Canton beefs up radio system

By Darrell Clem Observer Staff Writer

Beefing up its radio communications, the Canton Public Safety Department is expected to gradually switch during the next year to a new 800 MHz system that improves a critical tool used by police officers and firefighters, links to a statewide network and adheres to federal-level changes mandated by Jan. 1, 2013.

The new system also comes as Canton needs to upgrade its equipment as it inches closer to potentially consolidating its central dispatch system with at least one other community, Livonia.

"It's the first step toward any consolidation," Public Safety Director Patrick Nemecek said Tuesday as police and fire officials rolled out the 800 MHz plan to Canton's elected township offi-

The price tag is estimated at $1.3 million to $1.5 million and would likely be paid from sources such as federal Homeland Security and Byrne Justice Assistance grants, along with emergency 9-1-1 funds. The plan calls for shifting Canton from an aging VHF radio system to the far-superior 800 MHz that has seamless, statewide coverage via the Michigan Public Safety Communication System.

"It's the largest system of its kind in North America," Fire Chief Tim Dunn said, though other states have similar towerbased systems.

Local officials don't anticipate that Canton would need to build a new communications tower but, rather, the township likely could rely on towers already built or planned in neighboring commu-

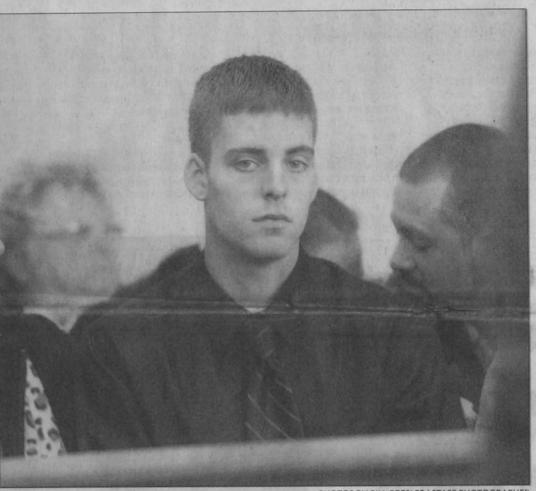

"Not having to supply (and pay for) a tower is big," Nemecek said, because that cost could be an additional $1 million.

Essentially, the new system would enhance the ability of police officers and firefighters to effectively communicate during emergencies — including those that can spill outside Canton during incidents such as high-speed chases. On occasion, Nemecek said, radio communication has dropped during such situations, hampering crime-fighting efforts and resulting in glitches he called "unacceptable."

Victim testimony sends driver to trial

A Westland teen testified in gruesome detail Friday how a driver ran over him twice and dragged him a quarter-mile along a Canton road as he struggled to survive by clinging to hot pipes underneath the car.

Jahlil Wilson's testimony in 35th District Court indicated the July 2 attack followed a violent clash between two groups - one of them affiliated with a gang called Loyalty Before Respect - outside a house party near Woodlong and Beck. He denied gang involvement and said he was dragged until his buttocks were seared off and his spine was exposed.

"It was just horrible," Wilson, 19, said. "I never saw anything like this, and I don't know how someone could do this to someone who's innocent."

His testimony - much of it challenged by a defense attorney - prompted Judge James Plakas to conclude a preliminary hearing by ordering 20year-old Rodney Manning of Westland to stand trial for assault with intent to murder, operating a vehicle while

District eyes magnet school

By Brad Kadrich Observer Staff Writer

Shakespeare once wrote, "That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet.'

Plymouth-Canton administrators might be putting that contention to the test with one of the district's biggest Supt. Jeremy Hughes Tuesday asked for, and received, permission to develop a marketing plan and details for a Magnet School for Talented and Creative he said would enhance, not replace, the district's Talented and Gifted program. Hughes believes the popular TAG program, which houses nearly 150 students each year at Miller Elementary, could be expanded to draw nearly three times that number if the magnet school gets off the ground. It's an idea that has been bandied about recently, and Hughes believes the district has Hughes to run with it now if it's to start with the 2012-13 school year. "We need to proceed with planning if we're going to have a magnet school," Hughes told the board Tuesday. "This is the time of year when we begin accepting applications. We need to let our community know we're going to be open to more applications than we have in the past."

The magnet school would start with five classrooms each in third, fourth and fifth grades and would hold some 445 students. According to Pete Kudlak, the district's director of elementary education, the curriculum would be diversified, with alternate curricula in content areas such as math and science. He said the magnet school's offerings in "specials" could stray from traditional offerings such as gym, music and arts to offer such things as chess, Chinese, technology and design.

Kudlak said the school wouldn't have any in-district boundaries, meaning students from anywhere in the district could apply.

Trustee Barry Simescu questioned the potential curriculum.

"I need to be convinced that gym and exercise, and music, should be eliminated," Simescu said. "I need to be persuaded on why we need not to have gym with the obesity issues we're dealing with in the United States.

Kudlak said the magnet school would cost the district some $85,000 to set up, though $14,000 would be saved in reduced costs for paraprofessionals. Administrators also believe the program could increase revenue by attracting students currently attending charter or private schools.

Hughes also noted some have questioned the timing of the idea, because the district just hired Plante Moran CRESA to conduct a facilities study, the result of which could be the elimination of a school.

She accused Caldwell of pulling her

The woman's testimony convinced Plakas to order Caldwell to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on four counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count each of first-degree home invasion, stalking and domestic violence.

Caldwell could face penalties ranging up to life in prison if he is convicted. He remains jailed with a $1 million/10 percent bond as he awaits trial, meaning he would have to post $100,000 for his release.

The woman testified that she suspected something was amiss when she entered her home and wasn't greeted by her dog, who had been moved to a sun porch. She said she had known Caldwell over three years but they had split up.

"We had decided that it wasn't working, and we were going to try to remain friends," she said in court.

bond at $10,000. The charges stem from a dispute that erupted last Sunday inside the sports center on Michigan Avenue west of Belleville Road. Campbell has been accused of pulling a .40caliber semiautomatic handgun from a backpack and firing two shots after he left the facility.

Campbell told police he was a Canton resident, though his driver's license had a Westland address.

No one was wounded during the incident, and Canton police took the suspect into custody after rushing to the scene of the 7:30 p.m. incident, Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said.

The dispute erupted between two opposing teams of friends who had been playing basketball inside the popular sports center in Canton's Victory Park, police said.

"We took reports alleging there was a skirmish between two basketball teams of young adults," Schreiner said. "One of the players allegedly went to a backpack, pulled out a handgun and wielded it in a show of intimidation.'

Schreiner has said witnesses alleged the suspect ran outside and fired two shots in the air before tossing the gun into the trunk of a vehicle. Police confiscated the gun at the Residents who need police or fire services aren't expected to notice any disruption of service during the gradual transition.

"It should not affect the residents at all," Nemecek said.

Deputy Police Chief Robert Kerr said Canton would have to buy new radios because the current ones cannot be reprogrammed for the 800 MHz system. However, he said it's possible the township could sell the old radios and generate some income.

Nemecek said Canton could opt for other ways of complying with new federal mandates, though linking into Michigan's statewide system appears the most logical and effective

Gardener cultivates VIPS award

By Brad Kadrich Observer Staff Writer

With tongue completely in cheek, West Middle School Principal Clint Smiley said he was somewhat "embarrassed" with his nomination of Christine Ethier-Turner for the Plymouth-Canton Volunteer in Public Schools award Tuesday.

Ethier-Turner was honored by the Board of Education for her efforts to beautify the courtyard at West Middle School. Ethier-Turner, a master gardener, spent more than 100 hours over the summer on the entrance courtyard at the school. The problem, from Smiley's perspective, was that to get the master gardener designation, Ethier-Turner needed to restore what Smiley called a "homely" area and she chose West Middle School.

"She lovingly took a rather disheveled and rundown area and turned it into a school entrance which would impress anyone," Smiley said. "Even the students who enter and exit the building through this courtyard have commented on the beautiful improvements."

In addition to improving the courtyard, Ethier-Turner trained West Middle School staffers on the care of the various plantings, and created a notebook that includes schematic drawings of the plantings and a care guide for each.

Ethier-Turner said she volunteered at the school for years and finally went in and asked if she could "prune your roses, because they're driving me nuts." She said her desire to fix the roses convinced her "I really do need a project."

"It's been a joy," Ethier-Turner told the board

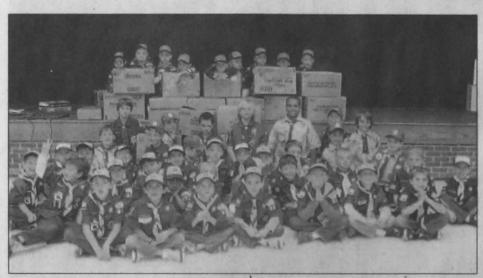

Tuesday. "I love it." Board of Education Trutsee Barry Simescu said Ethier-Turner exemplifies the criteria of the VIPS award.

"An outstanding parent who has been a very important cog in making the district what it is today," Simescu said of Ethier-Turner. "The middle school students noticed it, and appreciated it."

Hands-on civics

High school students enrolled in Darrin Silvester's civics course will be performing a service learning project Nov. 23 at the Shearer Cemetery on North Territorial Road in Plymouth Township. Students will be at the cemetery learning about the community's first settlers and the preservation of their burial grounds. This is an ongoing project since the summer of 2005. In the past six years, students have created paths in the cemetery, cleared trees, helped to restore burial headstones and improve the site as much as possible.

Cultural learning

More than 300 seventh-graders at West Middle School will be learning about the Arabic culture in a special assembly provided by the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn Tuesday, Nov. 29. The museum is sending expert speaker Sonya Kassis to present two, one hour presentations at the school. Students will learn the countries of the Arab world, how the Arab world is different from the Middle East, who are Arab-Americans and students will get an introduction to Islam.

W-W gets state's best practices money

LOCAL NEWS

By Sue Mason Observer Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland schools officials got good news from Lansing in the district's most recent state school aid payment an extra $100 per student.

The money is tied to the district meeting the benchmarks for best practices. It comes after the district sent a school board a resolution that certified that the district had meet four of the five best practices needed to receive the incentive.

"It's worth about $1.2 million," Gary Martin, deputy superintendent for administrative and business services, told the school board in seeking approval of the resolution. "We comply with four of five and I feel confident that we will meet all five with the development of a service consolidation plan."

The incentive is one of two one-time $100 state aid categoricals offered by the state to offset the rising retirement rate and massive losses in state school aid. Wayne-Westland saw its state school aid cut by $470 per student this year and lost another $238 per student when the $6 million it received in lieu of millage disallowed at the start of Proposal A cut in it half this year.

"This $100 helps and we are grateful, but it is a drop in the bucket to the $750 per pupil we were cut this year," said Superintendent Greg Baracy.

Schools districts received an additional $100 per student this year to soften the jump in the percentage of payroll paid for retirement, and could get an additional $100 per student, if they meet at least four of five of Gov. Rick Snyder's best practices.

According to Martin, Wayne-Westland's four best practices

'We have 99 percent of the (dashboard) information on our website, but they want us to go through the state," said Martin. "However, the state hasn't created the format yet.'

The fifth best practice is a consolidate service plan that the board also has approved. The plan spells out the steps Wayne-Westland has taken to consolidate services with other districts. While the district has many consolidated services in place, Martin highlighted two in the resolution - the countywide special education center program the district operates for six disability categories and the shared time agreements it has with districts like Crestwood and Melvindale-Allen Park to provide their students with career/technical classes at the William D. Ford Career Technical Center.

"We have 10 in place," said Martin of the agreements. "This saves money for our district and for our sister districts."

But Hughes believes the magnet school is a good idea regardless of the outcome of the study.

"We believe so strongly in the kind of academic program that's represented here, the benefit this will be to our children, more of whom now will be able to have the challenge of this accelerated program," Hughes said. "We think we can have this program regardless of whether Plante Moran recommends we close a school or not."

"It can't be the same program expanded," Davis said. "I'm not sure we're looking at the idea in a way our community will support."

But Hughes said the magnet school will very much include current TAG criteria, but would expand the mold of students who qualify.

"I wanted a door open for a parent or teacher to recommend a student be involved who has a talent that's not necessarily measured, but who could very much profit by it," Hughes said. "The TAG program has been a jewel for this district for a long time. I think offering it to more students is a marketing plus in this dis-

Lotus Gallery closing but will keep online store

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, November 20, 2011

By Matt Jachman Observer Staff Writer

The Lotus Arts Gallery, an exhibition and retail space in downtown Plymouth, is closing its doors after more than six years at Ann Arbor Trail and Harvey.

Walt Menard, who owns Lotus with his wife, Mary, said they had the opportunity to sell the building recently and did so. Lotus will continue to operate through its website, Menard said, but will have only warehouse space with no public showroom or retail space.

"When you own the building and you're paying rent to yourself, that's not bad," said Menard, who collects art at his own home. "When you do quite a bit of your sales on line and you accomplish the same thing, you don't need to have that extra expense, for sure."

Menard said the on-line portion of the gallery's business has been growing steadily.

Lotus, previously on Main Street south of Wing, opened on West Ann Arbor Trail in April 2005. The last day of business will be Friday, Dec. 23.

The building was sold

Menard said a tenant in the Lotus building, Kitchen and Bath by DeGiulio, Lotus had a good run in Plymouth, said Menard, who also owns a residential construction firm.

"I thought it was very good," he said. "We loved the location. People loved the gallery — they thought it was a fantastic space for an art gallery."

Artist Nancy Pitel, whose work is now on display at the Lotus as part of the Reckless Prophets show of work by 11 women, which opened Nov. 11, said she was saddened by news of the gallery's closing.

The Lotus, in particular, is a beautiful venue in a beautiful city. Visiting the Lotus, with its large windows, beautiful architecture and wonderfully displayed art, is a relaxing experience that is needed in today's stressful life," said Pitel, who paints in acrylics and draws in several media and also does collages.

An on-line gallery, Pitel added, doesn't offer the same experience.

"My fear is that we are losing the beautiful things that give us such pleasure and contentment in our lives," she wrote.

Friends help cancer patient with their Sky Lights of Love

Hearing the words "You have breast cancer" once in a lifetime is more than enough. But to hear those words twice, it's life-shat-

That's how wife and mother Amy Rauch Neilson described the news she received back on Jan.

"I couldn't believe what my oncologist was telling me, I was diagnosed with Stage 4 breast cancer - and this diagnosis came after I had already had a double mastectomy and had been pretty much declared 'cured' following my Stage 1 diagnosis in 2006," she said. "I looked at her and said, 'How is it possible to get breast cancer when I don't even have breasts anymore."

Sadly, it is possible in a small number of women who have undergone a double-mastectomy in the hopes of getting rid of their breast tissue - and any chance of a breast cancer recurrence.

"When I was diagnosed as a Stage 1 in 2006, our son was just six months old," said Neilson. "I told the doctors that I wanted to do everything possible to get rid of the cancer and ensure it would never come back."

A former Observer & Eccentric employee who lives in Belleville, Neilson learned she was a carrier of the BRCA 1 gene and had opted for a double-mastectomy and four preventative rounds of chemotherapy - given to her as a type of "insurance policy" against any rogue cells that may have been floating around in her body. She was four years and 10 months clear of breast cancer when she found a lump in early January

"I couldn't believe it," she recalled. "It was wedged between my left implant and my skin."

Neilson began twiceweekly chemotherapy treatments Feb. 1, and has so far undergone 44 treatments. Her breast cancer, which spread into her breast lymph nodes and lungs, has remained stable or shown signs of shrinkage in periodic CT Scans and MRIs.

Unfortunately, the reality is that, due to her ongoing chemotherapy treatments, Neilson, who is self-employed, has not been able to work a full schedule since her diag-

While Neilson is "praying for the Lord's healing and remission," her friend, Kristi Kahl, is organizing a Dec. 3 benefit to help Neilson pay some of the medical expenses.

The Sky Lights of Love Benefit is the way her friends and family are coming together to help her and her family get through this crisis,' Kahl said. "At first, Amy didn't want to accept the help. That's when I told her that asking for help doesn't mean you've failed, it means you're not in it alone."

A few weeks ago, Neilson's husband, Don, was driving home from work in his pickup truck when he first heard I'm Gonna Love You Through It by Martina McBride on the radio. He was so deeply moved by the song that he had to veer over to the side of the road afterwards and pull himself back together.

The next day, he forwarded the music video to his wife with a simple message: You need to watch this, babe. Neilson did, and her reaction mirrored her husband's. Tears flowed and she found great strength in the knowledge that, like her husband, so many people everywhere stood strong in this fight together with their loved ones, right by their side, every day, every moment,

"I can't imagine what it would feel like to have so many people gather around you to release lanterns of pure white light heavenward," Neilson every surgery and treat-

That's when Kahl decided it was time for her friend to experience it for herself. That was the inspiration behind Sky Lights of Love at the Van Buren Township Lookout Point in Van Buren Town-

Lanterns are $10 each, with proceeds to go to Amy's Benefit for medical bills. To purchase a lantern, go to www. itsinthegenes.org, and click on the "Events" tab. Lanterns are available by advance purchase only, via PayPal, through Nov. 27. The event will be held 4:30-6 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 3, at the park at 50901 S. I-94 Service Dr., between Belleville and Rawsonville roads. Check-in will begin at 4:30 p.m. Neilson will speak at 5:30 p.m. and the lantern release will happen at 6 p.m. sharp.

Neilson and her family are aiming for complete remission. In between treatments, "Amy lives life to the fullest," said Kahl.

"You'd never know by watching her on her offchemo days that she has cancer," Kahl said. "She is out there, carving pumpkins with her husband and son, going on hayrides, riding tractors, hosting a barbecue you name it. She is a true inspiration."

Neilson, who is a professional writer and editor, began blogging about her experiences in May 2009. But following her January 2011 diagnosis, hits and subscribers to her blog, www. itsinthegenes.org, skyrocketed. She now has thousands of subscribers in all 50 states and 18 countries.

Canton firm celebrates National Home Care Month

Approximately 12 million Americans receive in-home health care from home health care providers every year. In their honor, United Home Health Services joins the National Association for Home Care & Hospice in celebrating November as National Home Care Month with the theme: Because There Is No Place Like Home.

LOCAL NEWS

Movie-goers worldwide know this famous line from The Wizard of Oz. According to United Home Health Services officials, millions of people feel like Dorothy did, longing to go home, especially if they're aged, disabled, or ill and in a hospital or nursing home.

Unlike Dorothy, these individuals do not need ruby slippers or the help of a good witch to stay in their homes.

They just need a little extra help and that's where home care comes in. Whether they need a nurse or therapist a few times a week or a caregiver for a few hours a month or 24 hours a day, home care keeps people safe and healthy in their own homes.

The benefits of home care, officials said, will become even more evident as the baby boomers age. Moving into a nursing home is one of their greatest fears, and there's a good chance they won't accept this fate. The boomers marched for civil rights. They rallied against the Vietnam War. They protested the draft and they are still breaking the rules. Most boomers want to remain in their own home as they age gracefully and remain a part of their community.

Through modern technology, home health care has grown far beyond basic care. Today's home health agency offers a wealth of nursing, therapy, dietary, lab, monitoring devices, telehealth, medical supplies and equipment, and personal care.

For more information, call (734) 981-8820 and refer to United's website at www.uhhs.org.

Farmington Players bring twist to 'A Christmas Carol'

The Farmington Players will bring Charles Dickens' classic ghost story to life in a whole new way Dec. 2-18.

This fresh approach to A Christmas Carol, finds Dickens himself hosting a Christmas Eve party in 1843 for friends and familv. They ask him to tell a story, but he refuses to work - so, if they are to be entertained they will have to improvise their own tale.

They soon transform into the familiar characters of A Christmas Carol, to perform a play within a play. The story unfolds with 10 cast members handling more than 40 parts and Dickens doubling as Scrooge.

On the Farmington Players stage, Dickens/ Scrooge is played by wellknown Barn member Dorne LeFere, who most recently portrayed Max Bialystock in the Barn's spring musical, The Pro-

LeFere enjoys switching between Dickens, whom he calls a "fun loving full-of-life writer," and the crotchety Scrooge, who interacts with the ghosts of Christmas past, present and future on the road to redemption.

"I love the challenge of going between the characters, sometimes within the same paragraph," says LeFere.

He believes audiences will be captivated by the unique version of the familiar holiday fable.

"The story is so timeless and uplifting that you can't watch it without coming away feeling good," says LeFere.

Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Santa's Elf is a story about Santa while delivering presents on Christmas Eve accidently leaves behind one of his elves and three kids must find a way to return him to his North Pole home before he loses his elfish powers. Webster is personally publishing the book through IdeaWorks LTD.

As with his Snowville book last year, Webster plans to donate some books to Children's Hospital of Michigan and do a reading at Tonda Elementary School in Canton where wife Cathy teaches second grade.

Variable annuities can be costly and restricting

By Rick Bloom Guest Columnist

Q: Dear Rick: I have a variable annuity that is maturing. I started with about $75,000 and now it's only worth about $65,000. I know what you think of variable annuities and I wish I would have listened to your advice. Since I'm under 591/2 and the annuity is maturing, can I cash the money out? The agent is suggesting that since it's in an annuity, I have to move it into a different annuity. If I can cancel the annuity, what are the tax consequences? Can I write my losses off?

In fact, in many situations because of penalty provisions and lower minimum rates of return, it makes more sense for people to leave their money in the current annuity as opposed to transferring into a new annuity.

Some annuity salespeople like to entice you with the bonus programs that many annuities offer; however, many of these programs are very gimmicky and you have to be very careful. Sometimes when you read the fine print you realize that the bonus is not really a bonus at all. Therefore, just because someone tells you that if you move money from one annuity to another you'll get a bonus, that does not mean it's a good deal for you.

your losses. This is one of the downsides of variable annuities. They have adverse tax consequences for most investors. The reason for this is, you cannot write off losses. If you had purchased those same investments outside of a variable annuity and you had losses, those would be eligible to deduct.

Another downside of variable annuities, from a tax standpoint, is that if you do have a profit, when the annuity is cashed out that money is taxed at your ordinary tax bracket and not the favorable capital gains rate. Most Americans are in a 28-percent ordinary income tax bracket, but their capital gains rate is only 15 percent. Therefore, even though variable annuities grow tax-deferred, they defer you into a higher bracktheir taxes are nearly doubled by investing in a variable annuity.

Besides the adverse tax consequences of variable annuities, another reason that I'm not a fan of them is because of the costs. Variable annuities are typically stuffed with high fees. Every year you own a variable annuity, you end up paying these high fees which make it difficult for an investor to make money.

Variable annuities also typically will limit your investment options and have very high penalty provisions. I believe that investors need flexibility and variable annuities do not allow much flexibility.

There are situations where a variable annuity may be appropriate. These are limited situations and in those cases, the variable annuities I recommend will be ones through Fidelity or Vanguard. These variable annuities have very low fees and no penalties. In other words, if after year one or two you decide to exit the annuity, you can do so without penalty. In most other variable annuities, if you left an annuity after a couple of years, you could pay a penalty as high as 10 percent.

If you have a variable annuity or any other that no longer has a penalty period, don't automatically roll it over into another annuity. Review your options and then make the decision that works best for you. Good luck!

Gregory Zambo came to Four Seasons following a stroke at age 54. His sister, Deborah Taracuk, appreciates the care her brother received at Four Seasons. "He was in the hospital for 54 days - intensive care for a long time, and then rehab in the hospital. It was difficult for him to move his right arm and leg. With the guidance of Four Seasons physical therapy team, Gregory worked on strengthening equipment as part of his treatment plan. Today he is walking without assistance. He was in some kind of therapy every day", said Deborah, and especially appreciated the individual attention given to patients. "Everybody knew my brother's name and made a point of checking on his progress," said

2011-12 BOYS HOCKEY PREVIEW PT. 1

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Canton senior goalie Spencer Craig (No. 30), shown from last season, looks to build on his record-setting junior season. He set a new school mark for shutouts.

Breaking the ice

Chiefs could gain momentum as team meshes

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Jeremy Majszak is mixing and matching, figuring out how he's going to roll out the 2011-12 Canton varsity boys hockey team.

He knows he has a stud goaltender in senior Spencer Craig, who set the school mark for shutouts last winter.

But the first couple weeks of the new season will find third-year head coach Majszak deciding on the best line combinations and defensive pairings.

"This isn't going to be like last year's team by any means off the get-go," said Majszak, whose Chiefs finished 16-7-2 in 2010-11. "Last year's team brought a ton of returners and a lot of size and we came out of the gate just hammering people. "This is a team that's going to get better and better with every game."

Majszak stressed that most of this year's players — even those back from last season — are getting used to new roles.

"Our go-to guys this year are guys that last year played on the third or fourth line," he said. "And all the other guys are brand new ... everybody's kind of finding themselves, jumping into their role and they're going to grow."

Learning curve

During that learningcurve period, the Chiefs will lean heavily on Craig, who posted eight shutouts and 15 victories last year.

"It's going to be huge for us, he's going to be able to win games on his own," said Majszak, when asked about how key it was to have Craig back between the pipes. "Having a goalie like that allows us to learn from our mistakes."

But sophomore goalie Robbie Beydoun is looking ready to steal away some of co-captain Craig's playing time.

"Robbie's playing well," the coach said. "He's got very good positioning, good quickness and reflexes."

Meanwhile, Canton does have some returning forwards and defensemen who Majszak expects to have solid years.

The top two lines have experience, grit and speed, which should lead to balanced scoring.

Majszak has not designated a No. 1 line yet.

As the season began, senior winger and co-captain Duggan Tear was set to play on a line with senior center Shawn May and promising sophomore newcomer Ian Fagan.

"He (Tear) brings some size and great playmaking skill," Majszak said. "He's looking to step up on the scoresheet."

Fagan is new to the varsity level, but he brings plenty of experience playing with AAA teams through Victory Honda and Compuware.

Ready to step up

A player to watch is Grillo, who's finally getting healthy after suffering a broken arm during summer hockey.

'Cats ready to go to work

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Last year from his perch behind the Livonia Stevenson bench, coach Gerry Vento liked how the Plymouth varsity boys hockey team went about its business.

Now, he'll get an even closer look at the Wildcats as the team's new head coach, taking over the job from Paul Fassbender.

"Having played them a couple times, they're always a hard-working team," said Vento, a former Detroit Catholic Central player who was with Stevenson's hockey program for four seasons. "I know they had great support from the booster club and I just wanted to be a part of it."

The no-nonsense Vento expects the Wildcats to continue bringing their hockey hard hats to the rink.

"We're going to be a hard-working team," Vento noted. "Like I told the boys, I don't know how many games we're going to win but I know we're not going to be outworked any night."

New home rink

The Wildcats also will be going to work at a different place this winter. PART 2

Look for Salem boys hockey preview in Thursday's Observer

They left Compuware Arena for the Canton Arctic Edge, where there was room after another team folded.

At Arctic Edge, players will have more of an intense prep hockey atmosphere with their fans jamming a muchsmaller seating area than the spacious Compuware.

Their first game at Arctic Edge as the home team is 7 p.m. Wednesday against Canton.

Vento and Canton head coach Jeremy Majszak do not expect any carryover from the brawl between the teams late last season that resulted in several player suspensions.

"I believe we turned the page," Vento said. "I mentioned it once at the beginning of the season. Nobody in our locker room is really proud of that moment.

"I wasn't here for it, obviously I heard about it. But I don't expect any issues whatsoever."

Several players back from the 2010-11 team that finished 7-9-8 in the KLAA South Division will

CLASS D VOLLEYBALL QUARTERFINAL

Despite loss, PCA has season to remember

By Tim Smith Observer Staff Writer

Plymouth Christian Academy came out strong Tuesday against defending Class D state champion Battle Creek St. Philip in a quarterfinal at Bronson. But the Eagles could not sustain their early level of play and wound up falling 3-1 to the No. 1-ranked Fighting Tigers—the same team that beat PCA in the 2010 Class D final.

"We came out in the first set with guns blazing," Eagles head coach Kelly Blackney said, about PCA's 25-21 win in Game 1. "We totally controlled that game. Our passing was incredible and our offense was able to put the ball down."

Then the Eagles, ranked second in Class D, hit the wall.

One reason might have been not having one of their best players (senior outside hitter Amy Zinn) at full strength because of illness.

Tough to sustain

"We realized going into the second game that it was going to be difficult to maintain such a high level of performance and energy, and we were proved right," Blackney said. "St. Philip had two outside hitters that we just couldn't stop.

"They made it difficult to set up our offense, and thus we lost the next three sets."

St. Philip finished off the Eagles with wins of 25-14, 25-13 and 25-12.

The loss marked the end of senior middle blocker Kristin Malcolm's outstanding career. She tallied 20 kills along with five digs.

Other key seniors included Zinn (six digs), libero Jessica Rich (seven digs) and Sarah Howard (eight kills). Sophomore setter Jenny Malcolm contributed 29 assists.

The PCA careers of seniors Katelyn McCormick and Leah Manning also came to a close with the defeat.

Blackney saw the positives in the loss to the perennial powerhouse, namely that the Eagles won a game as opposed to being swept (the 2010 result).

"We didn't go down without a fight," she said. "And winning that first set proves that we, as a team, improved throughout the season."

She's proud

The coach said she is "incredibly proud" of the team and that she wouldn't trade coaching "such a Godly group of young women who love volleyball and each other" for a handful of state championships.

PCA finished with a record of 43-7-4 and collected conference, district and regional crowns along the way.

St. Philip (57-4-2) squared off *Thursday afternoon against Crystal Falls Forest Park at Kellogg Arena in Battle Creek.

Another title for JV Steelers

The "Steel Curtain" came down on the Redford Rangers Sunday afternoon in the Western Suburban Junior Football League's junior varsity Super Bowl.

Fueled by an inspired defensive effort in the second half, the Plymouth-Canton Steelers claimed their second consecutive WSJFL title when they upended the Redford Rangers, 43-28, at Westland John Glenn High School.

After the Rangers battled the Steelers to a 28-all halftime deadlock, the Steelers' punishing defense asserted itself during the final 24 minutes, shutting out the Rangers thanks in large part to strong play from defensive ends Matthew Poet and Vinny Convertino; and linebacker Ryan Young.

The winners' "Steel Curtain" defensive line of Jacob Miller, Nick Saker and Joey Ahearn also stepped up big-time in the pivotal second half.

Offensively, Dylan Stackhouse was a scoring machine for the Steelers, racking up five touchdowns. Isaac Emminger also found a lot of success on the ground for the Steelers, scoring a TD. Scott Gregor, Vincent VanDerRoest and Chase Willis opened up sizeable holes for the Steelers' running backs.

The head coach of the Steelers is Angelo Lanava.

A layup from Williams and another Schuba triple made it 41-31 MU with 26 seconds left in the half.

Omar Thomas hit a runner in the lane as time expired in the half to send the two teams into intermission with Madonna on top 41-33.

A 17-5 run out of halftime by the Crusaders - sparked by 11 points from Schuba - put MU on top 58-38 with 15:37 left in the game.

The Madonna lead ballooned to as many as 30 during the second half as all 12 Crusaders in uniform scored.

Thomas paced Marygrove (2-2) with 15 points. Darryl Dixon and Marcus Hopkins added 13 apiece.

Lady Ocelots stop Raiders, 91-78

The unranked Schoolcraft College women's basketball team extended its NJCAA record home court winning streak to 65 in a row with a 91-78 triumph Wednesday night over Grand Rapids Community College.

Schoolcraft overcame a 36-point outburst by Grand Rapids forward Janelle Ellis-Johnson to improve to 4-0 overall.

tributed 15 points and eight boards, while Diamond Tolliver also contributed 15 points and five assists. Charlise Slater added nine points and five assists.

It was 36-all at halftime before Schoolcraft opened the second half on a 17-5 run to take a 53-41 advantage with 16:13 remaining.

Grand Rapids (2-2) would get no closer than nine the rest of the way. The Raiders shot 51.8

The Raiders shot 51.8 percent from the floor and committed 39 turn-overs on the night.

Schoolcraft shot .48.8 percent (39-of-80) and had 19 steals.

All-Observer boys set fast pace in cross country

ALL-AREA FIRST TEAM Derek Gielarowski, Sr., Plymouth: It's an impressive list of accomplishments racked up by Gielarowski this season.

He had a personal best time of 15:50, tied for the second best in school history. Then he earned all-state honors by placing 12th at the Division 1 state meet.

Gielarowski is the first Plymouth runner to make the state meet all four years of his prep career.

He also was the firstplace finisher at the D1 regional with a 16:09 mark and came in second at the KLAA Kensington Conference meet at Huron Meadows (16:08) and Wayne County Championship with a time of 16:15.

"Derek is an amazing runner and is very coachable," coach Jon Mikosz said. "He showed all year he was one of the top runners in the area and the state. He will be hard to replace next year."

Miles Felton, Sr., Canton: The senior and four-time, first-team, All-Observer selection capped an outstanding prep career which included a school record (15:59) and twice being named team MVP.

Felton again made first-team All-KLAA and owns Canton marks for the fastest freshman, sophomore and junior.

At the Wayne County Championships at Willow Metropark, his time of 16:51 was good for sixth place and an all-county medal (top seven).

"Mike is arguably the most talented runner in school history," coach Bill Boyd said.

Mitch Clinton, Sr., Canton: Another senior who put together an incredible high school career at Canton, Clinton earned his third selection to the All-Observer and All-KLAA teams. Like Felton, he collected two team MVP awards.

This season his personal best of 16:37 at the KLAA meet enabled the Chiefs to finish third Boyd said his consistency sparked Canton's KLAA South Division

He came in 22nd at the Wayne County Championships with a mark of 17:18, which earned him an honorary all-county medal (places 22-35).

"Mitch is one of the greatest runners in school history," Boyd said. "His hard work and consistency make him a leader admired by his coaches and teammates."

Zane Berlanga, Soph., Plymouth: The sophomore had a breakout season, with his personal record of 16:33 at the KLAA conference meet earning him sixth place not to mention it being seventh best in school history

Berlanga was 32nd at the D1 regional (17:16), but he has two more years to rise in the charts.

"Zane is just starting to realize his full potential as a runner," Mikosz said. "Once he figures it out, he should constantly be one of the top runners in the area."

Dalton also had a personal best of 16:56 and finished 26th at the D1 regional with a time of

"He got in his groove midway into the year and never looked back," Mikosz said. "He was one of the most consistent runners that we had on the team this year. We are looking for big things from him next season."

Ryan Wise, Sr., Churchill: The senior was Churchill's first Division 1 state qualifier since 2007 after placing 179th overall in 17:13.9.

He qualified by taking 13th at the Willow Metropark regional (16:43.9) and also added a ninth at the Kensington Conference meet (16:40) and a seventh at Wayne County (17:07.5)

Wise was also Livonia city meet champion (17:08), fifth at the KLAA Invitational (16:47.7), sixth at Monroe Jefferson (17:07.5) and eighth at the MSU Spartan Invitational Green race (season-best 16:20).

"Ryan had very good season and was our number one runner all year," coach John McGreevy said. "He has been an absolute joy to coach. Ryan was our hardest worker in practice and was an excellent leader. He was well liked and respected by his teammates, who appreciated his love of running and enjoyed his good natured spirit.

Aspinall. McEvilly had his season's best time of 16:34 at the KLAA meet which enabled him to make first-team all-conference. At the regional, he finished 16th (16:50) to barely miss qualifying for the state meet. The 11th best runner among juniors in school history (16th overall) will look to push up into the top 10 next year and get his name on the Salem record board. His time of 17:11 at the Wayne County Championship was good for 17th, and a third-team, all-county medal (places 15-21). "Steve has been our vocal leader and our leader by example for a couple of years," Aspinall said. "He puts in more miles than any other member of the team during the off-season, and his performances indicate that." Stephen Fenech, Soph., Stevenson: The sophomore placed 19th at the tough Division 1 regional at Huron Meadows (16:06.5) after finishing 10th in the Kensington Conference (16:50.8).

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Ocelot spikers earn plaudits

Several players from the Schoolcraft College women's volleyball team earned postseason nonors led by sophomore defensive specialist Lauren Macuga (Canton), who made first-team All-NJCAA Region 12, All-MCCAA and All-Eastern Conference.

Macuga also earned All-District E Tournament honors as the sixth-seeded Lady Ocelots (29-14) reached the semifinals before losing to second-seed Owens Tech nia Churchill) earned third-team All-Eastern Conference and was also selected to the All-Conference Freshman team.

(Ohio), 3-0. Sophomore outside hitter Amber Aldrich (Fowlerville) was named second-team All-Eastern Conference, while setter

All-Eastern Conference honorable mention selections included sophomore outside hitter Chrissy Maleske (Churchill) and sophomore setter Kelly Mac-Donald (Salem).

Baker, a senior, benefited from playing on one of Canton's top lines last season.

Taylor is able to make plays happen as well as score occasionally," Majszak said.

Looking to make his mark is junior Cox, who impressed Canton coaches over the summer with his improved offensive game.

"He showed us he can put the puck in the net," Majszak said. "He wants to step into that role this year."

Knocking on the door for equal time is the third forward trio, featuring seniors Andrew Gorski, Derek Voight and Jon

Rizzo. "On any given night, you can take those lines and really toss them up," the coach said. "It's not a huge drop-off between the three (lines) as of now."

Other forwards are seniors Michael Conklin, Charlie Steslick and sophomore Christian Flack. Spearheading Canton's defense are senior co-captains Zach Cox and Brandon Schlieger. "Both of them bring a lot of stability back there, and size."

"We're going to look for him to jump in right away and get things done for us," Majszak said. "He's a big, strong kid as well (and) he's played AAA his whole life.

"So he's coming from playing in a lot of the big AAA tournaments. From that, he's going to bring a lot of experience on that blue line.'

Returning defensemen Brad Ceci (junior) and Zack McArdle (senior) will form another unit. Senior Taylor Greenshields and junior Chandler Berlin are also available to help out on the blueline.

Although it might take a little while for all the ingredients to jell, Majszak is confident the new-look Chiefs will compete in the KLAA South.

"We have some speed, we have some size, we have some talent," he said. "But it's putting it all together as a team and being able to do that."

Brighton spoils debut for new Plymouth coach

By Tim Smith Observer Staff Writer

The Gerry Vento era for Plymouth Wildcats boys started Wednesday night against host Brighton at the Kensington Valley Ice House. It wasn't the kind of beginning the former Livonia Stevenson coach might have envisioned, as the Bulldogs parlayed four power-play goals into a 6-1 victory.

But Vento said the Wildcats will immediately go to work on some of the problem areas that the Bulldogs exploited.

"We got into penalty trouble and our penalty-killing wasn't the greatest tonight," Vento said. "But Brighton's a solid team. They're big, they're physical.

"We knew we were going to have our hands full tonight, but we'll get better."

Vento added that the Wildcats will be "a much different team come February, when it matters. We're just starting out now. Guys are learning their roles and taking their lumps.'

Brighton jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead in the Kensington Conference crossover tilt when Daniel Bosio (two goals) scored against Plymouth senior goalle Rich Guglielmi.

Less than three minutes later, Scott Schueneman tallied the first of his two goals and Brighton enjoyed a 2-0 lead.

At 2:03 of the second period, the Wildcats sliced that lead in half as junior forward Spencer Godin beat Bulldogs goaltender James Milletics. Junior forward Mitch Claggett made a perfect centering pass that Godin, standing near the right post, onetimed into the cage. Drawing the other assist was senior forward Jeremy Cigile.

But a Plymouth doubleminor for cross-checking just 38 seconds after the goal curtailed any momentum.

Brighton went up 3-1 during the second half of that advantage. Guglielmi made a pad save, but the rebound bounced right to Troy Marrett and he hit the mark.

Then another Brighton power play led to another goal at 7:16, when Schueneman also deposited a rebound past Guglielmi.

Brighton tacked on goals in the third by Alex Sauchuk and Joseph Borst.

The game was Guglielmi's first since he played travel hockey as an eighth-grader, having focused on baseball throughout high school. But Vento didn't blame Gug-lielmi, who showed a quick glove and solid positioning. "I thought he was outstanding," Vento said. "There were no issues in net for us tonight. You give up four power playgoals it's tough. Playing 5-on-5, it's 2-1.

Next up for the Wildcats is Wednesday's contest against Canton at the Arctic Edge. The puck drops at 7 p.m.

Forget the frozen dinner for one this Thanksgiving Day.

Volunteers from both churches donate foods, time and effort to the cause. Children and teens help usher and

Our Lady of Loretto has welcomed the community to its free turkey dinner for nearly a dozen years. Newburg United Methodist Church will serve a free Thanksgiving Day feast for the first time on Thursday.

"Last year we found that more people were hanging around and there was less going out of town for Thanksgiving," said Sarah Nadeau, Newburg's youth and young adult ministry coordinator. "With the economy, a large dinner is out of the picture for families. With the amount of church folks we have around and the economy, it was a good year to try something like this.

"Hopefully it will be a success and will meet the needs of the community."

The church will provide the turkey, stuffing, vegetables, cranberry sauce and rolls for the meal. Volunteers have donated pies. Nadeau expects 30 volunteers will help with set up on Tuesday and Thursday, with more pitching in on Thanksgiving Day.

Nadeau said the dinner is open to all and not just the needy.

"We're even having whole families come from the church just to be in fellowship and community," she said.

Red carpet rolls out for movie premiere

If you want it produced, they will come — to Michigan, that is.

When the Hallmark Hall of Fame wanted to make Mitch Albom's New York Times best-selling book, Have a Little Faith, into a made-for-TV movie to air on ABC and the Hallmark Channel, Albom said it had to be on his terms.

Instead of pow-wowing in a ritzy board room in Hollywood, Albom insisted that the powersthat-be come to Albom's beloved turf — Detroit. And even more beloved, he had them come to the central "character" of the book — and the eventual catalyst for the formation of Albom's A Hole in the Roof Foundation — the I Am My Brother's Keeper Ministries/Pilgrim Church.

They met Senior Pastor Henry Covington who is portrayed magnificently by Laurence Fishburne. Sadly, Covington died last December at the age of

The Hallmark Hall of Fame production of Have a Little Faith will air at 9 p.m. EST, Sunday, Nov. 27 on ABC, WXYZ-TV. The film will also air the week of Dec. 4 on the Hallmark Channel.

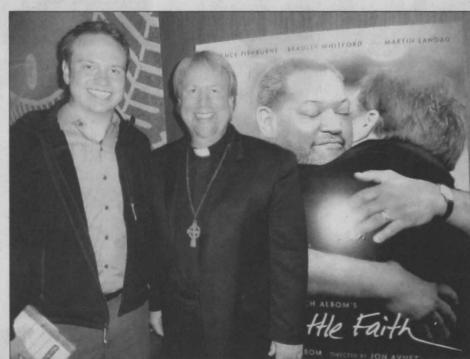

The gala was held at the Emagine Theatre in Royal Oak and raised $60,000 for the Rabbi Albert Lewis Fund and the A Hole in the Roof Foundation, founded by Albom. Both charities are associated with the two heroes in Albom's non-fiction book.

Volunteer and help feed hungry neighbors

Editor's note - This is the first in a series of stories about volunteer opportunities at organizations in the community.

> By Sharon Dargay O&E Staff Writer

Got a spare Thursday and a heart for giving? Open Door Ministry's food bank in Canton always needs helping hands. The food distribution center draws about 75 volunteers every Thursday to help sort canned goods and fresh produce, box the items and deliver them to waiting cars. A small crew also gathers on Wednesday to divide large deliveries into smaller-sized bags. Earlier this week, for example, volunteers sorted frozen chicken patties into 550 freezer bags and braced themselves for the busiest distribution day of the year - the Thursday before Thanksgiving. The food bank is closed Thanksgiving Day and will reopen for its next weekly distribution on Open Door Ministry's food bank bustles with activity every Thursday, when food is distributed to families and individuals in need.

'We don't need nearly as many volunteers on Wednesday, maybe 15 or 20. For the rest of the year we've got groups coming in every single week,' said Steve Darr, food bank director. "Thursday is our busy night. It takes at least 50 volunteers. We distribute about 30,000 pounds of food a week. We do that in three hours. It takes a lot of hands.

Distribution starts at 4:15 p.m. at the ministry's warehouse at 4301 S. Lilley. Some volunteers arrive earlier to help begin placing foods in boxes. Food comes from larger banks, such as Gleaners and Forgotten Harvest, as well as organizations that collect food for the ministry.

'Sometimes stores have food drives and we get that. There's also an organization in Romulus that gives us their surplus. They manufacture pizza items, like calzones and personal pizzas. They used to have a surplus store, but now they give it to us," Darr said, adding with a laugh, "and they deliver."

Working smoothly From 4:15-7:30 p.m. volunteers work

Volunteers pack boxes of food in car trunks.

assembly line-style to fill food orders and send them out to waiting cars. The ministry uses a color-coded cart system - with each color representing a different size box of food - to transport the correct order from warehouse to car trunk.

"If we have enough hands it goes really smooth. We're a welloiled machine," Darr said.

Volunteers greet each arrival and then send a food request via walkie talkie to the warehouse. The only drivers who need to leave their cars are those who are interested in meeting with a representative from the ministry's job bank inside the facility. Darr said the largest number of those who receive food are from Westland and Canton. Volunteers — both individuals and groups - come from other churches, civic organizations and schools. Many help out on a regular basis.

"We can train someone in about 30 minutes," he said. "A lot of people want to volunteer this time of year, but we also need help all year round."

Open Door, now in its 11th year, is an offshoot of Connection Church in Canton. Individuals who are interested in volunteering can stop in from 4-9 p.m. on Thursdays. Groups should schedule a visit by calling Darr at (734) 397-1777, Ext. 201, or by e-mailing him at stevendarr@ sbcglobal.net.

WHEN CONDITIONS COLLIDE

Both patient and physician face a dilemma when a joint problem occurs with another problem of gait and walking. For example: a 70 year old man with diabetes develops osteoarthritis of a knee. Often, a patient with diabetes will lose the ability to know if the feet are moving solidly over the ground or floor. This difficulty is called diabetic neuropathy and occurs because nerve endings in the feet cannot transmit changes in position so the brain can know the position of the feet.

The uncertainty of location that the body feels translates into an unsteady, strained, and uncoordinated gait. If the person suffers from worn out knees, the ability of the knees to accommodate to the strain is compromised. Even worse, because of the strain, wear and tear on the knee accelerates.

For treatment of the knee arthritis to succeed, the physician caring for the patient needs to control two conditions: stopping the neuropathy and limiting progression of the arthritis. Treating the diabetes is key to preventing the arthritis. As a result, the physician finds himself limited in using steroid injections into the arthritic joint, usually an important therapy in treating knee osteoarthritis

The reason is that injection of steroids raises the patient's blood sugar levels, but in a diabetic the goal is bring down blood sugar levels as close to normal as possible.

In instances when two conditions interact to compromise the therapy of each, physician and patient must come to agreement on what compromises in outcomes are acceptable to both parties.

Start holiday season with a healthful Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving doesn't have to kick-off a month of unhealthy eating. The holiday season provides the perfect opportunity to make healthier choices for your family meal.

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation, offers these tips to ensure a healthy and delicious Thanksgiving meal:

1. Bake, mash and smash: Sweet potatoes are a fantastic source of energy and one of the most nutritious vegetables around. Bake 'em, smash 'em, mash 'em, or stuff 'em. Toss them in salads, or in with other baked veggies.

2. Talking turkey: Turkey is a great source of lean protein and is healthiest if you skip the skin and go for the white meat. If you prefer the dark meat, mix and match in order to get a little extra flavor without adding too much fat.

3. Don't forget the fruit: Baked apples or poached pears are perfect, healthy ways to end any autumn meal. 4. Stuffed with nutrition: Try adding fresh veggies and whole wheat bread to stuffing for a delicious, nutritious traditional dish.

5. Add some color: Fall vegetables such as radishes, carrots, squash and green beans are great side dishes that can add color and variety to the meal.

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation is a national non-profit founded by the American Heart Association and the William J. Clinton Foundation to combat childhood obesity. The Alliance aims to reduce the prevalence of childhood obesity by 2015, and to empower kids nationwide to make healthy lifestyle choices. # Stay safe, avoid cooking fires

The number of home cooking fires on Thanksgiving Day was three times the national average of fires per day in 2009, according the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA.) NFPA is urging the public to keep fire safety in mind when preparing holiday meals.

"Thanksgiving can be a whirlwind of cooking and entertaining guests," said Lorraine Carli, vice president of communications for NFPA. "With so much multitasking taking place, oven or stovetop can easily be overlooked. Cooks should be conscious of fire safety this Thanksgiving whether the menu is meant to serve two or Cooking fires are the number one cause of home fires and related injuries. In 2005-2009, U.S. fire departments responded to an estimated average of 155,400 home fires per year involving cooking equipment. These fires caused an annual average of 390 deaths, 4,800 injuries, and $771 million in direct property damage.

To reduce the risk of cooking fires this holiday, NFPA recommends the following safety tips:

· When simmering, baking, roasting, or boiling food, check it regularly, remain in the home while food is cooking, and use a timer to remind you that you are cooking.

· Stay alert. If you are sleepy or have consumed alcohol, don't use the stove or stovetop. If you have a cooking

· Just get out! When you leave, close the door . behind you to help contain the fire.

• Call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number after you leave.

· If you try to fight the fire, be sure others are getting out and you have a clear path to your way out of the home. Make sure someone has called the fire department).

· Keep a lid nearby when cooking to smother small grease fires. Smother the fire by sliding the lid over the pan and turn off the stovetop. Leave the pan covered until it is completely cooled.

Home Health Care: One Of Fastest-growing Segments Of Nursing

Home health care has become one of the fastestgrowing segments of professional nursing. As insurance companies and hospitals work to lower the cost of delivering health care, they have found that providing home nursing care in tall scrubs is the financially sensible alternative to inpatient care. Patients improve fastest when they are in the familiar environment of their own homes. Moreover, home health care nursing is one of the specialties in which flexible hours are the norm - so work commitments can be easily scheduled around family and other obligations. Home health nursing involves much less in the way of paperwork and other administrative tasks than hospital nursing, which suits many nurses who prefer more human contact. Home health nurses get the chance to help adults and children of all ability levels some lead normal lives and only need help with bathing and grooming; others with more serious medical problems might need considerable emotional and spiritual support, in addition to administering medication and changing dressings.

The average beginning yearly pay for a new RN is about $44,600, which is more than many careers that have comparable education and experience requirements. The Bureau of Labor Statistics puts the yearly median earning of a registered nurse in 2004 at $52.330. While the middle percent of registered nurses took home yearly incomes between $43.370 and $63,360, with the highest earners making more than $74,760. Even the lowest earner made around $37,200. As experience is obtained yearly incomes go up. When you factor in wages made for shift differentials and over time, most nurses make well over their base incomes. Going into management and administration can add even additional income.

Most people might think that a career in nursing is static and there is no opportunity for growth. On the contrary, there are many opportunities for specializations, further education, and administrative positions. There is also a lot of opportunity for landau scrubs free shipping and free travel. One does not have to get stuck and work solely in the hospital. An option for advancing your nursing career is becoming a clinical nursing specialist, working in specialized fields and doing advanced work for particular conditions such as mental health or cancer.

Medical Writer: A medical writer (or editor) writes, edits, and proofreads technical materials used for medical research, training and education, communication, sales and marketing, and others. Possible positions for this field include medical writer, medical proofreader, medical copy editor, medical researcher, medical editor, editorial assistant, and managing editor. For those nurses who have secretly dreamt of writing, this is a great opportunity to work flexible hours and combine medical knowledge and experience with writing skills. You can let your hair down and do away with your landau scrubs free shipping! Possible employers for this field include pharmaceutical companies, medical publications, general interest publications, freelance (selfemployment), and not-forprofit organizations.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
