Sarkesian honored

Mia Sarkesian, a senior midfielder for the University of Notre Dame's women's soccer team and a Plymouth Salem graduate, has been presented with the Christopher Zorich Award.

First presented in 1998, the Zorich Award — named after Notre Dame's two-time All-American who graduated in 1991 and played for the Chicago Bears — is presented to the university's student-athlete for his/her contributions to the university and community at-large.

Sarkesian is the first women's athlete to receive the award. A second-team all-Big East Conference selection, Sarkesian was second among the Irish in scoring with six goals and six assists (18 points). She played 91 career games with Notre Dame; during her four years with the Irish, they were 82-8-4. She scored 15 career goals.

A Dean's List student, Sarkesian was active in the South Bend Community, including the James Madison Elementary First Grade Program, the Dickinson Middle School Girls Soccer Team Kickoff, the H.U.G.S. Program at Memorial Hospital, and much more.

She will graduate this month from the College of Arts and Letters with a double major in psychology and anthropology. After graduation, Sarkesian will participate in the Inter-City Teaching Corps program in Chicago while working on her Masters at Northwestern University.

Whalers sign pick

John Vigilante, a 2001 Priority Draft pick by the Plymouth Whalers, has been signed. A 5-foot-11, 170-pound center from Dearborn, Vigilante was selected by the Whalers in the 11th round last season.

Last season, Vigilante played for the USA Under-17 team in the North American Hockey League, finishing third on the squad in scoring with 14 goals and 10 assists in 37 games.

Soccer star signs

Matt Stafford, a member of Redford Catholic Central's soccer team from Plymouth, has signed to attend Northeastern University in Boston this fall.

Stafford served as team captain and was the Shamrocks' most valuable player last season. He was named to the all-Catholic League's first team and was an all-Observer first-team selection.

Stafford played defense for CC last season, but Northeastern plans to use him at either forward or in the mid-field.

Roach sparkles

Nicole Roach, a 12-year-old Canton resident and a member of the Sports Club of Novi gymnastics team, tied for eighth in the vault at the Eastern United States National Championships April 27-28, in Kissimmee, Fla.

Roach scored a 9.175 in the vault. She finished with a 35.40 all-around total, scoring a 9.0 in the uneven parallel bars, an 8.7 on the balance beam and an 8.525 in the floor exercise.

Roach competed in the Junior A Division (12-and-under). She was one of the top 48 gymnasts east of the Mississippi River who were invited to compete at the championships.

They won one they should have lost. They lost one they should have won. And last Friday, Madonna University's Crusaders got a victory they had to have if they were going to extend their baseball season.

The end result: Three wins and two losses in a three-day span, a 13-11 final mark in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference and — hopefully — a 20-21 overall record that will be altered by Madonna's presence in this week's NAIA Region VIII Tournament.

As it turned out, the key game was Friday's make-up against Tri-State University at Livonia's Ford Field. A Tri-State win would have clinched third place for the Thunder, assuring them of the final spot in the regional. Instead, Sterling Mintzer slugged a pivotal home run in the fourth inning and Joel Halliday (from Redford Union) frustrated Tri-State on six hits as Madonna posted a 6-1 triumph.

The outcome means the Thunder (18-21 overall, 12-10 in the conference) must win both of its games today at Aquinas — which has already clinched second place in the conference — to qualify for the regional. Should it split the double-header, both Madonna and Tri-State would be 13-11 but Madonna would win the tiebreaker by virtue of its 3-1 record this season against the Thunder.

In Friday's win, Mintzer's homer (his second in as many days) extended the Crusaders' lead to 5-1. Brian Williams (Livonia/Redford Catholic Central) and Neil Wildfong (Plymouth Canton) did their part in the victory, too; Wildfong scored two runs, his first on Williams' two-run single in the second inning.

followed by a throwing error, put him at second base. Two more Madonna bunts, the second by Williams, scored him. Williams finished with three runs batted in; Chris Woodruff (Livonia/CC) was 3-for-3 at the plate with two doubles and an RBI.

Halliday did the rest, improving his record to 5-2 with his one-run, six-hit gem. He walked one and struck out three. Jason Meier took the loss for Tri-State, giving up six runs on six hits and four walks in five innings.

Last Thursday at Ford Field, Madonna — needing a sweep against Siena Heights to solidify its chances for the post-season — was throttled by the Saints' pitcher Phil Dunn in a 7-1 first-game loss. But the Crusaders rebounded in Game Two, Mintzer scoring the game-deciding run in the bottom of the eighth on a base hit by Devin Cole (Garden City) in a 5-4 win.

Siena Heights finishes at 17-36-1 overall, 11-12-1 in the WHAC.

In the opener, Siena Heights scored the first five runs, with Bryan Kay (Plymouth Canton) doubling twice and driving in three runs and Brian Jeffery getting three hits, including a home run, and two RBI. Kevin Ney also had two hits and an RBI.

Mario D'Herin (Livonia/CC) had two hits for Madonna, scoring its only run.

Jeremey Stevens took the loss for the Crusaders, giving up seven runs on 13 hits.

The second game started ominously for the Crusaders, the Saints scoring a run in the opening inning. But a mammoth homer by Mintzer to deep right-center field in the third inning gave Madonna a 3-1 lead; the Crusaders increased that to 4-1 on a Matt Rigley single in the sixth.

Siena Heights struck back, tying it in the seventh on a Josh Burgett three-run homer to knot it at 4-all. An inning later, Cole's clutch hit ended it.

Mintzer had two hits and three RBI

Rocks reign over Vikes in 9 innings

It took nine innings, but Plymouth Salem got a 3-2 softball victory Friday against visiting Walled Lake Central — and it was an important one, allowing the Rocks to maintain their unbeaten record in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division.

Indeed, Amy Szawara provided the key hits for Salem — twice. Her single in the bottom of the seventh drove in the tying run, forcing extra innings. And in the ninth, her one-out single scored Maggie Tudor with the game-winning run.

The win pushed Salem's record to 10-4 overall, 5-0 in the Lakes. Central slipped to 4-8 overall and a disappointing 2-3 in the Division.

"Not a bad week, though," was how Salem coach Bonnie Southerland described her team's performance, even with an 8-0 shutout loss at Walled Lake Western sandwiched in the middle. "We won the two games we needed to win."

That included a stunning 5-4 triumph at North Farmington last Monday, a win that also went extra-innings (eight, to be precise). North remained in second place in the division through Friday at 4-1.

Against Central, Salem spotted the Vikings a 2-0 advantage through six innings. But in the seventh the Rocks scored twice, getting a one-out single by Alycia Murawski to start the rally. Tudor followed with a base hit and Kelly Jaskot singled in Salem's first run, cutting Central's lead to 2-1. Szawara's single then tied the game.

In the ninth, Murawski again got the rally started with a base hit, her third of the game. Tudor singled to put two runners aboard, but Jaskot's fielder's choice eliminated Murawski at third. It didn't matter; Szawara came through with a base hit to win the

Szawara finished the game with two hits and two runs batted in. Jaskot also had two hits, including a double, with one RBI and Tudor collected two hits and two runs scored.

Jill Posler was the winning pitcher, improving her record to 7-3. She gave up two unearned runs on seven hits and three walks, striking out three.

W.L. Western 8, Salem 0: Walled Lake Western scored eight runs in the third inning to end Plymouth Salem's win streak at seven games Wednesday at Western.

The Warriors improved to 5-2 overall.

Western had six hits in the pivotal rally, including a two-run double by Kristen Burgess and run-scoring singles by Laura Bell and Erin Retherford.

Alycia Murawski had two hits for Salem.

Jill Posler absorbed the pitching loss for the Rocks; she worked 2 2/3 innings and was charged with six runs. Michelle Jurcak worked the last 4 1/3 innings, surrendering two runs.

Agape 10-12, Oakland Christian 3-11: Amy Henry picked up the pitching win in both games of Canton Agape Christian's double-header sweep of Auburn Hills Oakland Christian Thursday at Griffin Park.

Agape improved to 6-7 overall. Oakland Christian is 8-4.

In the first game, the Wolverines built a 6-0 lead and coasted. Henry gave up three runs on nine hits and one walk, striking out two. Becky Quinn took the loss, allowing 10 runs on nine hits.

Andrea Hough paced Agape's offense, going 4-for-4 at the plate with a double and a triple and four RBI. Kristin Jehle had three hits and scored two runs for the Lancers.

In the second game, the Wolverines were required to rally for four runs in the final two innings to overcome an 11-8 Oakland Christian advantage. Lisa Ther provided the heroics, slugging a two-run double in the seventh inning to deliver the tying and game-winning runs.

Ther finished with two hits in the game. Henry had four hits, driving in four runs and scoring two more. Henry went to the mound in relief of Hough, who started and pitched into the fourth inning.

The Lancers scored eight of their 11 runs in the first inning, but Agape answered with a six-run first inning of its own.

Canton 9, Farmington 2: Pam Hudson collected three hits, including a double and a triple, and drove in five runs to pace Plymouth Canton's attack in a WLAA win over visiting Farmington Wednesday.

Maggie O'Connell and Megan Coultas added two hits apiece for the Chiefs, O'Connell also with a double and a triple.

The pitching win went to Michelle Roelofs, who gave up two runs on one hit in five innings, striking out four.

The Chiefs beat Northville 8-1 Friday.

Crusaders sweep past Saginaw Valley State

Now that's the way to prepare for the post-season.

In a non-conference double-header Wednesday at Saginaw Valley State, Madonna University's softball team came up with a pair of victories, 6-0 and 6-5.

The sweep pushed the Lady Crusaders' overall record to 25-22. Saginaw Valley is 21-18-1.

On Monday, Madonna opens play in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference Tournament as the No. 4 seed. The Crusaders go up against No. 1-seed Concordia at 10 a.m. at Battle Creek's Bailey Park.

In the second open-round game, No. 2 Aquinas meets No. 3 Spring Arbor, also at 10 a.m. The winners and the losers both meet at noon in the double-elimination format.

Whoever survives the first two games with a 2-0 mark is idle until Tuesday. The two 1-1 teams meet at 2 p.m. Monday, the winner of that game advancing to Tuesday. The first game Tuesday is at 11 a.m.; a second game, if needed, will be at 1 p.m.

In the opener against the Cardinals, Missy VanDoorn tossed a four-hitter to lead Madonna. She walked three and struck out three to improve to 15-10.

Jenny Tenyer, Kathy Day (from Livonia Ladywood), Arin Fowler and Krystle Shina each had two hits and a run batted in for Madonna, with Tenyer and Day clubbing doubles.

The Crusaders followed single runs in the first and second innings with a two-run third. Saginaw Valley committed five errors in the game, crippling its victory chances.

In Game Two, Madonna overcame a 5-2 Cardinal lead by scoring four times in the top of the sixth inning to earn the victory.

Autumn Batyik slugged two doubles and drove in two runs to lead the Crusader attack. Tenyer contributed two doubles as well, driving in a run, with Fowler and Mary Warchuck each getting a hit and an RBI.

Tenyer struggled on the mound but got the pitching win, allowing five runs on 11 hits and one walk in seven innings, fanning one.

On the ball: Emily Cunningham had a hit, drove in a run and scored a run in Madonna's double-header sweep of Saginaw Valley State.

She improved her record to 10-12. The loss went to Carrie Shay; she was tagged for six earned runs in 5 1/3 innings.

Vikes shut down Salem

On Thursday, Plymouth Salem blew a three-run lead in the seventh inning and lost a non-league baseball game to Redford Union, 12-10.

On Friday, the Rocks didn't even come that close against Walled Lake Central, managing just one hit in a 6-0 loss to their Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division rival in a game played at Central.

The loss, the Rocks' fifth in six games, put them below .500 for the first time this season at 8-9. They are 1-5 in the Lakes.

Steve Cox led off the game with a solid single for Salem. That proved to be their only hit of the game.

Andy Boyer took the loss, dropping his record to 3-2. He allowed six runs on six hits.

Redford Union 12, Plymouth Salem 10: The weather was on the cold side, but the bats for both teams were definitely warm.

The Panthers were just warm enough, rallying from an early 8-2 deficit to upend Plymouth Salem Thursday in a non-league game at Salem. RU improves to 10-5 overall.

Salem piled up seven runs in the second inning, but couldn't make the lead hold up against RU's balanced offensive attack. The Panthers have seen different players get hot at different points in the season, and lately, it's been Joe Bakos' turn.

Bakos continued his recent roll by going 2-for-5 with three RBI to spark RU. Jason Dunning went 3-for-5 with a pair of runs batted in, and Shawn Meyers added a hit and an RBI.

The Rocks scored eight times in the second inning, with Ryan

Leach doubling in one run and singles by Steve Cox and Drew Parling each scoring a run. With two down, Neil Kowalik's triple plated two more runs; after Andy Thackaberry singled in Kowalik, back-to-back triples by Cliff Thomas and Brian Bradley brought home another run each, making the score 8-2.

Run-scoring doubles by Kowalik in the third and Kevin O'Beirne in the sixth kept Salem ahead of RU, which scored four times in the third and one more in the fourth. But the Rocks' 10-7 lead wasn't enough; the Panthers scored five times in the top of the seventh to get the win.

Cox led the Salem attack with three hits, while Kowalik had a pair of extra-base hits. Tony Puzzuoli took the pitching loss.

Canton 5, Farmington 3: Nick Musselman slugged a three-run home run to ignite a four-run first inning for Plymouth Canton, which defeated WLAA foe Farmington Wednesday at Farmington.

The Chiefs improved to 11-5 overall.

Matt Staley was the benefactor of the first-inning barrage. Staley got the pitching win, allowing two earned runs on four hits and one walk, striking out 10.

Chris Pirch opened the first for Canton with a double. Joe Kondratek's single scored Pirch and Mark Hanson then walked. Musselman followed with his three-run homer.

The Chiefs got their fifth run in the fourth inning on a double by Mike Tomasaitis, a passed ball that sent him to third and a sacrifice fly by Staley.

Brent Kwiatkowski had two hits for Canton.

Salem 5, W.L. Western 4: Plymouth Salem overcame a three-run deficit with three runs in the sixth and one more in the seventh to edge WLAA rival Walled Lake Western Wednesday at Salem.

The three-run sixth inning rally started with a walk to Steve Cox and a Warrior error that allowed Jon Gordon to reach base. Neil Kowalik doubled in two runs; he moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on Andy Thackaberry's base hit, tying the score at 4-4.

In the seventh, Mike Antich walked with two out and stole second. Cox followed by hitting a full-count pitch into left field to score the game-winning run.

Kowalik, who had two hits in the game, scored Salem's first run in the second inning, reaching base on a single and eventually scoring on Cliff Thomas' groundout.

Tony Puzzuoli got the pitching win.

Inter-City 10, PCA 6: Allen Park Inter-City Baptist scored seven runs in the first two innings and Plymouth Christian Academy could not overcome that deficit Friday at Inter-City.

The loss left the Eagles at 6-4 overall, 2-4 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. Inter-City is 7-3 overall, 4-1 in the MIAC.

Rob Treadwell and Mark Erickson each had two hits and an RBI to lead PCA's attack, which included a four-run seventh inning. Treadwell and Jordan Johnson each singled in runs in the seventh; LaVaughn Stevenson singled in a run in the fourth, and Aaron Boone contributed two hits.

Brian Carnevale took the loss for PCA, which committed six errors in the game. Josh Claypoole, who had two triples at the plate, was the winning pitcher for the Chargers.

Agape 4, Whitmore Lake 1: Rob Hough tossed a one-hitter at Whitmore Lake Thursday at Griffin Park, allowing one unearned run and two walks with 14 strikeouts as Canton Agape Christian improved its record to 10-5.

Whitmore Lake fell to 2-11.

Paul Chrenko collected three of the Wolverines' 11 hits, scoring twice. David Donaldson added two hits and two RBI, with Johnny Estrada and Bobby Konrad each getting two hits and an RBI, Estrada scoring two runs.

Catholic Central 4-9, Notre Dame 1-11: Redford Catholic Central (13-4 overall, 9-3 in the Catholic League Central Division) remained two games off in the pace in the Central Division race behind Birmingham Brother Rice after splitting a double-header with visiting Harper Woods Notre Dame Wednesday.

CC captured the opener, 4-1, as winning pitcher Jeff Schulz went five innings, fanning seven and allowing five hits.

Ryan Rogowski led the victorious Shamrocks with two hits in three trips, including a triple and RBI.

Notre Dame took the nightcap despite three hits apiece by J.T. Haelterman and Jason Viane. Eric Vojtkofsky belted his sixth homer in the loss.

in the game, with Williams adding two hits. The pitching win went to Adam Kline (Detroit/CC) in relief of Corey Farner. Mike Hoshield took the loss.

Madonna 4-5, Indiana Tech 11-1: In the opener of this WHAC double-header Wednesday at Ford Field, the Warriors pummeled Madonna with a 16-hit attack, including home runs by Joe Whitsett and Tyler Ryan.

In the second game, the Crusaders answered with a two-run homer by Eric Lightle (Livonia Churchill) and a two-run single by Sterling Mintzer.

The split was important for Madonna, coming against the first-place team in the WHAC, a team that put the Crusaders in Sports Illustrated earlier this season by holding them hitless in a double-header.

Ryan finished the first game with three hits and four RBI for Tech. Eric Focht and Ryan Geeting also had three hits apiece. Joe Greene had two hits for Madonna.

Jason Knowling earned the pitching win for Tech, allowing four runs on 10 hits in seven innings. Mike Hayes (RU) started and took the loss for Madonna.

In the second game, Mark Cole (Farmington/CC) was equal to the Tech challenge, tossing a four-hitter. He walked two and struck out six to improve to 3-2. The pitching loss went to Brian Elder.

Lightle's homer, coming in the fourth inning, supplied the Crusaders with all the offense they would need. Mintzer made certain of it with a two-run single in the bottom of the sixth.

The split left the Warriors with a 36-12-1 overall record, 17-3 in the WHAC.

Starlings nest in the strangest places

NATURE NOTES

TIM NOWICKI

As I drove along I-96 near the recently resurfaced and improved intersection of Newburgh Road, I noticed a starling flying across the expressway toward the base of a light pole in the median divider.

I could not tell where the bird went after it landed, but it looked like it was going to go up into the hollow pole.

This suspicion was verified as I approached the very next pole.

Flying toward it was another starling which I did see move upward into the pole after landing. It was very coincidental to be driving by and see two birds going to similar locations just moments apart.

These two poles were elevated from the concrete foundation.

Large bolts held them in place, but the bottom of the pole was not flat on the concrete. Other poles I passed were flat on the concrete. Just that slight difference was enough of an invitation for these birds to exploit.

It's amazing to me how animals can find such unlikely places. But maybe after their belly is full, they sit and scan the area for anything that would be helpful to them.

The scary thing that went through my mind was, how many more of these poles do starlings occupy?

They don't go into those poles to rest, they build a nest inside them. I suspect there is a horizontal support that would support a nest inside.

Building a nest inside a metal pole in the middle of an expressway is certainly a safe place to take up residence. No prowling cats are going to happen upon the nest. They would have to run a gauntlet first!

Rain cannot dampen the nest.

Not a bad place. And look how many potential nesting places there are for the ever adaptable starling?

No wonder we are overwhelmed with these birds.

If parents develop a route to the nest entrance that keeps them from kissing a windshield or decorating a grill, they should remain safe.

One drawback I can think of is when the young leave the nest. Young birds leaving the nest are not expert flyers yet. If they happen to fly into oncoming traffic upon exiting, they will not have to worry about finding a nest themselves next year.

This is not the first time I've seen starlings using light poles as a nest site. Most of the time they enter near the lamp high above the ground.

Several times I've seen where they found a broken shield to the lamp, or a panel had opened allowing access into the covered section. Evidently all those wires and heat do not disturb the birds. Outside structures have never been designed to prevent birds from entering joints, or junctions.

Though early settlers to the U.S. introduced the starling into the country from Europe, our society has perpetuated their population explosion.

Millions of light poles combined with billboards, building drains and overhangs and joints and connections and thousands of other available openings, have provided endless nesting sites for this bird.

Designing structures to eliminate nesting of unwanted birds is probably the furthest thing from an engineer's mind, but it would certainly help to reduce their population.

Or, would it put more pressure on the natural cavities that are used by native birds?

MEDICAL BRIEFS

Senior Health Day

Senior Health Services of Saint Joseph Mercy Health System (SJMHS) of Ann Arbor will present a Senior Health Day 9-11:30 a.m., Tuesday, May 7, at Saint Joseph Mercy Health Stop, located in Briarwood Mall just off I-94 at the State Street exit in Ann Arbor.

"Depression or Mood Change - Do you Know the Difference?" will feature Dr. Alan Denzig, medical director of Senior Health Services at SJMHS. Denzig will discuss why so many people over the age of 65 are depressed, the difference between depression and sadness, and when feeling blue becomes something more serious.

Senior Health Day will begin at 9 a.m. with a short discussion on the benefits of exercise by Mary Vaclavik, RN followed by Dr. Denzig's presentation from 10-11:30 a.m. There will be samples of healthy food plus free gifts and a prize drawing.

For more information about Senior Health Day, please call (734) 827-3777.

Red-hot success!

Botsford General Hospital's recent thermometer exchange program was a success. Over the last few weeks, the hospital removed 500 mercury-filled thermometers from local households.

Mercury is a toxic substance that can harm both humans and wildlife. Botsford's program gave members of the community a chance to exchange a mercury-filled thermometer for a safer digital one at no cost. While the program has ended, Botsford administration and staff are proud they helped make our shared environment a safer place for all.

Very small amounts of mercury can do significant damage. One gram of mercury (about the size of a dime) per year is enough to contaminate all the fish in a lake with a surface area of 20 acres. Significant exposure, whether brief or extended, can produce major effects the human central nervous system, kidneys, skin and lungs.

Beaumont women studies

Doctors at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak are recruiting women to test an experimental oral medication to determine its effectiveness in reducing the number of stress incontinence episodes. The investigational drug is being tested in women with stress urinary incontinence (SUI) and mixed urinary incontinence (MUI). SUI is the involuntary loss of urine as well as a strong urge to urinate. Participants will be compensated for their participation. Call (248) 551-0642.

Postmenopausal women with an increased risk of developing breast cancer can take part in a national research study at Beaumont Hospital that will compare the effectiveness of two drugs in preventing breast cancer. Volunteers will take either tamoxifen, a drug approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to reduce the incidence of breast cancer in women at increased risk; or raloxifene, which is approved by the FDA for treating osteoporosis and has shown promise in reducing a woman's chance of getting breast cancer. Call (248) 551-7695.

Balance and daily living

"One of the most important things for that particular age group is strengthening the leg muscles, which prevents falling," says Shelley Rubinstein, a fitness instructor at the Mature Minglers Senior Center in Bloomfield Township, which offers pneumatic weight machine classes to older adults.

Strength training aids balance, which can prevent the falls that often require seniors to live in nursing homes and other facilities. "And their goal is to not end up in that nursing home, to live independently and with quality as long as they can," says Rubinstein, an American Senior Fitness Association instructor with certification in both group and

Encourage kids to drink milk

By SAMANTHA CRITCHELL
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

It's almost second nature for parents to give their babies breast milk or formula and eventually milk. But as children get older and stronger - mentally and physically - nutrition becomes a battle that some parents aren't willing to fight.

Until a certain point parents mostly have control over what their children eat, but once those kids hit a certain decision-making stage, moms and dads find themselves at the table with kids who don't want to drink milk.

This has led to a "calcium crisis," says Rachel Johnson, a professor of nutrition and associate dean at the University of Vermont.

Nine out of 10 teen-age girls and seven out of 10 boys are not getting the daily recommended amount of calcium, says Johnson.

According to the National Academy of Sciences, 9-to-18-year-olds need the most calcium, 1,300 milligrams per day, which roughly equals four servings of milk. Young children, aged 1-3, are encouraged to have 500 milligrams and adults over 50 should have 1,200 milligrams.

"I don't know how else to say this: Kids should drink milk with their meals," says Johnson.

"The best way to do this is role modeling. When moms drink milk, their kids will, too," she adds. "And the moms could use it, too."

(Adults over 50 are the group with the second-highest recommended calcium levels.) Modeling works better than cajoling, rewarding or punishing children over food, Johnson explains.

Children develop food preferences over time. If milk is offered often enough and parents are drinking it, she says, children eventually will give in.

The same goes for school. Sen. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., is urging the federal government to promote putting milk vending machines in school hallways. He cites a successful "vendi-milk" program in Buffalo, N.Y.-area schools as proof that students will make healthier eating choices if given

The vending machines sell milk in assorted flavors.

Meanwhile, the National Dairy Council recently held a "Building Better Bodies" summit to encourage people aged 2 to 92 to increase their calcium intake through dairy products. A serving of cheese or yogurt has the same calcium value as an 8-ounce serving of milk. Even a slice of cheese pizza counts toward 22 percent of the recommended daily dose.

People who fail to meet calcium recommendations often are lacking other vitamins and nutrients in their diets as well, says Gregory Miller, senior vice president of nutrition and scientific affairs for the dairy council. Boosting calcium levels through foods instead of supplements likely will take care of it all, he says.

Miller says teens and tweens, youngsters between 8 and 12 who fall between being little kids and teen-agers, are most susceptible to calcium deficiencies because they are preoccupied with appearance and image.

Children under the age of 2 should have whole milk and whole-milk products but after that, most children can transition to 2-percent milk and lowfat foods.

Somehow, the lowfat diet message became an "eliminate-dairy-products" message, observes Johnson, but an 8-ounce serving of skim milk has only 80 calories. Sugar-filled sodas and juices are the real diet saboteurs.

In 1945, Americans drank four times more milk than soft drinks, she says, while in 1998, Americans drank twice as many soft drinks as milk.

Johnson says depriving kids of soda won't work either but parents should treat it as a dessert and offer them sparingly. A healthier and equally enticing alternative would be flavored milks, such as chocolate or strawberry, she says. They have more sugar than plain white milk but not more than soda.

■ Children under the age of 2 should have whole milk and whole-milk products but after that, most children can transition to 2-percent milk and lowfat foods.

One or two 6-ounce servings of some juices will provide a child with their recommended vitamin C for the day but more than that is just extra sugar with extra calories, Johnson notes.

For tweens and teen-agers looking to shed the little-kid image they associate with milk, Miller suggests they get their four servings of dairy from coffee-flavored milk drinks plus of yogurt and cheese.

The "Got Milk" ad campaign, which aims to make milk hip, has made some inroads with teens, says Miller. A companion Milk Rules! Road Trip, with partners Rolling Stone magazine and MTV's "Total Request Live," launched in March and will visit 100 cities in search of the best milk mustaches.

As for parents, Miller says many see milk as a minor battle not worth fighting during the teen years when there are more immediate concerns.

But, he adds, very few of those issues will last a lifetime. Bones do.

SHOULDER PAIN

If you develop shoulder pain, you might believe that treatment would be straightforward. If you can point to where the ache is the worse, your doctor should be able to give you an injection at that spot or prescribe medicine to stop the pain.

In fact, treating shoulder pain can prove difficult and ending the discomfort can take weeks to months.

The reason is the deceptive nature of shoulder pain. For example: you can have pain caused by an injury to a tendon that lies on top of the shoulder. However, you may feel pain in the middle of your arm and be certain that this place, the insertion of the deltoid muscle, is the reason for your problem. What is happening is that the deltoid muscle attempts to do the work of the other muscle. In this effort, the deltoid becomes strained, begins to ache, and grabs your attention. Treating the deltoid ache with heat, injection, or physical therapy will not end your pain. Attention to an area that you believe is uninvolved, the top of the shoulder, is the one approach that will achieve a cure.

Another way that shoulder pain is deceptive involves immobility. Calcific tendinitis, really a minor problem, can cause sufficient loss of motion to make you believe you have a broken arm or bone cancer. In contrast, a rotator cuff tear, which requires surgery, can start as an annoyance that appears only when you want to put a hat on an overhead rack.

Doctors are aware how deceptive shoulder pain can be, and know that neither the diagnosis nor the resolution is readily at hand.

"Strength training is not going to make them immune to certain problems, but anything you can do to keep these people independent is a positive thing."

One of Rubinstein's senior students found, for instance, she no longer needed to use both hands to pick up a gallon of milk after six weeks of training.

Other daily living skills that improve include walking up and down stairs, getting up from a chair and standing and walking for longer periods of time.

Weight training also benefits older adults psychologically because progress is easy to see.

Making progress

While strength training can't alter the course of physically-debilitating illnesses like multiple sclerosis and Parkinson's disease, it does help patients cope with symptoms, says Monica Pagels, exercise physiologist and clinical program coordinator at Botsford General Hospital's Total Rehabilitation and Athletic Conditioning Center.

Known as TRACC, the Novi center incorporates strength training in its fitness programs for patients coping with particular diseases.

The progressive muscle weakness and loss of coordination characteristic of multiple sclerosis cannot be stopped, says Pagels. However, weight training raises the baseline strength of muscles affected by the disease. "And that definitely makes a difference in quality of life."

Strength training often opens unnecessarily closed doors, too, says Pagels. "With progressive illnesses like MS, patients are told there are tasks they won't be able to do, and so the patients tell themselves they have limitations and restrictions."

For seniors with less physically debilitating diseases, strength training often nets more dramatic results.

That was definitely the case for one of Pagels' clients, a 94-year-old man who has arthritis.

When he came to TRACC a year ago, he walked with a cane. Today, he works out three times a week without instruction and no longer uses a cane.

"He is definitely a role model. He works as hard as people 20 or 30 years younger than him. He's very motivated and dedicated."

Golf villas lure buyers to Talnuck at Oakhurst

John Richards Homes, a luxury custom builder, offers both detached and attached condominiums in the Talnuck phase at Oakhurst.

A total of 50 attached residences, two together, and 38 stand-alone homes will be built in the golf course community off Clintonville Road just north of Waldon in Independence Township.

The entire Oakhurst development consists of 800 acres, including wetlands and a private golf course within view of the Pine Knob ski resort.

"The property has some good topography, a high point of 1,000 feet and a low point of 600 feet," said Craig Valassis, managing member of Oakhurst Land LLC, the developer.

All residents get a discount on golf and club social memberships.

The goal is to give all buyers the opportunity to move up or down into various villages in Oakhurst as their housing needs change over time, Valassis added.

"I think our homes are unique and exciting, and the golf course is just outstanding," said John Shekerjian of John Richards Homes.

"The land is beautiful, the course is beautiful, views around the community are beautiful. There's a lot of recreational things to do there," he said.

At Talnuck, John Richards presents six detached plans and two attached. Visitors, Shekerjian said, "love the livability of the homes."

The detached product ranges in price from $336,900 for a 2,115-square-foot ranch with three bedrooms and two baths to $374,400 for a story-and-a-half of 2,845 square feet with three bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths.

A couple of different options are available on each of the two attached villa plans. They range in price from $248,900 for a two-bedroom, two-bath ranch of 1,610 square feet, to $303,212 for a two-bed, three-bath story-and-a-half of 2,380 square feet.

All plans include at base price two-car garage, basement, air conditioning, fireplace and landscaping.

Other standard features include first-floor master with separate tub and shower, first-floor laundry, range, dishwasher and microwave in the kitchen, wood flooring in the foyer, hallway and kitchen/nook and carpeting throughout.

Brick and cement siding are primary exterior materials.

"The Dominick Tringali designs are wonderful," said Mary Ellen Semple, sales rep at Talnuck. "The houses are space efficient with great volume. Curb appeal, the only way to describe it is charming, especially at night."

"Even if you're not a golfer, here you'll love golf views," Semple added. "It's quiet. No road noise, anywhere here."

"It's a really carefree lifestyle," added Jennifer Livingston, sales rep. Several models have been constructed.

First, the detached models. The Pinehurst Media, a story-and-a-half of 2,845 square feet, features a media room, great room, dining area, kitchen with island and pantry, screened porch (optional) and master suite with two-sink vanity and a pair of walk-in closets on the main floor.

Two bedrooms and a full bath are upstairs.

Base price is $374,400, the model, as is with upgrades, $779,270.

The Merion, also a story-and-a-half with lots of volume ceilings, contains 2,580 square feet.

This plan features a peninsula fireplace between the nook and great room, formal dining room, den/bedroom, screened porch (optional) and the master downstairs, with a bedroom and full bath upstairs.

Upstairs storage room can convert to kids' playroom

The traditional farmhouse look of the Copeland (D6706) would fit in the country as well as in town.

It has large windows, a covered porch and a pleasant facade. Windows on each side, warmly inviting a guest to enter, surround the front door.

The two-story has nearly 1,500 square feet.

The family room is a large, open room with a fireplace on the right and stairs to the upper level on the left. A long entertainment center is on the rear wall.

As one heads into the kitchen, there is a larger storage cabinet on the left, ideal for parking the vacuum cleaner, brooms, mops and anything else that's needed on a regular basis.

A half bath is across the hall. The dining room is in the rear adjacent to the corner kitchen. The bay windows of the dining area bathe the area in natural light.

A door to the garage is at the end of the stairs to the unfinished basement.

The kitchen has a corner pantry and an oversized refrigerator. There's a lot of counter space and a window over the sink that looks out over the back yard.

All of the bedrooms are upstairs.

The master is in back with nine-foot ceilings and large windows.

A walk-in closet is in one corner, a full bath with shower in another.

A linen closet is just outside the master door. Behind folding doors are the washer and dryer.

Just beyond is a door leading to an unfinished storage area, ideal for holiday decorations or, as an alternative, a large playroom for the kids.

Adjacent to the master bath is the secondary bath with a tub for the other two bedrooms. This arrangement is ideal for the family with smaller children who need to be close to mom and dad.

Bedroom 2 has a 10-foot ceiling and a walk-in closet behind folding doors. Bedroom 3 has a wall closet. Each room also has a large window in the end.

For a study plan including scaled floor plans, elevations, sections and an artist rendering, send $24.95 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Road E., Cottage Grove OR 97424. Specify plan name (Copeland) and the number (D6706).

Talnuck

Base price is $358,900, the model as is costs $634,790. Both attached models also are story-and-a-half. The Spyglass II, 2,380 square feet, includes a great room, dining area and master downstairs, a loft, bedroom and full bath up.

Base price is $303,212, the model with extras, $473,842.

The Seminole II, 2,095 square feet, includes a den/bedroom, great room, dining room and master down, one bedroom and a full bath up. Base price is $274,150, the model $458,100. The monthly maintenance/association fee is $290, with owners of attached units paying an additional $75 monthly for insurance.

Two pets are allowed for attached owners.

The sales office/models at Talnuck, (248) 393-4426, are open noon to 6 p.m. daily.

What's new in home products and construction?

By JAMES AND MORRIS CAREY
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

It's estimated that the average American home has 10,000 individual parts and components – and uses another thousand, or so, specialized glues, fasteners, caulks and sealants in the process of being built.

At the recent 2002 International Builders Show in Atlanta, more than 71,000 construction professionals from 95 countries came together with a thousand or more manufacturers to see what's new in products and construction.

If you're fascinated by new-home construction, remodeling or home improvement, especially in the up-to-the-minute and what's new department, this was the place to be. Here's a sampling of what soon will be making homes sweeter.

Starting at the front door, technology is giving Mother Nature serious competition with products that look, act and feel like the real thing – only they're better.

Fiberglass doors have been evolving over the last few years, steadily improving to a point where they now rival both traditional wood and steel ones for beauty, strength and durability.

Now you can have the deep, rich grain of premium natural wood doors without swelling, cracking, warping and splintering. Or the smooth, crisp and sleek look of steel without the dents, dings, scratches or rust.

Today's fiberglass doors offer all the benefits without the shortcomings, with energy-efficiency, extended maintenance-free beauty and an array of styles and decorative glass options from which to choose.

Many new products at the show focused on health features and/or on being environmentally more earth-friendly.

For example, a number of building products contain urea formaldehyde – from glues and insulation to particle-board to carpeting – and its residual fumes can cause eye, nose and throat irritation, nausea and, for some, serious skin rashes.

Meeting the challenge head-on, Johns-Manville removed formaldehyde as a "binder" in its insulation manufacturing process.

Going further, they fully encapsulated their line of batt insulation with a 360-degree poly-film wrap to become more installer-friendly with less itching from airborne particles.

Also, to make installation faster and easier, they introduced batts with vertical perforations every few inches running top to bottom so insulation easily can be pulled apart to fit narrow or non-standard sized framing cavities, rather than the tedious and time-consuming hand-trimming previously required.

Usually, construction products like adhesives, caulks and sealants aren't big trendsetters. But this year they're changing.

Ever-tightening federal regulations regarding VOCs (volatile organic compounds) present in all solvent-based products that pollute indoor air and the environment have manufacturers seriously reformulating to comply.

And while they are at it, they're making these products better, stronger and longer-lasting.

Since the upgrades are too many to list, we suggest visiting your local hardware store or home center to see what's new.

Or for more information, go to the Adhesive and Sealant Council Web site (www.ascouncil.org), the Adhesives Manufacturers Association (www.adhesives.org) or visit Adhesives and Sealants Industry Online at www.adhesivesmag.com

Another area receiving a big boost from technology and smart thinking is lumber and sheathing used for everything from framing and roofing to flooring and decks.

For example, Louisiana-Pacific's new TechShield radiant barrier roof sheathing is an aluminum sheet that blocks 97 percent of the sun's radiant heat, leaving attics up to 30 degrees cooler.

Georgia-Pacific's new G-P Plus Plywood Sturdi-I-Floor offers both tongue-and-groove edges and a smooth, fully sanded face for direct application of floor-covering products.

Deck building has many new options as well, with a wide variety of maintenance-free engineered composite materials both for underfoot deck planking and engineered railing products.

These systems blend new technology with design options galore for easy-to-build, long-lasting, maintenance-free decks that offer instant summer-fun gratification.

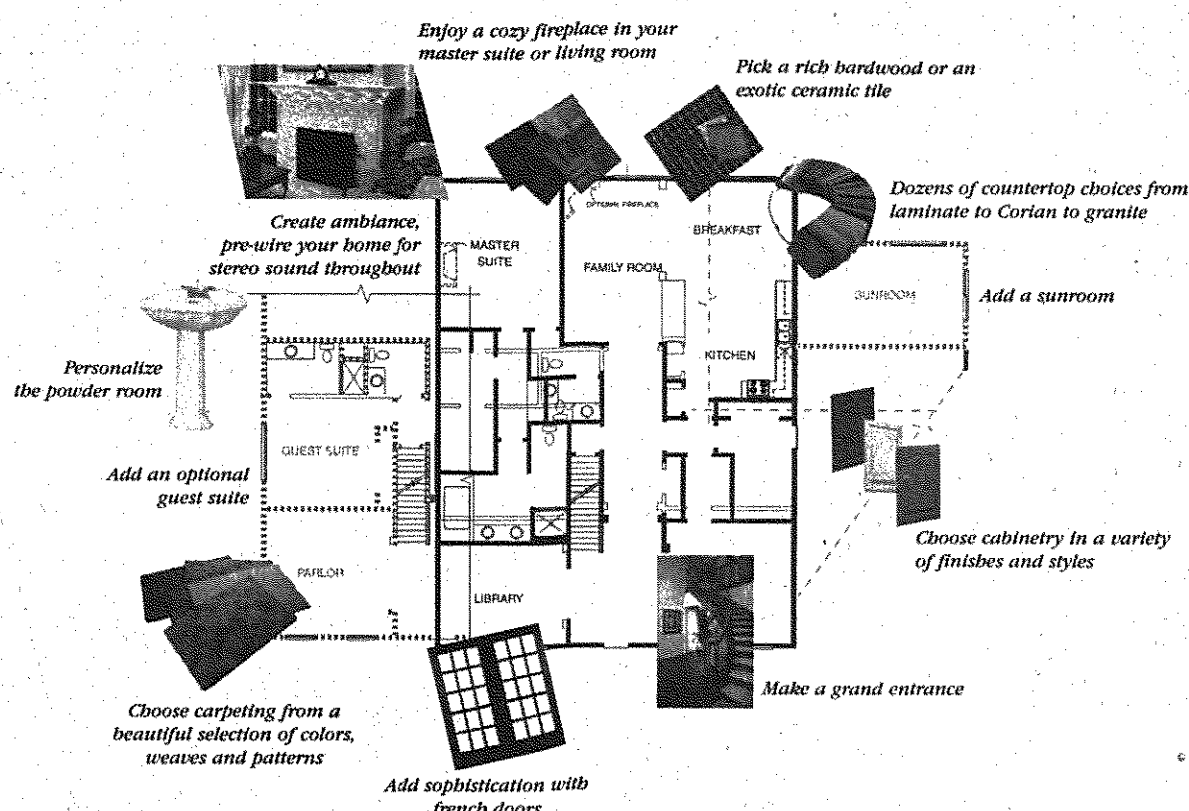

After roaming the aisles of the largest annual construction industry show in the world, we can assure you home sweet home is about to become better, stronger, smarter, more healthful, more earth-friendly and easier to care for and maintain.

And that, indeed, is sweet.

Thomas Ervin Let's Talk About Real Estate

"SUCCESSFUL NEGOTIATING"

The four vital steps in selling real estate are pricing, marketing, negotiating, and closing. One of the most important phases involves the negotiating process. This step requires good instincts and valuable experience. Some of the items that are usually included in the negotiations are price, type of financing, closing date, occupancy date, amount of deposit, and a recitation of those things that will be included in or excluded from the sale. Because there are so many details that must be agreed upon, there is often some dispute between buyer and seller over some major and/or minor aspects of the agreement.

The ability to remain emotionally objective is essential in order to have a successful negotiation. As a matter of fact, most negotiations that fail do so because one or both parties become angered by the actions of the other. A seller can be offended by the original price being offered by the buyer. A common reaction by an offended seller is to decide that if this buyer wants to buy the house, he or she will have to pay full price. I have also seen sellers make a counter offer that reduces the asking price only one dollar. This is done to strike back at a buyer and let him or her know that the seller is going to be a force to be reckoned with. Buyers also can get hurt feelings when a seller decides to exclude drapes or lighting fixtures that the buyer expected to go with the house.

Whether you are the buyer or the seller, you cannot let your emotions undermine your success when negotiating the purchase or sale of real estate. Here are some simple rules of negotiating to remember:

1. Before making an offer or counter offer, ask yourself how your decision will affect the emotions of the other party.
2. Before entering into negotiations clarify what your objectives are and how far you are willing to go.
3. All effective negotiations require trust between the parties. Be straight forward and above board in your actions. You'll get the best results.

SUGGESTION: Because of the need for objectivity in the negotiating process, be sure to enlist the services of a REALTOR® when buying or selling real estate.

Michigan Humane Society ADOPT-A-PET

This Week's Featured Pet

Nelson is a six-year-old Brittany Spaniel male who was found stray in a residential backyard. This handsome guy has a mahogany and white speckled coat with natural wavy fur. He is very lean and loves to keep active! He is best suited in an active home that can give him regular exercise and playtime. Since he is a mature pooch, he is very well-mannered and housebroken. Although he isn't neutered, he will be sterilized and brought up-to-date on his shots before going to his new home.

To make Nelson your beloved pet, visit the Michigan Humane Society Westland Shelter, (734) 721-7300
