Residents struggling to get Haggerty between Cherry Hill and Palmer paved focus of a two-part series on college admissions and financial aid 7-8:30 seem to be gaining in the tug-of-war. Jim Meyers, Wayne County director of the Office of Public Services, told p.m. Thursdays, Oct. 3 and 10 at the the Observer last week that barring safety problems he will allow a lessexpensive paving project than that previously demanded by the county. A decision will be issued this week

he said. "Unless we encounter some issues from a safety standpoint I'm sure we will agree to the lower classification," Meyers said Money is the next hurdle residents will have to clear before paving begins.

HAGGERTY IS A county road but the county said it is unable to pay for paving projects.

Canton is paying to pave six miles of county roads in the township and would have to pick up the Haggerty paving bill.

Residents who live near Haggerty have confronted the Canton Township Board of Trustees with 683 signatures demanding the roadway be paved before the fall of 1988.

Supervisor James Poole told a crowd of angry residents at a recent board meeting that the township couldn't afford to pay for the paving under the county's higher classification. He said the major obstacle was getting the county to downgrade that stretch of

Haggerty Poole recently said other roads in Canton have a higher priority for paving. He named Haggerty north of Ford, the Canton Center Road and Sheldon cutoff, and Morton Taylor between Joy and Warren.

MEYERS SAID during conversations with state Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, and Wayne County Commissioner Milt Mack, D-Wayne, he indicated the county would be receptive to being flexible with our standards if it were an urgent need in the community."

Poole, Kosteva and Mack say they have continuously prodded county officials to downgrade the roadway.

A major campaign to improve Wayne County's image in relation to roads has been under way since the Wayne County Road Commission was dissolved, Meyers said. This effort spurred the county's recent willingness to reconsider its stand on Haggerty.

"We are really working hard in trying to turn around the road office from when it was part of the road commission, as being autocratic," Meyers said. "We are trying to work with communities, and that's why we support the change.

Proposals call for Haggerty to be designated for Class B use rather than Class A, which is suitable for large trucks. Class A was previously required by the county.

Cable hike requests get bad reception

Omnicom broadcasts a need for profits

By Diane Gale staff writer

Cable television will cost Canton residents more, but where the increase will be tagged still is undecided.

Omnicom Cablevision is requesting the Canton Township Board of Trustees approve a $1.70 increase in the basic rate. Trustees are scheduled to vote on the increase at Tuesday night's meeting

'If they don't approve the $1.70 then we will need to increase the revenues some other way," said Frederick Collnan era manager

Trustees turned down a $1.70 Omnicom rate increase request at a recent board meeting.

An appeal to Canton for a $1.60 hike in the basic rate was turned-down in February by a 4-3 vote.

Because the basic rate increase was denied, Collman said, costs for the premimum services were raised $1 for existing subscribers and $3 for new

More than 90 percent of cable subscribers in Canton have pay services, he added.

Local municipalities only govern basic rates because other cable charges have been deregulated. In January 1987, basic rates will be deregulated and local governments will be stripped of their control over cable costs.

uickens locating caller Enhanced

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

It happens all too often.

A resident hears a noise in another room and suspects someone is burglarizing his home. He dials the emergency number, 911, to notify the police that his life and property are in danger.

The 911 operator comes on the line. But the resident must speak softly in order not to alert the burglar. Before he can give the operator his address, however, he is discovered by the burglar who shoots him.

Police don't know the caller's address and can't trace the call because the assailant has ripped the telephone off the wall or placed the receiver back on the book

Even if the call were traced there wouldn't be enough time to apprehend the burglar at the scene of the crime.

But under a new "enhanced" 911 system when a resident calls for help, his address is automatically fed into a police computer as soon as the call gets through to the police department's 911 number

Even if the victim only says "help," information it needs to send a patrol car to the home or business under seige

Enhanced 911 provides the police department with a printout of each incoming call, showing the caller's telephone number, the time the call was received, when it was ended or transferred, if the system includes "call detail recording."

With "selective routing," the system recognizes the caller's telephone number, pinpoints the telephone's geographical location and automatically

the police department will have all the routes the call to the appropriate jurisdiction

> That means that, if Plymouth gets a call from a Canton resident, the information can be quickly transferred to Canton for emergency handling.

"Automatic number identification" displays the caller's telephone number on the emergency team dispatcher's console so the dispatcher can re-establish contact if necessary. This discourages false alarms. "Automatic location identification" displays the caller's exact location, even if the caller is unable to give the address

Fifty municipalities in the United States now have enhanced, or E911 service. Versions of the system are in service in Alameda County, Calif., Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis and New Orleans

Resident is slapped with fine, jail in dog's death

By Diane Gale staff writer

A Canton resident was found guilty last week on two charges linked to the shooting death of a prize-winning dog.

Jerry G. Lee, 45, was ordered Sept. 23 by 35th District Judge John Mac-Donald to pay $100 for misuse of a firearm and another $100 for cruelty to animals.

MacDonald also ordered Lee to serve five weekends in jail. Lee used a .22-caliber rifle to shoot two dogs owned by his neighbor, Mous-sa Zahrawi, a Sheldon Road resident. The incident took place in June on Lee's property.

"I feel very pleased, and my dog can rest in peace now," Zahrawi said. "Justice was done, but I was hoping for a harsher punishment of more time in jail.

MOOSE, A collie-German shepherd, was wounded by the gunshots. Suyyad, a 16-month-old prize-winning purebred Saluki, died a day after the shooting.

outdoors. Zahrawi's dogs and Lee's poodle were barking throughout the conversation

Moese crossed over to Lee's property and began chasing the poodle, Zahrawi said. Lee came out of his house and shot Moose Suyyad went to Moose's assistance and was shot in the chest area.

Lee told Canton Police that Moose was on his property attacking his poodle. Two veterinarians testified during Zahrawi said that the incident began the court hearing, Judge MacDonald when he and Lee's son were talking said. The poodle reportedly had small scratches on his ear.

"I found the defendant guilty be cause, in essence. I felt he over-reacted to a situation," Judge MacDonald said. "You just don't go around using a gun in any instance like this.

"I DIDN'T ORDER restitution because apparently there will be a civil lawsuit filed by Zahrawi for the dam-age of the dog," Judge MacDonald said. Since the incident, Zahrawi has purchased Suyyad's full-brother which he refers to by the same name. Suyyad is an Arabic word which means "hu

The amount of money sought in the civil lawsuit will be determined by Zahrawi's attorney. Civil claims must be under $10,000.

Bills submitted by a Dearborn Heights emergency veterinary service charged Zahrawi $229 for Suyyad's care and $58 for Moose. Zahrawi said last June that Suyyad was worth "at least $2,000."

Luck can produce success

Quite a few years ago when the colleges and many universities around the country sponsored special programs with the newspaper writers, Michigan State sponsored a program with Jimmy Gheen as the main speaker

For more than a half hour he spoke and called attention to the students and others in the room that knowledge was needed on any job. Then he, knowing he had the listeners pleased, gave this closing bid. "Your studies and your ratings will be quite necessary, but there is another thing to remember - you have to be damned lucky to succeed as you would like to."

THE STROLLER just sat there and felt that Jimmy had known him for he was "damned lucky" to be on a major newspaper and a guest of one of the country's best state colleges. He had reason to smile a bit for it was the mere changing of a time for football banquet that paved the way for him to be accepted for the Detroit Free Press sports staff. In those days he had worked on a paper in Allentown and had covered the athletic activities at Muhlenberg College. The football team was coached by Johnny Siegel of Detroit, who had been an All American at Washington and Jefferson. Over the years we had become good friends and we always sat side by side at the annual banquet. This year the banquet was set and he looked forward to another enjoyable evening with a close friend. Then, without warning, the words came that Edgar A. Guest, the famed poet of the Free Press, was going to speak on the same night. Stroller was in a quandary. He enjoyed friend, Spiegel. What to do? That was the question. He decided to be with his friend. Then two days before the banquet the word was passed along that the banquet time had been changed to give folks a chance to hear Edgar Guest.

That settled it. The Stroller went to the banquet and then to the high school auditorium to hear Guest. He was so pleased with the poet that he asked to meet him. Guest was kind enough to race up the aisle and shake hands.

WE CHATTED for about an hour. The poet asked many questions from the younger newspaper editor. Then Guest, seriously, said. "There are any number of papers in this country that would gobble up a fellow like you.

"Do you know one now?," he was asked. Guests smiled and suggested that The Stroller write a letter and he would do the best he could after he got back to his desk at the Free Press. It is satisfying to know that the following week he was invited to join the Free Press sports staff. He accepted and was there for a quarter of a century and became known in the sports world.

Peter, Peter, breakfast eater. Went to school with his tummy full. He dined on pancakes, toast and Tang. So he was ready when the school bell rang.

Id Mother Goose knows that a Ten O'Clock Scholar needs a good breakfast. Here are some storybook breakfast ideas that will send young scholars off to school with their tummies full. To make these whimsical yet nutritrious breakfast treats, Modern-Day Mothers just need a little imagination and not too much effort.

> Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake, pancake man, I'll want to eat you as fast as I can. Pour it and cook it and flip it once you see, And put it on a plate for Sister and me.

pancake man is a cheerful way to say good morning. Just pour pancake batter into the metal frame of a gingerbread man cookie cutter. Pancake men can be made ahead, frozen, then just popped in the oven (or toaster) for another day's breakfast.

> Every breakfast has vitamin C To start off a winning day Drinking a glassful is so good for you — It looks good and tastes good too oungsters can start off every day with a cold glass of instant breakfast drink.

It's a good-tasting way to get the whole day's supply of vitamin C, an important nutrient. And, instant breakfast drink is easy to fix and always on hand. That's nice for mom.

1 cup plus 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour 1 tablespoon sugar 1-1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

3/4 teaspoon salt 1 egg, well beaten

1 cup milk

3 tablespoons shortening, melted

Mix flour with sugar, baking powder and salt. Combine egg, milk and shortening; add to flour mixture, mixing just until flour is moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.) Lightly grease inside of gingerbread man cookie cutter. For each pancake, place cutter on hot griddle, pour thin layer of bat-ter into mold and bake until bubbles form on surface. Care-fully remove cutter; turn griddle cake to brown other side. Decorate with raisins or other fruit, if desired, and serve with Log Cabin syrup.

To freeze, brown lightly, stack with waxed paper between and wrap in aluminum foil. To reheat, unwrap and arrange on baking sheet; bake at 300° for about 10 minutes (or reheat in a toaster or toaster oven). To reheat in microwave oven, stack 2 frozen cakes on a nonmetal plate and heat 1 or 2 minutes

- 2 slices whole wheat bread
- egg
- teaspoon milk
- Dash of salt and pepper 2 or 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cut centers from each slice of bread, using favorite animal cookie cutter. (Toast cutout and spread with butter, jam or peanut butter, if desired.) Beat egg with milk, salt and pep-per. Melt butter in skillet. Place bread slices in skillet and toast over low heat until lightly brown. Turn; then pour egg mixture into cutout centers. Cover and cook until egg is set. Serve at once. Makes 1 serving.

- 3/4 teaspoon salt 1 egg, slightly beaten 3/4 cup milk
- - 1/3 cup oil

 - 1 cup 40% bran flakes
 12 flat-bottom ice cream wafer cones
 1 can (8-3/4 oz.) fruit cocktail, well drained Jam or jelly ten dry ingredients. Stir in cereal. Spoon half the batter into cones. Add about 1 tablespoon fruit to each and top with remaining batter. Place on baking sheet. Bake at 400° for about 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Spread jam on top. Little ducky yellowbreast Sitting in a nest. It is sometimes said You're really egg in bread.

Nest, on their breakfast platters. What a delightful way for kids to get their toast and eggs! And, cutout portions can be toasted separately and "frosted" with peanut butter, jelly or cream cheese.

> Silly cereal hot, Silly cereal cold, Silly cereal in my bowl Won't get old.

reakfast cereal will disappear fast when you top it with funny faces made of fruit. Try this fun way to get kids to eat their fruit and cereal with milk.

Oh, do you know the muffin man? Oh, look what's in his hand. He's put a muffin in a cone Just like my mother can.

emember the muffin man from Drury Lane? Well, he didn't think to put muffins in a cone, but mothers can. Most any muffin mix, such as this Orangey Muffin flavored with instant breakfast drink or the Fruit Muffin, can be baked in flat-bottom cones. These portable breakfast muffins also make great lunchbox packins or after-school snacks.

Long ago, nursery rhymes were a fun, memorable way to teach children lessons about morals, history or other fundamentals. Today, use these storybook breakfast ideas to teach children about the importance of eating a good breakfast every day.

- 1-3/4 cups all-purpose flour 1/4 cup instant breakfast drink 3/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 egg, beaten
- 3/4 cup milk 1/3 cup oil
- 12 flat-bottom ice cream wafer cones Orangey Cream Cheese Frosting

Mix flour with instant breakfast drink, salt, baking powder and baking soda. Combine egg, milk and oil; add to flour mixture, mixing just until dry ingredients are moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.) Spoon batter into cones, filling each almost full. Bake at 400° for about 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Spread Orangey Cream Cheese Frosting on top.

For Orangey Cream Cheese Frosting, beat 1 package (3 oz.) softened cream cheese with 2 tablespoons Tang instant breakfast drink. Gradually beat in 1 cup confectioners sugar. Add about 1 or 2 teaspoons milk and beat until smooth and creamy. Makes about 2/3 cup.

With a little teamwork, this delicious pie can be prepared in a short time. Perhaps the most difficult part of making S'more Pie will be waiting until it's time for dessert.

S'MORE PIE

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tbsp cornstarch

envelope unflavored gelatin

- 11/2 cups undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 2 tsp vanilla
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- Crumb crust*

Combine sugar, cornstarch and gelatin in medium saucepan; blend thoroughly. Add evaporated milk and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture just comes to a boil and thickjens slightly. Remove from heat. Stir in chocolate chips until melted and mixture is smooth. Stir in vanilla. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. Stir occasionally. Stir in marshmallows. Spoon into Crumb Crust. Chill thoroughly, 4 hours or overnight.

* CRUMB CRUST: Combine 11/2 cups graham cracker crumbs, ¾ cup melted butter and ¼ cup sugar; mix well. Press onto bottom and up sides of 9-inch pie kplate. Bake lin moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 to 15 minutes or until edges begin to brown. Cool.

BLUEBERRY-BANANA MUFFINS 1 package wild blueberry muffin mix

- 1 egg
- ¹/4 cup milk
- 1/2 cup mashed ripe banana (about 1 medium)
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 tsp ground cinnamon

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Grease bottoms of about 12 medium muffin cups, or use paper baking cups. Drain blueberries; rinse and set aside. Blend egg and milk with fork; stir in banana. Stir in muffin mix just until moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.) Fold blueberries into batter. Fill muffin cups ½ full. Mix remaining ingredients; sprinkle over batter. Bake until golden brown, 15 to 20 minutes. About 12 muffins.

THE "GOOD Samaritan Act" states: "A physician or registered nurse outh Registered Nurses Association, who in good faith renders emergency care at the scene of an emergency, where a physician-patient or registered-nurse patient relationship did not exist prior to the advent of such emergency, shall not be liable for any civil damages as a result of acts or omissions by the physician or registered nurse in rendering the emergency care, except acts negligence or wilful and wanton misconduct.'

Lutz said, "You can't be sued for negligence - just gross negligence. And what is gross negligence?" Physicians and nurses still are being sued.

Sylvester Stallone stars in "Rambo: First Blood Part II," an entertaining yet regrettably over-simplified movied that's cleared $150 million at the box office.

What makes Rambo tick?

"What megabuck miracle hath Stallone wrought?" I asked myself as I motored somewhat apprehensively off to see "Rambo: First Blood Part II

Having studiously avoided "Rambo" during the many months in which it grossed $150 million, I decided it was time to pay my dues and join the legions who had already queued up. In spite of my distaste for violence and my disregard for Stallone, I was curious why the film was so suc cessful

As it turns out, "Rambo" isn't as gross as one might expect; the violence has a detached, unreal quality and the film has a couple of things to say that people want to hear.

Johnny Rambo (Sylvester Stallone), a highly decorated, well-trained combat veteran of the Vietnam War, is released from prison on the ondition he undertake a dangerous scouting mission. Special Forces Col. Trautman (Richard Crenna) collects Johnny from the chain gang and takes him to meet Marshall Murdock (Charles Napier) who is in charge of the mission.

Murdock's position is never clearly described but it quickly becomes evident that he is a conglomerate character representative of everything negative that might be said about politicians, the CIA and other clandes tine types RAMBO'S MISSION is to parachute into Vietnam and search for American MIAs but not rescue them, merely take pictures. On jumping out of the plane, he is faced with the first of many incredible obstacles. His chute harness hangs up on the plane and he loses all his equipment except a terrific knife and a bow with a quiver full of arrows that magically remains full no matter how many enemy soldiers Rambo pins to trees with his expert marksmanship.

Since this is a very basic war story, the guerrilla contact Rambo meets is a lovely girl, Co Bao (Julia Nickson), with whom Rambo falls in love

From "Death Race 2000" through all the "Rocky" successes, there has

A toast to wine distributors

It seems to me that a great many of these co umns make reference to a special, almost-unknown group of people in the world of wines, the distribu-

Often neglected, they are the ones who make available to the stores and restaurants which we patronize the wines that we select. It is their ambition, zeal, palate, sense of adventure and risk that are involved. What they feel we want to drink determines what we do indeed drink

Every state in our nation has its own system of distribution, most of them highly regulated. The regulations are part morality, part business, part history and part politics.

IN MICHIGAN, the flow of all spirits is governed vigorously by a state agency, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. They authorize all wine brought in and license all purveyors.

There are three kinds of licenses: importer, distributor and merchandiser. One can be both an importer and a distributor but the same person cannot also be a merchant. The first two acquire wine from abroad and from within this country and sell it to those who sell it to us.

The price of a bottle of wine may not be less than it was purchased for (all sales costs are "posted" with the LCC and only under certain conditions may discounting occur), thus protecting the mom and pop operations which cannot buy in the volume some of our larger merchants can.

I have no way of knowing how many licensed distributors there are in the state, though you can be sure that the LCC does. As in all businesses, today's success becomes tomorrow's failure; they come and go.

Some serve only regional areas, some are state-wide in their scope. Some deal in beer as well, some in hard spirits. Some are true wine enthusiasts, some are businessmen (only). Some are highly dependable and ethical, some are less so. In short, they are probably a good cross-section of our business community and society in general.

I RECENTLY had occasion to view 15 of them at the same event, gathered in a semi-competitive environment. To their credit, they can be decently civil to one another, probably more so than some other competitive groups would be under like circumstances

It is they who contact a winemaker, or a national sales representative, and enter into a contract to bring in this wine and not another. They select. It is a highly competitive matter, full of risk

The financial conditions under which they operate are informative and go a long way toward determining what you and I pay for a bottle of wine. Remember, some of these conditions are determined by law, some by custom and some by the law of the marketplace.

We will use as an example a case of California wine because it is a somewhat less complex situation than obtains with imported wines. However whatever the wine's origin, the conditions of distribution are essentially the same. THE CASE is made to be sold from the winery for $60 wholesale to a national or local distributor Most wineries, desirous of getting their merchandize into the national pipeline, will discount that case for an out-of-state sale by about one-third, making it $40.

That wine is shipped to Michigan by a distributor where he must pay for it on delivery and absorb the costs of shipping (about $3 or $4 a case). He will then sell it to a merchant or restaurant for about $60, or about the same price for which it can be purchased in its home state.

This means that wines can, and usually do, cost the same here as they do in California. This is important to us all. (If the winemaker does not discount, as some do not, then that original, $60 case arrives here at about $90. The margin begins to spread.)

The merchant then adds his one-third profit to the case and the $60 item now sells to you and me for $90, or $7.50 a bottle. Most merchants give a 10 percent case discount to help us out a bit, cutting into their 33 percent profit. A restaurateur, on the other hand, doubles his cost for the case when he sells it, so his $60 investment goes on his wine list for $10 a bottle.

So we pay $7.50 for a bottle of Zinfandel which the winemaker sold originally for $3.33. Further, he had to make the wine, bottle and label it, put in a cork and foil and package it and in some way promote it as well.

been considerable question as to whether Stallone can act or whether he just happens to make films that meet filmgoers' simple emotional needs.

"Rambo" settles that argument as Stallone expresses the emotions of war, love, hate, espionage and betrayal with all the finese of the valedictorian from the Flex-'N-Grunt School of Acting. He's got great biceps, but muscles don't make an actor

The story, such as it is, is well-told, well-staged and well-photographed convincing jungle tracking shots, lots of colorful explosions and bodies flying in all directions, courtesy of the stunt department

The prop department has supplied endless rounds of ammunition for guns that never jam and quivers always filled with arrows

BUT THE LACK of realism dilutes the endless, unconvincing violence. It becomes ridiculous, detached and unreal. With arrows both steel and explosive-tipped, machine guns, rockets, grenades, knife, bare fists and a stolen helicopter, Stallone single-handedly destroys large units of Russian and Vietnamese troops.

It may be incredible, but we all love to run up the score.

And that, my friends, is what $150 million dollars has been paid to see: victory for our side, running up the scores and "Bringing America Back.

There's also a sly quality in "Rambo's" favor. It serves as a simplistic statement explating national guilt over Vietnam, the abandoned MIAs/ POWs and the rotten treatment returning veterans received.

"Rambo" changes all that - if only for 90 minutes - and the POWs are saved, large units of Vietnamese soldiers finally are defeated and the loss of the war in Vietnam is explained as the work of venal bureaucrats who didn't have the will to win; they lacked good ol' American gumption.

All that makes for successful movie entertainment but an overly sim-plified explanation of great tragedy. "Rambo" is Hollywood's dream world at its best: easy fantasy and wish-fulfillment that avoids the real world we need to face.

Rambo, a Vietnam vet who returns to that country to find POWs, is captured and questioned by a Russian advisor (Steven Berkoff) in "Rambo: First Blood Part II."

Chiefs bust WLAA's unbeaten

By Chris McCosky staff writer

When the spotlight is on and pressure mounts for an important game, funny things happen to the players. Some freeze under the pressure. Others get fired up by it. The latter was true for the Plymouth

Canton girls basketball team Thursday night The Chiefs remained undefeated and on top of the Western Lakes Western Division with an impressive 46-35 victory against previously unbeaten league foe Livonia Franklin.

"These girls know they can play," said Canton coach Rob Neu. "They want to show others that they can play When I told them before the game that the Observer was here, the (Detroit) Free Press was here, and cable television was here, they just got charged up. They want to be recognized."

THE GAME, despite the 11-point differential on the scoreboard, was never The two coaches, Neu and Franklin's Tim Neuman, have much more in common than the first three letters of their last names.

Both have flamboyant and aggres sive personalities that are reflected by their teams on the court.

The result was a non-stop, scrappy last-one-standing-wins basketball game

Franklin's high-scoring Tracy Lectka. That challenge was put to pesty Beth Frigge.

"You have to give her credit." Neuman said of Frigge. "She bothered Traand forced her to miss shots she CY hadn't been missing the last few games Frigge set the tone in the first few minutes of the game by stealing the ball clean from Lectka at half court. Lectka finished with eight points, hitting four of 21 shots from the floor. But Neuman wasn't about to make Lectka the scapegoat.

"Our inside ballgame wasn't good tonight and that really bothers me," Neuman said. "We worked hard on that. But Canton just killed us on the boards. They killed us."

CANTON, BEHIND 11 points from Diana Knickerbocker (she finished with 13), built up a 21-6 lead early in the second quarter.

But then something or somebody lit a fuse under Gayle Cheadle, and for the next 12 minutes the Franklin junior wreaked havoc on the Chiefs.

The key for Canton was stopping three-point plays), four steals and two assists helped bring Franklin back into contention - trailing 26-21 at half.

"They managed to get us out of our game and into theirs," Neu said. "We just had to play through it. We managed to escape with a five-point lead." Another Cheadle steal and two Laura Walling baskets at the beginning of the third quarter made it a 28-25 game. At that point, Franklin breathed its last gasp and Frigge and company took over for good. Frigge scored six unanswered points to build the Chiefs' lead back to 11 points. She finished with 10 for the night

Our mistake was that we sat back early and tried to ease into the flow, Neuman said. "Canton's just too good a team to do that. We have to go at them hard for four quarters. I just hope the kids get something out of this game.

"HOPEFULLY when we get them at our gym they'll still be in first place and we'll be in second so we can play for something.

For the Chiefs, it was the end of a grueling three-game stretch. In succession, the Chiefs knocked off Livonia Churchill, John Glenn and Franklin each team was unbeaten prior to their Canton encounter.

ext 12 minutes the Franklin junior reaked havoc on the Chiefs. Her seven second-quarter points (two great feeling."

Canton's Beth Frigge (white jersey) keyed the shutting down Tracy Lectka. The Chiefs remain Chiefs' victory against Franklin Thursday by unbeaten.

Lightning hits, Rocks win

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Alas, the Livonia Stevenson football team remains hexed by Plymouth Salem.

For 2½ quarters Friday night, Stevenson owned Salem and threatened to rain on the Rocks' homecoming parade

The skies did indeed open, but what spewed forth was a pair of lightning bolts that struck Stevenson suddenly in the second half and led to Salem's 20-16 victory.

It was the Rocks' first win of the season and Salem's fourth win in four tries against Stevenson.

"I'll tell you what, our skill people did a heck of a job for us tonight," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer.

Dave Rosochacki (conversion pass failed) ers and coach Reardon somewhat in a state of shock - unable to deal with so sudden a defeat.

Falcons rocked by Salem's sock

Five straight and counting.

The Plymouth Salem girls basketball team continued its unbeaten string against Western Lakes foes with a resounding 60-19 victory against Farmington.

Winless Farmington gave Salem a game for one half, but first-year Falcon coach Diana Schwartz found little comfort in that.

"You've got to play all four quarters to win," she said.

Salem took control of the game with a 22-2 third-quarter burst. The vaunted Rock defense limited Farmington to just five points in the second half. "WE PICKED up their offensive sets girls basketball

Kristen Hostynski led the attack with 15 points. Dena Head added 13 and Jessica Handley 12.

Mary Kay Orrico led the Falcons (0-6) with eight.

After losing a pair of non-league games at the start of the season, Salem has won five straight.

The Rocks, who already faced state-

'Our outside speed really did it for us.

He'll get no argument from Stevenson coach Jack Reardon

"I thought we played a nice first half, but we had trouble containing the pitch," the veteran Stevenson coach said.

STEVENSON HELD a 10-7 lead at halftime and had dominated Salem in virtually every aspect of the game.

But one play late in the third quarter, one lightning bolt, changed the entire complexion of the game.

Brian Tiller, who had scored Salem's first touchdown of the game on a 1-yard run, busted free around left end and streaked past a one-step-tooslow Stevenson secondary. The TD run covered 73 yards and suddenly, Salem was holding the cards.

On Salem's next offensive possession, quarterback Paul Makara scored on a Houdini-like 40-yard run. He was sandwiched by several Ste venson linemen at the line of scrimmage. He somehow escaped, shrugged off two other would-be tacklers, and raced into the end zone.

Salem gained 306 total yards in the game, all on the ground. Tiller rushed for 110 yards and Makara 109.

"We tried to lull them into things," Moshimer said. "We'd run the option both ways and give different looks but they weren't adjusting too much. We just went Tiller left and Makara right. That's a lot of speed."

THE LOSS left the Stevenson play-

On its first possession of the game Stevenson drove 65 yards in 11 brilliantly mixed plays and scored on Don Rosochacki's 2-yard run.

Stevenson had two other scoring chances in the first half terminated deep in Salem territory

But Salem's defense shut down the Spartan attack in the second half. Stevenson rushed for 108 vards in the first half and just 41 in the second.

Salem's lone first-half score was keyed by a 40-yard punt return by Chris Hill which set the Rocks up on the Stevenson 25. Makara ran to the 1 and then Tiller punched it in.

Stevenson scored before the end of the half after Pete Genot picked off a John Storm pass. Dave Rosochacki (14 of 21 for 151 yards and two interceptions) completed two passes to Paul Miller which set up Mark Wolter's 33-yard field goal ROSOCHACKI ALSO engineered Stevenson's final score, a 34-yard TD pass to Miller. That came with 5:50 left in the game and made the score 20-16.

Salem ate up over four minutes Stevenson got the ball back with 1:14 left at their own 26 but Salem's Rick Cummings picked off Rosochacki's first pass attempt to ice the win.

"This win out to really give us a lift," Moshimer said. "It had better give us a lift."

Salem is 1-3 overall, 1-2 in the Western Lakes. Stevenson is also 1-3. but 0-3 in the conference.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographe

Brian Tiller scored two TDs and rushed for 110 yards to lead Salem past Stevenson Friday night. It was victory No. 1 for the Rocks.

Canton blows scoring chances, fall again

Livonia Churchill's Jim Naif had a busy Friday night.

The junior tailback ran, kicked and punted the unbeaten Chargers to a 9-6 win over Plymouth Canton in a lowscoring Western Lakes football game. Naif accounted for all of Churchill's points as he rushed for 101 yards in 20 carries

He scored on a 55-yard run in the first quarter and then had his extrapoint attempt blocked. In the third quarter, Naif added a 39-yard field goal after he had a 20-yard TD run nullified on a clipping penalty. Naif also had one of his game-total seven punts blocked, which set up the Chiefs' lone touchdown in the fourth quarter. Canton's Todd Woods batted down the ball inside the Chargers' 5 and quarterback Steve Tenyk went in on a 1-yard run on the next play. The extra point failed. Winless Canton (0-4) later missed a 22-yard field goal which would have tied the contest.

The Chargers defense held the Chiefs to minus-6 yards on the ground. Tenyk was 6-of-13 for 105 yards passing, but was intercepted three times by Churchill's John Knittel

No losers tagged in CEP pool battle

Plymouth Salem, for the second straight season, will rule the roost in the Centennial Educational Park pool war.

The Rocks (3-0) earned bragging rights with a close 99-73 victory against Plymouth Canton Thursday night.

But after the meet, both teams were claiming victories.

"We lost the battle, but we won the war," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman. "We won more events than they did. I feel real good about this meet."

Said Salem coach Chuck Olson: "We had to swim real well to beat them. We had a couple kids out sick, but junior Shannon Murphy really came through. We look for that kind of effort from her.

MURPHY ASSURED victory for the Rocks by earning crucial second-place points in both the 100-yard butterfly (1:07.4) and the 500 freestyle (6:14.8).

The big winner for Salem was senior All-Area performer Kristal Taylor. She won both the 200 free (2:05.0) and the 100 free (57.3). She also led off the winning 400 freestyle relay, teaming with Laura Shaffer, Stacie Anderson and Tracy Meszaros on a 4:03.2.

Other winners for the Rocks were Meszaros in the 500 free (5:50.3) and Shaffer in the 100 butterfly (1:05.3).

For Canton, the story was Julie Cox. A transfer from Birmingham, Ala., the senior established a Canton varsity record in the 100 breaststroke. Jer

swimming

1:11.0 eclipsed Kim Elliott's 1983 mark of 1:13.2.

Cox also won the 200 individual medley (2:19.4) and swam a leg of Canton's winning 200 medley relay, joining Michelle Stackpoole, Amy Schmidtz and Lynn Massey on a 1:59.2.

CANTON ALSO got firsts from Massey in the 50 free (26.2), Lisa DeJong in diving (193.2 points) and Jeannie McLenaghan in the 100 backstroke (1:08.2).

"It was a nice meet," Olson said. "Plymouth Canton swam real well, especially the Cox kid. We took a few drops (in times) also.

The meet was Canton's first of the season

'We lost the battle, but we won the war. "We won more events than they did. I feel real good about this meet.'

Dawson ready to skate his way through college

By Chris McCosky staff writer

A young man of lesser character might have just quit. Steve Dawson first began playing organized hockey at the age of 5. He moved up the ladder quickly. From age playing baseball and playing hockey. 12 through 15 he played in Pee Wee leagues for the prestigious Compuware - his dilemma it's neccessary to explore hockey empire.

At 16, Dawson was abruptly cut from the Compuware Midget League team. A hurt and confused young man had to do some serious soul-searching.

Steve Dawson didn't need to play hockey. He was a good baseball player, a good football player. He could have easily quenched his athletic appetite in those arenas. But the Plymouth resident wasn't early on as a solid baseball player in ready to hang up his skates.

skates, patched his bruised ego, and took his act to Fraser where he played for a then-fledgling Fraser Highlanders Midget Major team.

"At Fraser, the team wasn't all that good. I got to play all of the time," Dawson said "I mean me and a couple other guys sort of carried the team. We were on the ice constantly so we got a lot of exposure." With the playing time came the confidence Dawson needed to become what he is today: a top college hockey prospect "I guess I started to realize how

North battles weary Rocks to draw

In an upset of sorts, North Farmington battled to a 1-1 draw Thursday with visiting Plymouth Salem in a Western Lakes boys soccer match. The tie left Salem at 4-0-4 in league play and 6-1-4 overall. North is now 1-4-2 in the league and 2-6-1 overall. George Lopez scored the Raiders lone goal eight minutes into the match off a cross from Jeff Juliano. The Rocks' Ebon Nash, taking a long through pass from Mike Tanner, responded with an unassisted goal at the 18-minute mark to tie the game. Thursday's draw with Salem is part of an overall improvement made recently by the Raiders, coach Cathy Cole said.

"In the last three or four games, we've played our opponents more equal," Cole said. "We're utilizing the midfield more and playing together. We didn't have that in the first five games. We're sewing together the gap we had before."

For Salem, it was the end of a long 11 games in an 18-day stretch of its schedule. "We're very tired," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "The legs are just dead. I don't know what it is, but North, just like Farmington and Northville

Mortgage Banking Opportunities

Customer Service Representative

You'll be responsible for making sure all mortgage inquiries have been filled out accurately and in a timely manner according to company policy, investor requirements, state and federal law, FHA, VA and PMI regulations. Plus, you'll communicate and process any mortgage product modifica-tions (rate changes, etc.) and assumption and pay-off state-ments. On-line CRT data entry experience helpful.

Loan Counselor

An excellent opportunity to use your mortgage collection experience and knowledge of mortgage banking.

Payment Processor

This is a good clerical position for someone who has a strong background in math and accounting. This opportunity requires calculator and CRT experience.

Escrow Processor

Use your on-line CRT entry experience to process payments to taxes, special assessments, hazard and flood insurance, FHA premiums and PMI premiums. In addition, you'll update the computer files with data necessary to generate accurate escrow analyses and annual statements.

If you want to join a growing team of professionals in the Mortgage Banking Industry, please send your resume and salary history to: Observer & Eccentric Newspapers (BOX 632)
