HALLOWEEN FUN at Hardee's Restaurant on Ford Road will be a costume-judging at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Treat awards will be given for most original, scariest, youngest and oldest person in costume and best homemade outfit.

Everyone in costume receives a treat 6:15-6:30 p.m. No purchase necessary.

DON'T FORGET about the safety program 6:30-10 p.m. Monday at McDonald's Restaurant. The Canton Kiwanis will have metal detectors at the two McDonald restaurants in Canton to check Halloween candy for metal objects.

The locations are Ford Road west of Sheldon and Michigan Avenue east of I-275.

DONATED ITEMS are needed for a children's Christmas boutique to be put on by the Stonegate Homeowners Association Saturday, Dec. 3.

Small items such as homemade crafts, perfume, toys and gift certificates will be sold to children ages 12 and younger. It's all part of an annual event put on by the homeowners group which consists of a hot dog lunch, visit with Santa and shopping at the boutique. Proceeds of the party will be used to help local charities fill food baskets for needy families.

If you have items to donate, please call Lynda Krauss at 397-1818 anytime, or Barbara Vallancourt at 397-1338 after 6 p.m.

ACTION TAKEN recently by the Township Board will enable individuals to rent Canton's Recreation Center on Michigan Avenue at Sheldon for the first time.

Canton-based, non-profit service clubs and organizations will be charged a maximum of $25, plus a refundable $200 security deposit to host any one event at the facility. Others will be charged $20 per hour plus a $200 security deposit.

It's hoped the move will add to township revenue while providing residents with an affordable facility for weekend showers, parties and reunions. Not everyone can use the facility, however. The privilege will be denied to "any individual or group, political or otherwise, that advocates the overthrow of the government."

For information, call 397-1000.

THE SESQUICENTENNIAL planning committee, working on Canton's 150th anniversary next year, is looking for suggestions from members of various community boards and commissions.

A meeting will be at 7 p.m., Monday, Nov. 7 at the Roman Forum Restaurant on Ford near Haggerty. Representatives of service groups, homeowners' associations and other civic or community groups may attend.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON LIONS cheerleaders will hold a cheerleading seminar 5:30-7:30 p.m. Friday at Smith Elementary School, 1298 McKinley, Plymouth. Admission is 50 cents.

Children 2 years and older may come. Uniforms and monograms will be awarded.

The Canton Connection runs Mondays in the Canton Observer. Send items to Canton Editor Margareth Dillon Ward, 489 S. Main, Plymouth 48170. Column items should be received at least 10 days prior to the desired publication date.

Board adopts 1984 budget

Costs to total $13 million plus

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Capping prolonged debate at its Tuesday meeting, the Canton Township Board, by a 5-1 margin, adopted a $3.6-million general fund budget slated to take effect Jan. 1.

Treasurer Maria Sterlini cast the lone dissenting vote, while Trustee Bob Padgett was absent. Padgett underwent an operation Thursday and hopes to return to active board duty in about a month.

The general fund tax — which pays most of the township's bills and funds the departments of the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, finance, planning, personnel, recreation and sanitation — will be 2.00 mills, down from last year's levy of 2.24 mills.

The tax will generate $1 million in revenues, down from $1.17 million this year, according to Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman.

However, 1984 general fund revenues reflect a $177,744 increase, up from $3.48 million in this year's general fund.

Comprising the difference are revenue increases in:

- intergovernmental funds to $1.8 million;
- licenses and permits from $74,000 to $106,400, and
- charges for services from $51,000 to $95,000.

Other revenues will drop from $661,000 to $460,000 while a fund balance of $73,200 will be transferred to the general fund. Recently approved millages for the police and fire funds are set at 4.07 mills (an increase from last year's 3.40 mills) and 3.06 mills (the same as last year's rate), respectively.

The police millage will generate $1.9 million in revenue, and the fire tax $1.5 million.

Also adopted Tuesday were the golf course and public improvement budgets.

CANTON'S EXPENDITURES in 1984 will total an estimated $13.2 million. The board got in just under the legal wire, adopting a budget at the Nov. 1 deadline.

Sterlini stirs up dispute

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

The only controversy to arise during the adoption of the general fund budget Tuesday by the Canton Township Board involved the treasurer's department.

Canton Treasurer Maria Sterlini requested $203,850 to operate her department in 1984. Approved after much heated discussion was a $166,100 budget as submitted by Supervisor James Poole.

Primary differences in the two budgets involved staffing and included:

- Sterlini's denied request for a deputy treasurer at a salary of $18,500. (No deputy treasurer is included in the adopted treasurer's budget);

Flag raises flak

The American flag has employees of Pizza Hut in Canton suffering from a severe case of indigestion.

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

Employees and customers of the Pizza Hut on Ford Road have been nursing a giant case of indigestion over the American flag.

While many stores flew their American flags at half-mast last week in memory of the massacred Marines in Lebanon, the Pizza Hut flag continued to fly at full mast. Employees said they couldn't lower it because it is permanently attached to the pole.

"We've had so many flags stolen that we had the flag permanently affixed to the top of the pole," Pizza Hut manager Pam Willoughby explained. "We can't fly at half-mast. It's either down or nothing."

Willoughby said Friday that complaints prompted the restaurant to call a sign company to come out and remove the flag.

"We'll put it back up later," Willoughby said.

THE STORE received 20-25 complaints about the flag flying at full mast, Willoughby added. She said veterans were especially upset.

"People are irate, not upset," Willoughby said.

Pauline Tumele of Canton, a Pizza Hut customer, called the Observer to complain about the flag incident.

"There are a lot of veterans out here," Tumele said. "I feel angry about it."

correction

A story in Thursday's Observer on the approval of contract agreements reached in the recent Plymouth-Canton school strike should have said all employee groups settled for a 3-percent increase for the current school year, and a 6-percent raise for 1984-85. Senior employees will receive an additional 1-percent increase the second semester of 1984-85.

What's that? Ghostly encounters unfold

By Karen Hermes Smith
staff writer

Ghosts have long been associated with Halloween, but do they really exist?

They do, according to three suburbanites — Richard Brooks, a philosophy professor at Oakland University in Rochester; Marion Kuclo of Garden City, a 22-year teacher who practices witchcraft using the name of Gundella; and Sol Lewis, director of the Michigan Metaphysical Society which meets in Southfield.

All three said they have seen, heard or felt ghosts or have investigated and believed other peoples' ghost stories.

"I'm not willing to accept that something can't be until I'm shown that it can't be," said Brooks, an associate member of the Parapsychology Association who's taught parapsychology classes at Oakland.

BROOKS SAID he has experienced two paranormal happenings.

While sitting in church about a year after his father died, he said he saw a "fleeting glimpse" of his father's face and shoulders. The image, he said, surfaced about six feet in the air. "I figured he was kind of looking in on me," Brooks said.

In the second incident, Brooks said, some palm branches tucked behind a picture suddenly fell down two feet to one side within an hour after his first wife died.

"The furnace was off and the windows weren't open," Brooks said, adding that, after uprighting the palms, he tried jiggling the picture and blowing on them to make them move. The only thing that moved then was his touch, he said.

A common experience, he said, is for people to "pick up something" in the corner of their eye, then as quickly as they turn to look at it, it disappears.

LEWIS, WHO'S taught parapsychology at Wayne County Community College and lectures throughout the country, said many people feel or smell ghosts, which are more common occurrences than seeing one. A family friend, he said, frequently caught whiffs of her husband's cigar smoke years after he was dead.

Most ghosts appear because they have hopeful messages for the living, according to Gundella. Frequently, the disembodied spirit of a dead person will appear to his loved ones and assure them that he's alive on another plane, in another existence.

Board OKs priorities

Eliminating basement flooding heads the township's priority list for long-range capital improvements.

The Township Board, after ranking proposed improvements according to necessity, recently adopted a five-year plan for their implementation. All are subject to available funding.

"It spells out what we are going to be doing in the next five years and where the money is going to be coming from," said Planner James Kosteva, who helped coordinate the project.

The last capital improvements plan was adopted in 1978, Kosteva said. Cur-

The first ham in space is facing another delay.
 Dr. Owen Garriot, an amateur radio operator and astronaut aboard the ninth space shuttle mission, is still scheduled to transmit to hams back on Earth when the mission finally gets off the ground. That's been tentatively scheduled for November 28.

NASA officials are trying to correct a problem that was discovered in the carbon insulation of the exhaust fairings of the solid rocket boosters.
 It will be the first time amateurs on earth will be able to talk to an orbiting astronaut. Earth-bound listeners don't need an amateur radio license to eavesdrop though.

"It's not just for amateurs," said Bernie Glassmeyer, amateur satellite program director for the American Radio Relay League (ARRL).
 "We encourage that," he said.

All you need to listen in will be a police-scanner-type radio that is capable of receiving the two-meter amateur radio band (144.0 mhz-148.0 mhz). The main frequencies that will be used to transmit to Earth are 145.510 mhz-145.770 mhz with the back-up frequencies being 145.53 mhz and 145.57 mhz.

The ARRL has established a special telephone line (1-203-666-0688) you can call to obtain up-to-the-minute information on launch dates and frequency changes.

The main purpose of this shuttle mission is to take the European Space Agency's Spacelab into orbit.

A REPEAT OF last winter's warm temperatures may be in the works.

The warm body of water (the El Nino) located off the Pacific coast of South America that many meteorologists attribute the mild winter weather to is still there. El Nino has cooled off by several degrees but is still two to five degrees above the temperature of the surrounding ocean. This difference has caused heavy rain storms in South America and tropical storms throughout the Pacific ocean. Scientists believe that El Nino is caused by wind shifts lasting only a few weeks that can cause a slight warming of the ocean.

THE NEXT TIME the engines quit on the airliner you're aboard think of this: a large aircraft such as a 747 or 767 is capable of gliding up to 60 miles providing it is flying at a cruising altitude (around 30,000 feet) and a speed of 500-600 miles per hour.

A modern aircraft such as the 767 has a glide ratio of 20:1. That means that the craft is capable of gliding 20 feet forward for every foot of altitude it loses. Contrary to what most people think, it's the wing that produces lift not the engine.

That's not much consolation if a problem develops during take off or landing — the two most critical phases of flight. During that time the airplane has little altitude and the pilot doesn't have much time to compensate for a malfunction.

IF SOMEONE were to ask you what the highest mountain was you would probably say Mount Everest. Well, that's not quite right. As measured from the ocean floor Hawaii's Mauna Kea volcano towers 33,476 feet above the sea bed. The total height of Mount Everest is 29,028 feet. Mauna Kea was formed millions of years ago when a rift opened in the floor of the Pacific spewing millions of yards of lava into the ocean. The mound continued to build in size until it finally broke the surface of the water. Today, the volcano stands 13,796 feet above sea level and forms most of the land mass of the big island of Hawaii.

MINOXIDIL If your bald or losing your hair that word might have a special meaning to you. It is the name of a drug that researchers at the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Co. think may be capable of growing hair on bald heads. Actually, Minoxidil is being used to treat people who suffer from high blood pressure. One of the side effects patients who are using the drug have noticed is they began to sprout hair where there was none before and the growth of existing hair was accelerated.

But, there's a catch.
 When taken internally Minoxidil can cause dangerous side effects in the cardiovascular system. To avoid these difficulties Upjohn is using a cream containing the drug that is used externally. Tests are now under way in dermatology labs at hospitals across the country. The drug is expensive and must be used continuously to stimulate the growth of hair.

Dr. Stuart Solin adjusts the camera which looks into the business end of Michigan State University's electron microscope which is capable of examining objects a thousand times smaller than a hair.

Small becomes even smaller with new scope

By Steve Barnaby

Thinking big in Stuart Solin's world is a small matter — real small, like in angstrom-size measurements.

The Michigan State University physicist is the proud father of the newest scientific baby on campus — a $500,000 electron microscope which is safely cradled away in the basement of the university's physics building.

Acquisition of the "microscope" has put MSU in league with only five other universities around the nation. And with Solin's innovations, the MSU model has been transformed into a one-of-a-kind instrument for the time being.

"I don't know if this is the most important thing that has happened to me, but it certainly has the potential of being one of the more important things," said the 41-year-old director of the MSU Analytical Electron Microscopy Laboratory.

Obtaining the precision microscope was Solin's objective since the first day he stepped on the East Lansing campus back in 1979.

And since its installation earlier this year, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology graduate has found himself the center of media interviews and a flow of business inquiries.

SINCE THE electron scope was installed, the university has found itself aiding such companies as Ford Motor Company, General Motors, Dow Chemical and Monsanto in their research efforts.

Bedecked in moccasins and a plaid flannel shirt, Solin's casual attire belies his physical and mental intensity, accentuated by a machine-gun style dialogue.

"Most microscopes don't take advantage of the capability to analyze," he said.

One adaptation will allow crystal structures to be examined. The second will compensate for a slight movement of the specimen which previously hindered an observer from distinguishing one spot of the element from the next.

A version of the OU process is being used to inspect rubber tires for flaws. The tire is placed inside a chamber and subjected to a vacuum. Photos are taken of a special camera.

"If there is a ply separation or an internal void in the tire," Hovanessian said, "you would notice because of the large numbers of interference fringes on the photo."

HOVANESSIAN STRESSED that their work in optical sheargraphy is still in the laboratory stage.

"We're not studying the actual bridge or underwater structures yet," he said. "This is still the background work which would prepare for that. Field testing may be a couple of years down the road, and it's not part of our (federal) grant."

The concept of optical sheargraphy is not an idea you think of overnight, according to Hovanessian, a professor at OU since 1970.

"It evolves over the years," he said. "We've been involved with lots of work utilizing lasers. I've been doing work in stress analysis with lasers

Sterlini's budget campaign fails; staffing denied

• $8,000 allotted for the treasurer's secretary in the adopted budget as opposed to Sterlini's requested $16,000, and

• a granted $60,000 for clerical help contrasted with a proposed $70,000.

The projected 1983 budget for the treasurer's office totals $165,900. Sterlini claims her department has operated efficiently — though financial constraints have placed an unreasonable demand on her staff.

HER PERSISTENT questioning of board members intended to sell them on the proposed budget Tuesday succeeded only in prompting a backlash.

"I will not allow you to put me on trial," said Trustee Loren Bennett.

"You had a responsibility to put something on our desk (a proposed budget) a month ago that was reasonable and you failed to do so. I feel $165,900 is a sufficient, reasonable amount for you to operate your department," Trustee Steve Larson said in justification for Sterlini's request.

"Any department head asking for this type of increase should expect to get royally grilled," he said.

"If (an appointed department head) acted this way (throughout the budget process), I'd be making a motion to fire that employee," added Bennett.

STERLINI WHO announced her department has continued to invest $1 million in township funds annually, said Wednesday that board members exercised "power and authority to destroy the stability of a department that's one of the most important departments in the township."

"It was unbelievable, unprofessional, personal politics. They're trying to force me to operate under ways to purposely cause grievances and to disrupt everything again. They're never going to let this trouble end," she said.

Clerk John Flodin brought Tuesday's fray to a close, saying "this is becoming emotional as hell. It's important to recognize these budgets are not written in stone."

"I think the board is required to grant (Sterlini) the staffing she needs and can justify. I think we can and will do it."

A SURVEY Sterlini conducted shows that her department, unlike treasurer's offices in comparably sized municipalities in metro-Detroit — is the only one operating without a deputy treasurer. Waterford Township, which exceeds Canton in population, employs both a deputy and assistant deputy treasurer, she said.

Canton's three full-time treasurer's department employees compare with eight in Avon Township; eight in Waterford, and five in the City of Romulus, Sterlini said.

The treasurer said Canton is the only municipality she knows of in which the supervisor — not the treasurer — staffs the treasurer's department.

Improvement plan approved

rent plans have been in the works for about a year, and all township departments submitted requests for various projects.

Much of the funding will come from the township's annual allocation of federal revenue-sharing dollars, Kosteva said.

Some projects are one-time purchases or improvements designed to last several years, such as park equipment and audio-visual aids.

Other projects will be financed over several years, such as the sewer improvements and funding for a new police station. The police facility will be financed through revenue-sharing and the police fund.

HAVING A plan discourages unexpected requests for capital funding, Kosteva said.

"Spontaneous requests will have to be justified regarding compliance with the plan," Kosteva said.

"For example, the plan calls for $30,000 annual allocations from the water and sewer fund to repair manholes and fix and maintain meters. According to the plan, that will eliminate water loss and reduce basement flooding, a chronic problem in some Canton homes."

The plan for 1984 is to budget $486,000 from revenue-sharing, $30,000 from water and sewer, $37,500 from the police fund and $44,750 from the fire fund.

The revenue-sharing portion, the largest allotment, will cover the purchase of new police cars, equipment for the fire department, a shelter and re-training stand for the recreation complex near Township Hall, funds to stimulate economic development and new computers.

Thieves net 12 saws

BZZZ-GONE: A pair of "smash and grab" thieves broke into the Canton Power Equipment Oct. 25 and stole a dozen chain saws attached together.

The thieves used a rock to break a window, then reached in and dragged away the saws, which were close to the window, police said.

Several bits of the heavy saw were broken off while being removed, according to police.

A car was left running outside the door, and the pair escaped west-bound on Ford, police said.

SNEAK ATTACK: It didn't take long for a thief to take advantage of an unlocked car door, according to a police report.

A Regency Court resident took some stuff from his car into his apartment Oct. 25. When he returned a few minutes later, someone had stolen tools worth $300 from the back seat of the car.

GETTING INTO SEASON: Some thieves are getting an early start on winter weather judging by rash of snowblower thefts from Canton garages.

Residents of Copeland Circle and Whittier reported thefts of their snowblowers Oct. 24-25. The devices are worth around $300 each.

OUT OF SEASON: A resident of East Spring reported the theft of a barbecue grill from his patio Oct. 25. Someone stole a $450 set of golf clubs and related equipment from a Westminister garage Oct. 22. The Westminister man also lost his wedding band, which was in the golf bag.

PURSE-NAPPING: Once again, burglars are breaking into Canton homes to steal residents' purses.

In the latest of a series of such break-ins, one or more thieves broke into two homes on Burlington Oct. 24. After prying open windows or doors, they grabbed purses on the kitchen counter, police reports say.

Reported stolen from the two were $100 in cash, a $110 watch and a ring valued at $1,000. Empty purses were later found in the neighborhood.

SAD RETURN: An Old Michigan Avenue resident got a rude awakening when she returned from a vacation to find several items missing from her home Oct. 21.

Reported stolen were $500 worth of jewelry, a $400 color TV, a sewing machine, wall clock and a set of bedspreads.

DEAL GONE SOUR: An alleged sniping of $32 worth of college went sour, when three teens were arrested at Meijer Thrifty Acres Oct. 23.

According to a police report, a store security agent noticed the youths, aged 12, 14 and 17, stuff the items into their pockets.

Private buses, van pools help ease SEMTA pinch

By Kathy Parrish
staff writer

It's standing room only on some buses for commuters displaced by public transit cutbacks.

But Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) hopes to reduce crowding soon through private buses and van pools.

"It's something we're very pleased with—a cooperative venture between the private and public transit to benefit the riders," said Lori Lysett, SEMTA's manager of schedules.

IN COOPERATION with Michigan Trailways and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) Ride Share Program, SEMTA is working out private bus and van transportation for some riders it no longer serves.

To offset a $16 million deficit, SEMTA Oct. 17 eliminated its commuter rail and reduced buses and routes.

Former rail commuters will be offered luxury coach service from the train stations by Michigan Trailways, which will run two buses each way from Pontiac to Detroit.

SEMCOG has added six or seven MichichiVans to its former 65 and expects to run another 10 to 15 in the next month. Most of the new riders rode Park and Ride buses from parking lots in the suburbs.

SEMTA plans schedule "refinements" Nov. 14 to ease the crunch, which resulted in usually full buses carrying 15-20 standees. In rare cases, buses have 30 more people. SEMTA buses average 44 passengers, but they can legally carry 70.

"We expect to make another schedule adjustment to even out the loads," Lysett said.

"We can't change routes or add buses, but we can make some adjustments."

AFFECTED MOST by the extensive cutbacks are buses carrying passengers to and from work at peak hours—7:30-8:30 a.m. and 4-6 p.m.

Almost all commuter runs have been affected, but the most crowded are main routes like Ford in western Wayne, Van Dyke and Woodward, which is commuters' alternative to the train.

Also packed are reduced-run Park and Ride 810 (Plymouth) and 820 (Farmington), which picked up passengers stranded by the eliminated 815 Park and Ride.

Shortway Lines is exploring offering service in the communities of Farmington and Plymouth.

PEOPLE WHO depend on small bus service are now finding that they have to call farther ahead for reservations. If they wait until the day before—as they used to—the vehicle may already be full.

While legally buses can carry many more passengers than did before, Lysett admitted some rides are now "very cozy."

"There are a lot of people standing. We know that," explained the manager of schedules for SEMTA, which now gets 1,500 phone calls a day instead of its previous 1,200.

"But people have been extremely cooperative. They realize, with our monetary restraints, we just didn't have much choice."

Drivers, though, now have the unfamiliar task of getting passengers to stand behind the white line near the front door.

"Passengers like to hover near the front. So we need their cooperation," Lysett said.

TRAIN RIDERS who have switched to Woodward buses or private transportation will be offered private bus transportation Nov. 7.

Michigan Trailways, a Clio-based company offering two Pontiac-Detroit trips daily, will expand to offer a "premium" service from the train stations in Pontiac, Bloomfield, Charing Cross and Birmingham.

The big red buses with the motto "Go Big Red" will stop at the New Center, three times in the downtown central business district and Renaissance Center.

Cost of the service will be $3 each way from Pontiac and Bloomfield and $2.50 from Charing Cross and Birmingham. There are 10-trip and monthly rates.

Riders are asked to call in reservations (755-0360 in Detroit or 858-8822 in Pontiac) the first couple of weeks.

"We're excited about it," said Dan Fischer, assistant to the president of Michigan Trailways.

"We think it will be a premium service for commuters."

COMMUTERS ALSO are being helped to form van pools, which carry 15 riders and usually offer door-to-door service.

The driver gets use of a new vehicle and rides free while passengers pay about $40 monthly to travel 40 miles round trip a day.

Sandra Wigent, SEMCOG's Ride Share Program manager, has been deluged with inquiries in the past two weeks. About 50 percent of the hotline (963-RIDE) calls—up to 100 a day—are from former Park and Ride commuters.

"We're delighted. We're willing to help whatever way we can," said Wigent, who encourages SEMTA use where it's available because of the greater flexibility of public transportation.

Substance abuse workshop scheduled

Jim Crowley will be the featured speaker at a substance abuse workshop scheduled for Monday, Nov. 10, at Plymouth Canton High School.

Regular meetings

Canton's Township Board regularly meets on the first, second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Meetings begin at 7 p.m. at Township Hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education regularly meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth.

The workshop, sponsored by the Committee for Responsible Education, will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of Canton High on Canton Center Road just south of Joy.

Crowley, president of Community Intervention Inc., of Minneapolis has developed an "intervention-to-prevention" approach to involve parents and community in a program to deal with the misuse of alcohol and drugs.

After the keynote address, there will be individual group sessions with community resource people. The fee of $5 per person includes a kit of informational materials. Baby-sitting will be provided free.

Members of the Committee for Responsible Education include Tom Bissonette, David Breeden, Carol Davis, Joene McCoy, and Dale Yagella.

Labels mean hospital dollars

People are being asked to save Heinz Baby Food labels to help patients at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Children's Hospital and 21,000 for the Ticker Club were collected.

"Our goal for 1983 is to top last year's results," said hospital spokesman John Hawkins. "The more labels that are turned in, the greater the Heinz Co. donation, and the better we'll be able to care for the sick and injured kids who come here."

Requests for the items along with questions can be directed to Hawkins, the Development Office, 494-5373.

Flagpole suit filed by bike shop owner

Patriotism undoubtedly will be the reoccurring theme in a lawsuit filed last week against Plymouth Township.

The suit is part of Jerry Loisel's battle to install a 70-foot flagpole in front of his bicycle shop at 1449 W. Ann Arbor Road.

Loiselle filed for an injunction, which would permit him to erect the pole, in Wayne County Circuit Court last Tuesday. Judge James Mies is expected to hear arguments supporting Loiselle's request for an accelerated decision this Friday.

The township's Board of Appeals earlier denied Loiselle permission to install the pole, claiming it would be a "permanent structure" not complying with local zoning regulations.

Attorney John Voss III said he will argue flagpoles are not structures, as outlined in the state construction code. He has advised Loiselle to go ahead and install the pole before a court ruling.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen declined comment on the lawsuit last week, only saying Loiselle is following the proper procedures to appeal a Board of Appeals decision.

Loiselle hosted a press conference last Tuesday to announce the lawsuit. He served a truly favorite American dish, apple pie, while discussing his desire to fly the Stars and Stripes.

Can't help loving that dog of mine

My dog has fleas.

This important and startling fact was relayed to me by our veterinarian at a cost of $33. Even fleas aren't cheap these days!

In all fairness to our brave and kindly vet, I should confess that the entire $33 was not for the flea diagnosis. It seems our beloved mutt was also due for a few of his canine inoculations. Of course, if the silly dog hadn't of gone out and gotten himself infested with those little irritating varmint in the first place, we wouldn't have gone to the vet. So, it's all his fault.

His name, by the way, is Sparky. Not a very original name, I confess, but we let the kids name this one. (I got to name the cat — Bicardi. I like a name that tells you something about the animal's owners).

LIKE PARENTS with their children, I suspect that every pet owner thinks that their particular animal is special. Well, Sparky is! For one thing, it's seldom that you come across a cuddly house dog who lets the kids sit on him, pull his ears and generally abuse him with love, while keeping intact a killer instinct that even the biggest and bravest of men would be foolish to challenge.

I haven't seen the movie, "Cujo," but I'm willing to bet that Sparky does a fairly good impersonation of that rabid St. Bernard every time the paper boy opens the screen door and tosses the paper into the house. Sparky hates that blatant intrusion into his "space." I think the paperboy knows this and just loves to open the door to provoke what appears to be a mad dog. Some day that foolish boy may lose an arm.

But sweet ol' Sparky really isn't mean. He just likes for people to think that he is. Everytime friends come to visit, they get the usual Smith household greeting — much vicious snarling and barking at their audacity in entering our home. As soon as they sit down and Sparky figures he's done himself proud, he leaps into someone's lap and proceeds to lick them in the face. It's a practice I'm sure they find far more irritating than the barking.

Nancy Walls Smith

HE'S A marvelous watch dog. The slightest noise from outside can set him off. I don't know if you've ever had the experience of sitting in a quiet house, preoccupied with chores and/or day-dreams only to be unpleasantly surprised by a thunderous "WOOF!" My startled response is being kept finely tuned. Sometimes I even scream. Sometimes even my husband screams. Sparky just looks at us with his tale wagging, waiting to be congratulated on keeping us informed as to any movements in the world around us. Dumb dog.

Sparky really didn't like this trip to the vet. I had to give him little-dog tranquilizers, and they taped his mouth shut when we got there. I took some little-people tranquilizers, but, no, they didn't tape my mouth shut when we got there. Maybe they should have because I know it was hanging open when I saw the bill.

But on the whole, I'd say he's worth it. I love that big dumb dog — just as much as you love yours!

oral-quarrel

This week's Oral Quarrel asked readers what they think the U.S. should do in the wake of the terrorist attack on U.S. Marines in Lebanon.

I think the Marines should pull out of Lebanon. The guys over there that were in charge blew it in the first place by clustering their men and not having a perimeter set up right.

As far as Grenada, I don't think they really went in to Grenada to protect the students. I think they went in to grab that airstrip and I think they saved a lot of lives by grabbing that airstrip.

I believe the United States should expand its peacekeeping operation and furthermore to take further action in the area. The area is a vital interest area to the United States, particularly in that Israel is a lone island there and we should defend and support Israel.

Expand.

I think the United States should do what's necessary. If it comes to war, then let's go to war but let's stop letting all these Americans get killed wastefully. Let's get the world cleaned up and do a good job. Thank you.

We should get out of Beirut. We have no business baby-sitting the world. We should be unwilling to sacrifice any of our men for this cause.

This family believes that everything the President has done is correct. We believe in staying there with the peacekeeping operation. I think you should have set that as one of your options rather than just pull out and take other action. You left that part out about stay where you are. Thank you.

I think they ought to take other action, like taking revenge probably. Thank you.

The United States should expand its action. Send more Marines. Take control of the situation, establish democracy and keep it going in the Middle East.

I think the U.S. should continue on in Lebanon and other spots in the world and reverse its 10-year trend and become a protector and preserver of freedom in this world. If they wait until the world is two-thirds Communist and Socialist we're in a lot of trouble and we'll never be able to stop it.

Former treasurer's department staffers furious and frustrated with supervisor

To the editor:

We are furious and frustrated! As former employees of the Canton Treasurer's Department for the Tax Season of 1982-83, we were promised by our employer, Maria Sterlini, that our jobs would be open and available for this year's tax season.

Unfortunately for us, because of our courage and honesty in stating publicly some of our concerns regarding the township, we now find ourselves unwelcome as employees of the township.

To our knowledge, Ms. Sterlini submitted our names for rehiring in August, 1983. Supervisor James Poole has refused to reinstate us as he feels there would be "problems" with other employees if we were rehired.

This all stems from a letter we wrote which was published in the Observer and Crier stating what we felt were concerns regarding the township that should be made public. Up until that time Mr. Poole felt we were "excellent workers" and "very personable women" as stated at the March 8, 1983 township board meeting. After our letter was published a few weeks later, Mr. Poole's opinion of us apparently changed drastically.

According to Personnel Director Dan Durack, our work performance was not an issue in our rehiring, but due to the letter we wrote containing "negative" statements concerning the township, Mr. Poole apparently felt it would cause "problems" in rehiring us.

We feel we have a definite right to our jobs this tax season, as we were indexed "excellent" workers and related exceptionally well to Ms. Sterlini, our co-workers in the treasurer's department, taxpayers we dealt with personally, as well as other employees.

We would like the supervisor, Mr. James Poole, to publicly state his reasons for not rehiring us, exactly what "problems" he feels we would be causing, and with whom we would not be able to relate on a working basis.

Realistically, we feel we are not the only employees who have had "negative" feelings and concerns about the township. The only difference is we had the courage of our convictions and publicly stated what we honestly felt.

We had always assumed until this incident that we were living in a "free" and open country, "freedom of speech" was not cause for alarm or retribution, as it is in Russia and other countries behind the Iron Curtain. We hope we're not wrong.

In our letter we stated that in spite of feelings of alienation from some township employees outside the treasurer's department, we were more than willing and eager to return to work for the 1983-84 tax season. We still feel the same way.

Featured here are several delicious entrées from which to choose—all combining versatile Alaska seafood and assorted pastas. Each dish has a distinctive flavor and each has been calorie-trimmed as well. All tally about 400 calories or less per serving.

Protein-rich Alaska canned salmon can be combined with nourishing pasta in an endless number of wonderful combos. Presented here are several suggestions which will supply excellent eating in a minimum of time.

Lasagne-Salmon Pinwheels make great company fare. To prepare, lasagne is cooked just until tender, spread with a colorful blend of canned salmon, spinach and ricotta cheese, then rolled up and baked with stewed tomatoes.

In a main-dish salad, marinated pasta shells combine with convenient canned salmon, cucumber, celery, hard-cooked egg, green onion and grated Parmesan cheese.

Spaghetti and Crab Primavera is sensational for a special occasion. Quick to prepare, this outstanding pasta dish brings together succulent Alaska Snow crab with colorful vegetables.

On another occasion, fill jumbo macaroni shells with nourishing canned salmon, cottage cheese and broccoli and bake with a fresh mushroom sauce. Or prepare a salmon version of the ever popular macaroni and cheese casserole for compliments galore.

Another culinary delight combines sautéed Alaska halibut and assorted vegetables with egg noodles.

LASAGNE-SALMON PINWHEELS

(Makes 8 servings)

- 8 lasagne
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon
- 1 container (15 ounces) part skim milk ricotta cheese
- 3 cups chopped fresh spinach (stems removed)
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1-1/2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (14-1/2 ounces) stewed tomatoes

Gradually add lasagne and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

While lasagne is cooking, drain salmon and reserve liquid. Break salmon into small chunks in small bowl; set aside. In another bowl, stir together ricotta cheese, spinach, onion, Parmesan cheese, lemon peel and pepper until blended. Add salmon chunks and toss gently.

Spread salmon mixture evenly over each lasagne leaving a 1/2-inch border at each end. Roll up and place open side up in greased 2-1/2 or 3 quart casserole. Stir salmon liquid into tomatoes. Spoon tomatoes around lasagne pinwheels. Cover and bake at 375°F. about 30 minutes or until bubbly. Calories per serving: 274

SALMON-PASTA SALAD

(Makes 4 servings)

- 8 ounces small shell macaroni
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1/2 cup oil free Italian dressing
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon tarragon, crushed
- 1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon
- 1 cup seeded, diced cucumber
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 1 hard cooked egg, chopped
- 2 tablespoons each sliced green onion, minced parsley and grated Parmesan cheese
- Salt and pepper
- Lettuce

Gradually add shells and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine dressing, mustard, sugar and tarragon. Marinate shells in 1/4 cup dressing, cool at room temperature. Drain salmon; break into chunks with a fork. Add salmon, cucumber, celery, egg, green onion, parsley, cheese and remaining dressing; toss gently. Salt and pepper to taste. Serve on lettuce lined platter. Calories per serving: 407

SPAGHETTI AND CRAB PRIMAVERA

(Makes 4 servings)

- 1-1/2 to 2 pounds Alaska Snow crab clusters, thawed if necessary
- 8 ounces spaghetti
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1-1/2 cups sliced mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon each basil and oregano, crushed
- Dash pepper
- 1/2 cup low-fat milk
- 1 small yellow squash or zucchini, sliced and cooked crisp-tender
- 1/2 cup each partially cooked fresh peas* and diced tomato
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 tablespoon white wine (optional)
- 1/4 teaspoon grated Parmesan cheese (optional)
- Lime or lemon wedges

Rinse crab under cool water. Remove shoulder meat from shell; reserve. Cut legs and claws into serving sized pieces; score backs of leg sections using large, heavy knife or slit with kitchen shears. Steam crab legs about 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Gradually add spaghetti and 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Sauté mushrooms and onion in butter. Add flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, herbs and pepper; cook and stir 1 minute. Gradually add milk; cook and stir until thickened. Add crab meat and cooked vegetables, tomato, parsley, and wine. Heat thoroughly. Toss hot spaghetti with vegetable mixture; serve on heated platter. Sprinkle with cheese. Garnish with crab legs and lime. Calories per serving: 375

*Thawed frozen peas can be substituted.

SALMON-STUFFED PASTA SHELLS

(Makes 4 servings)

- 16 jumbo macaroni shells (about 2 cups)
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 can (7-3/4 ounces) salmon
- 1/2 cup low-fat cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
- 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- Dash ground nutmeg
- Dash salt and pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 vegetable bouillon cube
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/4 cups each chopped basil and mushrooms
- 2 teaspoons onion, oil

Gradually add shells and salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

While shells are cooking, drain salmon and flake into even portions. Add cottage cheese, broccoli, lemon peel, nutmeg, salt and pepper. Stir lightly until just mixed. Fill each shell with mixture; set aside.

In small saucepan, melt butter. Stir in flour and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add bouillon cube to 1 cup water and stir until dissolved. Slowly add to flour mixture, then cook, stirring, until mixture thickens. Add mushrooms and lemon juice and cook 2 to 3 minutes or until mushrooms are just tender. Pour all but 1/2 cup mushroom sauce in bottom of an 11 x 7 x 2 inch baking dish. Place stuffed shells in dish and pour remaining sauce over. Cover with foil. Bake at 375°F. 25 to 30 minutes or until bubbly and hot. Calories per serving: 266

SALMON-MACARONI CASSEROLE

(Makes 4 servings)

- 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1-1/3 cups skim milk
- 1 cup shredded part skim milk Swiss cheese
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 3/4 cup frozen peas, thawed
- 1 can (7-3/4 ounces) salmon

Gradually add macaroni and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

While macaroni is cooking, melt butter in medium saucepan over low heat. Sauté onion in butter. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and comes to a boil. Add cheese and mustard and cook until cheese is melted. Stir in peas. Break salmon into chunks; stir salmon and liquid into sauce. Heat through. Combine macaroni and salmon sauce in a 2 quart casserole. Cover and bake at 375°F. 25 to 30 minutes or until bubbly. Calories per serving: 420

HALIBUT SAUTE ON NOODLES

(Makes 4 servings)

- 1 pound Alaska halibut, thawed if necessary, and cut into 2 x 1 1/2 x 1/4 inch strips
- Salt and pepper
- 8 ounces fine egg noodles (about 4 cups)
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 2 cups coarsely shredded cabbage
- 2 cups each thinly sliced carrots and celery
- 1/4 cup each sliced green onion and thinly sliced radish or green pepper
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon ground mustard
- 1/8 teaspoon ground ginger
- 2 tablespoons toasted sliced almonds

Season halibut with salt and pepper. Gradually add noodles and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Sauté halibut in oil until barely cooked; remove from skillet. Sauté vegetables in same skillet until crisp-tender. Return halibut to skillet. Combine 1/4 cup water, cornstarch and spices. Add halibut mixture. Cook and stir until thickened. Serve halibut vegetable mixture over noodles. Garnish with toasted almonds. Calories per serving: 406

Be careful: Don't pay for wrapping

Two supermarket chains in my neck of the woods have admitted to misleading advertising and mislabeling or shortweighing meat.

While I rarely shop at their stores. For other reasons, I believe it's important for you to be aware that the same violations may be occurring at other supermarkets.

I occasionally weigh packaged produce at the two chains I patronize, so far, I haven't been cheated. I plan to drop some meat on produce scales for the heck of it since I learned that supermarkets aren't above making less than honest mistakes.

One chain really got nailed by the consumer protection agency. It had been weighing and pricing meat after packaging so shoppers in 34 stores paid beef prices for 1 1/2 ounces of cellophane and cardboard.

It sold ground beef that contained soybean and other fillers as "great ground beef." It now sells "great ground."

The least serious violations: labeling beef chuck shoulder steak "London broil" and rump roast "California roast."

The most serious violations: marking rib steak "rib-eye" and rib-eye "beef loin strip," with accompanying higher prices.

The most foolish violation: tagging lamb chops from New Zealand "USDA choice."

BEEF A LA MODE

2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1 garlic clove, minced
Pinch of cayenne pepper
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
4-lb. beef rump roast
2 onions, sliced
1/4 cup bacon drippings
1 bay leaf
1 parsley sprig
3 carrots, sliced
1 turnip, sliced and cut up

On dinner plate, combine salt, pepper, garlic, cayenne and flour. Dredge beef in seasoned flour. In large pot, cook onions in heated bacon drippings until limp and remove. Slowly brown meat all over, return onions, add bay leaf and parsley, place carrots and turnip around meat, add water, cover and cook on a notch above low 3 1/4 to 4 hours. Remove meat to heated platter. Strain cooking liquid, add enough water to make 2 cups, return to pot and thicken with flour for gravy. Serve with mashed potatoes, buttered noodles or fluffy rice. Serves 8.

Pros and cons of convection ovens

Before you purchase a countertop forced air convection oven, look into the pros and cons of making such a purchase.

Forced air convection ovens cook faster than conventional ovens, says Elaine Glasser, Oakland County Extension Home Economist, because a fan moves heated air around the food. As moisture evaporation is speeded up, food surfaces brown so foods look as if they were baked or roasted in a conventional oven.

Although cooking time is usually shorter and the convection oven uses less energy than a range oven, you may not actually save energy, Glasser says. It depends on your total cooking load. Cooking a full load in a range oven would probably be more economical than cooking the same foods one or two at a time in a small countertop oven.

IF YOU'RE considering a countertop convection oven, be sure that you have enough counter space for it, allowing a 6-inch clearance at the back, both sides and top to dispel the heat. If the oven isn't well insulated or doesn't have an air space between its walls to cook the outer surface, you will have to allow even more clearance, Glasser says.

SOME CONSUMERS are selecting a combination forced air convection/microwave oven. This version offers quicker cooking from the microwave mode, energy savings when cooking small amounts of foods, fast defrosting and the added option of browning and crisping foods and getting a crust on baked goods, Glasser says.

The option of cooking in either mode or both in combination in one unit offers versatility and saves counter space. The combination is more expensive than either a microwave or portable convection oven alone, however, and is much heavier.

Because the convection cooking heats the inside cavity, food spills and splatters can bake on, so it's important to wipe the interior clean each time.

If you own a conventional range oven that works well, consider continuing to use that for baking and browning certain foods and purchase a straight microwave oven for faster cooking if that is your need.

Feast on sea's fruits

When Californians of Italian heritage returned from fishing in the Pacific Ocean, the elder fishermen and relatives who didn't go out with the boats would help clean the catch. They received no reward for their labors. So, to compensate them for their work, the captain of one of the fishing boats would go from ship to ship with a large pail, asking each fisherman to "chip-in" some fish.

In their broken English they shouted "chip-in," which later became known as "chipmunk," one of the great fish soups in the world. Often called "a feast of the fruits of the sea" it has as many variations as there are people.

CROPPINO

2 large onions, chopped
1/4 cup olive oil

1 (14 oz.) can Italian plum tomatoes
2 cups red wine
2 cups water
1 cup California brandy
1/4 tsp. thyme
1/4 tsp. basil
1/4 tsp. oregano
1 lb. scallops, halved
2 lbs. shrimp, shelled and deveined
36 clams, well scrubbed
3 crabs, cut up

In a deep kettle, saute the onions in the oil until soft. Add tomatoes, wine, water, brandy, thyme, basil and oregano. Simmer covered over low heat for one hour. Add remaining ingredients and cook another 10-12 minutes. Serves 6.

Reduce heat

Are you using a glass pan for an oven recipe? Be sure to reduce the oven temperature 25 degrees so the dish won't bake too fast.

CONGRATULATIONS to Thelma and Maitland Lattimer who celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary Saturday. They were married in Detroit Oct. 29, 1921. The Lattimers have been residents of Tonquish Creek Manor for three years, and they love it. They are active in Colony Bible Fellowship Church where Mrs. Lattimer sings in the choir.

They have three children, Rachel Hardy, Leslie Lattimer and Leona McKinnon; nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Mr. Lattimer was a master mechanic. He retired 15 years ago.

They enjoy watching television in their spare time but, according to Mrs. Lattimer, "We pick the good things."

MIKE GRESOCK will represent this area Nov. 12 in the District 28 Toastmasters humorous speech contest. Mike, a member of the Oral Majority group in Plymouth, won the area title in the competition in Hillside Inn.

The district contest will be in Monroe with local winners from Ohio, Southeastern Michigan and Ontario competing.

Mike's topic was "Demotivation" — a spoof on the current motivation fad.

NOTICE THE NEW "Cook's Pleasure" canopy over at Westchester Mall on Forest Avenue?

Mary Reeves has changed the name of Designs in Dining to Cook's Pleasure. Mary says, "People thought we were either a china store or a restaurant."

As well as the new name, Mary has extended her shop, expanding into some of the area occupied formerly by Sportventure. She also has expanded her stock and services with a bride's registry, a wish book, shipping, telephone orders and a catalog.

She has a larger staff. Shirley Wolf, local cooking teacher will be demonstrating her art on Thursdays. Gae McCord will be there Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and Lynda Dawson will be the third member of the staff.

The Cook's Pleasure Gourmet Christmas Guide, in full color, has some marvelous gift suggestions — and items for your own wish list.

ARTIST JOHNNIE Crosby said she's excited over the sale of one of her paintings. She had submitted a water color abstract, "Variation on a Theme," to the Midland Mix-Media Show. Not only was it accepted, it was purchased by Dow Chemical.

THANKS TO THE Plymouth Lions Club, groups of senior citizens can tour the Plymouth Historical Museum at no charge. The Lions Club will pick up the tab.

Plymouth Historical Society members have free admission to the museum at any time. But now, all seniors have free admission. Call Barbara Saunders, museum director, for details, 455-8940.

THE CANTON Library now has a copy of the Vietnam Memorial Directory. It was presented to Kay Baldrica, president of the library board by the American Legion Passage-Gayle Post 391 of Plymouth.

The directory lists all the veterans who were casualties in Vietnam and the location of their names on the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C. Five men from this area are listed in the directory.

THEIR "BITE the Big Apple" was huge success and they appeared on stage at a recent convention at Cobo Hall. Now, the Midwest Harmony chapter of Sweet Adelines Inc. is looking for new members.

A special guest night will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 16, in their regular meeting place, Kirk of Our Savior Church, Cherry Hill Road between Wayne and Newburgh roads, Westland.

This is a night for women to visit and see what Sweet Adelines is all about," said Pat Daubenmire, president, a Canton resident. "The ability to read music is not a requirement. What is needed is the ability to hold a musical line against other singing parts."

Call 721-3861 for information.

Park Players present 'Ask Any Girl'

The Centennial Educational Park Players open the new season Thursday night at Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium with the comedy, "Ask Any Girl." Curtain time will be 8 p.m. for the three performances scheduled also for Friday and Saturday. Shirley MacLaine and David Niven starred in the movie version of the play.

per person. But if a guy "asks any girl" to accompany him to the play, he will receive a discount of 50 cents off the price of the pink (her) ticket. Tickets will be available at the box office before each performance at the school on Joy Road west of Canton Center.

Phone call from daughter in the big city has rapt attention of Aunt Fern (Lisa Rohde), left; Mr. Wheeler, (Ron Hall); Mrs. Wheeler, (Kris Umbaugh), and Aunt Lettie (Renee Pikula) in back.

Rocks rebound, blank N'ville

Plymouth Salem rebounded from last week's tough loss to Walled Lake Central, shutting out Northville 24-0, in a battle of runner-ups Friday night in the Western Lakes Athletic Association.

The Rocks racked up 358 yards in total offense, scoring once in each quarter, while holding the Mustangs to 138 yards in posting their first shutout of the year.

"We swarmed them pretty good and we were able to move the ball on the ground," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "After a disappointing loss last week, which we should have won — we came out in the first half sluggish. But we were much better in the second half."

football

HALFBACK JEFF Arnold scored the Rocks' first touchdown on a 7-yard burst in the first quarter, capping a 61-yard drive in nine plays.

Fullback Scott Jurek, who carried the ball 23 times for 120 yards in the game, scored the second touchdown on a 3-yard run that gave Salem a 12-0 halftime lead (the Rocks missed all four extra points).

Quarterback Mark Tindall's 1-yard sneak in the third period culminated a 52-yard drive in 10 plays.

Salem's last touchdown came on Arnold's second touchdown, an 11-yard dash in the final quarter.

Salem's powerful rushing attack netted 234 yards.

COMPLEMENTING Jurek's outstanding game were Tindall, who had nine carries for 55 yards, and Arnold, who added 42 yards on six carries.

Tindall and second-string quarterback Steve Sodditch combined to complete six of seven passes for 124 yards, all to end Craig Morton.

Linebacker David Bunch was the Rocks' defensive star, recording 16 tackles.

Salem raised its overall record to 7-1 with the victory. Northville's record dropped to 4-3.

The Rocks will meet Redford Union Friday at home in their final regular season game.

Craig Morton caught six passes for 124 yards for the Rocks Friday night in their 24-0 win over Northville. Morton, above, took this pass from quarterback Mark Tindall all the way down to the 1-yard line.

Canton soccer charge ends, 1-0

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Livonia Bentley got to wear the glass slipper Saturday, stopping Plymouth Canton's cinderella state soccer run with a hard-fought, 1-0 victory in the boys' regional final.

The Bulldogs (11-4-4) travel Wednesday to meet Troy Athens-Warren DeLaSalle winner in the Class A semifinals. Canton, one of the tournament surprises after upsetting Catholic League champ Harper Woods Notre Dame last week, bowed out with a 10-7 record.

"This means a lot to hold this in my hand," said Bentley first-year coach Tom Caranicas, clutching the regional trophy. "I'm very excited and proud."

"When we started the season we had three goals — to win this game, to get to the next game (the semifinals) and to win the state playoff."

"We've achieved one goal now," Bentley tallied the game's lone goal midway through the second half when Jim Radeback punched through a loose ball on a sideline throw-in from teammate Eric Scicluna.

"CANTON was very tough in the midfield during the first half," said Caranicas. "In the second half we made some adjustments and wanted to get the ball to the wings. We put Jim (Radeback) there and switched Dennis Patchett to center-forward."

"We took their midfield apart and sneaked a goal in."

Bentley's aggressive defense was spearhead by the team's quiet man, sweeper back Kevin Tuite, along with senior Abe Yaffai.

"Kevin is one of the best in the league," said Caranicas. "When he plays to his capacity, we have a shut-out. He's very dedicated."

The victory also had a special meaning to Yaffai.

"This is my last year and I really wanted it," he said. "I like to pass and go to the ball. That's the game of soccer."

Canton missed two golden scoring opportunities late in the game. Tom Wright drilled a wicked shot near the crossbar and Steve McCall shot wide on an empty net.

"I FELT we could have made it here all along," said Canton coach Tony Longro. "I thought we were strong from the beginning of the year. It's that we just lost some tight games, except when we got beat 5-2 by Stevenson."

"I know deep down inside we could have beaten Bentley."

The Chiefs upset Notre Dame 3-0 on Wednesday as goalie Dave Hawkins was superb in the nets, making 16 saves for his first shutout of the year.

Morell scored the first goal on a header from Wright, while Brad Neville followed shortly after with another first half score from Scott Swisher.

Wright then put the game out of reach with his 21st goal of the season from Brian Whiteley.

It was Canton's biggest soccer win ever.

Stevenson also advances

By Paul King
special writer

John Gelmisi's goal with 30 seconds remaining capped a dramatic comeback Saturday as Livonia Stevenson won its own Class A regional boys' soccer title with a 3-2 victory over Northville.

The Spartans (18-2-1), defending state champs, advance to Wednesday's semifinal match against the Portage Central-Traverse City winner. Game time is 7 p.m. at Stevenson.

Northville (15-4-2), which handed Stevenson one of its two losses earlier in the season, led 2-0 at halftime on goals by Steve Starcevic and Joe Mackle.

But Gelmisi caught fire in the second half, scoring the first of his three goals at 53 seconds, followed by the tying score just seven minutes later. Midfielder Eric Pence set up both goals.

Then, with less than a minute to play, Stevenson's Dan Divens dribbled down the side, taking two defenders with him. He tipped a pass to Gelmisi who pumped home the winning shot past Northville goalie Jeff Metz.

GELMISI, a junior striker, now has 31 goals on the season.

"At the half we were down two and we had to gamble," said Stevenson coach Pete Scerri. "I moved Chris Banyai in place of Divens and put Divens on the right wing. We wanted to get the ball to the wings."

Northville coach Mary Gans said, "We let the lead slip away. Two goals weren't enough to beat Stevenson."

The Spartans may have to play Wednesday without Banyai, one of the team's top defenders. He injured his right ankle late in the game and had to be removed.

"It looks like he's out," Scerri said. "If he can play, he will, because there's no tomorrow."

Eureka!

Chiefs finally get 1st win

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Plymouth Canton finally won its first game of the season Friday, defeating Farmington 14-0 in a battle to stay out of the cellar in the Western Lakes Athletic Association.

Windy conditions forced both teams to stay with their ground games, but neither team was able to move the ball in the first half and they went into the lockerroom scoreless.

It wasn't until the middle of the third quarter that the Chiefs finally got on the scoreboard on quarterback Tony Aiken's 1-yard sneak. Jim Kaske made the extra point, and Canton led 7-0.

Canton's final score was set up by a 25-yard fumble recovery by Dave Knapp. Knapp picked up the loose ball at the Falcon's 45 and raced to the Chiefs' 20-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, tailback Rod Williams dashed 20 yards to ice the victory.

"IT FELT good," Canton coach Rich Barr said. "It's been a long time coming. We kept them off the board and scored a couple ourselves. I'm happy."

There wasn't much offense in the game. Canton gained only 117 yards in total offense, all on the ground. The Chiefs were led by Williams, who rushed for 50 yards. Rod Boyd added 40. Aiken attempted only three passes and wasn't able to connect.

Canton held Farmington held to 73 yards in total offense, including 23 on the ground and 50 in the air.

Canton's win gives them a 1-7 overall record this season. Farmington dropped to 2-5. Canton will play its final game Friday at Belleville.

Rodney Williams, Canton's big fullback pictured above in a game earlier this year, scored a big touchdown Friday in the Chiefs' first victory of the season. They blanked Farmington, 14-0.

S'craft clinches kick title

By C.J. Riska
staff writer

As it turns out, last Saturday's game at Cuyahoga (Ohio) Metro Community College meant nothing more than to serve as a tune-up for Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team.

That's because the Ocelots won the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) 12th region title "without playing," according to coach Larry Christoff.

Schoolcraft captured the championship when Macomb Community College whipped Lakeland (Ohio) Community College, 4-1, last week.

"In essence, that clinches it for us," Christoff said. Schoolcraft boasted a 6-1 regional record going into Saturday's Cuyahoga game. Macomb was next (4-2-1), followed by Lakeland (4-3), Cuyahoga (2-4-1) and Delta College (1-6).

The regional title — the 12th region includes junior colleges from Michigan's lower peninsula, Indiana and Ohio — qualifies the Ocelots for the NJCAA Inter-Regional Tournament at Triton College in Chicago.

SCHOOLCRAFT WILL battle winners of the fourth (upper Illinois), 13th (Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan) and 24th (lower Illinois) regionals.

That four-team competition is slated for Nov. 13-14. The Inter-Regional winner advances to the NJCAA quarterfinals. The eight-team NJCAA tournament will be Thanksgiving weekend in Trenton, NJ.

"I'm optimistic," Christoff said. "I think we can do well. If we can get out of (the Inter-Regionals) we should do well in the nationals."

"But it all has to do with luck, without question. Sometimes the ball will take an extra bounce or hit the crossbar, and you can end up on the short end."

At Triton the ball may take faster bounces than the Ocelots are used to. The Triton field is AstroTurf, a surface Schoolcraft is inexperienced in playing on.

Dingeldey: 'Winner of the Year'

By Ariene Funk
staff writer

Mary Dingeldey was still basking in the glow of a successful Homecoming Day reunion with longtime residents when another triumph came her way.

Dingeldey, who overcame leukemia and remained active in the community, was named a "Winner of the Year" last week in surprise ceremonies at Township Hall.

She was the first person honored under a new award to highlight the achievements of people who have overcome great personal difficulties yet continued to contribute to the community. Supervisor James Poole hopes the award will become an annual presentation in Canton.

The Senior Citizen Kitchen Band played a medley of tunes on their gadgets-turned-musical-instruments. Dingeldey received an armful of red roses and a key to the township motto on a plaque.

"It was a total surprise," said the 41-year-old Dingeldey. "For once, I had nothing to say."

DINGELDEY CARRIES a schedule of activities that would exhaust many people. She does this, despite discomfort following a frightening bout with leukemia and a risky, life-saving bone marrow transplant two years ago.

"She is an obvious choice for the award," Poole said.

Feeling stronger all the time, Dingeldey is serving as chairwoman of Canton's Sequicentennial Committee, planning the 150th anniversary of the township's founding. Special events are planned for next year, when the anniversary takes place.

The Homecoming Day, which brought 77 longtime Canton residents together to reminisce and share old pictures and clippings, was part of the Sequicentennial planning. The information will be included in commemorative books.

Dingeldey is studying word processing at Washtenaw County Community College, in order to be up-to-date on her skills when she begins active employment again.

She also serves as second vice president and program chair for the Canton Business and Professional Women's organization, and she helped form the Western Wayne chapter of the Children's Leukemia Foundation.

"I FEEL good most of the time," Dingeldey said. "I have joint pain from radiation (treatment). Sometimes I use a cane."

Other after-effects of her illness include problems with equilibrium, and she must avoid contracting infections, due to weakness in her immune system.

But Dingeldey doesn't regret for a moment her decision to undertake the risky bone marrow transplant.

"I'm 41 and very glad to be here," Dingeldey said. "I wouldn't be here without (the transplant)."

Dingeldey is married to department of public works director Jake Dingeldey, and the couple have three children ranging in age from 17 to 22 years.

It was November 1980 when Dingeldey learned she had acute monocytic leukemia, a cancer of the blood-forming tissue with a high fatality rate.

Shortly before, she had waged an unsuccessful campaign to become a member of Canton's board of trustees. She served as executive secretary of the Canton Chamber of Commerce and face in the crowd

organized the township's annual blood drive.

For several months, Dingeldey underwent chemotherapy treatments to halt the spread of the leukemia. She was in and out of the hospital.

In July 1981, while her disease was in remission (a halting of symptoms), Dingeldey was accepted in an experimental program involving the transplanting of bone-marrow.

It was a risky procedure. Doctors gave Dingeldey at least "three good years" without the transplant, but she wanted more.

The process, which took place at University of Minnesota, called for bone marrow and blood to be extracted from a donor and injected intravenously into the leukemia victim. She remained hospitalized until late October, 1981.

After returning home, she gradually resumed her activities. She returns to the University of Minnesota every six months for a checkup.

Dingeldey is active in the Western Wayne County Children's Leukemia Foundation, a support group for families of leukemia victims. She often counsels prospective bone marrow transplant patients.

Currently, Dingeldey is active in the Sequicentennial planning. She credits her family, friends and helpers with making her activities possible.

She said being chosen Winner of the Year on the heels of the successful Homecoming Day was "great," giving her a tremendous "high."

Poole has promised another "surprise" Winner of the Year announcement very shortly. Meanwhile, anyone who wants to nominate someone for next year, should send the name and reason for nomination to Poole's office at Canton Township Hall. Deadline is June 15.

Cops team up, take on drunks

By Tim Richard and Gary Gates
staff writers

Teams of suburban police officers and sheriff's deputies will be targeting the roads favored by drinking drivers in an effort to boost the arrest rate 25 percent.

"It's the first time I can recall all of the police agencies have gathered in a common cause," said Charles Wilmoth, Garden City Police Chief and director of the 43-department project.

Beginning Friday, the teams in marked cars, armed with FBT portable breathalyzers, will patrol targeted roads under terms of a $400,000 federal grant.

Altogether, 25 such teams will be on Wayne County roads from 6 p.m. to 3 a.m. Friday and Saturday and the "happy hours" of 3-6 p.m. on weekdays.

ENFORCEMENT will be strict, Wilmoth promised, even if bar owners complain, as they did when business fell off along Dixie Highway in a similar Oakland County project.

"I'm not in the bar business. I intend to enforce the law," he said.

The project was launched at a news conference last week with representatives of district, circuit and recorder's courts present.

"The judges were invited to show their support," explained Michael Manooch, Redford Township police chief and president of the Wayne County Police Chiefs Association.

"It's not going to do us a damn bit of good to arrest someone and have a judge give 'em a light fine."

Wayne County Sheriff Robert A. Picano will distribute the money to four districts — one of which includes the Plymouth, Canton and Northville communities.

"We'll have a dual role," said the sheriff.

"We will participate in the western district. And I will deputize officers in the law enforcement teams so they can cross boundaries to make arrests."

The swearing-in ceremony is tentatively planned for a Nov. 2 meeting of the Downriver and Western Wayne County Traffic Officers Association in Plymouth, said Robert Henry, Plymouth Traffic Officer.

City attorneys from participating communities have been invited to attend the session so that their jurisdictional and procedural questions can be fielded by the Wayne County Prosecutor.

In Plymouth, at least four officers have volunteered to take part in the program. The Canton department plans to devote six officers to the alcohol shifts.

Unlike the other districts in the project, the Plymouth-Canton-Northville group plans to use one-man cars. Thus, four one-man units will form the western Wayne County team, which will rotate communities each weekend starting with Canton.

Not using the two-man cars will allow the local group to extend the program for a full year — since overtime won't be eaten up as fast, Henry said.

THE FEDERAL GRANT, made to the chiefs by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, will provide $17,544 worth of portable breathalyzers, $708 worth of magnetic signs for patrol cars and $381,676 to pay officers.

"None of it will be used for overhead," said Wilmoth.

Besides increasing arrests, the program's goals are to:

- Reduce alcohol related crashes by 25 percent.
- Increase drunk driving enforcement by 200 hours a month.
- Establish a public awareness program.

"Enforce the law not only against the 'flagrantly drunk driver' but the 'even more dangerous driver with blood alcohol content from 0.10 to 0.15 percent.'"

the movies

Louise Snider

'The Right Stuff' packs too much into 3 hours

Dan Greenberg, guest critic for this week's movie review, is a film instructor at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

Although many are raving about "The Right Stuff," it is difficult to understand why. The film does have a lot of stuff, good, bad and mediocre. But too much stuff is crammed into this three-hour saga of the Mercury astronauts.

Their trials and tribulations, at home and in the air, are intermixed with national and international politics and the business of space flight. The super heroics of test pilot Chuck Yeager (Sam Shepard) front the cake.

Although not qualified as an astronaut, near the film's end he mystically gains great moral stature, surviving a jet crash while the seven Mercury astronauts receive world-class acclamation in Houston under Lyndon Johnson's political patronage and Sally Rand's feathered dance.

If that all sounds a bit much, it is, even for a three-hour epic.

"THE RIGHT STUFF" opens with a 40-minute, softly photographed, nicely nostalgic sequence of jet test-piloting in the late 40s. Air Force Test Pilot Yeager rides the X-1 through the sound barrier (Mach 1) with broken ribs.

In case you wonder how he broke his ribs, there's a nifty sequence as he picks up his wife Glennis (Barbara Hershey) in Pancho's Happy Bottom Riding Club (the local flyboy's bar) and crashes through the desert underbrush on horseback.

Of course, his actual expectations are thwarted in a riding accident. But the great, gum-chewing hero flies Mach 1, broken ribs and all. It may be historical, but on a wide screen it is pure hokum.

The soft, muted reds and yellows of the opening segment beautifully convey reverence for Yeager and other pioneers. Silhouetted mourners at graveside services for test pilots and a lovely shot of Mrs. Scott Carpenter (Susan Kase), despondently clutching a pillow as she sinks to a desolate bed, sum up the loneliness and fear of women whose men fly.

However, evocative such scenes, writer/director Philip Kaufman fails to restrain his extensive material. Selecting and training astronauts was a long process. Ultimately, Shepherd, Grissom and Glenn rocket to glory. There was a long journey. Director Kaufman makes ours too long — three hours and counting.

ONE CAN ONLY watch so many faces in space helmets filling the screen at acute angles, so many rockets exploding, so many jet fighters and rockets whizzing by — and clouds, lots of clouds. A good jet whoosh is fine once in a while, but this was just plain tiresome.

The overly broad satire, particularly of Lyndon Johnson and the press also evidences immature direction. Johnson's portrait as the godfather of the Houston space industry is plain silly. President Johnson may have been a politician in the worst sense of the word, but he was neither a fool nor a childish buffoon.

Nor can one believe that all reporters are howling jackals ready to kill for a story. The exception, of course, being Eric Sevareid, sitting woodenly at an outdoor table commenting with total disinterest as rockets are launched.

The film's historical figures include Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, the former portrayed by an actor, the latter in newscast footage. John Glenn (Ed Harris) is a truly heroic figure. It will be interesting to see if this film provides the right stuff for Senator Glenn's presidential campaign.

The musical score is excellent, whether in booming emphasis of astronautical triumph or in setting the historical scene with hit tunes of yesteryear. The "Hallelujah Chorus," however, is the wrong note for the astronauts' introductory press conference.

DIRECTOR KAUFMAN believes, "Ultimately, the film is a paean to American heroism, but it pokes fun at American institutions." Those objectives are difficult to achieve. Trying to adore heroes is neat. Poking fun, however, should be funny, not silly.

"The Right Stuff" is adolescent satire, leavened only by the exuberance JFK's Camelot brought to America. The film's beautiful photographic sequences and the Mercury astronauts' tremendous accomplishments are poorly served.

Sam Shepard is Chuck Yeager and Barbara Hershey is his wife Glennis, who celebrate his achievement as first man to break the space barrier.

PARENTAL GUIDANCE.

Tell your parents about the security of Direct Deposit. It's the kind of guidance they'll appreciate, and it's a nice way to let them know you care. With Direct Deposit, their Social Security goes straight to their checking or savings account. They don't have to wait for the check or worry about it.

Have them ask for it where they now deposit their Government checks. It's free. And after all, they've got it coming.

DIRECT DEPOSIT

AFTER ALL, THEY'VE GOT IT COMING.
