Looking for new heroes

MLK event celebrates Canton's diversity, calls on others to make a difference

> BY TIFFANY L PARKS STAFF WRITER

In between tinges of laughter and choruses of "Amen,' Isaiah "Ike' McKinnon praised the life of Dr Martin Luther King Jr and encouraged people to become heroes

'So many people had found a hero and that was Dr King," said McKinnon, a motivational speaker and former Detroit police chief "But if we want heroes (today), look at yourself Who can you touch? Who can you impact?"

McKinnon, who spenned three books, was the speaker Monday night for the township's keynote celebration of the life and ideas of the slain civil nghts leader

The event, which took place at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill, was emceed by Marcia Barker of Canton Public Library and the Rev Ron Washington of the Worldwide Church of God in Washington, who said King's anti-violence message changed his life, hailed the famed orators struggle to stamp out divisions between blacks and whites as well as within the black community

Highlighting a segment from Kings 1964 Nobel Peace Prize acceptance speech - "the need for man to overcome oppression and violence without resorting to violence and oppression" -Washington called the gathering an "evening of celebration, joy and reflection'

The event, which was attended by about 300 people, included musical performances by Vision

The Achievement Women's Choir, from the Detroit School of Arts, performs at One Community, One Voice Canton's celebration of the life of Dr. Martin Luther King on Monday and Achievement the male and female ensembles of the Detroit School of Arts

With the boys in black tuxedos, bow ties and cummerbunds and the girls dressed in black floorlength gowns and pearl necklaces, the choirs were met with murmurs of "mmm hmm and 'great

This was a wonderful and beautiful evening,' said Canton resident Ernestine

Perkins Her husband, David, encouraged the township to continue the celebration in future years

"It was lovely and I'm bringing more people with me next year to see this," he

Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack applauded the areas multicultural makeup and said families of all ethnicities have gravitated to the township because of its safe environment

"We like our differences," he said "I'm so proud of Residents file complaint after tree from Lowe's falls into their yard

STAFF WRITER

Unlike many of their neighbors, Walt and Nan Schnabel welcomed Lowes Home Improvement to Ford Road a few years ago

The couple didn't have any complaints about the store, which is situated just behind their Westminister Way home, and viewed its close proximity as a bonus while others have railed against bright lights attached to the building, loud generators and semi trucks that idle late into the night

That all changed for the Schnabels earlier this week when a dead tree on the stores property crashed down on their backyard and sliced through their vinyl privacy fence

Walt Schnabel, who described himself as a loyal Lowe's customer, said he spoke to a Lowes manager in July about five dead trees on the store's property

"I didn't get anything in writing because I didn't think it was necessary at the time," said Schnabel, a retired police officer who has since begun to chronicle the status of trees in detail "That manager said the store manager

District set to pitch bond

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools officials are on the campaign trail, trying to convince voters to approve a $62 1 million bond issue on Feb 27

Superintendent Jim Ryan and all seven elected Board of Education members are meeting with PTOs, community and civic groups as they try to convince voters from five communities - Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville Township and Salem Township - of the need to pass a bond proposal that is about half of what was defeated in May 2006

Next month's bond issue asks taxpayers to support $31 2 million for a new middle school in Canton Township to replace an aging Central Middle School, and another $13 6 million to refurbish Central for alternative education (replacing Starkweather Education Center), community education and a curriculum center

The bond issue, if passed, also includes $6 million to construct 10 classrooms at Salem High School, $3 8 million for additional classrooms at Pioneer Middle School, $3 3 million for six classrooms and a gym at Field Elementary, $2 1 million for Canton High School cafeteria expansion, $19 million for West Middle School cafeteria improvements, $2.3 million to reimburse the general fund for the purchase of the middle school property on Cherry Hill Road, just west of Canton Center Road, in Canton,

Thief hits doughnut shop, threatens cashier

A man had more than coffee and jelly-filled pastries on his mind when he ventured into Dawn Donuts late Sunday night He robbed the place

The man, believed to be between 50-60 years old, entered the Michigan Avenue doughnut shop just after 10 pm and told the cashier he would shoot her if she didn t hand over all the money in the bakery

After pocketing an undisclosed amount of cash, the man left the shop on foot After his exit, the cashier, a 38-year-old Canton woman, called police 'No weapon was seen but he implied he had one,"

said Sgt Rick Pomorski of the Canton Police Department, adding that the robber kept one of his hands stuffed into a coat pocket

When police arrived, they received a description of the thief from a nearby gas station attendant and the Dawn Donuts cashier

The gas station employee told police he spotted the $\,$ slender, 6-foot-tall man asking his customers for money about 20 minutes before he robbed the doughnut shop He said the man, who was dressed in a black coat and a yellow hat, appeared homeless

Police canvassed the surrounding area for the thief without luck

Sunday night's holdup was the second armed robbery of the year to strike a Canton business A Pizza Hut delivery man was robbed after he was lured to a vacant Cornne Street house at about 11 pm on Jan 5 Pomorski said the thief, who is presumed to have ordered two large pizzas, wanted to make sure the 18year-old delivery man had cash on him "After he placed the order he said, 'By the way, all

I've got is a $100 bill so be sure to bring change," he When the teenager arrived at the vacant property, the thief approached him and said he had ordered the food He then grabbed the victim by the throat and put a knife to his stomach

The man took an undisclosed amount of money from the teenager and left the area on foot

There are no suspects

Petitions now available for May school election

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

Petitions are now available for residents of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools who are interested in running for a seat on the Board of Election

Two four-years terms, currently held by board Secretary Martha Pitsenbarger and Trustee Skip Monit, will be up for grabs in the election in the Tuesday, May 8, election

"I have petitions ready right now for anyone who wants to file, said Westland City Clerk Eileen DeHart who is in charge of the annual election

Residents interested in running must file petitions containing a minimum of 40 up to a maximum of 100 signatures of registered school district voters or pay a $100 fee in lieu of petitions and an Affidavit of Identity by 4 p m Tuesday, Feb 13

The district includes the city of Wayne and portions of Westland, Inkster, Canton, Dearborn Heights and Romulus, and residents of those communities can pick up the necessary paperwork tat the clerk's office in Westland City Hall, 36601 Ford, west of Wayne Road, or at the clerk's office in Wayne City Hall, 3355 S Wayne Roas, north of Michigan Avenue

Both Monit and Pitsenbarger have indicated they will be seeking re-elec-

Monit, a Wayne resident who is completing his second four-year term on the board, said he still feels "he wants to help the district prosper and help the students achieve" "Î feel we're doing a great job," he said "I've had the opportunity to oversee the improvements in the school * buildings That was kind of my roots when I came in and it's 🎨...

the thing I enjoy the most" Pitsenbarger, also a Wayne resident, is completing her third four-year term and is the current board secretary "I love the kids and I love seeing so many good things happening in the district, Pitsenbarger said

'If I can be a part of it, I will It helps when I have people come up to me and tell me that they love the Wayne-Westland schools"

Suspect pleads guilty in bizarre armed robbery:

Ann Arbor resident Barry James Knight pleaded guilty last week to several charges stemming from a Sept 27 home invasion/armed robbery on Lotz Road near Michigan Avenue Among the charges Knight, 40, pleaded guilty to are armed robbery, home invasion 1st degree, larceny in a building, and attempt to steal a vehicle His sentencing hearing is scheduled for Jan 25 at Frank Murphy Hall of Justice ın Detroit before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James A Callahan

According to police reports, Knight broke into the home, and then called a plumber to the location saying there was an emergency When the plumber arrived, police say Knight pulled out a shotgun and tried to rob the plumber, a 48-year-old Canton man, at gunpoint

But the burglar didn't count on the plumber knowing selfdefense tactics

"The plumber grabbed the gun, and the two struggled until the plumber got control of the gun," Canton Sgt Rick

Pomorski said

Knight fled the home on foot, after trying to steal a car which was parked at the house. according to police But it only took minutes for Canton police, aided by their K-9 dog to find and arrest him

Knight had been on parole and was wearing an electronic tether, after his release from prison for a 1991 conviction for armed robbery

He absconded from parole in August, according to the Michigan Offender Tracking Information System

Chill hits the air just in time for Plymouth ice festival

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Mother Nature came through this week with her own ice festival, with a dash of frigid temperatures tossed in, only days before the 25th anniversary of the Plymouth International Ice Sculpture Spectacular, which runs Friday through Sunday

"Sometimes you get lucky," said Mike Watts, organizer of the Plymouth ice fest the past 16 years "You knew the cold weather had to come sometime, and it looks like we'll be blessed with good weather for the event"

The forecast indicates temperatures will range from the mid-20s to near 30 degrees

While Fantasyland - carvings with themes aimed at children — is gone from The Gathering, Watts said there wall be plenty for youngsters to see at the main venue in Kéllogg Park.

There will be a giant Tvrannosaurus Rex, scenes from Charlotte's Web, and students from Henry Ford Community College will carve penguins from the movie Happy Feet," Watts said "There are a number of carvings targeted for children"

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday January 18 2007

Watts is keeping it under his hat, but said a five-member team from Japan will be carving nearly 80 blocks of ice, weighing nearly one ton, for one of their four carvings in Kellogg Park.

"It's really a beautiful scene, and words wouldn't do it justice," Watts teased "It will celebrate the 25th anniversary, and everyone will be surprised

Along with the Japanese team, which has been coming to the show for 16 years, there will be carvings by teams of students from local community college culmary programs, who will compete and carve 1,200 blocks of ice during the threeday event

On Saturday, world-class carver Jim Bur, a former Livonia resident who now lives in Eastpointe, will demonstrate in Kellogg Park, as he prepares for the world carving championships to be held in Japan, only weeks after the Plymouth ice fest

"Nine years ago, he and Ted Wakar, an award-winning ice sculptor from Canton, won the Japanese event, the only non-Asians ever to win one of the oldest and most prestigious ice carving competitions in the world," Watts said "On Sunday, we will have Tajana Raukar, who owns Ice Dreams in Plymouth, and winner of world competitions in Alaska."

Mike Wright, who chairs Plymouth's Downtown Development Authority Board of Directors, said the DDA believes in the ice fest and the traffic it brings to downtown retailers and restaurants

"Our belief is that is has tremendous value, an event

$1 1 million to purchase 13 school buses, $500,000 for new education program equipment to meet new state mandates, and $125,000 for high school security

Trustee Dianne Gonzalez of Plymouth Township, who was elected to the board in May, made it known while campaigning last year she disapproved of the May 2006 bond This time around, Gonzalez is on board

"I think my joining the board made everybody take a step backward and look at it again from the beginning," Gonzalez said This is a completely different bond, and I wanted to make sure the administration was doing its homework'

For Gonzalez, that meant going to the different schools to see, firsthand, the problems

"I saw students at West Middle School stand in long lines for lunch, and then not have enough time to eat it to get back to class on time," Gonzalez said "Students in the cafeterias at Salem and Canton (high schools) were sharing seats I visited Starkweather, and the catacombs of Central I had a genuine concern about all those issues'

Gonzalez, who during last year's bond wanted a new elementary school built on district-owned Miller Woods acreage in Plymouth Township, said, "I think we still need an elementary school, but we have to stand back and look at the priorities I had to put my political differences aside and do what's best for the kids in the district"

Plymouth-Canton school officials are confident they're on the right track. In a survey of more than 300 voters, 54 percent said they'd vote "yes," with another 4 percent leaning toward voting in favor of the bond issue Some 39 percent said they would vote 'no" or are leaning toward rejecting the bond question

Trustee Richard Ham-Kucharski of Canton Township stood as the lone dissenting vote on the school board for the May bond proposal But, like Gonzalez, Ham-Kucharski said he ll be out helping with presentations to help pass the next bond

"The big difference this time was the board and administration actually took the time to listen to the community and what they saw as needs for the district, Ham-Kucharski said 'We internally know we have a long list of needs and wants, but it really does come down to where the community is will ing to support We went through the process of due diligence and scaled back what we were looking at in this package, and it make sense

With all seven school board members on board, school board President Barry Simescu said it will be easier to go out and pitch for voter approval

"I think the community, this time, is seeing a joint effort, Simescu said "The process we used to get there made everybody comfortable in supporting this bond

There were a handful of dis trict residents who worked against the bond proposals in May One, Plymouth Township Treasurer Ron Edwards, said hell be vocal against this one,

'I'm not in favor of doing anything with the economy the way it is, Edwards said You re putting financial pressure on people when they're trying to pay their own bills

And, there's the credibility ıssue," he saıd "If housing sales have stopped, you won t have increasing enrollment, and won't have to construct new buildings?

Ryan will be giving tours of Central Middle School and Starkweather Education Center on weekends in February to those who want a look before voting Feb 27 To schedule an appointment, call-(734) 416-2757

We both woke up and said 'what do you think that was;" said Nan Schnabel "We couldn't believe how (the tree) sliced our fence like butter"

When he called the home improvement store later Monday morning, Walt Schnabel said he spoke to the store manager who said his complaint from July was never given to her After denying that the trees were the retailer's responsibility, the store manager referred Schnabel to the company's corporate offices

I want them to acknowledge they ve received my complaint and give me the name of their insurance company, Walt Schnabel said 'I also want them to be good neighbors and remove the other dead trees'

Maureen Rich, a Lowe's spokesperson, said on Wednesday the company will foot the bill for the damage connected to the accident

We are happy to take care of this, she said, noting that the Schnabels will send the North Carolina-based company estimates of the fence repair and tree removal

Rich also said it's her understanding that the remaining dead trees will be removed

We don't want this to happen again,' she said 'We regret that it happened (at all)'

With branches from the fallen tree resting on their deck, Walt Schnabel said the store's handling of this situation will determine if he remains a cus tomer

We spent about $3,000 there this past ear," he said 'We like Lowe's and we want them to make this right* Walt Schnabel has also filed a complaint against a Canton ordinance officer that he called last summer when he didn't get a response from Lowe's According to Schnabel, the officer examined the Lowe's prop erty but said he couldn't ticket the retailer because the trees are within a buffer area that Lowes is not supposed to disturb

Sgt Rick Pomorski of the Canton Police Department confirmed receipt of Schnabel's complaint

Mr Schnabel filed a complaint this week, and we're doing our best to investigate it,' Pomorski said

Troop's first Eagle Scout

Derek W Bradford Jr of Boy Scout Troop 735, which began only two years ago and is sponsored by UAW Local 735, is the first member of his troop to earn the status of Eagle Scout The Canton resident's Eagle Scout project consisted of constructing bat houses and placing them around the Flodin Park natural area across Fellows Creek These bathouses will not only help the bat community here in Canton but will also benefit other wild life species as well. On Dec. 11. Derek, who is also a varsity member of the Plymouth High School football and track teams passed his Eagle Scout Board of Review Wanting to give back to scouting Derek is now Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 735 which meets 6 30-8 30 p m every Monday at the UAW Local 735 Union Hall located on Michigan Avenue near Beck Road For more information about the troop, contact Mark or Pat Rosiek at (734) 844-2638 or via e-mail at markpatrosie@yahoo com

Big 3 cars still favorites with metro Detroiters

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Metro Detroiters like their

And, unlike most areas of the country, they still favor the Big Three - General Motors, Ford and Chrysler - when it comes to their favorites at the North American International Auto Show at Cobo Exhibition Center in downtown Detroit

'I'm just looking at GM models because I drive one now,' said Jennifer Jerore of Livonia, who currently owns a Trailblazer "I won't go back to a car I like the size of an SUV, and that I'm sitting up higher I don't like sitting in little cars anymore, I feel like I'm going to get run down on the road

Many at the auto show have connections to the Big Three, and are willing to support them, while still getting a glimpse of what the competiTownship said his connection to the auto industry is through Mopar Parts, which produces original equipment parts and accessories for Dodge, Jeep and Chrysler vehicles

J.C. Penney should heed Lowe's lesson

OUR VIEWS

As Canton planning officials work with JC Penney on the site plan for the retailer's proposed store on Ford Road just east of Sheldon Road, they should do all they can to insure the development doesn't infringe on the properties of adjacent homeowners in the Carriage Hills subdivision

The officials don't need to look too far away to see how a development can affect the quality of life of residents JC Penney will be built next to Lowe's, a development that residents on Westminister Way have complained about since it was built

When Lowe's was built, construction crews cleared the woods that once separated the residents from busy Ford Road, with the exception of a few trees, many of which are now dead The natural wetland was replaced by a stormwater retention pond, and a few small evergreens were planted Instead of looking at a wooded buffer, residents now look out their back window and see a giant big

Residents also complain about security lights at the rear of the store that brighten up their back yards at night, as well as huge generators that emit constant noise and semis that park behind the store and idle during nighttime hours

Some of the homeowners on Westminister Way said they wouldn't have bought their homes had they known a big box store was going to be built behind them That claim is either disingenuous or naive What did they think was going to be built on Ford Road? Still, all of this could have been avoided with some careful planning, i.e. making sure there was a sufficient buffer between the store and the neighborhood

To their credit, JC Penney officials have met with the Carriage Hills residents and seem to be willing do all they can to insure there won't be the same kind of problems that occurred with the Lowe's development But they are still working on the final site plan with the township, and you never know what will happen when you are dealing with a giant corporation

So the township really needs to do all it can to hold J C Penney to its word Their main objective should be to make sure the development, or any development for that matter, does not impact the quality of life of the township's residents

Area's Congressional delegation should unite

These are tough times for suburban Detroit's Congressional delegation Returning to work after the holiday break, the Republican-dominated delegation found themselves in unfamiliar waters. Out of power and shunned to the political sidelines

With Democrats seizing control of both the US House and Senate thanks to the November general election, there has been a shift of power away from the suburban Republicans, namely Joe Knollenberg and Mike Bishop in Oakland County and Thaddeus McCotter in western Wayne

Now, veteran Democratic Congressmen John Dingell, John Conyers and Sander Levin, along with US Sens Carl Levin and Debbie Stabenow, have the influence to set - and, indeed, change - the direction of this country.

It is understandable if the Democrats feel the urge for a little political payback time against their Republican counterparts, even if they do represent the same state

The past six years have been anything but nonpartisan, as the Republicans, led by President George W Bush, have used their control of both the House and Senate to ramrod an agenda with little interest in hearing from the other side

The political swagger displayed by Bush and the Republicans has done little to help this nation, and even less to help the state of Michigan Just ask the Big Three automakers, who had to practically beg on their knees to get a meeting with the president to discuss the crisis facing the domestic auto industry

But there is no time for two more years of politics as usual The state of Michigan is in a real crisis, and it needs Washington's help to find solutions

It is going to take a unified delegation to fight for our state, be it getting its fair share in federal transportation dollars, helping establish sound policy to encourage new and emerging industries to locate in Michigan, or passing tough environmental legislation to help secure and protect the Great Lakes

The golden rule should also apply to members of Congress when they go about conducting the affairs of the nation

Give Bush the boot

I am writing in support of the words of Joseph McGlinchey who calls for the impeachment of George W Bush and Dick Cheney I agree they have to go

On Jan. 10, President Bush made a speech about his 'new" plan for Iraq Among other things he promised the Iraqi people 'revenue sharing" from oil profits Where is the "revenue sharing here in the United States? My taxes are pounding me to pay for his adventure in Iraq and for what?

So that Lyndon Bush Johnson can set up a socialist regime in Iraq? The Cold War ended and now President Bush wants to spread communism The stock markets went nuts the other day when Venezuela threatened to nationalize their television station but Bush nationalizes Iraqi oil in one sentence and no one makes a peep

Who is going to oversee that "revenue sharing' to make sure that millions if not billions of dollars are not turned into weapons to attack the United States? This one point about "revenue sharing" for Iraqis while American companies are being driven out of business on our own soll sickens in e

We have seen this administration support Communist China (and even back down to them) while declaring Russia's Putin his friend What does Republican Red mean these days?

What I think the president means is that Americans will continue to pay for Iraqis and to indirectly finance terrorism Saddam is dead — where is Osama Bin

Either we give George Bush the boot or we will end up under it

Alfred Brock Canton

Millen is arrogant

Matt Millen says he 'won't quit What arrogance His record is as bad as it gets

He holds the record for the worst record of any president in NFL history No one will ever come close to this record, because no owner in the future will ever keep a president that keeps losing as consistently as Matt Millen What are the owners thinking or not thinking in deciding to keep him?

By the way, is it merely a coincidence that the owners of the lowly Lions are also the owners of the fast-falling Ford Motor Co? I don't think so Poor management produces poor results — whether it is football or cars

Caution: Liberal hand on wheel

Our representatives in the Washington House don't have backgrounds in money, credit, banking, finance, bookkeeping, accounting, budgeting and economics Yet we elect people who again this year will pass legislation, including the earmarking of tons of pork, that totals many billions of dollars Imagine the making of business decisions by representatives who cannot read a balance sheet!

It isn't funny, 'tis tragic They can't wait to pass a federal minimum wage increase, deciding on the wages and salaries to be paid many of the workers in many of our businesses, the small business and the corporation Some businesses will fail when the proposed legislation becomes law Sub-marginal business operations will certainly close their doors, marginal businesses will operate at a loss until sustained losses make them perpetual losers, too

Many workers, of course, will lose their jobs as businesses close Not only the minimum wage workers will suffer, but workers making $7, $8, $10, and $20 an hour will be without work as business after business

And this legislation is only the beginning of the failing government policies supposedly mitiated to improve the country's economic condition. Wait until the government keeps its promise to raise taxes. There doesn't seem to be one economist in the leftist ranks who can follow the successful tax rate cut provision sponsored by Kennedy, Reagan and Bush, to name three of the most current crop of those with economics acumen.

Late in November, I began stocking the fruit cellar with canned goods and other food necessities in response to the dire eco nomic conditions that will most likely evolve with the liberal hand on the wheel Potted meat isn't so bad and I won't have to go to the store

Require a paper ballot

I join the call for a paper ballot for every vote cast in America. It is time for Congress to finally pass an election reform bill in which the American people can have confidence Any such legislation must require a paper ballot -- not a 'paper trail nor a paper record — for every vote cast.

Please make this a top priority in the upcoming legislative session

Court must be unbiased

The Supreme Court of the State of Michigan must, in all cases, make unbiased

If a justice has any personal connection, or appearance of bias, in a case that will be heard, then the justice should recuse himself or herself from that hearing.

I am appalled that the elected justices of the Michigan Supreme Court suddenly made all of their correspondence confidential and that Justice (Elizabeth) Weaver found it necessary to accuse four of the justices of prior bias towards an attorney whose case appeared before them

Every citizen is entitled to a fair and unbiased hearing. The correspondence between justices should be a public matter subject to Freedom of Information Act requests If a justice dissents from the majority then that opinion should also be public

So what is going on in Michigan's elected supreme court?

Justice Weaver accuses four of the other justices, (Clifford) Taylor, (Maura) Corrigan, (Robert) Young and (Stephen) Markman, of sitting on a hearing to discipline Geoffrey Feiger, and that they should have recused themselves because of prior discussion. She also says that the sudden decision to make their e-mail correspondence private effectively suppressed her dissent

As citizens we are entitled to fair and unbiased hearings from our courts Apparently, this is not happening in Michigan

NCLB works

The No Child Left Behind Act has been one of the most historic and far reaching bipartisan laws to impact our society since welfare reform. NCLB's purpose is simple. It requires accountability between public school education and the expenditure of public funds for education Schools are required to improve performance through the use of student assessment data to drive decisions on instruction, curriculum and business practices

Many of NCLBs critics have been silenced as the act is making a difference across the country The number of classes taught by highly qualified teachers is now over 90 percent Free supplemental educational services and increased public school choice have helped over 450,000 students receive better educational opportunities NCLB is more about improving education It is less an ideological debate between Democrats and Republicans

Student achievement is rising Nine-yearolds have made more progress in reading in the last five years than in the previous 28 years combined Americas 13-year-olds earned the highest math scores the test ever recorded Test results show the achievement gap is narrowing. The gap between white and minorities on reading and math assessments has dramatically improved from 5 percent to 10 percent. The results are liberatıng

Yet, the work is not done Education experts agree that NCLB has four areas in need of improvement Improve teacher quality through incentives and training, empower parents with more choice and school reform, apply standards and accountability to high schools, and assist states in innovative ways to fund public education Lowering standards and rolling back accountability is not an option. To do so, we would return to the status quo that has failed communities, parents, students, and teachers for decades NCLB is, thus, critical for enhancing Michigan's economic competitiveness

Our school board and our city, county, state and federal representatives must act now They must put aside their gridlock bickering They must work together to support NCLB reauthorization They must work together to pragmatically recommend improvements that would best serve the interest of our children and tax payers

"Diversity isn't just a one-day activity. We're drafting a diversity plan, which we think will have a stronger impact. It reflects some of the things we're already doing, and reflecting on some areas we need to work on."

Protecting state's resources | Sportsmanship takes beating key to approving U.P. mine

he Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, usually called the DEQ, last week announced tentative approval of Kennecott Minerals Co's application to dig a mine in the middle of one of the Upper Peninsula's most beautiful, pristine and environmentally sensitive regions, the Yellow Dog Plains

That was big news in the sparsely populated UP, where a coalition of residents, Native American tribes and environmentalists have been fighting the "Eagle Prospect mine for years

Downstate, however, the story was small beer That's too bad, because this case will have a profound impact on the entire UP — and, by extension, the entire state of Michigan heavy metals that kill fish Kennecott claims it will take safety precautions Opponents, however, note that no sulfide mine in history has ever been operated without discharges of this "acid mine drainage Worse, the mine is located smack dab under the head waters of the Salmon Trout River

This is a famously pristine trout stream that supports the last remaining spawning population on the south shore of Lake Superior of the coaster brook trout, a colorful relative of the brook trout that can reach 25 inches in length Fishermen and scholars alike fear once the Eagle Prospect mine starts up, the coasters are toast

Three years ago, Michigan had no law - none regulating "nonferrous metallic mineral mining," or sulfide mining A group of stakeholders (I was one) worked out a consensus statute and set of regulations, which the state adopted

These rules are widely regarded as among the toughest in the country Robert McCann, a spokesman for the DEQ, said, "I think its safe to say this (Eagle Prospect) proposal has received more scrutiny than all but a few the state has ever looked at"

And in the cash- and job-starved UP, any prospect of good-paying jobs is normally greeted with enthusiasm Except in this case, besides the environmental hazards, there's another downside By Kennecott's own admission, the 120 or so mining jobs would last only a decade or less while the mine is being built and in operation

And economists and businessmen wonder and worry what would happen to recreation, tourism, hunting and fishing — the long-term economic future of the region — if the mine pollutes the area

'People up here aren't opposed to mining, they accept mining,' says Marvin Roberson, a Sierra Club official who lives in the UP "What they are opposed to is reckless exploitation of the land's most sensitive areas for a few dozen temporary jobs'

Final approval of the mine is not yet a done deal The DEQ will consider additional public comments at hearings held March 6-8 at Northern Michigan University in Marquette before a decision

But the stakes are very high The map of the UP that shows in red land leased for mineral exploration makes the entire area look like it has the measles The Eagle Prospect mine is the first to go through the permitting process set out in the new state law

Any decision is bound to set an important precedent that will determine the future of sulfide mining activity throughout an area which is the heart and soul of Michigan's glorious natural resources

The new mining law sets out the various criteria the DEQ is to follow in composing a mining permit, if it decides to issue one But the draft permit itself is — and will be until it is issued — a secret, now being concocted by bureaucrats inside the DEQ Opponents of the mine wonder whether the Office of Geological Survey, the division of the DEQ that is overseeing the process, has a corporate culture that prefers facilitating mining to rigorously regulating it

Some think that public oversight of a project as important as this one would be improved if the draft permit is made public before it is issued. Gov Granholm, in a letter to her appointee, DEQ Director Steven Chester, instructed the department to "give thorough and rigorous review to Kennecott's permit applications and ensure that they meet each and every aspect of the new regulations

"While this project has the potential to provide significant economic benefit to the local community, the irreplaceable natural resources of the Upper Peninsula constitute an extraordinary endowment that we hold in trust for the benefit of our citizens This sacred trust must be protected," she added

The stakes are high for the governor, politically and as a matter of good public policy It's everybody's bad luck that this particular ore deposit wound up in the middle of some of the most environmentally valuable and sensitive woods and waters in all of Michigan

But merely because rich metals exist in a uniquely priceless and fragile environment is no necessary argument those metals should be mined

Suppose a valuable gold deposit were to be discovered right at the foot of Mount Rushmore Would it really make sense to open a mine there that might destroy a national monument? Does it make sense to allow a mine that would destroy a natural treasure?

Phil Power was a member of the work group that drafted the new mining law and is a member of the Huron Mountain Club whose lands are near the site of the proposed mine. He is also president and founder of The Center for Michigan a moderate think and do tank based in Ann Arbor The opin ions expressed here are his own and do not represent offi cial policy positions of The Center for Michigan Power wel comes reader comments at ppower@hcnnet.com

when fans resort to violence

s I stood in the crowd after the last home football game, waiting for my 16-year-old son to come out of the locker room, a woman approached the man standing next

With sarcasm competing with disdain for prominence in her voice, she said to the gentleman, I want to thank you for all of the opinions you offered about what a lousy job the coach is doing He's my son, and every mother loves to hear that

The man, who had been vociferous in his disapproval over how the coach utilized his players, particularly second- and thirdstringers when his team was far ahead in the score, tried to apologize, but the apology seemed forced and hollow

Since my son is also a second-stringer, I didn't necessarily disagree with some of what the fan said, although I wouldn t have put it as harshly Parents of youngsters who don t see the field much are naturally skeptical of the coach who won't put them in I thought about writing a column about it (my bosses nixed that idea) or saying something to the coach (my son nixed that idea), then decided he was right It's his battle, and he's old enough to fight it The best way to do that is on the field, where he seems determined to finally break into the starting lineup next year

Its hard as the parent of an athlete to watch your child — who works just as hard as the other kids on the team and, in the case of my son's school, pays his $100 participation fee like everyone else - sit on the bench and not play

But that's what you sign up for at the high school level, particularly for varsity sports In my son's district, the student handbook says the fee is a participation fee, and has no bearing on actual playing time

That shouldn't be true for youth leagues, which are designed to teach kids how to play the game You can t learn if you don t actually play, no matter how much you practice Still, the coaches in those leagues are there to determine how the kids are used If you don't like it, volunteer to coach a team yourself

What you can t do — but what an increas ing number of parents are doing — is take it upon yourself to make your point, especially with violence It used to be that incidents like the Texas mother who hired someone to kill a cheerleader who beat out her daughter for a spot on the squad were rare Now, they're becoming commonplace

In Philadelphia, for instance, 40-year-old Wayne Derkotch thought his son should have been getting more playing time It was a point he wished to impress upon the 34year-old coach of the team, so Derkotch went down on the field First he threw a punch, then pulled a 357 Magnum to emphasize his position

Spectators were, of course, shocked, as well they should be

"It was just horrible Sixty seconds of mayhem, that's the best I can come up with," Shawn Henwood, the games referee, told the Philadelphia Inquirer "It all happened so fast, but in my mind, it plays back so slow It was a strange experience that I hope I never go through again"

Nobody should ever have to go through that, but there are lots of things people should never have to go through that happen anyway We talk about it around the office all the time — the deterioration of sportsmanship in general in sports Fans, and especially children, see athletes acting like thugs all the time Think these athletes aren't role models? Think again

Sportsmanship is becoming extinct Consider the coach's response when Derkotch asked him why his son wasn't playing 'I like to run up the score before I' start putting all the kids in the game," the coach reportedly responded

Let's not indict all coaches in all youth sports leagues Nearly all of them are volunteers who are in it for the right reasons They're dedicated to making life better for our voungsters

Youngsters in these youth sports leagues are supposed to be learning not only how to play the game, but about how you're supposed to act They count on the adults in their lives to teach them those things

In the Philadelphia case, and in many others like it, those adults failed the children I suspect Derkotch and the others involved - his brother reportedly participated in the scrum, though he wasn't charged - were embarrassed about their actions in retrospect At least I hope they

My son is a junior in high school who cringes if I even complain privately about how he's being used in games Those kids in Philadelphia were 6 and 7 years old and were forced, as are an alarming number of youngsters these days, to witness parentinduced violence at one of their games

That's what makes me cringe

Review your financial documents for accuracy ety of financial ety of financial statements Before you either shred these documents or file them away, you need to at least review the documents for accuracy

Never assume that a financial statement that you received from your bank, brokerage house or retirement account is accurate Financial institutions make mistakes and it is our responsibility to make sure that our statements are accurate

Whenever you receive a financial statement from your 401(k) or brokerage house, there are some things that you should automatically do The first is to make sure that the beginning balance is the same as the ending balance from the last statement If these numbers don't agree, you have a problem In addition, you need to look at any activity over that statement's period For example, if this is a statement for a retirement savings account like a 401(k) plan, you need to confirm that your additional contributions have been credited to your account In looking at account activity, always look for any withdrawals or transfers out of your account If there is any activity that you don't recognize, you should ask questions After all, it is your money!

Money Matters

BE PROACTIVE

Another area that investors unfortunately don't spend time with is fees. You should review all your statements to determine if you've been don't understand or you object to, you should ask whether they can be waived or reversed You would be surprised how fast you can get fees waived once you get proactive

If after reviewing your statement, there is an item that you do not understand or if there is a mistake, you need to immediately contact the financial institution In many cases, there will be a logical explanation for the discrepancy in the statement, however, there are many times where there are problems that need to be corrected Every financial institution will have its own procedures as to how to correct a discrepancy, however, my advice is to always document the process Don't assume the financial institution is always correct More often than not they are, however, they do make mistakes

If there are no problems with the statement, the question is How long do you need to save the statement? For most statements, my advice is that when you receive the next statement, after you review it for accuracy, you can destroy the previous statement The one statement that I typically will save is a year-end statement that compiles the entire year's activity Remember, when you destroy previous statements, don't just throw them out - shred them.

I am frequently asked how long people should save documents In today's technological society, there are a variety of different ways to save documents, whether manual or electronic However, no matter how you decide to save your important documents, the key is to have a record-keeping system There are numerous record-keeping systems out on the market, whether it is one with all the bells and whistles that technology can offer or whether it is something as simple as an accordion file The key is to have a record-keeping system and to me the best recordkeeping system is the one that you will use

In deciding what documents you should retain, keep in mind that saving too many documents is just as bad as not saving enough The key is to save relevant documents and to shred the rest It is mind-boggling to me that people will save cancelled checks for decades when they have no value whatsoever Even things like the supporting documents for your tax returns can generally be shredded after seven

As we begin to accumulate year-end documentation, take some time to go through, your old documents and decide what needs to be saved or not Shredding old useless documentation makes is easier to locate the important documents Good luck

To international journalists Detroit is still Motor City

The domestic auto industry may be in turmoil because of declining vehicle sales and lost market share that's resulted in hundreds of thousands of blue and white collar layoffs and buyouts

But, make no mistake about it Despite the disarray of the traditional Big 3 — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler many foreign journalists covering the North American International Auto Show still consider Detroit the Motor

"I think so, because Detroit (automakers) still has power, they have the technology and much money still," said Shinichi Hisadome, staff correspondent for the Tokyo Shimbun The Big 3 is a symbol of American rich

More than 6,000 journalists more powerful and more - radio, television and print - from around the world converge on Cobo Center as both domestic and foreign car companies unveil new models and concept vehicles

"It's very important because it's the initial big motor show, and we can get the strategy of Japanese automakers, as well as GM, Ford and Chrysler," said Hisadome

As for the Japanese take on Toyota's bid to surpass General Motors as the worlds top carmaker, Hisadome said, "It's epic-making'

Italian television producer Milena Ripellino likes attending the Detroit auto show to view the new car line-ups, especially since many of the new product lines aren't as prevalent in Italy and throughout Europe

"Your cars are huge, faster, expensive for fuel, which we have to consider in Europe, Ripellino said "You say your fuel is very expensive, it's not true We pay $3 a liter, which is only a quarter gallon That's the reason why they don t sell a lot of American cars in Europe, unless they sell it in diesel

"No Italian people can own a Mustang, Corvette or Hummer, Ripellino said 'You have to be very rich to afford American cars We have more Japanese cars because they are less expen-

However, that's not the case in and around Toronto, where the Big 3 have a major pres

'If you drive around, you ll see more American cars than Japanese," said Nauman Farooq, a writer for Driving Emotion in Toronto "Maybe it's because of the value, you get a bigger car for less money Maybe it's more of a favoritism to our neighbor to support the brands'

Farooq said Toronto is the auto capital of Canada, but their auto show doesn't even compare to Detroit's

Toronto's is a much smaller show, and we don't get too many unveils, Farooq said 'If you want to see all the latest, greatest concept cars, Detroit is the show to come

While the car companies may be on a downward slide, the City of Detroits image is getting two-thumbs-up by journalists

'I love Detroit because of the history here, said Ripellino 'Something happened in the past that changed the world, the beginning of the production of cars in an industrial way And for music, Motown was born

Ripellino said she feels safe visiting Detroit, but that was n't the case when she first covered the auto show seven years ago

JOHN STORMZAND | STAFF PHOTOGRAPH

Bernd Wieland of Germany (from left) and Naga Tan and Baeng Halin both 🚉 from Indonesia, were among the thousands of members of the media who converged on Cobo Hall for the 2007 North American International Auto Show

'I had a perception of a town after the war, Ripellino said 'You took the sky train (People Mover) and there were destroyed skyscrapers

That was the same impression Hisadome had of Detroit during his last visit 10 years

I saw the city a little bit ruined and not so clean, said

Hisadome, who was trying carefully to be diplomatic Icame back and I think it's becoming cleaner and there is new construction in certain areas of downtown I think its a symbol of recovering of the city

Chiefs floor Plymouth with last-minute run

Plymouth High School doesn't have a swimming pool, but that didn't stop Canton basketball player Neil Sharma from executing an Olympic-caliber, armsextended, floor-burns-be-darned dive during the closing stages of Tuesday night's important cross-campus showdown against the Wildcats

With Canton clinging to a 40-39 lead, 2 05 left on the clock, and the basketball rolling past half-court and toward Plymouth's basket, Sharma — with a pair of Wildcats players in hot pursuit — went horizontal and grabbed the loose ball while simultaneously signaling for a time

The play set the tone for the contest's final two minutes, during which Canton outscored the feisty Wildcats, 7-1, to escape with a 47-40 victory Canton's fourth straight victory improved its record to 4-4 overall and 1-0 in the WLAA's Western Division Plymouth slipped to 3-5 and 0-1, respectively

We needed the ball back, so I did what I had to do to get it,' Sharma said of his late-game effort play 'I like close games like this, especially games with this kind

Wildcat coach Tom Van Wagoner said he wants to see more plays like Sharma's - but from his own team

"We need our guys getting down on the floor like that more,' said Van Wagoner 'Canton seemed to get to more loose balls than we did The same thing happened Friday against Churchill

"On the positive side, we had a couple guys step up at key times Dan Jeong r.ade a big three and Kulraj (Sandhu) played well

The Chiefs' ultra-balanced attack was led by Steve Paye, who netted 12 points and five rebounds Sharma and senior center Ryan Waidmann both scored 11

while grabbing six rebounds a piece Senior guard Josh Butler rounded out the Chiefs balance sheet with nine

Junior guard Brandon Roberts led the Wildcats with 10 points Kulraj Sandhu added eight points and four rebounds while junior guards Myion Puryear and Navraj Sandhu contributed seven points

I thought our kids handled the pressure well at the end of the game and we made at least the front-end of the oneand-one free throws down the stretch," said Canton coach Charlie Paye "Plymouth had a couple of good looks at

Digging for wins

Salem bumps Plymouth in three games to earn the honor as the Park's finest

It's far too early to predict how Salem's vollevball team will do in its quest for Western Lakes Activities Association and Division 1 District titles this season, but this much is already certain The Rocks rule the "Park"

On Monday at Plymouth, Salem secured its status as the No 1 team at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park by sweeping the Wildcats, 25-17, 25-11 and 25-14 in a WLAA cross-over match The Rocks' convincing triumph came on the heels of last weeks threegame sweep of Canton

'Defensively, we played very well, as did Plymouth," said Salem coach Amanda Suder "We only had eight errors all night, which is very good We didn't have a lot of service errors either, which helped

"I was impressed with Plymouth They're very young, but their back court did a nice 10b and their blocking was awesome, too The victory improved Salem's record to 17-1-

Supreme courts

HVS adds hoop to its sports menu

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

It's OK now to touch a bouncing or airborne ball with your hands at High Velocity Sports without getting whistled for an infraction.

In fact, it's a necessity now that the most renowned indoor soccer facility in the metropolitan Detroit area has added four new, top-of-the-line, hardwood basketball/volleyball courts to its already-impressive sports offerings

The gleaming new side-by-side courts, which are located in the facility's northwest quarter, replaced a rollerhockey rink as part of an "extreme makeover' project that should make the area's basketball and volleyball enthusiasts smile from baseline to

"These courts are the best you can get," assured HVS assistant general manager and director of basketball operations Darren Van Hevel 'A lot of places are putting in synthetic wood because it's faster to install and cheaper But this is hard maple, which is the highest quality court out there A lot of people think the synthetic courts are more slippery, and they don't hold their finish The hard maple, on the other hand, is what is used in college and high school gyms

Van Hevel said the new HVS courts are very giving, which is ideal for anyone suffering any kind of knee or joint

"There's a layer of foam stapled under the plywood and the hard maple, so it's more cushiony than the synthetic courts," said Van Hevel "These courts are more springy than the portable

Hoop traffic has been slow since the courts were finished in late December, Van Hevel said, but he predicted that will change once the word gets out about the popular facility's newest attractions

"Our ultimate goal is to do with basketball what High Velocity Sports has done with indoor soccer,' said Van Hevel "We're going to offer youth and adult leagues, kids programs and clinics for basketball and volleyball We're going to focus on getting a lot of walkin traffic to play pick-up ball and on developing the in-house leagues, but we may have some weekend tournaments, too

"The feedback we've received has

Canton's wrestlers pin Walled Lake Western under the spotlight

Throughout Canton's wrestling match against visiting Walled Lake Western Jan 11, it was hard to determine what was brighter the spotlight that illuminated the mat, or the Chiefs' side of the scoreboard

Performing in front of what head coach Casey Randolph guessed was the biggest crowd to ever watch a home Canton dual meet, the Chiefs surged to a 19-0 lead before burying the over-matched Warriors, 50-21

The victory improved fifthranked Canton's dual-meet record to 14-1 (1-0 in the WLAA's Western Division) heading into next Thursday's huge home showdown against eighth-ranked Livonia Franklın

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday January 18 2007

The estimated crowd of 500 got a chance to witness the unveiling of the 'Final Four" banner the Chiefs' football team earned last fall, performances by the Chiefettes pom-pon squad and — most importantly — a thoroughly dominating performance by Canton's grapplers, who made the most of an opportunity to wrestle under a spotlight for the first time in the Phase III gymnasium

One of the Chiefs' many highlights was the effort of freshman Keith Zech, who capped his first varsity dualmeet match with a pin against Western's Carl Hamina

"Phil Rollinger's win at 119 was huge, too," Randolph added

Canton roared to a 19-0 advantage after the first four matches thanks to pins from Donnie Watkins (103 pounds) and Carl Lucke (112), and major-decision victories from Rollinger and 125-pound Steve Cox

Other key triumphs for the Chiefs were Brent Winekoff's pin of Justin Neal at 130, Corey Phillips' 18-3 win over Joe Veertevil at 145, Kiel Prices 7-1 verdict of Joey Hajal at 171 and Adam Powers' convincing decision over Steven Vannanele at 189

CANTON'S DUAL-MEET RECORDS. 2 1 overall 2 O WLAA 1 O WLAA Western Division

1 overall and 2-0 in the WLAA Plymouth slipped to 10-6-3 and 1-1, respectively

"I was very pleased with our team's defensive efforts, especially Rachel Heaton (15 digs), Clare Baptist (11 digs) and Chelsey Quinlan (six digs)," said" Plymouth coach Kelly McCausland "Salem is one of the strongest offensive teams in, the WLAA, and one of our main goals for the week was to be able to stop the offensive threat of Teresa Coppiellie, Lauren Kurtz and Jansan Falcusan.

"Jansan runs an outstanding offense and Lauren and Teresa have the ability to dominate a match They earned many of their kills, but we made some outstanding defensive digs when we needed them Unfortunately, we were not able to turn the momentum around by converting our defensive efforts into an offensive attack"

Coppiellie led the Rocks with 15 kills, two aces and five blocks Salem was also bolstered by the outstanding play. of Kurtz (11 kills and 10 blocks), Falcusan (33 assists), Courtney Seiler (18 digs) and Alicia Goodes (eight digs and two aces)

Plymouth mustered just 14

"I am looking forward to working diligently this week on balancing our defensive and offensive chemistry so that we can be successful in the WLAA," said McCausland

Salem opens Lakes action with big win

Salem opened its Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division slate Tuesday night with a 59-48 victory over visiting Livonia Stevenson

The victory improved the Rocks to 4-4 overall and 1-0 in the division The Spartans slipped to 1-6 and 0-1, respec-

"We emphasized to the kids this week that the first seven games didn't mean anything, but this one counts," said Salem coach Bob Brodie, whose team knocked off state-ranked Northville on Friday "Every game in our division is going to be a test It's going to be up for grabs, so we need to come to play every night"

Grant Stone and Brian Baumgart definitely came to play for the Rocks Stone twined a team-high 17 points while Baumgart notched his first career double-double (11 PREP HOOP points and 11 boards) Danny Cassidy scored nine while Ross Davis yanked down a gamehigh 12 rebounds

Luke Knochel kept the Spartans in the game, scoring a season-high 30 points Chris Mulcahy scored 10 for Stevenson

Salem led 13-12 after one quarter, 27-23 at the half and 43-36 with eight minutes to

"We kind of muddled through the first half," said Brodie Stevenson took it to us in the beginning We stepped up our defense in the second half'

CANTON AGAPE 65, MACOMB CHRISTIAN 25: On Tuesday night ın both teams Mıchıgan

Independent Athletic Conference Red Division opener, the Wolverines surged to a 39-20 halftime lead and never looked back

The victory boosted the Wolvernes' overall record to 4-3, Macomb dropped to 1-6

Ty Majeski led the winners with 16 points Senior guard Jack Anleitner chipped in with 11 points on 5 for 5 shooting from the field Will Pientowski added seven points while three Wolverines — Jared Miller, Terrell Pierce and Showla Olojo

— netted six each Both teams hit 9-of-14 free

'Coming into this game, we figured it was going to be a dogfight, and it was Their guards are very solid and their big guy, (Jake) Hager can score The kids knew it wasn't going to be easy and we know its not going to be easy when we play them again in two weeks at our place

Canton led 13-11 after one quarter, 21-20 at the half and 34-31 with eight minutes to play The Wildcats grabbed their first lead of the second half with 3 20 left when Kulraj Sandhu scored on a driving layup Thirty seconds later, the Chiefs regained the lead, 40-39, on a Butler jumper from 15 feet

Sharma and Roberts exchanged single free throws with 34 2 and 271 seconds left, respectively Sharma then added another free throw with 25 1 seconds to go to put the Chiefs ahead, 43-40

Following a timeout, Plymouth threw the inbounds pass to Navraj Sandhu, who turned and fired a 20-foot triple from the right wing that hit the back of the rim before settling into the hands of Canton senior guard Ryan Langdon The Chiefs drained four free throws down the stretch to seal the deal

We got the ball into the hands of our best three-point shooter, said Van Wagoner "Navraj got a good look, but it dıdn't fall Give credit to Canton for making their free throws down the stretch"

Canton hit 17-of-39 field goals (43 8 percent) and 11-of-19 free throws (578) The Wildcats made half their shots from the charity stripe (5-of-10) while connecting on 16-of-40 field goals (40 percent)

Lions' Furre

Detroit Lions wide receiver Mike Furrey talked about his path to the NFL, temptations facing young athlete and how character has played a major role in his career Sunday night to student-athletes at Madonna University 1

Furrey, a Canton resident who led th Lions with 98 receptions this season and posted 1 036 receiving yards, talked about his unique journey to the NFL and how his faith in Christ and personal determination kept him from giving up on his dream

With more than 100 Madonna student-athletes, coaches and community members in attendance Furrey hit on the five core values of the NAIA Champions of Character program respect responsibility, integrity serva

y tells MU students about keys to success in athletics, life

teadership and sportsmanship

5 "You must have respect for your teammates and for the plan God has in your life," Furrey told the crowd assemrbled at Kresge Hall 'You have a responsibility to yourself and your teammates as a college athlete to

'always do your best to leave it all on the field

'Later in life you will have a responsiif bility to your spouse, your children and ryour family,' Furrey added Now you have a responsibility to be the best teammate you can be'

- Furrey also talked sportsmanship, reiting an example from this year's Detroit Lions team

'I made it my personal goal this season to be the first person to congratulate Roy Williams (fellow Lions receiver) every time he caught a ball, Furrey said I have the utmost respect for my teammates and other receivers in the league, and I believe that in today's NFL, with many players having a 'mefirst attitude, that I would not be that type of person?

The focus of Furrey's message was about the doors that are always open to people in life, even though they may not see them, or take them for granted at the time

'God has opened so many doors for me," Furrey said But it wasn't until I played for the XFL in Las Vegas and began attending Randall Cunninghams bible study that I realized I had to make changes in my life in order to take advantage of what I was being

The lighthearted Furrey kept the crowd laughing with stories from the NFL and took questions and answers ranging from life with the Lions to the biggest hit he has ever taken

"I hate being hit, Furrey said Did anyone see the Dallas game (referring to a first quarter shot he took from Dallas safety Roy Williams)? I got my head knocked off

Furrey ended the talk by telling the Madonna athletes to exhaust themselves" on a daily basis

Always be first, but always be exhaust ed, Furrey said 'Without hard work, respect for your teammates and coaches, responsibility to yourself, your team and your family and without personal integrity, you may not see or take advantage of the plan that has been set for you

Canton resident Mike Furrey the leading receiver on the Detroit Lions this past season spoke to students at Madonna University

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku This mind bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so snarpen your your sudoku savvy to the test

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box Each number can appear only once in each row column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

FIND THESE WORDS IN THE PUZZLE BELOW.

MOOD AT WORK-DAY S START INFLUENCES PERCEPTIONS

The mood call-center customer service representatives (CSRs) take to their desk at the beginning of the day will influence their perception of a customer's n mood, according to Nancy Rothbard, assistant professor at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, and Steffanie Wilk, associate professor at Ohio State University's Fisher School of Business They observed 29 CSRs, an extremely small sample, whose average age is 39 years and of whom overall, 77 were women All worked in the East and West Coast call centers of a major insurer

Rothbard and Wilks unpublished paper, Waking Up On the Wrong Side of the Desk Sources and Consequences of Employee Affective Reactions on Work Performance, maintains that moods vary at the beginning of the day and that a favorable mood may well anchor a full day Wilk states that workers in a positive mood tend to view interactions with customers more positively Specifically, they see customers moods as more positive TRAINING

One extremely interesting finding is that while positive customer interactions did influence employees affective reactions, negative customer interactions did not The experience of Kirsten Scott, one of 7,500 home-based call center agents

(employees) of Alpine Access of Golden, Colo, confirms that

The average age of the CSRs working for Alpine is 38 They bring a lot of work experience, averaging a full 15 to 20 years Scott believes that competition for call center jobs is lively, so that workers who bring maturity and professionalism will be able to overcome negative interactions We do get tough calls occasionally, but we go through a very thorough training program and are well-equipped to deal with each situation, she says

We re also given the authority and the tools we need to resolve almost any customer complaint ourselves, she continues, which helps us provide superior customer service without long hold times or transferring a caller to several different people Part of the training involves attitude shaping We see negative customer interactions as an opportunity to wow a caller with our service and leave them happy, Scott explains This supports the research finding that appropriate training helps workers rise above negative work interactions

Rothbard and Wilk note that customer service workers are trained not to internalize the moods of customers, but to be objective and respond professionally Those who can't may leave

Scott was trained virtually, with a large component of self-study, over about two and one-half weeks She refers to her first day of work as a breeze once you put all of the knowledge you ve been given to work

It s extremely important to put yourself

Kirsten Scott, a home-based customer service representative for Alpine Access in Golden, Colo , supports some findings about mood and customer interactions detailed in academic research fro Ohio State University's Fisher School of Business in the customer's shoes, she comments, and remember how frustrated you would be I feel it's very important to show empathy When I m speaking, that customer has my complete attention I have all of the tools needed to make that customer happy

Scott also observes that attitude is extremely important There is never anything that can t be fixed up with a little TLC and a smile, she remarks I find that as soon as the customer hears that I do care and empathize, we re well on our way of turning that negative call into something more positive

Waking Up suggests that workers in general arent trained how to manage the mood they bring with them to work expect themselves to emotionally regulate at work Why is this?

There are some things that we need to train ourselves to do so that we can be accountable not just to our employer, but to ourselves In this case, we need a combination of concentration and discipline For many of us, diligence is also part of the equation.

CAReport

By Dale Buss Avanti NewsFeatures

It's all well and good how a vehicle performs in the routine of life or how it meets meaningless demands such as taking off like a dart from a stoplight But for me, where the rubber really meets the road is whether what I'm driving comes through in times of stress - or even distress

And on that score alone, the Audi A3 S-line hatchback has won my endorsement The 3 2 Quattro version of the 2007 vehicle delivered me to and from my destination last weekend -- during Sunday's swirling prelude to Monday's metro-wide ice storm - with flying colors

Sunday wasn t a promising day for travel around southeastern Michigan, but we had to make a fivehour round trip nonetheless Heading westbound on Interstate 94 between Ann Arbor and Jackson, the reason for all the travel warnings that day became suddenly - and scarily - apparent I began to notice a car here, a truck there pulled over dangerously to the side of the interstate And then, ın my rear-view mirror, an SUV about a quarter mile behind me began spinning wildly, hurtling into the median and up a ridge therein, and almost into oncoming traffic before the driver could stop it

But in our A3, we were unperturbed and kept steaming ahead Three of the vehicle's features, in particular, gave me both confidence and performance that day

First was the game-saving reliability of Quattro, the four-wheel-drive system that had helped Audi become a pioneer in four-wheel-drive in the US market and that still gives Audi vehicles a huge advantage in the sedan marketplace Despite the icy treachery beneath the vehicle, $\bar{\mathbf{I}}$ never for a moment felt anything other than a sense of complete control over the A3 and a firm belief that the car could respond 100% to my direction, even on some slick surfaces

"The S-line's styling is anchored by the full Audi-grille treatment in the front and the lines that taper up and to the rear of the hatchback car."

Our second advantage that day was the fact that I was driving the 3 2-liter version of the A3 S-line rather than the 2 0-liter turbocharged version The 3 2 is the flagship of the S-line lineup, sporting 250 horsepower compared with the 200 horsepower provided by the 2 0 turbocharged Both versions offer Audi's excellent, twin-clutch Direct Shift Gearbox automated-manual transmission But the most germane aspect of the 3 2 here was the simple fact that it weighs a few hundred pounds more than its 2 0 counterpart, giving the A3 I was driving some substantial ballast for a relatively small car

The third trip-saving feature evident on the A3 on Sunday was a windshield clearing system that automatically provides the right frequency of wiping to match precipitation levels on the window On a day in which not only the volume of precipitation falling from the sky but also its form – snow, sleet and rain - varied wildly, the automatic wipers not only provided the right visual environment for me but also saved me from having to make dozens and dozens of manual adjustments myself

It was no surprise, then, to find out that the A3 was named a Top Safety Pick by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety

But the husky-like reliability of the A3 S-line isn't all the car has going for it, of course Styling-wise, the A3 provides an interesting interpretation of the usual marks of Audi styling, including a long front grill and oversized tires The A3 s upswept design, as you proceed from the front of the car to the rear, makes it look fast on the outside and feel cozy on the inside

And of course, at prices topping out around $40,000, the A3 offers plenty of other amenities, including rear side-impact bags, a navigation system, Bluetooth wireless connectivity, high intensity discharge headlights, satellite radio and a Cold Weather Package featuring heated seats, heated washers and heated mirrors Another favorite feature of mine is the rear sunroof, which provides a great antidote to the cooped-up feeling that you can get in the back of this vehicle because of the high window lines

That brings me to the only other significant drawback about this car It's still pretty small, and a hatchback to boot, so don't count on doing a lot of cargo hauling with the A3 S-line Even in the front seat, both the driver and passenger seats feel just the slightest bit small

But if you're looking for a vehicle that cuts through the cold reliably, responds elegantly to your ; driver's will, and looks good doing so, A3 S-line should be on your list

Used car prices take hard tumble New car incentives push used car marketplace to record low by J L Sims Independent ad features.

Livonia, MI - A Livonia dealer is selling 2006 vehicles for one-half of the original manufacturer's list price And they're offering many other 2006 models far below normal market values The low financing offered by GM, Ford, and Daimler-Chrysler mesmerized so many buyers that far fewer shoppers even bothered looking at pre-owned 2006 models

How does 0% financing on a new model do in a heads-up comparison to a pre-owned 2006 model? In the instance of the Buick LaCrosse, financing $21,960 plus tax vs $9995 plus tax, the payments on the new car at 0% interest would be $392 monthly for 60 months, but only $269 monthly at 3.9% for 60 months on the program model With the prime at a record low, today's interest rates are very competitive Many credit unions charge under 6% for auto loans if the applicant has a good credit rating And when purchasing the used 2006, don't forget that you'll be saving about an additional $1,000 in sales tax and licensing fees (Taxes estimated at an average of 6%).

John Rogin Buick sold over 150 Buick LaCrosse & Pontiac Grand Prix's in the first 30 days of their sale.

A "program" car is a vehicle that has been leased by a premium rental company through a special "program" from the manufacturer. Strict maintenance is required, and all vehicles are carefully inspected upon return in many cases, these program units receive better maintenance than vehicles owned by private owners

John Rogin Buick-Livonia has long been known as Michigan's "bargain hunting" dealer. Currently, they're selling more other dealer in the nation (Over 150 Pontiacs & Buicks were sold during the first 30 days of their sale) Last year they sold the most pre-owned 2005 Impalas and Pontiac Grand AMs in the nation from their single location. And the vear before they set the sales record selling the most off lease GMC Yukons and pick-ups

Today's real bargain can be found at John Rogin in the pre owned 2006 vehicles. The low financing on new 2006 s has left the used models unnoticed and overlooked So with far fewer dealers purchasing these units the prices have dropped to record

So once again John Rogin has gone shopping for the vehicles with a huge cart. They have just made a multi-million dollar purchase of these units from accommodate their massive General Motors bringing in truckload after truckload from across the country in addition to filling their giant used car facility to the brim John Rogin had to lease additional storage lots to acquisition of vehicles And they currently stock the largest inventory of 2006 program cars in Michigan The purpose of 0% financing is to clear out the remaining new 2006 s in another week or two these vehicles will all be gone along with the incentives in the meantime the 2006 program vehicles are truly today's sleeping bargain But they II soon disappear as smart shoppers begin to wake up and recognize the real deals

John Rogin Buick is located at 30500 Plymouth Road between Middlebelt and Merriman in Livonia Their used car superstore may be contacted directly at (734) 525 0900 Monday Friday during normal business hours

Bargains abound in pre-owned 2006 program vehicles

ıke many people, I packed on a few extra pounds over the holidays And like many people, I'm now trying to burn them off

Luckily, I have a secret weapon that's making the job easier CalorieKing Handheld Diet Diary, a program that runs on Palm OS PDAs (like the Tungsten E) and smartphones (like the Treo)

As you probably know, the only proven way to lose weight is to burn more calories than you con-

Handheld Diet Diary (calorieking com) helps you do the math, tracking your caloric intake by logging the foods you eat and calculating the calories you burn through exercise Yep, it's a fancy calorie-counter But it's a really good one, and I've found it has numerous advantages over traditional calorie-counting

Savvy

Rick Broida

For starters, because it lives on your PDA or smartphone, it goes where you go There's nothing extra to carry or remember Whenever you eat something or exercise, just pull out your device and log it The program includes a database of more than 50,000 foods, including thousands of items from popular restaurants, so it's relatively easy to log everything you eat What's more, CalorieKing releases an updated

methods

food database every week, though you have to download and install it yourself Finally, the program keeps a running tally of your allotted calories for the day (based on a profile you create), meaning you can instantly determine the impact of what you've eaten or plan to eat some sort of Law & Order fantasy As with most things we try on our little WOMC morning radio show, the end result is supposed to be humorous

The purpose of our entanglement with the above mentioned group is to decide the winner of the 2006 edition of the Wacky Warning Label

Purtan

Bob and his gang at Michigan Lawsuit Abuse Watch cull through the many entries they receive and present us with five of the wackiest finalists We ask our listeners to vote on the winners In case you missed the intense on-air campaign I will recall the finalists in reverse order

In fifth place was a timely warning from the annals of the BellSouth Yellow Pages Please do not use this directory while operating a moving vehicle. We have always preferred using a booster seat, but the advice ıs well taken

Coming in at number four was a paper lottery ticket from (where else?) California

Our friends on the left coast leave no variable unturned when they provide the following warning Do not iron. I hope they provided the same advice in

Our third wackiest warning is a true sign of the times The folks at Motorola recognize that we not only multi-task but we mix out technologies, as well

Hence the label on one of their cell phones that cautions Don't try to dry your phone in a microwave oven. How unnecessary Everyone knows you should throw it in the dryer On delicate

At number two, and trying harder, was this from a Sea Doo personal watercraft Never use a lit match or open flame to check fuel levels.

Clearly, these folks have never watched an old Road Runner cartoon I can remember quite clearly Wile E Coyote doing that very same thing to his rocket or motorcycle or something Sure, he got a little singed, but he turned out all right

And finally, our (drum roll) wackiest warning label of 2006 is from a washing machine at a public Laundromat DO NOT put any person in this washer. Duh! Washing machines are for cleaning pets, not people

This process proves that truth is always stranger than fiction Try as we might we would never be able to come up with warnings as wacky or un-common sensible as these

To think that teams of lawyers spent tons of billable hours poring over every potential litigious possibility to prevent stupid people from hurting themselves Makes you wonder why, doesn t it?

Get a good start with a healthy breakfast

BY MARY KLEMIC STAFF WRITER

Breakfast is called the most important meal of the day

But when it comes to actions instead of words, breakfast is often treated as though it doesn't

If you've been meaning to take action about eating a healthy breakfast, well, it's a new year And here's some extra motivation January is Oatmeal Month

More about oatmeal later First How important us breakfast?

"Its an essential meal It gets your metabolism revved up,' said registered dietitian Gail Posner. nutrition counselor, owner and president of Healthy Ways Nutrition Counseling of West Bloomfield

'Study after study shows that eating breakfast helps you stay focused and not lose attention during work or school'

'It's very important," said Terry Godfroid-Marecki, who was a cardiac registered dietitian at the University of Michigan Medical Center and the University of Cincinnati Hospitals, and is now a member of the Livonia City Council

If you're eating the right way, you aren't snacking after dinner, she said

You ve been without food for all that time (while you sleep)"

People who regularly eat breakfast are more likely to maintain a healthy weight And breakfast is a chance for you to get nutrients you might miss out on during the

"If you eat breakfast and get hungry you're not eating the right breakfast," Posner said

A healthy breakfast should consist of protein - such as an egg, meat or yogurt - and fiber - such as toast, fruit or cereal Protein and fiber will keep you satisfied until lunch

Some other components are complex carbohydrates and healthy fat Low-fat yogurt, nuts, whole-grain pancakes, and pancakes with peanut butter are healthy examples

Avoid sugary cereals, syrups, pastry and white breads They're digested quickly, and you'll soon be hungry and tired

"I think the big thing is to balance it out," Godfroid-Marecki

"Have a protein, have a fruit, have a carbohydrate Every meal should be balanced so you have that satiety'

Satiety is the feeling of fullness you get at the end of a meal The more satiety you feel, the less

Act fast to get stains out of carpet was thinking about what might be a good wintertime subject after the holidays

In the past I have written about subjects from snow removal to energy savings, and several other winterish topics This year, I'll take a little different twist

The holidays, with the many gatherings, often abuse the flooring, and it's carpeting that seems to get the worst of it

If something spills on a carpet, it's important to take action quickly Most modern carpets have been treated to be stamresistant This doesn't mean stain-proof

Many spills can be removed if immediate action is taken A delay increases the likelihood that spill will become a permanent stain

Before using any spot removal agent, test it in an inconspicuous area Some spot removers will damage the fiber or the dye of certain carpets

If the cleaner seems to be safe for your carpet, apply a small amount of the spot remover to a white cloth, and gently work it into the stain

Work from the edges of the stain toward the center This helps to prevent the stain from spreading require repeating several times Here are several common difficult stains and ways to remove

Handheld Diet Diarys interface is relatively easy to navigate, though I encountered an occasional problem with the search tool Suppose I look up Cheerios The results look like this

Breakfast Cereals, Ready to Eat Cheerios

Arbor ($232)

Breakfast Cereals, Ready to Eat Cheerios, Honey Nut Breakfast Cereals, Ready to Eat Cheerios, Multi Grain

The problem is, these list ings are too wide for my handheld's screen, so all I see is 'Breakfast Cereals, Ready to Eat C'I can't tell which variety I've selected until I select it, and if I pick the wrong one, I have to go back and guess again

Fortunately, by choosing a smaller font size, I was mostly able to work around this issue

The bigger problem, for me at least, is eating out Although the database contains lots of restaurants, it obviously can't cover everything

If I get an order of chicken and broccoli from my favorite Chinese joint, how do I log that? I don't know whats in it or exactly how much I ate Of course, that's not really the program's fault If I limit myself to quantifiable foods (those I buy at the store or from restaurants in the database), it's pretty easy to stay on track Sure, you might miscount 50 or 100 calories by day's end, but as long as you come close to your target, you'll lose weight

I have proof A couple of years back, my wife used a sımılar program, BalanceLog (now discontinued), to drop 30 pounds I'm not promising you'll have similar success, but I can tell you that Handheld Diet Diary is an even better program It's also a pretty good deal at $29 95 Once you get accustomed to using it, you'll find it almost addictive — but in a good way If you want something similar for your Windows Mobile-based PDA or smartphone, try Diet & Exercise Assistant (keyoe com), which costs $24 95 It's also available for Palms

For anyone who's serious about sticking with this year's weight-loss resolution, a program like this could be the tool that, ahem, tips the scales

the country Yet even as popcorn goes gourmet, it remains a nutritious snack for every day

According to The Popcorn Board, popcorn is "a magical experience," and there's a kernel of truth to that. Making popcorn is a treat you can hear, smell, touch — and especially taste So in honor of National Popcorn Day on Jan 19, heres a look at some local pop culture

DALE & THOMAS POPCORN

Popcorn lovers have been lining up outside of Dale & Thomas Popcorn in places like New York, Boston and Palm Beach for

When the company officially opened a shop in Royal Oak on Thursday, the scent of fresh popcorn drew a crowd in metro Detroit as well Customers 'popped' in for flavors ranging from Chocolate Chunk n' Caramel and Sweet Georgia Pecan to Southwest Cheddar-Chipotle and Sweet & Spicy BBQ.

Hailed as one of Oprahs 'favorite things,' Dale & Thomas popcorn is cooked up by the "world's first popcorn chef,' Ed Doyle

Å graduate of the Culmary Institute of America, Doyle is the face of the company, while Wikipedia lists former Detroit Pistons star Isiah Thomas as a partner

In addition to its storefronts, Dale & Thomas has a catalog and Internet business Shop for gift baskets filled with gourmet treats like licorice, dipped pretzels, buttered popcorn-flavored jellybeans, popcorn truffles and, of course, popcorn

Orders are now being taken for the first-annual Ultimate Football Game Party Box, which includes eight bags of flavored popcorn and a pigskin-covered

bowl for $38

GAME DAY TREATS

Football fans are gearing up for the hottest event of the season and will come hungry for plenty of great action and super snacks! Here are some ideas from The Popcorn Board

CARAMEL ALMOND POPCORN CLUSTERS

10 cups freshly popped popcorn 2 cups whole almonds 1 cup firmly packed light brown

1/2 cup butter or margarine 1/4 cup light corn syrup 2 teaspoons vanilla

1 teaspoon almond extract 1/2 teaspoon baking soda

Preheat oven to 225 degrees Fahrenheit Spray 15-by-10-inch baking sheet with non-stick spray Mix popcorn and almonds in large bowl

Combine brown sugar, butter and corn syrup in medium saucepan Over low heat, stir mixture until sugar dissolves Increase heat to high and boil 5 minutes Remove from heat, stir in vanilla, almond extract and baking soda

Pour over popcorn and

Chocolate-Covered VIP
Almond-Pecan Corn, the company also provides giant bags of popcorn for events at the Fox
Theatre and Joe Louis Arena and sells everything from commercial grade popcorn machines to kernels and oil

Sales are brisk during the holiday season and for football par ties, according to David Farber, who bought the company 18 months ago from its ailing

Everybody loves popcorn," Farber said It's a nice healthy treat

Farber said he is trying to turn business around by offer-

Bake for 1 hour in preheated almonds, immediately stirring

Bake for 1 hour in preheated oven Cool completely Break into pieces and store in airtight container Yields 20 pieces

TOUCHDOWN TREAT

4 quarts popped popcorn
1 cup unsalted cocktail peanuts
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup honey
1/2 cup water

In a large buttered bowl, combine popcorn, peanuts and raisins Keep warm.

1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine honey, water and lemon juice in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, cook and stir over medium heat until mixture reaches 250 degrees Fahrenheit, or hard ball stage on a candy thermometer

Pour over popcorn, toss to mix thoroughly Turn onto a buttered jelly roll pan or large baking pan Bake in a preheated 300-degree oven for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally Yields 4 quarts

ing creative new products such as the Historical Detroit Popcorn Tin ($27.95 and up), which fea tures photos of local landmarks and is stuffed with any combination of popcorn treats

Farber also is promoting his party rental business, including popcorn machines that add a professional pop to parties

"One of the big selling factors in our machines is that we put fans in them that blow the scent around the venue," Farber said "The more you smell it, the more you want it"

Detroit Popcorn Company also specializes in 'popcorn education, so we asked Farber for a couple of trade secrets. He said to cook popcorn with coconut oil, and use a deep kettle

If it's not deep enough, the popcorn won't be fully expanded It will have a harder, chewy consistency, Farber said

'A deeper kettle lets it expand to 50 times its size. Its softer, more flavorful, and you'll get less grannies, which are unpopped seeds'

lıkely you'll snack

"You have to like it, you have to have time to make it and eat it," Posner said about breakfast

DATS

The Quaker Oats Company shares the following information about oatmeal

Oats are a source of soluble and insoluble fiber

Eating 3 grams of soluble fiber from oats each day, as part of a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet, lowers blood cholesterol, which could reduce the risk of heart disease. Insoluble fiber helps the digestive system

People with diets higher in fiber tend to weigh less

Among other nutritional benefits of oats are vitamins, minerals, antioxidants and protein

Oatmeal is just one way whole-grain oats can be part of breakfast (see recipes)

All oat forms provide the same nutrients in the same amounts. The only difference is the way the oat has been cut and/or rolled. This affects cooking time and texture, not nutritional content.

NON-TRADITIONAL

Breakfast doesn't have to be traditional If you don't like breakfast food, have something left over from the night before, such as chicken, some casserole, or a slice of pizza with some fruit

Another non-traditional approach is to make breakfast two smaller meals

For example, the About Nutrition Web site suggests eating a hard-boiled egg at home, then taking a break from work one or two hours later and snacking on an apple and a handful of healthy nuts, such as pecans or walnuts

The Real Simple Web site (www.realsimple.com) offers ideas for fast, healthy breakfasts that you can eat on the go, including

■ Take an apple, wrap 1 to 2 ounces of cheddar cheese in plastic, and put 1/4 cup of fiberand protein rich walnuts in a resealable plastic bag. This balanced, make-ahead morning

OATMEAL HIGH-PROTEIN PANCAKES

Makes four to five pancakes 1/2 cup oatmeat (old fashioned oats uncooked)

1/2 cup egg whites or Eggbeat ers 1/2 cup low fat cottage cheese

1/8 teaspoon vanilia Preheat skillet sprayed with

Blend all ingredients

Cook a few minutes until bubbly flip pancakes, and cook until browned.

FRUIT AND RICE CEREAL

Makes 2 servings 1 cup quick cooking brown rice 2/4 cup low fat milk (soy milk works)

1/3 cup mixed dried fruit bits (raisins work OK) 3 tablespoons brown sugar

1/8 teaspoon sait
Dash of ground nutmeg
In a large saucepan bring about 1-1/2 cups of water and the salt to the boiling point. Add rice and dried fruit.

Cover and simmer 12 to 14 minutes or until the rice is ten der and liquid is nearly all absorbed. Stir in milk and nutServe with brown sugar Recipe from www.mrbreakfast.com

BANANA BARS

Makes 12 servings 4 cups uncooked regular or quick oats

11/2 cups mashed ripe bananas" (about 3 bananas)

1 cup packed brown sugar 3/4 cup butter or margarine softened

1/2 cup raisins (or dried prunes or apricots) 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or other favorite nuts other favorite nuts 1/2 cup sunflower seeds 1 egg

1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon ground connamon

Preheat oven to 350 degrees
Prepare a 13- by 9-inch baking pan with cooking spray
In a large mixing bowl, cream together the butter and sugar until consistency is "fluffy" Addegg, bananas, cinnamon and salt and stir Add all remaining ingredients and stir until mixed well

Spread mixture into baking pan

Bake about 50 mmutes or until a toothpick inserted comes out clean

Allow bars to cool before cutting into squares and serving, These store well in the refrigerator for a week. They are also good when still a little cool from the refrigerator
