District earns energy award

Plymouth-Canton school administrators will travel to Washington, D.C. next week to accept a national honor for the district's energy-saving efforts.

Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent, and Dan Minghine, director of building and grounds, will accept the national award in Washington, D.C., on Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have won competitive state and national awards for energy innovation. The awards are the result of an Energy Management Incentive Program started by the district in 1981.

LAST MONTH Gov. Blanchard announced that Plymouth-Canton had won the state award. At that time the governor said:

This competition is a nationwide effort to encourage the sharing of energy-saving accomplishments or technologies. The National Awards Program will provide important visibility for innovative solutions to our energy needs.

"Each of the 10 Michigan projects chosen by the Energy Administration by the Department of Commerce,' added Blanchard, "is to be congratulated for energy conservation efforts and for the sharing of information about their newly-developed technologies."

Earning the state award qualified the school district to compete in the

Board tables project 29 communities OK

staff writer

The required 29 of 43 communities have approved the Wayne County Solid Management Plan. Canton Township is not one of the communities, despite a personal appeal by Wayne County Commissioner Milton Township trustees Tuesday night voted 3-1 to table the plan for the second time this month.

The proposed five-year, 20-year program would fulfill the requirements of Public Act 641. The act mandates that each county has a plan to dispose of solid waste materials.

Mack, who attended the meeting, said the plan had not received a single no vote and that it "enjoys widespread support.

There are shortcomings to the plan, but it's not static and it favors the sub-urban point of view," Mack said.

The plan "not only charts the course for resource recovery but it forces people to move that way," he said.

Van Buren Township and River Rouge became the 28th and 29th communities to approve the solid waste management plan, Mack said, thus giving it the two-thirds majority needed to send it to for approval to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

MACK SAID the present plan might be destroyed by a lawsuit filed by Browning-Ferris Industries (BFI). The lawsuit seeks to block the submission of the plan to the DNR.

Mack said BFI wants its proposed landfill, located in Huron Township near the runway of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, to be included in the morning asking the court to issue an injunction to prevent the county from submitting the plan.

Mack said he is "very optimistic" that the injuction will not be issued. "I can't imagine the court stepping in and blocking the continuation of the process when the consequences would be disaster," he said.

CANTON TOWNSHIP Trustee Loren Bennett voted against tabling the issue, saying he could not support the plan at

There is "no guarantee that the incinerator (Detroit's resource recovery project) will be constructed," Bennett Bennett said it would be in the township's "best interest to go on record as being opposed. It would give us a better position in court to fight landfills.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board:

· Voted to reduce the water and sewer rates for Canton Township residents from the current charge of $2.54 per 1,000 gallons to $2.48 per 1,000 gal-

According to the township's accountants, the reduction is possible because of a recent decrease in sewage disposal charges from Wayne County and a projected increase in water consumption for 1984.

The 6 cents per gallon decrease would amount to a total of $100,000 for all consumers in the county, according to Mike Gorman, township finance di-

Since the program's beginning in November 1983, Canton police officers have spent $7,000 of grant money and nearly 375 hours on A-Team patrol. They have arrested 65 drivers for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (O.U.I.L.), and ticketed 74 drivers for other offenses such as speeding and running a red light.

Acting Sgt. Roger Pearsall, who was assigned to oversee the program for the Canton Police Department, said A-Team terrritory covers Michigan Avenue from boundary to boundary, Cher-Hill and Ford roads from Canton Center to the eastern borders and Canton Center Road from Michigan Avenue to Ford Road.

Those roads were selected because of their comparatively high number of previous drunk-driving arrests, Pearsall said. The high number of O.U.I.L. arrests during A-Team patrol is proof "that the A-Team produces," Pearsall

How a commuter college enjoys world- class status

By Ann Laura Shaw

ESTION: What commuter college in Michigan is part of a world-class univer-Clue: Its freshman class this fall had high school grade-point averages of 3.3, opped only by the 3.5 average at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor Another clue: This Saturday it will celebrate its 25th anniversary with a "Communiversity Day" on its Dearborn campus.

"Our students rank above the Big Ten and the national average. Our faculty is recruited national-, and 95 percent of them have doctorates," said or. William Jenkins, chancellor of the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

UM-D HAS capitalized on the twin strengths of appealing to commuters and having close ties to, but autonomy from, U-M.

"We are an integral part of the corporate University of Michigan. We consciously adhere to the traditions of quality programs, quality faculty and quality research," Jenkins said.

"We have the advantage of being part of a worldclass university. We use the name and prestige to obtain grants and to recruit faculty and students. The North Central Association, watchdog of academic standards, agreed. It granted UM-D a 10year accreditation renewal this year, noting the dedicated, high-quality faculty" and the "enthusiastic, high-caliber student body. NCA recognized the top administration for its management, especially during the economic wrenches of the early 1980s. The picture wasn't always so rosey

IN THE MID-1950s a director of training at Ford Motor Co. predicted a need for more engineering and business administration graduates. In 1956 U-M accepted a gift of 200 acres and $6.5 million from Ford Motor Co. and the Ford Motor Fund to establish the Dearborn campus at 4901 Evergreen, just south of Ford Road. The campus opened in 1959. Its original mandate was to offer junior and senior level courses in engineering and business administration. Students were required to participate in cooperative education programs. Those programs no longer are compulsory, but they still draw 500 of UM-D's 6 400 students. "I would not chop off this unique program," Jen kins said. "It provides money for students, and 75 percent of our students work In 1971 UM-D was expanded into a four-year institution. Then came the long recessions of the '70s. Jenkins became chancellor in 1980, six months after economist Harold Shapiro was named president of U-M. A native of Pennsylvania, he earned is doctorated at the University of Illinois in English and is co-author of 85 texts on reading and language for kindergarten through 8th grade students ore coming to Dearborn, he was vice chancellor and acting chancellor of the University of Colorado

SHAPIRO BEGAN "downsizing" the university closing the geography department and cutting the chool of Education 40 percent.

"UM-Dearborn went through seven executive budget recalls in seven years," Jenkins said. "Our operating budget was cut $1 million."

Once the state cut appropriations, UM-D officials were left with discretion on where to apply them. We met our financial obligations by budgetary restraint without incurring any major disruptions in the curriculum and without, as far as I know, any Today UM-D's financial picture is not only solvent but brighter. "We are now in a much improved situation. We have regained some of what we lost, Jenkins said.

The chancellor noted a 5 percent budget increase for each department and an 8 1/2 percent faculty pay increase this year. The 1984-5 budget is $21.6 million - $11.5 million in state appropriations and $9.3 million from tuition. UM-D's funds are a line item in the state budget and according to Jenkins "never intermingled" with U-M budgets for the Ann Arbor and Flint campuses

CAMPAIGN FOR Michigan, the university fund raising drive, has a goal of $160 million, with $4.8 million earmarked for the UM-D campus. Anchored by an $800,000 gift from the Ford Motor Fund, the UM-D drive hopes to raise $1.8 million for a CAD-CAM lab (computer-assisted design and computer-assisted manufacturing) and a $3

"The $3 million endowment is to be used for named professorships, scholarships and library acquisitions," said Dick Reynolds, director of university relations at UM-D and a Westland resident.

'The Campaign for Michigan is coordinated in Ann Arbor, but UM-D has its own development staff calling on our alums and corporate friends.'

IS UM-D really autonomous administratively? "Absolutely," replied the chancellor. "I am not told how or where to spend money. Our master of business administration (MBA) and undergraduate programs are not reviewed. I report to President Shapiro, and he reports to the Board of Regents. There are no vice presidents in-between.

Are there any prospects that UM-D will spin off rom U-M, the way MSU-Oakland was spun off Michigan State University and became Oakland No again, said Jenkins. Many students are attracted to UM-D because of its identification with U-M. But nearly as many transfer from the Ann Arbor campus to Dearborn as transfer from Dearborn to Ann Arbor he said

JENKINS SAID UM-D reaches out to students in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties who seek a quality education. "It's no accident. We've doubled the number of Oakland County students in the past 10 years," he said. He knows most have to work while going to col-

ege. "They want the best degree they can get. The U-M degree traditionally has more power. Many can't afford to go to Ann Arbor. We're providing an outlet of academic needs and desires at one-third of Not only is the UM-D educational experience equal to Ann Arbor's, but Jenkins claims that in some cases it's better. Class sizes are smaller, and the faculty is full time. "Our undergraduates are not taught by graduate school graduates - the source of "traditional" college students - will fall 25 percent by 1990. Jenkins is undaunted. "Part-time students are welcome here. We don't discourage students from a non-traditional collegiate schedule. That figure is based on a drop in the number of students in the state's public high schools," he went on. "We're not limiting enrollment to the high school output. We encourage older students and students returning because of career changes."

Despite talk in Lansing of the state's closing one or more public universities, Jenkins is confident of continued state support. "Who else can provide gressive placement of graduates.

And so the 25th anniversary is more than a celebration of success. To Jenkins, it is a chance for aggressive marketing of UM-D. "This anniversary and its calendar of events," he said, "are an oppor tunity for us to find new friends and to bring people

Additional millage must for schools

Plymouth residents will vote on whether to increase school property taxes by 1.74 mills or $1.74 per $1,000 state equalized valuation

The additional levy for operating expenses is being asked by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education for a period of seven years, from 1984 to 1990.

For the owner of a home with a market value of $60,000, the increase will cost an has a price tag. additional $52.20 a year; for the owner of a home valued at $100,000, an added $87 a year, minus a possible state income tax

It is the same request which voters narrowly defeated last June in the annual school election. Because of the small turnout, school administrators do not feel they have a mandate from the electorate. They hope all residents will exercise their franchise Tuesday and help give direction to the school district's future tax rate increase in five years. That is a significant fact when you consider the steady rate of inflation since 1978.

During those five years, costs have risen with inflation, and state appropriations have steadily dropped. As a result, the district has had to survive primarily on local property tax income which has increased incrementally only as the tax base has expanded.

In short, school district officials have gone a good job running a tight ship. They have tightened their belts, trimmed or eliminated extras like the school farm, cut some programs, and sacrificed some quality (with increased class sizes, for instance).

The district has done what many residents have asked - it has gotten by with less money and cut corners for five years to operate without a taxpayer bail-out. Now, we should consider what our response should be.

WILL WE reward sound fiscal management by approving the tax increase now? Or will we penalize administrators for doing a good job by voting down the request because we are opposed to increased taxes in general?

Costs have risen steadily over the past five years — in business, in our personal lives, in county, state and federal governget by, while Plymouth-Canton Schools kept its rate steady. The federal government, over the past five years, has steadily increased its deficit while the school district has balanced its budget each year. County government has had wholesale elimination of services, such as the sale of

to do so - but there's a price tag. State and federal governments have issued challenges to public education to face the Crisis in Education. That challenge also is issued to voters to behave responsibly, and it too has a price tag. We want quality instructors who are respon sive to parents and the community, but we THE SCHOOL DISTRICT has not had a must maintain competitive wages to maintain the desired labor force. That's another price tag that cannot be ignored. The teachers have been responsible in wage talks with the school board. The price tag for future wage increases is modest - 6 percent plus increment in '84-85, 5 percent plus increment in '85-86, and then increment-only in '86-87. That's a reasonable, responsible response from

THE OBSERVER believes the school district has done a commendable job managing its funds and maintaining a decent educational program given the financial limits placed upon it.

We believe those efforts should be rewarded so administrators will be encouraged to continue running a tight ship n the future. We urge our readers to vote Yes on Tuesday

The 1.74 mills is a tax increase, and we will not attempt to call it anything else But it is a modest increase which most homeowners can absorb. Senior citizens and others with limited income do get property tax relief from the state through the circuit-breaker and will not be pinched by this request. Society is asking more from our schools. State and federal governments ments. During the past five years, the are contributing less. Local taxpayers state has increased the income tax rate to have had a reprieve for five years. Now it is time for Plymouth-Canton taxpayers to respond. We urge a responsible response with a Yes vote Tuesday

Sewer down drain

THE FEDERAL government giveth and the federal government taketh away. But how do you explain it?

The government, in the form of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), says it can't authorize funding for the long planned Super Sewer project which would install a new sanitary sewer interceptor and sewage treatment plant for western Oakland and northwestern Wayne coun-

The government, in the form of the Department of Transportation, said it will pitch in extra money to help cover the $32.8 million in overrun costs being rung up by SEMTA's downtown Detroit People Mover project.

Looking at the surface you might think that moving people has a higher priority than moving people's waste. The two moves might also appear to be designed to keep people in Detroit and out of suburban

But, of course, there is no such priority, and there is no single federal planning agency which looks at the overall Detroit metropolitan area and declares that government dollars would be better spent on building a downtown transportation system than a sewer system.

THERE IS a suspicion, however, that some politicians who know how the federal government works did some backroom lavering and figured out a way to kill

EPA turned down a request for 75-percent federal financing for the $130-million project because, officials said, it did not receive in time an environmental impact statement from the state of Michi-

Oakland County Executive Daniel Murphy, a Republican who might become a candidate for governor, is one of those who blames Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and Gov. James Blanchard, both Democrats, for the backroom palavering. An aide to Blanchard denies such fina gling. Young has been on vacation.

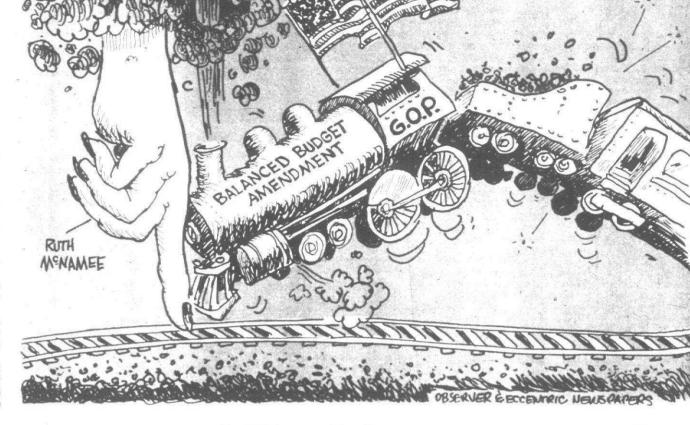

Whether Young did anything more than grouse about Super Sewer is difficult to say. It is easy to say, however, that he is vigorously opposed to anything which would make Detroit less of a core city and more of a city abandoned by flight to the YOUNG'S THEORY, shared by many, is that building sewer systems in the more rural areas of the metropolitan area encourages people closer to the urban core to move out. The central city then suffers more loss of residents and businesses.

In fact, two governmental actions which contributed most to flight from Detroit were 1) the construction of freeways which allowed people to live in the suburbs and zip into town to work and 2) the expansion of the Detroit metro water and sewerage system. Businesses and industries followed to the suburbs to catch up with their workforces.

THE DETROIT water system was managed for more than two decades by Gerald R. Remus, who operated with the power of a czar. He was ever eager to expand the system to spread the capital costs over a larger and larger base. This helps explain why Young tenaciously hangs on to the controls of the water sytem. He sees water and sewer service as a vehicle for drawing people from Bob Wisler

But as a historian friend once pointed out, Michigan history makes no sense unless you grasp that there have always been two Republican parties - moderate and conservative. It has been like that since the fistfight at the 1908 Bay City convention, and always will be.

There are plenty of quiet Republicans today who admire Teddy Roosevelt far more than James Watt. They felt better protected by the de-

But it's difficult to have lived in this area during the summer of 1984 and not have some thoughts about the team that won a divisional baseball title and is a good bet for a World Series berth. It's funny how the line between suburbs and the city of Detroit is blurred when it comes to the Tigers. When we think of the problems of the poor and urban decay, Detroit is "their town." But when we think of the Tigers, it is "our town." When it comes to going downtown, Deof Canton Township was the lucky person who reached into the Milwaukee Brewer dugout and grabbed their lineup card. It works the other way, too. The Tigers don't think the suburbs are so far from the ball park. When it came time to choose a spot for a party after clinching the division, it was Ginopolis Restaurant in Farmington Hills. WHY THE GREAT fascination with the Tigers this summer?

Their great record is the crowning glory of a long, painful period of recovery for this area. We have survived the most perilous economic time since the depression. Businesses closed. Jobs were lost. Hundreds of thousands of persons moved in troit is just too far away. But when there's search of greener pastures in other states. Detroit became known for its high crime and unemployment rates. Businesses executives refused transfers to the town, which was lumped with such troubled cities as Cleveland and Buffalo.

At the same time, our sports teams were in the pits. Pistons, Red Wings, Lions, Tigers - all fell to the bottom of their respective leagues. By 1980 the City of Champions had become the City of

House shelves 'Hinckley' bill

R-Birmingham.

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call otes Sept. 13-19.

Limiting insanity defense — By a ote of 225 for and 171 against, the louse failed to achieve the two-thirds najority needed to pass a bill to limit he use of the insanity defense in fedral criminal trials

A key feature of the measure Hr3336) was to shift the burden of proof to defendants. Presently, the proscution must prove the accused is egally sane. Following John Hinckley's acquittal n insanity grounds after he shot Presdent Reagan, there has been overwhelming congressional sentiment for arrowing or abolishing the defense. However, this vote reflected elecion-year posturing more than it did enuine concern about the issue.

It was another example of Congress etting excessive partisan bickering mpede problem-solving. A two-thirds majority was required pecause the Democratic leadership arranged for the bill to be debated under short-cut procedure that prohibited

This prompted many conservatives who favored reform to oppose the bill. They complained they were denied a chance to offer amendments to further restrict or abolish the insanity defense. The Democratic leadership said they had to resort to the short-cut procedure because of the lateness of the congressional session. But Republicans oted the bill had cleared the Judiciary Committee as early as November

Members voting no generally wanted open floor debate on reforming the insanity defense Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plym-

Opponent Benjamin Gilman, R-N.Y. said heroin has "no significant advantage" over other pain-killers, and he warned that some heroin produced for cancer patients would be diverted to illegal use.

Banks and insurance - By a vote of 38 for and 56 against, the Senate rejected an amendment whose effect was permit bank holding companies to market insurance within a given state. The vote preserved language prohibiting state-chartered banks that are affiliated with bank holding companies from selling insurance either intrastate or nationwide. It was a major victory for the insurance industry and a defeat for large banking operations such a Citicorp which through a South Dakota affiliate has entered the insurance business. The vote occurred during debate on a major banking deregulation bill (S to sell a wide range of securities. A companion bill awaits floor action in the House. Amendment supporter Jake Garn

R-Utah, said Congress lacks authority to restrict state-chartered banks. Chris Dodd, D-Conn., said Congress can rightfully regulate state banks that are affiliated with a federally chartered bank holding company. Senators voting no wanted to keep banks out of the insurance business. Voting no: Carl Levin, D-Mich. Donald Riegle, D-Mich.

Limiting imports — By a vote of 61 for and 36 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to give steel and other American industries another weapon against foreign competition.

The amendment, opposed by the Administration, provided antitrust relief in federal court against foreign products that are "dumped" in the U.S. or manufactured under excessive subsidy Presently the major source of protection for U.S. industries is through administrative remedies, such as convincing the International Trade Commission (a U.S. Agency) and the president to go along with an unfair trade

The vote came during debate on an omnibus tariff bill (HR3398) that was headed for final passage and conference with the House.

John Danforth, R-Mo., who voted to kill the amendment, said the judicial remedy would invite foreign governments to take similar action against U.S. exporters. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., said Congress should disregard "foreigh policy considerations" and recognize that "the courts are where we go for justice in this country. Senators voting no wanted federal

IT WAS NORMA'S birthday party, her 75th, and everyone was reminiscing about the old home town, where we all grew up. Kenn Christopher, our neighbor in the Michigan Racing Commissioner's office, would have had a field day. Kenn collects unusual names.

Marian recalled the medicine shows. "Everyone went to the medicine shows at Pottses Hall. And after the entertainment, they'd all buy bottles and bottles of the medicine.

"Charlie Potts had three daughters, Goldie, Silvie and Brassie, remember?"

'Goldie's name was really Goldie, Silvie was Sylvia, and Brassie was really Bertha."

"And they gave their children unusual names. Brassie named her daughter, Keitha. And Silvie named one of hers, Thorna.

And so it went, with everyone chipping in. "Did your mother ever warn you never to stop after school at old never went there on Halloween.' Looking back, it was suggested that poor Tessie may have been the victim of discrimination. But after some conversation, it was agreed that Tessie encouraged the idea. She was the one who told the kids she was a witch.

We remembered Mrs. Tait packing an extra dip on a nickel ice cream cone. We wondered how Mrs. Thompson could fry a heaped turkey platter of perch fillets, in her iron frying pan, and serve them hot and Then, of course, the talk got to the high price of lake perch. Mr. Thompson used to get them free. Now, they are $6.75 a pound at the fishery.

LYNNE RUDOLPH, a 1979 graduate of Plymouth Canton High hool, has been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America. The program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities. Lynne is a graduate of Michigan State University where she majored in physical therapy. She served her internship at a Battle Creek hospital and now is a graduate student at MSU. She will complete her master's degree in apartment management this year. Lynne was a resident assistant and is now hall director. Even with her work load, she had a 4.0 average in her first term as a grad student.

DEPRESSION glass collectors will be interested in the show and sale coming up Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 20 and 21 in the Dearborn Civic Center, Michigan Avenue east of Southfield. It will be the Michigan Depression Glass Society's 12th annual show with 30 exhibitors from several states.

The society has cooperated with the Plymouth Historical Society in lending collections for special exhibits at the museum. The glass in the show will date from the early 1900s through 1950 with lots of depression glass as well as Cambridge, Near Cut, Heisey Fostoria, Duncan Miller, NuCut and unmarked early Fenton.

Admission will be $1.50 and food will be available. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Anyone interested in joining the Michigan Depression Glass Society may call Ken Godwin, 274-1372, Wanda Britton, 421-3098, or Rita Korte, 274-3926.

Beautification effort earns commendation

Members of the Plymouth Beautification Committee traveled the city's 31.7 miles of streets, looking at the 3,066 residences and more than 401 businesses. They perceived the landscaping and flower beds as the residents' expressions of pride in their homes and the community.

The petunias are beginning to straggle and the marigolds are past their peak. But a tour of Plymouth's streets showed impatiens and begonias at their luxuriant best. Early fall gardens revealed the gardener's planning and care.

The committee was organized in the belief that pride plays an important part in determining a community's future. Pride cannot be bought or legislated. So the committee would honor those who take noticeable pride in their property through landscaping.

MEMBERS OF the committee divided the city into sections and each memper had a section to cover. Later, the group assembled a final list.

Beautification committee members are Pat Carne, Jan Foster, Jan Keller, Allen Odell, Dennis Smith, Sharon Rucinski, Irene Walldorf, Edith Wysocki and Mary Childs.

They decided the Department of Public Works deserved a commendation for the planting and maintenance of city parks, planters and landscape of public buildings.

The Agape Christian Center, 345 N. Main, and Our Lady of Good Counsel, 1160 Penniman, were named. Earle

Bassett's vegetable garden also received special mention.

PRIVATE residences selected as worthy of beautification awards were: Ernie Archer, 335 Roe; Dick and Alice Arlen, 1441 Hartsough; Brian and Kathleen Ashley, 1127 Penniman; Bill and Wenona Barnett, 204 N. want to say a special thank you, for ev SO THE KEY to further pride for Canton is a "big time" sponsor for Jim.

I learned a lot about racing. I had no idea that the racers actually contract for the rental of the cars they drive in each race. It seems the sponsors pay the driver and the driver must pay the car owner for the rental of the car. The owner is responsible for all repairs during the race. In Jim's case this included the fire in the dash, then the rewiring work, followed by a second fire and finally distributor problems all which contributed to Jim's defeat this first time out. Remember though, this in no way defeated or discourage Jim. He is more determined than ever

WESTSIDERS

Westside people know what they like in a restaurant. When they go out, Westsiders want something special, something out of the ordinary. They want a full choice of unique menu specialties they won't find anyplace else. They want to sip one-of-a-kind cocktails. And they like to savor a spectacular view. Westsiders enjoy all these things (and more!) at The Summit Restaurant & Lounge atop The Westin Hotel. Wouldn't you enjoy being a Summit insider, too? Call 568-8600 for your lunch, dinner and Sunday brunch reservations.

Ward Church eyes new 136-acre site

Members of Ward Presbyterian Church of Livonia met last night to hear details and ask questions about a proposal involving the purchase of 136 cres at the corner of Six Mile and Haggerty roads for future church ex-

Parishioners were given a brief out line of the purchase proposal during worship services last Sunday morning. They were then invited to attend last night's informational meeting for further amplification of the proposal. For those who could not attend last night's meeting, a second session has been set for 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 30.

Sunday's brief remarks were delivered by David Tyrpak, chairman of a special Church Site Committee set up last spring when an outside church survey firm noted Ward's spiraling growth had reached a point of sociological strangulation - too many people and too little space.

Tyrpak, an attorney, is a church elder and member of the Session, the church's governing board.

Tyrpak said the church has entered into a purchase agreement to buy the 136-acre parcel in Northville Township on the northwest corner of Six Mile-Haggerty roads, with a half-mile frontage on Six Mile and half-mile frontage on Haggerty. Price was set at approxi-

How can the candidate avoid alienating one-half of the voting populace? The candidate has a flash of insight. The candidate replies: "I stand with my people.

He tried to make us do that. He challenged us to listen to the people from Southern Africa as they described their life in a land of constituted separation between the races. He wanted us to hear what it meant for blacks to be denied the right to vote, to own land, or to be required to carry a pass with them

WE ASKED ABOUT our country's policies with South Africa and we asked about divestment. He kept bringing us back to the people of Southern Africa and their experiences of life. But it didn't stop with that. We wanted to help redress their lot in life. He

Goin' South

The ride to Florida should have detours

YOU ARE planning to head south for the winter, you will find lots of activities along the way that are of interest to Snowbirds. If you are going down Interstate 75, you probably won't stop for the night before you get to southern Ohio, where you will find the usual variety of interesting activities in the Cin-

OHIO: Lebanon holds Applefest Oct. 13. Lebanon is the home of that wonderful historic eating and drinking place, The Golden Lamb. You can't go wrong stopping there, whether you want a bedroom that looks like it came straight out of Greenfield Village or just a traditional early-American meal in the dining room.

The Golden Lamb has one of the finest collections of Shaker furniture in the country and is a good home base for the delights of Lebanon.

Cincinnati holds an Antique Festival Oct. 19-21 at Music Hall and an International Folk Festival Nov. 16-18 at the Convention Center. Nov. 23 through Dec. 31 is Winterfest at King's Island.

If you like German beer hall atmosphere, have dinner at Forest View Bier Garten on the outskirts of Cincinnati. You'll probably find Terry singing "Impossible Dream," although "singing" isn't exactly the word for it.

He will be standing in front of the piano in his waiter's smock, spreading an operatic layer of sound across the candlelit tables. There is a first and second seating, each group drinking jugs of beer, warming up with a foot-stomping hand-clapping song, eating sausages and sauerbraten and waiting for the music.

Forest View Gardens is one of those oopa-pa beer places, only it has an operatic twist. Music students, most from the University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, are hired as waiters and entertainers.

Pianist Piotr Gajewski is a concert pianist from Poland, but you will probably find him playing background for singers who comes individually or in groups to the stage. Teddy Babst might be on drums

JACK FROST will no doubt nod his head over the accordion occasionally, but come to attention fast when one of the singing waitresses sets her hair swinging to the rhythm of "Fiddler on

Otherwise, contact my friend Lois Smith or one of her staff at the Greater Cincinnati Convention and Visitors Bureau, 200 West Fifth St., Cincinnati, Ohio or telephone (513) 621-2142.

KENTUCKY: If you've never explored Covington, Ky., "the south side of Cincinnati," take time to stop and mosey around the antique stores around Main Strasse or explore the designer clothes at discount prices at the Mill Outlet. A drink or dinner at the International Catfish Ranch wouldn't be bad either.

Kentucky means "horses" and no horse lover can pass the Kentucky Horse Park on I-75 north of Lexington without stopping to see what's going on. If you are driving on through Louisville, check the progress of the new Kentucky Derby Museum scheduled to open in May 1985 at 700 Central Avenue. A duplicate set of the famous twin spires of Churchill Downs was recently dedicated at the museum will be the largest museum of its kind in the world, according to the advance promotion. It is dedicated to showcasing thoroughbred racing.

TENNESSEE: Michigan isn't the only place that brags about its autumn leaves. Chattanooga is famous for its Autumn Leaf Special train excursion, to be held this year Oct. 13, 14, 20 and 21, and for its Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival, scheduled for the weekends of Oct. 22-23 and Oct. 29-30.

The Autumn Leaf Special is an oldfashioned steam train sponsored by the Tennessee Valley Railroad and Museum, which offers day-long excursions from Chattanooga to Crossville in passenger coaches, observation cars, dining cars, a 'tape recording car' and a commissary car furnished by Southern Railway.

Weekend packages are available in Crossville, where passengers can attend the Cumberland County Playhouse, and in Chattanooga, where you enjoy the Backstage Playhouse Dinner Theater. The train trip alone is $43.05. including tax; children under 4 free if they don't occupy a seat.

Savannah

The Color Cruise includes a daylong scenic outing by boat, bus or car through the Grand Canyon of the Tennessee River and time to enjoy one of the south's biggest folk festivals. For $15.50 you can sail the Mark Twain or the River Belle riverboats from downtown Chattanooga to the fair site, arriving about noon and returning by bus to the city.

It also costs $15.50 to bus to the site and ride the boat back, enjoy live entertainment and buy a picnic supper aboard if you choose. For information on any of these events, contact the Chattanooga Area Convention and Visitors Bureau, 1001 Market St., Chatta nooga, TN 37402 or telephone (615) 756-

GEORGIA: The Great Savannah Exposition, a permanent multimedia exhibit will open in December. Savannah is a short drive off I-75, but well worth the trouble if you enjoy exploring an attractive and historic river city.

One features the Spirit of the South, recreating the landing of James Oglethorpe in 1733 and events that followed: the invention of the cotton gin, the growth of the railroad, the sailing of the SS Savannah, first steamship to cross the Atlantic, the founding of the Girl Scouts, an overview of the architecture and the old city squares you will visit in modern Savannah.

The second theater presents a multimedia recreation of the Revolutionary War battle, the siege of Savannah, fought on this site. The exposition is only part of an $80-million renovation of Battlefield Park.

You will also find an exposition hall in the complex. Admission to the Great Savannah Exposition will be $5.50 for adults, $2.75 for children 12 and under. Hours will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through February, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. March to

Ironic twist of fate for NSL

AYBE IT WAS the coffee, a little too strong.

Maybe it was the donuts, a little too stale.

The room was not smoke-filled. Most of these men had their minds already made up. Nobody rolled up their shirt sleeves like they did last week at the GM-UAW bargaining table.

Tuesday's meeting among Western Lakes Conference principals resulted in an air of haughtiness, or maybe smugness is a better term to use.

These were not union guys or executive types. They were educators.

With the closing next summer of Bentley High School a foregone conclusion, the newly formed conference was down to nine schools. They looked for new members and came up with three last spring — Livonia Franklin, North Farmington and Westland John Glenn.

What they really did was rip up the six-team Northwest Suburban League (NSL). One NSL member, Class B Redford Thurston, wasn't in the Western Lakes expansion plans. Thurston is looking to align with schools its own size.

THAT LEFT the NSL's other two members, Redford Union and Garden City, teetering on the gang plank. Their options at this stage are limited.

The Western Lakes people reportedly voted 9-1 in favor of admitting those two schools — making it a 14-team, 2-divisional set-up.

There was only one problem. RU and GC needed to be accepted unanimously under the Western Lakes constitution.

But that didn't deter RU principal Dr. Robert Schramke and GC principal Ron Cowden from letting the matter die.

They came back from their summer vacation confident they could change that one vote.

They did some politicking.

Two weeks ago, Schramke said: "I'm confident it can be resolved. I think we can get it squared."
GC officials, meanwhile, were cautiously optimistic, but they already mapped out a contingency plan — accept the Wolverine A invitation into their league.

BUT ON TUESDAY afternoon, the hammer came down.

"We discussed it and a majority voted not to expand to 14 teams," said Churchill Principal and Western Lakes President Bill McFarland. "It's not a one- or two-school issue."

The decision was apparently made by the principals, with little input from the athletic directors, who were reportedly asked to leave the meeting when the heavy talking went down. The principals of the three new members — Franklin, Glenn and North — were also asked to leave.

What a welcome into the new league.
"I thought we had a shot," said Cowden. "It does surprise me because I went and talked to all the principals.

"I think whoever voted against me owes me a call. They ought to stand up and be counted."

LIKE COWDEN, Schramke couldn't hide his disappointment: "I don't know what to say. I really don't know why they blocked us out. I guess we'll go to Traverse City to play."

The whole mess seems ironic and leaves me flabbergasted.

How can expansion miss by one vote last spring and now lose by at least six?

An easy answer the principals will give you is that 14 teams in one league is unmanageable. Did any of these guys take one athletic director's suggestion: Split the 14 schools into two distinct leagues and agree on cross-scheduling?

THE WAY THINGS are shaping up for 1985-86 school year, GC and RU will be semi-isolated from Observerland, playing most of their games outside our Livonia, Westland, Redford, Garden City, Plymouth, Canton and Farmington coverage area.

That obviously wasn't a concern among the principals.

And some of the principals from the Livonia and Plymouth-Canton Schools didn't go along with their respective superintendents' recommendations, which would add GC and RU. Obviously, Livonia Superintendent George Garver's plea to Walled Lake Central principal

Gerald Wallace went in one ear and out the other. The Walled Lake Schools apparently were concerned about excess travel. I forgot that Westland John Glenn is closer to 12 Mile and Beck Road than Redford Union is to 12 Mile and Beck.

THE WESTERN LAKES principals needed to get the matter settled this week because athletic directors are already building schedules for next year.

Maybe these principals should set up a workshop and help Atking the athletic director at RII and Maybe these principals should set up a worksho and help Atkins, the athletic director at RU, and Bill Pinnell, the GC athletic director, plan their 1985-86 schedules.

It's the least they could do.

But then again, they might screw things up. This is the same league which confuses the public with Lakes Division champs, Western Division champs and Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) champs.

It's the same league that can't give you a clearcut winner in softball, baseball or tennis.

Things looked so promising when the Western Lakes schools joined forces two years ago. Tuesday, Sept. 25 wasn't one of their better days. Can somebody throw some cream and sugar in that black coffee?

Marino bags O&E crown

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Nunzio Marino's strategy for winning the Observer & Eccentric Men's Golf Tournament was simple:

"I just wanted to get the ball on the green," said the 1983 Plymouth Salem graduate. "That's how well I've been putting lately."

The formula worked Sunday, as Marino emerged from a five-player logjam after Saturday's opening round to win by a single stroke in the rain-soaked competition at Livonia's Whispering Willows Golf Course.

Marino's rounds of 73-75 for a 148 total edged Alex McLuckie of Livonia and Bob Thomas of Westland, who tied for second at 149. McLuckie bested Thomas in a playoff for second.

THE SHOT that proved to be the clincher for Marino came on the par-4, 402-yard final hole. He reached the green in two, then sunk a 30-foot birdie putt.

"That's what won it for me," the new champion said. It was Marino's first win in three attempts at the O&E tourney. In fact, it was Marino's first tournament victory since...

"The Walter Hagen Junior Tournament, at Brae Burn," he recalled. That was way back in 1979.

That was way back in 1979.

Ironically, Marino considered skipping the O&E until just two weeks ago. "I had a chance to go to Canada this weekend," he said. "I probably would have if I hadn't started playing so well."

MARINO GOT hot rather suddenly, particularly with his putter. "(Whispering Willows' pro) Gary Whitener helped me with my alignment two weeks ago. Before that I couldn't make a three-foot putt to save my life."

He had no such problems in this tournament. Two weeks ago, he was averaging "36-38 putts" per round, but he reduced that to 28 Saturday and 30 Sunday. For the tourney, he had just one double-bogey and six bogies, to go with two birdies.

Prior to finding his putting stroke, Marino, who normally plays "just about every day" became so discouraged in the past month he stopped playing and just concentrated on

THAT CHANGED over the weekend. Marino, McLuckie and Bob Thomas, together with Jerry Thomas of Livonia and Roger Schroeder of Redford, finished the opening round with 73s.

But the weather changed from near-perfect Saturday to dismal Sunday. Play was halted for 90 minutes because of rain, and when it resumed the course was drenched. Still, many of the golfers felt the rain did not hamper play much, and that despite the dreary weather Whispering Willows was in excellent shape.

Marino wasn't about to argue. His strong putting earned him the $150 gift certificate and first-place trophy in the championship flight. McLuckie won a $90 gift certificate and trophy for his runners-up finish, while Daryl Case of Farmington Hills was low net winner (137, handicap included), worth an $80 certificate.

IN FIRST FLIGHT, Paul Rys of Redford turned in the tourney's best round — a 72 on Saturday — and followed that with a 78 Sunday for a 150 total and the first place money of $100. Jerry Pankas of Livonia carded Sunday's best score (74) to claim the but on the whole, the Whispering Willows course was in good shape.

GC, RU out of picture

By Brad Emons

The principals at Redford Union and Garden City high schools were stunned to learn this week that Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) will

That decision was made Tuesday by the WLAA league principals.

"We discussed it and a majority voted not to expand to 14 teams," said Livonia Churchill principal and WLAA league president Bill McFarland.

With the advent of Livonia Bentley closing next summer, the WLAA was looking for a 10th member last spring. WLAA principals then voted for expansion in June, inviting three Northwest Suburban League (NSL) members to join — Livonia Franklin, Westland John Glenn and North Farmington. That decision made the WLAA a 12-school, two-divisional alignment (six teams in Western Division and six in the Lakes Division).

Curiously, the other three NSL members — Redford Union, Garden City and Redford Thurston — were not included.

RU PRINCIPAL Dr. Robert Schramke and GC principal Ron Cowden lobbied hard this fall to gain admittance after their schools missed out by a reported one vote when the WLAA considered the issue last spring.

Both Schramke and Cowden were optimistic they could get the unanimous 10-0 vote required under WLAA bylaws.

"Maybe they were influenced by their colleagues," said Schramke. "I went to talk to every principal. I spent time with each of them and there was nothing negative.

"I really don't know why they blocked us out. I'm very disappointed. I don't know what to say." Cowden, meanwhile, had plenty to say about the WLAA's action.

"It does surprise me because I went and talked to all the principals," he said. "I think whoever voted against me owes me a call. They ought to stand up and be counted."

WHEN SCHRAMKE was asked about joining another league, his response was: "I'll guess we'll go to Traverse City. But we'll survive."

The WLAA's decision may give Garden City the green light to accept the Wolverine A League's invitation. Cowden, however, indicated that the next move is up to the school board and the superintendent.

As it stands, the WLAA will look like this for the 1985-86 school year: Lakes Division — Livonia Stevenson, Plymouth Salem, Farmington, Walled Lake Central, North Farmington and Glenn; Western Division — Churchill, Franklin, Farmington Harrison, Plymouth Canton, Northville and Walled Lake

Lisa Russell's talented touch around the net helped Plymouth Canton close out its girls' soccer season in winning fashion with a 4-0 blanking of Farmington Harrison Friday, May 27, 1983 at Canton. Russell netted all four goals for the Chiefs, bringing her season total to 12. Lori Engel assisted on two of Russell's tallies and Kim Reeves assisted on another.

Pat Phillips stopped six Harrison shots to record her third shutout. Canton fired 16 shots at the Harrison goal. The victory gave the Chiefs a 5-7 final season record.

Mechanical malfunctions ruin Canton racer's bid

The so-called "sophomore jinx" hit Doug Goad a year late. Of course he could have survived very well without its arrival at all.

Goad is in his third full season of road racing at Waterford Hills. In his first full year, he piloted his Opel Manta to a first-place finish in the GT3 Class and an eighth in the overall driver's Last year. Goad rose to the top.

think I can win it this year," the Canton resident said. Goad is preparing his car for the final weekend of races at the Waterford Hills circuit. He is currently resting in third place in the driver's points chase, which lists the top racers in all 10 classes of cars that

Other local drivers listed among the top 10 are Bill Dayley of Bloomfield and Paul Nawrocki of Birminger. How his machine holds up during the long season can determine his success. A year ago, Goad had few mechanical problems," Goad said. "Nothing major - just a blown engine, a wrecked transmission and a rear axle that, when it broke, it nearly flipped the car. That's all." Those "minor" mishaps caused Goad to drop out of three races. He also failed to finish a fourth when he spun out on the final lap and he couldn't restart his stalled Opel. "Dead battery," he explained.

Still. Goad has a comfortable enough lead to ensure him of his further information, call 623-0444.

His future plans are to "build a (Pontiac) Fiero and race it in GT2," he said. "But that's a couple years away, at least. If I do that I'll be looking to go professional and race it na-tionally in IMSA (International Motor Sports Association)."

FOR THE NEXT year anyway, Goad plans on competing in Waterford Hills' trophy races. The Waterford Hills schedule consists of 18 races; the final three will be this weekend. There will be five 10-lap class races Saturday and five more on Sunday. Sunday's slate will also include four feature races of 15 laps each.

The 10 classes range from Show room Stock GT (Pontiac Trans Ams, Mustang GTs) to Formula Ford and Formula Vee. A typical weekend wil attract between 110-130 competitors.

The race course is located six miles north of Pontiac on Waterford Road just off U.S. 10. Admission is $3 for Saturday, $5 for Sunday, or $6 for the weekend. Children under 12 are ad-Practice laps begin at 10 a.m. For

_ittle matter in ' 'night, Mother'

By Barbara Michala

Though acted to perfection and cer tainly thought-provoking, "'night, Mother," the Pulitzer Prize-winning drama at the Birmingham Theatre, is not totally satisfying.

As the audience watches a young woman methodically prepare for her suicide, one expects to gain something from the experience, to leave the the ater with some insightful response to the tragedy. That just doesn't happen

ONE NIGHT Jessie Cates (Phyllis Somerville) casually announces to her nother (Mercedes McCambridge) that she intends to shoot herself there and then. In the next hour-and-a-half the wo women do some soul-baring, but there are no intense revelations. Despite living under the same roof, the relationship was a shallow one; ventually there is some understandng, but it matters little. Jssie's problems are numerous: a leserting husband, a delinquent son, a self-centered mother and degrading epleptic seizures. By evening's end she tnows a little more about her husband, her illness and her dead father, but the news only strengthens her resolve. Jessie isn't having a very good time, and suicide is the one clear, independent statement she can make with her

QUIET AND RECLUSIVE by nature

Jessie married because her mother ound a husband for her. She believed he left because he couldn't stand her Epilepsy prevents her from holding a job or driving a car. She has moved back with her mother, who enjoys having Jessie look after her. The seizures, which her mother insists on calling "fits," leave her humiliated. And her mother either unnecessarily sends her to the hospital by ambulance, or summons her married brother to haul her into the bedroom.

review

SOMERVILLE'S STRENGTH is that her Jessie seems very normal, very rational; she neither looks nor sounds a loser. As the eminently practical Jessie goes about her preparations, Somerville's spurts of ebullience contrast effectively with her inner despair.

As the mother, McCambridge's expressive face and magnificent vocal inflections cover a wide spectrum of emotional responses.

Describing herself as a "simple country woman," Thelma Cates cannot cope with the present crisis any more than she could cope with Jessie's seizures over the years. She's not a bad mother, just not a particularly good one. Despite the right intentions, Thelma's appeals for Jessie's life seem to be for all the wrong reasons. Ineffectual at most everything, her one physical

PLAYWRIGHT MARSHA NOR-MAN'S dialogue is consistently interesting, and liberal doses of humor save the play from morbidity

Director Tom Moore's pacing smooth. Performing the play without intermission intensifies the mood, and Kenneth Evans' lighting also enhances the dramatic effect. As exemplified by the callous brother whose annual Christmas gift to Jessie is slippers in the wrong size, Jessie's tragedy is that no one ever cared quite enough about her Unfortunately "'night Mother" may leave the viewer feeling much the same way despite the fine production.

'Way Down East' at DIA

"Way Down East," the 1920 D.W. Griffith-directed, feature-length film starring Lillian Gish, will be shown by the Detroit Institute of Arts' Afternoon Film Theatre at 1 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, Oct. 7, in the museum's recital hall.

Tickets at $1 will be available at the door only. Information about group rates may be obtained by calling the museum ticket office at 832-

Adapted from a stage melodrama, the film follows the woes of a young woman as she is tricked into a fake marriage, is abandoned once she becomes pregnant, and watches her baby die in her arms. Once her past is revealed to the wealthy young man she comes to love, and the romance fades, the film arrives at the only conclusion 1920 morality permitted - the famous scene with Gish, not a stunt person being swept away on a real ice floe toward the crashing water falls during a raging blizzard. This Afternoon Film Theatre series, "The Movies, Mr. Griffith and Lillian Gish," will continue through mid-November. For a detailed schedule, call the DIA ticket office during regular business hours.

Laser-Cut Filter Victorious in Cracking Taste Barrier!

True Offers Challenge to High Tars. Low tar doesn't mean low taste anymore. In fact, New True's fuller, richer flavor delivers a taste satisfaction we believe challenges cigarettes containing twice as much tar.

Only True Has It. The New Laser-Cut "Flavor-Chamber" Filter. An important filtration discovery that delivers a flavor-rich tobacco experience at only 5 mg. tar.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Longer Lasting Smoking Enjoyment. What smoker wouldn't like a cigarette that lasted longer?

That's another New True bonus. True's quality tobacco blend is packed vith extra tobacco so vou can enjoy each cigarette longer. Noticeably longer.

> New Breakthrough True. Why not test it against the only taste that counts? Yours!

It tastes too good to be True.

Regular: 4 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine; Menthol: 5 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine, av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Artist tries many fields

staff writer

When Saundra Lee Weed was studying art, she couldn't decide to which area she should devote herself.

The answer was simple. In the artist's own words, she chose not to choose

"Years ago they told me, 'You're going to have to decide what you're going to be,' Weed said. "Everything I tried, I liked. I like it all.

"I spent all this time being totally miserable because I couldn't choose," she continued. "I would say, 'Is this what I should be doing?' I got into the 'shoulds.' Finally, I let go of all that. This is what is. I paint more than one way, I like painting more than one

TODAY, WHEN Weed says she likes it all, she isn't exaggerating. The Westland resident has a variety of interests and projects, including multimedia paintings, jewelry, designing clothing, teaching, writing and lecturing.

Weed is a friendly woman who scurries around her studio in stockinged feet, eagerly showing a visitor her students' works and some of her own piec-

An exhibit of Weed's art and jewelry will run at The Gallery . . . at Main-street Place, 903 N. Main in Royal Oak, through Oct. 31. In these works, Weed combines paintings and poems to make spiritual expressions.

"I'm not a photographic realist," she said. "I'm more interested in the feeling that I create.

WEED'S MULTIMEDIA work starts with watercolors. She will add almost anything to it, such as oils, acryllics, colored pencils or even a collage Whatever seems to work, I'll be using," the artist said.

For one seascape painting, Weed used tissue paper and oil to create a raised effect on the waves.

"I always thought, if I couldn't find what I wanted, I'd make it," Weed said. Among Weed's favorite themes are medieval or Indian objects and fantasy But she enjoys painting seagulls, water lilies, underwater scenes or pensive young women. While she likes to create feelings," she also likes portrait work. "My husband said if it doesn't move, I'll paint it," Weed said. Inspiration for her work has come from photographs or a trip to Wisconsin. But some ideas aren't easily ex-plained. Weed recalled that once she painted a model as an Indian, although the woman wasn't dressed as one. It turned out that the model was thinking of an Indian site at the time she was WEED LIKES to work with unusual objects in forming jewelry. Her pieces are made from paper and a Japanese lacquer process. She has made jewelry

Weed works from a pleasant, sunny studio along Michigan Avenue in Dearborn, not too far from where she went to high school. The studio features a cozy room, complete with books, comfortable chairs and old dressers.

"I like things that have belonged to other people," Weed said. "I guess it's the personal vibrations, something about it."

WEED TEACHES both beginning and advanced art from her studio and over cable television in Wayne. While she stresses the basics at first, she soon encourages her students to develop their own style.

"It takes five weeks to paint their their second one, through the method I use," Weed said.

ginning. There are four or five different ways to do the same thing. (With some classes) you might as well sign the instructor's name to the paintings.

Weed has co-authored a book that explains how to market art. She also lec tures to clubs and organizations. Her work has appeared in Livonia, Plymouth, Wyandotte, Chicago and Canada, among other places.

THE ARTIST is able to work on more than one painting at one time. When she is thinking about rather than actually working on a piece, she calls that time an "incubation" period.

"A painting has to talk to me, saying 'Paint me, paint me,'" Weed said.

"If I can't sleep, I don't waste my time counting sheep. I just get up and do something. I'm very satisfied with painting at four in the morning."

keep her almost constantly on the move. She is grateful for, and proud of, the support she has received from family and friends.

"It's difficult for people to under-stand that type of life," Weed said. "You have to have a good relationship."

WEED FIRST became interested in art when she was around 12 years old, and won art awards in school. The artist did some free lance work, but didn't become a professional until she became involved making Girl Scout posters.

Her next field may be clothing. Weed has made her own clothes and worn them to opening receptions for her ex-

Don't miss the moments that inspire art

This is another in a series of lessons on art and drawing by special colum-

ing. He has taught for eight years and operart store, Art Store and More, 18774 Middlebelt, Livonia. Messing ecourages questions and comments from readers. You may write him at his store or c/o Observer Newspapers, 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington MI

By David Messing special writer

It was a busy day and I was well into it. The store was jumpin' and I had just received a commission from a large company to design a sculpture for their lobby. With all this business and trying to divide my time for my own art commissions, my mind was racing, there was so much to do. but I had to stop everything and start coaxing Adam to go to kindergarten. So I bribed him with a chicken sandwich at McDonalds.

artifacts

On the way I listened and talked to Adam but in the back of my mind I was all wrapped up in business. In keeping with his mother's tradition. Adam always wants a custom order sandwich. I think my wife waits to see how they offer the sandwich then decides how they "should have" offered it.

At any rate we always are known as the "special grill" family. So when Adam and I finally sat down Adam was running off at the mouth in nervous kindergarten chatter.

As many Dads do I was a million miles away granting Adam only an oc-casional "Oh really," "that's nice" and "good for you, honey." Then I happened to notice his little fingers pinching this long French fry. Wondering why, I asked, "umm, Adam, what are you doing with your French fry?" He said, 'Oh, didn't you ever notice Dad, if you pinch a French fry real hard . . . there see how clean it makes your fingers?"

INSTANTLY THE press of business was left behind as I laughed and entered his little world. Free of all cares I sat and listened with great interest and amusement as Adam told me all about kindergarten. "Dad, Tony always gets off his letter and guess what Dad? I can reach the handle of the faucet and there's a real fast slide on the playground and etc . . . My hamburger and fries grew cold as I listened to this little 5-year-olds' view points of kindergarten. Of course we were late for school but I could hardly stop Adam from talking nor myself from the enjoyment of listening to this little guy. I finally dropped him off and thought to myself "what a precious moment!" And recalled the words to a song I once heard, that went something like this; we have these moments to hold, in our hand and touch as they slip through our fingers like sand, yesterday's gone and tomorrow may never be, but we have

Refreshed by it all I returned to my do we encounter day by day that go completely unnoticed. For most people to miss "the moments" is only sad, but for an artist to miss them is tragic. It is those moments that add depth to an artist's work. There are many types of moments that an artist can notice, experience and then incorporate in his or/her artwork.

There are precious moments, funny moments, touching, or sad moments, learning or teaching moments and the list goes on and on. The responsibility for an artist is to remove himself from himself enough to spot the moments when and where they occur. Like an amateur photographer might giggle with self pride as he tries to fit a whole mountain range into his view finder while a more professional photographer might abandon the big scene and thril his audience with a creative view of something perhaps common place, like a delicate flower hidden in the coarse mountain grass.

IT IS the moments that make us laugh and cry, share, learn and experience the feelings that makes us human beings. An artist if aware of these moments is doubly blessed. First in that the moments were noticed and artwork and appointments with new second that they can be expressed vigor. On my way back to the store I through his or her art. Perhaps a sad wondered how many similar moments moment could be ventilated with pastels in blues or gravs. Where a precious moment might require oils or acrylic. Maybe a funny moment could only best become visual in the cartoon style of pen and ink. Along with the responsibility of an artist to notice the moments is the versatility to handle the medium that best lends itself to the feeling.

> I am happy that my son Scott is learning how to airbrush in our Beginners Airbrush class. On the way home he mentioned how an airbrush is so versatile. I shared with him then that the greatest thing for an artist is to be able to handle whatever medium is required to best suit the subject or feeling. What goes on around you is exciting, touching and often humorous. So train yourself to better see and more clearly hear. The moments that I am talking about never tap you on the shoulder, are usually fleeting and are

So make them obvious and freeze them in time within an inspired piece of artwork. Perhaps all I am trying to say someone else has said better; "don't forget to smell the flowers along the way." But the artist who carefully paints these flowers will never forget their fragrance, or beauty.
