low hurdles in a time of :40.6. He also placed sixth in the long jump with a leap of 20-3 3/4.

Mike Hammond took fifth in the discus for the Bulldogs with a 144-6 toss. Tom Henry finished fifth in the shot put for R.U. with a put of 49-6 1/2.

Bentley's 880-yard relay and mile relay teams placed fifth. The Bulldog 440-yard relay foursome took sixth.

"I'm very proud of our third place finish," said Salem coach Gary Balconi. "Our kids performed as well as they possibly could. They couldn't have done better."

"Edsel was obviously the best team in the league," Balconi remarked. "Edsel Ford's depth in the distance races was the biggest difference."

"I couldn't have been prouder of a group of kids," Balconi said. "They set goals as a team and individuals and met those goals."

Salem batsmen tie for crown

Head baseball coach Brian Gilles made out the lineup at his home but it was Plymouth Salem assistant coach Pat Cunningham who guided the Rocks to a 4-2 victory over Dearborn and a tie for the Suburban Eight League championship Wednesday afternoon.

Gilles has been sidelined for the past week with a prostate gland infection. But the way Bruce Piper pitched, it didn't seem to matter who was present to watch the Rocks breeze to victory.

Piper hurled one-hit ball through six innings before allowing Dearborn's only two runs of the game in the seventh. He finished with a four-hitter, striking out eight and walking three enroute to his 10th victory against only one loss this season.

"Piper just pitched an excellent game until the final inning," said Cunningham. "We did nothing fancy. We just got the bats going and Piper did the rest. It made life easier."

The Rocks closed their season with a 17-7 overall record and a 10-4 mark in the Sub-8.

Two weeks ago, Salem was in the midst of a four-way tie for first place with Redford Union, Livonia Bentley and Allen Park. Redford and Allen Park faded but Bentley finished with two victories over Trenton and Belleville to share the title with Salem. Both teams split their two games this season.

The Bulldogs won the league title outright last season and Salem finished second. The Rocks took the outright crown in both the 1975 and 1976 seasons.

Salem scored twice in the second and third innings for the victory.

Southpaw rightfielder Matt Etienne led off the second inning with a home-run to rightfield for the first run of the ballgame. Joe Goosir followed with a base on balls, then stole his 22nd base of the season, and scored on a single by hot-hitting Mike Michalek for the second run of the inning.

First-baseman Bob Waite singled and moved to third on another single by Bubba Wilcox to start the third inning rally. Waite scored on an error, and Wilcox crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly by Piper to close out the Rock scoring.

Salem's eight-hit attack was led by Michalek's two singles.

The Rocks' 10-4 league record included three one-run setbacks to Redford Union, Bentley and Dearborn.

Churchill wins West-6 meet

Canton gal runners finish 4th

Plymouth Canton's girls track team finished fourth in the Western Six League meet Wednesday afternoon, but the real story was Livonia Churchill's emergence as the loop champion, dethroning perennial winner Walled Lake Western, 92-86.

It marked the first time in Western Six League history that another team, other than the Warriors, has won the league championship.

Waterford Mott, behind the sprinting of All-stater Molly Brennan, finished a close third with 81 points.

Ken Zornes' Chiefs placed fourth with 65 points, Harrison was fifth at 61, and Northville was last with 47.

Canton was leading the league meet after six events—the four field events and two running races—before dropping to the middle of the pack. The Chiefs lost ground in the sprint events.

"If we had a little more depth, we would have done better," Zornes said. "We did well as it is."

The most encouraging result for the Chiefs was in the two-mile race where Geri Schufeldt and Lynne Rudolph finished first and second, respectively. Schufeldt ran her best time of the season in the event with a 12:56 clocking. Rudolph also registered her top time of the season for the runners-up stop at 13:00. Rudolph slumped in the mile, placing fifth.

Kelly Heaton was the other Chief league champion with a school record heave in the shot put competition at 34.0. Melinda Breen improved her shot put with a third-place throw of 32.6.

Heaton also shined in the discus throw, placing third with a whirl of 91-10. Brenda Bigelow tied for third place in the high jump at 4-10.

The Chiefs lost many points in the short sprint competitions.

Veronica Gray was the only Canton point-getter in the sprints with a third-place clocking in the 220-yard dash.

Freshman Kathy Brophy placed fifth in the 880-yard run with a 2:32 timing. It was a strong showing for the Canton freshman.

Davio reaches West-6 net finals

Northville dominated the Western Six League tennis meet last week by placing a player in each of the seven championship matches. Livonia Churchill was second in the competition.

Northville tallied 18 points, while Churchill had 12. Farmington Harrison collected 10 points, Plymouth Canton had four and Walled Lake Western and Waterford Mott had two each.

In the final league standings, Northville was on top, Churchill second, Harrison third, Western fourth, Canton fifth and Mott sixth.

Final dual records counts one half toward determining the final league standings, while the league meet itself also counts half.

Churchill had two league champions. John Regulski and Gordon Nader, in first doubles competition defeated Steve Pyett and Steve Lassler, from Northville, 6-4, 4-6 and 7-5.

Jim MacLellan and Mark Pieper also won a doubles championship. The pair captured the second doubles division by beating the Northville team of Jeff Hodges and Eric Engelmeyer, 4-6, 6-2 and 7-6.

Churchill's third doubles team—Tony Catner and Dave Hammerschmidt—advanced to the finals but was defeated by John Cannarsa and Greg Bach from Northville in straight sets, 6-4 and 6-2.

In singles play, Bill Fitzpatrick was the only Charger to advance all the way to the finals. Barry Ovellette, from Northville, defeated Fitzpatrick in first single competition in two sets, 6-4 and 6-0.

Chris Davio was the best Canton finisher. He advanced to the fourth single final where he was knocked off by Northville's John Marzonie, 6-4 and 6-0.

Dan Baibak and Tom Vettese of Churchill were knocked out of the singles competition after winning their opening round matches. Baibak was in third single play, while Vettese was in fourth single competition.

"I thought our team did well. Our real strength is in the doubles," said Churchill coach John Jayson. "We did about what I expected we would. I was happy with our players."

The Chargers finished the season with an overall dual record of 13-5 and a league mark of 7-3.

Churchill was tied with Harrison in the league standings as both teams had 7-3 records. However, the Chargers did better at the league meet and so obtained the second-place finish in the Western Six.

Rocks top in Sub-8

Plymouth Salem netters placed first or second in five of the eight positions at the Suburban Eight League meet Wednesday afternoon at Plymouth.

The Sub-8 event is only for individual recognition and doesn't count toward the final league standings.

The state-bound Rocks are currently assured of at least a tie for the Sub-8 crown with their 8-2 league record. Salem finishes its dual meet season against Dearborn and Dearborn Edsel Ford this Monday and Tuesday afternoon.

The lone bright spot for Livonia Bentley in the Sub-8 meet was Steve Klei, who advanced to the finals of the fourth-singles competition before falling to Salem freshman Scott Crespo, 7-6, 6-0.

Redford Union does not have a tennis team.

Salem's Curt Schultz continued his great play, winning the first singles competition with a straight-set decision over Edsel Ford's Jeff Stassen, 7-6, 6-3.

Trenton's Andy Winter defeated Rock Bob Braun in the second-singles finale, 6-0, 6-2.

Salem's Dick Cook and Craig Stevens lost in the championship match at second doubles to their Edsel Ford counterparts, 6-7, 7-5, 3-6. Bob Jarvis and Craig Baker rebounded at third doubles for the Rocks, defeating a Dearborn duo, 6-1, 7-6.

Pink paces softballers

Members of the Plymouth Canton junior varsity softball team closed out their season two weeks ago Wednesday with a loss to arch rival Plymouth Salem, 8-7. Both the Chiefs and the Rocks ended with 7-2 season records.

Despite the loss to Salem, the Chiefs have been the winningest JV squad at Canton in girls athletics this year. The Canton JV was victorious over Waterford Mott prior to Salem's meeting by a 21-run margin, 27-6.

Super pitching by Canton freshman Mariann Pink all season aided the Chiefs in the winning year. Pink allowed an average of only six hits per game.

"Mariann is one of the best young pitchers I have ever seen," commented Canton JV coach Cathy Himes.

Canton tips Sterling Hts.

Plymouth Canton tuned up for its district competition with a convincing 10-3 victory over Sterling Heights in the first game of a non-league doubleheader Thursday night. The top-ranked Chiefs were ahead 3-1 after two innings of the nightcap before heavy rains washed the game away.

The single victory raised the Chiefs' overall record to 20-3 for the season. Canton won the Western Six League title two weeks earlier.

Hefty hitting sparked the easy Chief victory as Brian James and Scott Dawson split the mound duties. James hurled the first four innings and was credited with his seventh victory against one defeat.

Doug Smith worked the first two innings of the second contest.

All-State shortstop Scott Collins, who recently signed a letter of intent to attend the University of Missouri on a four-year baseball scholarship, paced the Chiefs' unusually heavy hitting attack with a single, double, triple and three runs batted in.

Clean-up hitter Russ Mandle added three hits, catcher Jeff Campbell pounded a double and a triple, and Dawson smacked two singles.

More points; fewer runners

Rock gals grab 6th in meet

The Plymouth Salem girls track team, coached by Scott Kurtz, finished sixth in a field of seven teams in the Suburban Eight League meet Tuesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

It marked the second straight season the Rocks have finished sixth in the league meet. Salem ended ahead of Allen Park. Belleville doesn't have a girls track program.

"We finished the same as last year but we scored more points with fewer kids," said Kurtz, who was satisfied with his team's performance. Dearborn won the league meet.

The biggest highlight for the Rocks was the performance of high jumpers Erin Lucas and Diane Perpich who both cleared the five-foot mark for second and third-place finishes, respectively.

Lucas, a junior, and Perpich, a sophomore, both cleared the 5-2 mark. Lucas just missed clearing the 5-3 height which would have given her the league championship in that event.

Senior Kathy Sample, doubling in both the two-mile and one-mile races for the first time this season, came through with sparkling second- and third place finishes, respectively. Sample's two-mile time of 12:06 established a new Salem record. She came back and ran the mile in 5:39 for third place.

Lucas also placed fifth in the hurdles with her best time of the season of 15.9. Jenifer DeVenny also took fifth place in the two-mile run with a 12:47 clocking.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

Now that the summer season is under way, there is a noticeable lack of "trick" tournaments to lure the bowlers to try their skill at topling the pins.

There was a time—not long ago—when such things as a headpin tournament, a no tap event and a red pin arrangement were being offered in an attempt to keep the lanes busy during the summer months.

While these events drew considerable interest, it wasn't until the late "Eddie" Coy, at Whittier Recreation, came up with what she called the 3-6-9 tournament. The name came about because the bowler was given a strike in each of the third, sixth and ninth frames.

These things are now only memories. They have given way to mixed leagues and such other events as the father and son and mother and daughter events on weekends, while the housewives, are taking up most of the morning hours through the week.

The big change is laid to two things—the automatic pin setter and air conditioning.

THE FIRST of the all-star mixed leagues got under way during the past week, and, as usual, Penny Behn paced the women with a 646 series and Mary Mohacs followed with a 623. On the men's side Larry Schroeder was high with a 649 and Doug Evans had high single with a 237.

HARRY HARTFIELD, owner of the Hartfield Lanes in Berkley, has been named president of the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Detroit. He succeeds Al Winkle, of Woodland Lanes.

The other officers named include George Riff, vice president, Bill Williams, secretary, and Larry Slisson, treasurer. Roger Robinson and Frank Urbanowicz were re-elected to the Board of Directors.

THE HUMID WEATHER didn't stop Pete Overites, Jr. from setting a new high for the season at Westland Bowl.

Bowling with the Tuesday H of Shots he linked games of 266, 227 and 280 for a 773.

In the Westland officers tournament Sylvia Wodarski, president of her league, won the women's section with a 713. Carol Bennett, a secretary, showed the way to her group with 708.

ROBERT HALL had an easy time of it in the Men's Tuesday league at Garden Lanes. He fired a 632 and his closest rival was Dick Hoover who had a 579 to beat out Ed Hackman for second place by a single pin.

In the ladies league Irene Taradowouck was high with 577 and Dick Frickman rolled a 640 to show the way in the Saturday mixed league.

THE FRIENDS OF LEADER DOGS have scheduled a three-day no-tap scotch doubles tournament at Cloverlanes starting June 16. All proceeds will go to the fund to help the blind obtain canine companions.

Bentley ties Rocks

Livonia Bentley gained a share of the Suburban Eight baseball title last week with a win over conference opponent Trenton, 14-5.

Bentley's final 104 record matches Plymouth Salem's. Last year, the Bulldogs won the Suburban Eight championship outright.

Mike Burdett was the winning pitcher. He lasted six innings and received relief from Bob St. Clair. Burdett struck out eight and walked four.

Bentley collected 10 hits, Trenton, seven. The Bulldogs scored five runs in the first inning, one in the second, three in the sixth and four in the seventh. Trenton scored two in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Jim Ross was perfect at the plate for Bentley. In three at bats, he slammed three hits and had three RBIs. Tom Deacon had two hits and two RBIs, while Dave Hostetter had one hit and drove in two.

Earlier in the week, Bentley knocked off another Suburban Eight foe, Belleville, 14-1. The Bulldogs had 12 hits.

If you ever want to have a laugh

It's really nice to see people enjoying themselves, like the preview audience which laughed through "If Ever I See You Again" (PG), because it is so incredibly bad.

Yes, it's a tear-jerker just as the advertisements claim, only the tears come from hilarity, not heartbreak. Somehow, I don't think that's what director Joe Brooks had in mind.

Brooks is the fellow who produced, wrote and directed "You Light Up My Life." Trying to repeat that success, he has preserved all the latent insipidness of his first film while disposing of its positive qualities, such as credible actors and some semblance of an interesting story.

If there is a colossal-ego-of-the-year award, Joe Brooks should get it. Not only did he produce, direct and write "If Ever I See You Again" and compose, arrange and conduct the music, but he stars in the movie.

IN HIS LEADING role he distinguishes himself by a unique acting style. With effortless ease he delivers all his lines—whether happy, sad, angry or romantic—in the same tone of voice and with nearly the same facial expression. This is tough to do for anyone not suffering from some severe dysfunction.

Brooks is not alone, however, in his uncanny non-acting ability. There is one performer who actually bests him at his own game. You guessed it. It's the person with the leading female role, Shelley Hack.

Ms. Hack's dramatic virtuosity as Revlon's "Charlie" girl undoubtedly clinched this role for her. Actually, my favorite scene is her big dramatic moment when she tries to cry. She tries very hard. She squinches her eyes and clenches her fists, but nothing happens. (Are there any openings in Acting 101, no prerequisites required?)

This is a pseudo-movie: A musical score strung together with post card scenes of California and a story about a guy who still has a crush on his college sweetheart of 12 years ago. To give the story depth, he also is considering a career change.

He's a successful but dissatisfied composer of jingles for television commercials. Inspired by his friend who gives a piano recital at Carnegie Hall, he decides he wants to compose serious music—background music for movies.

THE REAL WORLD and movie world mesh with a fat commercial for American Airlines smack in the middle of this movie. As the plane soars, headed toward the West Coast, the music swells with Brooks' new hit "California."

Actually, some of the better scenes in this movie are those involving commercials, as in the beginning of the film when our hero is working on a dog food jingle.

Before Brooks became a movie impresario he made his livelihood composing such ditties for television commercials. Perhaps he should stick with what he knows best. As I often tell my children, better to create the best dog food commercial than the worst movie.

Thank goodness, it's rated 'PG'

"Thank God It's Friday" (PG) is a disco movie for all those who couldn't crash the "R" rating of "Saturday Night Fever."

Aside from a few exterior scenes, the noisy but innocuous action percolates inside a strobe-lighted, bizarrely decorated discotheque called The Zoo. The name is a misnomer. There is nothing about this place or its frenetic occupants that resembles a zoo. No animal, save Homo sapiens, the only one not in a zoo, would dare to inhabit this jungle.

"TGIF" is an unstructured movie that jumps about to look at the comings and goings, mixing and matching of the teen and post-teen crowd during one night at the disco. There's even a suburban married couple present, just to help everyone in the audience find someone to relate to.

The humor is what you'd expect: Minors trying to sneak in, losers looking for action, a mismatched couple on a computer date, and that old favorite, a homosexual in drag.

Although the musical "stars" are The Commodores and Donna Summer, the best number is a carport dance sequence energetically performed by Chick Vennera in a graceful, muscular style reminiscent of Gene Kelly.

Thursday jazz is off to a great start

By JIM WINDELL

Bess Bonnier introduced the special guest artist to kick off the Jazz at the Institute summer program Thursday night, and she spoke from experience, saying it is not easy to be a solo pianist.

However, when the artist is a Marian McPartland, playing solo piano looks easy.

The gracious and sophisticated Ms. McPartland is one of the grand dames of jazz, and her appearance each time she comes to the Detroit area reconfirms this. She always manages to be the consummate interpreter of standard songs and wistful ballads.

Her gentle English wit was perfect for the rather baronial Kresge Court in the center of the Detroit Institute of Arts. It became a quite intimate setting despite the high ceiling and brick walls because Ms. McPartland always has the ability, even at an outdoor concert like Meadow Brook, to seem to be playing just for each listener.

In her second set of the evening, starting at 9:45, she polished off 15 numbers, most of which were ballads of the kind that set a jazz connoisseur's heart a-twitter just at the mention of the title.

OPENING WITH "Stella by Starlight," which she built into a rich improvisation after a simple statement of the theme, she went on to the underheard but lovely "Spring Can Really Hang You Up the Most," which she treated with loving respect.

Her "A Fine Romance," released last year in an album by the same name on the Tony Bennett-owned label Improv, featured a rolling left hand bass while she built melodic ideas with her right hand.

Her strong bass lines—sometimes she gives us stride piano and a boogie bass—remind us that the old cliché about women having weaker left hands at the piano is another of those old wives' tales without much substance.

Ms. McPartland's delicate touch was evident on Joni Mitchell's "Both Sides Now" and Sondheim's "Send in the Clowns." She has recorded the latter song a couple of times in the last few years, but she began this version by plucking the piano strings to give the effect of guitar chords.

She had fun with a Kern and Beatles medley of "Yesterday" and "Yesterdays" showing smoothly flowing rhythmic improvisations before giving the Beatles' song a grand finish with a classical style.

GM honors Templeton for alcohol work

By MARIE CHESTNEY
Special writer

A stereotype is the worker who after a hard day at the office or factory, plunks down in front of the TV set and sinks into a well-earned inertia.

Other thousands of workers start a second shift after 5 p.m. On this shift however, all labor and time are free. Thousands of volunteers play vital roles in community programs, helping out in sometimes thankless tasks—ir government, education, counseling.

In 1970, General Motors Corp. began honoring employees who worked behind the scenes to improve their communities. Since then, hundreds of gold, silver and bronze medals have been awarded GM community activists locally and nationally.

THIS YEAR, because of his four-year commitment to counseling youths on alcohol abuse and furthering alcohol education, GM awarded a bronze medal to Wayne R. Templeton, 37, of Livonia.

A 14-year employee of GM's Detroit Diesel-Allison Division in Redford, Templeton received the third-place excellence in community activities award recently at a luncheon in Detroit.

Templeton, a diesel test mechanic, was one of 48 GM employees who survived Detroit area divisional and plant competition to become finalists.

Templeton began his journey toward the GM award in 1973 in an unlikely place—Northville State Hospital.

After a night of drinking and violence, he awoke to find himself hospitalized. Shaken and scared, the events of the night blocked from his memory, he asked himself: "What caused this thing?"

SEARCHING FOR answers and determined to win his bout with alcoholism, Templeton found the Livonia Jaycees, who had already launched "Operation Threshold" with a federal grant.

Threshold was aimed at exposing the link between family recreational drinking and teenage alcohol abuse. It involved speaking to both parents and youths through literature, talked, publicity and school assemblies.

It tried to make alcoholism a topic of conversation among parents, educators and youths alike.

"The Jaycees program came at an ideal time for me," Templeton said in his Livonia home. "I had to find new friends. I wasn't in the bars any more, and I was looking for something to occupy my time and keep me out of trouble."

Through Threshold, Templeton educated himself on alcoholism and found answers to his question. Then he began to educate others, first as chairman of the Livonia Jaycees' Threshold programs. He travelled nights, weekends and even on vacation days to seminars, training sessions and lectures, always trying to build public awareness of alcoholism as a preventable problem.

"I FELT there was no reason why anybody else should have to go through what I went through," Templeton said, recalling the trauma of the year he spent fighting alcoholism.

Templeton believes he never would have become an alcoholic if he had received substance abuse education in high school. So now he directs much of his time and energy toward reaching and counseling youths.

In 1975 he joined the 16th District Court probation department as a staff counselor. Weekly, he works with alcohol offenders aged 17 and above who have received probationary sentences and who are under orders to attend court alcohol programs.

"You can't tell a person he can't drink because society pushes it," Templeton said. "I work just to keep him staying straight from session to session. We take it one day at a time. In the beginning, he comes in with the idea that society is picking on him. In the end, some come to believe—and say—I was wrong."

"It's hard for us to see immediate results, and that's generally what the public wants to see to keep a program going. We don't always reach them, either."

He paused. "I don't like to think about them when we don't."

TEMPLETON'S GOAL is the re-establishment of a youth center in Livonia. Standing as a separate entity from the court system, the center could serve as a focal point for youths who seek the support of other youths sharing alcoholism problems.

"It's hard to reach young people," Templeton said. "The court turns them off. And the kids don't understand the problems of older alcoholics. They can't relate to them. They need their own special kind of therapy."

According to Templeton, some youths in probation programs don't receive family support while trying to kick alcoholism. The center, he said, could give them this support.

Templeton has also helped to organize local alcohol abuse programs or training sessions for Livonia's auxiliary police, for the 16th District Court and Livonia schools. In 1976 he was appointed by the mayor to serve on the Community Commission on Drug Abuse. He also serves on Madonna College's advisory board for alcohol education.

Templeton is quick to credit his wife, Susan, for the "tons of paperwork" she has done for him over the past four years. She also shares his commitment to helping youths.

Looking ahead, the Templetons cannot see themselves quitting, even though their community involvement is a drain on their budget.

"We can't quit," Susan Templeton said. "If we help just one kid, then it is all worth it."

Wayne R. Templeton is considered an outstanding community activist by General Motors.

Printers must invest to survive

Much like the woman in the Virginia Slims commercial, Robins Printing Co. of Livonia has "come a long way."

In fact, the entire commercial printing business has come a long way since the time of storefront printers who moved from town to town doing an assortment of odd jobs.

"There've been constant changes," said Bill Robins, president of the 44-year-old Livonia company.

"Our plant has constantly added new equipment, more sophisticated equipment. We're trying to stay in the mainstream of the printing business. We're trying to remain a progressive company."

"Too many printers stay with older equipment for too long. Maybe they figure the equipment's paid off and they can sell their product cheaper," Robins said.

In its effort to "stay in the mainstream," the company recently completed a 7,000-square-foot addition to its plant at 13305 Wayne. Even though the addition will probably not create new jobs, it will make room for new equipment which Robins said was badly needed.

The "Perfection machine" can print one color on two sides of paper at once, or it can print two colors on one side. For maximum efficiency and flexibility, Robins said, the machine can be roll fed.

Even though much of Robins' business is standard printing—brochures, manuals and some small monthly magazines—duplicating now accounts for 10 per cent of the company's business.

"Duplicating (sometimes called Xeroxing) is the fastest growing institution. The 'while-you-wait' shops are springing up like mushrooms," Robins said.

The Livonia company also got into the business. It recently opened its first branch office, under the name of Jet Speed Duplicating, in the Franklin Shopping Plaza in Southfield. Robins Printing also operates a duplicating operation at its main office on Wayne Road.

The Southfield shop is equipped with a 6500 Xerox Color Copier, which makes four-color copies while customers wait.

Robins called the new duplicating franchises the "modern version of the old lettershop."

"They used to do mimeographing while you waited. Now, instead of using a 'master,' you can print right from the original. The quality's much better."

Kennedy gets promotion

Daniel J. Kennedy, a Pinckney resident, former officer in charge of the Detroit Bank & Trust branch at Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads in Plymouth Township, was promoted to assistant cashier.

Kennedy, a marketing graduate of the University of Detroit, joined the bank in 1965 in its administrative training program and was promoted to assistant branch manager the following year.

Investors prefer tax-free income

The eyes of the nation will be focused on California Tuesday as voters cast ballots on a proposal for a drastic limit on future increases in property taxes. The press has been describing this as the possible beginning of a taxpayers' revolt.

While the California election will be the first time voters will have a chance to express themselves statewide at the polls concerning their feelings about taxes, there has already been an expression of note in recent investor demand for various forms of tax-deferred or tax-exempt income.

As interest rates began to increase in the early 1970s, investor preference changed from growth investments to those offering higher income. Public utilities, especially, raised large amounts of new capital during that period through the issuance of bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks. The rates of return offered the investor were more than generous. In some cases, the return was in excess of 12 per cent.

And after the stock market decline of 1970, investors were pleased to enjoy the relative stability of these types of securities.

WHILE MORE and more people

Market Watch

By JOHN E. VERNIER

became aware of the generous returns available in the investments, they also became aware of the fact that interest and dividends are taxable as ordinary income. So, quite logically, investors became more interested in finding ways to reduce or eliminate their taxes on income.

A municipal bond is a debt obligation issued by any form of government other than the federal. Municipal bonds are issued in connection with construction of schools, sewer systems, hospitals, etc.

The interest income from municipal bonds is free from federal income taxation. Congress many years ago created this condition for the protection of the states, counties, cities, etc., because the largest single borrower is the federal government. The tax-free advantage was created as an inducement to investors to lend money to smaller forms of government.

THE RETURN on municipal bonds is generally lower than the return on corporate bonds. Currently, the return on a taxable bond will fall between eight and nine per cent, whereas the return on a municipal bond will be between five and six per cent. The investor must consider whether or not the smaller, non-taxable return is of greater advantage to him. This, of course, will depend on his over-all tax situation.

Municipal bonds are usually available in $5,000 lots. This has made them impractical for the small investor.

Because of increased interest and demand, however, many mutual fund management companies have created municipal bond funds. Shares of these funds are available to almost anyone.

ANOTHER FORM of investment that offers a tax advantage is the deferred annuity.

This is somewhat comparable to a bank certificate of deposit because a higher rate of interest is available providing the funds are left on deposit for a specified period of time. There is an interest penalty for early withdrawal.

The interest rate on the deferred annuity is guaranteed for one year at a time. It is flexible to stay in pace with the general level of interest rates.

There is no federal income tax liability on the interest as it accrues. The tax on the income, however, must be paid in later years as the funds are withdrawn. Hopefully, the person will be in an over-all lower tax bracket upon retirement, so the tax bite will be smaller.

While the balloting in California tomorrow might be the beginning of a national trend, investors have been concerned about this problem for some time.

CPAs, attorneys set audit conference

Certified public accountants from throughout Michigan and the midwest will attend an annual CPA-attorney conference Thursday, July 15, in Fairlane Manor, Dearborn.

The morning portion will feature P. Thomas Austin, a Cleveland CPA, on "Principal Planning Considerations" and Philip E. Heckerling, University of Miami (Fla.) law professor, on "Ethics and Malpractice in Estate Planning."

In the afternoon, Stanley Person, a New York CPA, will discuss "Preparation of Form 706" and Leonard Kopitzki, Southfield attorney, will speak on "Administrative procedures with the IRS."

Attic fan saves juice

An attic fan can be an air conditioner's best friend. The National Association of Realtors says a fan can help reduce attic heat, which may build up to 150 degrees, and thus can lessen the work your air conditioner has to do.

Mary Poppins pops into Fiegel

"Mary Poppins" flew into Fiegel Elementary School last week and the students and their parents were charmed by the performances.

Fourth and fifth graders presented the musical. A 99-member chorus sang the major songs and several doubled on stage as chimney sweep dancers, bank tellers, bank patrons and nannies.

Highlights of the play were Mary Poppins, made of cardboard, entering from the ceiling of the gym and flying down to center stage. The real Mary was played by fourth grader Mary Chelian.

Jane and Michael were played by Amy and John Dozbush. Mr. and Mrs. Banks were played by Scott Van der Roest and Lori Strock. Tom Tedder had the role of Bert. Todd LaCronier, Alan Matthews and Steve Thorpe were the mean, stodgy, old bank directors.

The finale featured the whole cast of characters singing "Let's Go Fly a Kite."

The audience was spellbound during the daytime performance for the younger students at Fiegel.

And there goes Uncle Albert again.

Gail Chelian as Mary Poppins displayed grace and charm.

The lovable Uncle Albert who loves to laugh was played by fourth grader John Mueller.

The chimney sweeps danced high on the rooftops.

Dems oppose tax limit

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI

The latest effort to limit state spending would be in real trouble if it had to depend on support from the five Democratic gubernatorial candidates.

Only State Sen. Patrick McCullough of Dearborn, who said he is only "moving towards support," gave any indication of backing a proposed state and local tax freeze. The proposed constitutional amendment, pushed by a group called Taxpayers United for Tax Limitation, would also hold the tax level to a set percentage of the state's total personal income.

McCullough and his counterparts — Zolton Ferency, former head of the Michigan Democratic Party and leader of the now defunct Human Rights Party; Oakland County Sheriff Johannes Spreen, and State Sen. William Fitzgerald of Detroit — spoke last week in Livonia at a debate sponsored by the Wayne 2d District Democratic Party.

Candidate William Ralls, a former member of the Michigan Public Service Commission, did not attend. George Beng, his press secretary, took his place.

MCCULLOUGH, THOUGH he stopped short of endorsing the tax limitation drive, added his voice to the growing chorus demanding a lid on government spending.

In the past decade, he said, "average personal income has gone up 140 per cent. Personal income and property taxes have gone up 300 per cent."

"The only way to set priorities is to limit revenue," McCullough said.

"New tax money mean new programs. In lean tax periods, it usually means higher taxes to finance those new programs," he said.

FERENCY AND FITZGERALD opposed the proposal but for very different reasons.

Ferency, the only socialist-leaning candidate in the gubernatorial pack, said, "People forget what taxes are for. Taxes mean revenue. Revenue means appropriations. Appropriations are used for state services."

The persons who would be left out in the cold if voters clamp a lid on the level of taxation would be senior citizens, the unemployed, those injured on the job, children and students, he said.

"These are the people we have to serve. How are you gonna pass a referendum every four years (to raise more money)?" he asked.

Fitzgerald, meanwhile, sided with the leaders in the state's tax revolt, but said the "tax-spend syndrome" could be solved in other ways.

The Detroit Democrat favors the "budget stability concept." Under this plan, the state would salt away a portion of its annual tax revenue in a "rainy day fund." The fund would be used to weather the roller-coaster ride of Michigan's economy.

"If anybody's lived in Michigan for the last 12 years, you know that the last thing we've got is a stable economy," Fitzgerald said.

He said the fund could be used to adequately fund needed services and avoid cutbacks and layoffs in the "lean tax periods" to which McCullough referred.

He said he also favored "sunset legislation," through which the legislature could end projects that "aren't working."

SPREEN, THE FORMER New York City cop and Detroit police commissioner, sidestepped the question, saying much of the tax spiral could be blamed on "administrative mismanagement."

"If we limit taxes, we limit what government can do," he said. "The answer lies with you and your state legislators."

Ralls of Okemos has not taken a public position on tax limitation, Beng said.

Tipping the Scales

Holidays are caloridays

By NANCY AUSTIN

Summer brings with it a whole new set of problems for dieters.

A score of holidays and a dozen excuses for parties and celebrations find us entertaining or being entertained at backyard barbecues, pool parties, or family reunion picnics.

In all cases we are beset by food and eager food pushers who are convinced that the only way we can have a good time is by leaving the party with a much-too-full stomach.

THE FIRST OF the major summer celebrations, Memorial Day, is behind us, and officially kicks off the season for those holidays yet to come—Fathers Day, Fourth of July, high school and college graduations, weddings, vacation trips and the Labor Day wrap-up.

Temperatures hovering in the 80s and 90s tend to slow down even the most avid, warm weather enthusiasts, so we burn up fewer calories. Thirsty appetites are quenched with ice-tinkling spirits or mountain-brewed "branch water"—all calorie-laden beverages.

It's easy, too, to munch on salted snacks. True, we need a little more salt, due to salt loss through perspiration. But chips, nuts, and pretzels, while providing the additional needed salt, also provide additional calories. In addition, they make us more thirsty and the salty foods tend to cause fluid retention in the body. The bloated feeling deflates a dieter's inflated ego, and dampens enthusiastic success.

Children, if not in school year-round, are home and under foot for almost three months. Schedules and routines are suddenly disrupted and kitchens are constantly cluttered because of constant snacking.

Mothers are subjected to shouts of "What's there to eat? I'm hungry!" They find they are spending more time in the kitchen than ever and are endlessly subjected to the temptations of food. Somehow it doesn't all seem fair, and their frustrations are satisfied on needless nibbling.

HOW DO YOU SOLVE these problems?

Realistically speaking, some of these problems have no marketable solution. But there are ways of coping with them—alternate methods to help control the situations. Optimistically, you may even have a weight loss by Labor Day instead of a gain.

Establishing priorities and identifying your summer diet problems are both essential when trying to follow a weight control program. Realizing these, then, provides an individual with the necessary tools needed to adhere to well-intentioned diet resolutions.

Sit back and observe, both mentally and physically, your daily eating patterns, routines, schedules and activities. Learn to spot and identify those points of change which result in frustration and require emotional coping. Which of these leads to eating to satisfy needs or frustration?

Take stock of your kitchen cupboards and pull out the foods you use for snacking, convenience foods, and dessert foods. Open your refrigerator and check your stock of thirst quenchers. Sit down and make a list of each of these foods along with a corresponding list of calorie counts. Now next to each food, list the amount of exercise needed to burn up just one serving of your favorite snack food. Will the exercise and the calorie intake balance or will you end up with 10 extra pounds by Labor Day? Be honest with your answer.

Set a goal for yourself, too. Decide where you'd like to be, weight-wise by Labor Day. Don't be one of those persons who, in September, decides he must lose his summer gains. Often this only leads to more frustration. Decide now to melt the pounds off during the summer months. Then you'll be ahead of the game when it comes time to shop for your fall wardrobe. Now is the time! Not then!

DON'T FORGET! To get some extra help identifying your personal summer diet problems, and to mentally jump those summer hurdles, join the mini, summer diet workshop sponsored by the Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA.

It is designed by me to help you attain your goals. Together, we'll establish priorities, alternative plans, and build your enthusiasm for a summer-time slimmer you. The program only lasts three weeks, but is designed to help you for three months.

A worthwhile point to ponder, as stated by James Oppenheim: "The foolish person seeks happiness in the distance; the wise person grows it under his feet."

To register for the mini diet workshop call the YMCA office at 453-2904. See you there!

New youth law too expensive, county says

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners again has voted its opposition to proposed revision of the state juvenile justice code—this time because it would cost the county $6.8 million.

Last December, the board opposed proposed revisions because they would remove "status" offenses (truancy and curfew violations) from juvenile court jurisdiction.

Legislation to change the juvenile justice code is pending in Lansing. The changes are included in HB 6184 and SB 1463.

How To Grow More In Less Space

in only 16 x 20 feet of space. Intensive gardening uses every square inch for planting. This reduces weeding, conserves moisture and is the way to get maximum production from a minimum amount of space. According to 'Ecology Action of the Mid Peninsula' at Palo Alto, California, you can reduce the size of your garden by 75% and still get as much if not more production if you use this method.

The key to above ground intensive gardening is soil that is deeply dug, highly fertile, well aerated and moisture retaining. This can be built from any kind of clay, gumbo, or sandy soil by adding and thoroughly mixing in various kinds of organic material and fertilizers.

This intensive garden has 30 different vegetables planted in sufficient quantity to satisfy a small family

Approximately eighty percent of the trash people throw away is organic material. So are kitchen wastes and grass clippings. Practically everything except plastics, glass and metal can be used to improve garden soil and increase its productivity if it is ground up, composted and mixed into planting beds.

The Soil Blender, a multi-purpose garden tool in the picture, is a brand new electric powered machine designed to build soil for intensive gardening as well as to dig, mix, till, hill and cultivate flower beds and regular vegetable gardens.

Most garden centers can provide more information on intensive gardening and on the Soil Blender.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

"LOOK AT THIS," said Glenn Merillat, tugging at a gold and blue medallion at her throat. "I dug it out last night. After yesterday's flood, I decided maybe there was something to the old Tonquish Creek Yacht Club after all."

Sure enough, there was the insignia of one of the community's most notorious organizations. Glenn, our artist-in-residence, cartoonist and PR person lives on S. Main. Her thought processes and gift of repartee are swifter than average. But Wednesday's cloudburst may have revived memories of the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club to others knee-deep in muddy water.

Perhaps the club's plans for an aqueduct of Roman design on Main Street weren't all that farfetched.

For those who don't have a dog-eared membership card tucked away in a wallet, Tonquish Creek Yacht

by
ELLIE GRAHAM

Club was the brainchild of Robert Dwyer and Robert Delaney. Newspapers from coast-to-coast picked up the story of the yacht club without a yacht. Memberships came in from all over the country.

There were commodore's balls and New Year's Eve parties in April. The club had floats in the July 4th parade. Plans were drawn up for connecting Tonquish Creek to the St. Lawrence Seaway. A Washington agency was the only one to take the proposal seriously. They submitted forms to be filled out for a government grant.

It was great fun while it lasted and many responsible people were involved in the shenanigans. The perpetrators seem to have grown more staid in their ways. Attorney Bob Delaney is busy with his law practice and has taken up rock collecting. Bob Dwyer was in town the other day. He's devoting his time to his real estate business in the Hamburg area. He said he wasn't even getting involved in politics this election year.

OVERHEARD AT a recent party:
"I love to go barefooted in summer, and I can never seem to get my feet really clean. I told Bud Schrader once that if I died during the summer he was never to mention my dirty heels to anyone."

There was a pause.
"Now Bud's retired, I must remember to warn him."

ONE SOMBER note deserves another.

The four baby robins pictured in last Monday's Observer are dead. And Peggy, Jane and Joyce of Lor Baltimore Cleaners are desolate.

Peggy LeClair and her children checked the robins Sunday and they all were fine. When they went to work early Tuesday morning, two were dead under the bush, two had disappeared and so had the parents.

"We all feel just terrible. We think it was a cat. We used to see what we thought was a stray. When we were in the shop, we checked on them about every 15 minutes."

They think the tragedy occurred on Memorial Day.

SUSAN DYBAS will arrive in Baltimore, Md., today after a 3½-month world cruise aboard the S.S. Orient. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dybas of Pacific Street, Plymouth, will be at the port to meet her.

Susan is a graduating senior at Eastern Michigan University. The semester-at-sea was arranged by the University of Colorado. About 675 students from all over the United States were aboard the ship which visited 15 ports of call.

They started out from Los Angeles Feb. 20. Their itinerary included Honolulu; Pusan, Korea; Keelung, Taiwan; Hong Kong; Singapore; Madras, India; Colombo, Sri Lanka; Safaga, Egypt; Alexandria, Egypt; Iraklion, Crete; Piraeus, Greece; Malaga, Spain; Casablanca, Morocco; and finally, Baltimore.

The students received 15 hours of credits for the cruise.

Susan majored in communications at EMU.

FLORENCE AND ROLF Beier were in Ann Arbor Friday for the graduation of their daughter Marlis.

Marlis is a member of the first class of the University of Michigan Medical School "Inteflex" program. This is the six-year MD program—Integrated Undergraduate and Medical School.

Of the 50 students who started in the class, 23 graduated June 2.

Dr. Beier will serve her residency in family practice at Detroit General Hospital. Her post graduate work will be done through Wayne State University.

Mrs. Beier is community coordinator for the Plymouth Canton Community Schools.

AND, FINALLY, a call for help.

Remember the old grass rugs that everyone put out on the front porch or verandah each summer? The kind with bound edges that went with wicker furniture and dried quickly after a summer rain?

They have disappeared. Where can you find a good old-fashioned grass rug?

Plymouth Newcomers end 20th year

The Plymouth Newcomers Club wrapped up the 1977-78 season with a luncheon meeting in the Jacob Room of Hillside Inn.

Retiring president Jan Groat said it had been a good year and the statistics and recap of the year's activities spoke for themselves. The club gained 133 new members. It held the 20th anniversary dinner dance, a successful art auction, a golf league, bicycle group and a tennis group. These were in addition to other interest groups and the monthly luncheon meetings with outstanding guest speakers.

New officers and committee chairmen were installed in a traditional candle-lighting ceremony.

New members of the executive board are: Barb Secord, president;

Mary O'Shaughnessy, vice president; Louise Stahley, corresponding secretary; Bonnie Mallon, recording secretary and Mary Jo Nero, treasurer.

Heading the various committees will be: Ruth Davis, couples, social; Linda Anderson and Janet English, programs; Mary Stanczyk, nursery; Sheridan Brown, publicity; Arlene Robinson, membership; Kathy Conroy, reservations and Janice Groat, advisor.

WITH BARB Secord stepping up to the presidency and Jan Groat acting as advisor, the retiring board members are: Dee Ann Martin, Rosemary Cornell and Jackie LaChapelle.

Retiring committee chairmen who received special thanks for their contributions to the successful season were: Kathy Shaw, Bernie Witkowski, Claudia Fetterman, Sheryl Boszak, Mary Ann Curtis, Debbie Johnson and Sallee Burns.

A representative of the Exnewcomers Club invited those whose eligibility as newcomers had expired to consider joining Exnewcomers.

Planning for the new season will continue through the summer months with a schedule of speakers and activities prepared in time for the first meeting in September.

Ruth Abell of Family Services retires

By ELINOR GRAHAM

Ruth Abell, supervisor of Plymouth Family Services, will retire June 16 after eight years in the office on Wing Street.

"What were the highlights?" she mused. "Every day was highlight although I do have my low days."

"I have grown to love Plymouth. I've had strong support from the Plymouth advisory committee—fantastic people who have given up their time for the service. I have enjoyed the community and the job."

"One of the biggest things was becoming district supervisor in 1975 after starting out as a part-time social worker in 1970."

She added that she was particularly proud of the drop-in center at the Salvation Army building. "That took a lot of groundwork. It is a co-op accommodating 25 children and has a long waiting list. We got it started and the Salvation Army took over."

A FORMER Canadian, Mrs. Abell earned her bachelor of arts in public health nursing at the University of Western Ontario in London. Her master's degree in social work was earned at the University of Michigan.

She has four children and as soon as the youngest started to school, she went back to work.

"I'm looking forward to doing my own thing," she smiled. "I have dozens of books to read and I want to travel with my husband."

The Abells are going to Puerto Rico in August. Her husband's work involves a lot of travel and she is anticipating the freedom of being able to accompany him on business trip.

"You understand this is an early retirement for me," Ruth Abell grinned. "I think, after a while, I might like to go back to school."

SHE HAS SEEN many changes in the community in eight years.

"Our House and the Youth Center—Growthworks—have grown. There was one senior citizen program when I first came. Now there are six or seven. The nutrition program is a good one. Hiring Terry Carroll as senior citizen coordinator was a big step."

She said they have an ad hoc committee to coordinate senior citizen services. "It's not formalized, just an exchange of information, but we meet regularly so we are all aware of the services which are available."

Bob Hall, Laura Upton, Terry Carroll, Bill Henry of Growthworks, Jean Campeau of the YMCA, and Lt. William Harfoot of the Salvation Army are among the regulars.

She said the new program for preschoolers, sponsored by the schools has helped. The FISH organization was started and Family Services refers calls to them.

"Special education classes have multiplied in the schools."

COUNSELING has not been been 9 to 5 job.

"Their problems do not end at 5 p.m. or over the weekends so I gave them my home telephone number."

She said 3 a.m. seemed to be the bad hour. "The telephone would ring about 3 and sometimes it would take two hours or more to let a drunk, a potential suicide, to talk it out."

"I'd answer the phone, and ask the caller to wait a minute. I'd go to the downstairs phone and my husband would hang up the one in the bedroom."

She also makes home visits. She has helped train counselors for Our House. She has counseled families from the lowest or no income to the highest income bracket.

"So many families have said, 'This is what we need—family counseling—we don't need a psychiatrist.'"

The heavy drug abuse years were the early '70s. Mrs. Abell attributes the drop in their caseloads to several changes. The school personnel and school counselors handle the situations differently. "Parents don't freak out over pot the way they used to," she added.

Family Services is funded by the Plymouth Community Fund. It has served hundreds of families and individuals. Mrs. Abell's association with the schools led to the formation of the first Starkweather Child Management Group. This outreach program has been continued by Mary Schumann and Joyce Cunningham, members of Family Services staff.

Like other counseling provided by Family Services, the cost is based on ability to pay.

And when former clients write, or drop in at the center with a reassuring, "I'm all right—I'm fine now," that's what it's all about. The success stories help to make it worthwhile.

"And the ones we don't hear from must sometimes think of us and remember some of our conversations, Sometimes they were very angry at me," said the lovely auburn-haired lady who contributed so much to the community.

No one has been appointed to replace her. A supervisor will be sent from the Ann Arbor office one day a week until a replacement is named.

Bike-a-thon aids diabetes research

The American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate is conducting its annual Hines Drive Bike-a-thon June 10 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bike-a-thon begins at any of the four checkpoints on the route—Haggerty Road, Joy Road, Merriman Road and Telegraph Road. The event was scheduled for May 13 but had to be postponed because of bad weather.

This is the second officially designated special activities day during which Hines Drive will be closed to all motor vehicles between the hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The ride is open to anyone of any age capable of pedaling wheels, including tricycles.

Riders must obtain a sponsor sheet by calling 342-9333 and acquire their sponsors prior to the day of the bike-a-thon. Sponsors pledge a given amount of money for every mile ridden by the biker. Following the bike-a-thon, the riders return to their sponsors to collect the amount pledged. Verified certificates will be given to the biker to show sponsors the distance each participant rode.

"THE 20½-MILE ride along Hines Drive was the top attraction for the bikers last year," said Sharon Belobradich of Plymouth, chairwoman of the ride. "It drew 500 riders with pledges totaling $20,753."

"They all talked about what a wonderful time they had last year and we expect even more riders this year."

The bike-a-thon is co-sponsored by Jack In The Box restaurants. Jack the Clown will be on hand giving everyone who rides a free coupon for a soft drink and hamburger deluxe.

The first 500 riders will receive a hot dog donated by Krogers, a can of pop donated by the Paygo and free boat passes and discount amusement park tickets donated by Bob-lo Island Amusement Park.

A Fuji 10-speed bicycle will be awarded as first prize for the biker who turns in the most money. Additional prizes, donated by local merchants, will be announced the day of the ride.

ALL PROCEEDS raised by the event will be used to support the association's program in research; a medically supervised camp for diabetic children; educational programs to educate the public about the seriousness of diabetes; and free diabetes testing.

Volunteers also are needed to help at checkpoints the day of the ride. For further information contact the American Diabetes Association, 6131 West Outer Drive, Detroit 48235, or call 342-9333.

Jack the Clown tries out a Fuji 10-speed bike which will be awarded to the biker turning in the most money in Saturday's Bike-a-thon for Diabetes in Hines Park.

Ruth Abell will retire this month after eight years with Family Services.

They have our number, do you?

No, we're not talking about our telephone number, although that's an important number too, we're talking about "736", the classification number for "Wanted to Buy" want ads.

Lots of people think the only way to use ads is to tell people what they have to sell. Not so. One little 736 ad will tell people what you want to buy. Looking for a cradle, scuba gear, a 1937 "Superman" comic book? Stick it in 736 and wait for people to call, it's that simple.

And if you've read this far and are thinking, "I really don't have any one special thing I want to buy....we have plenty of numbers for you, too...626...700...708...722. We invite you to try any of these because all of our numbers add up to a lot of satisfaction for you, whether you're in a buying or selling mood.

Auto tips

It's illegal to alter auto emission controls

By PATRICK KELLY

In the past few years, many motorists decided they could get better performance and gasoline mileage if they altered their car's emission-control system.

The word now is: Don't do it. Don't do it for several reasons.

First of all, modifying the emission-control system is illegal. All automobile service and repair shops—not just car dealerships—now are prohibited by federal law from knowingly tampering with a car's emission controls.

An independent repair shop could be subject to a civil penalty of up to $2,500 and a car dealership of up to $10,000. The federal law doesn't prohibit car owners from tampering with emission controls, but many states do have such laws.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency and auto manufacturers urge against tampering because:

- It will not improve a car's gas mileage and performance, and may even make it worse.
- Tampering is a waste, nullifying controls that cost $200-$300.
- Tampering will add to air pollution.

• Tampering also could void the car's warranty. Motorists also should not substitute leaded gasoline in cars that require unleaded gasoline. Leaded gasoline can clog and ruin the catalytic converter.

Emission control is part of the total design and function of the engine, including the carburetor, distributor, intake manifold and EGR (recirculating valve). If one of these is altered, it likely will affect the others, usually adversely. Fuel efficiency, therefore, can suffer.

The federal EPA considers tampering as removing, disconnecting, damaging or in any way rendering ineffective any emission-control device or element of design installed on a car or truck.

These items include the engine components mentioned above, plus the catalytic converter, air pump, vacuum lines and other pieces of the power generation system.

Enlarging the gas filler to allow use of leaded gas in cars that require unleaded gasoline also is considered tampering, as is use of a noncertified carburetor.

For maximum operating efficiency and economy, motorists should maintain their cars according to the manufacturer's specifications.
