Union wants school board to change stand

The teachers' union Monday night asked the school board to reconsider its rejection of the factfinder's recommendations and to clarify its position on binding arbitration.

The questions were asked in a presentation to the board by three officers of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association: John Ryder, president; Tom Cotner, vice president; and Derald Mc-Kinley, chief negotiator.

Ryder made it clear at the outset that the PCEA was not negotiating directly with the board or trying to circumvent the bargaining process.

Ryder also stressed that the PCEA's position on the compounding salary issue was not "a devious attempt to bargain upward from what we both had considered to be an agreement."

COTNER NOTED that neither side was "excited" about the settlement proposed by factfinder George Gullen nothing. Their advice to reject the fact-Jr. on Sept. 9.

"But the board voted to approve it and the association did the same when it returned to work. Afterwards, when the disagreement was discovered, the association negotiators were accused of dishonesty by the board's attorney."

It was at the union's request, Cotner added, that Gullen was asked to issue the clarification of his Sept. 9 recommendation.

After reading highlights from the three-page Gullen clarifica tion report, Cotner said: "When the board voted to reject that clarification in an aboutface move, we were appalled. Some have chosen to question the integrity of the board. I don't yet. But we do have some real doubts about the legal firm representing the board.

finder's clarification was a breach of good-faith bargaining because both sides had accepted the original Gullen report. The teachers deserve better."

In asking for the board to reconsider its rejection, Cotner concluded: "Let's put this matter to rest by making a decision in the best interest of the school district, and not at the advice of an outside attorney. There's more at stake here than just the difference over mon-

MCKINLEY ALSO asked the board to reconsider its Oct. 15 rejection of Gullen's clarification and asked whether the board had rejected binding arbitration as a means of settling the dispute.

(The PCEA had learned from the "Your decision to employ that firm board's bargaining team that the was a mistake - it has gained you school board wanted the appeal taken to an administrative law judge of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, MERC, rather than to binding arbitration.)

Tom Yack, board president, said the board has not ruled out binding arbitra tion as an alternative but feels there are other avenues which should be con-

McKinley then asked if the school board would refuse to pay the compounded salary in dispute regardless of any third party decision.

Yack said it was his understanding that if any third party ruled in favor of the PCEA position the school board would pay. No member of the school board objected to Yack's statement when he asked if other trustees held a different view.

Yack further commented that there may never have been a disagreement on the actual language concerning

Cost-of-Living Allowance (COLA) compounding.

"We did agree to the factfinder's opinion on Sept. 9 and wanted to follow it to the letter. Our position, which was made known, was that the percentage of increase was not to exceed those found in the factfinder's report - 9 percent the first year for those at the top of the scale, and 8 percent for all

"We didn't care, and don't care, how you slice it as long as the 8.5 percent is not exceeded. Therein lies the disagreement the parties have.

others; and 8.5 percent the second and "The board doesn't want to limit itself to binding arbitration because there are other methods which might be more just and quicker. There are a number of ways to reach conclusion on this difference and binding arbitration is just one method.

"We have not ruled out binding arbitration," added Yack, "but wish both parties would explore other avenues."

Yack then expressed the board's wish that both sides will honor the tentatively agreed upon contract until ratification is achieved. Yack added the board is paying teachers at the new rate as interpreted by the board and the board is honoring the new grievance section and other agreedupon language.

McKinley answered that the union has honored all other aspects of the tentative agreement as has the board.

Sometime within the next two weeks. tentatively on Nov. 9, both sides will meet with the MERC law judge on unfair labor practice charges and ask whether the compounding pay dispute will be considered.

Residents get breather on water bill payments to pay their water bills under a township board resolution demanded by residents faced with $100-$200 bills.

Canton board members unanimously approved the extension Tuesday night for all residential water customers. A 10 percent late penalty will be dropped for customers who have already received their bills and for those who will be billed Nov. 1.

Township board members also directed the administration to research means for reducing the impact of bills and submit its findings within 30 days.

Approximately 175 residents who live north of Ford Road attended Tuesday's meeting to demand more time to pay their bills, which are apparently averaging more than $100.

The residents were the first to receive bills which reflect a full quarter of water and sewer use at a higher, June 1 rate. Their bills covered the heavy water consumption period of June through August.

Residents who live south of Palmer received bills for the July through September period last week. Citizens who live between Ford and Palmer will receive bills for the months of August through October in November.

THE BILLS reflect a 35 percent rate increase approved by the Canton board last spring at the recommendation of

Homeowners will have 90 extra days the Seidman & Seidman accounting possibility of installing a separate

The rate increase covers higher charges which Canton must pay to the Detroit Water Board. The new rate structure also covers depreciation on the water and sewer system and interest payments on the township's $7.2 million sewer and water debt.

Supervisor Noel Culbert announced a proposal last week that would have abolished the June 1 rate hike and phased in the 35 percent increase over a one- or two-year period.

But finance director Mike Gorman told the board Tuesday night that the feasibility of Culbert's proposal is doubtful in light of new requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

The EPA requires communities to bill water customers for interest and depreciation in order to become eligible for federal water and sewer grants, Gorman said. Culbert's recommendation would charge customers for only a portion of interest costs and deprecia-

A resolution unanimously approved by the board directs the township administration to contact the EPA and determine if Culbert's proposal could be implemented.

The resolution also directs the administration to research other means for reducing the bills, including the meter for outside water use.

SEWER BILLS are currently based on water consumption. That method for tabulating the bills is based on the premise that tap water goes down the drain into the sanitary sewer system and back to the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Plant

But water used for lawns and other outdoor purposes does not enter the sanitary sewer system. Water that is not absorbed in soil enters the storm

"Why should I pay a sewer charge for watering my grass?" objected one resident at Tuesday's meeting.

Under the dual water meter system, sewer bills would be tabulated on the basis of indoor water use only. Other suggestions of residents and officials to reduce the bite of future

· The implementation of an equal payment plan to eliminate high bills for the summer months. Annual water bills would be estimated, and payments would be spread over all four billing

· Billing periods of two months instead of three months to reduce the amount of each bill.

· A rotating billing cycle among each of Canton's three water districts. Ledger-two residents - those who live north of Ford Road - receive water bills for the heaviest consumption period of June through August each year. The proposal would stagger the billing cycles through a one-time reduction in the billing period.

Gorman, Clerk John Flodin and the township's accountants have been instructed to study those suggestions.

Local man charged in restaurant run-in

A 32-year-old Canton man has been charged with a felony for deliberately striking a customer of the Roman Forum restaurant with his automobile Monday night.

Robert Hissong, 40, of Belleville, was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises following the 10:30 p.m. incident in the restaurant parking lot. He was released later that night.

Hissong told police that Eric Sturdy, of 1179 Heritage, deliberately hit him with his automobile after the two argued in the restaurant over Sturdy's alleged use of obscene language.

Hissong said he walked to Sturdy's table in the Roman Forum and asked him to talk more quietly, according to police. Hissong said that Sturdy left the restaurant first and waited for him in the parking lot.

Sturdy was arraigned on charges of felonious assault by means of a motor vehicle before 35th District Court Judge James Garber on Tuesday.

Garber entered a plea of innocence on Sturdy's behalf and released him on $5,000 personal bond. Examination has been scheduled for Oct. 29.

The felony charge carries a maximum four-year jail sentence.

Trustees want budget even tighter

from Canton's tight-fisted budget proposal for 1980 because of fears that building permit revenues will not meet

If the township board votes to reduce the budget which it must approve next Tuesday night, finance director Mike Gorman says at least three members of the building department will have to be laid off Jan. 1.

The $3.9 million proposed budget already falls some $260,000 short of this year's $4.1 million general fund because of a decrease in state revenue sharing funds and other monies. Trustees Robert Greenstein and Stephen Larson want anticipated revenues in the budget to be reduced by at least $121,000 more.

THEIR OBJECTIONS to the budget compiled by Supervisor Noel Culbert and finance director Mike Gorman is based on the premise that a slow-down in the township's decade-old construction boom will not pick up next year.

Goman and Culbert predicted that construction permits for 1,000 homes will be issued in 1980 to produce reve-

But Greenstein and Larson fear that

At least $121,000 could be sliced 1,000 new homes will not be built in Canton next year. Only 600 permits for new homes have been issued so far this year. Greenstein and Larson predict that no more than 750 homes will be built next year because of a continuing plummet in the state of the economy.

Gorman said revenues would be reduced by at least $121,000 if the trustees' projections are accurate. Construction permits support the building department, and Gorman said lay-offs would occur there.

Culbert favors keeping construction revenue projections at the 1,000-home level and reviewing the budget after the fiscal year begins on Jan. 1. He said building department employees would be laid off at the time the budget is reviewed, if construction activity falls below expections.

"If we're constructing a budget, let's be on the conserverative side." Greenstein said in the meeting hall packed with residents. "We're all of a sudden in a position where we're trying to generate 1,000 homes. Our budget is trying to push development instead of the general theory of this board to slow it

Greenstein also questioned a previous board decision to split the cost of paving Haggerty, between Joy and Warren, with the Wayne County Road Commission in order to spur the sale of township-owned industrial land on Haggerty.

The budget earmarks $125,000 for the paving project. Greenstein maintains that the person or corporation which purchases the land should finance the paving.

Gorman said the township's agreement with the road commission has not been finalized.

TUESDAY'S HEARING was scheduled as a public hearing on the 1980 budget proposal, but only one citizen addressed the issue.

Gary Roberts said a strict accounting system should be kept on the mileage of township cars used by employees. No records are kept on townshipfinanced gasoline or on the odometers of cars which employees take home. Also considered Tuesday night was a proposal for use of 1980 federal revenue sharing funds, which will total approximately $480,000.

Gorman has suggested earmarking $250,000 for park development and the purchase of park sites. Approximately $80,000 would be used to offset the cost of operating the Canton Police Department. The remainder would be used to purchase township vehicles and equip-

"I agree that purchasing parks is very, very important," said Greenstein. "But when we're entering a financially critical time, I wonder if we can afford $250,000 for parks."

Under the township charter, the operating and revenue sharing budgets must be approved by Oct. 31. The board has scheduled a special meeting for Oct. 30 to approve the budgets.

'Our budget is trying to push development instead of the general theory of this board to slow it down.'

Board adopts $34 million budget

After nine months work and numerous public hearings, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night formally adopted the operating budget for fiscal year 1979-80.

And with that long of a process, there really were no suprises when the school board approved the $34 million budget.

The operating budget is based on a tax levy of 35.26 mills ($35.26 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) for operation and 3.72 mills for debt pay-

This compares to the 1978-79 levy of 33.45 for operation and 5.17 mills for debt retirement.

With student enrollment up 4.8 percent over last year, Hoedel said, additional staff hired so far includes: 12 elementary, five middle school, and four high school instructors; 4.5 special education teachers; an elementary assistant principal; about 12 bus drivers; a bus mechanic; and a helping teacher for the talented and gifted program, among others.

Another expense related to student growth, Hoedel added, is the purchase of 17 new full-size buses and three mini-buses, of which seven are replacements for worn-out vehicles.

Jogger is injured by hit & run driver

A Livonia man has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident after a jogger was struck by a car on Ann Arbor Road Monday night, Wayne County sheriffs said. Mitchell Eidemiller, 27, was arrested at his Livonia home Monday by sheriffs investigating the hit-and-run accident involving Timothy Schroepfer, 32, of Canton Township. Eidemiller was released the following day pending further investigation by police.

No arraignment date was set. Schroepfer was hit about 7:30 p.m. while jogging on the south side of Ann Arbor Road, just east of General Drive in Plymouth Township. He was taken to St. Mary Hospital where he was listed Tuesday in stable condition in the intensive care unit. He suffered extensive leg injuries.

Schroepfer is employed at Ford Motor Co., Dearborn, in the Latin American Division. Police say his employers described him as "a young man with a promising career."

Police say a witness, Robert Brown of Novi, described the car that struck Schroepfer as a 1978 Oldsmobile. Police added that Brown followed the Oldsmobile east on Ann Arbor Road for about two miles after witnessing the accident. After securing the license number, he returned to check on Schroepfer. Schroepher was still lying near the road, undiscovered by passing Police traced the license number supplied by Brown to the Livonia man's house. According to police Brown said he saw two people in the Oldsmobile.

In addition to the hit-and-run charge, Eidemiller was charged with drinking while driving and possession of marijuana.

Scuba diving pastime extends through the fall

By DARLENE STINSON

October may seem like a strange time for a dip in a Michigan lake.

But Dave Beer, like other diving enthusiasts, doesn't think it's unusual at all to jump into water that's near the freezing mark and stay under for an hour or so.

Beer, who manages Tom & Jerry's Scuba Sports Shop in Canton Township, describes October and November "as the end of the 'hot' season for diving."

The divers are garbed in wet suits, of course, which keep them "reasonably warm," Beer says.

So, while others are bundling up against the brisk autumn wind. Beer is diving in lakes that are half covered with ice.

When ice completely covers the water surface, many engage in the hazardous sport of ice diving.

Beer, an 18-year-old Garden City resident, has not tried his hand at those types of dives yet.

The sport involves cutting a triangular hole in the ice and shoveling snow from an X-shaped area surrounding the opening. The lines, which are visible beneath the ice, lead the diver back to the hole as do ropes strung between the breathing apparatus. diver and his "buddies" on the surface.

BUT BEER ADMITS that diving even in hot weather - is not for everyone. The store he manages in the Kings Row Shopping Center at Warren and Lilley is not aimed at the average person on the street

Nonetheless, Beer says that diving is gaining popularity.

He began the sport at age 11 under the tutelage of a family friend, who is a licensed diving instructor.

"It's a different world," Beer said of the scenery beneath the surface of a lake or ocean. "You're in their world," he said, referring to the marine life.

Diving, however, is not a sport that the novice can easily jump into.

In order to rent scuba gear, divers must show certification from the YMCA or the Professional Association of Diving Instructors. The licenses are issued upon successful completion of a 36-hour diving course.

Divers can buy scuba gear, which includes a wet suit and breathing apparatus, without a license. But Beer says a complete outfit of average quality costs about $500 - a purchase which a novice rarely makes.

Tom & Jerrys' business is equally split between the sale and rental of all types of diving equipment, Beer said. The store also offers classes in scuba diving which are held in pools at Plymouth Canton High School or the Honey Tree apartment complex.

THE CLASSES are recommended even for those who plan to buy scuba gear, because of the potential dangers involved in the sport.

Scuba diving involves dives to depths of 60 feet or less with a wet suit and

Other types of dives include skin diving (to depths of 20 feet without equipment), snorkeling (just beneath the water surface with fins, mask and snorkel), ocean or commerical diving (to extremely low depths), and diving in caves, at night and under ice.

Beer said classes are recommended for those who wish to cave dive or ice dive. His store does not offer those types of courses.

Tom & Jerry's is currently offering four classes in scuba diving which meet two nights a week for four weeks. To graduate from the course and receive certification, students must pass a written examination, swim 12 laps of the pool, show proficiency in breathing techniques and successfully complete three dives in an Ohio quarry.

Beer said the trip to Ohio is scheduled until the quarry is covered with

Students must demonstrate knowledge of the proper amount of time to stay at various depths and the amount of time they should take to surface.

Ascending too fast or staying down too long can lead to high concentration of nitrogen in body tissues, a condition which can cause death.

According to Beer, instructors recommend dives no deeper than 60 feet for amateurs, because the risks increase at deeper depths.

MICHIGAN is generally regarded as the third best state in the continental United States for scuba diving because of the underwater scenery that the Great Lakes offer, Beer said.

Lake Superior offers the best clarity for scuba divers, while many ship wrecks can be found in Lake Huron, particulary around the Alpena area.

According to Beer, votes for the best scuba-diving state usually go to California. Florida is generally regarded as Tom & Jerry's, which was opened in Kings Row last January, is one of four scuba shops owned by Tom Dehring. Other stores are located in Dearborn Heights, St. Clair Shores and Utica.

Beer, who works alone at the Canton store, was employed as a restaurant dishwasher become coming to Tom & Jerry's where he combines his diving enthusiasm with work.

Terminally ill given help coping with own mortality

By ARLENE VANDERLEUN

One woman reaches back to youthful days in Europe during World War Il by reading "Diary of Anne Frank," a book about a Dutch girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp.

A man reminisces about a "rich," interesting life - facts which may be put on tape or in book form for others to share. Another person enjoys the beauty of fresh-picked flowers.

These people share two things in common: First, they are patients at Westland Convalescent Center, on Warren Road, west of Wayne Road. And second, they are considered "terminal." They are dying.

The reality of institutional medicine means schedules, routine and a certain lack of the personal touch. But these terminally ill persons are getting that personal touch, thanks to the volun- More recently, hospices have develteers of a "hospice" program which began a few weeks ago at the 230-bed

Under the plan, volunteers will be matched with terminal patients, in terms of interest and similarity of background. Volunteers then will visit them regularly and begin to create a more personal, friendly atmosphere where the terminal patient is "boss."

Only a few patients now are on the program, with more to be added later as they can be matched with volun-

"Hospice," which means a place for sick or poor is a concept which originated during the Middle Ages, as European monks cared for people who needed help-the sick, the poor and the dyoped in other areas--especially Great Britain--as a treatment system which focuses on easing pain and creating support for terminally ill patients and their families.

In 1971, the first American hospice was established in New Haven. Conn. Since then, the movement is mushroom-

National figures show that about 130 now are in operation, with many more being planned.

The heart of the hospice plan at Westland Convalescent Center is to create, whenever possible, a setting that reflects the needs of the terminally ill patient. That could mean homecooked meals or treats. visits from persons who don't see them as "patients," and a familiar at-

It isn't always necessary for terminally ill persons to be kept in a hospital, but "they need special care," explains Magdalene Jaeckel, coordinator of the convalescent center's budding program.

Besides the obvious need for medical care, there is a longing to be with people who "don't look at them as a patient," she added.

The program at Westland Convalescent Center currently is being offered only to patients. However, the center is working on plans to offer in-service training to area residents who have patients staying at home.

Those plans are expected to be completed in another month or so.

"This will be a community service," said Judy Gilbert, R.N., administrator for the nursing home. "This will help relieve (families). Not everyone is able to get a visiting nurse."

Mrs. Jaeckel praises the volunteers who donate time to work with patients on crafts projects, parties, etc. But she adds that most "shy away" from the terminally ill.

That's where Mrs.Jaeckel's small but enthusiastic band of volunteers come into the picture.

CKLW disc jockey Pat Holiday and some Halloween friends help Debbie cut the ribbon at the opening of the March of Dimes fun house at Northland Center. There are other fun houses at Eastland, Westland and Southland shopping malls. The fun houses are sponsored by Burger King, CKLW radio and are offered through the cooperation of the metro area malls and Kroger. All fun houses will be open through Oct. 31 from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and during regular mall hours on the weekend. Admission of $1 is charged.

Currently, the group numbers about 15. Most are female. Many currently or in the past have worked with terminally ill patients as nurses, aides, etc.

The group also includes a gardener and a nun. Others have known family members or friends who died of such diseases as terminal cancer.

Several are former students of Mrs. Jaeckel's seven-week class called "threshold" training, in which people explore their feelings about death, dying and grief. Mrs. Jaeckel gleaned her information by taking a course three years ago with Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, who is considered an expert in the study of death and dying.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Jaeckel, the volunteers come in about once a week and "spend a little extra time on things the (terminally ill) patients enjoy."

Some patients may prefer a joint Bible-reading session, while others want to quietly hold hands with a volunteer, reminiscing about their child-

While the program is being developed, the volunteers are meeting together in a series of sessions to gain confidence and to learn techniques to better understand the emotions of terminal patients and their families.

They also discuss ways of coping with their own feelings.

"Once they come to grips with their own mortality, they are very eager to work with terminal patients," adds Mrs. Jaeckel, 56.

Mrs. Jaeckel added that her own "inner reason" for working with the terminally ill originated in Germany and Austria, during World War II.

"I lost a fiancee," said Mrs. Jaeckel. And, while she was staying in Austria, her father died in Berlin. "Here are the people I loved so much, and I am somewhere else," she idded.

Jeckel, now of Dearborn Heights, married in Austria, and the amily later emigrated to the United States.

"My mother died very suddenly after we emigrated," she added.

She now says she feels a sense of reward" in "preparing" the terminaly ill, in helping them to "die well." Helping the volunteers, and leading

FISH is an organization of volunteers who perform tasks such as driving persons to hospitals for treatment, cleaning homes of persons who are ill, collecting clothes for needy families, etc.

Mrs. Maxwell says the FISH hospice group has 50 volunteers helping to 'ease the burden" of about 25 Oakland County families with terminally ill pa-

She also praised the Westland Convalescent Home volunteers as "warm, caring persons."

"The only prerequisite is to be a caring person - like a friendly neighbor," she added. "Most (patients) know they are terminal (but) not all want to talk

Geake cites funding need

How to deal with drug addicts: Treat or imprison?

By JACKIE KLEIN

"Narcotics is the dirtiest crime going. When a junkie is high and feels no pain, he will kill in a minute for a fix and forget the next day."

That's the way Sgt. Patrick A. Bleske, Detroit narcotics officer, told it during a drug abuse program last Thursday sponsored by VFW Ray Dunham Post 2645 in its Southfield Headquarters.

While Bleske took a hard-line "put 'em in jail" approach to the drug problem, Jerry Jaster, director of youth services for the Southfield Human Resources Department, talked about counseling, educating and informing kids about drugs with no scare tactics.

James Therriault, VFW State of Michigan Drug Abuse Chairman, said posts on all levels are conducting drug awareness programs in elementary, middle and high schools.

State Sen. Robert Geake, a Republican whose district includes Livonia. Redford, Northville and Plymouth, said the two main interests of legislators are law enforcement and public health.

"Funding for drug education and public health in general is inadequate," he maintained. "That's one reason we depend on volunteer programs like the one sponsored by the VFW."

Bleske, who's been in the Detroit Police Department narcotic section for nine years, said he was involved in the arrest of Frank Usher of Southfield in connection with the drug-related slayings of three persons whose decapitated bodies were found in Detroit July 18.

USHER, Bleske said, has been in the narcotics business for 15 years and is - tion in humans, pets, livestock and labconsidered the drug chieftain of east side Detroit. The murders were the result of territorial disputes over narcot-

"There are about 50 junkie doctors in the Detroit area," Bleske contended "They should lose their licenses and be thrown in jail but professionals don't

Fertility drug use questioned

The drug, human chorionic gonadotropin, or HCG, has for many years been the drug of choice to induce ovulaoratory animals, noted Professor W. Richard Dukelow, director of the MSU Endocrine Research Unit. But labora-

No similar tests have been conducted on humans or other primates "but this has at least raised the yellow flag of caution," said Dukelow. "And it is certainly an indication we should use no more of the drug than the minimum needed to induce ovulation.'

NOW DUKELOW has determined the minimum effective dose levels of HCG needed by one type of primate, the squirrel monkey. A report on his findings is published in the Oct. 12 issue of "Science," the journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Realtors say now is still the time to buy houses

Editor

It is rare that we are able to have bestowed upon us such "enlightening" journalism as that produced by Tim Richard on Oct. 11. In the article, "Contradicting the Realtors," Mr. Richard sets the stage by stating the obvious reasons why people enhance their investment by acting now, as opposed to later. He then squares off and estab-

Mr. Richard, we accept your ability to write, but "sensationalism." in a time when we all must re-evaluate our wants and needs, is a misrepresentation of facts to your readers.

For the past year National Bank of Detroit managers and employees have been stashing away cash in money bags for their contribution to the Plymouth Community Fund. This week Robert K. Barbour, vice-president and regional director of the Metro West Regional Banking Center, reached high above the safe deposit boxes to turn over the designated corporate gift to John Czubaj, campaign chairman, and to Daisy Proctor, business division chairman. Czubaj reminds residents that the easiest way to give is to designate the Plymouth Community Fund as a check-off for payroll deductions. The NBD contribution was $2,750 for the 1980 campaign. rates, local house buyers are turning from conventional mortgages to alternate methods of house financing.

A report of September existing house sales from the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR) indicates a shift to VA mortgages and land contracts.

In September 1978, Veterans Administration (VA) mortgages were used by only 2.9 percent of buyers and land contracts by 5.6 percent. A year later, sales by WWOCBR members indicate 12.1 percent of buyers used VA mortgages and 10.7 percent land contracts.

"MORE SIGNIFICANTLY, these types of financing are being used increasingly to purchase higher priced suburban homes," said John Cole, WWOCBR president.

"Last year, it was highly unusual to help process a VA loan on a property above $40,000. This September, 12.1 percent of homes sold by our members in the $50,000-$60,000 range had VAbacked financing as did 11.3 percent in the $70,000-$90,000 range.'

Cole said the increased use of VA loans first showed up in June and has climbed from a 4.5 percent figure then to the 12.1 percent of last month. "We also have seen similar patterns

Faced with record high interest emerging with sales by land contract," he added. "They have climbed steadily since May and their percentage of use has about doubled in the higher priced home ranges since that time."

ELIGIBLE VA house buyers like such mortgages because it allows them to move in with payment of little more than closing costs and a government set interest rate, currently 10.5 per-

Sellers, on the other hand, dislike the financing instrument because it requires them to pay the lender a certain amount (points) to make the loan compatible with conventional terms.

"Last year when the market was strong and mortgage funds in good supply, we had no difficulty finding qualified buyers ready to accept conventional mortgage terms," Cole said.

"This year with less mortgage money available and a softend market for homes, sellers who must, or want to, move their property may have to accept alternate forms of financing, even it it means payment of points to the

"HOWEVER, WE find that, knowing they will have to pay points in accepting VA-backed financing, such sellers are remaining fairly firm on the price asked."

County searching for funds...

By TOM LONERGAN

Reduction of county services to four areas - the jail, youth home, morgue and General Hospital in Westland was ordered this week by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Faced with no money in the county general fund to pay some 4,825 employees, the board voted 15-6 Tuesday to lay them off. Half could be layed off indefinitely.

About 1,200 employees would be called back immediately to maintain prisoners at the jail, juveniles in the county youth home and D.J. Healy Center and staff the medical examiner's office and a vastly reduced hospital

Another 1,200 may be called back to staff the clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner, prosecutor and Board of Commissioners offices at reduced levels.

THOSE 2,400 employees called back will be asked to accept promissory notes rather than the usual payroll

The county, which will end the budg-

deficit, didn't meet last week's payroll for half of its employees and says it can't meet the payroll for the other half due Friday.

Wayne County Sheriff's Department employees and those at the hospital will experience their first "payless payday" Friday.

WESTERN WAYNE commissioners supporting the massive layoffs and reduced services included Board Chairman Richard Manning, D-Redford, Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, R. William Joyner, D-Plymouth, and Thomas Presnell, D-Westland.

Layoff notices may be sent to all county employees as early as Friday, provided the county board's action is not held up for reconsideration. Any commissioner who voted for the plan could file for reconsideration. Since reconsideration would take 18 board votes, county officials aren't expecting the manuever.

Because of union contract seniority and "bumping" procedures, all county employees will be layed off, even though up to half may be called back et year with at least an $18.2 million immediately. The county has 29 separate contracts with various unions.

The contracts require at least two weeks' notice of layoffs.

NOT AFFECTED by the cutbacks is the Wayne County Road Commission, which has 1,325 employees. The road commission's budget is primarily funded through state gas and weight taxes.

Also operating at full level will be the county public works department, with an estimated 150 employees. The department operates on its own revenue generated through water and sew-

County General hospital officials face cutting the in-patient capacity from 144 to 100. The county board's action would also close the Westland hospital's out-patient clinic, which treats an estimated 500 patients daily. The emergency room would remain open.

Many of the hospital's 1,300 employees face layoffs, but hospital officials Wednesday couldn't say how many.

The hospital generates an estimated $800,000 a week for the county general fund, which will be reduced greatly with the service cutbacks. The $800,000 is from third parties like Blue Cross Blue Shield, federal Medicare and Medicaid and private insurers which reimburse the hospital for in-patient care.

MANNING SAID the county has been negotiating with four of Detroit's six major banks to finance promissory notes for employees.

"The banking community is ready and willing to come to the aid of Wayne County at this time," he said.

The recalled employees could redeem the notes at banks which participate in the financing. Although the banks have not yet agreed with the promissory note plan, Manning said: 'it's not an insolvable problem and we can work it out within two weeks.'

The Board of Commissioners also unanimously agreed again to ask the state Municipal Finance Commission (MFC) to allow the county to borrow against next year's tax revenues.

The MFC in September refused the county permission to borrow $22 million. The county will ask the MFC at its Tuesday meeting in Lansing for permission to borrow $12 million.

...Courts decide where they'll go

A court order may force Wayne County to pay both its court employees and some 4,000 union-represented general fund employees.

Both issues could be decided in two separate court cases scheduled for hearings today in Wayne County and Macomb County circuit courts.

The financially strapped county, which didn't meet last week's $2.3 million payroll for 3,350 county workers, was ordered earlier this month not to spend incoming revenues until $1.6 million is accumulated for operation of the county's four court systems through Nov. 30. That order came from chief Circuit Court Judge Richard Dunn.

AT A show cause hearing Wednesday before Dunn, called by the judge because his order was violated, the county won a change of venue in the case to Macomb County Circuit Court.

Dunn granted a request by the counv's chief lawyer. George Cross that Dunn and the 34 circuit court judges be disqualified from hearing the case because of their personal interest in the Cross, of Livonia, also requested the case be heard in a "neutral forum."

So today, before Macomb Circuit Judge George Deneweth, county officials were expected to show why it violated Dunn's order by not paying most court employees last week. The county is expected to argue that it can't meet the order because its general fund is broke and it is legally barred from using restricted account money such as special jail millage and state and federal grant funds for the

THE AMERICAN Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which represents most county workers, is seeking an order from Circuit Court Judge Irwin Burdick that all county expenditures be frozen until its members are paid. The majority of the employees not paid last week are represented by AFSCME.

On Tuesday, Burdick recessed a hearing on AFSCME's request until 2 p.m. today so union and county lawyers could determine if it was legal for county employees to be paid out of the jail millage account.

The jail millage, for a new jail in downtown Detroit, was approved by voters three years ago.

The county had transferred $7.6 million in jail millage revenues to the general fund earlier this year to meet ex-

Elizabeth Taylor is not only the queen of Hollywood. She is also the queen of the diet yo-yos. According to a recent report, Ms. Taylor checked into a diet spa weighing 155 pounds. Before leaving the spa she had lost 20 pounds. The question was, "Would she keep the weight off?" Isn't that everyone's problem? The proof is in the pudding. It seems that at a recent bash she was spotted leaving all the goodies behind and eating only the seafoods, vegetables and assorted health foods. Maybe she's serious about it.

The key to her weight loss (and keeping it off) wasn't the magic of the spa. It was a readuction of calorie intake (she ate about 600 calories a day) and an increase in physical activity. It is reported she jogs about four miles a day.

The key point in the issue? Not even Hollywood actresses with all kinds of money and opportunities can lose weight any easier than we can. It still takes the willpower to say "no," and participation in activities designed to burn off calories - exercise in some form.

ANOTHER STAR, Henny Youngman has some choice dieter's jokes. For example:

"My wife is a light eater. As soon as it's light out, she starts eating.

"My wife keeps going on interesting diets. The lastest one required she eat lots of bananas and coconut. Did she lose weight? No, but she can sure

"My wife is always eating strange things when she diets. Now she is eating Limburger cheese and garlic. You must stay your distance from her. That's exactly what she wants. From a distance she looks thinner.'

Tipping the Scales

HAVE YOU NOTICED the number of places the expression, "lo-cal" is being used?

In many areas, it really has nothing to do with food. For example, an advertisement for a new home being built tells you their house is lo-cal because it doesn't gobble up energy. It seems it has many solar energy features.

Another lo-cal add comes from an airline ad. It's low-Cal because of its special air fare to California. And, finally, there's the full-page ad shouting that you, too, can lose 1,000 pounds of ugly fat if you buy that particular automobile - it's 1,000 pounds lighter than most autos on the market to-

FOUND A GREAT new item for popcorn lovers. My experience with dieters seems to have a universal thread - many of them love salty snacks, such as popcorn, potato chips, etc. Well, there is a popcorn cooker on the market now that uses hot air to cook the popcorn. You don't use oil or butter in the cooking process, so you eliminate many calo-

NANCY AUSTIN

What a great advantage. A cup of cooked popcorn has only 23 calories. But if you cook that same cup in butter or oil, that same cup goes up to 68

If you then pour melted butter over the top, add 100 calories for every tablespoon added.

Called the Hot Air Popcorn Popper, it's available at J.C. Penney for about $30.

Plymouth - Past & Present How auto dealers differ

By Sam Hudson

(Conclusion)

As might be expected, the Chevrolet dealership in Plymouth which Ernie Allison took over in 1922, and the one Lou LaRiche presides over today, are considerably different in many aspects.

When Allison began selling cars in Plymouth, Chevrolet had only four or five models in its line. Today, there are more than 30 different models in Chevy passenger cars alone.

Like many dealers - and some of the public - LaRiche believes there are too many models and too many color choices in modern automobiles.

TODAY'S CARS, with air-conditioning, superchargers, and other sophisticated equipment (unknown in the 1920s) are considerably more complicated than the ones Allison sold.

"It is not easy to get good mechanics who are skilled at handling all phases of the highly developed equipment that is part of the cars we now are selling," says LaRiche.

And today, it takes a lot of money to start up a dealership.

"The companies want their dealers to have modern facilities. Land is at a premium. Interest rates are at their highest. Construction costs are inflated. And consumerism was never stronger. We have to work harder than ever in our attempt to please everybody." When Ernie Allison started his dealership, his territory was extensive. In the early days he sold cars almost as far as the outskirts of Detroit. Today, Lou LaRiche's "area of responsibility" is confined to Plymouth, Canton, Northville and Livonia.

At its peak, the Allison car agency employed about 50 people. Today, LaRiche has about 75 employees on his pay-

ALLISON RECALLS that the most automobiles his agency ever sold in a single day was eight.

A new model was due from the factory and he asked his staff what they were going to do with the eight cars still on the sales floor.

"Sell them," they responded. By 11 p.m. that night all eight cars had been sold.

The most cars the LaRiche agency has every sold in one day, including new and used, is about 40.

LaRiche says the best-selling car in the Chevrolet line today is the 1980 Citation, or "X-car," a front-wheel drive compact. There is a waiting list for the new Citations to come from the facto-

One complication that LaRiche has to face is a modern one: the oil squeeze and the sharp increase in the price of gasoline.

"Because of the gas situation," says LaRiche, "buyers are hesitant. They are confused. They don't know whether to buy a small or a large car.

"Some dealers have suffered because of this but, fortunately for us, we are located in a good suburban growth area, and have continued to see our business increase.'

Asked whether he would rather have been a dealer in Allison's day, LaRiche hesitates before answering. Then: "I like the business today because cars are easier to drive and we have more models to offer. But I think I would have also liked the old days when the 'classics' were being offered. They certainly were attractive, and the quality of the cars built in those days is hard to equal today."

IN RECENT YEARS, LaRiche has been able to attract young people as Formerly they shied away from the auto business "because the hours were very long. At one time we were open every day of the week and every night.

"In recent years, dealers in the Detroit metropolitan area have agreed to close on Saturdays. That policy has helped us to attract competent young employees who would not have considered working in a dealership before."

What advice would LaRiche offer to a youngster whose amibition is to be an automobile dealer?

"Try to get part-time employment at a dealership. Go to an automotive-oriented college, such as the Northwood Institute in Midland. If that is not possible, take business and sales classes in college.

"And, as in most things, practical experience is the best training for a person who aspires to own a car dealership."

In addition to being an active member of the Plymouth Rotary Club, LaRiche is a member of the local Elks Club and several car dealers' associations.

This year he is president of the Detroit Chevrolet Auto Dealers' Association.

Although his business keeps him busy, he finds time for an occasional game of golf at Meadowbrook Country Club where he "manages to break 100." He also likes to work in his garden and he and Gail like to travel. Many of their trips abroad have been at Chevrolet's expense as a result of his agency's standing in sales contests.

When I was writing this article I got them both together to get a photo -Ernie Allison, the Canadian boy of Scotch-English parentage who didn't start out to be an auto dealer, and Lou LaRiche, the son of an Italian emigrant who knew from the start that he wanted to be a Chevrolet dealer.

Allison, trained at the factory in payroll work, and LaRiche, who was weaned in the car agency business by his father and brothers.

Allison, age 94 and long since retired from selling cars, and LaRiche, age 48, and in the prime of his business life.

Mobile home owners unite to garner support

Two busloads of mobile home owners are scheduled to descend on Lansing today to make their problems known to the powers that be.

The group wants better enforcement of regulations concerning mobile homes; a rent control board set up to govern trailer park rents; and a state public hearing on the possibility of investigating the problems which the mobile home owners feel exist at trailer parks.

Many of the people who are going to Lansing are residents of Royal Holiday or Holiday Estates mobile home parks in Canton Township. Residents of the Holiday Estate park were especially instrumental in the drive to get mobile home owners actively working to solve their complaints.

The show of unity that is expected will do more toward getting trailer park ordinance violations and individual consumer problems solved than the actual presentation of complaints.

Too often, mobile home owners, as well as apartment dwellers, are considered slightly second class by politicians because the groups aren't considered to be active voters.

Homeowners, with the solid backing of a mortgage, often are seen as the group to woo because they are property taxpayers and have more interest in the political scene.

Mobile home owners and apartment dwellers are not necessarily more transient than those who own traditional houses. They pay taxes along with everyone else.

But there has seldom been much cohesive lobbying from either group, and that's why it has been easy to ignore them.

If hundreds of people who live in mobile home parks join forces to make legislators aware of their concerns, they are far more likely to get action. It's like the old story of the man who clubbed his mule in the head saying, "First you have to get its atten-

Unfortunately, in that situation, there are few options, giving the mobile home owner meager ammunition with which to fight.

Perhaps the visit to state officials will bring greater awareness of the plight of the mobile home owner. If it accomplishes nothing else, the residents of area trailer parks will at least have learned the value of unity. We wish them luck

Al's scrip saved Detroit

When the public prints carried the news the other morning that Wayne County was broke and that employees might have to be paid in scrip, many folks shuddered in fear.

Just the thought of being paid in paper that was not negotiable at the bank caused many of The Stroller's co-workers to comment, "Wouldn't that be awful - getting so-called money you couldn't spend.

Well, being a survivor of the days of the great depression in the early '30s. The Stroller recalls that it was the use of this "paper" money that paved the way for one of the most interesting chapters in the history of Detroit and, indirectly, brought about our present freeway system and the urban sprawl.

IN THE DARKEST hour of the depression, The Detroit Free Press, where The Stroller toiled, announced three 10 percent pay cuts in a week. The following week, we got the news that we would be paid — half in cash and half in scrip that the company hoped would be negotiable some time in the Things were in turmoil. There arose a question of how the city could handle its finances and what the future really held for the working man.

Finally, it was decided to set up a special group to handle the city's scrip and little Albert Cobo, who was the financial wizard of the Burroughs Co. on Second Avenue, was drafted for the job.

So well did he handle it that when the depression drew to a close, he was assigned a desk in the city treasurer's office and later took over as treasurer. And by this time he had come to be recognized as a leader and later in 1949 had no trouble being elected mayor.

LITTLE AL, as he was affectionately known, didn't wait long to swing in to action. One of his first moves was to appoint what he called the Detroit Tomorrow Committee and gave it the job of designing a new convention hall and the entire civic cen-

As the story unfolded, when he took over the mayor's chair he found plans for an expressway through the city toward the north.

"Are these plans any good?" he asked. When told that they were, he countered, "Then why don't we use them?" Told that there were no funds, he pointed out to the state Legislature that the expressway could be built and financed with revenue bonds, And he specifically pointed out that the city's share of the tax and weight money could be used as revenue to back up the bonds.

Little Al won his point. And before long the expressway, now known as the Lodge freeway, was built and ran from downtown to Eight Mile Road and later up through Southfield.

AND IT WASN'T long until the Detroit Tomorrow Committee approved plans for the convention hall that now bears Cobo's name. It is because Detroit now has that spacious hall that the city is now one of the leading convention centers in the country and will host the Republican national convention next summer.

The convention hall and arena were the pride and joy of the little Mayor. That's why the buildings now are known far and wide as Cobo Hall and Cobo Are-

When they were finished and the freeway opened, he was told that they would be magnets to draw people down town. The Stroller recalls having said to him one day, " It will now be much easier for people to get down town.'

Cobo smiled and answered "and it will be just as easy for them to get out of the city.'

Super-inflation in housing

Last week there was a demonstration against oil company profits because oil prices have led the inflationary spiral.

But right behind oil, month after month, has been housing. Nationally, while the consumer price index has been rising from 7.7 to 13 percent, the price of new single-family houses has jumped 17.2 percent, according to government statistics I gleaned from Time Magazine.

The effect of new housing inflation doesn't stop there because it sucks the price of existing housing upward with it. Unlike factories and machinery, which depreciate in value with age, existing housing prices continue to rise.

A COMPANY CAN absorb increases in the prices of materials and labor provided its productivity (output per work-hour) is increasing. But that is no longer happening in the U.S. — quite the reverse.

From 1947-77, real output per work-hour expanded at an annual rate of 3.5 percent a year. But in the 1967-77 period, productivity increases slipped to 1.6 percent, dropping 0.3 percent in 1978. Productivity actually decreased 3.3 percent in the first half of 1979.

Now get this quote:

"This slowdown has not occurred in every part of the economy. The mining and construction industries - particularly sensitive to regulatory requirements - have been especially hard hit. Mining productivity is down 23 percent; construction 19

"By contrast, between 1971 and 1976 the hosiery industry achieved annual productivity gains of 11 percent - largely resulting from advanced technology." (Italics mine).

This indictment comes not from a Nader, a Fonda or a Hayden but from the National Association of Manufacturers, the bluebloods of free enterprise.

WHY ARE PRICES increasing and productivity declining in construction generally and housing particularly?

The NAM blames government regulations. Builders tell me the same thing — building codes, more inspections, delays. A house that used to go up in three months or so now takes nine months.

Builders also blame material costs. Their association announced last year that many builders are even writing contracts allowing them to pass on material cost increases between the time of signing and the time of completion.

That's only the supply side of the housing ques-

ON THE DEMAND side are the inflation psychology and the availability of money.

Otto Eckstein, nationally known economist and former member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has calculated that 12 to 14 percent — at least — of U.S. housing purchases are made not because people need houses but because they speculate that they can sell them at high profits, Time says. In a report on the spending rush on tangibles (Oct. 15), Time adds:

"The real risk of the tangibles scramble is the impact that it has on the economy as a whole. By encouraging an attitude of buy now before the price goes up, panicky consumers are making further and even steeper price increases virtually inevitable."

It's standard procedure to blame federal deficits for pumping money into the economy, in effect fueling the fires of inflation with gasoline. And certainly the federal government needs to get its fiscal

But there are growing comments that the American people, business, sellers and workers must share in the blame.

Another example is that in the taxable income bracket of $45,800 to $60,000 the effective rate of 12.5 percent interest is 6.38 percent.

Thirdly, Mr. Richard blames the housing industry for rising property taxes. Well, I sell new houses for builders and I buy advertising from the Observer. You both use exactly the same reasons for raising prices and that is - labor and material cost increases are being passed on.

Mr. Richard does gain credibility one one point that there has to be savings to loan on investments. But there must be a balance. I would not agree that the savings and loans are offering any terrific deals because they are not keeping up with inflation

It took me a week to cool down after reading Tim Richard's column in the Observer on what Realtors do and say.

Enclosed is a flyer I use in my every day business which tells who we are and what we do. This could also be used to pacify my fellow Realtors who are thinking and talking about an advertis ing boycott. Your best bet would be to publish my article on a Thursday edition.

"Your local Realtor moves with great power, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year, moving families from one house to another.

Realtors know how much that house down the street sold for, regardless if it was sold by owner or Realtor. They know who's who in town, where the best homes are for the money and also, how to get you more money for your home. Realtors know where to shop, where to eat, who's loaning money and for how much. They know which lawmaker can help you, and which one can hurt. Your Realtor is a walking Real Estate Encyclopedia of Information.

Most families move only four or five times in their lifetime. One of the four basic traumas in people's lives is moving. A good Realtor knows this and respects your emotions.

Realtors can earn you 9.5 percent more for your home than you can. Most brokerage fees are 6 percent to 7 percent in this area. That means you earn even more money and he does all the work.

What with continuing inflation and obvious tax advantages of home ownership, residential realty is today's big bargain, and a lot of people know this

More than 3.9 million resale transactions took place in 1978, bettering the 1977 record of 3.6 million. I believe your best friend for helping you to make more money, save our valuable time, and be your helping hand through a traumatic experience is your ever present, smiling, friendly, knowledgeable Realtor.

Why snow shoveling can be such a killer

QUESTION: Why is snow shoveling considered particlarly dangerous for individuals with a history of or at high risk for heart disease? Can the potential dangers be reduced?

Aside from the simple hazards of frostbite and low back strains and sprains, snow shoveling can be deadly. During the cold winter months, news stories like the following are not uncommon.

"Nine men from the county collapsed and died yesterday while clearing snow near their homes. The deaths brought to 13 the number of weatherrelated fatalities since frigid air and heavy snow slashed into northern Ohio Tuesday."

The associaton between snow shoveling and heart attacks or sudden death is not coincidental. Snow shoveling represents an extremely strenuous activity requiring seven to nine times the resting energy requirements for loads weighing between 12 and 14

For the person who is not physcially fit and unaccustomed to strenuous activity, these levels of energy expenditure may require maximal or supramaximal efforts.

THE STRAIN of snow shoveling is further aggravated by numerous facts. Among them are the reduced mechanical efficiency associated with upper extremity efforts, superimposed isometric (static) exercise, breath holding, and the inhalation of or exposre to cold air.

These factors, singly and collectively, create a disproportionate heart rate and blood pressure response to effort, drastically increasing the demands of the heart for blood and oxygen.

In contrast to isotonic or rhythmic exercise, isometric straining, often in combination with breath holding, increases resistance to blood flow and restricts the amount of blood returned to the heart. Finally, inhaling cold air may result in a reflex spasm or a temporary narrowing of the heart's own blood vessels (coronary arteries).

In the presence of an already narrowed coronary circulation, these manifestations may lead to ischemia (lack of oxygen to the heart muscle), perhaps with chest pain or irregular and possibly dangerous heart rhythm disturbances.

SEVERAL GENERAL and specific recommendations are offered:

1. Elderly individuals or those with a history of heart disease simply should not shovel snow. Get someone to do it for you.

2. The older you are, particularly over the age of 40, the more you should pace yourself. Adopt an interval or work-rest approach.

3. Sudden strenuous exertion may result in excessive strain on the heart. Warm-up by beginning to exercise gradually. It may be desirable to warm up indoors in some instances.

4. Lift small loads more often, rather than large. heavy loads

5. Use a short shovel with a small scoop.

6. Wear a cold weather mask or scarf to avoid face and neck exposure to cold air, in inhaling it.

7. Avoid eating large meals, or coffee, tea, or colas - before or after shoveling.

8. Abstain from alcohol or tobacco before and after shoveling. 9. Place this label on your home shovel: WARN

ING: USE OF THIS INSTRUMENT FOR SNOW REMOVAL MAY BE HAZARDOUS TO YOUR HEALTH.

House limits candidates' spending, credit

Here's how area U.S.Congress members were recorded on major roll call votes Oct. 11 through Oct. 17.

HOUSE

SPECIAL-INTEREST MONEY: By a 217 to 198 vote, the House adopted an amendment limiting the campaign contributions a House candidate can receive from special interests to $70,000 every two years. Such money usually is provided through political action committees (PACs). Of the 435 House members, about 52 received more than $70,000 in PAC contributions during the 1978 campaign. Hundreds of business and labor PACs are registered with the Federal Election Commission. In return for financial support a PAC usually expects a congressman to legislate according to its desires on certain issues.

This amendment also reduced from $10,000 to $6,000 the maximum contribution a PAC can make to a candidate for a primary and general election campaign. It was attached to a Federal Election Commission bill later passed and sent to conference in the Senate.

Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., a supporter, said that "left unrestricted, PAC money will become a predominant force in the democratic process, which, in effect, would render the process undemocratic.'

Rep. Mendel Davis, D-S.C., an opponent, said the amendment wrongfully attacks "constitutionally protected activity, such as free spending by indivduals and groups to promote and support their own candidacies or

Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, voted "nay."

Pursell, Bonior, Ford, Brodhead and Blanchard voted "yea." Broomfield, voted "nay."

OIL PRICES: By a vote of 135 to 257. the House refused to reimpose price controls on the U.S. crude oil from already-discovered wells.

In June President Carter began the gradual removal of price controls in an attempt to increase domestic oil production and cut consumption. The attempt to resume controls appeared as an amendment to a department of Energy Bill (HR3000) that was headed for final passage and to the Senate.

Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., sponsor of the amendment, said government regulation "is admittedly cumbersome in some respects, but it gives at least some protection to consumers."

Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, an opponent, said shortages and price increases would result if Congress "subsidizes the import of expensive foreign oil by holding domestic producers' prices down."

Bonior did not vote.

SENATE

PAY RAISE: The Senate voted, 43 to 42, in favor of permiting a 5.5 percent cost-of-living pay raise for congressmen. After the House concurred, pay for senators and House members was increased to $60,663.

This vote killed an amendment to block the raise which was added onto a funding bill which included money for federally-subsidized abortions. According to congressional observers, because the bill was entwined with other issues, it was less than a clear-cut expression of sentiment on the raise.

Senators voting "nay" wanted to block the pay raise.

Sen. Donald Riegle, Democrat, voted "nay." Sen. Carl Levin, Democrat, $20 billion synthetic fuel fund. voted "yea."

SYNTHETIC FUEL: The Senate voted, 59 to 38, to establish a $20 billion fund for synthetic fuel projects to be undertaken primarily by private en-terprise under the sponsorship of a federal Energy Security Corp. The multiyear fund would be part of President Carter's proposal to develop alternate fuels in order to lessen dependence on foreign oil. The fund issue was attached to an Interior department appropriations bill.

Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., the sponsor, said "synthetic fuel production is an imperative" if the U.S. is to cut its reliance on imported oil.

Opponents thought the price tag too high or disliked the procedure of appropriating money before legislation specifically authorizing a synthetic fuels program had been passed. Sen. William Armstrong, R-Colo., objected to buying a "$20 billion pig in a poke.

The Plymouth Township firefighters' municipal employees, the township supervisor has the right to approve or disapprove a firefighter's outside employment.

Township Supervisor Thomas Notebaert, on the other hand, said the township can request such information as covered by their contract's "management rights" clause.

'We don't have any objection to their outside employment if it doesn't interfere with their present job," he said. "We're only asking they identify what that job is."

NOTEBAERT ADDED that the firefighters' request to take their dispute over the township's adopted polcies to arbitration is just "arbitration futility." 'It's just a waste of our time and the polcies and procedures had been adjusted in contract bargaining, but when the township didn't respond to the part-time job issue, they decided to take it to arbitration.

Another point of contention is the trading of time policy, which has been introduced in bargaining.

"We hope to settle it in bargaining but if not, we'll take that to arbitration," VanVleck said.

Present policy states that officers must inform the township a day in advance before they switch schedules among themselves. It adds that the swtich should be for no less than an entire 24-hour shift, a qualification the union would like to drop.

A federally funded program to help area residents deal with state agencies and departments is planning an open house.

Westland Information Service Extension (WISE) will host the open house from 3-6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, in Whittier Junior High at 28550 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland.

The office was initiated by State Reps. Robert Law, R-Livonia, and Tom Brown, D-Westland, whose district includes the Plymouth-Canton area, to open lines of communication between residents and the state offices which serve them.

WISE will attempt to serve as a problem-solver for residents who run into difficulties dealing with state government, and also will answer questions and make referrals to the proper agency.

The pilot program will be supervised through the Municipal Services Bureau, Inc. of Westland and has the approval of the Westland City Council, Wayne County Office of Manpower, and Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The office is non-political in nature, said Law, and will be run separately from any city, state or federal office.

"It is our aim to see that red tape is cut and that the citizens of our area receive fast and efficient service when they need it," said Brown. Law and Brown hope the open house will be attended by elected officials of area cities and townships, local chambers of commerce, directors of community groups, senior citizen groups, and residents.

The director of the WISE office is Deloris Newell and the field representative will be Chuck Diehl.

BLACKJACK INSTRUCTION

Blackjack is the most popular of all casino games. It offers the expert player the best odds available and it is the only casino game that can be beaten from a mathematical standpoint. Blackjack can be divided into two categories. Basic Strategy (expert play) and card counting. Card counting is a strategy based on the Theory of Probabilities that when played accurately, actually gives the player an advantage

Instruction in these two areas are as follows: 1. BASIC STRATEGY. Most people who play casino Blackjack think that they are expert players. The fact is that not one in a hundred knows the correct play for every decision in Blackjack. For example, with a hand of A7 you should stand when the dealer's up-card is a A, 2, 7 or 8, take a hit card against the dealer's 9 or 10, and double down when the dealer shows a 3, 4, 5, or 6. The correct way to play each hand for hitting, standing, doubling, and pair splitting is a product of computer technology and its accuracy has been verified by the computer banks of IBM Corporation, Sperry Rand, and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. If you do not play each hand correctly, you are simply giving your money away to the casinos. The Basic Strategy class is one hour per week for 3 weeks and the cost is $30. BASIC STRATEGY AND AN INTRODUCTION TO CARD COUNTING. Same as No. 1 except you will also learn the Blackney Add & Estimate Strategy. This simple count is easy to learn and very easy to play in the casinos. This class is one hour per week for 6 weeks and the cost

3. THE BLACKNEY SIMPLE HI-LOW STRATEGY. The Basic Strategy class is a prerequisite to taking this class. My HI-Low Strategy assigns point values to various card ranks and is extremely effective for the single and double deck game. This class is one hour per week for 6 weeks and the cost $120.

Arrangements can also be made for private consultation for those who do not wish to attend a class session. The cost for a one hour appointment is $40. If you have a playing partner, you may split the cost of the appointment. Call John Blackney, 348-2066 between 5 & 6:30 p.m. John Blackney is a

Flint Northern cagers roll past scrappy Salem

By BRAD EMONS

All that was feared about Flint Northern came true to life Tuesday

But a scrappy Plymouth Salem girls' basketball team gave a good account of itself despite losing, 76-45, before 400

It was the 34th straight win for the defending Class A state champs. Northern is now 11-0 after showing its superior board strength.

It had to be a moral victory for Salem. It was Flint Northern's closest game of the season.

"Northern is just an overwhelming team," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "They really go after it on the glass.

"I thought we had the intensity and the execution was there. Against a team like Northern, every possession is key.'

It's been a long time since the Vikings of Flint only led by one point after one quarter, 13-12.

The aggressive Rocks went right at the the 6-foot-3-inch McGee twins -Paula and Pamela.

"I have mixed emotions about this game," said Flint Northern coach Dottie Kukulka. "I thought Salem played fairly well. They are a well coached and disciplined team.

"We haven't played the competition so far this year that Plymouth Salem provided us with tonight.

"THEY ARE well balanced and have a lot of strength. That is a team which could be tough by tourney time. We could be playing them again.'

Salem center Patty Weidman gave Flint trouble in the first quarter along with teammate Nan Horwood. The 6-0 Weidman was not afraid the shoot the ball over the towering twins.

Senior forward Cheryl Sobkow, who paced Salem with 16 points, made a three-point play with 1:16 left in the first period to give the Rocks a 12-9 lead, something the Vikings were unaccustomed to.

In the last minute of the first quarter, Paula McGee went to work as she canned two inside shots.

Northern began to show its muscle in the second quarter by scoring 12 straight points without Salem answering in a two minute span.

The Vikings, despite Pamela McGee in foul trouble, took a 33-21 halftime

The Vikings put on a full-court press in the second quarter. Salem was able to cope with the back-court pressure, but had problems converting its passes near the basket.

A fast-break layup by Horwood at 5:34 of the third quarter pulled Salem to within 12, 37-25, but that was as close as the Rocks could get as Northern began to dominate.

Guard Leteia Hughley then began hitting outside jumpers, teaming up with speedster Judy Tucker to pull away from the Rocks.

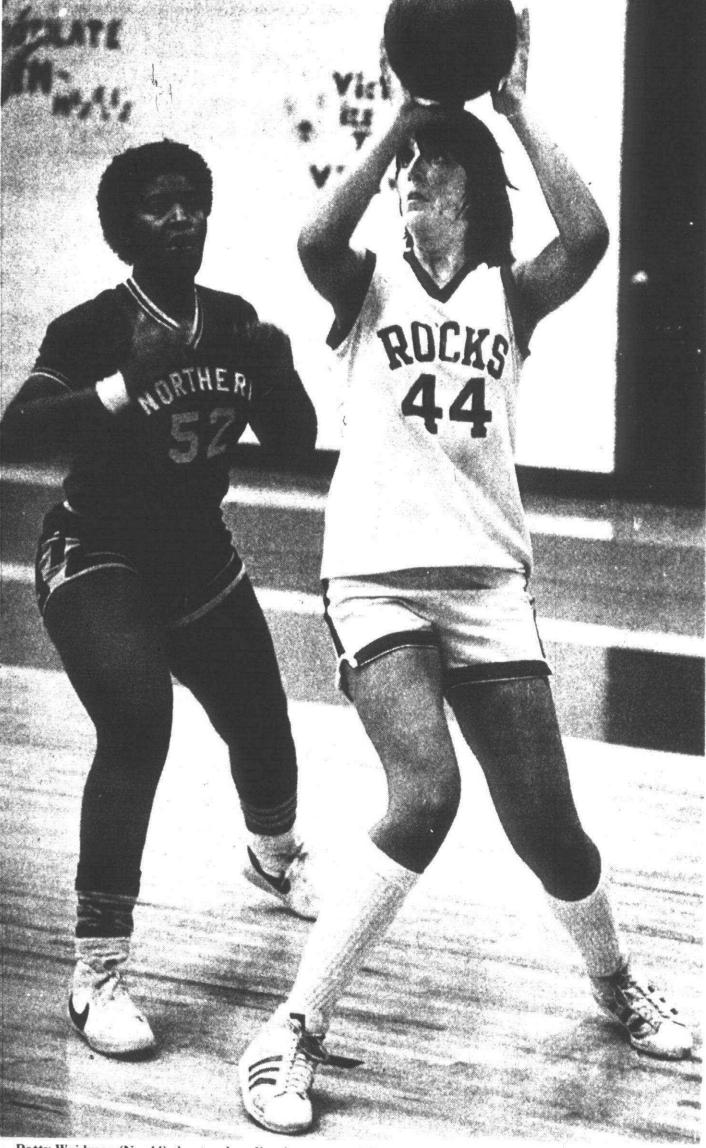

Northern outscored Salem 20-6 in the third quarter. Five of the Northern points were a result of a common and two technical fouls levied against the Paula McGee stepped up to line and canned five straight free throws to give the Vikings a commanding 45-25 lead.

In the final quarter Salem would not quit. The Rocks made it semi-respectable with an 18-point quarter.

Paula McGee led all scorers with 21 points. She got ample support from Hughley (16), Pam McGee (11), Judy Tucker (11) and reserve forward Edith Childress (10).

Rocks, Edsel vie for Sub 8 title

A lot is at stake Friday night when Plymouth Salem entertains Dearborn Edsel Ford in a key prep football state Class A playoff berth also looms in the background Both Salem and Edsel Ford go into the 7:30 p.m. showdown with 4-0 league marks. The Thunderbirds are unbeaten in seven games and have shut out their last four opponents. Salem is 6-1 overall after blanking

Trenton on the road last week, 7-0. Defense is what the Thunderbirds pride themselves on. Its line averages 220 pounds and is led by senior linebacker Pat Brackett, who doubles as a running back at 6-feet-2-inches, 195 pounds.

Davis alternates son Chuck, a senior, and junior Dan Betz at quarterback. Both players know how to put the football in the air.

Their favorite target is wide receiver Rodney Armstrong, who hauled in two touchdown passes in the first quarter against Trenton in an impressive 26-0 victory.

Although not as big but equally as quick is a Salem defense which stopped Trenton from scoring on the one-yard line last week.

SALEM RECEIVED big plays last week from senior linebacker Jeff Powers (fumble recovery) and safety Jim Anderson (two interceptions).

Also performing well last week were tackle Scott Piper, linebacker Phil Anderson and defensive back Julian Mar-

The key to victory will be which team moves the ball better offensively. Despite scoring only seven points last week, Moshimer opened up his offense somewhat last week as ends Jeff Spencer and Ron Schultz caught important passes. This game is so vital to both teams because a loss eliminates any chance for a state playoff berth.

Salem, a member of Region II, currently trails four teams in the race for two post-season spots.

Adrian and Niles are the only unbeaten teams left in Region II.

Adrian, led by quarterback Mark McNitt, leads the region with a 96.88 average. Its opponents have won 27 games. Niles is second at 90.91 with its foes winning 23 games.

Adrian meets Class B also-ran Jackson Parkside this week and then will face Redford Union (7-0) in a showdown game the last week of the season.

Niles, treading in deep water, will play Kalamazoo Loy Norrix (6-1) this week and then face tough Class B Dowagiac (5-1) in its final game.

If both teams go undefeated, that means five once-beaten have little chance of gaining the playoffs unless one of the two teams, or both, lose.

Livonia Stevenson, who plays Westland John Glenn away on Friday, currently rests in third place with an average of 84.34.

Livonia Churchill, who hosts Livonia Franklin Friday, holds down the fourth spot at 83.45.

Churchill and Stevenson meet the final week of the season, thus eliminat; ing one of two teams.

Salem, in fifth place, has an average of 82.12, but holds an edge over both Churchill and Stevenson because its foes have won more games. A Rock victory over Edsel Ford would vault them into third place behind Adrian and Niles, contigent on both teams winning. Salem's opponents have chalked up 28 games so far while Stevenson's has 26 and Churchill 25.

Farmington Harrison, which invades Salem in its final game, is in sixth place in Region II with an average of Edsel Ford is a member of the state's most interesting pairing, Region IV. Detroit Catholic Central, with the state's highest rating at 102.60, leads Redford Union (98.66), Dearborn Fordson (97.26) and Edsel Ford (95.04).

Edsel Ford and Fordson tangle in the last game of the the season. A lot is definately at stake.

Trenton 7-0 Greg Mallare Plymouth Canton Dick Scott's Plymouth High School "players of the week" feature continues this week. There was a time when a 700 series in bowling was considered an oddity. But no more.

Each week the once very exclusive club is taking in new members and this past week seven new names were added to the membership list.

One of the most interesting features of the new class is the fact that Dave Freckman, who is 17 years old, qualified when he posted a 701 in the Teen League at Garden Lanes. He put together games of 262, 226 and 223 for the biggest thrill of his tenpin career.

Two of the new members qualified at Bel-Aire. Mario Ruza made it in the Classic with a 700 thanks to a 278 opener. Joining him as a Bel-Aire representative, Randy Orturne started with a 278 in the senior house league and wound up with 709.

Merri-Bowl furnished three members of the new class. In the Golden Eagle loop Joe Stankus Jr. fired a 710 while in the junior house league John Lake Jr. closed with 268 for 708. Mark Kane opened with 248 and wound up with a 709. But the high man of the new class was Glen Bruneel with a middle game of 258 in 723.

CORA FIEBIG, captain of the Luxury Lanes team in the all- star leagues, now has gained recognition as the Detroit area's leading bowler. She is the lone bowler from the area listed in the WIBC list of top average bowlers.

She made the list with her average of 201. The top bowlers were Patricia Petersohn of California, and Babara Thorborg of Missouri, each of whom posted a 216 average for the past sea-

MARY MOHACSI had an unusual week. She rolled a 580 and had to be satisfied with fourth place in the Ladies Classic at Garden Lanes and then came back with a 641 that included a

. In the Merri-Bowl doubles, Polly Cole trailed Mary Mohacsi by 42 pins with a 599 and Kay Markell was third

In the ladies classic top honors went to Gail Ifenegger. With a 142 average she posted games of 242, 200 and 159

MYRNA HILLE had a big week at Farmington Lanes. She paced the mixed classic with a 641 and then repeated in the Thursday classic with a 234 in 639. In the latter league Mary Lou Schneider took runners-up honors with a 620. Sandy Draffen landed third

In thejunior league Berry Van Dike was tops with 219 in 612, two pins more than Mario Serra. And in the high school loop Keith Guertin showed the way with a 202 in 589.

ONE OF THE week's most unusual series was bowled by Mike Smart in the senior house league at Woodland. He opened with 190, followed by 199 and then soared to 276 for 665. Next in line came Jack Gagnon with 650. Rocky Hammond was third with 602.

Herman Somers and his wife Peggy dominated the senior citizens league. Herman had a 225 in 537 and Peggy turned in a 200 in 531. Ralph Starkey was runner-up among the men with

In the St. Edith league Ron Wenson was forced into the runners-up slot with a 256 in 653 when Glen Bruneel came through with his 723.

FOR ONE OF THE few times this season there wasn't a 700 at Westland. but there was a stirring finish in the Little Caesar Classic. Ron Piotowski was high with 688. Ray Kreuter was next with 683 and Bill Wilson had a 682. In the women's division, Leandra Michalak had 596, four pins more than Brenda Evans.

RICH MERRICK was the king pin in the Pin Busters loop at Plaza Lanes. Rolling games of 225, 214 and 237, he posted a 676. Next came Buzz Ray with 625 and Don Rousseau with a 619. In the men's league Joe Bardee had a 243 in 665 and Dennis Seeman profited by a 246 opener for 619. In the Hydromatic league Boyd Mc Farland had high game of 255 and Dale Reed had a

Chiefs dealt 49-0 pounding

Farmington Harrison batters Canton gridders

By BRAD EMONS

It had to be the low point of the season for coach Dave Schuele and his Plymouth Canton football team.

Farmington Harrison battered and bruised the Chiefs Saturday with a 49-0 victory behind the rushing of junior halfback Ken Kopko, who gained 167 yards in 17 carries and played less than three quarters.

It was the Chiefs' seventh straight loss this season without a win and was the eighth defeat in a row since 1978.

Harrison, coached by John Herrington, raised its overall mark to 6-1. The Hawks, who reached the state finals in 1976, settled for second place in the Western Six League behind Livonia

Harrison lost the league title two weeks ago to the Livonians, 7-6.

"I'm glad the kids came back," said Herrington. "We were kind of devastated by the Churchill loss.

"We showed that we are a better offensive team today.

"We didn't make the big plays against Churchill. Today, we got a few lucky breaks early."

IT WASN'T luck, though, that scalped the Chiefs. Harrison controlled the line of scrimmage, even when the reserves entered the game early in the third quarter.

Canton's only scoring opportunity occurred in the first quarter. The Chiefs' Tim Knivila fumbled on his own 34 yard line as he hit a pile of Hawk

The ball went loose but was soon found by quarterback Greg Mallare. who picked it up and raced 51 yards down to the Harrison 13. Canton then tried four straight running plays and was stopped short just one yard from the first-down stick.

On the previous series, Harrison took a 6-0 lead when Kopko raced 22 yards for a touchdown at 7:30.

The Hawks traveled 96 yards in 17 plays to score the team's second TD. Kopko got his second score when he bolted in from two yards out at 9:10 of the second period. Kopko also tallied the two-point conversion to give Harrison a 14-0 lead.

The Chiefs showed a little offense in the second quarter, marching 33 yards in 12 plays. Mallare hit end Eric Flavin with a 16-yard pass, but Canton made just six yards in four plays after the Harrison then took the ball and went 70 yards in eight plays. Quarterback Bruce Morrison hit receiver junior end Reggie Upshaw with a 17-yard pass to keep the drive going. Two plays later, Kopko scored his third TD on a 15-yard run with 1:10 left in the half. Greg Mehall kicked his second straight extra point and Harrison led 21-0.

ON THE ENSUING kick-off, Canton failed to gain possession of the ball. The kick scooted past a would-be Canton ball handler and the Hawks recovered on the Chiefs' 16.

On the first play, Morrison hit Upshaw for Harrison's fourth TD, with just 34 seconds left. Upshaw made a great individual play, diving between two Canton defenders as he found the end zone. The extra point conversion gave Harrison a 28-0 lead.

With the ball on the 50 yard line, Harrison got its fifth score in only five plays. Kopko churned out 25 yards and then left the game with the rest of the Hawk front-liners.

Sophomore Steve Sweeney ran seven yards for the TD at 8:50 and the extra point was good again as Harrison upped its lead to 35-0

Things kept getting better for the Hawks' homecoming crowd in the fourth quarter. Punter Mark Alcantara booted one 73 yards. At 11:20, Sweeney got his second TD on a one-yard plunge. He scored again with 1:20 to go on a six-yard jaunt. Both extra points were good as Harrison outscored the Chiefs in TDs, 7-0.

"Our whole second unit played the entire second half except for the first series," said Herrington.

"I HOPE they (Canton) don't think we were trying to pour it on." he said. "We played it straight. We didn't do any stunting defensively Herrington has too much class to rub it in. His Harrison teams are weal-disciplined and threw only two passes in the second half.

Harrison must now face North Farmington (at the Silverdome) and then Plymouth Salem on the road Friday, Nov. 2. Canton will host Garden City East Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The Panthers are ROB LANG broke the league and state record with his 30th goal of the year in Livonia Stevenson's 3-3 tie with Ann Arbor Huron. Lang scored all three Spartan goals.

Lang gave Stevenson a 1-0 lead with a goal at 14:00. After Huron tied it up, Lang goals at 36:00 and 39:00 gave Stevenson a 3-1 halftime edge.

"We played the second string in the second half," said coach Pete Scerri. "I wanted to rest my regulars for the state tournament at Flint Carmen this Saturday. We had already wrapped up the league, and had nothing to lose."

The second string will play in Friday's regular season finale against Birmingham Groves. "We're going all the way," promised Scerri. "Carmen is tough, but we have a powerhouse, too. "We did it once and we're going to try to do it again."

Glenn girls victorious

GLENN stormed out to a 24-5 first-quarter lead then breezed past Taylor Truman 66-23 Tuesday in a non-league girls' basketball game.

Geri Pizzuti tossed in 22 points for the Rockets. Kim Cesarz 20 and Teri Slack and Kelly Schultz eight apiece.

"They're a brand new club and they're having their problems. I can empathize with it," said Glenn coach George Sommerman.

"Terri Chapo, a sophomore, did a super job up and down the floor," Sommerman added. "The second team did a nice job. They looked for the open people and worked the ball down the floor."

The win was Glenn's eighth in 12 games this

"We had 'em in height. They worked it and got one shot. If it went in, fine, if not, we'd get the rebound, go down and score," said Thurston coach George Heger.

Thurston hit at a 50 percent clip from the field. Moran connected on 75 percent of her shots, Beebe 65 percent.

Nine of 10 Eagles scored. Reserves played much of the second half for the victors.

Karen Kelley scored 24 points for the Spartans, Beth Mueller 10 and Ingrid Hogh eight. Noreen Kelley grabbed 15 rebounds

"We played a very sound basketball game," said Stevenson coach Jim George. "We hit 10 of 14 from the line and shut down their high-scorer in the second half.

"We were a very poised basketball team," George continued. "We didn't turn the ball over and we steadily built the lead. Karen and Noreen both fouled out in the fourth quarter and I'd like to give the rest of the team credit for holding the

The Blazers, which led 18-10 after the first quarter and 37-17 at the intermission, managed only 12 points during the entire second half.

"We were up by 20 at the half and kind of played like that," said Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh. "We were flat and weren't moving. But we had a good first half."

Liz O'Brien sparked the Blazers with 12 points, 13 rebounds and four steals. Leslie Nadeau chipped in 11 points and grabbed 16 rebounds and Aggie Conti scored nine points and had 11 re-

Ordinarily comparative scores mean little during the football season but they will mean a great deal to the Wolverines of Mibhigan during the next two weeks.

LINNEA AND EVERETT Salow waited until her 40th class reunion was over before pulling up stakes and moving to their retirement home in Sun Lakes, Ariz. The reunion was Saturday night and the moving van arrived Monday morning.

Linnea was a member of the committee that planned the Plymouth High School Class of '39 reunion.

She retired Oct. 1 as deputy city clerk for Plymouth. She was with the city for 37 years. After she graduated from Cleary College she started to work as a bookkeeper at the old City Hall. Later she was secretary to the city manager.

THERE'S A FAMILIAR face in the November issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Dr. Lee Feldkamp, health commissioner for the City of Plymouth, was one of eight runners-up in the magazine's selection of the Family Doctor of the Year. More than 100 candidates for the honor were submitted to Good Housekeeping by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Dr. J. Roy Guyther of Mechanicsville, Md., was the winner. He was honored by First Lady Rosalynn Carter at a White House ceremony.

Nominees were chosen by state chapters of the American Academy of Family Physicians. Lee Feldkamp was cited for his role in "spearheading" community immunization programs against polio, measles and rubella.

PERSONS WHO attend the workshop for volunteers at Northville State Hospital are not committing themselves to a regular job.

Jean Bacheldor says men and women 18 years of age and older are welcome to attend the workshop at 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 2. Service groups who are volunteers at the hospital on Seven Mile Road usually work one evening a month for two hours. Individuals can sign up for two hours a week, or less.

Many of the volunteers have been going there for years and find it very rewarding. Registration for the workshop is not necessary. Just go to the main entrance where someone will direct participants to the workshop.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE from the Seventh Day Adventist Church school on Napier Road at Warren in Plymouth Township will be trick or treating for the less fortunate this Halloween.

Instead of collecting candy for themselves, they will be collecting canned goods for needy families.

Dale Carey, home and school leader, says the youngsters have done this before. "One lady was so pleased with them, she went to her cupboard and practically filled a bag with canned goods."

They will be out Halloween night and again Nov. 14 to have a good supply of food on hand for Thangsgiving giving.

ELSIE JEFFERY and Howard Griffore had high scores at last Thursday's party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

JOAN SIDICK, a freshman at the University of Michigan, is a finalist in the make-it-with-wool contest sponsored in part by the American Sheep Producers Association.

If Joan is a winner in the Nov. 17 state finals at Michigan State University, she will go on to the national competition which will be in San Diego in

Joan's entry was her own handiwork a crocheted sweater and a sewn skirt. She didn't waste any material for she made a handbag out of left-over

A June graduate of Plymouth Canton High School, Joan is the daughter of Stanley and Mary Sidick of Lowell Street in Canton Township.

DAVID FROST was in town last week for the Livonia Town Hall Series. He came in from New York about 2 a.m. and Scott Lorenz picked him up at the airport.

After speaking in Livonia, the Town Hallers and Frost returned to the Meeting House for lunch. Although his stay at the hotel was not all that long, the crew over there thought he was great. Those "How lovelys" you hear (with a Britsh accent) were a direct result of Frost's visit.

That David Frost is not to be confused with our David Frost, the young attorney who is retoring the old Victorian house beside the Dunning Hough Library on Main Street.

THE HURON VALLEY Quilting Society has extended an invitation to Canton and Plymouth quilt-makers to attend its fall meeting at 7 p.m. this evening in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 306 N. Division Street, Ann Arbor.

There will be a movie, "Quilting Women of Appalachia." Visitors can take along their own quilting project or can sit in and try their hand at quilting Aunt Sukey's Choice which will be set up on a full-size quilting frame.

Meeting is free to members with a $1 donation for guests. Call 971-3148, for o information.

David Frost

Boyish, gracious, serious

By SHERRY KAHAN

If Henry Kissinger had been allowed to retake part of his David Frost interview, "it would be like changing history," Frost maintained while lecturing at the Livonia Town Hall meeting last he interviewer explained his side of the much-discussed television exchange between him and the former U.S. secretary of state.

According to Frost, Kissinger abruptly left the studio after the first of a planned two-part interview in which talk had centered on Kissinger's actions in Cambodia.

"He left after, not during the session," Frost said.

Later Frost said he was shocked by an NBC request to do a 10-minute retake of the Cambodian sequence. There were hints made about a possible complete retaping, Frost said.

"I never thought the Cambodian interview would see the light of day. I was under more presure than I had ever known before," he said.

"It was the most difficult time of my life. To work on an interview for three months, and then cut yourself off from it is an awful experience," he added. rost indicated he was acting on the journalistic principle that it is important "to let people make up their own

"This was a tense, dramatic testing of a an issue of moment," he said.

Frost said he was delighted to see the program aired in its original form, with the full transcript of the proceedikgs released to the press.

"In the end I decided the stand I took was justified," he said.

FROST'S LECTURE was by no means confined to sober political analysis. In fact, he spent a good part of the time charming the audience in the Mai Kai Theater and the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

He was in turn boyish, hilarious, serious and gracious, and in the habit of hugging any woman standing next to him.

He tossed out one-liners such as "nine out of 10 people are caused by accidents" and interviewing some politicians is often a case of the "bland leading the bland.'

Frost's audience was mostly women and they seemed to love him. He gave autographs and exchanged comments.

The women buzzed to each other about his dating habits. They observed he held his fork European style rather than American. When he removed his jacket, a low hum of interest went through the room.

Frost was in good form as he described the problems of the interviewer. Interviewees, especially famous ones, are inclined to speak in dull generalities or evade the issue, he said. Once when interviewing Ian Smith, the former prime minister of Rhodesia, Frost asked about the fate of a prominent imprisoned black leader.

Frost said Smith replied that he knew nothing about it.

Further on in the interview Smith made a slip that indicated he did; in- reveal this, so he asked him what fueed, know something of the man. According to Frost when he once again mentioned the leader's name, Smith .corrected his pronunciation.

THE BIG PROBLEM, Frost complained, is getting a politician to say something. "They are only willing to come out fearlessly against road accidents and litter, and their favorite color is plaid," he said.

However, he said he drew interesting reactions from two politicians when he asked how they would like to be remembered after death,

A few days before his death Sen. Robert Kennedy responded by quoting Albert Camus. "This is a world in which children suffer." Kennedy then told Frost: "I'd like to make a contribution to lessen that suffering. For if we don't do this, then who

Responding to the the same question, Moshe Dayan, former foreign minister for Israel, looked astonished, and then said, "But that's what I'm dead for, not to care what people say about me." FROST SAID HIS most chilling interview was with a former head of the Hitler Youth, who also had been a former reichfuhrer of Vienna. The man had been released from Spandau prison after serving time as a war criminal. Frost said he believed the man felt no guilt, that he had no comprehension of what the Nazis had done. He wanted to ask a question that would somehow

Canton Chatter

The Canton Newcomer's Club will hold its annual Millionaire's Party, Saturday, Nov. 3 from 8 p.m.-1 a.m. in the Plymouth Cultural Center. President, Linda Lupo, says they would have preferred the MGM Grand, but it was booked for that evening!

Cost will be $15 per couple. This will include pizza, mixers (it's BYOB), and $3 million in play money at the door. It's also doubtful the MGM Grand could offer so much for so little. If one is unfortunate enough to lose, money may be purchased during the evening.

It promises to be a fun evening. Games of chance will include black jack, dice, roulette, and chuck-a-luck. There are still a few openings, and reservations may be made by calling Nancy Burns at 397-0436.

THIS IS A very busy time of year for the Canton Jaycees. They are once again providing Canton with its very own "haunted house." This year they promise "We'll scare the yell out of you.

Most of us realize that the haunted house is a lot of fun, but have no idea how much work and time the Jaycees put into it each year. Past president George Halloran said there are a tremendous number of man hours involved each year.

First, the Jaycees must select a house and get approval to use it. Then ed this year from Oct. 18-30 starting at they must make plans and designs for 7:30 p.m. Admission is $1.25 per perre-building the rooms and the monster son.

areas. In effect, they must build a stage set for each room. They must have the big organ for the Phantom of the Opera, and an appropriate setting for the Monster of the Deep.

After the plans are made, a minimum of 10 Jaycees work at the house three full weekends before opening night. The last week before opening, 10 or more men work 4-5 hours each night. Finally, when the house is in operation, it takes 15-20 Jaycees working at the house at all times.

George said the masks and most of the costumes were purchased. However, some of the costumes were made by wives and members of the Jaycettes.

Since the Jaycees is a service organization, proceeds from the haunted house go to charity and to various community needs

Don't forget the children can also enjoy the "Haunted House" on Friendly Monster day, Saturday, Oct. 27 from 2-4 p.m. That's when I plan to enjoy it, under the guise of taking my children.

KATHY FREECE and Marge Mogelnicki traveled to Toledo Saturday, Oct. 13 for a refunding convention.

Kathy reported she had learned so much it would take hours to relate Marge said she felt out of place without a suitcase. No, one doesn't need a suitcase to feel at home in Toledo, but most people who attended this convention came with suitcases filled with coupons, refund offers, and qualifiers

Marge said no one dumped garbage bags full of labels, etc. on the floor, but there was lots of high powered trading going on. Not quite Wall Street caliber, but one Hawaiian Punch label tor one Hi-C seal isn't a bad deal in refunding circles

There is definitely interest in this area in refunding. Kathy and Marge said probably half of the people at the Toledo convention were from Canton, Livonia, Belleville, and nearby areas. If you are interested in joining a refunding group in the area, Mary Lou Wilson has graciously said she will help to form the group. If you are interested in a Canton refunding group call Mary Lou at 397-8330.

WATER BILLS were definitely part of chatter all over Canton this past. Those who have received their bills are still in a relative state of shock, and those who haven't are living in fear and

For years my husband and I have been yelling at our boys to "flush the toilet." This past week we stopped yelling. .at least about that! And when I overheard someone in a restaurant ask for a doggie bag, for the water in their glasses, it didn't sound like a bad idea.

Many homeowners are very concerned, and several homeowners' groups are forming committees to find out more about the water situation. If you are interested, call your homeowners association president and get the

Trick or treat for UNICEF

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women is looking for volunteers to help collect for UNICEF Interested persons should contact Sylvia Stetz, 039 Wolf River, Plymouth Township, telephone 455-0193. Mrs. Stetz will supply canisters for collectors and routes.

Designated collection days for the Plymouth-Canton area are Oct. 29, 30 and 31. Also, one Sunday school group in Canton will be collecting on Sunday,

The AAUW is hoping for another successful UNICEF collection. Today UN-ICEF's emphasis is on providing longrange assistance in health, nutrition and education for children in more than 100 developing countries.

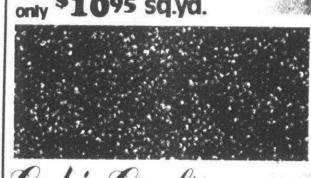

Bobbi Abbott, AAUW public information chairman, said that this year's collection has special significance since the United Nations has declared 1979 the International Year of the Child

This is a year for all the world's countries to study the conditions in which their children live and to strengthen programs which will make their lives better

In the poorer nations of Africa, Asia and Latin America, nearly one billion children share poverty, hunger and disease. For most educational opportunities are rare, and few will be trained for anything more than unrewarding

Henny Youngman a very funny man

By NANCY AUSTIN

The one-liners came so fast that those in the town hall audience had tears rolling down their cheeks.

"I take my wife every where, but she always finds her way home.

"My wife is a light eater. As soon as its light out she starts eating.

"My brother-in-law tells me he is a diamond cutter - he mows the lawn at Yankee

It was comic Henny Youngman firing them off, and his generous store of jokes obviously pleased the crowd gathered at Fairlane Manor, Dearborn, for the event sponsored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Youngman will tell you he's always "on." When asked during a press conference what he does to wind down after a performance, he said, "I never wind up. This is just the way I

The comic works an average of 200 onenight stands a year, and plans to continue this schedule. "It's when you retire that people often get sick," he said

YOUNGMAN SELDOM takes his wife of 51 years with him when he travels. She is his secretary for a private business he runs in New York, where he lives. So she's not around to defend herself when she becomes the butt of his jokes.

Youngman was asked how she likes that sitnation. "Very well," he quipped, "when I bring home the paycheck."

Youngman has been funny all of his life. He told the town hall women that he never finished school because his jokes annoyed the teachers so much.

"As a teacher I've seen the need on the part of parents to start planning toward group homes," she said. "I hope many in the area will come to hear this discussion and learn what the prospects for more of such homes can be."

Mrs. Woodward said the program she leads also is non-denominational and all children in the area with this special need are welcome.

He believes a sense of humor is something you are born with. But he also believes humor is serious business. You have to get an agent, writers and tend to a lot of detail, he said. It's not all fun. In fact, Youngman will tell you that a number of younger people will come to him to ask for help.

"I discourage a lot of them," he said. "It's a tough business.'

These days, public transit is more important to more people than it's been for a long time. And we at SEMTA figure, the better you get to know us, the more help we can be.

WHO ARE WE, ANYWAY?

Lots of people know us as a bus company. Which we are, of course, with an operating fleet of some 280 codches in service. But we are also in the train business, providing daily commuter service to downtown Detroit from Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and other northern suburbs. And we're a company that serves its community's special transportation needs with our small bus and similar programs tailored to help the elderly, the handicapped and others whose requirements could not be met by a regularly scheduled bus line. In short, we're a full-fledged transportation system. Designed to serve you. Non-profit. Publicly funded. And doing our darndest.

WHAT WE'RE DOING TO GET YOU WHERE YOU'RE GOING

We know that riding our buses during the peak commuting hours is often no bed of roses. Things get crowded. Some people have to stand. So, you'll be glad to know we're putting 45 new buses into service by January 1. And we're having 28 of our present buses refurbished. Also, we're adding three new Park & Ride locations, and changing some of our schedules to reduce the time between buses. That's the good news. The bad news is that even these service improvements won't keep pace with our increasing passenger loads. We'll be doing the best we can, but that doesn't mean some of you won't still be inconvenienced, and we're sorry.

The transportation problem is confusing enough without your being confused about us.

AN IMPORTANT PART OF US IS YOU.

The more you and others depend on SEMTA to get around, the more we need your understanding and help to enable us to serve you better. As an example, you might talk to your employer about staggering working hours or initiating a flex-time system which allows employees to set their own hours, within certain limits. If everybody isn't trying to board our buses at the same time, obviously, they're not going to be as crowded. Our peak hours would be lengthened, and we could carry more people with the same number of buses. But to make it happen, we need you.

WHERE WE'RE GOING FROM HERE.

We've been charged with the job of providing the transportation system for Southeastern Michigan — not just for now, but for the future. We take that charge very seriously. We intend to make certain that the kind of public transit we're planning is the kind you'll need. And your kids. And their kids. We think that's a big responsibility.

After 450 years, it's reconciliation

"We want to emphasize what unites us, rather than what divides us," says the Rev. David Paap, pastor of All Saints Lutheran Church, Livonia. He was speaking of ecumenical moves to bring Roman Catholics and Lutherans closer together.

By SHERRY KAHAN

A program of reconciliation between the Lutheran and Roman Catholic churches, which has "the blessing of the highest authorities of both churches," will begin Sunday, Oct. 28 in area churches.

As part of Reformation services, area pastors of both organizations will announce the beginning of an ecumenical effort. The Reformation service marks the anniversary of Martin Luther's posting of 95 theses to a church door in Wittenburg, Germany in the 16th century. This action brought about a separation in the Catholic Church.

In weeks to come redonciliation will mean at least one major gathering of Lutheran and Roman Catholic clergy in the area.

It will result in pulpit exchanges, joint prayer services, joint discussions and forums, and weekly sessions of intensive study and sharing among parish leaders and clergy prior to Lent. It is hoped that by June 25, there will be concrete results from these exchanges.

June 25 marks the anniversary of the Augsburg Confession of 1530, an important event in the history of the two churches. The Confession bears a resemblance to today's reconciliation attempts. It was supposed to produce a document unifying the Catholics and Lutherans, which followed the break with the Roman Catholic Church by Luther and his follow-

According to a recent statement released by representatives of both organizations, the majority of Catholics at the time responsed negatively to the Confession. This contributed "to the hardening of divisions in the 16th century" between the two religious groups.

WORKING TO BRING the two modern churches closer together are the Rev. Alex Brunett, pastor of St. Aidan Catholic Church in Livonia, and the Rev. David Paap, pastor of All Saints Lutheran Church, also in Livonia.

Fr. Brunett is director of ecumenical and inter-religious affairs of the Archdiocese of Detroit and national president of Roman Catholic ecumenical officers. The Rev. Paap is a member of the joint commission for a Roman Catholic-Lutheran dialogue.

"In Michigan there have been three meetings so far of ecumenical leaders, gathering on a regular basis for study and diologue," said Rev. Paap. "In addition, a group of leaders are encouraging local parishes to engage in activities of worship, diologue and mission with each other."

He added that the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute and the Lutheran Forum Magazine have encouraged observance of the Confession anniversary "to initiate dialogue between the Roman Catholics and Lutherans that could promote reconciliation and a fuller experience of our unity in Christ.'

Fr. Brunett reguards the observance as an opportunity "to seize a moment in history and use it as a time to bring about something significant on the local level."

"Each day in Lent there will be a prayer service in a Roman Catholic or Lutheran church and a discussion about a critical element in dialogue and reconciliation," he said.

"OUR GOALS ARE greater understanding and appreciat-1on of each other's traditions. We should stress what unites us rather than what divides us," he said. Flowing from that will be greater freedom to have greater mutual participation in weddings, worship services and Christian service to help in our communities, he added "In many ways our parishioners are way ahead of us.

Many married couples are made up of a Roman Catholic and a Lutheran. They've been living ecumenicalism for many years. But they sometimes find tension in the church's official position and the spouse's religion," Paap said. "This is an opportunity for us, because of the scholarly studies done, to bridge the gap between the national church bodies and the person in the pew.'

Fr. Brunett called this an innovation.

"Let us find a focal point to bring to the grass roots what has been done on the national level in official dialogues of theologicans in both groups," he said.

In his opinion not every church member is committed to reconciliation.

"But enough people are committeed to the idea so I feel the program will have some effect on local communities," he said. "Not everything will be done in one year. We have been divided for 450 years.

"We are really planting seeds that might not bloom for many years," he said.

We want to explore "how we can become partners in reconciliation," says the Rev. Alex Brunett, pastor of St. Aidan Catholic Church in Livonia. (Staff photos by Art Emanuele).

"The wonderful way he dealt with unemployment in the 30s," the man replied. The Nazi then went on to complain about treatment in Spandau. He and several other prisoners had grown tomatoes which they wanted to give to the other prisoners. The authorities, however, decided that the tomatoes should be burned.

"Do you realize what it does to a man to have his tomatoes burned?" Frost said the man asked him.

Prince Charles, the future King of England, whom Frost described as extraordinarily unspoiled, told the interviewer that like other children he wanted to be a railway engineer when he was 5. But he later realized this was not to be his destiny.

"I woke up one morning and realized I was sort of stuck," he told Frost.

RICHARD NIXON lived up to his reputation as an enigma, According to Frost.

"Peeling off his layers was an extraordinary challenge," said Frost. "He made more admissions about Watergate on my program than we ever anticipated.'

Nixon has no small talk, Frost said, but when he gets interested in a subject he will talk about it in an interview. Kissinger, on the other hand, has lots of small talk, but is more illusive, and is less likely to reveal anything on camera, he added.

At the time of the Frost-Nixon taping, Nixon made several off-camera comments. Frost passed these on to his Livonia audience.

Discussing the situation in Russia, Nixon said: "I wouldn't want to be a Russian leader. You never know when you are being taped."

Another comment came after Nixon asked Frost if he was making money from the television interviews. Frost said he was

The third statement arose following a discussion as to when the interviews would be aired. Frost told Nixon it would probably be in May, when a larger audience was expected.

'We got a hell of an audience on August 9, 1974," Nixon said. That was the day he left the presidency.

Some women in the audience wondered about Frost's love life.

"Have you ever taken any lady friend home to meet your mother?" someone asked.

"What a decorous way to put it," Frost said. He then proceeded to talk around the subject. At one point he said, "In the nicest possible way, it is none of your bloody business,"

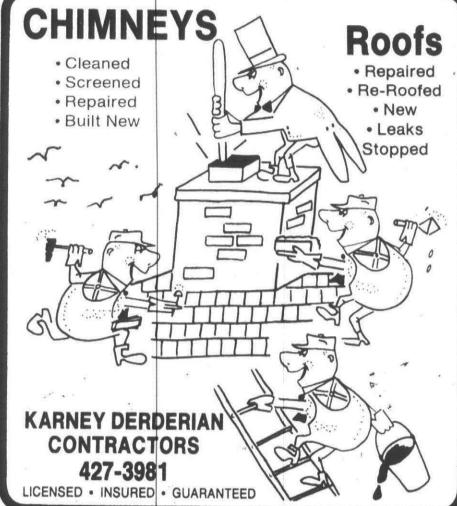

He admitted however that his name had been linked in the press with actress Carol Lynley.

At the end of the meeting, he assured the audience that he was thrilled to have spoken for the Livonia Town Hall. "And in case you didn't like the talk.

First Step now on duty 24 hours

By SHERRY KAHAN

If you are kicked, beaten or slashed by your mate, and are looking for help, call 595-1111. That is the number of First Step, the organization that was created to help battered

At the present time its phone number is available for use in the daytime. But after Nov. 5 calls can be made in the evening. The line will be linked to the Emergency Telephone Service maintained by the Wayne County Community Mental Health Department.

With the new night line, and with a staff beefed up considerably from the days when a couple of volunteers used to handle the organization, First Step is moving into a position that could make an important difference.

"We will have people on call throughout the weekend," said Debbie Benjamin, executive secretary of First Step. "They can respond in person in cases where an individual is in a police station or hospital emergency room. They can go out and see her, provide emergency counseling and make arrangements to get her to a safe place if necessary."

FIRST STEP has grown by leaps and bounds from the time it was just a gleam in the eye of members of the Northwest Wayne National Organization for Women (NOW). Independent of NOW today, it is a growing private group with a table of organization including not only Ms. Benjamin, but a fulltime counseling supervisor, Gail Esty of Livonia, and a half-time counseling supervisor working evenings, Barbara Troy of Detroit.

Millie Jaffe of Livonia is a social worker assistant, Noreen Dinnebeil of Wayne is business manager and bookkeeper and Corinne Dallas of Westland is secretary.

The group's progress has been greatly helped by financial support from the cities of Westland and Taylor, the state of Michigan, the township of Plymouth and the J.L. Hudson

It is now aiding 60 new clients a month, mostly from western Wayne County.

"WHEN A CLIENT calls," said Mrs. Esty, "she often seems hesitant to speak out. There seems to be a sense of shame about telling her problem and a reluctance to ask for things for herself."

Often she asks first about the services offered by First Step.

"She might say she was beaten this morning," contined Mrs. Esty. "She is feeling confused about her husband and wonders where should she go. What should she do about the children? What would happen if she left home?. Often she has no money because her husband has put it all in his name and doles it

"Many husbands in these cases make a conscious effort to keep their wives dependent and isolated.'

When Mrs. Esty or another telephone counselor responds, they tell the woman what First Step employes can do for them - counseling in the office and referrals to legal aid service. They can tell her what is involved in getting aid to dependent children and welfare for herself, and where the local offices are. They remind her to bring along her birth certificate when asking for public assistance, and clue her in on what to expect when she makes this

"We prefer to have her go on her own, so she can get the feeling she can do this," noted Mrs. Esty. "But if she is upset, we will sometimes go with her the first time. There are a lot of processes to go through. If she is in an emotional state, that's a lot for her to face alone.

"If she goes by herself we ask her to call us if there are any difficulties. In this way she will feel we are behind her."

HOUSING IS A GREAT difficulty for women in this situation, according to the Livonian.

"A lot of landlords don't take ADC mothers." stated Mrs. Esty. "Low-income projects have long waiting lists. When a woman is ready to move, it is very difficult to find a home. At a recent meeting of the Tri-County Coalition on Domestic Violence, everyone agreed what a real problem housing is for these women. It's a major stumbling block.'

Helping the woman establish some kind of record of the abuse is another job of First Step counselors.

"I suggest that they make a report to the police after a beating so something is on file," said Mrs. Esty. "I tell them to get a doctor's report. Later if they go for a divorce the record of the injury will help. It is a good way to get them to start making contacts and telling their story."

A LOT OF HUSBANDS have no interest in leaving, and an injunction to get them to do so often has to be obtained.

"We tell the women how to do it," said the counselor, adding that an injunction is also useful to stop sexual harrassment in case the man and woman have to remain in the house together.

In a brief psychological profile of wife beaters, Mrs. Esty pointed out that many of them have their own problems and don't want to deal with them.

"They don't feel they are in control of themselves," she said. "The only way they can feel in control is to control their wife and children. They may have stresses they can't handle. So they strike at the woman and kids around them, and pound on the wall or break dishes from the frustration that has built up."

When the wife ventures a suggestion about their both having counseling, he might say something like: "Counseling is dumb. I don't need it. You need it."

Attitudes like that, Mrs. Esty said, indicate that the spouse abuse problem isn't going to be easy to lick.

That's why she is so pleased that First Step is taking its next steps.

Vent your spleen — it's Halloween!

To some people, it's the only holiday worth celebrating. And to others, it's just a boon to the candy industry.

But even the worst humbuggers can't ignore Halloween, a holy night back in the old days when the souls of the dead were supposed to visit their former

These days, the young still dress up and parade through the neighborhood looking for goodies. The young at heart, meanwhile, seem to find more bizarre ways of working off their latent childishness

"IT SEEMS people are getting more creative," says Mike Pachota, owner of Gags and Games on Farmington Road in Livonia. "They're taking time to get what they want. Pachota recalls one guy last year who dressed up as a fly and another who became a light bulb. "People dress up as toilet rolls and stuff like that. We have plastic piles of that, you know. Pachota says people are buying more accessories, makeup and gag items and fewer masks than a few years ago. "The age-old favorite is always the old man and old lady mask," Gags and Games also has professional makeup artists available for the Halloween season. You can make a reservation and get your face messed up before heading off to a party. Prices vary depending on the complexity of the look; a clown face takes 15 minutes and costs $6, but to become a werewolf takes maybe an hour and $25.

Over at Century Novelty on Plymouth Road, manager Neen Madigan said Dracula is always a biggie and the Muppets are doing well for the first time this year. But she says the people who make a living helping others get ready for the big night aren't so hot on it themselves. "We're so tired, we go home and forget about it," she says.

Choosing art for your home can be confusing

If you have $100,000, you can buy an original Picasso. If you have $5,000, you can buy an original Picasso.

If you have $500, you can buy an original Picasso. And you can buy an original Picasso for $50.

How? Well, for $100,000 you can buy an original oil, and for $5,000 an original graphic (etching, lithograph, woodcut or linoleum cut) signed by the artist and in a limited edition. For $50, an original graphic by Picasso, unsigned and unlimited but nevertheless, an original.

And so you don't need $100,000 to collect original art. What you do need is a certain knowledge of fundamental facts when you go to buy your first pic-

WHAT IS an original? What is a graphic? Why is this picture under glass and this one not? What are those numbers in the corner?

Sometimes you have to know the questions before you can receive the right answers. The woman is afraid to ask because she doesn't know what to ask about. If you can't afford the best painting or drawing, you probably can afford an original print - limited or unlimited. Yes, by all means buy the work of a contemporary artist. There is an excitement in owning contemporary art, it is of our time.

Don't forget → the art of the masters was once contemporary.

For sci-fi fans, George Lucas' ("Star Wars") first feature "THX-1138" and $teven Spielberg's ("Close Encounters of the Third Kind") noteworthy short "Amblin" will be shown.

Films will be screened simultaneously in four areas to allow viewers a variety of choices.

Registration for Update '79 will take place at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the John Lewis Student Union on the campus, 14500 12 Mile Road in Warren. Admission is $5. Reservations and further information are available from Nadine Maynard at 647-

Music series starts in Novi on Saturday

By JOHN MacCOLL

The strings of the Detroit Symphony and the beat of the Bookside Jazz Ensemble - that's what's in store this season for the Sixth Gate Fine Arts Se-

Artistic director Misha Rachlevsky, himself a member of the symphony, has put together a series of four concerts starting at 8 p.m. this Saturday with his own chamber music group, comprised mainly of symphony mem-

They will perform a variety of music including works of Vivaldi, Mozart and

Tickets are $3 and $5, available at the door. The concerts will be held in the 1,070-seat auditorium of Novi High School, at 10 Mile and Taft Road.

EACH OF the concerts in the series will include commentary on the styles and traditions of the music performed. Charles Greenwell of WQRS-FM will narrate three of the programs, while Gary Laehn will handle the lone jazz

The Brookside Jazz Ensemble with Ursula Walker will appear in early December, followed by the Detroit Chamber Orchestra and the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

The new Sixth Gate series gets its name from the historic position of Novi as station No. VI on a long-gone coach

"We wanted to expand the music, dance, and the other performing art programs here in Novi," says Cynthia Hoops, president of the Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts.

"In the past, we have brought groups in from the Netherlands, Finland and Denmark. This year we wanted more than just individual concerts, so we came up with a series of differing musical genre.

"Each year we get a little bigger and can do more and more."

The foundation has grown to over 150 members in a bit over four years. Members donate their time as ushers, ticket-takers, ad solicitors and others.

"It gives people who don't have a lot of money a way to participate," says Mrs. Hoops. Proceeds from the concerts are used for scholarships.

THE FOUNDATION also sponsors a sale of used musical instruments each fall when the school year starts, providing instruments for kids who can't afford new ones.

"We just want to see that all the children get a chance to develop their own talent," Mrs. Hoops says. "So many very talented people just need a little extra training and we try to see that some of them get it.'

'Toast to Dolly'

Marion Rice (top), Alice Vial and, Pat Shuffler of Redford are part of the Sweet Adelines barbershop production of "A Toast to Dolly," running this weekend and next at Our Lady of Mercy High School, 11 Mile Road at Middlebelt. The production is an adaptation of the Broadway musical. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets are $5, and are available at the door. For reservations call 538-6426.

We've been instrumental in creating a safe, professional environment throughout this vast 140 acre Medical Complex. We've incorporated a program of civic planning where security is foremost and there's still plenty of room for parking and expansion of a true extension of Detroit's renaissance. So combining our resources, we feel that we have been successful in improving the quality of health care in the Detroit
