Township approves road paving project

By Diane Frea
staff writer

A proposal to pave four miles of township road at a cost of up to $1.2 million was approved Wednesday by Canton Township trustees.

Trustees voted 6-0 in favor of the road paving proposal between the township and the Wayne County Road Commission at a special session.

The paving will provide access to the most populated areas of the township.

The plan must now be approved by the Wayne County Road Commission.

The "interim standard" roads will cost an estimated $250,000 per mile. The funds to be used are part of the township surplus — uncommitted monies in the Public Improvement Fund and Federal Revenue Sharing Funds.

THE ROADS SLATED for paving, pending soil borings and approval of estimates and bids, are: Warren Road from Canton Center to Lilley; Lilley Road from Cherry Hill to Bishop; Warren Road from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad at the township's eastern border to Hannan; Palmer Road between Sheldon and Haggerty; and Sheldon Road between Palmer and Chertburg. Depending on funds available, Palmer Road between Sheldon and Canton Center also may be paved.

Township Finance Director Mike Gorman said the popular answer would be to pave as many roads as quickly as possible because construction costs will rise, "but the township would be depleting almost all of its surplus funds."

Gorman said the township then would have to "scramble" to pay for an emergency such as a storm or a lawsuit.

Canton auditors recommend a surplus of 25 percent of the annual township budget, Gorman said the township could spend as much as $1.5 in 1984 and 1985 and still have a surplus balance of $1.2 million plus interest.

The adopted program is a part of an originally proposed contract between the township and the Wayne County Road Commission which would have included seven miles of road to be paved between now and 1987 at a total cost of $2.1 million.

STATE STATUTE requires that if road improvements are needed, townships must have all work performed by the road commission. Depending on the availability of funds, townships may be required to provide match money, with 50 percent a statutory minimum.

Gorman said that he recommended that the township adopt a master paving program now because "it appears that the only way we will ever get our roads paved will be to do it ourselves."

The interim standard paving provides for 22-foot wide, two-lane roads. After ripping up existing gravel and grading the area to uniform levels, layers of dry cement and stabilizer are applied and wetted. A final coat of asphalt then is applied. The roads will have gravel shoulders and improved drainage ditches, according to Terry Carroll, township grant coordinator.

GORMAN SAID THE $250,000 per mile estimate is based on the existing road base and the condition of the drainage ditches. The rate could fluctuate and could be as much as $400,000 per mile. The original estimate from the county was $1 million per mile.

Supervisor James Poole said that "give or take a couple of bucks difference, we have the right to reject any and all bids. We're using $250,000 as a standard."

Under the proposal, the township will pay for 100 percent of the construction costs and 50 percent of the extraordinary maintenance costs after the first five years, Gorman said.

Wayne County will pay for 100 percent of the non-construction costs. This includes engineering and inspection costs which could run as high as 25 percent of construction costs, Gorman said.

The county also will pay for the first five years of maintenance and the remaining 50 percent of major repair costs thereafter, Gorman said.

QUESTIONS AND COMMENTS from the audience of township residents interrupted the meeting numerous times. Residents expressed concern over the speed and weight limits on the roads and disapproval at the length of time the project has taken

Funding options studied, rejected

The plan to use $1.2 million of Canton's surplus funds for road paving, approved at Wednesday night's special board meeting, was not the only method of funding the project, according to Supervisor James Poole.

But of the other alternatives, Poole said, "all were bad."

Poole said the alternatives included: a townshipwide millage set by the board, special assessments for the affected areas that amounted to $450 per household per year for 10 years, a townshipwide millage voted by the people, becoming a village or villages and becoming a city.

A townshipwide millage, which would have cost each household $35 per year for five years, according to Poole, was defeated in 1982. Poole said he found this "very surprising because in the last two years I haven't met one person who voted against it."

Poole said the township has decreased its general millage for the last four consecutive years: In 1980 it was 2.39 mills, and in 1984, 2 mills. A township can assess up to 3 mills for road and bridge maintenance alone, Poole said.

"IT WOULD BE very easy for this board to raise taxes to pave roads," Poole said. "We tried to come up with something that wouldn't require an increase in millage or a special assessment. And if that's wrong, then I apologize for trying to do it at no additional cost (to the taxpayers)."

"We've gone as far as Chula Vista, Calif., to see if there's a better way," Poole added, praising his staff, the members of the road commission and citizen's road committees for their efforts on behalf of the paving proposal.

"Roads have always been, and long after our time will probably continue to be, a problem," Poole said.

THE REASONS FOR proceeding with the paving program now are numerous and the most timely, Poole

Canton's Chamber of Commerce golf outing began with a 10 a.m. shotgun start on a made-to-order day Thursday at Fellows Creek Golf Course. Chamber president Jack Koers was pleased not only with the outing, but with his team's performance. Plymouth Construction Equipment's squad, composed of Koers, his father Everett (who at left watches Bob Purdy handily sink a putt), Joe Sawaaki and Purdy won the men's competition. Grabbing the gusto for the women were Connie Koers, Mary Schwartz, Kathy Zelek, and Linda Nadeau. Zelek also captured longest drive honors, as did Marv Mettetal.

Group-home work stops, starts again

By Diane Frea

Construction on the Dionne Street group home for the mentally retarded was temporarily halted earlier this month due to a stop work order placed on the project by Canton Township.

The basis for the order, according to Aaron Machnick, chief building official, was construction of the home on unstable fill material.

The builders, Granbur Inc. of Lansing, have since dug up the material and replaced it with an engineered fill material which is free of debris and compacted as it is placed in the hole, Machnick said.

The builders were unaware of the unacceptable fill which contained blocks, lumber and miscellaneous building debris, the remains of a home that had burned down on the property, Machnick said. The new fill material will adequately support the planned structure, he said.

CHUCK BARNES, president of Grandbur, said it was the township's "responsibility under the demolition codes" to see that the previous excavators properly filled the remaining hole.

The township building division "had allowed it to be improperly backfilled . . . and we got caught with the bill," Barnes said.

Charles Goff — a Dionne Street resident who has been protesting the home's location since its proposal — said other residents, builders by trade, noticed the construction on the fill material and called it to the attention of the township whose building inspectors already had become aware of the situation.

Attacker sentenced

Jeffrey Clair Gruber, charged with assault and battery of a Belleville woman on the I-275 bike path on Aug. 18, was sentenced Wednesday to 30 days at DeHoCo and 18-months probation plus court and probation costs by 35th District Court Judge James Garber.

Gruber, 23, of Flat Rock is to report to the Plymouth Township facility on Oct. 1 to begin his sentence on the misdemeanor charge.

Gruber pleaded guilty to the charge at his arraignment Aug. 21 and a psychological evaluation was performed at the Detroit Recorder's Court Psychiatric Clinic before sentencing.

The Belleville woman, 27, was one of seven attacked between June and August while jogging or riding on the bike path. Canton police are still investigating the other attacks, including two rapes, and are looking for at least two suspects.

Widower dies working in yard

By M.B. Dillon Ward

Claude Eaton, 72, a well-known widower who seldom had an open date on his calendar, died Thursday at his Canton home.

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. this morning at Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth with burial at Riverside Cemetery.

The Detroit-born Eaton, who lived alone, was doing yard work on his tractor Thursday afternoon when he apparently began experiencing heart pain and walked over to a chair to rest.

A newspaper carrier finishing his route about 5:15 p.m. became concerned after seeing Eaton seated under a tree, his tractor still running a ways off in the field, and a shovel left in the ground.

Neighbors he alerted flagged down a passing police officer, who called for emergency help.

Eaton, who in a phone conversation just that morning had told his daughter, Nancy, he felt "pretty good," was pronounced dead at Oakwood Hospital-Canton Center of cardiopulmonary failure.

THE MOOD at Canton's senior center — a gathering place for many of Eaton's friends — was somber Friday.

"He was a grand fellow. He liked everyone, and everyone liked him," said Canton's Claude Truesdell, 77, who befriended Eaton and his late wife, Doris, when they were newlyweds.

"He always had something to say to everyone. He always had a big smile. We used to get around to dinners and races quite a bit together with our wives," added Truesdell, one of Eaton's fellow Country Kitchen Band members.

"We're all going to miss him."

Eaton's only surviving child, Nancy, a 1958

Plymouth High School graduate now living in California, said her dad talked Thursday about driving out West to visit her.

"He even had it in his diary," she said Friday in a phone interview from her dad's home.

Nancy Eaton grew up in the two-story farmhouse, once the site of her grandfather's (Perry Campbell) 120-acre Jersey Belle Dairy and farm on Canton Center Road between Joy and Warren roads.

"I shouldn't admit it, but he puts me to shame in housekeeping. I take my hat off to him," said Ms. Eaton.

"He was always a yard lover. He picked up bushes, trees, and flowers and transplanted them into what was originally a cornfield."

"He enjoyed pruning his trees, cutting his grass and playing his banjo."

"HE PURSUED all those things with extreme gusto. He wouldn't take a backseat to anyone," added Ms. Eaton.

That was no secret to her dad's associates. Since retiring from his milkman's job 10 years ago, Eaton filled his days strumming his ukulele and banjo, rehearsing and performing with the Kitchen Band, and playing volleyball, softball and golf.

He was a member and past president of the Pioneers senior citizen club and participated on a township-sponsored senior advisory committee. An avid photographer, Eaton collected milk cans, driftwood, saddles, harnesses, and other artifacts from his early farm and dairy days.

Among his latest acquisitions was an honorary plaque presented by the Automobile Club of Michigan recognizing 50 years' membership.

Eaton is survived by his daughter, sisters Maude Masterson of Birmingham, Ella Mae Wray of Ypsilanti, Dora Reeves of Ypsilanti, and a brother, Edward Eaton, of Ypsilanti. A son, Raymond, predeceased him.

The family asks that memorial contributions be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

Group home building resumes

Goff said the land had been the location of a single-family residence that burned to the ground about a year ago. The charred remains were torn down and the hole was filled, "but they don't know what's in the hole," Goff said. The unstable fill material would have collapsed after several years causing damage to the house, Goff said.

"THE BUILDING inspectors are doing a good job, but they can't stand there 24 hours a day watching them," Goff said.

Goff, the leader of a coalition of residents who circulated a petition asking the group home, said his group will continue to monitor the progress on the home. And the builders "will follow the rules and building codes to the letter," Goff said.

The residents' reasons for protesting the home remain the same, Goff said. "Peoples' sentiments are still there. The feelings haven't changed, they're stronger if anything."

QUICK-CHANGE artists have hit at least two Canton businesses in the past week. Employees at the Amoco gas station and Primus Pizza reported incidents of a woman trying to get change for a $20 bill while in fact using a $1 bill.

One cashier, who said the woman was accompanied by two males in a blue Grand Prix, was tricked into the deal. But the other spotted the scam, checked his cash register receipts and refused to cooperate.

A SPINNING WHEEL resident reported that he found evidence of a tree fort being built in the wooded area behind his home. Assorted garden tools and a rake were turned over to Canton Police.

ENERGY-CONSERVING burglars broke into a home in the 7700 block of Thornwood through a laundry room window the night of Sept. 16. The resident reported that nothing was missing, but that the would-be thieves left by the front door, shutting off the porch light as they went.

In addition, the township staff was directed to meet with Wayne County Executive William Lucas and William Oakley, managing director of the road commission, to discuss a grandfather clause to the contract which would allow the township to extend the paving program under the same contract conditions.

deal with the Wayne County commissioners, Poole said. "We can sell it to three appointed officials easier than we can to 15 elected county commissioners later on," Poole said.

The availability of the public improvement fund, "which the board was smart enough to put money into for the last three years," and the county's concessions on the price and non-construction and maintenance costs also were factors, Poole said.

Trustee Steve Larson reminded the board members and residents present at the meeting to consider "how you'd feel if you lived on a paved road" when considering spending the township surplus or the other funding alternatives.

Supervisor Poole said he expects further discussion on the paving proposal at the next regularly scheduled board meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Township Clerk John Flodin was absent.

Tribute to a butcher-turned-bowling teacher

Life can take some very peculiar turns and none was more peculiar than that of the late Clarence Hoffman whose daughter, Lois Hoffman McAlister, has just been honored with a place in the Detroit Bowling Hall of fame.

Years ago, when The Stroller moved to what was then Livonia Township, Hoffman was the operator of a grocery store and meat market on Plymouth Road.

He was popular and had worked up a fine business, but with all of this he was headed for an unusual turn. He spent his evenings as a bowler and competed in a league that bowled in what is now the Meeting House in Plymouth.

Came an evening when he didn't bowl too well. And on the way home he and a neighbor got to talking about the poor scores they had registered and blamed it all on the lanes.

Finally, they agreed to have lanes of their own, and in a short time the Livonia Lanes were built with eight lanes. Hoffman gave up his market to take over the operation of the lanes and planned to give instructions out here in the "country."

It was something new for him, but he was a stickler and he left no stone un-

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

turned to master the game to the point that he could give lessons.

IT WAS a bold move. But if he were alive today there would be no prouder man than him when he would see his daughter enshrined in the Hall of Fame. He would be proud, too, that she is the third champion that he produced in his private little bowling school. Most famous of the lot is Mary Mhaesi who just won the international singles championships — the first world title she ever has won. She has been the Detroit Bowling Queen seven times, and Hoffman's son, Pal, was a member of the Deluxe Tool and Die team that won the city and state championships. And with them, Lois kept pace as a member of the famed Gears by Enterprise team that brought the first national title to Detroit.

So in his little school Hoffman, the one time butcher, developed three champions. And there are few teachers who can claim such a record.

With this trio of outstanding students he decided he had enough in failing health he finally sold Livonia Lanes to spend his time in retirement. But his work carries on. He was one of the starters of the after school leagues and the junior circuits that now are so popular.

He also started the parks and recreation league in Livonia and that league is prospering.

It is too bad that his life wasn't spared to see the results of his teaching. But when Lois steps to the center stage and accepts her Hall of Fame plaque you can bet that his spirit will be hovering about the room.

It is a fitting honor, too, for the man who gave up a grocery store and turned his attention to operating a bowling center that was then "way out in the country."

Townships back off efforts to block EPA funding

County seeking federal court injunction

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

All hopes of saving a 75 percent federal funding for Son of Supersewer now hinge on Wayne County's attempt to obtain a federal court injunction.

Plymouth and Canton townships have backed away from their attempt to win a Wayne County Circuit Court injunction to prevent the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) from disbursing money to other projects within the state.

Although a cause-hearing on the townships' motion for an injunction was scheduled for Friday morning, the circuit court proceedings were postponed until Friday, Oct. 5, according to Brian James, Plymouth Township attorney.

In view of the delay, James told the Observer Friday that the townships would back off their effort to obtain the injunction.

EARLIER THIS month the EPA announced 1984 grant funding would be available for the $120 million project, formally titled the North Huron Valley-Rouge Valley Wastewater System.

Planners and participants hoped to receive some $21 million this year from the EPA to start the suburban sewer and sewage treatment plant project. Timing is critical because after 1984, all EPA funding drops to a maximum of 55 percent. Projects started this year, however, would be "grandfathered" and can continue receiving 75 percent funding through completion.

A drop in federal funding to 55 percent most likely would shove the local share past the financial reach of the 17 participant communities, which also include Livonia, Redford, Westland and Garden City.

Son of Supersewer is supposed to increase sewer capacity for all 17 communities and, at the same time, correct pollution problems in the existing Rouge Valley system.

EPA officials refused to certify project plans — a required step in obtaining grant money — because the pollution problems aren't addressed, according to Charles Sutfin, regional EPA water director.

Also of concern is the lack of certification that the Detroit Water and Sewerage Treatment Plant can handle the increased sewage, Sutfin said.

PLYMOUTH AND Canton townships sought to stop the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) from sending EPA money to other projects below Son of Supersewer on the state's funding priority list.

The townships believe a lawsuit they filed in regard to the project should be settled before the EPA decides not to fund the project.

LAST WEEK Assistant County Executive Jamil Akhtar said the county would seek an injunction in U.S. District Court.

Akhtar said the county executive's office had authorized the lawsuit and plans were to file sometime this week.

"This action comes on the heels of an EPA decision which effectively denies funding for the northern arm of Supersewer, a $139 million project expected to generate approximately 3,000 jobs," he said.

The county is expected to argue that the EPA's decision jeopardizes funding for another sewer project to the south (which resulted from last year's split of the original Supersewer). Plymouth and Canton townships' lawsuit stems from the split and includes the southern communities as defendants.

Besides having to prepare its legal briefs, the county is in a race against the clock. The DNR is going ahead with plans to fund other projects and the injunction must be sought before the money is sent to the grant applicants.

Last week DNR officials told the Observer "a couple" of the six projects scheduled to receive Supersewer money already passed EPA certification — indicating the money would be on its way soon.

Police recover truck, suspect

A 25-year-old Detroit man has been arrested and charged with possession of a stolen vehicle after he was apprehended by Canton Police Wednesday morning.

Paul Anthony Penzabene was arrested by 35th District Judge James Garber Wednesday afternoon and pleaded innocent to the charge. If convicted for the felony, he faces a four year maximum sentence. Penzabene's preliminary examination in district court is scheduled for Oct. 1.

He is being held at the Canton Police station on a $10,000, 10 percent cash bond.

Canton police said Penzabene originally was stopped Wednesday morning about 1:28 when he drove through a gas station parking lot at Ford and Canton Center roads to avoid a traffic light. Police said him crossing a center line. Police said the pickup truck's tail lights were burned out.

Penzabene was pulled over, but he pulled away as the officer approached the truck. Officers chased him west on Canton Center Road to Joy Road and through a vacant field. Penzabene then got out of the truck and fled on foot, police said.

About 5 a.m. the same officer saw the suspect hitchhiking on Canton Center Road south of Joy Road and apprehended him there.

Police said the slightly damaged truck was returned to its owner, a Mount Clemens man. It had been reported stolen Sept. 17.

Armed man holds up McDonald's

An armed robber made off with a wallet containing $250 from a patron during a holdup at the McDonald's Restaurant on Michigan Avenue at 1:27 Wednesday night.

Canton police said a 19- or 20-year-old black male, armed with a long-barreled silver handgun, entered the restaurant about 8:48 p.m. and announced a hold-up.

After taking the wallet of one patron, a Canton man, the robber asked for the location of the store safe. Employees were able to activate an interior alarm system and the gunman fled.

Police said at least nine people, including employees, were in the restaurant at the time of the robbery. No one was injured.

Police have no suspects.

Great Menus For Today's Lifestyles

Whether it's a picnic in the park, luncheon on the terrace, or a backyard barbecue, Americans young and old are in love with eating out-of-doors on the balmy days of summer and early fall. Here are featured distinctive menus for those sunny days or indoor dining year-round.

Barbecued Alaska Salmon† Potatoes Roasted In Coals† Mixed Green Salad Fresh Fruit

A special treat for the barbecue is salmon from Alaska. And there's good news that this premium fish is now in good supply. Whole, dressed salmon, averaging 3 to 5 pounds, will offer a good value for consumers and they will be more widely available fresh or frozen nationwide.

Grilled to perfection over glowing coals, Alaska salmon is a grand selection for your next outdoor festivity. For a larger group, grill a whole fish or have it filleted. You can fillet the fish yourself following the basic directions shown here. For small groups, you may wish to purchase salmon steaks or individual fillets.

Suggested here is a recipe for a buttery basting sauce that is an ideal complement to the moist and tender flesh. Just remember not to let salmon overcook. It is ready to enjoy when the flesh flakes when tested with a fork; a general rule is to cook it 10 minutes per inch of thickness measured at the thickest part.

You can prepare the hot foods on the barbecue when you serve Potatoes Roasted In Coals. Wrapped in foil and roasted, all-purpose Russet potatoes from Washington State are served with a zesty salsa topping, a tasty addition to this alfresco feast. Washington State Russet potatoes cook up moist and fluffy due to their high solids content and are the ideal year-round baking potato.

Barbecued Alaska Salmon

- 2 whole (about 1-1/2 lb. each) Alaska salmon fillets
- Salt and pepper
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 4 teaspoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1/2 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce
- Oil

Rinse salmon fillets and pat dry. Sprinkle each fillet with salt and pepper. Combine remaining ingredients except oil; brush fillets with butter mixture. Place each fillet, skin-side down, on a sheet of well-oiled heavy-duty aluminum foil*; place on grill over hot coals. Cover barbecue or make a tent of foil to cover each fillet. Barbecue 10 minutes per inch of thickness measured at its thickest part or until salmon flakes easily when tested with a fork. Baste frequently with butter mixture. Makes about 12 servings. Recipe can be halved.

Potatoes Roasted In Coals

- 6 (about 10 oz. each) Washington Russet potatoes
- Oil
- Salsa

Scrub potatoes; rub with oil. Pierce several times with fork. Individually wrap potatoes in oiled heavy-duty aluminum foil*; seal securely. Place directly on hot coals; cook about 1 hour or until tender, turning every 15 minutes. Remove potatoes from foil. Cut or pierce tops of potatoes lengthwise; squeeze ends and push toward center to open. Spoon about 1/3 cup Salsa into each potato. Makes 6 servings. Recipe can be doubled.

Salsa: Combine 1-1/2 cups chopped tomato, 1/2 cup each chopped onion, chopped cucumber and diced green chilies, 1 tablespoon each chopped green onion and olive oil, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 3/4 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/4 teaspoon crushed oregano and dash pepper. Makes 2-1/4 cups.

Tip: Top Salsa-filled potatoes with dairy sour cream or plain yogurt.

*Double layer of regular aluminum foil can be substituted.

1. Place dressed fish with belly toward you. With a very sharp knife, cut through flesh from end of cavity back through to base of tail.

2. Insert knife blade flat against backbone and cut along backbone through back of fish from head end to tail on top side of fish, severing ribs and top piece from backbone.

3. Lay top piece aside. Remove backbone from remaining side by inserting knife under backbone and repeating lengthwise cut, leaving as much flesh on fillet as possible.

4. With a smaller knife, trim away rib and fin bones from both pieces. Pull out pin bones, if desired.

Salad Supper

This menu is equally at home served to honor the sunset on your own patio or throughout the year indoors as a prime example of today's lighter approach to foods. In Salmon Vegetable Potato Salad, chunks of rich, moist canned salmon accompany a fresh vegetable-laden potato salad marinated in tangy Caraway Dressing. Select the best vegetables from your garden or supermarket. Washington State Russet potatoes offer pleasing contrast in texture and their ability to absorb the dressing intensifies this harmonious blending of flavors.

Alaska canned salmon is an unbeatable choice for a wide variety of tasteful recipes that can be prepared in minimal time. Wonderful right from the can, Alaska canned salmon combines with other ingredients in appetizers, soups, sandwiches and entrees. It's always ready to serve and may be found in a variety of can sizes to meet every need... 3-3/4 ounce, 7-1/2 ounce, 7-3/4 ounce and 15-1/2 ounce cans.

Salmon Vegetable Potato Salad

- 1 pound warm, cooked Washington Russet potatoes
- Caraway Dressing
- 1 cup each cut sugar snap peas, thinly sliced yellow squash and sliced, quartered cucumber
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons each minced green onion and parsley
- Salt and pepper
- 1 can (15-1/2 oz.) salmon, chilled
- Lettuce

Peel potatoes; slice 1/4-inch thick. Marinate in 1/2 cup Caraway Dressing; cool at room temperature. Add sugar snaps, squash, cucumber, celery, green onion and parsley. Salt and pepper to taste. Chill if desired. Drain salmon; break into chunks. Arrange on lettuce-lined platter with potato mixture. Drizzle remaining Caraway Dressing on salmon. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Caraway Dressing: Combine 1/2 cup olive oil or oil, 1/3 cup white wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon each sugar, salt and chopped or crushed caraway seeds and dash pepper; mix well. Makes about 1 cup.

Variation: One cup Chinese pea pods, blanched peas, sliced zucchini, sliced carrots, broccoli flowerets, cherry tomatoes, olives, sliced green beans or green or red pepper strips can be substituted for sugar snap peas, yellow squash and/or cucumber.

To Boil Potatoes: Scrub potatoes. Add potatoes to 1-inch boiling, salted water; return to boil. Simmer, covered, 20 to 30 minutes or until tender. Drain thoroughly.

To Bake Potatoes: Scrub potatoes; rub lightly with oil. Pierce several times with fork. Bake at 400° F. 50 to 60 minutes or until tender.

This BBQ sauce is just 'a little something' for 25

 I love picnics, but my favorites are held in back yards, not necessarily mine.

 During the summer, Anita and I traveled to Carmel, N.Y., just west of Danbury, Conn., to enjoy a Fourth of July picnic in her son's back yard.

 Tony took charge of the barbecue and had two grills going faster than it takes me to get one hot. I prepared the barbecue sauce and was pressed to get it ready before 10 pounds of pork ribs were cooked.

 The barbecue sauce was a little something I threw together, sort of a composite of several recipes. We basted the pork just slightly and the ribs turned out juicier than usual. There was enough sauce to go around for about 25 people.

 Did we eat. There was chicken, plus hot dogs and hamburgers. My daughter-in-law, Mike, made macaroni and potato salads, a neighbor prepared another and I came up with the fourth.

 The neighbor also brought over two pans of baked large shells filled with three Italian cheeses. There was baked beans, too.

 We forgot about the corn, but made up for it. The neighbor's husband showed off his electric ice cream maker and we had vanilla. The topper: chilled, sweet watermelon.

 That wasn't all. We piled into two cars for a short trip to Lake Carmel and watched the traditional town fireworks display. When we returned, we had coffee and homemade yellow walnut bundt cake, compliments of the neighbor.

 I love away-from-home back yard outings, partly because when you're a guest you're not expected to help clean up after the picnic is over. I didn't disappoint.

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR 25

 1 large onion, chopped
 1 tsp. vegetable oil
 1/4 cup ketchup
 1 cup chili sauce
 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 cup beer
 1/4 cup deli mustard
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 3 tbsp. brown sugar
 1/4 tsp. each garlic salt
 1/4 crushed red pepper
 black pepper and paprika

 In medium saucepan, saute onion in hot oil until limp. Off heat, add rest of ingredients, stirring. Cook sauce on medium heat 5 minutes; reduce to medium low and cook 10 minutes, occasionally stirring. Keep warm on low heat.

Taste Sweden at Westin

 Tired of hamburgers, quiche and salad for lunch? Try the international Swedish favorite Lax Pudding, a layer of salmon, potatoes, onions and dill baked in egg and cream and served with melted butter.

 This salmon dish will be one of several selections from Sweden's finest culinary creations headlining the menu during the third Swedish Foods Festival, in conjunction with Swedish Heritage Week, Friday, Sept. 28 through Tuesday, Oct. 9, at The Summit restaurant in the Westin Hotel.

 All dishes will be made from fresh food ingredients flown in from Sweden via SAS airlines.

 "This festival has been tremendously successful in the past and its popularity increases each time we host this event," said Uwe Christiansen, director of food and beverage for the Westin.

 "We will prepare the most popular entrees from past festivals, and we have added several new items to the menu, ranging from appetizers to desserts."

 Swedish chef, Per Nilsson, returning as guest chef for the third time, will work with Westin chefs in the preparation of the Swedish dishes. Per Nilsson trained under the celebrated master, Tore Wretman, culinary adviser to the Royal Court of Sweden and founder of the Swedish Gastronomic Society.

Dan Greenberg

"Irreconcilable Differences" opens Friday, Sept. 28, at De-troit-area theaters.

Supposedly it is legally possible to divorce one's parents, in six states including California and Indiana. Whether or not that is, in fact, legally sound, it is the premise upon which "Irreconcilable Differences" is successfully based.

The partially autobiographical story was written by Nancy Meyers and Charles Shyer, the writer-producer team of "Private Benjamin" fame. "Differences" is Shyer's directorial debut. He has a deft touch and will delight most audiences with his humorous, emotional depiction of the demise of a presumably happy, contemporary American family.

As the story goes, 10-year-old Casey Brodsky (Drew Barrymore) sues her parents for divorce, telling the judge that she loves them both but "if I'm not going to be totally nuts when I grow up, I'd better get out of this family while I still have a chance." She's probably wiser than most 10-year-olds (thank goodness) but it makes a good story.

Her touching, emotional line to the judge has humorous overtones, partially because Drew is a cute, accomplished young actress. But her words set the poignant tone for this story.

THE MOVIE is a series of flashbacks from the courtroom telling how the Brodsky family came to this sorry state. The plot is smoothly constructed and, thankfully for those who've had enough of courtroom dramas, the flashbacks become the film while the courtroom sequences are background signposts to keep things moving along.

The Brodsky tale begins in the early '70s as Albert, the father-to-be (Ryan O'Neal), is hitch-hiking to California to begin teaching film history at UCLA. Lucy Van Patten (Shelley Long), a would-be writer and soon-to-be Brodsky's pick-up, is the rest of history. Albert, the film instructor, meets noted Hollywood producer David Kessler (Sam Wanamaker), who is so impressed with Albert's knowledge that he gives Albert a chance to direct. Naturally, the film is a big hit. Of course, Lucy becomes a best-selling novelist.

You really ought to go see how success spoils the Brodskys because the way the story is told and acted takes the relatively mundane plot and turns it into a touching, enjoyable film with credible characters.

Albert and Lucy's characters develop from young innocents newly arrived in Hollywood to flourishing, typical middle-aged Hollywood types. O'Neal and Long realistically portray four significant stages with sufficient emotion that the audience is convinced and moved.

The film is extremely well-mounted by producers Alex Winitzky and Arlene Sellers ("The Seven Percent Solution," "House Calls," "Scandalous" and "Swing Shift"). Cinematographer is William A. Fraker ("Heaven Can Wait," "Looking for Mr. Goodbar," "1941" and "War Games").

HIGHLY REGARDED French composers Paul de Senneville and Olivier Toussaint have captured the era with the look and sound of the times including songs by Frank Sinatra and James Taylor, as well as the right images well-photographed. What could be more appropriate for this milieu than a young film instructor wooing his girl in a motel room while they watch an old Cary Grant film with a dubbed Spanish soundtrack. His impassioned translation catches just the right note, and the girl as well.

"Irreconcilable Differences" touched me emotionally in ways that "Kramer vs. Kramer," "Ordinary People" and "Terms of Endearment" did not. The maudlin, self-indulgence of those very popular domestic dramas somehow seemed out of touch with humanity, although the films may very well have been in touch with the self-centered interests of the time.

Ryan O'Neal is Albert Brodsky, and Shelley Long is his wife, Lucy Van Patten Brodsky. Their love is threatened by their successful careers in "Irreconcilable Differences."

WEDNESDAY will be your last chance — for quite some time — to acquire a work of art from the Art Rental Gallery. The Plymouth Community Arts Council gallery on the second floor of Dunning-Hough Library on Main Street will be closed throughout the month of October.

Theresa Gall says she hopes it will reopen Wednesday, Nov. 7, but that date is not definite at this time. Normally, the rental gallery is open Wednesdays during library hours. And, normally, arts council members, who work a shift at the gallery, are fairly busy.

Residents and business people regularly take advantage of the originals and reproductions in the gallery collection to spruce up their homes or offices. Theresa said business has been slow of late. Most people seemed to think the gallery was closed because of the expansion work going on at the library.

The off-and-on gallery closing schedule has been due to problems that must tax Librarian Pat Thomas' patience. The carpeting arrived — but it was two separate dye lots — things like that. Once the new wing is open, workmen will begin renovating the workroom and the area at the foot of the stairs. With construction going on, it would be dangerous and impractical to try to use the stairway to the gallery.

KAY MICALEF of Canton Township sent a suggestion to Omnicon Cablevision. In response, Omnicon had a suggestion for Kay — if she thought a crafts show would be of interest to area viewers, how about doing one?

As a result, Kay's first "Come Craft with Me" show will be taped Oct. 6. She admits to some nervousness about her first television appearance, but she thinks it will be interesting.

"I'm going to do the first half-hour show by myself. I'll introduce what's coming, the guest artisans and their crafts, then demonstrate some simple, fun crafts."

She hopes to have something for everyone — Scout leaders, senior citizens, dedicated and would-be crafters. She'll feature a local expert on each program.

Demonstrations will include stenciling, basketry, quilting, counted cross stitch, making band boxes and many more.

"Sometimes the viewer may work along on a project, but not always. At least, they'll be able to decide if they would like to try something and then go on from there, with more instruction."

Kay works for Barb and Chuck Avery at Useful Uniques in Old Village, so she has contacts with the crafts people.

MARY CHILDS performed 182 marriage ceremonies during terms as mayor of the city of Plymouth — sometimes as many as three in a single day. There have been occasions when she has wondered about the longevity of these marriages. Especially after meeting one of her bridegrooms and being informed that he was no longer a married man.

She was quite happy last week when she was invited to meet one of her couples for lunch. The gentleman who issued the invitation said it was a surprise for his wife on their fourth wedding anniversary.

SAM HUDSON, columnist, author, historian and inveterate golfer, made his first hole-in-one Saturday, Sept. 15.

He was playing the Woodland course at Fox Hills with Chuck Heiney, Duke Morrow and Pete Himeyar. Sam used a seven-iron on the 150-foot, third hole. It landed on the green and rolled into the cup.

I was wondering if Sam could be referred to as an inveterate, itinerant golfer. He always walks and pulls his golf cart. If the term is correct, then Dr. Charles Westover would be the inveterate, itinerant golfer of them all. At 80, he still plays 18 holes and walks the entire course.

PARTY BRIDGE players are back in action at the Plymouth Cultural Center after the annual Fall Festival recess. Frances Peters' 6,350 points were high Thursday, Sept. 13. Louella Cook was second with 5,940.

Last Thursday, Dorothy Shaffer came in first and Carl Peters second. There were 10 tables in play. Actually, 41 players showed up. C.L. and Louella Cook took turns playing to even things up.

Kevin Feilman, in tux, with apple, plays the Snake.

Drama group readies dinner-theater show

The drama and culinary arts departments at the Centennial Educational Park will present a dinner-theater, Saturday, Oct. 1, at Plymouth Salem High School.

The drama department will perform "The Apple Tree," the musical that gave Alan Alda and Barbara Harris their big breaks on Broadway.

The culinary arts department will prepare the prime rib dinner, everything "from soup to nuts" with (what else?) apple pie for dessert.

Only 160 tickets, at $10 per person, are available for the dinner and play.

Tickets now are on sale at the general office of Plymouth Salem High School. Deadline for purchase is Monday, Oct. 1. For reservation information, call Gloria Logan, 451-6243.

Admission to the show only is $4. Tickets may be purchased in advance or at the door.

THE DRAMA department was invited to perform at the Michigan Theatre Association convention. Productions will be presented by Eastern Michigan University, a musical group, a civic theater group, a professional theater group, a dance company and the CEP drama department, the only high school students asked to participate.

They will present "The Apple Tree" at the convention.

The musical has four actors. Eric

Holland is Adam, Jennifer Scott is Eve, Ed Bellaire plays the role of God, and T. Kevin Feilman wears a tuxedo in the part of the serpent.

GLORIA LOGAN will direct and produce the musical.

Vocal director is Laura Wiener. She replaces Betty Weideman, who retired in June.

Pianist Brian Belden is conductor. The drama department lost its longtime conductor when Carl Battisbill moved to the position of band director for the West Bloomfield Schools. Belden, who is Gloria Logan's brother, will write the musical arrangements.

Jim Kaiser, veteran of many CEP drama productions, will handle sound.

The dinner-theatre will be a first for the drama department.

Adam (Eric Holland) peers at baby held by Eve (Jennifer Scott). He doesn't know what it is — perhaps some kind of fish — because it always surrounds itself with water.

Laura Wiener, vocal music director, helps Jennifer Scott practice her songs backstage.

Hiding from Eve, Adam climbs into his tree.

Debbie Kelly (left), Dana Pressede and Becki Wiley make posters for upcoming dinner theater.

More On Back Pain - Mid Back Pain
Little has been written on mid-back complaints: the aching you have felt between your shoulder blades. Such discomfort, unlike neck or low back pain, rarely is caused by conditions involving the back bones themselves.
Most mid-back aches are the result of strain on the scapula (shoulder blade) muscles. The scapula is anchored by muscles that connect to the mid-back vertebrae; strain on the scapula places tension on these anchoring muscles. It is this tension that you feel as a mid-back ache.
Another cause for such discomfort is fibrositis. In this instance, "trigger points" -- areas of irritation under the skin -- cause radiation of pain across the mid-back region and up the neck.
How are mid-back conditions treated? If the cause is muscle strain, the treatment is: Improved posture. Standing erect with the ears over the shoulders (collar bone) throws the scapula back into proper relationship with the ribs and relieves strain on scapular muscle attachments. If the diagnosis is fibrositis, then medication, heat, and injection of trigger points usually brings relief.

Salem loses OT field goal and game

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

The referee on the goal line signaled that the kick was good.

The Livonia Bentley football players fell to the ground as if a bomb had been dropped. Some began to cry.

It looked for the world as if Plymouth Salem had defeated the home town Bulldogs in the first overtime period Friday night, 10-7.

But wait.

The other referee, the one that lined up behind the kicker, signaled that the kick was no good — off to the right.

The Bulldog players leaped to their feet — new life. The Salem players were enraged. Coach Tom Moshimer raced onto the field demanding an explanation.

"The referee at the goal line said he was just signaling that the ball was high enough. How come he signaled with both arms? It looked good from where I was," Moshimer said.

Bentley made good use of its second life.

SALEM GOT the ball first in the second overtime series. (In high school football, each team gets a series of four downs starting at the 10-yard line. They play until a winner is determined.) On fourth down at the six, kicker Mark Dixon came on to try a 22-yard field goal. He missed this one without controversy.

Then Bentley took over. Coach Steve Naumcheff, with one of the best placekickers in the area on his sidelines, decided not to waste any time. He sent Chad Darke out to win the game, and the senior responded by nailing the 28-yarder dead-center.

Final score — for real this time — Bentley 10, Salem 7.

"We felt we had a chance to outplay them tonight and we did," Naumcheff said. "And let me tell you, it feels so nice."

About the controversy?
"There were flags all over the field

'They just outplayed us. They played well and they deserved to win.'

— Tom Moshimer
Salem coach

tonight. We had two touchdowns called back. I don't think either coach can bitch," he said.

After it was all said and done, Moshimer agreed with Naumcheff on one point: "They just outplayed us," Moshimer said of Bentley. "They played well and they deserved to win."

Yeah, but what about the call on Dixon's first field goal?

"The official said it was no good and that's what we have to live with," he said.

NEITHER TEAM seemed eager to win the game. The first half ended in a 0-0 tie, although Bentley had a 43-yard touchdown pass from Pat Schneider to Al Young called back because of a holding penalty.

Darke also attempted a 60-yard field goal. It wound up 10-yards short.

Salem wasted a golden opportunity in the first minutes of the game. Pat Walsh recovered a fumble at the Bentley 28. The Rock offense gave the ball back three plays later as Dave Quinlivan picked off a Steve Sobditch pass.

Bentley finally broke the drought in its first possession of the second half. Actually, they scored twice in the drive. The first one, a 27-yard TD run by Young, was called back because of a clip.

But, the Bulldogs kept charging. On the first play after the penalty, Schneider hit Young on a 21-yard strike to move the ball to the 16. Next play, Young ran it 12 yards to the 4. Two plays later, Marty Altounian scored from the 1. Darke's point after made it 7-0.

By the way, don't feel too sorry for Young. Although the speedy back got two TDs called back, he still gained 105 yards in 21 carries. Salem gained just 104 yards on the ground total.

SALEM GAINED just four first downs in the second half, three of them in their final drive.

"We mistaked ourselves to death," Moshimer said. "Every time we got something going we made a penalty or something."

The Rocks got a big break with 1:41 left in the game. Bentley, in a punt situation, snapped the ball over Darke's head. Salem recovered at the 39.

Sobditch hit Craig Morton, then Steve Potoczak with passes good for 28 yards. A penalty moved the ball to the

8. With 39 seconds left, Morton made a spectacular diving catch, in the end zone for the tying score.

"When I turned around, the ball was already coming. I thought he (Sobditch) threw it too soon," Morton said.

Morton, who was single covered most of the game, was open on several occasions, but the ball never got to him. Twice passes were overthrown, and twice Bentley defenders recovered to bat the ball away.

Salem won the coin flip in the first overtime and elected to go on defense. Sobditch intercepted Schneider's pass to end Bentley's first possession — it was Sobditch's second interception. He also made several key tackles from his cornerback position.

Schneider, on the night, completed 8 of 23 passes for 103 yards.

The Bentley win was their second in a row by 10-7 scores.

"If that's a lucky charm, I'll take it," Naumcheff said. "They can all be 10-7 as long as we have the 10."

Bentley is 2-1, Salem 1-2.

Salem's Steve Moran (No. 5) and Stevenson's Chris Wiegel entangle in the Rocks' 5-1 loss Thursday.

Spartans top Rocks, Northville is stunned

The Plymouth Salem soccer team went into Thursday's clash with No. 1-ranked Livonia Stevenson with high hopes.

After all, the Rocks were undefeated and playing solid soccer. Stevenson, on the other hand, had appeared nonchalant, uninspired in winning its first seven matches.

The Spartans, Salem hoped, were ripe for an upset.

Maybe some other time.

The Spartans scored three quick first-half goals to dash Salem's high hopes and went on to a 5-1 victory.

Chris Wiegel, Chris Gembis and Johnny Gelmsi scored early to rev up the Spartan machine. In the second half, Gelmsi and Stefan Mitchov added goals.

Salem got its lone marker in the second half from Dave Dameron.

Stevenson was in total command of the game, outshooting Salem 17-3.

The Rocks are now 4-1, the Spartans, 8-0.

NORTHVILLE 3, LIV. FRANKLIN 3: How's this for a shocker?

Tom Wagnitz goal late in the game earned the 1-4-1 Patriots a tie with state-ranked Northville. Gerry McWilliams, who set up the tying goal, and Jeff Hayes scored the other two Franklin goals.

"That was the best 80 minutes a Livonia Franklin soccer team has played since we've been here," said a happy Pat coach Doug Marks.

Northville got goals from Joe MacKle, Rich Gird and Doug May.

Charger rally blunts Chiefs

It took brilliant performances by Chris Phifer and John Stoitsiadis to twice rally Livonia Churchill from two touchdown deficits to a 37-31 triple-overtime victory Friday at Plymouth Canton.

The game-winning play was an 8-yard pass from Stoitsiadis to Scott Papich in the third overtime. Stoitsiadis' fourth TD toss of the night. But the quarterback missed the extra point kick, leaving Canton a chance in its turn with the ball.

The Chiefs offense couldn't convert. Two running plays came up short of the end zone, and Phifer picked off Canton quarterback David Knapp's third-down pass to ensure the win.

Phifer had the best game a Churchill receiver has ever enjoyed. The fleet end latched onto 10 of Stoitsiadis' passes (a school record) for 197 yards (another school record) and 3 touchdowns.

Phifer was at his best in the final minute of regulation. Churchill trailed 28-21 and had the ball at their own 40. A penalty and 2 Phifer receptions on out patterns moved the ball to the Canton 30. With 30 seconds left, Phifer faked an out and ran a post pattern, hauling in Stoitsiadis' pass for the score.

THE EXTRA point kick tied it, forcing the overtimes. Neither team scored in the first extra session. In the second, Dave Liuzzo booted a 33-yard field goal for Canton, but Churchill tied it on football

Stoitsiadis' 26-yard kick.

Canton broke on top quickly in the game, scoring on a 25-yard pass from Knapp to Tony Aiken in the first quarter and on Knapp's 69-yard run early in the second. Liuzzo nailed both placements for a 14-0 lead.

But Churchill came right back on Stoitsiadis' 3-yard run and 2-point conversion plunge and his 4-yard scoring pass to Phifer. Stoitsiadis' kick made it 15-14 Churchill at the half.

Canton again stormed ahead with two third-quarter TDs. Knapp hit Aiken with another 25-yard scoring strike, and Jeff Rummel pounced on a Stoitsiadis fumble in the end zone, giving the Chiefs a 28-15 lead.

Stoitsiadis set up the dramatic finish by connecting with Phifer on a 39-yard pass play early in the fourth period.

Stoitsiadis hit 18 of 47 passes for 346 yards, with only one interception. Phifer had two interceptions to go with his 10 receptions. Knapp connected on six of 10 passes for 65 yards, but suffered 4 interceptions.

Both teams are now 1-2 for the season.

Rock swimmers reign supreme Plymouth Salem swim coach Chuck Olson had a problem prior to the season. He had an overabundance of freestylers. What was he going to do with them all?

He found out Thursday night.

With the score deadlocked going into the final event, the Salem freestylers took first and second in the 400-yard freestyle relay to give the Rocks a thrilling 91-81 win against rival Plymouth Canton.

"We knew it was going to be a very difficult meet," said Olson. "Their (Canton) girls swam a really good meet. They just ran out of freestylers in the last event. I was fortunate to have saved enough freestylers."

Kristal Taylor, Laura Shaffer, Tracy Meszaros and Karen Dalte won the final relay in 4:01.1. Erin Boughtin, Teresa Shaffer, Ellen Foley and Michelle Barr followed them in at 4:23.0.

CANTON TOOK first in nine of 11 events. Margaret Gilligan, Ginnie Johnson and Lynn Massey each won two events for the Chiefs.

Gilligan won the 200 freestyle in 2:06.0 and the 500 free in 5:41.8. Johnson won the 200 individual medley (2:23.2) and the 100 butterfly (1:02.0). Massey captured the 50 free (25.8) and the 100 free (57.5).

The Chiefs also got a first from Michelle Stackpole (1:09.0) in the 100 backstroke, and a first from the 200 medley relay — Kelly Kirk, Sue Schendel, Johnson and Massey — in 2:01.3.

Canton's Megan McGow won the diving competition with 173.4 points. Salem's Cory Silver was second with 168.75.

So, how did the Rocks win? With depth. Salem took second in all but one

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Michelle Barr was one of eight freestylers Salem used to defeat Plymouth Canton in the pool showdown Thursday night.

event and third in eight of 11.

Laura Shaffer took seconds in the 200 free (2:06.5) and the 100 butterfly (1:06.3). Meszaros was second in the 200

IM (2:27.8) and the 500 free (5:59.4).

Taylor grabbed a second in the 100 free (57.7) and Cindy Elliott was second in the 50 free (27.2) for Salem. Salem was second in the medley relay (2:05.9) as well.

It was the first meet of the season for Canton. Salem is now 2-0.

Young Rock golf team begins to find groove

Buoyed by a strong performance in the 13th annual Plymouth Best Ball Tournament at Brae Burn last Tuesday, the Plymouth Salem golf team captured its first two dual meets of the season.

The Rocks finished in a tie for fourth place with Ann Arbor Huron in the prestigious 25-team tournament — its best finish in recent memory.

Salem's A team, Mike Granger and Jeff Speaks, combined on a third-best round of 69.

Walled Lake Central, led by the record-setting performance of Dave Smith and Greg Davies, won the tourney. Smith and Davies shot a six-under 64. Defending champ Livonia Stevenson finished a disappointing 19th. Plymouth Canton placed eighth.

THE ROCKS barely squeezed by Canton in a dual match at Brae Burn Monday, 228-231. Granger (39) and

Salem boys fall, girls top Bentley

Livonia Bentley's duo of Kevin Sari and Rob Annett broke away from the pack Thursday to give the Bulldogs a 23-32 Western Lakes Conference boys cross country win over Plymouth. The boys' duo of Kevin Sari and Rob Annett were clocked in 16:54 and 16:58, respectively.

Tony Atwell and Eric Pedersen of Salem finished third and fourth, respectively, in 17:08 and 17:11.

Rounding out the top nine were Todd Walker, Bentley, 17:16; Kevin Jones, Salem, 17:22; Scott Leslie, Bentley, 17:25; Ed Hakala, 17:30; and Rick Rouson, Salem, 17:35.

Both teams sport 3-1 dual meet records. The Salem girls, meanwhile, beat Bentley, 18-50, sweeping the first seven spots. Rounding out the top nine were Todd Walker, Bentley, 17:16; Kevin Jones, Salem, 17:22; Scott Leslie, Bentley, 17:25; Ed Hakala, 17:30; and Rick Rouson, Salem, 17:35.

North Farmington's girls, led by Barb Zeno's first-place finish Thursday, upset host Westland John Glenn in a Northwest Suburban League (NSL) opener, 27-31.

Zeno clocked in 20:50, broke open Bentley's 1-2-3 punch of Karen Opi (20:58), Pam Eide (21:17) and Laura Granis (21:17). Frank Shelly, 18:14, and Kyle Sukutakis, 18:18, North's Mike Bendon was eighth.

Livonia Stevenson swept both the boys and the girls teams Thursday against Farmington Harrison at Casa Benton Park.

In a 24-31 boys victory, Jack Tatigian and Mike Newton placed first and second for the Spartans with times of 17:53 and 18:02, respectively.

Harrison garnered the next three spots with Dave Linn, third, 18:07; Chris Hart, fourth, 18:22; and Mike Eker, fifth, 18:25. Then came Mike Duffy, Stevenson, 18:26; Greg Durbin, Stevenson, 18:29; Kevin Kirk, Stevenson, 18:48; Craig Tross, Harrison, 18:51; and Tom Blason, Harrison, 18:52.

Sue Tatigian led Stevenson to an easy girls win with a first place clocking of 18:02.

It wasn't all that surprising, the thumping Schoolcraft College's cross country teams took Thursday at the hands of Macomb Community College. Schoolcraft is just starting to build its program. Macomb is built as solidly as an Egyptian pyramid.

Garden City opened its NSL dual-meet campaign Thursday with a 17-41 triumph over Redford Thurston at Hines Park.

The Rocks, meanwhile, are facing a tough week. The Rocks host Walled Lake Western on Tuesday, and Livonia Stevenson on Thursday.

The loss was Harrison's 27th in a row.

They were outclassed," said Harrison coach Gary Sine. "But, with the caliber of team Salem has, I didn't think we played that bad. Salem plays a good man-to-man defense."

That defense limited the Hawks to just 10 points per half.

Fran Whittaker led the Rocks with 10 points. Dena Heid, Mary Beth West and Kendra Hostinsky chipped in eight apiece, rounding out a balanced Rock offensive.

Janine Whittmore scored seven for the Rocks.
