Teacher contract extension appears likely

Prospects for the re-opening of schools appeared rosier Wednesday morning as Plymouth-Canton officials and teachers began talking about an extension of the current contract if negotiations cannot be resolved before the end of the month.

The Board of Education's negotiating team proposed a 90-day extension of the current contract with the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA).

PCEA negotiators said they would take the proposal under advisement.

The school board proposal calls for a modification of the contract with respect to the sick pay schedule "to protect against blue flu," according to Norman Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations.

Following events at Monday evening's school board meeting, PCEA president John Ryder termed negotiations for a new contract for the teachers in a "crisis situation," based on the lack of time and the differences still dividing the two negotiating groups.

Plans were being made to open a "Crisis Center" this week in the H&R Block Building, 750 Main, to keep teachers and parents informed of what progress is being made.

RYDER SAID Tuesday morning in an interview that teachers went back to work without a contract in 1976. He called that situation "unbearable" and "unworkable" and said it would not happen again.

At the board meeting, Ryder and chief union negotiator Derald McKinley presented a proposal asking for an agreement that the old contract would continue in force if a new contract was not reached by Aug. 27.

The statement called for extension of the 1976-79 Master Contract and provides for revocation by either party within 48 hours after written notice is given.

The board responded, after an executive session Monday evening, by issuing a statement Tuesday morning that the proposal by the teachers "is a subject for negotiations" and would be taken up in the next negotiation session scheduled yesterday (Wednesday).

Ryder announced Tuesday morning, after receiving the board's reply, that the proposal would be withdrawn.

The proposal stated, "I expect a response to this proposal not later than noon Tuesday, Aug. 14, 1979, and reserve the right to withdraw it if not signed by both parties at that time."

THE PCEA PRESIDENT said that he believed the key sentence in the proposal was "The Plymouth Canton Education Association negotiating team, in good faith to the members it represents, could not at this point recommend that they return to work without the protection of a Master Agreement."

Ryder further noted, in an interview Tuesday morning, that every five years seems to be the time of greatest difficulty. Plymouth teachers went on strike in 1969 and 1974, for four and three weeks respectively.

Negotiations between the board and the PCEA representatives resumed Monday after a week's recess. Plans were made to meet more frequently. Two more meetings were scheduled for this week and four for next. Meetings are expected to last from seven to nine hours.

Board negotiators reported that agreement has been reached on six of "about 20" items, and that accord is near on a seventh. Finances are still to be discussed, including cost of living allowances (COLA). Board negotiators indicated that could be a problem area, because "the teachers want unlimited COLA."

IN MAKING their presentation to the board, McKinley, Ryder and Candi Reece said they believed a major stumbling block in negotiations is the lack of authority to make decisions on the part of board negotiators.

"Everything has to be taken back to be checked and re-checked," said McKinley.

The salary proposal has to go hand-in-hand with the calendar proposal, they said.

"The board is showing a small amount of compassion for 800 employees who are expected to go back to work without knowing what their salaries will be," said McKinley.

In the opening moments of the meeting, before the teachers made their proposal, board members approved the (Tentative) School Calendar for 1979-80. Students on Tracks A, B and C of the Extended School Year will begin classes Aug. 27, while students on the traditional schedule will begin Aug. 29.

Cards will be sent to all students who are transported to school by bus, and schedules will be on display in each building. Starting times will be approximately the same as in 1978-79.

New sign law finally OK'd

Business people who have complained for years about Canton's ban on free-standing signs will have an opportunity to erect ground signs near the roadway by the end of next month.

After two years of study, Canton board trustees gave tentative approval to a relaxed version of the sign law at Tuesday's meeting.

The new regulations will allow businesses to erect free-standing signs of synthetic materials with an area of up to 18 square feet. The new ordinance allows signs up to 25 square feet in area if natural materials are used.

The new law, which is actually an amendment to the township's zoning ordinance, was approved for publication purposes by a 4-2 vote of the board.

Businesses may begin applying for sign permits 30 days after final approval is given to the law. Final approval is expected following publication of the ordinance in a local newspaper next week.

Clerk John Flodin and Trustee Eugene Daley voted against tentative approval of the law. They have indicated in the past that they favor allowing free-standing signs of greater size.

Trustee Robert Greenstein left Tuesday's meeting before the vote was taken because of travel commitments.

Chamber president Frank McMurray was unavailable for comment on passage of the new law. The business community had lobbied for a relaxed sign ordinance that would allow free-standing signs up to 50 square feet in area.

Work on a new sign ordinance began at least two years ago during the administration of former supervisor Harold Stein. The ban on free-standing ground signs was adopted in 1976.

On Tuesday night, trustees gave tentative approval to the new law with little comment. Treasurer Jim Donahue summed up the feelings of the board, saying "I don't have another syllable to say on that thing."

Officials awarded $380,000 in suit

Two Canton Township elected officials have been awarded damages totaling $380,000 as the result of a Wayne County Circuit Court libel lawsuit filed during the heat of last fall's political campaigns.

Circuit Court Judge Michael Talbot awarded $230,000 to township board Trustee Robert Greenstein and $150,000 to Supervisor Noel Culbert after former Canton officials who were named in the lawsuit allegedly failed to respond to a subpoena.

The libel lawsuit was filed against former Supervisor Harold Stein, his wife Norma; former township Treasurer Anne Bradley; her husband George; and the United Democratic Club of Canton. The four persons named in the lawsuit are officers of the UDC.

Judge Talbot also is expected to award damages to Treasurer James Donahue, also a plaintiff in the suit.

When contacted by the Observer, both Harold and Norma Stein said they were unaware of the judgement. "I can't comment on something I don't know anything about," Stein said.

The former supervisor said his attorneys had answered the charges in the lawsuit when he was served with a subpoena last November.

Mrs. Bradley said she had not been notified of the judgement either and maintained that neither she nor her husband had ever received a summons in connection with the case. Mrs. Bradley said she received a notice of default last April from the plaintiff's attorney, Ken Morris. She responded with a letter to the circuit court clerk saying neither she nor her husband had ever received a summons and thus could not be in default.

THE LAWSUIT was filed following the distribution of flyers which made various allegations against Culbert, Greenstein, Donahue, a reporter for a local newspaper and several other candidates for political office last fall.

Although neither of the two flyers were attributed to the UDC, George Bradley confirmed at the time of distribution that his organization was responsible for at least one of the circulars.

Mrs. Bradley said Tuesday that she personally had nothing to do with the ### Construction company charged

Gravel pit death leads to warrant

A warrant has been issued charging a Wixom construction firm with a misdemeanor in connection with the June 9 drowning of a 15-year-old Canton Township youth.

Holloway Construction Co., which owns the gravel pit at Joy and Curtis roads where the victim, Donald Finkel, and six Plymouth youths had been swimming, has been charged with violating a state law which requires a 4-foot fence around excavation sites.

Trooper Ted Monfette of the Michigan State Police said the firm had removed a portion of the fence surrounding the Superior Township gravel pit to provide access for trucks.

He said a witness to Finkel's drowning has testified that the fence was open on the day of the incident.

Sidney Blat, manager of Holloway's Wixom office, maintains that the firm is continually making repairs to the fence. He said "kids are always breaking down the fence so they can get in."

The company's arraignment on the charge has not yet been scheduled in Ann Arbor's 14th District Court. Conviction carries a $500 fine.

Finkel, a sophomore at Plymouth Salem High School, drowned in the gravel pit shortly before dusk on June 9, after making an attempt to swim across the 150-yard excavation.

The youth's friends told Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies that Finkel had shouted for help after swimming approximately one-third of the distance and had turned back to the near shore.

His body was recovered by a sheriff's department dive team the following day.

Explosive chemicals returned

Approximately $3,000 worth of potentially explosive chemicals have been recovered by Canton police following the arrest of an 18-year-old man for the Aug. 4 and 5 break-in of a chemical warehouse on Yost Road.

Police said the chemicals were recovered in a Van Buren Township garage where Canton resident Robert Wedhorn and a 15-year-old youth had allegedly conducted laboratory experiments.

Wedhorn, of 44112 Yost, was arraigned on the 10-year felony charge of breaking into a business establishment before 35th District Judge James Garber on Aug. 8.

He was released on $5,000 personal bond, and Garber entered a plea of innocence on his behalf.

Police said a petition will be filed in Wayne County Juvenile Court against the 15-year-old youth who was allegedly involved in the break-in of the warehouse owned by Ann Arbor Biologies at 44052 Yost.

According to police, the chemicals were recovered in the garage of the juvenile's grandparents where they were stored in 55-gallon drums, vials and boxes.

The chemicals included glycerin, potassium nitrate, sulfuric acid and hydrochloric acid. Although possession of the chemicals is legal, Lt. Larry Stewart said the chemicals are potentially explosive and dangerous.

He said Wedhorn possessed a chemical formula book which he planned to use for laboratory experiments.

Police said the chemicals filled the bed of the pickup truck that was used to transport the material from Van Buren to Canton Township.

Home center tabled

Site plans for a proposed shopping center that has been called inconsistent with proposed revisions to the master plan was tabled by the Canton board Tuesday night because a large hole was mistakenly dug on the property.

Board members voted 6-1 to table site plans for the Canton Home Center on Ford Road between Morton Taylor and Oakview for fear the hole would jeopardize construction of the building. Representatives of Republic Development Corp. said the 12-foot deep hole measuring 100-by-100 feet was mistakenly dug by a contractor.

Trustees asked Republic to submit soil test results and other information to the township building department before returning to the board for site plan approval.

Trustee Eugene Daley was the only trustee who voted against the tabling action.

The home improvement center is proposed for a 7½-acre site currently zoned commercial. Under proposed revisions to the master plan, however, the site would be rezoned to residential use.

Last month, the board turned down a proposed interim zoning ordinance that would have immediately changed the zoning of the parcel until final revisions to the master plan could be made.

Proponents of the interim zoning law pointed to the proposed home center as one reason for passing the temporary ordinance. Trustee Carol Bodenmiller said approval of the site plan would make the master plan's intent for Ford Road "obsolete."

A public hearing on the proposed master plan revisions was scheduled for Wednesday night.

Republic representatives objected to the tabling action on grounds that the hole had nothing to do with the site plan. They said an engineered fill of the hole would have to be accomplished flyer. Both Stein and Mrs. Bradley were running a write-in campaign last November. Both lost bids to stay in office.

Greenstein, Culbert and Donahue filed the lawsuit shortly after the flyers were distributed. The initial suit asked for damages of $1 million.

Culbert said the damages were awarded on the basis of "defamation of a business name." He said Greenstein's award is larger because the trustee has been a practicing attorney longer than Culbert.

"The important thing is not the amount, but maybe now people will be more cautious about sending out that kind of thing," Culbert said.

Greenstein commented, "The size of the judgement clearly shows this type of defamation is not to be tolerated."

Both officials said they believe they will actually be able to collect the sizeable judgements, "although it could take a year or two."

Mrs. Bradley said she didn't think the officials were damaged by the flyers, "since they won the election after all."

She said she did not retain an attorney because she had never been served.

Stein said he had several attorneys, but did not know enough about the judgement to say whether he would appeal it.

Man murdered, woman wounded

A Livonia man was shot and killed and his female companion seriously wounded early Wednesday in a parking lot at Metro Detroit Airport.

Carl Henry Rasmussen, 33, of 14641 Bredin Ct., was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital. His companion, Soon Chung, 34, of 6139 Raintree, Canton Township, was reported in serious condition at Wayne County General Hospital.

Mrs. Chung's husband, whose full name is being withheld by Wayne County Sheriff deputies, was arrested by police at the airport and is being held in connection with the shooting.

Sgt. Frank Gasdorf of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, said the shooting occurred at about 12:55 a.m. Wednesday as the two were heading for their car in the third level of the airport's main parking lot.

"The husband and the couple apparently met by accident," the officer said. "From what we have learned from witnesses, an argument ensued and four shots were fired, one hitting Rasmussen, who was dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital," the sergeant said.

Chung was apprehended on foot shortly after the shooting by Metropolitan Airport police and turned over to the Sheriff's Department.

Police said Rasmussen was a math instructor at the University of Michigan Dearborn campus.

with approval of the township building department before construction permits could be issued.

They said their site plan meets all the township's current zoning requirements.

Little leaks mean big drains

A slowly dripping faucet can waste many gallons of water and more cash than anyone wants to spare.

In fact, faucets are the second greatest source of water leaks (toilets rank first.) The American Water Works Association suggests you can save both natural and financial resources by checking all faucets in the house at least once a year.

Board trustees insisted, however, that they could legally table the matter because of health, safety and welfare concerns.

According to Supervisor Noel Culbert, township Attorney Bert Burgoyne has indicated that Canton officials cannot deny the site plans on the basis of a pending zoning change if the developer has a vested interest in a proposed project.

Culbert said Burgoyne has indicated, however, that the site plans can be denied for reasons other than zoning.

Tom Brown promotes

Rep seeks to split Wayne

A proposed County of Suburbia, to include western Wayne County and downriver communities, will be the topic of public hearings in the Detroit area next month.

One of three hearings to be conducted by the state House of Representatives Towns and Counties Committee will be at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10 in the Bailey Building, 36651 Ford Road, Westland.

A bill proposing Wayne County be split in two was re-introduced recently by state Rep. Thomas Brown, D-Westland. Such a split would have to be approved by county voters. Brown, chairman of the Towns and Counties Committee, proposed the split a couple of years ago, but the bill was never considered by the full legislature.

"We didn't give too much effort (at that time)," Brown said this week. "Since that time, the county has moved much further away from financial stability and providing services."

The county is headed for a potential $19.5 million deficit by Nov. 30, the end of its current fiscal year, and isn't expecting a bail-out from state or federal sources.

Gov. William Milliken, who recently vetoed $5.5 million in state funds for the county court system, has vowed the county will receive no state assistance until its government structure is reorganized. Milliken favors a county executive for Wayne.

ACCORDING TO an aide to Senate Majority Leader William Faust, D-Westland, no county reorganization bill has been introduced in Lansing that would be supported by the many factions involved. The legislature is in recess until next month.

House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Detroit, is expected to name a committee next week which may eventually propose a county reorganization bill in time to prevent the closing of Wayne County Circuit Court this fall and other cutbacks stemming from the county's fiscal woes. The court's money is expected to run out sometime between Oct. 1 and Oct. 15.

Besides circuit court closings, the common pleas court may have to lay-off two-thirds of its employees in mid-September. The county is also considering reducing all but emergency employees work weeks to 24 hours.

Crim's ad hoc committee is expected to include representatives from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, the Legislature, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young's office and New Detroit as well as the governor's office.

FAUST AIDE Chris Cardinal said this week that the legislature approving a Wayne County split is "a long shot."

"It's a totally different form than what the governor, speaker and Senate Majority Leader want to do."

Regarding his bill's chances, Brown said: "You never know. The county has a lot of problems and no one seems to have any solution to it."

The bill, of which Brown is the sole sponsor, proposes Wayne County include Detroit, Highland Park, Hamtramck and the Grosse Pointes.

Wayne County faces battle over pay schedule changes

Wayne County faces a court battle in its attempts to change employees pay schedules.

Council 25 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which represents 4,000 county employees and the Michigan Nurses Association (MNA), which in turn represents nurses at County General Hospital in Westland, is seeking court injunctions to prevent the county from keeping employees paychecks an extra week. Employees are now paid weekly.

A show cause hearing on the AFSCME injunction request will be held at 10 a.m. Friday before Circuit Court Judge Harold Ryan. The nurses' union injunction request is separate from AFSCME's.

The MNA, which represents 365 registered nurses, has also filed unfair labor practice charges against the county on the pay schedule change and for its failure to sign a new three-year contract that nurses ratified in May. The charges were filed earlier this month with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

Both unions maintain the county must bargain over the pay schedule change, which the county plans to put into effect Friday. The extra week pay lag would be implemented over five weeks by staggering pay days.

James Bishop, head of the county Labor Relations

Board, said the pay schedule change isn't related to the county's financial problems. The county is currently $13 million in debt.

Bishop said the county's payroll department needs more time to calculate fringe benefits and other salary items because its computer equipment is outdated.

Board of Commissioners Chairman Richard Manning, D-Redford/Livonia, said the county has to change pay schedules because "it's impossible to handle overtime in a timely fashion. He said the schedule change will cut down on overtime in the payroll department."

Manning said the change is a "prerogative of the employer and not a negotiable item."

THE COUNTY is currently bargaining with AFSCME on reducing the work week to 24 hours in an attempt to prevent closings of some county departments before the end of the current fiscal year, Nov. 30.

Nurses at the county hospital are exempted from the hours cut as are the sheriff's department's jail and road patrol divisions, juvenile court, the medical examiner office and several other departments.

The Board of Commissioners will consider the shorter work week proposal at its meeting today (Thursday).

Healthy teacher program gets school board support

"If you feel good, you'll do a much better job."

With that sentiment from trustee Flossie Tonda, Plymouth's Board of Education passed a resolution to provide approximately $6,000 to help Plymouth teachers improve their health.

The action was taken at Monday night's board meeting.

The money will be used to pay costs of a pre-involvement physical for a cardiovascular fitness program offered by the Livonia YMCA.

Cost of the physical is $25 per person. Some 250 teachers, who have already expressed an interest in the program, will pay an additional $25 for classes, which will be given three times a week by the Y.

In recommending the program, Superintendent John M. Hoben noted that the Livonia Board of Education underwrote the cost of the instruction for the first year as an in-service expense.

Approximately 200 Livonia teachers took part, and about 35 percent of the applicants scored low on the evaluations, emphasizing the need for the classes.

Over the six months the program has been in effect in Livonia, "The mental outlook and physical appearance of the Livonia teachers has changed considerably," commented board member Carol Davis.

Funds for the physical and evaluation for the Plymouth teachers will come from the district-wide in-service (training) budget.

Board vice president Richard Arlen cast the only dissenting vote, saying that since the program would benefit the teachers, they should defray the whole cost themselves.

Other board members felt that the cardiovascular fitness program would be more beneficial than a lecture.

The teachers who have signed up will receive their physicals and evaluations on Sept. 8. Classes will begin Sept. 24, and will be given on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7 a.m., 4:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. in the schools.

Roll Call Report

WASHINGTON: Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the days before the current recess began.

HOUSE
RECESS: The house voted, (338-70 against), the stand in recess from Aug. 3 to Sept. 5. There was no debate on the issue. Members voting "yea" wanted to take the 32-day recess.

Reps. Carl Pursell, R-2, David Bonior, D-12, William Ford, D-15, William Brodhead, D-17, James Blanchard, D-18, William Broomfield, R-19, Guy Vander Jagt, R-9, and Donald Albosta, D-10, voted "yea."

Reps. Harold Sawyer, R-5, and Robert Davis, R-11, voted "nay."

CHILD WELFARE: The House voted (204-199 against) to require that federal outlays for certain child welfare programs be made available to states only through the normal appropriations channel of Congress. The vote killed a proposal to provide the money in the form of entitlements, that is, guaranteed payments which bypass the appropriations process.

The money in question is part of legislation authorizing certain welfare programs under the Social Security Act. At issue on this vote was not the merits of child welfare but the question of which funding method Congress should employ—appropriations or entitlement.

Rep. Robert Michel, R-Ill., a supporter of keeping child welfare funding in the appropriations channel, said too much of the federal budget already is "uncontrollable" by Congress, because it has been excluded from "the annual oversight and review provided by the appropriating process."

Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., who favored the entitlement procedure, said federal efforts to get children out of foster homes and into adoptive homes will succeed only if "states know how much money they are going to get and when they are going to get it."

He said the appropriations process generates uncertainty.

Members voting "nay" wanted to switch certain child-welfare funding to the entitlement process.

Pursell, Sawyer, Broomfield, Vander Jagt and Davis voted "yea."

Bonior, Ford, Brodhead, Blanchard and Albosta voted "nay."

SENATE
ETHICS: The senate adopted (50-29 against) a resolution that relaxes its ethics rules. House concurrence was not required, and the measure took effect immediately.

In part, the resolution ends General Accounting Office audits of the financial-disclosure statements of senators and top aides, does away with the rule that senators must file copies of their tax returns with the Senate Ethics Committee, and reduces from 1,600 to 300 the number of Senate staffers who must file financial-disclosure statements.

The measure makes senators and top aides answerable to the softer financial-disclosure requirements of the 1978 Ethics in Government Act, a law covering all branches of government.

Sen. Robert Morgan, D-N.C., a supporter, said the resolution puts senators under "the same rules that the executive branch... members of the Supreme Court and the House of Representatives live under" and that it "confers no specific privileges upon the Senate."

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, an opponent, said the resolution will keep the American people from knowing what the assets of their senators are. "When people are calling for more openness in government, this will give them less."

Senators voting "yea" wanted less disclosure by themselves and their top aides.

Sen. Carl Levin, D, voted "yea."

Sen. Donald Riegel, D, voted "nay."

ANTI-RECESSION AID: The Senate passed (69-23 against) a bill designed to help governments blunt the recession which many economists say is now in effect. The bill, sent to the House, would provide federal grants to cities, counties and states, to be used to shore up government services and provide public-sector jobs and job-training.

The bill would prove $340 million in "counter-cyclical aid" to cities having jobless rate of 6 percent or higher, effective with the Oct. 1 beginning of fiscal 1980. Also, it would make available up to $1 billion in aid to other urban areas if the national unemployment rate (now at 5.7 percent) hits 6.5 percent.

Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., said: "We are now having inflation at about 31.2 percent... Most members of Congress eagerly condemn inflation, (yet) while condemning the monster, we vote to feed it and make its devastation worse."

Senators voting "yea" favored a massive outlay to blunt recession at the risk of fueling inflation.

Riegle and Levin voted "yea."

The fruits of summer

NANCY AUSTIN

August is a bonus for the dieter, with fresh fruit and vegetables at their peak. With a couple of months to go, we can still enjoy the mouth-watering juiciness of fresh peaches, plums, grapes, pears, corn, lettuce, and a host of other products grown right here in our own state.

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, 35 million pounds of peaches are about to be harvested this summer. Peaches are picked when "firm ripe" and are therefore delicate and require special handling.

PEARS, UNLIKE peaches, are picked when not quite fully ripe and still firm. To ripen pears after you get them home from the store, keep them in a dark place at 60 to 70 degrees for two to three days.

This summer, the Michigan pear harvest has been estimated to be 12,000 tons — the fifth in the nation for total pear harvest. Although most of the state's pears go to canners, they will still be available to consumers mid-August through October.

These fruits are excellent for home canning. Even though the process is time-consuming, it's worth it when you open a jar of home-canned pears mid-winter, for a snack, as a salad, or as a dessert. The advantage to canning at home is that you can make the syrup as light in sugar as you desire. Recipes for sugarless canning are available from the artificial sweeteners companies.

A SIGN on the marquee of a grocery store which I recently spotted read: "We've gone plum crazy! 5 varieties." And it is, indeed, plum season, too. Michigan climbed to the second highest in the nation's plum production with a 65 percent crop increase.

Two-thirds of the prune plum crop goes to processors for making jams, jellies, preserves and other products. The plums are also excellent in salads or for out-of-hand eating. I have been using a recipe for years called "Leg of Lamb with Plum Sauce" which is scrumptious. Many Oriental meals call for the use of the plum for various tasty sauces for their meats.

THE MICHIGAN Department of Agriculture, with cooperation from Michigan commodity groups, will present "Michigan Food Fare" at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit Aug. 24 through Sept. 3.

Cooking demonstrations, using foods grown in Michigan, will be presented each day at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the Community Arts building.

Attendees will receive recipes of food prepared during the demonstrations.

The 11-day food-fare will include features on wine, cherries, blueberries, apples, beef, lamb, beans, soybeans, dairy products, and pork. For further information write Margaret McCall or Betty Springer, MDA, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing 48909, or call 517-373-1104, to make a sauce dark room

A NOTE of congratulations to Kathy Irwin of Bloomfield Hills, who won first place in the women's division of the "Dr. Sonya Friedman Run for Your Mind", 10,000 meter run on Sunday. The event which was co-sponsored by WXYZ radio and the 7-Up company took place in Southfield. The number of runners exceeded all expectations. Southfield police estimated there were about 1,500 runners although WXYZ had 1,000 official entries. The event netted about $4,500 for Children's Hospital.

KATHY, A JUNIOR at Michigan State University, hadn't expected to win the 6.2 mile event. She has been running for about three years and is on the track and cross country teams. She runs about 10-12 miles a day, averaging about 70 miles a week.

She says she just loves to run, and that it helps her in many other aspects of her life. "I am able to get things done within a certain length of time," she said, "and it's great self-discipline." She continued, "It's a good relief. I need that every day to forget about everything, about anxieties. It's a good escape."

What is surprising is that Kathy is a vegetarian, refraining from meat, because it "weighs me down." Before a run, she eats lots of pasta, and as usual lots of fruits and vegetables. To get the right amount of protein and eat a balanced diet, she also eats good amounts of fish, eggs, and milk products.

Dieter's lament

Dieting is the pits. I'm not a big fan of deprivation of any sort. When it comes to going without food for long periods of time (like between meals), I get grumpy and nervous and just generally not much fun to be around. Of course this is how I am normally, but when I'm dieting, I'm grumpy and nervous and hungry. Not a pretty picture.

Last winter I quit smoking. 'Twas a good thing I did, but alas, I consequently gained 15 pounds. Unsightly, to say the least. So five months later I started smoking again and announced to friends and foes who would glare at me that "I would rather smoke than be fat."

Unfortunately, it didn't turn out to be an either/or choice. Resuming smoking had absolutely no effect on the weight I had already gained. Now I smoke and I'm fat. Poor me.

When I broke two zippers in as many days, I decided that it was time to diet or get a new wardrobe. Dieting is cheaper.

As added incentive to my campaign of starvation, I have made bets with two friends as to whether or not I can drop 15 pounds in six weeks. The stakes are a lovely lavender sweater out of the Avon catalogue and a cute striped number from the same source of goodie clothes.

If I win, I get two neat sweaters plus the ability to get back into my old clothes that I had to stash on account of fat. If I lose, I'm out about $30 that I don't have. With odds like those, you would think it would be easy to avoid gluttony.

Who am I kidding?

LET ME tell you about hunger. It's when you've just had a cup of coffee for breakfast and the rest of the family has had pancakes and bacon (cooked by you, of course). Later, when those tons of pancakes the kids picked over are sitting on the counter waiting to be disposed of, they begin to beckon to you.

It's as if those tasty morsels were calling in an enticing chant, "Here we are on the counter, Nancy. We taste sooooo sweet and goood. We'll give you energy." Oh, whimper.

Do you have any idea of the courage and moral fortitude it takes to put those luscious pancakes in the garbage disposal when your stomach feels like a hollow pit? Medals should be awarded for such deeds.

In order to become more conscious of what I eat, I have taken to writing down every bite of food that enters my mouth each day of this current diet — Diet No. 1,137 to be specific. At the end of the week I trade lists with a dieting friend. Then we laugh at each other.

Actually, I think this a rather good idea. One is reluctant to eat half the contents of the fridge if you know this information will be known to someone outside of the immediate family. Sometimes the lists even seem to develop a plot. Take, for example, this suspenseful excerpt from last week's entry:

- 12:35 p.m. — licked brownie batter spoon.
- 1:40 p.m. — ate one brownie crumb.
- 2:10 p.m. — three brownie crumbs and a bit of brownie.
- 3:45 p.m. — ate one brownie. (Help!)

Or the night I cracked altogethger and went on a binge:

- 7:00 p.m. — two fistfuls of stale popcorn.
- 8:10 p.m. — dish of ice cream.
- 9:55 p.m. — six chocolate chip cookies.

I should have known when I got into the popcorn that the evening would be going downhill from then on. Only a crazed dieter on a binge would eat stale popcorn.

Private industry to assist

Wayne County's new Private Industry Council (PIC) is "the beginning of a promising approach to coordinate government-funded job training programs with private industry needs."

That's Wayne County Board of Commissioners Chairman Richard E. Manning's assessment of the newly authorized group.

The (PIC) will serve as an advisory body for the operation of the new Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) Private Sector Initiative Program, Manning explained at the group's first meeting.

The $75 million national program was set up by Congress as part of the 1978 re-enactment of CETA. It is intended to secure more private sector jobs for those most in need by increasing the involvement of the business community in local CETA employment and training activities.

AMONG ITS activities, the new federal program will provide for: hiring of CETA participants as direct employees of a private firm during their training; training conducted in the employer's facility by regular employees; and permanent employment, either by the sponsoring employer or cooperating employers when the training is successfully completed.

According to Manning, the U.S. Department of Labor has reserved $1.3 million for 1979-80 PIC activities in the Wayne County CETA service area which includes all Wayne County communities except Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia. Because of their population, the three cities operate their own CETA programs.

However in forming the PIC, Livonia and Dearborn have elected to join with Wayne County. The funding reserved for these two communities is $400,000. In all, nearly $2 million will be available to the combined PIC.

MANNING EXPLAINED the philosophy used in selecting the 25-30 member council. He said:

"We have selected each of you as the representative of a broad-based business, labor or community organization and ask that you be the contact person for the two-way communication necessary for the program's success.

"We look to you to provide us with insight regarding the individual viewpoints of your membership and, in turn, to provide your members with information about CETA and the Private Sector Initiatives program."

How to spot omens

The other day, I was walking with a friend when we came to a small bush. She walked on one side of the bush and I walked on the other, allowing it to come between us.

When she saw this, my friend tapped my arm and said, "Bread and butter, hit each other."

I asked her why she did this, and she was amazed that I was not acquainted with this old superstition.

IT SEEMS THAT if two people walking together let anything come between them as they walk, they must observe this little ritual to preserve their friendship.

Otherwise, smething will "come between them."

While I'm sure you don't believe in them, here are a few other old superstitions still observed by many people, just in case.

If you put any of your clothes on inside out, you should leave them that way, and not change them, or you will surely have bad luck.

IF YOU DROP silverware on the floor, it foretells the coming of company to your home. A knife represents a woman, a fork is a man, and a spoon is a child.

*A man had better ne'er been born,
Than have his nails on Sunday shorn.
Cut them on Monday, cut them for health;
Cut them on Tuesday, cut them for wealth;
Cut them on Wednesday, cut them for news;
Cut them on Thursday for a pair of new shoes;
Cut them on Friday, cut them for sorrow;
Cut them on Saturday, see your sweetheart tomorrow.*

Canton needs self-serve gas stations

With gasoline prices ever rising, more people are seeking to save a few cents here and there by filling up at self-serve gas stations.

But don't waste the money you save pumping gas yourself on driving around Canton Township looking for a self-serve station. There aren't any. The reason for the lack of these stations stems from a township ordinance banning them.

The rationale is that these stations could be the sites of accidents and fires from people who incorrectly pump gas; and that there should be gas stations that can offer full service to residents.

But the Canton Township Board of Trustees has begun to rethink the anti-self-serve posture. Although resistance toward allowing strictly self-serve stations in Canton still exists, the board seems to be in agreement that some version of the do-it-yourself pump should be approved.

The position appears to have the support of residents. During an eight-day period, petitioners at the gas station at Meijer's Thrifty Mart garnered 4,500 signatures from people who support self-serve gas stations. Several options to allow self-service stations were discussed Tuesday night by the board and referred to such authorities as the township planner and attorney for opinions.

One suggestion, made by Trustee Robert Greenstein, would provide for gas stations — both self serve and full service — to be mapped out on the master land use plan and subsequent zoning ordinance. The purpose for this move would be to insure that there were at least some full-service facilities available to residents in all parts of the township. In addition, a station that started as full-service could not abandon that status (as sometimes happens) because the move would be forbidden by the zoning ordinance.

That's one way to deal with future gas stations in Canton, but it doesn't address the problems of the stations that already exist. One solution to that dilemma could be to allow gas stations to have a self-serve pump as long as there is an attendant available to pump gas for those who can't or don't want to do it themselves. In either case, it is about time Canton got some self-serve gas stations. There is no weight to the argument that such stations are more dangerous than full-service ones. A Michigan State Police survey found no serious accidents have ever occurred at self-service stations in the state.

There have been minor problems, as experienced by self-service stations in Plymouth and Plymouth Township. Recently, a woman pulled away from a pump with the nozzle still in the car's gas tank, which resulted in a small fire.

Another time, a woman thought a rust hole in her car was the opening to the gas tank. When she filled up, she filled up the trunk and not the gas tank.

In each instance, the accident was more of an embarrassment to the participant than a great danger.

The more dangerous incidents, such as fires caused by cigarettes, can happen even at full-service stations.

Self-service stations will be a boon to Canton residents. They will mean savings in time, although the difference between full-service and self-service gas is seldom more than a penny or two.

Of course, a penny saved is a penny earned.

M-275 rehash—only construction firms win

Take a supporter of the M-275 freeway plan, turn him over, and you'll probably find a sworn enemy of a "subway" in Detroit.

The issues, however, are usually discussed separately although they're clearly related.

Mixed in the debates is the personality of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young. Because he takes a pretty haughty attitude toward the outer cities, Young is an easy guy to loathe. That's unfortunate because the issues need discussion on their merits.

THE ORIGINAL M-275 plan in western Oakland County was shot down by the old State Highway Commission largely on the basis of environmental issues.

An "environmentally sensitive" black spruce bog at Maple and Haggerty roads would have been adversely affected, it was discovered, by a freeway. People who wouldn't know a black spruce bog from a hole in the ground made it as big an issue as the Kirtland's warbler and the snail darter.

Meanwhile, the owner went ahead and drained it anyway.

What hardly anyone talked about was the effect M-275 would have on Michigan's freeway system. M-275 would start at I-75 near Davisburg in northern Oakland County and connect to I-96 and I-275 at Novi. Combined, we would get one gigantic bypass around Detroit from Davisburg to Monroe.

Mix in the "super sewer" project in western Wayne County and you get a pretty desirable hunk of territory for development.

THE SUPPORTERS of M-275 persisted, no matter how much Peter Fletcher, chairman of the old Highway Commission, told everyone to forget it.

The M-275 plan has been redrawn to eliminate the environmental objections. I have a hunch, however, that the same people will be against it for other reasons.

The environmentalists will become urban preservationists and say: What's the sense of spending millions of dollars on a freeway to rip through the rural lakes area of Oakland County? It will only attract new development at a time when Detroit and such older areas as East Detroit, Royal Oak, Redford and Dearborn are losing population.

If the area were growing, they'll say, there might be some sense in a major highway. But when Detroit has lost one-third of its population since 1950, what's the sense?

The proponents will ignore that argument and say: The growth is already here. The freeway has been on the drawing boards for the better part of a generation. Detroit got its freeways; now we want ours.

THE "SUBWAY" argument muddies the situation. The federal government is beginning to think of "transportation" as one big pot. What is spent on rapid transit is unavailable for freeways. What is spent on freeways robs rapid transit.

Oakland County commissioners feel so threatened by the glorified trolley that they are threatening to pull out of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

Oakland's pullout would, in my view, wreck SEMTA and screw things up for everybody. But try to get those commissioners to discuss that possibility.

At the same time, building a light rail rapid transit line to Eight Mile Road and stopping would be monstrously stupid. But try getting the Detroiters to pledge to extend it to Birmingham or Pontiac before any other rail lines are started.

Tim Richard

THIS "THEM OR us" debate will begin coming to a head in September.

On Sept. 26 the new State Transportation Commission will meet in the Oakland County Board of Commissioners Auditorium in Pontiac to get public input on the new M-275 plan. There's a chance they may approve it.

Meanwhile, SEMTA will announce its public hearings on its 1990 plan, including the "subway."

Four things could happen. 1) Both M-275 and the subway could be built. 2) Only M-275 could be built. 3) Only the subway could be built. 4) Neither could be built.

In three cases out of four, the construction industry wins.

Forget Tom Wolfe, you can go home again

Every now and then The Stroller likes nothing better than to close his eyes and take a mental visit back to his old home town and relive some of the days of his youth. And contrary to what Tom Wolfe may say, the visits back home can be enjoyable.

The old home town, with the Indian name of Catasauqua, is on the banks of the Lehigh River in the heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch country. And while the town was only one mile long and three-fourths of a mile wide, there was more friendly neighborliness than any place he ever has been.

Back in the days when the world was young and vital, Catasauqua was known as the Iron Borough. It got the name because it was the home of a big furnace company that manufactured what was called pig iron — the main ingredient of steel manufactured only a few miles away.

BECAUSE OF this industry, the old home town drew immigrants from many European countries. It is rather peculiar to look back now and realize that each ethnic group had a section of the borough. It really was segregated.

For instance the immigrants from Hungary, were called with some affection, 'Hunkies' and they didn't mind. They lived in the company houses, dealt at the company store and never bothered anyone.

When it came to church attendance, they were devout worshippers — they never went to the other churches in town. They built their own, literally, and when the building was finished they sat on the floor to worship until they could afford pews.

They celebrated their own holidays and it wasn't long until our entire town turned out to help them with their benefit plans and never missed any 'Hunkie' carnivals.

On the other end of town, the immigrants from Wales set up their own community. What a great place that was to visit.

The Welsh, too, never mixed with the other groups in town. They had their own community — even to a grocery store — and when it came to worshipping they built their own church. What's more, they developed their own choir that was so good, it was called upon for benefits throughout the entire Lehigh Valley.

Because of this popularity, the Welsh influenced many youngsters in town — even The Stroller — and they attended the Welsh Sunday school. And many are the equestrian tales they tell of these old Welshmen when it came to building the church.

Even to this day, the old timers back home tell of the night the Welsh group met to decide on the lighting for the church.

On this night, Dave Harris, owner of the grocery store and one of the leaders in the church, was late for the meeting. When he arrived they were discussing the possibility of having chandeliers. When they asked Harris what he thought, he answered "Who is going to play them?" He had mistaken chandelier for carillon chimes.

And it was old Dave who was the teacher in the Stroller's Sunday school class. He was a good teacher, but The Stroller's group liked to upset him just to see his anger show.

One particular morning, one of the lads appeared in Sunday school with a pin stuck in the toe of his shoe. It was placed in such a way that the point easily could prick the person in the seat ahead.

In the middle of our Sunday school class, old Dave asked:

"Who was it who dies to save sinners?" Just then, the kid with the pin in his shoe raised his foot and the pin penetrated the kid in front of him who shouted "Jesus Christ."

"Right you are, my lad," old Dave said, "but not so loud."

Chrysler should get aid

Give 'em the dough, Jimmy. Only those out-of-touch can afford to stick with the Neanderthal free enterprise thinking and tell Chrysler to sink or swim on its own.

For years now, government at various levels has been aiding big business. Business folks like to call it subsidy when industry gets a break. When an individual gets some sort of aid it's called welfare. But it's all the same.

An examination of the record shows that the $1 billion Chrysler seeks is small potatoes. Back in 1975, the federal government forked over $95 billion in federal subsidies, according to a study done by the Senate-House Joint Economic Committee.

Of course, most of us remember when Lockheed was bailed out by the feds a number of years ago.

Locally, it has become common practice for municipalities to give tax breaks to industries to lure them into their hometowns. Some even get a break on the sewer tap-in fee.

Just about every industrial park around has been built on such tax relief premises.

Presently, a number of business lobby groups are blitzing Washington to support a House bill. It would allow businessmen to get faster and bigger write-offs for capital assets.

Theoretically, it would encourage companies to build more factories and install more machinery from cash saved on the equipment write-off.

Those groups lobbying are the National Association of Manufacturers, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Business Roundtable and the National Federation of Independent Business.

So it is apparent that business not only accepts government aid, it actively encourages it.

It baffles the mind why free enterprisers object to aid for other businesses.

The economic devastation to the metro-Detroit area would be monumental if Chrysler went down the tube. Already, the third-place auto firm has laid off 24,000 blue-collar workers. It has the same fate in mind for 35,000 white collar employees.

And that would just be the beginning if Carter's team decides to assist in its limited plan of a $500 million loan. Estimates are that another 350,000 jobs outside of Chrysler would be directly affected.

Such unemployment figures would simply mean more workers on the public dole, fewer goods and services purchased and economic gloom for the Detroit area.

Chrysler's payroll alone is $2.98 billion. That's a lot of bucks to withdraw from circulation in the economy because somebody wants to pretend this is 1879 rather than 1979.

Unfortunately, Carter's economic team is comprised of persons of like thinking. Take newly appointed Secretary of the Treasury G. William Miller. He, too, has been bandying about the glories of the free enterprise system and saying that Chrysler management should figure it out for itself.

The Carter plan would substantially increase Chrysler's indebtedness. Instead, Chrysler would like the $1 billion in aid through an advance against its taxes.

The days of free enterprise are over. The important thing is to keep the economy rolling and workers employed. It matters not if board room philosophies are disrupted a tad.

They exchanged big job, fine home for sand, sun

You're 53. You earn $60,000 a year. You own a beautiful home in Bloomfield Hills. You have a devoted wife and 14-year-old son. Then one morning you read an ad in the Wall Street Journal:

FOR SALE - Old, established resort hotel in western Michigan. Needs lots of attention, but has great potential. Owners have other interests. A real steal at $325,000.

Your pulse rate quickens. Gears in your mind seem to shift into high. You suddenly see yourself walking into the front door of that resort, a string of keys in your hand, a sales agreement in your hip pocket.

Your brains keeps telling you the whole idea is crazy. Your heart is singing a different story. And what would your wife say?

IF YOUR NAME IS Bob Severance you say, "This is it!"

You're 99 percent certain that your wife Jan will agree — and she does.

After all, she was raised in Hart. She loves the sand and sun of Lake Michigan.

For you, born and raised in Grand Haven, taking over the resort would be a homecoming of sorts.

Well, friends, that's the way it all happened last February.

Bob Severance, then manager of a Detroit Lear Siegler, Inc. plant, spied that Wall Street Journal ad. He called the owners to say he'd like to check out the deal. But Bob seemed to sense he was half way home even before he saw the old Driftwood Lodge on White Lake.

The complex of six buildings did need work, lots of it.

Both Bob and Jan were delighted to dig in. So Bob quit his job, sold his house and bought the resort — with a hand from his banker.

As Bob told me last weekend when my wife and I spent three days at his resort, "You don't have a board of directors to report to. Everything you do you do for yourself."

AMONG THE FIRST THINGS they tackled was to refurbish the resort's Galleon Restaurant, advertising it with attractive signs at key spots on the roads around Whitehall.

Most importantly, Bob and Jan added a marina out front on White Lake. Right now Bob is talking about expanding that facility, doubling his present 22 slips. But that takes time and permission from the Department of Natural Resources and the Corps of Engineers.

The Driftwood is located a few yards from the channel which joins White Lake to Lake Michigan, perfect to handle all types of power and sail boat traffic.

OF THE DRIFTWOOD'S current 22 slips, all but six are rented out for the season. That leaves precious few for the hoard of boats which constantly pass by Bob's place, coming in from up and down Lake Michigan.

As all the activity outside zips along, Jan is buried in her chores of ordering for the restaurant and scheduling the battery of mainly youthful employees.

Are Jan and Bob happy with their decision of last February?

Bob is quick to answer. "It beats the hell out of Detroit."

AS IT TURNED OUT, the Severances are one among many who have escaped to the delights of Oceana County.

Take Linda and Darwin Bennett, former metro Detroit residents. Now they publish the 15,000-circulation weekly Observer, headquartered in Montague. They arrived on the scene half a dozen years ago, bought the weeklies in Whitehall and Montague, plus a shopper. The Bennets then started issuing a free circulation paper to every home in the area.

They have watched their gross business climb from $60,000 to $300,000 — and they have the strained backs and bloodshot eyes to prove it. But Linda and Darwin continue to smile as they battle hike after hike in Postal Service distribution rates.

If Jimmy Carter really wants to learn about the plight of the small businessman, he might do well to invite Linda and Darwin for a visit in the Oval office.

NEXT DOOR TO THE NEWSPAPER is Home Port, where you can purchase World War II ammunition boxes and Liberty ship hatch covers. Made of white pine, these are perfect for fashioning into desks and coffee tables.

Home Port owner James O'Brien, who put in six months as a gunner on a Liberty Ship during World War II, shows customers how to magically fashion furniture from the apparently useless wood.

West of Montague, about five miles, is the 18-hole, watered fairways of Old Channel Trail Golf course. Run by Lyle L. Leeke, formerly of Redford, the layout is extremely well maintained. Now that the course is enjoying steady play, Lyle is about to plunge into a new venture — subdividing his shag range into prime residential lots along Lake Michigan.

BUT A VACATION, even a mini variety like ours last weekend, isn't complete without one bit of entertainment.

For Marilyn and me it was seeing on Saturday evening a tremendously invigorating "Up with People" session at the rustic Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp.

Freshly-scrubbed and bright-eyed, the cast of 100 young people between 18 and 26 had their audience of some 2,000 laughing, clapping, singing.

The one number that really got to folks was "What Color Is God's Skin?"

The answer came when the handsome male soloist sang to us. "It's black, it's brown, it's yellow, it's white."

That really tells it all for "Up with People." In song and dance, the group shares brotherhood and love with those who attend its concerts. And the spirit never fails to infect.

Right now "Up with People" has five troupes on the road. They travel in 50 states and 42 countries, living with families in communities where they perform.

At the end of the Blue Lake performance, the young emcee was profuse in his thanks to Whitehall area host families.

"Thank you for welcoming us into your homes, into your hearts — and into your refrigerators."

What a delightful close.

Aged should prepare for dental visit

Dear Dr. DeFrancesco: What special precautions should be taken by older patients before they visit a dentist?

J.T.

1) Do not eat for several hours before visiting a dentist, for nausea and vomiting sometimes accompany extensive dental work or the giving of a local anesthetic. Moreover, it is not proper to receive a general anesthetic shortly after eating.

2) If a patient knows himself to be sensitive to any drug or medication, he should so inform the dentist. This is particularly important if one is sensitive to novocaine or adrenalin.

3) If the patient has a heart condition or any other major disability, the dentist should be informed before he begins work on the teeth. Also, it is perhaps best to get permission from one's doctor before receiving major dental treatment.

4) Preferably, dental work on older people should be performed in the dentist's office only if it can be accomplished with no anesthesia or with only local anesthesia. It is much safer to hospitalize an older patient who requires general anesthesia.

Dear Dr. DeFrancesco: Does infection of the teeth, gums, or mouth ever lead to infection elsewhere in the body?

G.W.

Yes, infected teeth are frequently the source of distant infection, including infections of the valves of the heart, kidney infections, and joint infections.

Remember that the tooth socket has small blood vessels at its base, and these vessels drain into the general circulation.

Dear Dr. DeFrancesco: Is it important for older people to be in good general health in order for dentures to be fitted accurately?

T.L.

Yes, poor general health may be accompanied by a condition in which there is swelling or retraction of the gums and mucous membranes of the mouth.

If artificial teeth are fitted at such a time, they will not fit when the general state of health has improved.

Dear Dr. DeFrancesco: Does bad breath often originate from the teeth?

M.S.

Dr. Joseph DeFrancesco

Yes. The following dental conditions may contribute to bad breath:

- Failure to remove and cleanse dentures regularly.
- Infection of the gums.
- Failure to brush teeth regularly and to remove food particles.
- Failure to have decayed teeth removed.

Plymouth past and present

Horseshoe champ remembered

(Part II)

Bob Hitt, Michigan's horseshoe pitching champion from 1936 through 1938, was born in Bryan, Ohio, January 1, 1922, of English-Irish stock. The family came to Plymouth when he was about 3 years old. His father, Vern, who established the family home at 761 S. Harvey, taught the game of horseshoes to Bobbie and appeared in many tournaments and exhibitions with him.

Living across the street from the Hitt's was William Garrett (Bill the Barber) who had a horseshoe court in his backyard. It was on Garrett's court that young Hitt, age 8, learned the rudiments of the game.

Hitt remembers buying his first pair of horseshoes with money he earned picking beans. The farm where he picked them was located almost on the spot on Ross Street where his home now stands.

One day, after Bob had become accomplished at horseshoes, he and his father were returning from a tournament in which his father had defeated him. During the journey home, his father turned to Bob and said something the youngster never forgot.

"There is no way I could have beat you today, if you had really tried," he said. "Bobbie, you have to bear down."

As in any sport, success did not come without hard work. Hitt had to practice every day. At 6 a.m. he was usually in the court his father built at the back of their house, waking the neighbors with the sound of heavy horseshoes hitting the metal stakes. He practiced a half hour every morning and was back again for more after school let out.

In the winter, Ernie Allison, the local Chevrolet dealer, would let Bobbie and his father practice in a loft over the garage at his place of business on Main Street, corner of Amelia.

After Hitt became well known, he was asked to give many exhibitions. When he was 10, he pitched 52.8 percent ringers in four games in Dearborn. When he was 12, he beat the State Champion, Ralph Baxter, 55, in an exhibition match at Monroe, Michigan.

In the same year, 1933, he was invited to pitch at the Michigan State Fair and at the Hillsdale Fair.

At a University of Michigan Open House in Ann Arbor, young Hitt, assisted by his brother, Vernell, put on a trick performance. Bob delighted the crowd by pitching ringers over blankets and over Vernell's body. He lighted matches by hitting their heads with horseshoes, and performed other feats that kept the crowd applauding. (Vernell Hitt now owns a greenhouse at Five Mile and Beck).

When he was state champion, Bob Hitt was asked to give an exhibition at a garden party held at the Newburg Methodist Church on Ann Arbor Trail. The description of the event, in the Plymouth Mail, evokes memories of the area's rural past:

"The party included a bean supper, a fortune teller, a homemade candy booth, a fishpond, a blind man selling pencils, and a limited supply of Mrs. Otto Grimm's famous German coffee cake," the paper reported.

At previously indicated, Bobbie at age 11, became a regular member of the Dearborn Horseshoe Pitching Club. The club, captained by Lee Rose, was gung-ho about horseshoes. A newspaper account in 1933 said that "fist fights culminated several matches in which Dearborn was engaged."

Bob Hitt was in the sixth grade at Plymouth Grade School at the time. He weighed only 64 pounds, and could not have been of any help in the fisticuffs. But even the opposition was continually amazed at the ease with which the youngster handled the two and half pound horseshoes during the matches.

The winners' prizes in the '30s were ridiculously small. When Hitt won his three state championships, his share of the prize money was a mere $40 per tournament. When he was in a fairgrounds exhibition, he rarely made over $15. His father, who placed sixth in the Marquette tournament when Bobbie won his first state championship, received only $10 prize money.

After he had won his first State title, young Bobbie told a reporter:

"With the $40 I got I bought a suit of clothes, my school supplies and took in a ball game."

He explained to the reporter the technique he used in throwing a horseshoe:

"I throw my shoe with a turn of one and a quarter, with the caik facing me when I am pitching. The caik is the spur, or heel, in the bend, which prevents slipping. I bring the shoe straight back and twist it at me knee."

The writer recently watched Earl Merriman, the local insurance agent, pitching horseshoes at a Rotary Club outing.

"Where did you learn to hold the shoe like that," I asked.

"From Bob Hitt," he told me. "I used to watch him by the hour." (To be continued).

Bob Hitt, Michigan horseshoe pitching champion, began learning the rudiments of the game when he was 8. This picture was taken by the late Romeo Wood, long-time Plymouth photographer, when Hitt was 14.

Crays captures Sweetcorn Run

80 runners compete

Carey Crays was the overall winner in the first ever Canton Sweetcorn Festival Five Mile Run held Sunday near Griffin Park.

The event was sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department along with the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

Over 80 runners competed in six different age divisions for both men and women. Trophies and medals were awarded in all age groups and each participant was given a special T-shirt as a souvenir.

Crays covered the five-mile distance in a time of 27:51.9. He competed in the 19-25 age category. Dan Gutek, also participating in the same age group, was second overall as he posted a time of 27:55.0.

The starting line for the race was the Township Administration Building off South Canton Center Road. The finish was held at Griffin Park.

The first woman to cross the finish line was Cathy Gibbons. In the process she also won the girls' 14-18 age category placing ahead of Jennifer Kemler.

In the boys' 14-18 age group, Steve West outdueled Canton High School teammate Dan McGlenn to win the crown. Steve Cassin placed third.

In the boys' 10-13 age category, Brian Jones placed first with Kirk Goleniak finishing second and Bill Boyd taking third.

MARLYN FINCH won the girls' 10-13 title while Karen Turner won the women's 26-34 division.

Turner placed ahead of Vickie Brag and Mary Knapp.

Carol Wallman took first place in the women's 35-44 division with Marilyn Erps placing second and Milanne Richards grabbing third spot.

No women competed in the 19-25 or over 45 age divisions.

In the 26-34 age group for men, Larry Beard captured first while Mike Fant placed second. George was third.

Eugene Cretal, a high finisher in the Plymouth Fourth of July Race, took top honors in the men's 35-44 age division. Bill Underwood gained second place while James Wenchus took third.

Phillip Settles won the over 45 men's division.

'Bionic arm' show brings curtain call

It's going to be a long time before anyone matches the performance Scott Dawson put on last Wednesday night at Livonia's Ford Field.

Dawson, a Plymouth Canton graduate bound for the University of Michigan this fall on a baseball scholarship, had fans and opposing players shaking their heads in the championship finale of the Livonia Adray League.

The 6-3, 175-pound Dawson pitched 17 1/2 innings to lead Livonia Adray to a 4-3 victory over Wendy's of Livonia. The game lasted almost 6 1/2 hours and was finally concluded in the 19th inning when Adray catcher Jim Wilson crossed home with the winning run.

Although he did not get a decision, Dawson's pitching stint was truly remarkable. He gave up nine hits, walked two and struck out six.

When Dawson was replaced in the 18th inning by Scott Riley, more than 1,500 fans gave the lanky righthander a standing ovation as he went to his left-field position.

"It was crazy," said Dawson. "I've never really been involved in a game like that."

"It has to be the thrill of my baseball career."

The victors, coached by Ron Hellier, advanced to the prestigious AAABA

National Tournament which started yesterday in Johnstown, Pa.

"That tournament is the ultimate," Dawson said.

HIS PITCHING against Wendy's could also be described as the ultimate. He had the hard-hitting Wendy's squad beating the ball into the ground all evening. His fast-ball was constantly moving as he handcuffed Wendy's by changing speeds.

"I'm a ground ball pitcher," he said. Dawson said that he felt strong in the 10th and 11th innings.

"My arm felt fine and I just decided to keep going. I started getting tired around the 15th inning. It was an emotional game. I wasn't thinking about the innings," Dawson recalls.

On Thursday morning, the night after the game, Dawson began to feel the side effects.

"I just felt terrible that morning. I felt like I couldn't pick my arm up," he said, "but we had practice on Friday and Saturday and it felt pretty good. I was a little sore on my side but that's it."

Dawson will probably pitch again today (Thursday), facing some of the stiffest competition in the nation.

"As I look back on it," Dawson said, "it was a stupid thing to do to go that long."

"I went against my better judgment," said Hellier. "I've never gone with anybody that long."

"In the 14th inning he threw just six pitches. I was going to go with him until he got tired. I'd say he threw around 200 pitches."

"SCOTT was really pumped up and wasn't walking anybody. He has a seven day rest now and should be all right. I've never seen anybody go 17."

Hellier said the hitters from both teams were even getting tired.

"There were a lot of pop ups in the later innings," Hellier said. "They hit a hard shot off Scott in the 18th and I went out to the mound. I said 'you look tired' and he agreed."

"Even the opposing players gave him an applause when he went out."

Braves claim title

The Braves captured defeating the Dodgers 11-3 in the National League title in B-League Fast-pitch contest. The Braves will face Dawson tough

Dawson has been a vital cog in Livonia's march to Johnstown.

He was the league earned run average leader at 0.708 while posting a 5-2 record. In 59½ innings he struck out 34 and walked only 17.

"He has excellent control and that's the key," said Heltier.

When he's not been pitching, Dawson has been playing first base and outfield. He got two hits in the championship final.

American League winner, the Angels, in the league's World Series starting today at Canton High. The series will be best of three games.

Rick Taylor hurled four shut-out innings to pace the Braves in their championship victory. In the fifth inning, the Dodgers wiped that out by scoring three runs. But the Braves had the game under control by then.

Dennis Clark coached the 9-10-year-olds' squad which compiled a 16-0 record during the season.

Members of the team include Phil Wilkowski, Dan Hiltz, Dan Lockwood, Chris Sisler, Andy Adzina, Glenn Allen, Sean Wallace, Jeff Clark and Dan Golliger.

Also on the team are Taylor, Matt Sargent, Matt Barnes, Todd Kenyon, Dave Hallway, Bill Vitti and Jeff Wenckes.

Chiefettes advance to Nationals

The Chiefettes, a pom-pom squad from Plymouth Canton High School, won first place honors overall, July 22-25, at the United States Cheerleading Association (USCA) Camp held at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The pom-pom squad will now compete in the Grand Nationals, Aug. 23 at the Lansing Civic Center. The Canton girls will compete against pom-pom teams from across the nation.

Members of the team included Barb Keith, Babs King, Sue Farwell, Terri Salyer, Paula Kregowski, Lisa Riblett, Kayla Smith, Debbie Thompson, Jan Guzyski, Marie Verduce, Lisa Potvin, Stacy Bookout, Julie Thompson, Robin Dansby, Julie Stanley, Terrie Stanley, Marisa Bagnasco, Cathy Campbell and Kathy Pashukewich.

The Canton team won two first place ribbons on the second night of competition for cheerleading routines brought into camp. On the third night of competition, Canton won first place again for a routine required by the camp.

Canton won first place for its notebook and were declared the overall winners in the competition.

Lisa Potvin and Farwell earned first and second place individual honors respectively. Both girls competed in the dance execution routine. They were invited to compete for "Miss Pom Pon '79" at the Grand National event.

Canton netters secure crowns

Richard Jackson of Detroit defeated Dustin Mann of Canton in the men's singles final last weekend in the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department's Open Tennis Tournament held at Canton High School.

Jackson, a former player at Schoolcraft College, downed Mann for the championship trophy, 6-1, 6-1. Jackson earlier topped Steve Tihanyi of Plymouth in the semifinals, 2-6, 6-0, 6-0. Mann reached the final match by besting Joe Kotlinski of Detroit, 6-3, 6-4.

In the women's final, Roberta Topolsky of Westland fell to Janet Ray of Livonia, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4. Ray upset Diane Gilroy of Garden City in the semifinals, 6-1, 6-2. Topolsky topped Sue Taylor in the other bracket, 6-2, 6-2.

Bob Nawrocki of Westland had an easy time capturing the junior boys' singles title (18 and under). He waltzed past Plymouth's Shawn Rafferty in the final, 6-0, 6-0.

In men's doubles, Kotlinski teamed up with fellow Detroit Dale Linkous to gain the crown. The Detroit duo took care of Wes Hendrikson of Northville and Tom Kennedy of Plymouth in the semifinals, 6-3, 6-0.

Kotlinski and Linkous then beat Mann and John Miller of Canton, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, for the title.

Mann and Miller gained a spot in the final after besting Nawa Quraishi and Rom Sriraman in the semis, 6-7, 6-4, 6-3.

SRIRAMAN was the men's over 35 champ just a week ago in the Plymouth City Tennis Tourney.

In women's doubles, Marcia Lukomski of Northville and Topolsky won the championship by tripping Holly Hendrikson of Northville and Colleen Kennedy of Plymouth in the final, 6-1, 6-1. Lukomski and Topolsky had an easy time in the semis, blitzing Taylor and Nancy Garlock of Redford, 6-0, 6-1.

In the other semifinal dual, Hendrikson and Kennedy squeezed by Phyllis Carroll of Canton and Mary Jane Mulaski, 6-4, 7-5.

Westland's Craig Malkowski teamed with Topolsky to win mixed doubles crown. They beat Leon and Carolyn Drew of Detroit in the final, 7-5, 6-1.

The Detroiters won a hard-fought three set match over Mann and Lukomski in the semifinals, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4 while Malkowski and Topolsky won a tight cohtest over Ron Huddleston and Joanne Colvas in the semis, 3-6, 6-4, 7-6.

Approximately 80 players participated in the two-day tournament run by Jeff Holderness.

Oasis moves on to state softball finals

Denise Cifaldi and Jan Boyd put together back-to-back shutouts to propel Oasis Golf Center into the state women's fast-pitch softball finals at Ludington slated for Labor Day weekend.

Cifaldi blanked Daly Restaurant on just three hits as Oasis countered with eight hits on eight runs.

Oasis broke open a tight pitching duel, increasing its 2-0 lead with two runs in the sixth and four runs in the seventh.

Cifaldi was aided by two double plays.

Sherry Kiselica, with a triple and single, and Jody Humphries' single and homer, powered the Oasis offensive attack.

Vicky Cavallaro, Julie Stafford, Vickie Forest and Cifaldi also added hits.

Oasis came out smoking in its second game last weekend, blasting the Dreamers, 13-0, to win the district playoffs.

Boyd, a graduate of Plymouth Salem, hurled the one-hit shutout as her teammates accounted for six runs in the first inning.

Oasis then added one run in the second inning, four in the third and two more in the fifth.

Humphries faced the attack with a triple and two singles. Kiselica drove home six runs with two homers and a single. Cifaldi chipped in with two hits. Cavallaro, Sue McDowell and Forest each had one hit.

Dimes event needs netters

Registrations are now being accepted for the first ever March of Dimes Tennis Open to be played Aug. 24-26 at Farwell Field in Detroit.

Players will compete in the USTA sanctioned tournament for $1,000 in money and prizes.

Divisions of play include men's and women's doubles and singles. You must be 18 or older to compete.

The entry fee is $14 for singles and $18 per doubles team. The entry deadline is Friday Aug. 17. For an extended deadline and further information call the Detroit Athletic Office at 894-2950.

Entry forms can be mailed to the Detroit Athletic Office, 3020 Wreford, Detroit 48208.

BOYD retired the first 14 batters in a row before two-out in the fifth inning when a single spoiled her perfect game. She once again had pin-point control as she allowed only one walk—the only one in the last 28 innings.

In Friday night's Livonia League finale, Oasis lost to Mason's Lounge, 8-7, blowing a 7-3 lead going into the seventh inning as Cifaldi was betrayed by the usually tough Oasis defense.

Three errors, two walks and two hits added up to five runs by the Dreamers as Oasis suffered its third defeat of the year.

Despite the loss, Sue McDowell, bouncing back from a mid-season injury, collected four hits.

Sandi Mohacsi, 18-year-old daughter of Mary Mohacsi, four time Detroit Bowling Queen, brought further honor to the Detroit area over the past weekend when she finished third in the National Youth Championships in Washington, D.C.

By placing so high on the standings board she won a $1,000 scholarship and also had the distinction of rolling the high game of the entire tournament with a 254. She also had the thrill of being on national television.

This was the 25th anniversary of the tournament and Michigan figured prominently in the opener when Kit Konkle, of Grand Rapids won the singles title.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS proved highly successful in the area's establishments over the past weekend and in many cases established new records for open bowling.

The program called for 25 cents a line charge for bowling and 25 cents for a hot dog over the two-day period and Westland Bowl topped the area with the sale of 3,400 hot dogs. At times the 60 lanes were filled with the open bowlers.

Merri-Bowl reported the sale of 2,000 hot dogs — a new high for the house — while Garden Lanes also hit the 2,000 mark and Woodland Lanes also dispensed several thousand. At Super Bowl the amount was in the thousands, but no official count was kept.

Even Plymouth Bowl, where it had been quiet most of the summer, had 1,400 hot dog and bowling customers.

While it will be a week before the final returns are in, the proprietors claim the promotion was one of the best they ever sponsored.

HAROLD VON BERGEN, who has reached the ripe old age of 77, reached the high point of the Senior Citizens League at Merri-Bowl in his last outing.

He put together games of 233, 235 and 200 for a 668 and easily out-distanced all of his rivals.

AIDED BY AN opening game of 255, Rick Lang went on to roll a 683 series and take top honors in the Trio League at Westland Bowl.

Morrell Builders pound Post

Morrell Builders easily passed its first round test in the Plymouth Recreation Modified Softball Playoffs being held at Central Middle School. Morrell, recent winner of the American Softball Association (ASA) Regional last week with a 3-0 mark, crushed Trading Post in a game called after five innings, 14-4, because of the league mercy rule. In other first round action Monday night, Mason's Lounge of Livonia topped Bee Jay's, 9-2, while Corsi's, the second place team to Morrell during the regular season in the Tuesday-Thursday League, had little trouble with Famous Recipe Chicken, 14-7. Multi-Maintenance advanced with an 8-5 victory over Adray. The finals will be played Friday night at 6:15 p.m. and if necessary at 7:30 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. As a result of winning the regional, Morrell will now play in the ASA Nationals in Binghamton, N.Y., Aug. 23-26. It is the first time Morrell will participate in the event. For the seventh time this season, Morrell and Corsi's met in the regional with each team gaining three wins. Morrell took a 4-3 series lead in the final by erupting for 10 runs in the second inning and coasting to a 17-0 victory. Corsi's ace hurler, Jerry Stazel, didn't finish the game as he was ejected in the second inning. Morrell pitcher Al White tossed a two-hitter in blanking Corsi's for the first time this season. WHITE HELPED his own cause with four hits including two triples. Steve Robb added three hits while tripling twice. Morrell collected 17 hits in the rout. During the regional, White paced Morrell with a .714 batting average.

Daly trips Glenn's Collision for title

Daly Restaurant captured the Plymouth Recreation League women's slow-pitch crown last week with an easy 9-1 victory over Glenn's Collision in the post-season playoff finals.

The winners scored five runs in the first inning and were never threatened thereafter. Daly made it 6-0 in the second inning and then scored two more runs in the sixth to take an 8-1 lead. Daly added a solo run in the seventh.

Putting four hits together, Glenn's tallied its only run of the game in the fourth.

Daly outthrew Glenn's, 15-8.

In the first round, Glenn's upended

Fishaw & Sons, 9-4, while Daly clobbered Air-Tite.

In the loser's bracket, Fishaw eliminated Air-Tite in a wild game, 15-14. Fishaw was then knocked out by Glenn's, 16-4.

Daly met Glenn's in the second round of the winners bracket, posting a 10-7 victory.

CANTON NET TRYOUTS

PCJBL MEETING

The Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League (PCJBL) will hold a meeting for nominations of board members, Wednesday Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in room 128 at Canton High School.

Nominations for the 1980 board of directors will be taken.

All interested concession workers, umpires, parents and managers are urged to attend.

"We have positions available for all types of volunteers," said PCJBL spokesman Sandy Netz. "This is the time for anybody with an opinion and wanting to be involved."

Final elections for board officers will take place Wednesday Oct. 10 at the same site and time.

For further information, contact President Jim Schols at 397-2331 or Netz at 455-5785.

Golfers can test skills in tourney

Golfers who plan to compete in the annual Observer & Eccentric Golf Tournaments have less than a month to register.

Women's entries close at 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 6. Men's entries close at 6 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10.

All amateur golfers who live in the O&E circulation area — Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Garden City, Redford, Westland, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Birmingham, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Township, Bloomfield Hills, Southfield, Rochester Troy and Avon Township — may enter.

Entry fee for women is $10, $25 for men.

The women will take to the course

Sept. 11, with the men following Sept. 15-16. Medal (stroke) play will be followed. The course will be closed to outside play during the tournaments, but spectators are welcome without charge.

Entry blanks are available in most editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and at Whispering Willows Municipal Golf Course in Livonia, site of both tournaments. The course is located on Newburgh Road just south of Eight Mile Road.

All competitors in both the women's and men's tourneys will contend for trophies and gift certificates in flights based upon handicap. Gross (actual score) and net (handicap-adjusted scores) champions will be determined.

Tennis champs crowned

Tennis players came from all over the area last weekend to compete in the 1979 edition of the Livonia Open Tennis Tournament, but only nine champions were crowned during the three-day event.

Titles were at stake for both girls and boys and men and women. More than 140 tennis enthusiasts turned out for the competition.

In the girls' 14 and under single division, Lisa Abraham of Livonia defeated Sandy Altenburger of Dearborn 6-4, 6-1, to win the championship. Abraham reached the finals by defeating Mya Johnson, 6-0, 6-1, and then beating Ann Borowski, 6-0, 6-0.

Scott Burrell, also from Livonia, won the boys' 14 and under singles title. He knocked off Rodney Qualls of Livonia 6-1 and 6-0 in the finals.

Lynch beaten

Birmingham Lynch and Sons found itself watching from the side as it was eliminated from the Connie Mack North Central Regional tournament, losing to eventual winner Flint Centilli-Smith on Friday 3-1, and to Saginaw on Saturday 5-0.

Saginaw's Dave Shultz shut out the Lynch squad Saturday, allowing only three hits. Jim Maertens was the only Lynch player who had any luck against Shultz — Maertens had two singles.

Doug Greenslate started for Lynch and went four innings on the mound. Greenslate struck out four, walked four and allowed six hits. He gave up three runs.

Kris Kuhn came on in relief and gave up two runs in one inning of work. He allowed two hits and walked three batters.

Allan Kochanski finished the game for the Lynch team and retired the Saginaw side with no problem in his only inning of relief.

Friday's game featured a pitching duel between roommates. Lynch's Tim Birtsas and Flint's Paul Schneider, both members of the Western Michigan University baseball team, battled for seven innings.

Both Birtsas and Schneider gave up four hits. A two-run homer by Schneider was the difference.

Lynch's only run was unearned. Ed Lynch walked, advanced on a passed ball, and scored on a single by Tom Dieters.

Birtsas struck out nine and walked five in seven innings of work. He picked two runners off base.

The team finished the year with a 34-10 overall record, and league and district championships.

Livonia Adray squad ready for Johnstown

Ron Hellier, manager of Livonia Adray, has been to the All-American Amateur Baseball Association championships in Johnstown, Pa. only once — as a special coach in the early 1970s.

None of his players who carved a 20-7-1 record during the 1979 regular season in the Livonia Adray League and who won the playoffs have ever competed in Johnstown.

Hellier and his crew are currently in the hills of western Pennsylvania, one of 16 teams in the double-elimination national tournament.

"Our goals, really, are to make it to the semifinals or the quarterfinals and make it to the weekend," said Hellier before departing. "If we can win three games, we will have done well. Anything more than that is gravy."

It's not that Hellier doesn't think that his team can win the tournament.

He knows that entries such as Baltimore, Washington and Detroit do not have a residency requirement and can draw their players from anywhere. The Livonia Adray League required that eight of 15 players on each team play for the team in the city in which they reside.

Hellier realizes that he has some quality players. He's not going to throw in the towel and make token efforts.

"We can compete," asserted Hellier.

LIVONIA'S strengths this summer have been pitching and defense.

Scott Riley and Scott Dawson, both righthanders, are the aces of the staff.

Riley, a Trenton resident and a student at Western Michigan University, sported a 6-3 regular-season record with an earned-run-average of 0.818. He pitched 51 1/3 innings.

Dawson, who lives in Plymouth, had a 5-2 ledger and an ERA, including playoff action, of 0.708. He hurled 59 1/3 innings during the regular season, won Livonia's first two games in the playoffs and pitched the first 17 innings of Livonia's 19-inning victory over West's.

One of the two was slated to pitch yesterday in the tournament opener, with the other slated to take to the mound the second game.

Joe Emery, a Garden City resident who throws righthanded, forged a 3-1 record and an ERA of 2.89 in 46 innings of work and David Frey, a left-hander from Saline, won five of six decisions and posted an ERA of 2.13 in 40 innings of work.

Ken Webster, a Livonian, also served as a short relief man seven times during the summer.

Hellier said he specifically recruited players so that he would be strong up the middle defensively.

Jim Wilson, a Livonia Franklin graduate, anchored the team at catcher. He slumped a bit this year with the bat, hitting at only a .279 clip, but sparkled behind the plate.

"He was a mainstay behind the plate. Without him, it would have been a rough year," said Hellier.

Malcolm McLean, from Grosse Ile, plays short-stop and leads the team with a batting average of .346. Otis Manning, a Dearborn resident who played last year at Birmingham Southern University, mans second base and hits at a .326 clip.

Steve Popp, from Dearborn Heights, is described by Hellier as "one of the best defensive outfielders in the league." Popp plays center field.

A couple of other players to whom Hellier attributes much of the team's success this season are Jeff Sergison and Tom Deacon.

Sergison, who Hellier said showed great improvement this summer, spent most of his time in the field at first base. He committed only three errors. Sergison also knew how to handle the bat. He hit at a .317 pace and knocked in 14 runs.

Deacon, who split his playing time between third base and designated hitter, compiled a .324 batting average. Nine of his 33 hits went for extra bases. Many of Deacon's hits proved to be game winners.

Even though Livonia shows a team batting average of .303, only one home run has been smashed all season long. Emery cleared the fence in right field at Bentley High School on an exceptionally windy day.

"We don't have a lot of power on this ball club," Hellier conceded.

MARIAN WEST, librarian and media specialist at Plymouth Salem High School, has been elected to the editorial board of Media Spectrum.

The publication is the state journal for the Michigan Association for Media Education which involves school librarians and audio-visual specialists throughout the state.

BACK IN JANUARY when Gary Beglinger and Lou and Wilma Halliburton started knocking down partitions and plaster in the building east of the Post Office, they also were researching the history of the building.

Their research led to bestowing the name "Emma's" to the restaurant part of the complex. Emma Coleman once lived in the house on Penniman Avenue that later additions had converted to stores.

The entrepreneurs' interest in the Coleman family and its history has continued but there were blanks to be filled.

Before this "It's a Small World" story continues, the reader should know a little something about Jill, daughter of Wilma and Lou Halliburton.

Jill is a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. After three years at Michigan State University where she was majoring in geography, she decided to complete her degree at Konan University in Kobe, Japan. After nine months of Asian studies and living in Japan, she fell in love with the country.

After graduation, she taught English for a year at a school in Kyoto. She and her roommate, another teacher, saved their yen with the intention of seeing as much of southeast Asia as they could.

Since April, they have had extended visits to Taiwan, the Philippines and the northern islands. Lou and Wilma communicate by writing to American Express offices. And Jill does call them.

The most recent call was from a travel agency in Manila where the young teachers were buying tickets for the Bangkok, Singapore part of their tour. This week, the Halliburtons received a letter from Jill with some amazing information.

JILL WROTE: "A wonderful woman called Mrs. Fisher was our guardian angel who took care of our booking, departure papers with Philippine immigration, visas for Thailand, and she also got us an unbelievably cheap flight (only $295).

"Well, after I'd hung up from talking to you, Mrs. Fisher offered to drive me back to the area of town that I was staying in. I was alone. Danila went to see 'The Wiz' with some friends. So Mrs. Fisher took me to the old Army-Navy Club on Manila Bay for a steak dinner.

"You won't believe what a small world it is when I tell you who Mrs. Fisher's husband is.

"Mrs. Fisher is called a mestiza, a Spanish Filipino. Her parents were first generation mestizas here in the Philippines and her grandparents came directly from Spain. They were wealthy plantation owners and her grandfather was the Philippines' first veterinarian. After the war, Mrs. Fisher met an American man, Stanley Fisher, in a government office where they were working. It turns out that Stanley's mother is Estelle Coleman, mezzo soprano sister of Emma Coleman.

"NOW I KNOW that you know who Emma Coleman is because your restaurant is named after her! Isn't that amazing! Here is what I can piece together of the family tree:

"Emma, Estelle and Nathaniel Coleman were sisters and brother. Emma married Dr. Hatch in 1892. Estelle married Stanley Fisher and they had one son, Stanley Fisher Jr. who married Josefina Mila (Mrs. Fisher). Nathaniel became a famous architect and designed many buildings in San Francisco.

"Stanley Fisher was born near Lynn, Mass. but has lived most of his life abroad and now he and Mrs. Fisher jointly run the travel agency.

"I told her about the restaurant and showed her the pictures and the menu.

90th birthday brings memories

The long August days are leisurely for Minnie Barlow who will celebrate her 90th birthday Monday, Aug. 20.

There was a time when Mrs. Barlow's summer days didn't seem to have enough hours. She and her daughters, Audrey Gibson and Betty Delvo of Florida reminisced about those days as they sat in the living room of Mrs. Gibson's home on Gilbert Street in Plymouth Township.

"She always put up at least 500 quarts — pickles, relishes, beans, tomatoes, fruit, apple sauce and jam," said Mrs. Gibson.

"And she made sauerkraut and root beer," added Betty Delvo.

"And smoked her own hams and bacon and preserved meat in crocks."

They recalled her home decorating skills, the days when their mother "sanded, painted, wall-papered and re-upholstered.

"And remember her baking," said Mrs. Gibson, "the hot rolls and the breads, and that German chocolate cake."

LATE AUGUST also meant a trip on the interurban streetcar to downtown Detroit and Crowley's to outfit her three children for school.

"But she sewed a lot too. She drew her own patterns on newspaper."

They showed an old photograph of the three Barlow children, Audrey, Betty and their brother, Elmer of Plymouth — two of them wearing sailor suits made by their mother.

Minnie Barlow was born in Mt. Hamilton, Ontario in 1889. Her family moved to Detroit when she was 8 and to Plymouth Township when she was 12. Her maiden name was Laury and her grandparents' farm was on Ann Arbor Road across the road from where the Red Roof Inn is now.

She and Elmer Barlow were married in April 1913 in her parents' home.

When the children reached school age, they walked over to Ann Arbor Trail and rode the street car into Plymouth. All students, kindergarten through high school, attended what is now Central Middle School on Main Street at Church.

On Sundays, the family went to church and the children to Sunday school at the old Newburg Methodist Church, Ann Arbor Trail at Newburgh Road.

"ISN'T SHE beautiful?" said her daughter. "She doesn't look 70."

They said she used to have beautiful auburn hair. "It was so long, she could sit on it. When she decided to have it cut, she went into Grant Stimson's barber shop in Plymouth to have it 'bobbed.' Grant couldn't do it. The other barber had to do it and everybody in the barber shop cried."

The couple had six grandchildren, five of whom are still living. There are 10 great-grandchildren. Minnie Barlow's husband died in 1951.

Now she lives with her daughter, Audrey, in Plymouth Township. She spends several of the winter months with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delvo, in Florida.

"She usually flies down," said Mrs. Delvo. "We brought her back in our motor home last year. She loved it. She wouldn't take a nap for fear she would miss something. She said she wanted to see everything as 'we go by the world.'"

Now, she enjoys television; spends some time out in the yard; goes shopping; and enjoys going out to eat which they do several times a week.

To celebrate her birthday, the family plans to take her out for a Chinese dinner — "which she loves."

Hawk came to breakfast with new-found friends

If anyone has lost a pet hawk, it's vacationing at the Jeruzal home in Plymouth Township and seems to be making itself right at home.

George and Ethel Jeruzal were having breakfast on their patio at 8:30 Sunday morning when they heard an unusual bird call.

"What's wrong with that blue jay?" asked Mrs. Jeruzal. Her husband agreed with her assumption that it must be a wounded jay. Their wooded property on Poweli Road is a haven for many varieties of birds and they are familiar with their calls.

A large bird with a three-foot wingspan swooped out of a tall tree and after flying toward them, swerved and landed on the peak of the house next door.

From this vantage point, the bird continued to watch them and converse in a voice that combined the cry of a small child with a whistle.

Jeruzal knew it was a hawk but was unsure of the variety.

"NORMALLY, A wild hawk would just take off so I thought he may have been someone's pet," said Jeruzal.

He recalled an old Walt Disney movie in which a small boy trained a hawk. He decided to try movie's method of calling in the hawk.

Waving a piece of white cloth and whistling, he watched the bird. The response was almost startling. The large bird zoomed toward him. Jeruzal ducked.

"We had some chunks of beef thawing for stew, so I got a piece of that. I was going to throw it on our roof for him, but he caught it on the fly before it landed — using one claw. It was just like Willie Horton snagging one out in left field."

By 10 a.m., the hawk was coming right to the patio and staying on the patio fence to eat the raw meat.

"He'd go into the tree, call to me; I'd whistle back and wave the white cloth and he'd come right to the patio."

The bird stayed around until dark. After getting a close look, the Jeruzals got out their bird book and identified it as a Cooper's hawk. "It has the yellow feet and legs, the yellow over the beak and right markings," said George Jeruzal.

HE WAS OUT at 6:30 a.m. Monday looking for the hawk which was nowhere to be seen.

"I whistled and waved the white cloth and in 15 seconds he was there; he flew right to me and sat on the patio fence to eat his stewing beef."

Much love

Kiwanis Club awards scholarships

The Kiwanis Club of Canton is a young and growing club. It also is a club that is very interested and concerned about its community.

Sally Papay and Victor West were speakers at the Kiwanis meeting, Monday, Aug. 13 at the Roman Forum Restaurant. Sally and Vic are high school students who were recipients of scholarships to the Fifth Annual Law Enforcement Career Camp. They attended the camp at the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp near Pinckney in late June.

Sally and Vic spoke to the Kiwanis Club, first to thank them for the scholarships, and to relate their experiences. The Kiwanis Club had chosen them from a field of applicants submitted to the club by state police.

The career camp is organized, sponsored, and presented by the Kiwanis Club of Ann Arbor in conjunction with the Michigan State Police and other law enforcement agencies.

The camp is a week-long, co-educational program designed to better acquaint 150 outstanding high school students from throughout the state with the criminal justice system, and to encourage the pursuit of careers in the various related areas of the system.

There is an emphasis on the role of the police officer in law enforcement, but the program is a valuable experience to anyone considering a career in any of the various aspects of criminal justice.

THE CAMP was staffed with members of the Michigan State Police and local law enforcement agencies.

A variety of guest lecturers from many other fields also attended. Subjects covered were: history of law enforcement, traffic and criminal law, investigation procedures, drugs and narcotics, firearms training, and legal procedures. Exercise and physical training were a regular part of the week's schedule.

Jim Ryan, a member of the board of the Kiwanis Club, said the club has many projects planned for this fall including helping to set up for the Plymouth Fall Festival. The club may have a booth at the festival. Members also will be involved in the Vial of Life Program.

Anyone interested in more information about the Canton Kiwanis may call their president, Dewey Davis at 836-1000.

JOHN CASSELL of Manchester, England is a house guest of Byron and Noreen Royer in Canton. John is a neighbor of Noreen's sister in Manchester.

He is on vacation, or as he says, "holiday" from his job with the Manchester Public Transportation System. He flew here from London with a stop-over in Washington, D.C.

Cassell says what he is enjoying most about Michigan is our weather. In Manchester they have a near constant drizzle. He says they seldom get a heavy rain such as we get during a thunder storm, but it seems to rain for an hour or more almost daily.

The constant rain has prompted jokes such as: "In Manchester people don't tan, they rust." Therefore, he is determined to return to England sporting a fine Michigan tan. Let's hope the weatherman continues to cooperate.

This is Cassell's third visit to the United States. He says he is still very much impressed with our shopping centers, and the cleanliness of our stores and streets.

He does feel, however, the road conditions in general, are much better in England, where they still drive on the left. It took him a day or two to get used to crossing the streets here on foot. The cars all seemed to be coming from the wrong direction.

Cassell says the current price for gas in England is about $2.50 a gallon. This has gone up about $1.25 per gallon in the last three months.

That should make us feel better, but still it's hard not to get depressed when $10 won't even fill a Pinto gas tank.

Cassell was surprised to see our mail carriers driving on their routes. In Manchester they all walk, and when they come to the end of their routes, ride the public transportation, free, to their homes.

Senior Citizens ride public transportation for less than half fare. He says

MICROWAVE OVEN

ROTAWAVE COOKING SYSTEM

A rotating shower of power that cooks more evenly and cooks most foods faster than ever before!

A rotating antenna beams microwave energy directly at food in a uniform, rotating pattern.

SO FOODS COOK MORE EVENLY!
Even rows of cookies or several potatoes cook more evenly than ever before.

MOST FOODS COOK FASTER!
Some foods like cakes, pies and muffins now bake up to twice as fast.

COOKS MORE CONVENIENTLY!
Most foods require no turning because the Rotawave antenna rotates microwaves through the food.

BETTER FOOD QUALITY!
Breads, cakes, even egg dishes turn out lighter and fluffier. Meats brown more evenly.

Amana TOUCHMATIC Model RR-9TA

- Cooks by time or cooks to temperature. Even holds at temperature to tenderize economy cuts of meat.
- A wide range of Cookmatic power levels.
- 700 watts of cooking power at "full power."
- Amana made the first microwave oven with a memory. This model remembers to defrost, hold and cook. Or it can switch from time to temperature controlled cooking automatically.
- Even remembers the time of day.

STAINLESS STEEL INTERIOR

After Radarange Ovens passed a series of 21 torture tests, the U.S. Government granted Amana an exemption from displaying a warning label on the door of all "RR" series Radarange Ovens (and derivative models). In one of these brutal tests, Amana actually hit the door seal and front frame with an axe—a 60 foot-pound impact! And after every test, the Amana ovens did not allow microwave leakage in excess of the Federal standard. Because the patented Amana Choke Door Seal reflects microwaves back into the oven. No other microwave oven manufacturer in the world has earned this U.S. Government exemption.

Perched in a tall tulip tree, the hawk observed Observer photographer Gary Caskey, with great interest. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Hawk makes himself at home

Responding to the whistle and white cloth, the hawk zooms into the yard from a tall tree.

Zeruzal attached a round oak perch to the fence to make it more comfortable for the hawk. After breakfast, he spent most of the morning perched in a tall tulip tree. As the breeze picked up, he took off for a spin. Taking advantage of the air currents, he soared and glided with a grace the earthbound never can achieve.

"He's gigantic and he's beautiful," marveled Zeruzal as he watched his new-found friend.

Canton Chatter

they are far more dependent on public transportation, particularly since the rise in gas prices than Americans are.

He has enjoyed several trips to Canada during his visit, as well as the outdoor band concerts in Plymouth. He has enjoyed jogging here-up to 10 miles per day. He also enjoyed a late night snack at McDonald's, where they gave him a bag of McDonald's "souvenirs".

Cassell had not been at a McDonald's before because there are none in Manchester, and they are just beginning to appear in London. He did say Kentucky Fried Chicken Restaurants have become quite popular in England. We hope you take back many fond memories, John.

GEM WISE
DIAMOND: THE WHY OF IT
 In my last two articles I discussed the when, where and how of diamonds. If you've been following this series of reports, you'll agree that there is a great deal of work involved in the recovery and processing of these well-loved stones.

ORIN J. MAZZONI, Jr.
 Certified Gemologist

Why are such pains taken? Well, from a business standpoint, the whole painstaking process is a profitable one. People are willing to pay the price for all the work behind a fine diamond because it has come to represent very positive and sought-after aspects of the human condition. Because the diamond is so durable, it has come to symbolize eternal love. The diamond is the favorite choice of promise gifts as well as for the engagement and wedding rings which eventually follow. The diamond is also a favorite participant in the celebration of an anniversary or any other occasion in which deep love is being expressed. The diamond has also evolved into a status symbol. The larger one's diamond, the more successful he or she appears. (Of course, quality is more important than quantity, but not everyone realizes that). Even those who are not status-conscious experience a certain uplifting of confidence and self-esteem from diamond ownership.

Giving a diamond as a gift has come to mean, "My love for you will endure through all time and will continue to sparkle through all hardship." If you've bought yourself a diamond, you're announcing that you consider yourself important too, and that's essential for good human relationships. You can't love others until you learn to love yourself.

Relaxing with a good book and a long, cool drink is an approved summer activity. Whether it's on the beach, on the front porch of the summer cottage or in their own back yards, area residents are reading up a storm this summer of '79.

Michener's "Chesapeake" has had long waiting lists for more than eight months, and the book is maintaining its popularity with about 40 persons awaiting their turn.

Dunning-Hough Library on Main Street, Plymouth, has six copies of "Chesapeake" according to Charlene Debaske, library aide, but the long waiting list continues.

Reserve list books usually have a one-week rental period. "But we adjust, according to the size of the book. Because it is such a long book, the rental period had been extended to two weeks," said Ms. Debaske.

She attributes the book's popularity to the publicity "Chesapeake" has received. "People in this community are well-read and they like to keep up with the latest books. People enjoy historical novels and the book has probably been recommended by friends."

ANOTHER reserve list book is "War and Remembrance" by Herman Wouk.

"And a lot of people have been asking for 'The Rosary Murders' by Kienzie. It's the one written by a former priest from the Detroit area.

"Good as Gold" by Joseph Heller is another popular book this summer. The waiting list varies from three or four to 40 or more, depending on the book."

She said the most popular non-fiction book at the moment is "The Powers That Be," a story of four media giants: CBS, Time, Inc., The Los Angeles Times and The Washington Post.

"The Macresse Circle" by Robert Ludlum has been in demand," said Ms. Debaske. "We tend to get people who like an author and as soon as a new Ludlum is published they all want to read it."

Lauren Jaccall's "By Myself" was a reserve list book for a long time. In the autobiography category, Christine Crawford's "Mommy Dearest" maintains its popularity.

"The new one, 'Empire', about Howard Hughes, has had many calls," she said.

The fines for over-due reserved list books is the same at Dunning-Hough as for other books — five cents a day.

4-H clubs meet for annual fair

By SHERRY KAHAN

In blue jeans and T-shirts, they were out in force to display their animals. These were 4-H youngsters, who every year involve their hands, hearts and heads in raising a healthy animal to show the world.

At the annual 4-H Fair in Belleville, there were the best-brushed and most carefully cleaned set of horses, cows, steers, goats, sheep, ducks and rabbits one could find anywhere. Most of them had been raised from babyhood with exquisite care and plenty of love.

Some of these beasts were waiting in pens for the big moment when they would be on stage. But they were unaware of the importance of the occasion, unlike their owners who stood nervously by. Other animals were already out on the field trying to stand correctly, moving so the sun would catch their shiny coats and doing their bit to win a blue ribbon for their special person.

"It's fun, it's challenging," said Julie Smith of Livonia right after she won first place in the fitting and showing competition with the help of an appaloosa named Flash's Knight. Despite the classy handle, his friends have saddled him with the name of Buster.

A member of the Rainbow Riders 4-H Club, she keeps Buster at home and rides in Bicentennial Park and on the Stevenson High School athletic field in Livonia. She likes the idea of the 4-H fair.

"It gets kids together and teaches them how to get along," she said. "The 4-H teaches you to care for your animal."

Is she emotionally involved with her winning steed?

"Very much," she laughed. "He's very emotional too, like a puppy dog."

Third place winner of the event in which Julie took a first was Barb Doboz of Westland, a student at Wayne Memorial High School.

THREADING THROUGH the barns and among the people at the event, one sees boys like Jeff and Greg Severson of Westland pulling their reluctant cows toward the judging area. Not far away, Janet Schultz of Canton Township rides her white horse around in circles, practicing for competition later. Linda Wellman of Westland is keeping an eye on the plastic kit model for which she won a blue ribbon. It is a reproduction of the Budweiser wagon with the Clydesdale horses.

And there is Celia Stuart of Plymouth shaving her goat.

"She had to be clipped for the show," Celia said. It was difficult for her to account for why she had chosen a goat for a pet.

"I just wanted her," she said. She added that while everyone says goats are tin can chompers, her two-month-old Chica isn't.

Local 4-H'ers star at Belleville fair

Kyle Lange of Livonia with her family was keeping company a handsome part-Arabian, part-quarter horse stallion, strikingly named Jumping Jack Flash. Like Buster, he was given few chances to enjoy it. He usually answers to Oscar.

Kyle was hoping that during the competition Oscar wouldn't be placed next to a kicking horse as he was at another event. He couldn't do his best then.

Louise Konopka of Canton was sure her goat was going to win a ribbon for her and her club, Roe Buck Kids. This 9-year-old likes looking after Sara and taking on such jobs as trimming her hoofs and shaving her "so she doesn't get hairy."

"You learn a lot about goats when you raise them," said Karen Murphy of Plymouth Township. "You learn about nutrition so you know the right food to give them."

She added that Sassafras was "from good blood" so she had a good chance to get a prize.

"A NEAT WOOLY critter" was the way Colt Lawton described the sheep he was exhibiting at the event. This 17-year-old, whose family owns a sheep farm in Canton, has had his share of "all creatures great and small," veterinarian experiences, and frequently acting as a midwife to a ewe about to present a lamb to the world.

Describing it as a job that "gives you a nice feeling at first," he finds it old hat by now.

At the farm they breed sheep and sell the lambs. It doesn't bother him to lose them. "When you've got 50 or so, it doesn't trouble you," he said, "unless one is a pet."

Beth Suddendorf, also of Canton, recalled that once a miniature lamb was born to one of her ewes. "The mother disowned it, so we had to bottle-feed it," she said. "Eventually we sold it to a miniature circus."

Beth finds that living on a farm gives her lots of freedom. She doesn't feel cooped up. Colt likes both the country and the city, but believes that in the city "there is nothing to do."

ACCORDING TO THEIR mother, Linda, neither Jim or Bob Ehrhart of Canton goes into a spiritual decline when one of their animals is sold, as children often appear to do in films. They are 16 and 12 respectively. "They don't really attach themselves to the steers because there are so many at home," added Mrs. Ehrhart.

"The 4-H is one of the best things there is for kids," stated Mike Severson as he gazed at the busy children around the fairgrounds. He is father of Greg and Jeff, who we last saw pulling their cows toward the competition. "They learn to win and lose, and to get along with people," he added.

Greg remembers having animals all his life. "It takes a lot of patience to train them," he said, "but you can't blame them because it takes them a while to learn."

"It makes a better kid out of them when they're in 4-H," concluded Bob Neely, a member of the fair board. "The family does things together. It teaches responsibility to a kid, and it teaches sportmanship. You can't win every time."

'Who's winning?' wonder Michelle Fenwick and Michelle McDonough of Canton Township. Watching with them from the fence is Michelle McDonough's horse, Candy.

WORSHIP 9:00 A.M.
Sunday School 10:00 A.M.
Thurs. 7:30 P.M. WORSHIP

"Kids learn the Christian lifestyle by seeing people live it," said Dan Shar, director of Christian education at Ward United Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

That's why the church has developed a camping program. It began in mid-August with a week's sojourn at Pine Hills Camp near Brighton attended by more than 85 children in grades three through six.

This will be followed up Aug. 20-25 with a family camping experience at Huron Forest Camp Cherith in Oscoda. Its theme will be "Families Growing Together."

In describing the advantage of camping for the youngsters, Shar pointed out that "the church attracts people from quite a radius, but the young don't know each other too well."

But after a week camping together this has changed.

"In addition we have a quality staff which can give these children an example of a Christ-centered life," continued Shar.

WHILE THIS was the second year the young church members attended camp, it will be the first time for the family camping concept. Activities will include an age-graded Bible Focus each morning, with the adult focus featuring a film series with Dr. Henry Brandt, psychologist, dealing with successful parenting.

There will be both day and evening activities, with daytime plans including swimming, canoeing, fishing and horse-back riding.

"It's a chance for families to do things together," said Shar. "In this work-a-day world, some children rarely get to see their fathers. We are highly convinced that primary responsibility for the Christian education of our children belongs to the parents."

"We try to provide them with effective tools to be effective educators."

Other activities planned by the church include a second cross country bike trip Aug. 18-25. A group of 50 bikers will make a 540-mile round trip to Silver Lake, Mich. It is expected they will travel about 60 miles per day.

An earlier bike trip took 50 bikers to Nashville, Tenn. They averaged 85 miles per day on this 1,400 mile excursion.

A group of 30 senior high youths recently returned from a two-week wilderness expedition in the mountains of North Carolina.

Those interested in participating in the family camp should contact Dan Bower at the church, 422-1150.

College bound? Don't take all those cherished possessions

By JULIE BROWN

You are about to leave for that all-important first year at college. You are a little bit nervous, terribly excited, and totally confused about what to take along and what to leave behind. Choosing from among so many favorite possessions is a formidable task that cannot be put off any longer.

Certainly you have a problem; but by no means is it an insurmountable one. The trick is to approach your packing with the same sense of ruthless purposefulness you will soon use when selecting your classes and professors.

But, about your packing. Rule number one is to determine where you are headed. Dorm rooms are small. Upper-class students and dorm advisers usually grab the best rooms before you ever see them; leaving the bewildered freshmen with the undesirables. It's a tough situation, but you might as well make the best of it.

Another fact of life is that most rooms come with at least one roommate. Whether this person is your lifelong best friend or a total stranger, remember that he or she will also arrive with an 18-year accumulation of personal belongings. Look at your own collection and double its size and amount — you'll know what you and your roommate will have to cram into that one tiny room.

It helps if you check with your about-to-be roommate sometime during August. Take stock of what each of you will be bringing to school. You really won't need two stereo sets for one little 10-by-12 foot room. You will probably be able to share a lot of other things too — an iron, popcorn popper and a hair dryer.

Another good topic is the decor of the room you will be sharing. Dormitory accommodations vary according to tastes, areas of the country, and the era during which they were built. They can range from grim institutional to extremely elaborate. However, no matter how grim the environment there has never been a room that didn't benefit from being spruced up with plants and posters.

Just in case you are tempted to deck out your room in the school colors, try to resist the urge. Most students begin collecting assorted alumni mementos — funny hats, wastebaskets, stadium blankets — at an early age. This can usually be attributed to proud parents, frequently alumni themselves, who bestow such gifts with the slightest provocation.

ACCEPT THESE TREASURES gracefully, then stash them in a dark closet where they are likely to remain undetected. Living in a maize-and-blue technicolor may sound like fun, but loyalty to the old alma mater is likely to wane come finals week. You may find yourself climbing the walls and it helps if those walls are a less glaring, more comforting color.

When you begin collecting what you think you ought to take, start with the essentials. An alarm clock should be at the head or near the top of your list. You may be blessed with early morning classes, and don't count on your roommate to wake you up.

Also, a typewriter, pillow, towels, sheets, blankets, a desk lamp (essential for late-night studying), and a plate and cutlery for snacking. And don't forget hangers — the dorm, a strictly no-class operation, never seems to provide such things.

On the subject of food, you may want to consider renting a small refrigerator for your room. You will find them advertised left and right around campus and in the town papers; and they are handy, especially if your school doesn't serve breakfast. Whether it does or doesn't (a good point for you to check up on), the presence of sustenance during all night cram sessions is always welcome. The smallest size (2 cubic feet) rents for about $50 for an entire school year in Ann Arbor, which includes a deposit of about $10.

Although a lot of dorms provide vacuums for collective use by the residents, they aren't obligated to supply each room with a rug. Any rug that you are able to scrounge up from home will be useful, particularly on those cold winter mornings.

IF YOU'RE the adventurous type, and are making the move directly from your parents' home to an apartment, you will need many of the items already suggested, plus some others.

You can forget the refrigerator, because most apartments come with such basics as stove, oven, fridge, and sometimes even a dishwasher that isn't the human variety.

However, if you plan to lift your menu above the peanut butter and jelly level, you will definitely need a reasonably complete set of kitchen ware — pots and pans, utensils, dishes, glasses and freezer containers.

Although many apartments are furnished, should you choose one that isn't, you ought to consider what basic pieces are available at garage sales, frequently held in the Birmingham Bloomfield area, and assorted charities. The Salvation Army or local furniture center can also provide you with a selection of sturdy second hand items which are not only useful but downright attractive with a little imaginative redecoration.

For an apartment, you will also need cleaning supplies. Start your list with a mop and pail, broom and dustpan, dustcloth, scrub brush and sponges. You will also need a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner, although the former tend to be a good deal less expensive. Make up your mind that one of the first items of business between you and your roommate(s) will be to establish a regular cleaning schedule.

However, if all this sounds like a bit much, take heart. Living away at school, you will soon realize what you really do and don't need to set up your life away from home. The big consolation is that you can always take home the "turkeys" during Thanksgiving vacation.

Incidentally, that will be an excellent opportunity for you to collect all those other possessions that you will know you should have taken with you in the first place.

Observer & Eccentric

NEWSPAPERS

Second Annual Color Photo Contest

Theme:
"The Year of the Child"

1979 has been designated the International Year of the Child. No matter how diverse the lifestyle of Observer & Eccentric readers, one common experience is shared: We have all been children.

We ask you, then, to think back to the days of childhood to discover those things that made growing up special to you. All you need to do is search the face of the nearest child, and you will find that those same special experiences haven't really changed.

Then, tell us--through the eyes of your camera--what's so special about growing up in the suburbs. All you need is some slide film, a camera and a child (or children) doing what comes naturally.

You'll find them at carnivals, shopping centers, playgrounds and quiet river banks.

Since there is no age limit to our contest, children who enter may have an added advantage, since they don't have to resort to memory to tell us what's special about growing up in the suburbs.

We will publish the winning entries--in color--right here on the pages of your hometown newspaper.

Contest Rules:

- 1 There are no age limits, but the photographer must be a resident of one of the communities in which Observer & Eccentric Newspapers circulate.
- 2 The contest is open to amateur photographers only. No employee or family member of an employee of Observer & Eccentric Newspapers is eligible to enter.
- 3 The deadline for entries is Sept. 17, 1979. Each contestant may submit two color slides. Each slide should be marked with the name, address and phone number of the contestant. An entry blank should accompany the slides.
- 4 Slides should have been taken during the period of September 17, 1978 and the contest deadline date.
- 5 All entries become property of Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and CANNOT BE RETURNED.
- 6 Permission of any persons in the slides must be obtainable in the form of a signed release upon publication.
- 7 Entries will be judged by a panel of Observer & Eccentric reporters, editors and photographers. Winners will be judged on the basis of originality, use of color and adherence to the theme.

Learn warning signs of stroke

Stroke, until very recently thought to be a sudden, unpredictable medical occurrence, can now be prevented in many cases, according to James Ausman, MD, nationally known stroke prevention and treatment expert.

Dr. Ausman, chairman of the department of neurological surgery and neurology at Henry Ford Hospital and a member of the Michigan Heart Association stroke committee, said, "If more people would familiarize themselves with the warning signs of stroke and seek treatment, much needless tragedy could be averted."

"Much progress has been made in stroke in recent years. In less than a decade we have progressed from a belief that a stroke could not be predicted to being able to define the warning signs and more recently being able to prevent stroke entirely in up to half the people in whom those warning signs are detected," Dr. Ausman said.

The warning signs of stroke are:

- A sudden, temporary weakness or numbness of the face, arm or leg.

- Temporary difficulty or loss of speech or trouble understanding speech.

- Sudden, temporary dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.

- Dizziness with double vision.

- Sudden, severe headache and stiff neck.

- Temporary dizziness or unsteadiness.

- A recent change in personality or mental ability.

Dr. Ausman advised, "Though these warning signs may indicate problems other than stroke, anyone who experiences any of the signs should see his doctor promptly."

"Through detection of the warning signs and, more recently, surgical intervention — added to the fact that people are now more aware of the risk factors of cardiovascular disease — stroke death rate has been on the decline since 1968. In fact, between 1968 and 1976, the last year for which figures are available, stroke declined some 27.9 percent.

"Still, it is a major killer and crippler. In 1976, stroke killed 188,623 people and affects nearly two million."

And how can strokes be averted in people who exhibit the warning signs?

"By thorough medical evaluation," Dr. Ausman said. Dr. Ausman, who is one of a small number of internationally known neurosurgeons who has pioneered bypass surgery for the brain, explained further.

"The brain, where a stroke occurs because of a blocked or ruptured artery, is one of the last arenas of the body that has resisted medical invasion," he explained. "Now, thanks to microsurgery, which allows doctors to work with blood vessels on the surface of the brain which are no larger than a pencil lead, blockages in such vessels can be bypassed, providing improved circulation to the brain."

Still, though both intervention and therapy techniques have made remarkable progress, there are nearly two million people alive today who, as a result of stroke, are incapacitated to varying degrees by speech difficulties or paralysis and the accompanying frustration, depression and withdrawal which are the common result.

For that reason, the Michigan Heart Association and other agencies have formed stroke clubs throughout the state. These clubs offer support and mutual encouragement for stroke patients, as they call themselves, an opportunity for socialization and an understanding of the physical, emotional and communication problems associated with stroke. Twenty-one such clubs have been formed thus far and a concerted effort is underway to form new clubs in other areas.

For more information on the warning signs of stroke, its treatment, or stroke clubs, contact any office of the Michigan Heart Association.

The Michigan Heart Association is a United Way agency.

SAVING & LOAN **

Usually you would have to tie up your savings for years to get a dividend that begins to compete with inflation. And it seems it would take years to save the amount needed for one of those fancy $10,000 Money Market certificates. Until now you've had to content yourself with choosing between long-term savings accounts or low dividends. But if you consider yourself a serious saver, you'll welcome this news from your credit union.

NOW YOU CAN EARN THE SAME DIVIDEND RATE IN 3 YEARS AT YOUR CREDIT UNION THAT BANKS AND S&LS PAY IN 4.

Look at the charts above and compare: with a Community Federal 3-Year Certificate you can earn the same or HIGHER DIVIDEND for LESS TIME. Now you have greater flexibility to plan your savings and to save for the things you want to buy. And before you know it, you've saved the amount needed for a "fancy" money market certificate.

The maximum rate on Certificates is determined monthly by the U.S. Department of the Treasury. The rate you are quoted the month you purchase is paid for the term of your 3-Year Certificate. Dividends are compounded quarterly and the term and minimum balance, like most credit union savings certificates, are designed for the serious saver who isn't rich.

So if you've got money that's "just sitting" in a bank or savings and loan, bring it to your credit union. Our 3-Year Certificate is just one of many savings programs that can help you beat inflation.

Young literati get break

Know any budding writers? A local writing contest for children, sponsored by WDET-FM, runs through Sept. 20, with anyone 12 or younger eligible to enter. The contest, called Child's Play, is part of an international competition sponsored by the European Broadcasting Union in cooperation with UNICEF. National Public Radio is sponsoring the competition in the United States. Children's author Astrid Lindgren wrote the beginning of a story; the children entering the contest must write the ending. Entries should be no longer than 600 words, written in the child's hand.

The local winner will receive a pass for 10 admissions to Youtheater at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and the story will be broadcast on WDET.

For an application form and a copy of the story, call WDET at 577-4204. Completed stories must be returned to the station by 5 p.m. Sept. 20.

● DANCING UNDER THE STARS

The popular Metro-West Big Band will bring back the sounds of the Glenn Miller orchestra in an outdoor free concert Friday in the Garden City Park, Cherry Hill and Merriman roads. The music will start at 8:30 p.m. Band manager Jim Falk said that "older people know and the younger ones find they didn't have to grow up 30 years ago to enjoy the rhythm of Glenn Miller's 'Moonlight Serenade' or the driving tempo of Count Basie's 'Jumpin' at the Woodside.'" Picnic tables are available for those who want to snack before the music starts. Dancers are advised to bring their own refreshments and snacks since none are sold at the park's pavilion. Sponsoring the band concert and dancing is the Garden City Parks and Recreation Department.

● FORD DISCO DANCE

The Ford Pendulum Singles Club will hold a "disco dance and dinner raffle" Saturday night at the Hilton Airport near Detroit Metro Airport. The music begins at 9 p.m. Admission is $3 for members and $4 for others.

● DON'T GET WET

Deep sea diver Elwood Cook will discuss his favorite topic at 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Detroit Science Center, Warren at John R in Detroit. He recently returned from an underwater expedition with Jean-Michel Cousteau, the oldest son of Jacques Cousteau. The lectures will be in the center's demonstration theater. Cook will display his diving equipment and show slides of marine life.

● ANOTHER FREEBIE

The Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra will perform at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Prudential Town Center, Northwestern Highway and Civic Center Drive in Southfield. The band will play in the continuing free outdoor concerts sponsored by the Southfield Parks and Recreation Department. In case of rain, the music will move to the Civic Center Ice Arena, Evergreen and Civic Center Drive.

● BLUEGRASS FESTIVAL

An all-day folk and bluegrass music festival will be held Sunday in Northville to raise funds to fight Huntington's Disease. It starts at 1 p.m. on the Northville High School football field, on Eight Mile west of Center Street (Sheldon Road). Scheduled to perform are folk singer Josh White Jr., the Michigan Consolidated Grass Company, Home Grown Grass, Phoenix and others. Sponsoring the festival is Northville businessman Tom Rice whose sister died of Huntington's disease. Rice said the festival should appeal to all age groups. Proceeds will be used to research projects to fight the disease.

● DYSTROPHY FIGHTERS

You can help fight muscular dystrophy with Italian sandwiches through Saturday. Leading the battle this weekend is Rina's Restaurant in Detroit which is donating 25 cents for each sandwich to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The restaurant is on Schaefer Road, between Lyndon and Fenkell (Five Mile Road). The business is open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and 4-10 p.m. Saturday.

● ETHNIC FUN DAYS

The popular summer ethnic fun days, held to introduce children to cultures of other countries through fun and games, has been extended by the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit through the rest of August. The program is held at the International Institute, 111 E. Kirby, Detroit. The activities include a two-hour program for youngsters between 6 and 12. There is a cost of 50 cents. The program is open to individuals and groups but reservations are required. Interested persons may call the institute at 871-8600.

Bill Kahler: 'I've always loved music'

By MAURIE WALKER

It doesn't take long after Bill Kahler takes the stage to realize he is more than the run-of-the-mill guitar player and singer.

Here is a true musician who makes the guitar a beautiful instrument to listen to. With a wide variety of songs, from country to classics, Kahler has the talent that keeps the eating and drinking customers coming back for more.

Kahler entertains at Alexander The Great Restaurant, on Warren east of Wayne Road in Westland, 8:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays, and 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Seldom is he stumped by a request from the audience — the rare instance being when someone might request a hard rock number which he doesn't include in his vast repertoire.

KAHLER STARTED playing the guitar 20 years ago at age 15. He taught himself, but by the time he was 24, decided he wanted more musical background and studied music theory at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art.

"I've always loved music. My dad played the violin. I sang in the choir in grade school in Brooklyn, N.Y., where I was raised," he said.

When he joined the air force in 1961, the guitar went with him. "I was a helicopter mechanic. During my four years in the air force, I also entertained on the base and won a talent contests."

His first professional job was in a club in Reno, Nev., where he entertained in 1964-65. From there he went to Greenwich Village in New York for a year. He came here in 1966, playing in Detroit, Algonac, Garden City and Westland. He began his stay at Alexander The Great earlier this year.

Although his music is the main attraction, Kahler's keen wit and personality play a big part in his popularity.

"I felt I needed more than just singing in my act so I added a few jokes and comments. In fact, I'm still working on perfecting my routine," he said.

He has some television experience, having appeared on the Robin Seymour show a number of years ago.

Kahler plans to have an album on the market by Christmas. "I'm cutting it myself, on my own label, Aries. It will include

Benefits

Muscular dystrophy group getting a boost from Garden City show

They were dabbling in music and theater as a hobby, but last year two Garden City businesswomen staged a benefit which raised $3,500 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The local production merely whetted the appetites of the two women, though, who have been working since January putting together their latest show.

Eight months in the making, the musical show "The Sounds of Broadway" involves some 65 performers and nearly 100 volunteers from throughout the area.

The curtain will rise Aug. 19 and 20

Westlanders plan marathon for Aug. 24

What was once just a backyard carnival has boomed into a 12-hour music marathon to benefit victims of muscular dystrophy.

The event began two years ago as a backyard carnival with a Garden City band, Power Source, providing the entertainment. Last year Theresa Boucher, mother of two band members, and her sister, Shirley Boucher of Northville, joined forces with Westland's Bova VFW Post and Auxiliary for a benefit that raised $3,000.

Joining the Bova Post this year in presenting the marathon is the Kehr Post 3323 and Auxiliary of Westland and American Legion Post 111 of Wayne.

in O'Leary Auditorium in Garden City. Before it falls, Sue Discher and Barbara Egeler, co-owners of the Hair Hut in Garden City, hope to raise some for MDA.

Performances are scheduled at 7 p.m. Sunday and 8 p.m. Monday. A special show for senior citizens will be staged at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Tickets are $10 per person, available at the Hair Hut, Orin Jewelers and Lion and The Sword in Garden City, and Heads Together in Westland.

WORKING IN the salon full-time, running families and coordinating rehearsals has taken up all of their time since about March. The November benefit wasn't even cold before planning started on the second production.

"We wanted to combine the proceeds and present one large check to MDA," explained Ms. Discher.

The women advertised for performers and held auditions. Word of the production spread and volunteers started showing up from throughout the Detroit area.

"People just came out of the woodwork and the donations of time and talent came pouring in," said Ms. Discher.

O'Leary Auditorium on Middlebelt between Ford and Warren was donated for the show by Garden City Public Schools. Costumers, photographers, set designers and lighting technicians round out the long list of volunteers. Officials at the MDA Detroit office said this show is one of the largest single fundraisers in the area.

The 2½-hour production will feature music and dancing from some 25 Tony award-winning Broadway shows including "Fiddler on the Roof," "Porgy and Bess," "Sweet Charity," "Chorus Line," "Grease" and others.

THE SHOW, directed by Robert Curry of Garden City, will feature Tony Russo and his Orchestra.

Making an appearance at the benefit will be Matthew and Christopher Yotti of Canton Township, the MDA poster children for southeastern Michigan. Television personality Joe Glover, honorary MDA chairman for southeastern Michigan, will make an appearance at the Monday show. The Detroit Pistons cheerleaders also will perform.

Besides raising money for the association, the two women hope the production will give non-theatergoers a taste of Broadway at the community level.

"We want people to recognize the great talent that exists in Detroit. We hope the show will provide some recognition for those so often over-shadowed professionals that make up Detroit's night club and performing scenes."

"These are young, dedicated performers itching for a start," explained the co-producers.

THE CAST includes the likes of Debbie Kovel, a member of Young Detroiters. Ms. Kovel, who sings and dances in "Sounds of Broadway," will be seen in the upcoming Christopher Reeve movie, "Somewhere in Time."

Lili Kaufmann, the wife of an Air Force career officer, who has studied and performed throughout the world, joins two other women in a rendition of "Hello Dolly."

B.J. Scholtz of Livonia choreographed the show. Ms. Scholtz has been a vice-chairman of the Livonia Regional Ballet Company. She heard about the show while having her hair done by Ms. Egeler.

"It's the first time I've ever donated my services, but it's for a good cause," said Ms. Scholtz.

Buck Welch of Wyandotte wrote a song for the show. A slide presentation depicting some activities of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will accompany the music.

In order to reach their $25,000 goal, the co-producers will have to sell out the 997-seat O'Leary Auditorium.

Oleta Adams: She talks while she sings

By JIM WINDELL

Diminutive Oleta Adams has style. This is apparent when she strides into Dewey's lounge on time for her first set of the night.

After slipping onto the piano books which make her tall enough to play the grand piano in front of her trio, she launches into her joyful blend of jazz and gospel-influenced pop piano playing.

When she sings, her alto voice is only her second best asset. Her first is her face — expressive and feeling. When she breaks into a smile, which is often, the dim lounge is considerably brightened by her vivacious an effervescent personality.

"My name is Oleta Adams," she announces after her opening number on the piano. Her self-assurance makes her sound like she is running for office.

She goes on. "If you stay around her long enough tonight, that's only the beginning of what you're going to know."

TRUE TO HER WORD, as the set goes on she becomes more talkative. She dishes out, between songs, information about music, her life and her personal philosophy. And you learn one other thing: Oleta Adams is one talented entertainer.

As she herself would say after a particularly meaningful song that she has just sung, "And that's the truth."

Ms. Adams is in the midst of a six-week engagement at Dewey's at the Michigan Inn in Southfield. She performs 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Tuesday-Saturday. In an interview about her style, her life and her personal views, she explains, "My style is a concert style. I'm not easy listening. That's not what I give. I'm a see-me, watch-me performer. I do my best to demand your attention."

THAT HAPPENS to be as true for an interview as it is when she's on stage.

OLETA ADAMS

She is extroverted and intense. When she wants to make a point, she leans toward you earnestly, her dark eyes flashing with seriousness. Her warmth and humor always win out, however.

In the last eight years, since becoming a professional singer, Ms. Adams has performed in bars and hotel lounges in the west and midwest. She has played such cities as Kansas City, St. Louis, Phoenix, Seattle and smaller places like Cedar Rapids. This is her second appearance at the Michigan Inn. Wherever she performs, her show and style are the same.

"My whole show," she says, "is based on positive thinking. People go out because they want to feel good. That's why they go to movies and to bars. They want to put some fantasy into their lives. So, I like to get emotional with an audience."

Midway through one of her late-night sets, she introduces a song in this way, "This is a song I wrote to my folks explaining why I'm singing here tonight. It tells about the direction I took in life. If there is something you want to do, then do it. Maybe that career you've been putting off for a long time because you didn't think you could do it."

In the interview she says emotionally, "I like to get into talking with my audience. I've been saying the same kinds of things President Carter just started saying. Only I've been saying them for two years. The key, I believe, to a successful country is in the attitude of the people. And that means that we have to get our pride back. People have to learn to feel good with themselves. They don't always have to be entertained to feel good."

"We all need to settle back and relax; to appreciate everyday living just a little more. The only way to do this is through self-assurance."

"If I can help people do this through a song, then I feel I'm contributing something to our country. I know all of this sounds dramatic, but that's what I believe."

SHE ALSO believes that she is going to make it big as an entertainer. At least most of the time she believes this. Her goal since age 17 is to sing and act in a Broadway show. She greatly admires performers like Sammy Davis, Jr., and Liza Minelli who can put on class shows and demonstrate their versatility.

"I want to dance and sing and play. On Broadway, in Las Vegas and on TV. I like doing everything myself."

It was in her last year of high school in Yakima, Wash., that she decided on a career as a professional singer. Being the star of "Hello, Dolly" in the school musical did it.

"I had a taste of the stage and I was sure I wanted to sing and act for a living."

She quickly figured out how to get there. "I wanted to sing in a Broadway musical and so that means singing in bars. That's how you get there. If you have the strength to get through the night club routine, you can get through anything after that."

Oleta Adams was performing at an early age in Yakima. Her father was a Baptist minister and the family life was centered around the activities of the church.

"AS A CHILD, I was very busy. When I was 11, I was directing and accompanying four choirs. Then I would sing at PTA meetings, and as I became older I was going to service clubs to perform and then conventions."

All of this was fine with her family until at age 17 she wanted to sing in bars. That's where the song she wrote, and often performs in her show, comes in. The title is, "I Gotta Sing My Song" and it reflects two things about her and her feelings. She is thankful to her parents for what they have given her ("By the way, may I say thank you for the love you've shown me since I was born"), but singing is too important to sacrifice for the beliefs of her parents ("I'd be nothing if I couldn't sing my song").

She says that at one time she did feel that way. "I really thought at one time that I would be nothing if I didn't make it as a singer. My manager Lee Farrell has helped me get over that."

Lee Farrell was her voice teacher for many years and now travels with Ms. Adams as her personal manager and friend. "Lee taught me that there are a lot of things I can do if I don't make it. I can fix hair, which I'm good at. I can work with needlepoint. I can arrange music and I can always write songs for other singers. I'm good at saying things that other people are feeling but can't put into words."

Although she knows that singing in bars and lounges will lead to her ultimate success, it is not an easy life for a 26-year-old woman. "I don't like to be on the road constantly. Right now, I haven't seen my parents in a year. I don't even own an apartment. It's a lonely life. I have my house on my back. And, eight years is a long time to be trying to make it."

"MAYBE, EVEN with all of my talent, I sometimes wonder if I will be one of those people who have to accept less in life. Sometimes when I'm singing in a room and people are drinking and talking, I think, 'God, give me some sign, tell me if I'm going to make it so I can get through this night.'"

Marathon benefit to be a variety show

to midnight Aug. 24, still features Power Source band members Brian and Dean Boucher, Jim Richards and Dave Gamina as the opening and closing entertainment at the Kehrer VFW Post, 1055 Wayne Road south of Cherry Hill.

Live entertainment also will be provided by Benny and the Jets and Shadows of Country, belly dancers Sandy Ryba and her troupe, hula dancer Gail Linhart and by singer and guitarist Bill Kahler.

Pat Bova will spin records while the bands take a break.

Putting in an appearance at the marathon will be Detroit Express team members Eddie Calhoun and Sam Oates; television personalities Joe Glover, Harry Gallagher and Murray Feldman, who will present the evening news on location at the VFW Post; and Miss Westland, Denise Smith.

Magicians Mike Todoroff and Bill Kampert will perform for those attending the marathon. Kampert, who has performed on the Las Vegas circuit, will make balloon shapes to sell to children of all ages. He has 150 shapes in his balloon-making repertoire.

Mark Driscoll of WDRQ radio will broadcast live for 12 hours from the Harris-Kehrer Post.

Artist Sam Fields will be on hand to draw caricatures while Bishop Borgess Club clowns Claudia Heise, Kim Scherer, Annette Sandeen, Bridget Lapinski, Linda Fairchild, Shanna Nelson, Bary Burton, Debbie Franklin and Lori Stutsman perform.

For those adults who feel like getting high, traffic helicopter cop Pat Monks of WWJ radio will donate four two-hour rides for the event.

Ruth Hughes will iron patches on T-shirts sold during the marathon.

The event will include raffles, door prizes, food and dancing. Door prizes include a trip to Las Vegas.

All proceeds from the marathon will be turned over to Joe Glover on his Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Association Telethon. Last year the Westland event raised $3,000.

So far this year, the group has raised $2,000 at a 12-hour bingo marathon and hopes to up the total proceeds to $6,000 with Friday's event, according to Mrs. Bova, post vice-president and publicity chairwoman of the marathon.

OTHER BENEFITS FOR the Muscular Dystrophy Association include a carnival with performances by a gymnastics group from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday at Michigan Young World, 32503 Ann Arbor Trail between Merriman and Farmington.

Skateland West, 37550 Cherry Hill west of Newburgh, will sponsor a skate-a-thon from 7 p.m. to midnight Aug. 26 with all proceeds benefiting victims of muscular dystrophy and related disorders.

Concluding the season...

Meadow Brook Festival guests who will appear on the final programs of the summer season are from left, Barry Tuckwell, French horn; Louise Russell, coloratura soprano; and Gary Graffman, pianist. Tuckwell will appear with the Detroit Symphony on Thursday, Aug. 16. Ms. Russell will be on stage on Saturday, Aug. 18 when the Kenneth Jewell Choral joins with the symphony's chamber orchestra for Haydn's "Creation." Graffman will be the soloist along with Donald Green, trumpet for the Sunday, Aug. 19 pops concert. Neville Marriner will conduct all three concerts. Pavilion seats for the pops are sold out, but lawn tickets are still available.

Fred Merrill (center), convention director of the Society for the Preservation and Advancement of the Harmonica (SPA); Gordon Mitchell (left), first vice president, SPAH, and Pat Van Rossen demonstrate harmonicas that are the world's largest and the smallest. All three players are members of Harmonicas of Michigan. (Staff photo by Dick Kelley)

Harmonica players to gather

By MARK E. GALLO

Harmonica players are, by nature, a strong lot.

Traditionally a grossly underrated and underestimated instrument, the harmonica is too often shunted in the eyes of the public and music community.

If the Society for the Preservation and Advancement of the Harmonica (SPA) has anything to say about this second-class citizenship, things will change for the better. The world will come to know the intricacy and beauty of the instrument. Harmonica enthusiasts will come to the Detroit area to celebrate the harmonica in just a few weeks.

On Thursday-Saturday, Sept. 6-8, in conjunction with the fifth annual Michigan Harmonica Week, the Michigan chapter of SPAH, known as the Harmonicas of Michigan, will play host to the 16th anniversary convention of SPAH at the Georgian Inn in Roseville.

Bi-monthly meetings of the Harmonicas of Michigan are held at the Elks Club of Clawson on Big Beaver Road in Troy.

This year's special guest artist at the convention will be none other than cheerfully flamboyant Principal Pops Conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Chief Arranger of the Boston Pops — our own Richard Hayman, a harmonica virtuoso of the highest degree.

APPEARING AS master of ceremonies for the event will be the lesser known but legendary Stagg McMann. This is no small-time gathering for a handful of harmonica enthusiasts, but a major convention that will draw musicians from as far away as Sweden and Japan and all of the U.S.

The convention is the culmination of months of hard work and brainstorming by Harmonicas of Michigan members Fred Merrill, Jerry Clark and Gordon Mitchell.

The convention planners seem to have all bases covered. They've reserved the entire second floor of the Georgian Inn and have access to additional space at the Red Roof Inn, across the street, to house the conventioners.

They also have secured the use of a 200-seat ballroom at the Georgian Inn that will be utilized for workshops, seminars and just playing and socializing space, which is pretty much what will be happening Sept. 6-8.

The main event will be the Saturday night bash at Roma Hall of East Detroit. Open to the public, this 800-seat facility will provide an open bar, a sit-down dinner and dancing to a 15-piece band.

RICHARD HAYMAN will make his appearance with a harmonica floor show. Tickets are $25 in advance and $30 at the door.

Convention registration begins at 2 p.m. at the front desk of the Georgian Inn on Sept. 6. Saturday night's event runs 5:30 p.m.-1 a.m. Further information can be obtained from Convention Director Fred Merrill at 773-3594.

All harmonica enthusiasts and fans of plain old "good music" are being encouraged to attend the convention. This is a chance for harmonica players to hone their skills and for listeners to open their ears to the myriad of harmonica potentials.

The music will run a gamut of blues, country and great harmonica ensembles playing everything from classical to pop standards from the last 50 years.

Video equipment in weekend show

Detroit area videophiles will have the chance to view the newest, most advanced video home entertainment products at "Video Expo '79" Friday-Sunday, Aug. 17-19, at Video Alternatives' new East Detroit location at 21063 Kelly.

"Video Expo '79" highlights include:

- The new videodisc system from Magnavox.
- The next generation of portable color cameras and video tape decks.
- Life-sized, "home theater" color TV systems and miniature TV sets.
- New Pre-recorded video cassette feature movies.
- Programmable video cassette decks with up to six hours of recording time capacity.

Video Alternatives, Inc., sponsor of "Video Expo '79" has announced show hours: Friday Aug. 17, noon-10 p.m.; Saturday Aug. 18, 10 a.m. - 10 p.m., and Sunday, Aug. 19, noon-5 p.m. Admission is free.

Owners of VHS or Beta format video cassette recorders may bring their decks in for a free VCR test clinic during "Video Expo '79." Technicians from Nortronics Co. and Video Alternatives' Service Center will be on hand to run the clinic and give VCR maintenance advice.

Factor representatives from Advent Corp., Panasonic, Magnavox, RCA, Nortronics, Hitachi and other companies will be present to demonstrate their newest products and talk with the public about the newest trends in home video entertainment.

Advent Corp. representatives will show musical concerts on "Marriage of Audio and Video" system, which includes an Advent 760 six-foot diagonal screen color TV and selected Advent audio electronics and speakers.

THE LONG-AWAITED Magnavox videodisc system will be demonstrated by a Magnavox representative during "Video Expo '79."

Already on sale in Atlanta and Seattle, the Magnavox videodisc is tentatively scheduled for Detroit introduction in early 1980. Along with its videodisc player, Magnavox also will sell a large catalog of feature movies never before released for home use including titles like "Jaws," "The Sting" and "Animal House."

Institute of Arts exhibits drawings of U.S. painter

Drawings of the late Barnett Newman continue through Sept. 30, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Newman (1905-1970) was a leader among the Abstract Expressionist painters who brought American art into transatlantic prominence in the decade after World War II.

Organized by Brenda Richardson, curator of painting and sculpture at the Baltimore Museum of Art, the Newman drawings will also be seen in Chicago and New York before going on to Europe, where his paintings are widely known and collected.

Newman's "Be I" painting entered the modern collection of the Detroit Institute of Arts in 1976. It was purchased from his estate for $265,000, largely with funds contributed by W. Hawkins Ferry of Grosse Pointe.

The 81 drawings, made between 1944 and 1969, the year before his death, have been collected for the first time. Most have never before been exhibited.

In a 1962 interview, Newman himself expressed his position in regard to his drawings: "Drawing is central to my whole concept. I don't mean making drawings, although I have always done a lot of them. I mean the drawing that exists in my painting. 'Yet no writer on art has ever confronted that issue. I am always referred to in relation to my color.'

In the late 1950s, Ms. Richardson commented, Newman's art seemed diminishing in energy, the crisis intensified by the pressures of external events — physical illness, an almost total lack of recognition, financial problems. But he emerged triumphantly from these black years, Ms. Richardson said, with an astounding series of paintings and was considered to be at the height of his powers when he died on July 4, 1970.

Local guitarist aims for Hawaii

some of the more popular country, classical and standard tunes," he said.

LIKE MANY entertainers, Kahler says he is more relaxed on the stage than he is talking with people.

"I love to entertain. I feel at home in front of an audience but sometimes a little uneasy when talking to people person-to-person off stage."

Although he is currently living in Westland, his goal is to live and work in Hawaii.

"I like working in Michigan, but I guess like many people, Hawaii holds a charm that is hard to ignore."

"I'm having a good time here at Alexander The Great. The people are friendly, the food is good. In some places I've worked, people come just to hear the entertainer. Here they come to enjoy the food as well."

Phillip Levine speaks candidly about his work, himself and contemporary poets and has a special reverence for William Butler Yeats.

Read Chaucer, poet suggests

By CORINNE ABATT

A writer-poet like former Detroiters Phillip Levine answers only to himself. No one's standing over him with a big stick ready to bat him if he says something that might offend someone. He can be pleasantly honest, straightforward, occasionally use a four letter word and there are no complaints, only admirers.

And the 45 hand-picked college students invited to attend the Cranbrook Writers' Conference last weekend on scholarships were enjoying Levine. Without any sign of affectation, his conversation nicely sprinkled with impromptu humor, he spoke easily and informally.

Author of eight books of poetry in print about poetry and poets, the most recent of which are "Seven Years from Somewhere" and "Ashes," Levine is now at work on a book of interviews for the University of Michigan. Although he wouldn't promise when it would be ready for publication, he offered insight about himself by reading from his introduction. Even in his prose, the poetic phrase is present.

TELLING HIS AUDIENCE that he isn't the same hard drinking, hard-driving man he was at 22, he read from the introduction "If grass can grow, so can I."

Another incisive one-liner from the introduction was, "I'm an intensely political person, but a man without a party."

So much in so few words. Obviously because he was proud of it, he repeated the story of the person who told him, "You're the best poet in America."

Levine responded, "Poor America." Elizabeth Bishop, Levine, told his audience, is, in his opinion, the "best in America."

"She can write in any form," he said, singling out her use of villanelle (a sophisticated French form) as an example. He pointed out that Dylan Thomas used this same form for his familiar "Do Not Go Gently into the Night."

He said of Ms. Bishop, "She handles

'It will be time well spent finding out what your heritage is — anybody who's serious ought to go back to Chaucer.'

song forms so skillfully that she can make them sound like conversation."

He didn't agree with a student's quote from Robert Penn Warren that "young poets are diseased with surrealism." Levine said he didn't believe that was true anymore, but he added, "I have great respect for Robert Penn Warren."

In answer to the question about surrealism, he said, "Our poetry changes, for a while surrealism was fashionable."

He wasn't as kind to some of his other contemporaries. "I have lost my affection for Allen Ginsberg . . . Audre Rich stinks, they're just not great poems. I don't think she has much talent, she's a propagandist . . . Louise Glück doesn't know traditional forms, she ran out of gas."

AS FAR AS LEARNING traditional forms is concerned, Levine is obviously in favor of this for a serious poet. However, he said he has long since given up trying to make students who have never encountered poetry, learn forms.

"I can't say 'make a poem' to you when you've never seen one."

Then, he added with a knowing smile, "Besides, you've got a whole lifetime to become a poet."

To the writer's conference audience, however, many of whom are serious writers, he said, "It will be time well spent finding out what your heritage is — anybody who's serious ought to go back to Chaucer."

Citing William Butler Yeats as the all-time great, Levine said, "That's what I'm after — free verse form that resembles Yeats."

Levine, who teaches at California State University in Fresno, has won the coveted Marshall poetry prize.

Scottish pipers, dancers play at Bob-Lo Saturday

There are going to be a lot of stunned walleye fishermen in the lower Detroit River Saturday — but the sounds they hear won't be the death cries of mermaids.

More than 200 Scottish bagpipe players, dancers and drummers will vie for trophies and medals at Bob-Lo island Saturday in a noon to 6 p.m. competition.

THE DANCE competition is sponsored by the St. Andrew's Society of Detroit, which is celebrating its 130th anniversary this year. It'll feature the sword dance, the Sean Truibhas and the famous Highland Fling.

The fling is supposed to have been inspired by the prancing and rearing of wild stags, the dancer's upraised arms and hands, representing antlers. The sword dance was originated 1034 by King Malcolm Canmore, who killed a man in battle, lay his own sword over the slain enemy's and performed "a wildly spirited victory dance. Warriors performed the dance before battle in the belief that they would be safe from harm if their feet didn't touch the swords. Dancers today are disqualified if they touch the blades.

The Sean Truibhas dance's unusual name is derived from the Gaelic word for trousers — truibhas. In 1745, English law suddenly outlawed wearing kilts. Scots were forced to don pants, which they didn't like. The kicking movements of the dance are said to represent the desire to throw off the pants.

INDIVIDUAL bagpipe and drumming competitions will be held, and a dart throwing contest is sponsored by the Wolverine Dart Throw Association. The St. Andrew's Pipe Band will make special performances.

Tickets are available at Detroit-area Hudson stores and a Simpson-Sears in Windsor. Beverages, picnic facilities and various amusements are available at the island.

Some designers consider ecology

Last winter was a brutal. And who knows what we can expect next?

Sober thoughts are in the minds of many Americans. We know we can't all live in the sun belt — many of us wouldn't even choose to. And the sun belt didn't do so well either last winter, if I recall the weather reports in the South.

What are the prospects for more comfortable winters in the future? Winters free of fuel shortages and horror stories of escalating fuel costs that in themselves are chilling.

When are serious interior designers going to start researching the field of energy conscious design? What can be done through design to alleviate the ills we now face and endure? These ills have been brought about by generations of people who consumed energy without regard for the future.

A handful of interior designers and architects have been voicing their concern in this area for years.

A designer should know which or what type of drapery fabric or treatment should be used in a solar heated house. A designer should know what type of floor covering is best where radiant heating is involved. Have you thought about the psychological chill of huddling in a wrapper of a chrome and clear plastic chair? Is the lighting of a room designed for maximum glamor and minimum power consumption?

There is a wide open field out there for interior designers. Development of new products and techniques can help conserve our precious energy. Cooperation with behavioral scientists in studying the psychological effects of colors and textures, styles and materials as they relate to a homeowner's comfort with heat or cold, lightness and darkness should prove fruitful.

For designers, this is a challenge that could bring a bright and warm future for those interested. If you are creative, sensitive to your interior environment, and interested in architecture, furniture fabrics and the decorative arts, you might want to examine the possibility of a career in interior design.

The term interior designer, which implies the use of more comprehensive and professional skills, has been substituted for the term interior decorator. An interior designer is a trained expert who can convert ideas into reality. A designer starts with an idea and follows it through to completion. Often he or she works closely with an architect during the planning of a building. A designer is trained to visualize the completed room from the architectural background down to the last accessory.

Now, much more is expected of an interior designer than formerly. Successful interior decorating and design require knowledge, practice, and flair, and the trained designer can produce charming results with a surprisingly small budget.

A good designer will never impose his own tastes on the project. His purpose is to interpret what the client wants and to execute it in such a way so the final result reflects the personality of the client, not of himself. This is the most difficult and yet the most subtle task of decorating, but it spells the difference between the amateur and the experienced professional.

AN IMPORTANT POINT the interior designer must keep in mind is the constant use of self-discipline in carrying through a job. There is much temptation and with the abundance of everything from which to choose, there is the danger of creating a feeling of ostentation. A safe rule is that too little is better than too much.

Before beginning the job, a designer must find out all he can about his client's lifestyle. What are the likes and dislikes? How does the family live, entertain, what are the interests and hobbies? How much money can be spent?

To be a practicing interior designer, one should have completed a program at an accredited college or university that offers a degree in interior design, or have earned a certificate of graduation from a reputable design school with an emphasis on interiors.

He should have a period of apprenticeship in a good interior design studio, store, or work with an established designer.

Meadow Brook jazz: Something was missing

By JIM WINDELL

review

Thunder and ease. This describes the two halves of the Friday night jazz series concert at Meadow Brook Music Festival last weekend.

The thunder was provided by the Thundering Herd belonging to Woody Herman. After the intermission, Della Reese eased her way through a 40-minute set of popular songs that was over just as it seemed to be really warming up.

A pleasant concert with no real strain. The promise of excitement fell slightly short, however.

Part of the reason may have been the sudden dip in the temperature Friday. More effort was necessary to keep warm. Perhaps the audience-entertainer rapport and interaction was missing, with energies diverted to cuddling. But there were other possibilities.

WOODY HERMAN has a fine young troupe of musicians who have been together for several months without change now and that adds to cohesion and a tight big-band sound. Friday, the Herman band returned to the United States from a six-week tour of Europe that ended in Sweden.

When band members were playing at Meadow Brook it was approximately five o'clock in the morning for them. At times the fine edge one expects from both Woody Herman and his men seemed missing.

During the second half there could have been an exciting exchange between the band and Della Reese, but the Thundering Herd was muffled and relegated to being just a backup band for the singer. Herman did not appear on stage and it could have been any band adding orchestral support for Della Reese.

The opportunity for dramatic interplay was lost. The concert appeared short, with an easy-to-take but essentially dull, anticlimactic second half.

Herman's hour began and ended in a conventional manner. In between were some tasty bits that deserve mention.

THE CONVENTIONAL opener was "Four Brothers." Bob Belden, Gary Smulyn, Fred Tiberi and Nick Mitchell substituted for the original late 1940s sax section that originated this classic number.

"Early Autumn," another Herman biggie of some 30 years ago, was given a mediocre run through. By the third song, Herman turned to a more contemporary composition and helped the band to put some spark into its performance that at times seemed to be sleepwalking.

Corea's "La Fiesta" had some of the excitement that was intended, with Woody Herman's soprano sax cutting through the brass and the bass notes of Birch Johnson's trombone bringing it down from the dynamic buildup.

The versatility of the Herman band was aptly shown in a series of three songs. Faure's "Pavane" got a light, orchestral treatment in which textures and unusual sounds rather than pure swing were emphasized.

Frank Tibari's bassoon and Gary Smulyn's baritone sax alternated with flute and horns. Tibari arranged a version of "Caravan," the old Ellington standard originally written by trombonist Juan Tizol in 1937.

THE BASSOON of Tibari gave the melody an unusual but welcome change-of-pace sound. Birch Johnson helped give the well-worn song some new freshness, as did the soprano sax of Woody Herman.

The third song in this trio of updated arrangements was pianist Dave Lalama's arrangement of another Ellington composition, "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good" started with a Lalama piano solo that sounded Dukish at the start but soon veered off into a modern vein.

Smulyn joined Lalama at the microphone on baritone for the second, and after a rich ensemble section by the unison saxes, Lalama came back for a piano solo. After a chorus, other members of the rhythm section, drummer Bob Leonard and bassist Dave Larocca, picked up the rhythm. The three loped along in a comfortable groove, swinging until the full band finished off the tune.

"Caldonia," another old Woody favorite, gave Herman a chance for some showy clarinet work and a raspy, comic vocal before several energetic solos. Herman came back with a serious, straight-ahead clarinet improvisation that shows when he gets in the mood he can still be thrilling in his solos.

In the final number, a usual crowd pleaser taken from Aaron Copland, Herman scored with his sometimes surprising soprano sax work.
